

This Town-- That World

ACKNOWLEDGES HIS DEBT There is a friend who sticks closer than a brother, but only he does, Agnel Jones, the young Lackey man of whose life all but his brother despaired after he had been shot in the arm and side, a few months ago, was here last week to tell the world that.

We are told that softball may be ruining much young baseball talent and that it detracts from the community interest at one time shown in the Great American Sport.

That may be, but I maintain we couldn't get along without softball. In fact, I know some fellows who might be on crutches but for the game. For instance:

On a recent morning, I saw a guy engaged in the somewhat plebeian task of mowing a lawn. And his condition was pitiable. He had a knee so stiff you would have thought he had a peg-leg. His face was twisted in anguish. The folks were seriously considering calling a doctor.

That was in the morning. That same night, softball came to his rescue. You may refer to your patent medicine ads for miraculous recoveries if you like, but never has any miracle drug reached out as this game did and snatched a human being from physical suffering. They still look, I suppose, for a panacea. I'd advise the savants of the medical and scientific world to look no farther and to turn to the study of the possibilities of this game.

For, only 12 hours after the guy had pulled up lame, softball had him up, chipper and spry—so spry he was tearing around the bases like Man o' War.

Maybe I shouldn't single out only softball as a great healer. There are other sports which have a similar effect. My wife reminds me that she has seen the mere mention of a

CRUCIAL MEET OF BOARD SET

If 5th Board Member Not Named, Case To Go To State Department

Out of next Tuesday's meeting of the Floyd County Board of Education, definite action of one kind or another is expected to come, it was predicted this week.

If the Board fails to agree on a successor to Ray Fraley, the matter of appointment will in all probability be submitted to the State Board of Education, since the date of the meeting will mark the last day of the 90-day waiting period required by law after a court decision before the matter may go to Frankfort.

If the Board fails to hire teachers, Superintendent Palmer L. Hall said today (Thursday) he will notify those teachers he has nominated for employment to prepare to begin school on September 5. "I hope the Board will agree but to get the schools started I will take this action," Hall said.

Superintendent Hall said Assistant Attorney-General advised him verbally that this would be the action he himself would take under such conditions, if he were Superintendent. He added that the courts would support the move.

(The Times last week erroneously gave the meeting date as Aug. 12.)

WILEY INJURED IN ESCAPE CAR

Store Robbery Suspect Suffers Skull Fracture As Stolen Auto Wrecked

One man was seriously injured early Sunday morning at Eastern in the wreck of an automobile in which he and an accomplice allegedly were fleeing with merchandise taken in the looting of a Lackey store, and is under surveillance at the Stumbo Memorial hospital, Lackey.

The injured man is Chester Wiley, of Lackey, a previous loser in Floyd county crime. He suffered a fractured skull and a broken jaw. Although his recovery is expected, doctors said his condition is such that he cannot at this time be removed to jail. His companion, Carl Reed, 29, was severely bruised but was jailed here by Wayland Policeman Troy Mullins and Special Officer Oak Mullins.

The wreck followed the looting, Saturday night, at Lackey, of the store of Mrs. Jonas Collins. Wiley and Reed were said by officers to have stolen the automobile of Mrs. Collins' son, Charles, into which some of the stolen merchandise was loaded. The wreck occurred on the Allen-Lackey highway, opposite the United Mine Workers' cemetery at Eastern when the car swerved into one side of the cut on top of the hill, then shot across the road into the other. The car was declared "a total wreck." Time of the wreck was placed at around 4 a.m.

Also arrested in the robbery were Morell Jacobs and Lloyd Hammonds, also of Lackey. They have denied complicity but Special Officer Mullins said Carl Reed identified Jacobs as one of the men who entered the store, adding that Hammonds was outside.

Mullins said some of the clothing taken from the store was found floating down Beaver Creek, in the vicinity of the bridge at Lackey, between 1 and 2 a.m., Sunday. The bridge, he said, is a short distance

Soldier's Uncensored Letter Cites Reasons for Setbacks

The following letter to his Garrett friends, Jennings and Clem Martin, from Cpl. William James "Honey" Boyd, of an engineer construction battalion, is re-printed, in part, as an answer to the oft-recurring question, "What's wrong with our boys that they're not winning?" Cpl. Boyd, a veteran of the fighting in Europe in World War II, wrote his letter on August 1, before the Marines and sorely needed supplies arrived, and so the letter is published simply as a picture of things as they were at the time it was written.—Editor.)

"Can you tell by the stamp on my letter where I am? Yes, we are at it again.

"We left Okinawa with my battalion over-strength, and you can guess where I am now. We loaded on buses at the company. Each man had a full field, rifle, helmet, plus a B bag with other necessities in it. And the bus I was on was a small G.I. job with 35 men on it, . . . we are sitting and standing on top of each other. We are supposed to be the best-fed, best-equipped and all around best army in the world, but the way things are going over here it's doubtful to me sometimes.

" . . . We climbed on a Japanese ship that as far as I could find out was used to haul Japanese prisoners from Russia. We were put into the ship's hold that had been rigged up like a truck that hauls sheep and hogs. . . . We were so close and crowded that when some one got sick it was too crowded to go up to the rail to vomit over the side. At one time below, I had two men vomit on me at one time . . . and we were sleeping on some straw mats that the Japanese used before . . .

" . . . You know me, Jennings. I never did complain about things, so you know things must have been pretty rough. No, I didn't get sick enough to vomit or get seasick, but when it was so hot and smelled so badly . . . I sat up on top deck in the rain rather than go below.

"Some of the men did not have raincoats, and most of our combat packs would not fasten together. I know one of my friends did not have a rifle of any kind, and we only had enough ammunition for 8 rounds per man. How would you feel, knowing you were close to enemy territory in that kind of a fix? In the village around us is full of the enemy and here we sit with that kind of a fix, and we don't know what the next few hours will bring. So if this gets through and you read about it in the papers, that is a true story, so help me God.

"And what I would like to know is where . . . all the army tanks and other supplies went that was supposed to be on the Island of Okinawa and other places. Where is the good, old United States taxpayers' money going to? And whose fault is it? . . .

"I have been and seen a lot of things during the war, but nothing like this. . . . You know what happened on Dunkirk. Only this time no ships. Bataan, No Ammo—and the rest of it . . ."

FLOYD COUNTY BUYING POWER UP PAST YEAR

Average Family's Net Up $307 in This County Despite $57-Drop in U.S.

