A SERVICE RECORD

Every parent with a son in the armed forces has worries little known to others. But if one could become accustomed to having sons away from home, in strange lands and meeting unusual, often dangerous, situations, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Akers, of Dwale, would be worry-free.

For the last 14 years, except for three months, they have had one or more sons in navy service. Archie served seven and a half years, beginning in 1933; Francis, two months more than four years from 1942, and now their youngest, Bruce, is in his sixth year after enlisting at 17.

The only army man in the family is the father himself who was among the troops engaged in quelling the Filipino insurrection, years ago.

FISHING REPORT

With Dewey muddy, Norris the game, and no encouragement from any other sizeable body of water, we turn to a letter from an old standby, A. J. Cox, of Williamson, who blithely reports:

"Fishing is great with me. I've been taking northern pike, trout, bass, even channel cat, any time I want them—from the A. & P. deep-freeze, at 49 cents a pound."

CHERRY BLOSSOM TIME

It's cherry blossom time again on Riverside here. There's only one fault with these beautiful blooms—they last only a short time.

This distinguishing feature of Riverside—originated, we are told, by the late Ballard Johnson—shows how a street or a community may be made outstanding by common interest and effort. Holland, Michi-

500 KENTUCKY YOUTHS MEET

At Capital This Week; 6th District Backing Conley for Governor

The assembly is in session at Frankfort again this week, but this time it is the Kentucky youth who will be running the government. The Kentucky Youth Assembly is sponsored annually by the Kentucky Y.W.C.A. and is yearly teaching more and more high school youngsters the practices and purpose of good government. About 500 boys and girls from all over the state will take part in the passing of bills, election of youth candidates to the state offices and the procedures of government in general.

The candidate, from the 6th district for Youth Governor is Frank Conley, of Prestonsburg high school. Bonnie Wells, also of Prestonsburg is both campaign manager for this district and Senate chaplain.

Others attending from Prestonsburg high are Joe Jack Arnett and Julia May, Senators; Pauline Hicks, Winnie Sue Conley, Joy May, Linda Sue Stephens, Patricia Peiffer and Fred Jarrell, Representatives; and Mary Jo Shivel and Roger Colvin, press representatives sponsoring the group are Mr. and Mrs. E. Dick Roberts and Miss Laura V. Roberts.

Nurses Study Problems

In Meeting at Ashland

A meeting was held at the Ashland tuberculosis sanatorium, April 26, to correlate work at the sanatorium with field work and to study the problem of keeping patients satisfied and under hospital treatment. Attending the meeting from this county were Mrs. J. D. Mayo, county TB nurse, Miss Elizabeth Harris, Mrs. Catherine Wiechers and Mrs. Mabra Johnson, public health nurses.

MAYOR FIGHTS CAFE OPENING

After Raid by Police Results in Arrests; New Tenants Apply

Last week Vinette's Cafe in the W. J. Turner building here was closed following a police raid, and this week Mayor Curtis Clark was fighting to keep it closed till occupants who will conduct a legitimate business, rent it.

The recent police raid was so sudden that three couples were found in upstairs apartments. Soon after it was vacated by Vinette, however, new tenants appeared. The Mayor saw no improvement in sight.

He refused to consent to re-opening by them. Five members of the City Council were reported to have agreed to the re-opening, but Clark insisted it remain closed. Finally, he told the would-be tenants, "The City Council can override me and let you open, but I can have a policeman in the place every minute of the day."

That apparently did it. The cafe had not been re-opened as of noon today (Thursday).

COLLINS SAYS HOLDUP, FAKE

Floyd Man Confesses He Lost Playing Poker, Then Reported Robbery

A state police alarm received here reporting that two negroes had robbed a Pikeville service station was cancelled Sunday when a Floyd countian, an all-night attendant at the station confessed that he took $148 from the cash register and reported it stolen.

It later was reported here that the man for whom the alarm was spread were in jail at the time the robbery was reported.

