

WARNING, YOU CARTOGRAPHERS! From time to time we have quarreled with various firms and others for overlooking Prestonsburg in their advertising and services. Now we wish a shillalah in the direction of an oil company and its map-makers.

This map points out the Dewey reservoir in unmistakable fashion—it is marked by a man fishing. Paintsville is clearly marked. And Pikeville is placed in its proper position. But Prestonsburg, the one town nearest the reservoir—it doesn't exist. If one is to believe this map.

Why the oversight? Why do they consistently miss us? Please, gentlemen! They call map-makers cartographers, I believe. If they don't get straightened out, we might tag them with a less complimentary name.

BANNER—A GOOD NAME We came a cropper on that item last week about the man for whom the village of Banner was named. But, seething on an ample nose as we were thrown for a loss, we came up with the story of the man's good deeds.

David Banner, farmer and livestock grower, brought from Virginia the negroes who founded the colored settlements of Tram and Steele's creek in this county. His first night in the county he spent at Wayland with a Mr. Martin to whom he traded two slaves for a mule, thus founding the Martin negro family. Next trip, he married Susan Martin, his host's daughter. Later he bought all that stretch of land extending from Horse's Ford at Dwale to Emma.

But the rich thing in Mr. Banner's life was his love for children and of poor children, in particular. From Richlands, Va., traveling overland on horseback, he bore school books which he gave to poor boys and girls. Rare was the trip to Prestonsburg when he did not return to his community bringing Blue-Back spellers and candy to children of the poor about him.

Little wonder that they named Banner for him.

HO-HUM, SWEET HOME Mr. Blandings built his dream house, and so he's at least one up on yr. humble svt. The guy simply hauled off and started, full of hope, dreams and derring-do. I remain short only on the two items last-mentioned.

This house of mine to me remains purely imaginary. The wife is the one who gets down to the mundane matter of sketching plans and jotting down figures. Such matters are the materialistic part of an old wood-chaser whose knowledge of an ell tends no farther than the character on a typewriter keyboard.

Get way out front of all that. I myself planted firmly in sock and a comfortable chair on a spacious, shady porch that some day may be, I stroll over a dream lawn and out to a flower garden that now is as distant as the Elysian fields.

The only time I get down to earth is when a trivial matter of finances fears its ugly head. Then off I take on another angle.

What would be an appropriate name for such a place? Mortgage Manor? Appropriate, perhaps, but a bit hackneyed, I fear.

Then I consider Collateral Corners. Might do. Joint-Note Junction? Has possibilities. Or would you prefer Garnished Gables?

No, I shall not decorate my door with any of these. I have come to a definite decision about the matter. There it shall be for all to see, the name of my home. Simple, short, to the point, it shall be: ALLEN'S LIEN-TO.

SESQUI EVENT MEETING SET

County-Wide Attendance Urged To Discuss Plans For 150th Anniversary

Do you want to see a sesquicentennial celebration observing the 150th year of Floyd county's history, and are you interested enough to work toward a successful celebration?

An answer to that question is being sought by the Kiwanis Club here. So Max Burns, Kiwanis president, announced Wednesday that a "stand-up-and-be-counted" meeting will be held at the Brown hotel here next Monday evening at 7:30.

"After that meeting, we should know who wants the celebration and how many can be counted upon to do the actual work," Mr. Burns said.

The Kiwanis president emphasized that, although his club is taking the lead in attempting to get the sesquicentennial movement under way, every worthwhile group in the county will share responsibility in the undertaking.

He listed the following as a partial list of items on which work will be required to make the sesquicentennial a success:

- 1. A pageant depicting the history of the county; 2. parade, with floats, bands, Boy Scouts, veterans' groups; 3. decoration of town; 4. decorating of windows, emphasizing items of historical interest; 5. speakers; 6. general program; 7. registration of visitors; 8. housing and feeding; 9. entertainment; 10. selection of Centennial Queen and her court; 11. publicity; 12. exhibits.

Interested persons from all parts of the county are urged to attend Monday evening's meeting.

COUNTY GOAL GAINED HERE

Drive Chairman Thanks Workers Who Top Quota First Time Since 1945

Concurrently with Monday's announcement that the national Red Cross quota of $60,000,000 has been over-subscribed came a statement from J. R. Hurt, Floyd county Red Cross drive chairman, saying Floyd county has done its full part in reaching that goal.

For the first time since 1945, this county's Red Cross goal has been reached. With a quota of $6,400, Floyd county has subscribed $6,474.34, and yet to be learned is the total figure with reports lacking from several communities.

Expressing his gratification on the success of the fund drive in this county, Mr. Hurt said:

"At this time I wish to thank all the workers throughout the county for their loyal service in the 1949 Red Cross fund campaign. I also would like to thank all the merchants for using our Red Cross window displays in their stores, and our local paper, The Floyd County Times, for its splendid help in advertising the campaign.

GRAND JURY RECESSES

To Re-Convene Thursday; Indicts Mining Company For Stream Pollution

The grand jury adjourned temporarily Saturday, to re-convene next Thursday for the last three days of its probe into Floyd county crime.

Among the indictments returned last week was a bill charging the Princess Elkhorn Coal Company at David of polluting Middle Creek. Bernard Baldridge, Langley, county conservation officer, told the jury the company permitted coal dust to pollute the stream.

Three persons, Elzie Pennington, Ernest McCown and Sammie Lou Newsome, were charged with selling liquor, and Tom Johnson was indicted for possession of whiskey. Bill Sexton was charged with false arrest, Ruby Moore telling of Sexton entering a car, searching it and arresting two boys for being drunk though they had committed no offense in his presence and although he had no warrant for their arrest.

Breaking and entering indictments were lodged against Trent Woods and Johnny Henson, and the latter was also named on a charge of knowingly receiving stolen property. Other indictments:

Astor Johnson, seduction under promise of marriage; Adam Hicks, obstructing a public road; Robert Goodman, forgery (two cases); Jimmie (Samuel) Davidson, forgery; Cahelene Blanton, slander; Clyde Patton, grand larceny; Sam Derossett, child desertion.

KNOTT MAN SLAYS SON AND SELF

Youth, Shot Thru Heart, Dies Almost Instantly; Father Dies Saturday

Tipton C. Collins, 53 years old, retired miner, shot and killed his 19-year-old son, Carroll Tipton, last Friday afternoon at the Collins home at Dema, Knott county, then turned his revolver to fire a bullet through his own brain.

The youth died almost instantly with a bullet wound over his heart. His father succumbed at 1 a. m., Saturday at the Stumbo Memorial hospital, Lackey.

A report on the tragedy from official sources was lacking here. It was said that Collins had been drinking and had threatened his wife, Mary Combs Collins, shortly after she had returned home from the funeral at Wayland of Daniel Hicks.

This version of the murder and suicide said the Collins boy returned home after buying a rod and reel and called his mother from the garden to tell her of his fishing plans. Soon afterward, it was said, he heard his father threaten Mrs. Collins. He went into the living room where the couple was, and as he entered his father fired one shot from a .38 Special revolver.

Mrs. Collins, it was said, snatched the weapon from her husband and threw it into the yard. Quickly she knelt to examine her son's wound and her husband went to recover his gun. Returning to the living room, he fired the shot into his own head.

It was said the young man had previously sided with his mother in family disputes.