Special to The Times New York, Aug. 7.—Despite a national drop of $57 per family in the past year in buying income, Floyd county actually went ahead of its prior record with an additional $307 available to the average family after personal taxes. This is brought out in a new, copyrighted survey of buying power covering all parts of the country, prepared by Sales Management.

Residents of Floyd county had total earnings, after income tax deductions, of $31,269,000 in 1949. This was a gain over the prior year when income came to $23,857,000.

Dividing the income by the 11,200 families in the county yields a per family income of $2,792, as against the $2,485 in 1948. In the same period, the average income per family for the nation at large dropped 1.3 percent.

These are arithmetical averages, it is noted, and are substantially higher than the "median" figures to be provided by the new census.

Most of this money found its way into Floyd county's stores, where purchases for the year totaled $15,634,000.

STRIKE IDLES 1,500 WORKERS

Stoppage Over Lay-Offs Termed 'Illegal' by Price; Operation Halted Monday

Upwards of 1,500 employees of the Wheelwright and Price operations of the Inland Steel Company were idle this week as the result of a strike which began Monday night.

E. R. Price, Wheelwright, general manager of the company's operations, said no grievances have been filed and termed the strike "illegal." "The men were stopped from going in to work," Price said of Monday night's work stoppage. "We don't know exactly what happened but we think we do."

The strike was said to have followed the lay-off in the last two or three weeks of between 80 and 90 men. Mr. Price said the lay-offs resulted from mechanized operation of the workings and that the contract with the United Mine Workers provides for such action in the case of mechanization cutting down on manpower needs. Men laid off, he explained, go into a panel or pool and future employees are drawn from that reserve. Some of those affected will be returned to work at once, he said.

Production of the Wheelwright and Price operations is not to be decreased by the lesser number of men employed, may even be increased through use of mechanical equipment, it was said.

COOP BEGINS NEW BUILDING

Construction Under Way, Building to Cost $16,000; Contract Let to Moore

The Prestonsburg Farm & Home Store of the Southern States Cooperative has awarded a contract to Jones Moore, Eastern, on construction of a 40x100-foot brick-and-concrete-block store building near the new upper limits of Prestonsburg, in the vicinity of the Eagles' clubhouse.

Ogden Stewart, manager of the store, said the structure will cost about $16,000 and that he hopes to move into the new quarters about December 1. The building will be of one story, with a full basement. "The construction project was begun after the Farm & Home Store had been located here little more than three years.

3-MONTH-OLD BABY DIES

Lana J. Mullet, three-month-old daughter of Henry and Dolly Mullet, died of dysentery at the Paintsville hospital, Wednesday. Survivors besides the parents are two sisters, Sharon Kay and Edda Fay.

Floyd's 'Miss America' Entry Aspires to 'Fair Portia' Role

Although she is the official 'Miss Kentucky' and has a chance to win the coveted 'Miss America' title at Atlantic City next month, Wheelwright's contribution to the nation's pulchritude—Miss Mary Louise Osborne—is unshaken in her resolve to become a career woman.

Nothing of the stage, no future bathing beauty contests and such for her. The winsome Floyd county brunette is set on a law career and is well on her way.

Miss Osborne, runner-up to Miss Rita Lee Rose, of Campton, at the Floyd County Sesquicentennial beauty contest, was named Miss Kentucky, a few days ago, when officials of the Miss America contest learned Miss Rose is now a bride.

The Wheelwright girl, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. W. D. Osborne, has had two years of legal education at the University of Kentucky, and but for her coming trip to Atlantic City would have had some experience this summer in the Prestonsburg law offices of Harkins & Harkins.

On her past record alone, without considering her charm and her talent as a pianist, Miss Osborne may be expected to make a strong bid for national honors. She is in the habit of excelling at things. To begin with, at Wheelwright high school Mary Louise was valedictorian of her graduating class and went to the University on an Inland Steel Company scholarship won in competition with select students from Floyd, Pike, and Knott counties. As a senior at Wheelwright in 1947 she also won the American Legion scholarship award.

At the University as a sophomore she won the economics award for the highest standing in the school in that field.

There, during the 1948-1950 term, she was named "Miss Venus" at the inter-fraternity council dance where feminine pulchritude was the rule rather than the exception.

She is a member of Alpha Delta Pi social sorority at U-K, and is its scholarship chairman and parliamentarian. She also is secretary of the Student Bar Association and of the Rutledge Club and is a member of the 240 Committee.

The 20-year-old Floyd county girl also was formerly with Troupers, campus dramatics group, and a member of the University concert band.

"We folks who worked to make the Sesquicentennial a success are naturally pleased that from the celebration came the 1950 Miss Kentucky.

Northward, Ho! Trek Begins From Floyd to "War Work"

The hegira northward toward employment in manufacturing plants has begun.

This and rising prices gave to the local scene this week a tinge of the picture as it was during World War II, when the shift in population was to war material manufacturing plants, in Michigan and Ohio.

"If they keep this up, there won't be enough people left around here to put out a fire," was one comment on the increasing departure of Floyd countians for what may again be known as "war work."

Dr. Marvin Ransdell, director of the Floyd County Health Department said, "It just about keeps two people busy working on birth certificates so folks can get ready for work in these plants."

ACCUSE TWO IN PIKE CASE

Vanover Brothers Held In Gun Death of Sheriff; Willard Damron Is Freed

Pike County Judge Irvin Pruitt announced Tuesday night that two brothers have been charged with wilful murder in the ambush slaying of Sheriff Roy Conway.

He identified them as Tommy Vanover, 26, and his brother, Herbert, 23. They were arrested July 29, the day after Sheriff Conway was lured from his home and shot in the back by a sniper.

They had been held for questioning in Louisa, Lawrence county.

Judge Pruitt said both men were named in two warrants, one charging wilful murder, the other aiding and abetting in wilful murder. Since there were no witnesses to the slaying, Judge Pruitt said two warrants were served.

The Vanovers and their father, John Vanover, operated a tourist camp at Rocky Fork, which was raided June 26 by Sheriff Conway and a deputy, Leston Justice.

As a result of the raid, John Vanover and his son, Hubert, were charged with illegal transportation of liquor and with resisting arrest.

The raid was only one of dozens the Sheriff had conducted in his crusade against bootlegging and gambling in Pike county.

The brothers were brought to the Pike county jail late Tuesday so they could be near their families and attorneys, Judge Pruitt said.

He said he expected a motion to be filed tomorrow asking for an examining hearing and that he would set a hearing for early next week.

A third man, Willard Damron, said by officers to have loaned the Vanovers his automobile the night of the slaying, had been held for questioning but has been released.