Collins had been in retirement for a year, drawing miners' retirement pay. He was a son of the late Mrs. Ellen Gibson. Surviving, besides his (See Story No. 3, Page 6)

STATE HONORS WON BY GIRLS

Represent Prestonsburg Among 300 Participants In 29th Annual Event

Mary Catherine Huttsinpler and Carol June Bradley, representing Prestonsburg high school, won honors in the 29th annual Kentucky High School Speech Festival held on the campus of the University of Kentucky at Lexington last week.

Miss Bradley was rated "good" in her serious selection of interpretative reading and Miss Huttsinpler received a "fair" rating in radio speaking.

The two Prestonsburg girls were entered among more than 300 students from 59 counties who took part in the various forensic events. They were accompanied by their teacher, Miss Alice Harris, and Mrs. C. L. Huttsinpler.

They qualified for the state-wide contests by virtue of winning honors in the regional speaking events recently held at Pikeville. Miss Huttsinpler is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. C. L. Huttsinpler and Miss Bradley is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Smith Bradley, all of Prestonsburg.

Others from this section receiving ratings were Fayette Elswick, Virgie, oratorical declamation, good; Billy Jo Matthews, Johns Creek, serious interpretative reading, good; Patricia Hibbitts, Betty Thompson, both of Pikeville Academy, humorous interpretative reading, good; Don Morris, Belfry, extemporaneous speaking, good; Arthur Hall, Virgie, Bodine Stanley, Belfry, Don Trivette, Pikeville Academy, poetry reading, good; Fay Elswick, Virgie, posing contest, good; Majel Womack, Belfry, expository prose in interpretative reading, good; Adeline Williamson, Johns Creek, junior high poetry reading, good; Jerry Pollis, Belfry, radio speaking, good; Anilou Blackburn, Johns Creek, junior high interpretative reading, good; Dorothy Walker, Johns Creek, discussion contest, good.

TEN SCHOOLS GET RATINGS

Southern Association Accredited Standings Released This Week

Wayland, Garrett, Maytown, Martin, McDowell, Wheelwright, Betsy Layne and Prestonsburg high schools again have been rated "A" in accredited standings by the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

Auxier high school was accorded a "B" rating. This, attaches of the county superintendent's office explained, was due to low enrollment. Wheelwright Dunbar (colored) received a standing of "BE" which means that an existing emergency is recognized which justifies the operation of the school even though it fails to meet certain standards.

The standings, issued in a recent meeting of the association at Memphis, Tenn., were released by Mark Godman, head of the state bureau of instruction.

JUDGE ORDERS RAIL CABOOSE BROUGHT HERE

In Monday Murder Case; Isaacs Charge Dismissed For Lack of Prosecution

The railway caboose in which the battered body of Dan Collins was found at Wheelwright Junction, a few weeks ago, has been ordered by Circuit Judge E. P. Hill to be returned to the West Prestonsburg siding for the trial of Graden Daniels, alleged slayer of Collins, here next week.

The trial is slated to begin Monday, and the caboose has been ordered here by that time for examination by attorneys and witnesses. The trial will probably highlight an otherwise desultory court term.

One murder case, that of Samantha Isaacs, charged with the slaying of her father, was dismissed last Friday for lack of prosecution. Miss Isaacs told authorities here, shortly after the shooting of her father, that he made improper advances toward her.

George Johnson, who last week drew a 10-year term for the slaying of his brother, Matt, has indicated he may appeal from the verdict. He was denied a new trial.

Three defendants drew open terms during the week. Howard Knox was given a two-year sentence for shooting and wounding Lillie Manns at Way- (See Story No. 4, Page 6)

Plight of 'Weak-Minded' Girls Makes Judge Feel Mighty Low

The Judge was "down." And it wasn't the weather that had him so. "They brag about our grand state of Kentucky," he muttered. "Its fine horses, its beautiful women, the Bluegrass and all that. I don't know what I see makes you wonder about it all."

Then he explained. Two young women were in jail. Not because they are criminals but because they are feeble-minded and there is no other place to put them. "These girls and about four or five others I could name have the moral sense and the sex instincts of a dumb animal. Something has to be done with them. But what?"

Then he pointed out that Kentucky, with all its boasted traditions, treats blooded horses better than some of its humans. Kentucky thoroughbreds are kept in stables fit for human habitation—in stalls which, in fact, are cleaner than many homes. The foaling of a thoroughbred colt is an event in Kentucky. The death of an outcast such as those in jail here passes almost unnoticed.

"What are we going to do?" he asked, his puzzlement growing. "We

ORATORICAL CHAMP

VIOLET PARSONS

Miss Violet Parsons, McDowell high school senior, is Floyd county's high school oratorical champion. She won top honors Friday at Martin in a renewal of the annual county oratorical contest, winning over representatives of seven other high schools with a discussion of "Controlling Atomic Power." She is a daughter of John Parsons, of McDowell.

Second honors were won by Miss Carol Bradley, Prestonsburg high school junior, and a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Smith Bradley. Her topic was "Liberty and Our Democracy." Third place went to W. K. Steele, Jr., Betsy Layne senior, and a son of Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Steele, on his oration, "Canalization of the Big Sandy."

Winners' prizes were given by the Floyd County Board of Education, as follows: first prize—$25 in cash and a gold medal; second, $15 cash and a silver medal; third, $10 and a silver meal.

Other contestants and subjects they discussed:

Earl Cannon, Wheelwright senior, "World Government"; Paulette Martin, Martin senior, "Canalization of the Big Sandy"; Libby Ree May, Maytown junior, "Youth Today"; Alfred Wilson, Auxier senior, "Juvenile Delinquency"; Marvin Fraley, Wayland senior, "The Need for Uniform Divorce Laws."

RIGHT BEAVER MAN DROWNS

Stricken By Epilepsy While Fishing Alone Near Home Tuesday

Julius Hall, 26 years old, drowned in Right Beaver Creek at Topmost in less than four feet of water late Tuesday afternoon when he is believed to have been stricken by epilepsy.

Hall, who had suffered previous attacks of epilepsy, was fishing alone near the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wes Hall. His father called him at 4:15 to come to the house but received no answer. A few minutes later, he went to the creek where he found his son's body.

The funeral was conducted this morning (Thursday) from Providence Regular Baptist Church at Topmost, the Rev. Ellis Hopkins and others officiating. Burial was made in the family cemetery under direction of the Ryan Funeral Home.

CANCER QUOTA IS ANNOUNCED

Hope To Duplicate Feat of Last Year As Workers Named

Floyd county's quota for the drive for funds for Cancer Control has been placed at $1,000, the usual figure assigned the county, Mrs. Winnie F. Johns, Prestonsburg, drive chairman, announced this week.

With the assistance of mineworkers, the county last year almost doubled that quota, and Mrs. Johns expressed the hope this week that the 1949 response will be equally fine.

A countywide organization, with the Women's Clubs and the schools in particular offering cooperation, has been effected. Community chairmen for the drive are: Wheelwright Woman's Club—Mrs. Blaine Smith; Betsy Layne Woman's Club—Mrs. Jack Williams; David Woman's Club—Mrs. W. M. Crawford; Lackey-Garrett Woman's Club—Mrs. George Evans; Prestonsburg Junior Woman's Club—Mrs. Herbert Salisbury, Jr.; Martin—Mrs. John W. Easter Frost Eliminates

Floyd Fruit Prospects Exceeding Apple Crop

An Eastertime frost, added to the damage of the frost a month ago, eliminated possibility all Floyd county fruit except apples was the opinion expressed this week by County Agent S. L. Isbell.