The 43-year-old Sheriff, who took office last January, was shot in front of his home about 11 p.m., July 28, after being lured from bed by a fake telephone call. A man representing himself to be Constable Joe Cleman, with whom the Sheriff had participated in several raids, told the Sheriff he had made another raid.

Mrs. Conway, the Sheriff's wife, said the caller asked the Sheriff to "come down and check the moonshine in."

She said she warned her husband that it might be a trap, but that he laughed and dressed to go to the courthouse.

As he walked from his front door.

"Waiting Period" Law Doesn't Slow "March To Altar" in Floyd

It's no news to learn that when folks want to get "hitched"—they just go pronto and get the knot tied.

But when the vows go to flying thicker and faster here despite a new law designed to stall folks in the act, especially when others elsewhere have slowed slightly in the march to the altar—well, that is something worthy of note.

Statistics at the office of Floyd County Court Clerk DuRan Moore revealed this week that, without apparent hesitation, 202 couples representing an increase of more than 25 per cent over the 150 for a similar period in 1949, have secured licenses since the first of the year and through July.

With August figures looking promising in the wedlock pace, indications are that this year, little more than half gone, will soon catch up with last year's total of 286 and pass by far the expectations "along the orange blossom trail."

Monthly figures that should have a tendency to make the "bow-and-

Increased Work Demands Second Sanitation Man; Betsy Layne Clinic Set

John Milton Stumbo, McDowell, former state representative and school teacher, assumed his duties Monday as an additional sanitary inspector for Floyd county, according to an announcement of Dr. Marvin Ransdell, director of the Floyd County Health Department.

Montaine Clark has been sanitary inspector handling the heavily overloaded job alone in the past, Dr. Ransdell stated, and the increased necessary functions demanded the addition of another man.

A pre-school physical check-up for school children, sponsored by the Betsy Layne Woman's Club, will be conducted by Dr. Ransdell and a nurse from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Wednesday, Aug. 30, at Betsy Layne. First graders, entering school for the first time this year, will get their required physical examinations and all will be given the required immunizations.

Other Floyd communities have made no such arrangements, Ransdell declared.

2 DEMOCRATIC WINNERS LOSE FLOYD COUNTY

Clements vs. Dawson, Perkins vs. Thompson Set-Up for Final Vote

Saturday's primary election, quiet to the point that voters stayed away from the polls in great numbers, set the stage for a stormier political campaign next November with Gov. Earle C. Clements, Morgantown, heading the Democratic ticket as the nominee for U. S. Senator and Judge Charles I. Dawson, Louisville, opposing him.

Closer home, the primary winners who will joust for the Seventh district seat in the lower House of Congress are Congressman Carl D. Perkins, Hindman, on the Democratic ticket and Dr. O. W. Thompson, Pikeville, on the Republican.

Tabulators speedily ran through the ballots, and as early as 9 p.m., Saturday the results were apparent. The count of Floyd ballots, however, was not completed till Monday morning. Governor Clements was never threatened by his Floyd-county-born opponent, Secretary of State George Glenn Hatcher, and the same was true in the nomination of Judge Dawson.

The Democratic Congressional race in this district was a trifle more tense, but with majorities in Pike, Knott, Perry and Letcher, Congressman Perkins won handily with a majority slightly in excess of 3,600 on the basis of unofficial returns.

(See Page 4 for the Floyd county vote by precincts.)

Floyd county showed a majority for both losers in the Democratic primary. With less than 7,000 votes, both Democratic and Republican, cast, the county gave Dr. Paul B. Hall of Paintsville a 28-vote margin over Congressman Perkins and presented Hatcher with a 1,533-vote majority over Governor Clements. The Secretary of State polled majorities in four other counties of the state—Johnson, Clark, Grant and Kenton.

Dr. Thompson easily defeated James M. Morrison, of Stopover, Pike county, for the Republican Congressional nomination. The Pikeville dentist did not lose a Floyd county precinct to his opponent. Only 828 Republican votes were

This scene on Dewey lake, looking upstream from Burchett Branch, is typical of the picturesque quality of Kentucky's newest attraction to sportsmen and vacationists. The picture, snapped by J. J. Gilpin, of the Division of Game & Fish, is one of 10 views of the lake and Dewey dam which appear in the 48-page souvenir printed in preparation for the Floyd County Fish and Game Club's eighth annual fish fry to be held at the Allen golf course, August 19 and 20.

The souvenir booklet, which goes on sale immediately at all business places which sell fishing and hunting licenses, contains 48 other photographs and the full fish fry program. Funds derived from sale of programs will make it possible for the club to pay for prizes to be given away during the big two-day event.

In addition to a long list of prizes to be awarded winners of various contests, the Floyd County Fish & Game Club will give attendance prizes, every 30 minutes of the two-day program, worth an average of $5. Prizes worth $778 will be awarded in the several bait-casting contests, and another group of awards ranging from boats and motors to fishing reels will total more than $1,100 in worth. The coming fish fry is expected to be the biggest in the eight-year history of the event, one of the state's prime sports occasions. E. R. Burke, Seventh district supervisor, Division of Game & Fish said.

WEEK'S COAL OUTPUT CITED

Big Sandy Field's Yield For Last Week in July Reaches 305,390 Tons

Big Sandy mines produced 305,390 tons of coal during the week ended July 29, according to figures released by H. S. Homan.

The executive secretary of the Big Sandy-Elkhorn Coal Operators Association said this represents an increase of 93,480 tons over the corresponding week last year.

Production in the Big Sandy area for the week was 2.83 per cent of all coal mined in the United States, an increase of .09 per cent over the same week last year.

Member mines of the association worked an average of 4.36 days during that period, Homan reported. Most of them worked the full five-day week, but three smaller mines did not operate. There are 51 mines represented in the association.

So far this year, Big Sandy mines have produced 8,100,450 tons, an increase over this time last year. For the year so far the field has mined 304 per cent of the nation's coal output.

The five high-volatile fields of Southern West Virginia and Eastern Kentucky have produced 14.31 per cent of the nation's coal this year—38,085,300 tons. Other fields in this group are Williamson, Logan, and Kanawha in West Virginia and Hazard in Kentucky.

Why Not More Water?

A FEW weeks ago, the level of Dewey Lake was purposely raised to more than five feet above the conservation pool which is now fixed at altitude 645.

That five feet of water obviously did no damage. And it was apparent there was room for another five feet without damage to roads or any property other than that owned by the federal government.

Minor changes at the dam itself, we are told on good authority, would make impoundment of more water a routine matter.

Then it would seem not only possible but also feasible for this additional depth to be impounded. The Times admits its ignorance of engineering problems, but it maintains at the same time that it knows, without such technical knowledge, that there are good reasons for deepening—and, therefore, enlarging—the lake.

The flood control feature would still function. The valley of Johns Creek already is inundated, and a few more feet of water will harm it no more than it has already been affected. Existing utilities would still be above the water level, and property on which easements have been procured by the federal government would not be touched, since the properties are in Pike county.

Present limits of the lake are sorely taxed by the recreation-starved hundreds, every week. This situation has developed in a period of three months. What of the future? If possible, the lake should be deepened to add to its area. Its greater utility in the matter of recreation would mean much to thousands of persons annually, and, apparently, would not detract from its value in any other respect.

The Times submits this as the case of the Public, with full appreciation of the long-range plans laid by the Corps of Engineers for us, and certainly with no idea of attempting to place on the Engineers any public pressure.

If we're wrong, we invite the Engineers to set us right.

LEXINGTON—Kentucky farmers are losing $500,000 a year because of the poor quality of their milk and cream, according to a speaker at a University of Kentucky dairy short course. Field workers were urged by the speaker, K. E. Mennen, Louisville, to show farmers how to produce cleaner milk and cream.

At the latest count, 8,000,000 wives—or nearly one-fourth of all married women—have jobs outside the home in the U. S., the American Magazine reports. Half of these working wives are mothers.

Because November has five Thursdays this year there will be two Thanksgiving Days celebrated in the United States unless some states change statutory provisions fixing the date of observance. Most states mark the last Thursday for the celebration but a few name the fourth Thursday for the event.

The fact that this local spending represents only 50 cents of each dollar of family income as opposed to 67 cents nationally, shows that a considerable amount of untapped buying power exists in the Floyd county market.

After analyzing Floyd county as to income, sales and population, the survey assigns to it a "U.S.A. potential" figure of .0191, which is the percentage of the country's retail business that could be produced locally. This compares with the .0122 percent actually done in 1949, showing that there is still considerable latent buying power to be tapped.

CITY LIMITS MAY EXTEND

To Dewey Lake Boundary, Mayor Declares After Monday Council Meet

There is a possibility, predicted Mayor Curtis Clark this week, that the city limits of Prestonsburg eventually may extend to Dewey Lake.

The Mayor's comment followed Monday night's meeting of the City Council and circulation in the Kiwanis Club of The Bulletin, club weekly publication, in which Virgil Warrick, Lancer resident, urged that Prestonsburg include that community within its limits.

Mayor Clark suggested that the people of the area mentioned petition for annexation, and expressed the hope that all that area up Brandy Keg to the Dewey reservoir itself may in time be included in the city.

"One thing is certain, we do not intend to become involved in another annexation fight," Clark said. "If the folks up there want police protection, city gas and water and lower insurance rates, Prestonsburg will be glad to have them, although their annexation would mean we must spend around $10,000 on water and gas mains to serve Lancer."

This discussion of possible new territory to be added to Prestonsburg was attended by complaints filed from another section which has rejected annexation. Protests were filed by residents of that part of West Prestonsburg which is outside the city limits against the increase in minimum payments on gas and water service. The Council recently raised the water minimum from $2 to $4 a month and gas from $1.50 to $3.

The Council was quoted as holding that the extra expense in laying new lines to outside sections justifies the increases voted. It was indicated by city officials that the way lies open to lower rates for protesting residents—and that is to become a part of Prestonsburg.

Senate-House Committee Okehs More Than Double Social Security Raise

A Senate-House committee has agreed to more than double Social Security payroll taxes over the next 20 years to pay for a vastly expanded old age and survivors insurance program.

This will increase Social Security tax collections from the present $2,500,000,000 a year, to about $3,000,000,000 next year, $4,000,000,000 in 1954, $5,000,000,000 in 1960 and to about $6,500,000,000 a year beginning in 1970.

The bigger collections will result from stepping up the present 1 per cent payroll tax on employe and employer to 2 per cent each in 1954, to 2 1/2 per cent in 1960, to 3 per cent in 1965 and to 3 1/4 per cent each in 1970.

The tax now is collected on the first $3,000 of a worker's income. Beginning next year the collection would be on the first $3,600, increasing the top tax on an individual under the present rate from $45 to $54.

Approval of the tax boost virtually completed compromise committee action on the Social Security expansion bill which has been passed in slightly varying forms by both House and Senate.

The compromise bill probably will go to President Truman by the end of next week. If this bill becomes law in August, payments to 3,000,000 persons now receiving benefits will increase by an average of 7 1/2 per cent in October or November.

One congressional expert on the subject said Social Security benefits will increase from the present $800,000,000 a year to around $2,100,000,000 in 1951.

BIG PROGRAM IS RED CROSS'

Floyd County To Supply Minimum of 1,200 Pints Of Blood in Next Year

Gen. George C. Marshall, president of the American Red Cross, has accepted for the organization the responsibility of providing blood and blood derivatives for use of the armed forces on the request of Secretary of Defense Louis Johnson and the Floyd county Red Cross chapter, along with others over the nation, soon will begin preparing for participation in the huge program.

Although the Red Cross blood center at Huntington, on which work will begin Sept. 1, will not be completed before Jan. 1, Floyd and the 25 other cooperating chapters in the Tri-State area within a 100-mile radius of Huntington will be prepared, long before that date for the actual giving of blood. Ella Noel C. White, executive secretary of Floyd chapter, said this week.

Dr. Marvin Ransdell and personnel of the Floyd County Health Department were beginning this week a register of blood types which will be an accurate blood information file on more than 3,000 veterans. This, Dr. Ransdell said, would be ready when complete for use on a moment's notice.

When the Huntington center is complete possibly 15, not less than 12, visits a year will be made into this county by a mobile blood unit from Huntington, and on each visit this county will be expected to give 100 pints of blood. The cooperation of all committees and organizations in the county will be necessary to reach this quota, Miss White said. With approximately 40 per cent of the blood donors expected to fail to qualify for giving blood, around 150 donors will be needed each month in order to find 100 qualified to supply the blood needed, it is estimated. All hospitals in this section have approved the program and when it is in effect will be eligible to receive blood and its derivatives from the center.

FRANKFORT—Kentucky's bank resources dropped last year, but they still topped $1,000,000,000, according to State Banking Commissioner Henry H. Carter. The total for 296 banks, he said, was $1,013,141,027, a decrease of $38,336,989 from 1948.