A few peaches may grow, he said, but on the whole only apples can be expected in anything approaching a normal crop.

The frost otherwise did no damage. Garden stuff escaped because the late season had kept it underground. Plums, cherries and pears are hardest hit in the county's orchards.

ANNUAL SCOUT CAMPOREE SET

More Than 250 Floyd Scouts Are Expected At Camp Arrowhead

Completed plans for the Floyd county Boy Scouts' annual Camporee at Camp Arrowhead, Fishtrap, to be held April 30 and May 1, were announced this week by Lone-some Pine Council executives.

More than 250 Floyd county boys and their guests are expected to attend the two-day gathering featuring competitive events for prizes and a general campfire session.

Activities of the first day call for the Scouts and their guests to check in at the camp grounds from 2:30 to 5:30 p. m., and set up camp. From then until 8 p. m., the time allotted to cooking supper and getting ready for the evening program. The campfire program will be held from 8 until 9:30 p. m., and taps will be sounded at 10 o'clock.

The second day gets started with breakfast from 7:30 to 8:30 a. m. The next hour will be devoted to a clean-up for inspection. At 9:30 a. m., a short religious service will be held and followed by the Camporee hike. The Scouts start the lunch hour at 11 a. m., and at 12:30 p. m., with lunch completed and dishes washed, they make ready to roll their tents. At 1 p. m. the competitive events are held with awards following. The Camporee is scheduled to close at 4 p. m.

Camporee events are listed as follows:

- 1. Ball-throwing for distance. One participant from each troop.
- 2. Antelope race. Six boys run in single file with one hand on the belt of the Scout ahead to a point 50 yards away, there they make a left turn and return to starting point. Falling down or breaking hold disqualifies the team.
- 3. Wood-chopping relay. Each boy in patrol takes six licks at log until log is cut in two.
- 4. Egg-Cooking on No. 10 tin can. Can to be furnished by patrol, also small amount of grease or bacon rind. Two boys from each troop to participate. (Use two matches only.)
- 5. Tag-of-War—eight-man teams.
- 6. A contest in which Scouts tie various knots to tow a log to the campsite, then reduce the log to fuel for fire, with others starting the fire as quickly as possible to boil water in a tin can.

A prize will be given to the Troop compiling the best score based on camp layout; conduct of Scouts during Camporee; best campfire stunt; (See Story No. 6, Page 2)

EMPLOYMENT PICTURE DARK IN 5 COUNTIES

Better Than 60 Per Cent Of Compensable Claims Supplied From Floyd

The employment picture in the five-county area served by the district office here of the Kentucky Employment Service, dark through last month, was no brighter in the early days of April. Glenn S. Anderson, manager, said this week.

"There are very few job openings, and in most cases the only thing we can do is to help the applicant toward getting unemployment benefits," he commented.

Job openings around mines narrowed down to around 100 places open to miners, with a bad roof in prospect, and two machine men positions offered this week. And Michigan and Ohio, both former happy job-hunting grounds, now want only skilled men or technicians. Mining skills do not qualify workers for jobs open in these states, it was added.

Floyd county with its heavier population embraces better than 60 per cent of this gloomy employment picture for March when Johnson, Martin, Magoffin and Morgan were in the district. Beginning with April, Morgan county was transferred to the Morehead district.

Over this five-county area in March, there were 8,915 compensable claims on file, with Floyd county supplying 5,377 of the total. Of these Floyd claims, 3,372 were filed by non-veterans and 2,005 by veterans. New and re-opened claims filed in this county during the month totaled 492, with 314 of these being lodged by non-veterans. And the state picture was painted in the same colors. Unemployment in Kentucky continues unabated, with claims and benefit payments reaching new peaks, an analysis of March activities of the State's Department of Economic Security revealed this week. No material change in the situation is indicated in activity for the first 10 days of April, the report adds. Going over the million-dollar mark in unemployment insurance, payments during March marked the first time in the history of the 10-year-old program in Kentucky that benefits to unemployed workers having wage credits against employers in the state topped $1 million. O. B. Hannah, director, Division of Unemployment Insurance, said. The division disbursed $1,443,147 in 83,281 checks, he said. An additional $1,041,533 was paid to Kentucky veterans under the Servicemen's Readjustment Allowance Act, Hannah said. He explained that this program, though administered by the state's Unemployment Insurance Division, is financed by federal funds. March was the fifth consecutive month that total benefit payments have increased. Total March payments were $514,000 over February and $1,007,868 over March, 1948. He said. Average benefit amount paid for total unemployment was $15.49, just 16c below the February average. Hannah explained that layoffs did not drop in March as anticipated but added that "claims filed as direct and indirect result of the mining 'memorial holiday' helped pre- (See Story No. 5, Page 2)

ODD CRASHES DOT HIGHWAYS DURING WEEK

Prestonsburg Young Man Suffers Serious Injuries; Others Injured Slightly

Three unusual car crashes marked this week on Floyd county highways—two of them occurred almost simultaneously.

The role of a "Good Samaritan" trying to do a favor with adverse results figured in the crash of three vehicles traveling in the same direction, a car wrecked a filling station at about the same time a few miles away and six of seven occupants got up and walked away from a total wreck Monday night.

Stopping on U.S. Highway 23, six miles north of Prestonsburg shortly after 2 o'clock yesterday (Wednesday) afternoon, investigating authorities reported, resulted in damages to three vehicles and body bruises to Mrs. Beulah Horn, 41, East Point.

All three vehicles were going north toward Allen. Eugene Goble, Emma miner, driver and owner of the pick-up truck in front, stopped to pick up a friend, State Policeman Chester Potter said. A second pick-up truck, driven by Luther Horn, East Point, in which Mrs. Horn was a passenger, crashed into pick-up number one and the third vehicle, a sedan, driven by Edward Cecil, Harold, Floyd county fire warden, smacked the rear of pick-up number two. Investigation showed that the latter two vehicles were traveling at about 30 miles per hour.

Total vehicular damages were estimated at approximately $600.

On the same afternoon about 30 miles distant near Melvin, county officers related, another auto crash resulted in a wrecked gasoline station, minor bruises and an injured hand in addition to the bad scare of a small boy bystander, a badly damaged automobile and the falling of Buster Burchfield, owner of the car, charged with assault and battery.

Burchfield told officials that Balmor Hall, and not he, was the driver of the car. He was quoted as saying that Hall "opened her up on a (See Story No. 7, Page 2)

BOYS SLATED FOR REFORM

Winsome Little Brother Wanted for Adoption; Father Jailed Here

Two Garrett boys, aged 11 and 9, respectively, have before them only the prospect of time in the reform school at Greendale, but their little brother who, like them, is wont to wander will probably find a home, nearer home.

The baby member of the family was found Sunday at Davis Branch, Johnson county, whether he had traveled by one means or another from Garrett, and his wit and infectious grin were so captivating that, immediately, a Thekla couple asked permission to adopt him.

With the two older children in jail here were their father, Hobart (Hub) Wallen, miner, who is charged with contributing to juvenile delinquency. His sons were booked for breaking and entering.

The case had about it so much of domestic tragedy, and the lot of the father was described as being so hard, that the Rev. L. W. Benedict, pastor of the Baptist Church, became Wallen's bondsman Wednesday morning after hearing his story. The two older boys, he and officials learned, are incorrigibles and the father, described as a hard-working man, is said to have made every effort to keep them at home. The mother, with several other children, it was said, cannot control them. School attendance authorities and their teachers have given up on them. One acquaintance said he had known of Wallen working all day, of searching the night through for the two lads, then returning to work next day without sleep.