Kentucky and possibly a Miss America, and we're proud to send to Atlantic City a young lady of Miss Osborne's attainments," was the comment of Franklin W. Moore, who served as Sesquicentennial chairman.

Immediately after learning that Miss Rose was married, Mr. Moore and Miss Betty Martin, chairman of the Sesquicentennial beauty contest, contacted the Early Maxwell Associates, publicists for the Miss America contest, with the result that Miss Osborne was named her alternate.

All preliminary arrangements were being made this week for Floyd county's first Miss Kentucky to leave here in time for her arrival in Atlantic City on September 5, opening of the Miss America pageant of beauty.

W. H. JONES DIES FRIDAY

Four Years of Illness Claims Former Business Man and Mine Inspector

William H. Jones, Sr., state mine inspector during the administration of Governor W. J. Fields and for years prominent in the business life of the section, died at 4 a.m., Friday at his residence on Maple avenue here at the age of 72.

His death followed four years of ill health during which time he had submitted to two operations.

A son of Evan Jones, who emigrated to this country from Wales, and Frances Roy Jones, he was born in Prestonsburg, Sept. 22, 1877. Except for boyhood years spent in Pikeville with an aunt after the death of his mother, Prestonsburg, where he had many relatives and friends, was his home. In earlier years, he was a salesman and coal operator. After his term as state mine inspector, he engaged in the oil and gas business.

During his tenure as chief mine inspector he took a leading part in the efforts to rescue Floyd Collins from the cave which now bears Collins' name. In 1928-1929 he was president of the American Mine Inspectors Institute. He was a member of Zebulon Masonic lodge, Prestonsburg.

Mr. Jones was married Sept. 24, 1902 to Miss Lucy Goble, a daughter of the late Judge James Goble and Mrs. Elizabeth Goble, of Prestonsburg. Mrs. Jones and their three children, Miss Frances Jones and W. H. Jones, Jr., both of Prestonsburg, and Jack Goble Jones, Louisville, survive. He also leaves one sister, Mrs. Minerva Loar, of Betsy Layne.

The funeral was conducted Sunday afternoon from the Methodist Church here, the Revs. Wm. Hugh Smith, A. C. Harlowe and M. Robert Regan officiating. Burial was made in the Mayo cemetery, the Arnold Funeral Home directing.

Paintsville To Spend $307,460.25 To Build New Pool, Waterworks

Paintsville, Ky., Aug. 5—The City of Paintsville has awarded contracts totaling $307,460.25 for construction of a swimming pool and new waterworks as part of its $1,000,000 improvement program, Mayor J. B. Wells announced this week.

The Frye Engineering Company, Cynthiana, was low bidder at $214,945 for the waterworks. It is required because of a 100 per cent increase in population during the past 10 years.

A contract for $91,515.52 was awarded to the Jack Childers Construction Company, Cumberland, for the swimming pool and bathhouse, the first part of a playground to be developed in the Stafford addition.

Work on both projects will begin immediately, Wells said.

Wells also announced that the School Board had awarded a contract to Preston & Hall Contractors, Pikeville, for a new $285,000 high-school building and gymnasium.

The city's population rose from 2,112 in 1940 to 4,380 in 1950. Wells said the increased number of water consumers had necessitated keeping the pumps in operation 20 hours a day.

Hatcher Says 'Many Thanks'

I wish to thank my many loyal friends and relatives in Floyd county who supported and voted for me for U. S. Senator in the primary election, August 5. I regret we lost our battle; however, the short time to organize and limited funds I had to work with explain the statewide results. Actually, I campaigned about 25 days and I am proud of the votes I received when I think of the odds against me.

Even though we lost in votes, I feel we won in other ways. By this I refer to the many promises made and the roads started because of the opposition from me, an East Kentucky man.

My only hope now is that the promises will be fulfilled and that the roads will be finished in order to pull our people out of the winter mud.

Again, I extend my thanks and appreciation from the bottom of my heart to my people who were so loyal and true, and I appreciate all the confidence and trust you have shown in me. I hope to live up to and continue to hold that confidence.

Respectfully, your friend, GEORGE GLENN HATCHER

Other arrests within the week included: John H. and Harlan Hatfield, charged with possessing moonshine whiskey, Saturday, by Johnny Caudill, Green and Willie Johnson; Ike Tussey, drunk driving, by state police, Saturday; Ollie Thorps, obtaining goods under false pretenses, by Deputy Sheriff Marion Martin, Sunday.

Robbery of the Floyd Motor Company here Sunday night resulted in Bill Hunt and Dewey Osborne being arrested by city police and held in the county jail for investigation. A motor firm employe said that $30 in cash was missing. Entry was made through an office window.

TB Group Holds Special Meeting To Determine Best Way to Serve

A special committee of the Kentucky Tuberculosis Association recently met to determine how the Association, at this critical time, can best serve the people of Kentucky.

In the judgment of the committee, the solution of the tuberculosis problem in Kentucky to a considerable extent depends on the opening and maintenance of the five new tuberculosis hospitals provided by the Legislature through the State Tuberculosis Senatorial Commission. The immediate task is to seek out, and remove, the causes of building and operational delay in each district.

The committee took note of the fact that the hospital at Paris is the only one of the new hospitals now in operation although the cornerstones of all five were laid in 1946. It presented the following facts about tuberculosis in Kentucky:

For many years Kentucky has been one of three states having the highest death rate from tuberculosis.

The 1948 figures in Kentucky show that other communicable diseases (excluding the pneumonia and tuberculosis) killed 748 Kentuckians while tuberculosis alone killed 1,272.

During the 56 months of World War II, tuberculosis took the lives of 1,195 more Kentuckians than the state lost in the army on all the battlefronts around the world.

Tuberculosis has been declared United States' No. 1 public health problem.

In 1946 the cornerstones for the five new tuberculosis hospitals were laid but four and one-half years elapsed before the first was placed in operation. During this time tuberculosis patients have continued to spread their disease and die at the rate of 1,424 per year.

The Division of Tuberculosis Control of the State Department of Health has, in cooperation with other groups, developed an efficient case-finding program. Three modern 35mm x-ray trailers donated by the Brotherhood of Elks of Kentucky to the State Department of Health and operated by the Division of Tuberculosis Control, are doing a splendid piece of work and are finding many cases in need of hospitalization, with no beds available.

The committee emphasized that it is not attempting to place on any one the blame for the delays, but added it accepts the responsibility for keeping pertinent facts before the people so that each one, no matter whether acting in groups or as individuals, will feel a definite responsibility for helping to carry to a speedy completion this hospitalization program begun more than four years ago.