The parents were quoted as saying they would sign necessary papers to transfer Jimmy to the custody of the Thekla couple, Mr. and Mrs. Austin Salyers. When Jimmy, arriving here Monday, learned that his brothers were in jail, he could not be dissuaded from going to the jail and spending the night with them.

Two other alleged runaways were also jailed here this week. They are Billie R. Hunter and Frank Bailey, both booked as AWOL from the army.

Extending Prestonsburg Facilities During Year; Other Expenses Listed

Telephone service in Prestonsburg has been extended by an expenditure of $44,438.92 during the past 12 months, officials of the Southern Bell Telephone & Telegraph Company announced this week.

"In other words," said one official, "you can now call 160 more of your neighbors than you could a year ago." Group Manager H. L. McCrary stated that additional toll and free service circuits were added to Allen and Paintsville. The Allen exchange gained 50 telephones during the past year at a cost of $13,218.76. He also stated that the Wayland exchange would be converted to dial operation this year. Early this month, Southern Bell installed its 3,000,000th telephone, a significant milestone in the company's growth and development. It took the company 50 years to attain its first million telephones (1929), 17 years to attain its second million (1946), and only three years to attain its third million.

Plans To Combat Polio To Be Discussed Tuesday In Louisville Meeting

Plans to combat any possible infantile paralysis epidemic in Kentucky will be discussed at the state's first Poliomyelitis Planning Conference which has been scheduled for April 26 in Louisville.

Mrs. Inez K. Ligon, secretary of the Kentucky Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, said the conference would start with a panel discussion at 4 p.m., at the Brown hotel and continue through a dinner meeting. The meeting is sponsored by the State Board of Health, the Kentucky Crippled Children Commission and the Kentucky Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

Mrs. Ligon said it was expected that a permanent committee would be formed to make detailed plans to provide adequate care for polio patients in event of an epidemic this summer. She quoted State Board of Health reports advising there were 207 polio cases in the state last year.

The purpose of the committee as stated by Mrs. Ligon would be to determine definite emergency procedures in event the dreaded disease should strike. She said the conference would attempt to learn the hospital facilities available, along with nursing care, medical aid and other trained personnel within the state.

vent the expected drop in initial claims." Layoffs by tobacco warehouses, coal mines, apparel manufacturers, distilleries, and furniture factories were additional factors, he said. During March of each of the three prior post-war years, initial claims decreased, Hannah added.

Continued claims in March totaled 114,323, up 35 per cent over February. Initial claims numbered 14,002 or 5 1/2 per cent over February. Hall, who was in the car at the time of the wreck, on the other hand, told officers that Burchfield was driving and trying to do 85 miles an hour around a curve approaching B. F. Johnson's store here, when the accident occurred.

Identities and arguments involved in the Melvin mishap are scheduled to be heard Monday before County Judge Alex L. Davidson.

One Prestonsburg youth was seriously injured, two suffered slight hurts and four others escaped almost unscathed Monday night when the auto of Russell H. Hagedwood, cashier of the First National Bank here, wrecked on Little Paint Creek.

Billy Harmon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Harmon, suffered a broken hip and crushed pelvis. He, George Brown, Jr., and Val Strahan, Jr., were taken to the Paintsville hospital. Young Harmon may be removed to a Huntington hospital, it was said later. The other boys are at home.

Others in the auto were Jesse Brown Hagedwood, driver of the car, Sidney Sutphin, Gomer Stiles and Howard Hall. The auto, which was reduced to wreckage, struck a culvert headwall, then careened across the highway and rolled into the adjacent bottom.

OF INTEREST TO VETERANS

Two major changes in leave policies affecting veterans training under the G.I. Bill in job-training establishments and in schools below the college level have been announced by the Veterans Administration.

The changes are:
1. Allowing these veterans to apply for 15 days' leave at the end of their period of enrollment, in addition to whatever leave they might have been authorized while in training.

2. Placing full responsibility for granting leaves of absence taken during training—within a limit of 30 days a year—upon schools below college level and job-training establishments. This responsibility does not extend to the 15 days given at the end of an enrollment period.

Leave at the conclusion of enrollment periods may be obtained only if the veteran has enough remaining entitlement time to cover the requested leave.

Under the new policy, leave taken during training now becomes a matter strictly between the veteran and his school or employer-trainer.

Only absences to be reported to Veterans Administration in the future are those considered by the school or establishment to be unauthorized, as well as time off in excess of 30 days in a calendar year, exclusive of Saturdays, Sundays and holidays.

These reports are necessary so that VA may make appropriate reductions in veterans' subsistence allowances.

VA emphasized that all schools—including colleges—are to continue to notify VA of all interruptions in training.

Ninety-eight per cent of the World War II veterans who have entered training under the G.I. Bill are eligible for additional training, according to figures disclosed by the Veterans Administration.

At the end of January, 1949, a total of 6,228,707 veterans, at one time or another, had entered training under the G.I. Bill and the Vocational Rehabilitation Act. Of these, 5,749,028 had trained under the G.I. Bill and 479,684 had enrolled in schools and training establishments under the vocational rehabilitation act, or Public Law 16.

Of this total, which represents 60 per cent of the nation's 15,081,000 World War II veterans, only 61,406 veteran students and trainees had exhausted their entitlement to further G.I. training, while 81,899 disabled veterans had been declared rehabilitated under Public Law 16.

Many veterans training under the G.I. Bill did not receive subsistence checks on time this month because they failed to notify Veterans Administration of a change in their address.

All veterans receiving monthly checks from VA are urged to report promptly all address changes, since the postoffice department cannot deliver a government check to addresses not occupied by the person to whom the check is issued.

An undelivered check is returned to the Treasury Department disbursing office. This office notifies VA and the records are reviewed to determine whether the check actually was sent to the address furnished by the veteran. If the address used was the latest furnished, VA holds the check until it hears from the veteran.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q. Are patients in VA hospitals permitted unlimited participation in competitive sports?

A. Patients may participate only with the permission of the doctor in each case. An average of 43,000 veterans per month have been taking part in various sports at hospitals and homes.

Q. I wish to take on-the-job training. Where should I apply?

A. Apply to your nearest VA office. Take along a certificate or photostatic copy of your discharge papers. If you are married or have one or more dependents and want subsistence allowances, take along your marriage certificate and other documents that will establish your dependency claim.

Q. I have completed my on-the-job training course and have some entitlement left. I would like to take another course. May I enroll at another school?

A. You may use any remaining entitlement either for on-the-job training or for educational training with VA's approval.

GADJET, BEARING HIS NAME, AIDS BLIND BOY AT TRADE

Invented Especially For Handicapped Pike Youth

A gadget invented and built so specially for him that it bears his name will make it possible for Trimble Runyon, Pike county boy, to practice the tedious and trying trade of radio repairman, despite the fact that he is blind.

The Pinson Fork youth has just completed a course in a radio school in Louisville. He is ready to do business on a commercial scale—thanks to his "Runyonometer."

The young man has been blind since he was seven years old. His father, Aeye Runyon, brought home some dynamite caps from a mine where he worked, intending to use them for clearing land. Young Trimble never had seen a cap before and was playing with one when it exploded, destroying the sight of both eyes.

The boy was educated at the Kentucky School for the Blind at Louisville, then specialized in radio at a commercial school.