EXPERT BAIT CASTING TEAM ISSUES STANDING CHALLENGE

Standing challenge to any boys bait casting team from anywhere was voiced this week by the Prestonsburg Bait Casting Team of the Junior Conservation club here. The bid for competition was issued through E. R. Burke, Seventh District Fish and Game Supervisor.

Backing up the challenge, the five boys whose ages range from 12 to 16 years, have consistently marked up some enviable high scores in a period of over a year, which may not only equal but better the record of any similar group in the United States.

At a Salsersville exhibition on Sunday, July 30, the youths "plugged" their targets for a five-man total of 477 out of a possible 500 for an average of 95 and two-fifths. Individual scores were Bill Baker Burke, Stewart Stephens, Donald Workman, 97 each, Edmund R. Burke, 95, and David Allen, 91.

A recent exhibition before a sportsman's show at Grayson saw the boys mark up a total of 471 of a possible 500 for an average of 94 and one-fifth. Individual marks were David Allen, 98, Stewart Stephens, 96, Bill Baker Burke and Donald Workman, 93 each, and Edmund Burke, 91.

In over a year of casting, the closely-kept records of both exhibition and practice sessions show their lowest total score to be 461 for an average of 92 and one-fifth. Contest competition, whether it be among the "Juniors" of their own age group or among the top-flight casting senior age groups, presents no terrors to these boys. Their past performances in contests open to all ages in recent years have earned for the individual members of the team a respect and acclaim in sportsman circles throughout the state.

Twelve-year-old David Allen, at the age of 11 in 1949, wading through a heavy field of competition in an all-age "Open" bait casting contest at the Floyd County annual fish fry event, finished one of the longest events of its kind in the sports history of the state by victoriously "duelling" in four extra cast-offs with Dooney McGuagay, one of the top casters of the Lexington Sportsman's Club.

The final regular round found little David, McGuagay and Robert Bunting, who previously "graduated" with high marksmanship honors from the Prestonsburg Junior Conservation Club and has since been a consistent top performer, all three tied at 95. The first extra round gave young Allen and the Lexington expert a 93 each and Bunting was eliminated with a 90 which is ordinarily good in any league. A third extra round of casting for a possible 50 saw each, the man and the boy, hit the hoop for 48 while tension approached joyous bedlam among the assembled 3,500 spectators. The final casting, a round of five targets, resulted in David winning with a score of 47 out of 50.

Another amazing performance was that of Stewart Stephens in 1948. Stewart, also eleven years old at the time, hit a double at the fish fry before an estimated crowd of 5,000 people. He won first place in the junior division and, a few minutes later, entered the all-age event and expertly copped top honors with a 96 of a possible 100.

The same year witnessed a triumph by Bill Baker Burke against some of the best in the state competing in the 1948 Perry County Open at Hazard. His other contest feats have been near the top since. He promises to follow in the footsteps of his older brothers, Edmund and Winston, the latter recognized throughout the state for his ability.

Edmund won the Junior "Open" in 1949 with all five of his fellow team members taking the first five spots in a field of 19 casters. An extra round was necessary to decide the champ, Edmund, his brother Bill Baker and Don Workman tied with a 95. The "cast-off" round found them finishing with 96, 93 and 90 in the order named. In the same year, Edmund won top place in the all-age "Open" casting events in Pike county and in Knott county.

In regular junior club competition, Edmund Burke and Stewart Stephens have copped regional honors and won their way to the state-wide events for three consecutive years. Edmund placed fourth in 1947 and second in 1948 and 1949 in the state tests. Stewart gained a third place in each of the annual state trips.

Speaking of Workman, District Supervisor Burke, who is the proud father of the two Burke boys, declared, "Don is just as good as the others—I would not make any difference in the consistent performances of these boys. This Workman boy has always finished "in the money" in all his competition.

"I have been an ardent sportsman," the elder Burke continued, "and I've seen a lot of casting but never in my life have I ever seen anything in any age group that can equal the team performance of this bunch of boys."

HOMAN SAYS "HOARD COAL"

Storing Fuel Needs Now
Will Strengthen Economy,
Cause No Shortages

There is one kind of hoarding which has been openly advised, and nobody has heeded the adviser, in a long time.

Harry S. Homan, executive secretary of the Big Sandy-Elkhorn Coal Operators Association at Pikeville, has advised the hoarding of coal.

"Hoarding," he said, "is advised of the one and only commodity which will tend to strengthen the economy, lead to no shortages and will actually lead to an increase in the supply of bituminous coal."

Continuing, Homan said: "It can be stocked to the limit of storage capacity and at the same time perform a great service in national preparedness."

"The buyer may now pick and choose quality coals for size and analysis to suit his needs but if military requirements create a shortage as anticipated, then the general public may find it necessary to pay increased prices for whatever grade and quality they can find. Transportation may also be uncertain and more costly. Do yourself and your country a favor by storing your fuel needs now," he said.

Authorize Enforcement Of New Fireworks Law Pending Final Decision

The Court of Appeals has authorized enforcement of Kentucky's new fireworks law pending its final decision.

Action was taken recently in denying a petition by the L. S. Cherry Company, Horse Cave, to set aside an order by Hart Special Judge Brents Dickinson permitting officers to arrest violators of the law.

Dickinson issued the order at Muddfordville June 29, but it did not take effect for 20 days.

The Cherry company and Bristol's Fireworks Firm, Owensboro, attacked the new law as unconstitutional. The law went into effect June 15. The two fireworks firms succeeded in holding off enforcement long enough to sell Fourth of July fireworks. They now can ask the Appellate Court to hear their case on its merits.

The law, enacted by the 1950 General Assembly, bars retail sale of fireworks, but permits authorized public displays under regulations designed to safeguard spectators.

GARRETT
METHODIST CHURCH NEWS

The Christian Board of Education held its regular meeting on August 4, following the regular prayer service. Although the attendance was small, the business was conducted in the usual manner. Everyone is urged to attend these business meetings and help in carrying the responsibilities of our church as well as to know first hand what goes on therein.

Our Sunday School attendance is excellent. Everyone seems very interested. The Junior Class has an enrollment of 30 even after the loss of the three Petrey children who have been very faithful for several years. The Morris Petreys moved to Columbus, Ohio where he is regularly employed. Our loss is certainly Columbus' gain for they are excellent church workers.

Everyone should keep in mind our annual picnic which will be coming soon. This is a reward for the children who have been so faithful in attendance. At present about one-third of our attendance is from Knott county. Floyd county needs to get busy and bring in all the children who are not enrolled in another Sunday School.

The Sewing Club celebrated its first anniversary with a picnic on August 3. The Club motored to Pikeville and made an appearance on a radio broadcast. Mrs. Delbert Stone was presented the corsage and Mrs. V. A. Hayes was given the opportunity to win a shopping bag containing several items. Because of the large crowd in attendance from all sections we were only permitted time to announce our names which were: Mesdames J. M. Preston, E. C. Blanton, Delbert Stone, Joel Martin, Leck Martin, Otis Kilburn, Cally Beatty, Hite Martin, Troy Webb, O. C. Hayes, V. A. Hayes, Jim Wallace, O. J. Webb, Haskell Johnson and daughter, Linda Carrol.

After some time spent in shopping and picnicking we then drove to Dewey Lake for relaxation.

Our next meeting will be with Mrs. Blanton on Sept. 7.

Although our Sewing Club is small in number, the difference is made up in great effort. Everyone has enjoyed the work we have done and the fellowship together in meeting in the different homes. The tie has been so strengthened that I doubt its being excelled in any church regardless of the size.

We close our year with this report: We collected $511.36. We purchased a floor furnace for the church, a door retarder, outside light and book racks which were placed on the backs of seats for song books. We have on hand $230.45. We feel it has been a most successful year but we look forward to next year hoping to do much more.

The outgoing officers are Mesdames V. A. Hayes, O. C. Hayes, Joel Martin and Otis Kilburn. New officers will be elected at the September meeting.

In the absence of Rev. C. F. Allen, Mrs. Galloway Gray conducted the service Sunday evening.

The M. Y. F. entertained the District Conference on Aug. 21. An outside meeting is planned. All young people are invited to attend the regular meetings each Tuesday evening at 6:15.

You frequently hear talk of the private power industry, meaning people like us. But the word "private" gives a rather wrong idea. It suggests a few individual owners—and all of them undoubtedly rich.

Actually Kentucky & West Virginia Power Company is built on the savings of the people of the whole United States. To begin with, we have 28,250 direct owners—or stockholders—and they come from all walks of life.

Our indirect owners make a group that's even larger. They're the people who have insurance policies and saving accounts—and that probably includes you. These investments, in their way, can make you a part owner of Kentucky & West Virginia Power Company just as certainly as if you owned Kentucky & West Virginia stock.

When banks and insurance companies accept your money, they must invest it wisely. Because Kentucky & West Virginia Power Company has a long record of efficient management and operation, its securities are safe and sound, sought after by the bank and insurance people to whom you entrust your savings.

So whatever concerns this business-managed, tax-paying electric company affects millions of insurance policy holders and bank depositors, large and small. Since you're among them, you can see that whatever affects a "private" utility is very much private business of your own.

How Hudson, with exclusive recessed floor, brings you the world's Best Ride

HUDSON

"Step-down" design, with its recessed floor, brings space between frame members, which is wasted in other cars, into Hudson's passenger compartment. This results in America's lowest center of gravity (and full road clearance) for a smoother, steadier, safer ride than is possible in any other car!

OTHER CARS

Floor is on top of the frame, so the vital space between frame members is not available for passenger use. This creates a higher center of gravity which results in less stability, less smoothness as you ride, particularly on curves, in cross winds and on rough roads.

YOU ARE especially invited to try a Hudson ride, to enjoy a new way of going not available elsewhere at any price!

Hudson's new way of building automobiles with exclusive recessed floor ("step-down" design) results in America's lowest center of gravity—which is the key to the steadiest road-hugging ride ever known!

Hudson's exclusive recessed floor also results in low-built, streamlined beauty. Right along with full road clearance, it brings you more head and seating room than in any other car!

And brilliant, high-compression engine performance, a traditional characteristic with Hudson, is another engineering triumph that makes riding in this great car the outstanding automotive experience of the year! Won't you try it soon?

The new, lower-priced Pacemaker brings you all of Hudson's great advantages for Just a Few Dollars More Than The Lowest-Priced Cars!

THE GARDEN

"TIMELY TOPICS"

By John S. Gardner, Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics.

It is time to start another planting of Golden Cross Bantam sweet-corn. Incidentally, that word "cross" is important; common Golden Bantam is too subject to Stewart's disease (corn wilt) that now infects almost all Kentucky gardens. Golden Cross is resistant. When this planting is two inches tall, another should go in, so that there may be no break in the corn supply.

Also, another planting of beans should be made now. Good varieties are US5 and Bountiful. For a taste-change, Bush or Pole Horticultural (Cranberry) could be used. Now is the time to start this delightful shell bean.

Now, also, is the time for starting endive, a fall salad. A packet of seed sows easily 20 feet. Thinning to 10 inches, 25 heads should result, ready in 90 days. Moderate frost does endive no harm, and a loose covering of straw has been known to protect a few heads for Thanksgiving dinner. Tying it up loosely, about two weeks before it is wanted, bleaches the head creamy white. The variety is Green Curled.

Another fall salad to be started now is Chinese cabbage; the variety Chihill. One packet sown in hills of three seeds, spaced 12 inches apart, should make up to 50 heads. Chinese cabbage needs no tying up, but makes heads of itself. It may be stored by transplanting in boxes of earth, set in a freeze-proof cellar and watered generously, but not the tops. So handled, heads have kept nicely until February.

Generally, the fall salads are put where crops of beans or sweet corn have been made, and such soil is likely short of nitrogen, the plant food that green crops especially like. A light sowing or side-dressing of poultry manure, or a broadcasting of chemical nitrogen, one pound to 250 square feet, provides the necessary nitrogen. Or any handy mixed fertilizer may be used, at double this amount.

Tomato late blight (the serious kind) was reported in the neighborhood of Lexington, July 11. Those who have done no spraying should start, just in case, and those who have a spraying program in progress might cut the customary 10-day intervals to seven days for the next two sprayings. The control of blight is a matter of prevention; there is little cure once the trouble has started.

Perfect Reward for Achievement!

WHEN A MAN PLANS and dares and endeavors until he achieves something out of the ordinary—few would deny him some taste of the fruits of his labor.

"Tis toil's reward that sweetens industry."

"As you have sown, so also shall you reap."

"According to the labour, so is the reward."

And we believe sincerely that—for the average man—there is no sweeter personal reward for achievement than a Cadillac car.

First of all, it is the perfect symbol of attainment. In almost every community where adequate highways exist, Cadillac is known and recognized as the overwhelming favorite of the world's distinguished people.

And few possessions, indeed, can give so much personal happiness to their owners—during so many days in the year.