The Runyonometer is about the size of a table radio. It is the invention of one of his instructors, Bob Nevitt. Its inventor calls it "a whole radio service shop in one box." He says it contains about 12 different testing machines seen in the ordinary radio shop, linked together for the convenience of the sightless student.

Runyon can carry it anywhere and be equipped to find worn-out radio tubes, locate the cause of static and cure it, as well as perform all the various tests a professional workman uses. Then he can go ahead and remedy the trouble, locating the parts by feeling and testing as he goes along, until he is satisfied the set is as good as new.

Except that he works by "feel," Runyon's methods of workmanship are no different than those of any other radio repairman. It's the testing device that makes all the difference.

The "Runyonometer" combines, among other things, a signal tracer, signal generator, 1,000-cycle multi-vibrator, and auto-radio power supply.

As an example of how Runyon makes a test without eyesight, he inserts a tube of doubtful condition into a socket, starts a signal going through it, and turns a dial, increasing or diminishing the force of the signal until the sound is "canceled out." That tells him the condition of the tube. Raised characters in Braille on his dial tell his sensitive fingers the reading other workmen would get by sight.

In all there are 82 buttons and a row of switches on the face, top, and back of the Runyonometer. Dials and some of the switches have Braille characters, representing figures or letters, made with a plastic substance. On some of them Runyon just memorizes the positions.

"That's not hard," the youth says. "They're symmetrical order." Inventor Nevitt estimates the separate testing devices his Runyonometer replaces would cost $400. The combined machine will cost Runyon $93 when the last button and dial are in place. Some of the outside fittings are still missing, although the machine has been working some weeks.

"The $93 includes some of the parts we spoiled and threw away," said Nevitt. "It doesn't include science and craftsmanship and loving care and interest he has put into the job."

Prestonsburg Lions Vote Unanimously To Sponsor Girl Scout Troop Here

Prestonsburg's Lions Club voted unanimously at Tuesday evening's meeting to sponsor a Girl Scout troop here in addition to the club's sponsorship of a team in the local softball league.

Sponsorship of the troop came after four of the girls, accompanied by Mrs. Chalmer Frazier, appeared before the club to ask its help and to render an entertaining program.

The club was told there are 90 Prestonsburg girls who want to be Girl Scouts but that only two troop sponsors had, at that time, been found. Each troop is limited to a membership of 16, and so at least three more sponsors are needed if all the girls are to participate in the work.

Lost Dog Tramps 1,000 Miles To Homefolks from Kentucky

"Jeep" traveled rough roads, and long, but he got there—1,000 miles away and 17 months later.

A four-year-old mongrel, with Spitz predominating, Jeep was lost in the Kentucky mountains in November, 1947 when his master, Henry Hall, and family, were en route to California.

Last Sunday, Jeep plodded up to the front door of the Hall home in faraway Waltham, Massachusetts. The dog was ill, half-starved, his paws swollen and sore.

After losing Jeep, the family continued their trip to California where they spent nine months before returning to Waltham to build a new home, a short distance from their old one.

Sunday, the Halls spotted a dog wearily walking toward the former homestead.

"That's Jeep!" cried out 13-year-old Priscilla.

The dog wagged his tail at the sound of his name, she said.

The family took him into the new house and showed the dog Jeep's old blanket. Priscilla said the dog showed his first sign of "real affection" when he saw the blanket.

Hal said the pet was frail and undernourished and could consume only a small amount of food and water at a time.

He said that Jeep's paws were "worn smooth" and the slightest touch brought whines of pain from him.

"There's no doubt in my mind he walked that 1,000 miles between Kentucky and here," Hall said.

AIRING RURAL ROAD NEEDS

Ky. Highway Department Chief Appearing Today In Washington Hearing

D. H. Bray, chief engineer for the Kentucky State Highway Department, will tell a Senate subcommittee in Washington today about Kentucky's needs for rural roads.

A public works subcommittee headed by John J. Sparkman of Alabama is conducting hearings on bills introduced by Senators Stennis (D., Miss.) and Kerr (D., Okla.).

The measures would provide between 100 and 150 million dollars annually to aid states in constructing roads other than U.S. and state highways.

The bills would provide also for establishment of a rural-roads Division of the Public Roads Administration. It would maintain representatives in each of the states participating in the program.

Appropriations amounting to one to $3,000,000 annually would be distributed among the states on the basis of land area, rural population, and road mileage. Up to 50 per cent of the cost would be paid by the U.S. government; the remainder in such manner as the state Legislatures provide.

Testifying in behalf of his bill, Stennis declared: "There is no aid available now for roads connecting the farmers' homes with school-bus routes, mail service, churches, and nearby trading centers. A federal rural road program should be established and continued until every farm in the country has access to an all-weather road outlet."

The banquet will be held in the grade school cafeteria, with band mothers serving.

FORMER ATTORNEY GENERAL BAILEY P. WOOTTON DIES

Buried Among Kentucky's Statesmen at Frankfort

Bailey Peyton Wootton, former Attorney General of Kentucky, died in Frankfort Saturday. He was 78 years old.

He went to Florida in January in an effort to regain his health, but his illness persisted and Mr. Wootton returned to Frankfort March 10. He had been under a physician's care since last October.

Services were held at Frankfort and he was buried in Frankfort cemetery among many of Kentucky's distinguished statesmen and soldiers.

Wootton, a Democrat, was elected Attorney General in 1931. He sought the Democratic nomination for Governor unsuccessfully in 1935. In the primary run-off, he supported Gov. A. G. Chandler, who later named him director of state parks.

Born on a Muhlenberg county farm, Wootton attended the county schools, the Rochester, Ky., seminary and Lebanon, O., University. He received an engineering degree from Lebanon and then earned a law degree at Southern University, Huntington, Tenn. This school later was merged to form Union University at Jackson, Tenn.

Wootton then moved to Hazard. He became principal of the Hazard school and served for 20 years on the Hazard Board of Education. Part of the time he was president of the board. During his administration, six new school buildings were constructed.

But from 1900 on he devoted most of his time to the practice of law. He was widely known as a land title expert.

He established the Hazard Herald in 1911 as a weekly newspaper. Now it is a daily. Wootton was part-owner of the publication.

He also found time for newspaper work at Elkton, Ky., and Paducah, Texas, a town he helped develop and name in honor of Kentucky's Paducah.

Wootton is credited with establishing the first bank at Hazard and with bringing the first telephone and first electric power into that city.

His involvements in land-title litigation brought him before the Kentucky Court of Appeals about 250 times before he became Attorney General.

During his service as Attorney General, he went into the Supreme Court and other federal courts in behalf of Kentucky. He pushed the legal fight that empowered Kentucky to tax bank stock bought by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

Wootton was always active in politics. He was a delegate to the Democratic national convention in 1916 and in 1932 became chairman of the Democratic central executive committee. He was an early supporter of Franklin D. Roosevelt and helped line up Kentucky delegates to the 1932 convention that nominated the late President.

He served as president of the Hazard Chamber of Commerce for six years, represented Kentucky as a delegate in 1915 to the Southern Agricultural Congress and was a delegate to the National Good Roads Association meeting in 1925.

He also was a member of the National Association for the prevention of Crime and the American Bar Associations. He was admitted to practice in Kentucky in 1897. Wootton was a Methodist, Mason and a Rotarian.

His last appearance in public affairs was as a member of the "Committee of One Thousand" in 1947. The group successfully led the fight against the calling of a convention to revise Kentucky's constitution.

He married Rebecca Boggs, Hazard, in 1902. They had one son, Thomas Wootton, now a mining engineer in San Francisco. After the death of his first wife, he married Clara Collins, Paris. They had two daughters, Mrs. Wootton Beck and Mrs. William N. Horn, both of Frankfort. Three grandchildren also survive.

Illness of One Month Claims Manton Woman At Her Home Sunday

Illness of one month resulted in the death Sunday of Mrs. Nelis Howard Stephens, 49, at her home at Manton. She was the wife of Lee Stephens.

A daughter of John and Polly Whitaker Howard, she was a native of Magoffin county and a resident of Manton for the past 15 years. She was a member of the Church of Christ.

Other survivors are two sons, Talmadge and Rayburn Stephens, at home, five daughters, Mrs. Mose Osborne, Mrs. Melvin Miller, both of Manton, Misses Hansford, Virginia and Joan Stephens, all at home.

Funeral services were held at Bosco yesterday (Wednesday) with the Revs. Henry Parsons, Marion Kidd, Edd Howard, Jack Hale and John Ousley officiating. Burial, under direction of the Arnold Funeral Home, was made in the Duncan cemetery near Hueysville.

Final Rites Held Sunday For Sgt. Billo Roberts Killed In Army Action

Final rites were held Sunday for Sgt. Billo Roberts, 23, who was killed in action in France, September 17, 1944, while serving in the army.

He was a native of Minnie and the son of the late Sidney and Nancy Roberts. The young soldier formerly attended McDowell high school and was a member of the Baptist Church.

Other survivors are four sisters, Mrs. Noah Williams, McDowell, Mrs. Willard Moore, Shirley Roberts, Sidney and Jane Roberts, all of Minnie, and two brothers, Hayden Roberts, Porto Rico, and Burl Roberts, Atlantic City, N.J., both in the navy.

The services were conducted by the Rev. Willie Collins and burial in the Lucy Hall cemetery was under direction of the Arnold Funeral Home.

land, and later was acquitted in the shooting and wounding of Mattie Mullins at the same time. Mildred Hunter and Gladys Castle were convicted of grand larceny in the theft of money from the Hall Wholesale at Allen, and each drew a one-year term. The same penalty was enacted of Gene Meade and Mike Smith on a storehousebreaking charge.

Oscar Hicks was acquitted of a cutting and wounding charge. M. V. Click lost his appeal from county court where he was convicted on a liquor charge and fined $100 and given a 30-day jail term. The circuit court jury left the fine standing and upped the jail sentence to 60 days. Ben Scott drew a $10 fine for operating a roadhouse without a permit, submitting law and facts, Grant Hall's fine for selling whiskey was set at $100, and Curtis Stone drew the same fine for reckless use of a deadly weapon.

Jackie Hall, confessed looter of many the business place, and who is now serving a life term under the habitual criminal act at Eddyville, was returned here for the arson trial of George Hall. The case, however, was continued when some witnesses were reported out of the state.

The Arnold & Hall Funeral Home opened at Martin, Wednesday, and announced at that time that its formal opening will be held Saturday, April 30.

Owners of the funeral home are Mayor E. P. Arnold, Prestonsburg, John C. Hall and Birchell Hall, brothers, of Martin.

making life one sweet song. Now comes word of an invention which makes this all the more apparent.

This marvel of the age is a diaper with a built-in waterproof container. No changing for hours; perfectly safe, comfortable and sanitary and all that. Thus dawns a new day for the world of Moms and Dads and those tykes who make one think of broken dikes.

There is only one regrettable feature about this invention. It will mean that many a male will never really be a man according to Printer Goble's standards. For, sez he: "You're not a man yet till you've crawled out of bed on a cold morning with your shirt-tail frozen."

TRUE OR FALSE

When an unsaved man drinks intoxicating beverages he does several other things in that same act. He may please a fellow drinker, he may increase his reputation as a "good fellow" and he may enjoy a certain sense of liberation and exhilaration. But he becomes less free, less alive, less likely to receive and appreciate the salvation that the Lord Jesus Christ came to give to men. He increases his guilt before God, and multiplies his hazards and handicaps and headaches.

When a Christian and a church member drinks intoxicating beverages he does several things, also—he dishonors his Saviour, disgraces his family, disturbs his church, destroys his testimony, discounts his profession of faith, dissipates his own faith and joys, distresses all right-thinking people who love him, and discourages others from trusting Christ.

GET YOUR FISH-REGARDLESS

Ritual has its place, but not in fishing, according to John Alden Knight, who is one of the country's best-known angling authorities. He writes that the traditional upstream cast will often spoil your chances at a big trout, and he has some interesting things to say about drag.

The upstream cast is particularly hazardous if the trout should happen to touch the hard, resilient leader as he takes your fly. The resultant frightened splash will put down every feeding fish in the area.

Try casting downstream, with your fly coming at the trout first and the leader and line out of sight upstream; you won't have to use anything finer than 3-x leader points.

Inevitably in downstream fishing there comes a point where drag sets in. Knight discovered, more or less accidentally, that it is quite practical to utilize drag.

"When fishing big water, I would cast across and up and allow my fly to drift down opposite me before picking up to recast. Now and then, in the hope of picking up a fish which had refused my offering, I would allow the fly to drift down past me. Then when drag set in, I would skip the fly in short jumps across the current in a semi-circle until my line was directly downstream. To my surprise, I found that I caught fish that way."

For a while he contented himself with "bump casting" with skater or skitter flies. This highly unorthodox procedure consists of casting in rough water with a fairly short line. The forward cast is aimed so that it terminates at least two or three feet above the water. Then, as the fly drops, the rod tip is raised rather sharply, causing the fly to strike the water at an angle and to bounce. Bump casting is effective only in rough, broken water. Smooth water requires longer line.

The next step in this unethical series was the use of a well-greased line and leader, and skittering big skater flies across perfectly flat water. This method seems to have unusual appeal to large trout.

Since then, Knight has elaborated on the skittering method, combining it quite successfully with the downstream technique. Believe it or not, it really works.

State Champs To Open Season In Twin-Bill Against Maroons

Firing both barrels in the opening gun of their 1949 baseball campaign, the Kentucky high school champion Prestonsburg Blackcats meet the Wheelwright Maroons in a doubleheader here at 1 p.m., Saturday afternoon in Porter Field.

A slated opening game of the official Floyd county prep season last Saturday between the Blackcats and the Garrett Black Devils here was postponed due to unexpected cold weather.

With two of his three pitchers, more or less, incapacitated, Coach Wilbur Schu was loaded this week with an extended case of "Monday blues." Holdover pitcher Paul Harmon, who was shot in the neck while fishing on the river bank Thursday, and "Blue" Childers, who has developed a sore arm from some "extra-curricular" practice pitching last Sunday, are not expected to be in the best form for the coming double-bill. Lack of experience offers no clue as to the expected performance of Alex Patton. Schu said that outfielder Jimmy Joe Derossett may get a tryout at mound duty. Last Sunday's postponement rescheduled Garrett for May 14 and 21, Schu announced.

Regardless of the prospects of the doubleheader's outcome a bright note is evident in the new uniforms and equipment furnished the champs by the Prestonsburg Eagles who raised the funds by holding bingo games at their lodge. Expenditures by the Eagles on the venture were estimated at $400.75. The purchases were 15 complete uniforms, 20 bats, 10 gloves and 12 balls.