A Cadillac car is a constant joy to drive. You can sit at the wheel, for hour after hour, completely at ease. Many owners say they drive hundreds of miles each week—just for pleasure and relaxation.

And it adds so much to your satisfaction to know that economy goes with you—each mile you drive.

It actually costs less to buy the lower-priced Cadillacs than certain models of numerous other makes of cars. A single tankful of gasoline will usually suffice for a full day's drive. And the full lifespan of a Cadillac has never yet been measured.

If you are one who has planned and labored until you've earned something special for yourself—come in and see us.

We know you'd enjoy a Cadillac—and even your severest critic would have to admit that it's a practical car to buy.

P.S.: Perhaps you know some modest man who ought to read this message. If so, we think you'd be doing right if you brought it to his attention.

"JUMPING THE ROPE"

A professor of physical education in Utah has recently written me to ask about our methods of jumping the rope in this out-of-the-way place. Of course, she did not phrase it that way; that is my own writing. I wrote her just about everything I could think of that would let her know what jumping the rope was like at Fidelity and many another place. She is doing some research in that field and should find some interesting things. If I were not so old and clumsy, I would like to learn all the sequences she finds out, and then act them out.

Now at Fidelity we really went in for jumping the rope. It was a game that many could play at, and it did not take a lot of equipment. Grapevines grew in profusion all over our part of the world. A vine about twenty to thirty feet long is best, for it can accommodate a whole school at once. We would line up facing the descending rope, run in, jump the rope, and then run out on the other side. Usually we made a figure eight, running around the other player and back in again. Sometimes we played so rhythmically that someone was there to jump each time the rope struck the ground. Even little fellows could do this well; it was a source of pride to little girls to be good rope-jumpers. The throwers were relieved from time to time so that they could take their places in line. It took only a few jumps to raise a big dust, which thenceforth was all over us and the schoolyard.

After we had learned how to run at the "front door," we tried our luck at the "back door," that is, with the rope going up rather than down. It took a good deal of skill to do this, almost as much as to turn a somersault backwards. We often got tripped in this sort of game, but falls did not hurt in those days. If we hesitated or running in, either in front or back, we called that "catching flies." Sometimes a scary child would get completely bewildered watching the rope and fail to run in at all. That called for some severe kidding.

Some youngsters developed skills of all sorts. They would hop on one foot, jump on all fours, jump with a partner, click their heels together as they jumped, or turn round and round as they jumped. Some called for "hot pepper," that is, a very fast throwing of the rope. Too often this ended in a free-for-all, for the throwers usually gave the jumper more than he bargained for. Sometimes we "rode the waves," that is, we jumped the rope as it was swinging backward and forward but not over. Some long-legged boys preferred to show off by jumping the rope a foot off the ground. The throwers sometimes made it up to trip the jumper after a few successful jumps. It was this very trick used by two boys at Fidelity that caused Ab Elliott to get a severe fall and break his arm. The boys very penitently agreed to help pay for Ab's groceries while his arm was healing; their generosity almost broke them up, for Ab's arm was a long time healing; he was having too soft a time with this arrangement.

Jumping the rope singly was sure to break out like a rash every year. The best single jumpers were usually fair-sized girls, who could jump a hundred times or more without missing a step. Sometimes they said rhymes, which I have wholly forgotten, much as I would like to have recalled a few to send to the lady professor. Sometimes the single jumper would throw the rope over another girl, who also kept perfect time with the thrower. Grapevine was good for this type of short rope, but sometimes a portion of a plowline or a well rope appeared, a sort of aristocrat at Fidelity School. Skillful throwers had their share of the fun by varying the rhythm of the rope to get even with some of the jumpers. There are probably several mysterious knots on some middle-aged heads right now that got started from being whacked with a heavy grapevine, when those same heads were much younger and more daring and probably needed just such rude reminders of being out of line or acting too big on the playground.

Two Floyd Students Are Honored At Pikeville

Magdalene Bentley, of McDowell, and Geneva Prater, of Hueysville, were among the honor graduates as they and three other Floyd countians received diplomas from Pikeville Junior College, Friday. The honor list was made up of those with average grades of "B" or better.

C. L. Akers, of Grethel, Forrest D. Elliott, Weeksbury, and Clara Helen Reynolds, Allen, were the other Floyd county members of the 45-student class which was graduated at the school's 1950 summer commencement in Wickham Chapel.

Diplomas were presented to the graduates by President A. A. Page of the College, Rev. Lowell H. Palmer, executive secretary of the Cincinnati Presbytery of the Presbyterian Church, was the commencement speaker. His subject was, "The Christian Imperative for Sharing."

Miss Bentley, Miss Prater, and Akers are among 35 former "emergency" teachers in the class who completed the teachers' course at the college. They are now qualified to receive their provisional elementary teachers' certificates from the Kentucky Department of Education, according to Dr. Page.

Five other members of the group also qualified themselves for provisional certificates to teach in the elementary schools; and five, including Elliott and Miss Reynolds, completed the two-year business administration course.

ON THE MARCH

(Syndicated By The Union County Advocate)

"Can a community enlarge its school facilities, wage a better-health campaign, attract new industry, double the area, and increase the population of its principal city 50 percent—all within six months?"

The quotation is from a news story which appeared recently in the Courier-Journal under the by-line of Hugh Morris, with a London date line.

Mr. Morris goes on to say that the London-Laurel County area "has done all that and more since last September."

A mighty good story of a truly wonderful achievement, but before going ahead with my comment I think one minor correction is in order, to make it more plausible.

I have before me a voluminous progress report on London and Laurel county by the Industrial Development Committee of the Kentucky Chamber of Commerce. The report lists 102 important things accomplished in the area. The achievements of civic-minded people in London and the county are material for a 500-page book. But some of the projects were started four or five years ago. Some of them were reported in this column long before the Kentucky Chamber of Commerce came along to sponsor a very fine permanent community organization. Many major items in the progress story were either already achieved or well under way when the Chamber of Commerce assumed sponsorship. The Committee for Kentucky, which wound up its work early this year, had supplied quite a lot of the inspiration.

The important fact is that no small community the size of Laurel county and its seat, anywhere in the nation, has done so much to improve itself in less than five years. And the Kentucky Chamber of Commerce has done a great public service by issuing a 29-page summary, which ought to be read by every Kentuckian interested in civic progress.

To me the most amazing fact about London is its having forty things cooking at the same time, contrary to the widely accepted rule that only one or two large community projects should be tackled at the same time, as in the case of Mt. Sterling, which concentrated on its model recreation center.