Uniforms have thus far been issued to Mickey Childers, 1b.; Eddie Hill, 2b.; Clyde Lafferty, 2b. and utility infielder; Charles Burchett, ss.; Johnny Mesley, 3b.; Jimmy Joe Derossett, if.; Quentin "Hooker" Allen, cf.; Martin Burchett, rf.; Don Willis, catcher; Jesse Wright, catcher; Gordon Price, utility outfielder; and pitchers Paul Harmon, Leon "Blue" Childers and Alex Patton. The award of one other uniform is not definitely decided, Schu stated.

Kentucky on Sugar Bowl Lineup for Sixth Year

The University of Kentucky Wildcats are among four of the nation's top quintets who have accepted bids to play in the annual Sugar Bowl basketball classic at New Orleans Dec. 29-30. The others are Tulane, Villanova and Bradley.

This will be Kentucky's sixth appearance in the Sugar Bowl. Tulane is also a repeater from last year. The remaining two are newcomers to the event.

Kentucky is the National Collegiate champion, Villanova a semi-finalist in the Eastern playoffs, Bradley a semi-finalist in the National Invitation tourney, and Tulane a Southeastern Conference finalist.

Mayo Broad Jumping With Eastern's Maroons

Eastern State Teachers' Maroons tracksters have a Prestonsburg youth on their roster who is making every effort to get ahead by leaps and bounds. Henry Lewis Mayo, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Mayo, and a freshman at the Richmond school, has made the travelling squad of Eastern's harriers as a broad jumper.

In a meet against Centre last Tuesday Mayo took second honors with a leap of 18' 1/2" while his teammate, Joe Harper, copped first by bounding 18' 1/4". A muddy field put a damper on the Centre meet. Tuesday of this week sees Mayo and buddies competing at Georgetown.

Sound waves have been perceived at a distance of 3,000 miles.

Purple Flash To Meet Garrett Black Devils And Meade This Week

Suffering a weatherman's cancellation last Saturday of their regularly scheduled opening game with Wheelwright at Martin. The Martin high school Purple Flash baseball nine goes to Garrett Friday for a baptism of initial fire with the Black Devils.

A clash of veteran outfits is expected Saturday when the Purple Flash meets the Meade Memorial Red Devils in the Johnson county ballyard of the host team.

Weddington Brothers On Mountaineer Nine At Berea College

The Weddington brothers, Herbert and Harry, Jr., sons of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Weddington, Emma, bolster the regular starting nine of the Berea Mountaineers in this year's baseball campaign.

Herbert, a freshman and a 1948 performer on the Prestonsburg high school state baseball champs, plays third base. Harry, Jr., a senior and a returning veteran of last year's Mountaineers, is a catcher.

Another brother, Joe David, is playing for Dallas, Texas, this year.

Between 4 and 8 per cent of the population is left handed.

To the People of Magisterial Dist. No. 4: After being over our district and talking to some of you people, I more fully realize the need for a "real-honest-to-goodness" Justice of the Peace. I'm sure that you want a man who is interested in BETTER public roads for ALL the people, not just a CHOSEN FEW. This makes me more determined than ever to try and be your next Magistrate.

If nominated and elected, I will repay you with the same faithful and unselfish service that I gave while serving with the U.S. 15th Air Force over Germany during this last war. My army duty was no cushion job and I am not looking for a soft seat at the taxpayers' expense.

Your vote, and influence deeply appreciated. Yours respectfully, for a servant of the people, HENRY STUMBO McDowell, Ky.

To the People of Magisterial Dist. No. 4: This is to let you know that I am a candidate for the nomination for Justice of the Peace of Magisterial District No. 4, subject to the action of the Democratic party at the August primary. I have served you heretofore and always have been ready when you called. I have fought for your interest at all times and have never failed to have my district share in anything that comes along. You all know that I am ready to accommodate you any time you call, whether rich or poor. Why change when you have a man who will do the job?

The same fellow every day and one who can see you all the time whether there is an election on or not. A man who is qualified for the office and who will do the job right. Your support and influence in this election for me will be appreciated. Most of you know that I am a fellow who will return the favor. (Pol. adv.) DEWEY ROBERTS

To the Voters of Floyd County: I am proud to be an American. I am proud of my country, my state, and my county. I am glad to live in our Great Democracy where a young man can grow up and with the help of God and his fellow man receive an education and a chance in life no matter how meager his materials and means might be. I am a firm believer in government for the people and not government for some politician or group of politicians.

If you nominate and elect me your County Court Clerk, I will be there to faithfully, honestly and diligently serve you and the good people of Floyd county. No job in that important office will be too small or too great for me to overlook my duties and obligations to you and our fellow citizens.

The office of County Court Clerk is yours. You must select a custodian. Place me in charge for the next four years and I will guard it for you. During that time I will give to you and your office all that is in me.

Every voter in Floyd county has his or her interests, rights, and privileges recorded, filed, or registered in our County Court Clerk's office. Give me the opportunity to serve as your clerk and I will make it a pleasure for you to come into your office to transact business. I will faithfully and accurately keep and protect your interests, rights, and privileges in a cheerful and excellent manner.

TO THE PEOPLE OF FLOYD COUNTY:

Upon the solicitation of many friends and good citizens, I have at last decided to seek county office, and this is to announce my candidacy for the Democratic nomination for County Judge.

I have served as Magistrate in District No. 3 for the last 10 years and during this time have tried to remember always that my duty is, first of all, to the people, rich and poor alike.

My record has been such that I have no regrets; I have worked to be of service without thought of enriching myself at the expense of others. And if elected County Judge, the same motives will be behind my every act in office. I pledge my efforts, in particular, to better rural roads.

Your help in the coming campaign will be deeply appreciated. HENRY STUMBO McDowell, Ky.

To the Democratic Voters Of Floyd County: I hereby announce my candidacy for County Court Clerk. I am a minister of the OLD REGULAR BAPTIST CHURCH, and have been a coal miner for 30 years. Fellow Democrats, nominate me and I will win, because I will serve the people all of the time, regardless of their standing in life. I will be faithful and true to all the people. Yours to win, BERT NEWSOM Grethel, Ky. 3-31-12t-pd.

TO FLOYD COUNTY VOTERS

I believe that the time has come in Floyd county for the voters to work and elect a working man for our Jailer. After all, it is the working man that pays all the bills. The only time the politicians are for the working man is on election day.

I am a crippled man, having lost a leg several years ago. I am a member of Local Union No. 7796, Drift, Ky. I am a resident of Arkansas Creek and am known all over Floyd county as "One-Legged Horse-Swappin'" Johnny Conn.

I am a Christian man and trying to lead a good life and all the citizens know that they will be treated fairly if I am nominated and elected.

I call upon the good Christian people and the working people to give an old working man a chance by nominating and electing me Jailer of Floyd county. I am 50 years old and have been a Democrat all my life. I will try and see all the voters that I possibly can between now and the primary election, but being a crippled man, I may not get to see all and I take this method of asking for your support and influence.

Subject to the action of the Democratic primary. JOHNNY CONN Arkansas Creek, Martin, Ky. (Pol. adv.) 4-14-1t.

TO THE PEOPLE OF FLOYD COUNTY:

This is to announce my candidacy for the Democratic nomination for the office of Jailer.

Four years ago, you were kind enough to help me in my race for this office, and I have never ceased to be grateful to you for that confidence. As Jailer I have conducted myself personally, the jail and all its duties as I think I should have. As far as my own physical condition would permit, I have worked hard to make you a good jailer and to care for the courthouse property as best I could. When unable to do this, I have had sober, honest assistants to do the work for me.

In short, I have tried to conduct myself and the office so that the good people could, without shame or twinge of conscience, vote for me again.

Had not inflated prices made it impossible for me to save any money out of the fees which are fixed by law, in time of low prices or high, I perhaps would not have again asked you to help me. But the truth is, I have made no money out of the Jailer's office. Now, with the prospect of lower prices, it is possible I could, within the next four years, make for myself and family the "nest egg" I had hoped to earn during my present term.

Certainly I have no ambition to remain in politics over a long period. As most of you know, I am unable to go into the mines or other fields of hard labor and earn a livelihood. But I can do the work of Jailer as well as any, and that is why I again am a candidate.

Please consider my case. I trust you will not think I am asking too much. Your friend, EVERETTE COLLINS (Pol. adv.) 4-14-1t.

PROOF OFFERED

I have been requested by Bible readers and Christians to keep my articles in your paper. Some one has said I should not have to pay. Many have told me they bought your paper to read my articles. Others have written me, saying faith like I have will endure the storm.

I have proved in written words by the Bible and the preamble that my work is right. No man has any authority to rebuke me for my work. I have never read in my Bible where Christ ever rebuked a woman to please a man.
I obey God rather than man. For I am the Lord's free woman. God's blessing at Easter time. He arose again, the third day (1st Cor. 15:4). A woman carried the first message of the risen Lord (St. Mark, 16th chap.) A woman carried the first message between the Jews and Samaritans. Christ talked to her at Jacob's well (St. John, 4th chap.) What happened to Peter near Easter (Acts 12th chap.) Peter vexed by Herod (4th verse) and when he apprehended him he put him in prison and delivered him to four quarters of soldiers (4th verse). Peter therefore was in prison but prayer was made without ceasing of the church unto God for him (12th verse) praying at the house of a woman (13th verse) a damsel heard Peter knocking (16th verse). Peter continued knocking and when they had opened the door they were astonished. (Acts 9, chap. 3-16 verses.) A woman called a disciple. Now, there was at Joppa a certain disciple called Tabitha which by interpretation is called Dorcas. This woman was full of good works and alms-deeds which she did.
Isaiah, 54th chap., 6th verse: For the Lord hath called thee as a woman forsaken and grieved in spirit and a wife of youth when thou wast refused, saith thy God (4th verse). Fear not; for thou shalt not be ashamed, neither be thou confounded for thou shalt not be put to shame for thou shalt forget the shame of thy youth and shalt not remember the reproach of thy widowhood any more (5th verse). For thy maker is thine husband, the Lord of Hosts is his name; and thy Redeemer the Holy One of Israel, the God of the whole earth shall he be called. A Specialized Prophet Jeremiah (Jeremiah 31st chap., 22nd verse). How long wilt thou go about, O thou backsliding daughters? For the Lord hath created a new thing in the earth. A woman shall compass a man.
The love of the church to Christ, song of Solomon, 8th chap., 5th verse: Who is this that cometh up from the wilderness leaning upon her beloved? I raised thee up under the apple-tree.
Now this is a warning to church and state that is in authority in Floyd county. If you fear God and keep his commandments, I ask for seven men of honest report full of the Holy Ghost and wisdom to come under my apple tree not to sit at my natural table as the apostles were commended (Acts 6 chap., 3rd verse); but protect my home and my God-given rights as I am standing on God's word and the things I know to be right. We have a know-nothing doctrine in our land and I refuse to follow.
1st Thes. 5th chap., 21st verse: Prove all things, hold fast to that which is good.

Who Is a Few and Who Is Selfish?

THIS section of Kentucky has voiced an overwhelming sentiment for canalization of the Big Sandy river as a move toward the economic independence of the area and its freedom from dependence on a national dole. In this Eastern Kentucky and the great majority of its citizens have been joined by officials and citizens of other sections of this and several other states.
In sympathy with Eastern Kentucky and its dream of industrial development and the economic well-being to which it is entitled are the Vice-President of the United States, the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, Kentucky's Governor, the Senators, Congressmen and practically every ranking official of the state.
Yet John L. Lewis and those lieutenants who echo his opinions publicly oppose locks and dams for the river, and a relative few of the mineworkers follow them without questioning.
This newspaper can understand the opposition of the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway Company to locks and dams. Even conceding that canalization would not injure the railway firm's business, it is but natural that it frowns on new competition in any form now as it has always done. We can understand why the Kanawha section in West Virginia, with the advantage of canalization already placing it in a commanding position, would oppose improvement of the Big Sandy as a means of transportation.
But we can no more understand how a miner can oppose locks and dams.

which would place the mines in which he works on an even basis with those of competing fields, than we can imagine a carpenter who wants to work and live comfortably at home being opposed to a move to build a thousand homes in his community and thus insure him work at his chosen trade.
Without resorting to sensationalism or straining for effect, it may safely be said that no more than ninety days of idleness separate this valley of ours from a return to relief days, that unhappy period when this section presented the national government with its biggest relief problem. This section is almost wholly dependent upon the coal business, not only from the standpoint of individual employment but also from that of the whole economic structure of the area. Let the mines close for three months, and miners and their families will be at starvation point, and business as a whole will literally go to pot.

Comes now a highly competitive market, the buyer's market. There definitely is an over-production of coal. With a heavy freight differential loaded onto the mine product of this section, plus the burden of high-cost production, that gap between normal prosperity and the dole might quickly be closed through idle mines. And it will be closed, unless something is done.
This is why the attitude of some of the men who labor is so utterly inconsistent with the normal human instinct to survive economically as well as physically.
John Lewis, capable and astute leader of labor that he is, has 600,000 coal miners in his union. Less than a sixth of these would benefit from Big Sandy canalization. Some other fields where his workers are might suffer as a result. So his opposition to the Big Sandy project can be understood.
Could it be that it has become apparent that some coal-producing section must inevitably suffer and that ours has been chosen, not maliciously, but as a matter of overall policy, to bear the bitter brunt of the blow somebody must sustain? Could we be earmarked for the dole if there must be a dole?

If we are, any of us of the Big Sandy region who concur in such trafficking with the destinies of thousands of our own are guilty of utter foolishness.
Two lieutenants of Mr. Lewis recently wired a legislator protesting the canalization movement and alleging that the move was for the benefit of only "a selfish few."

What "selfish few"? The Vice-President of the United States? all those other officials in high places? the fiscal courts and officials of all the counties of this section? the Parent-Teacher Associations, the civic clubs?
They are not a few. And all the thousands of them, dreaming of a richer, better Big Sandy, are not selfish.
The leaders of labor may be thinking of the national picture, and they are entitled to that view. But Big Sandy labor, the men depending upon the mines for employment, cannot afford to look that far. They must look to their own needs, regardless of what their leaders would like for West Virginia, Pennsylvania and other fields.

Their hope, like that of all the rest of us, lies on locks and dams on the Big Sandy, not on the Kanawha.

Changing Registration Invalidates Candidates Until After Election

No law prohibits a town marshal running for Sheriff. Assistant Attorney General Walter C. Herdman gave that opinion to Henry Tabor, Hawesville.

Answering another question, Herdman said a person who changed his party registration since last November's election cannot be a candidate for his new party's nomination until after the next general election.