Sheriff Bob Clark, of Pike county, said Eugene Collins, of Little Mud section of this county, admitted taking the money. The sheriff said Collins called Carmel Clark, owner of the station, early Sunday and reported a holdup by three men. Physical evidence found inside the station made authorities suspicious. Under questioning Collins admitted losing the money in a poker game and reported the robbery in an attempt to cover up the loss.

TRUCK KILLS P'BURG CHILD

Robert Perry Friend, 7, Dies Almost Instantly; Death Held Unavoidable

Seven-year-old Robert Perry Friend was struck and almost instantly killed on the Mayo Trail opposite the Big Sandy Candy & Tobacco here, early Monday morning, by a United Fuel Gas Company truck driven by Milton Martin, of Allen.

The child was dead on arrival at the Prestonsburg General hospital. His skull was crushed.

Witnesses to the tragedy, which saddened the community, said it was an unavoidable accident. One of these said the boy had waited until a car, traveling upriver, had passed, then darted onto the highway, apparently bent on joining his brother, Tommy, and other children on the other side of the road. This witness said the child apparently did not see the truck traveling north and that his brother motioned to him in a vain effort to stop him from running onto the highway.

Mr. Martin, so badly shaken he required hospital treatment, told Policeman Amos Gray he did not see the child until within a few feet of him. He was driving slowly, it was said.

There was no indication that any action would be taken against Martin.

The tragedy took place almost directly in front of the apartments where the child and other members of the family reside. The victim was a son of Edward C. Friend, who died here about three years ago, and Mrs. Violet Friend Hyden. He is survived by his mother, his brother, his step-father, M. C. Hyden, and his maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Hagans, of Langley. The funeral was conducted Wednesday afternoon from the Prestonsburg Tabernacle, the pastor, the Rev. Jonas Miller, officiating. Burial was made in the Hagans family cemetery at Warco, the Carter & Callahan Funeral Home directing. Pallbearers were young friends of the little victim: Donnie Gene Reatherford, Tommy Joe Crabtree, Grady and Harvey Underwood, Hansel and Vincel Cooley and Johnny Cooksey.

HARRIS SAYS HE'LL RESIGN JUSTICE POST

Says Money Spent Needed for Roads; Will Quit July 15

After the Floyd fiscal court Tuesday had voted its approval of the appointment of Former County Judge Alex L. Davidson as Commonwealth's Detective and had set his salary, effective April 1 at $250 a month, Magistrate J. E. Harris, of the First district, who opposed employment of a detective, announced that he will resign his office, effective July 15.

Magistrate Harris explained to The Times that he is "not mad at anybody and has no old scores to settle," but that he opposed the court's action and more expense and "can't go along with it when the county's money is so badly needed for roads and other important things."

The motion to employ Davidson, whose appointment was made early this year by Commonwealth's Attorney Burnis Martin, was made by Magistrate Ellis Martin and seconded by Magistrate Edgar Howell. They were joined in support of the detective measure by Magistrate M. C. Wright.

Davidson's pay, the court specified, for past services is to be $150 a month, with the new $250-a-month salary becoming effective April 1.

(Magistrate Harris' prepared statement appears on another page of this edition of The Times.)

Harris said his reason for remaining in office till July 15 is because he, with other Magistrates, have underwritten upwards of $20,000 worth of county debts and that these cannot be paid until the beginning of the new fiscal year, July 1.

Other members of the court were impressed by the energy with which Former Judge Davidson has gone about his work as Commonwealth's Detective.

The court was unanimous in its vote for appropriations continuing the work of the Floyd County Health Department and the County Agent. Appropriations for these agencies are the same as in 1951—$5,320 for the health department; $1,050 for the County Agent's travel and office expense, $1,100 for his clerical help.

In a special fiscal court meeting last Thursday Miss Billie Harris was employed as stenographer for County Attorney W. W. Burchett at a salary of $100 a month. She has for the last several months been employed in the office of County Clerk DuRan Moore.

COUNCIL HITS COMMISSION

New Phase of Squabble At Martin Seen in Vote To Replace Commission

The squabble over control of the municipally-owned water system of the town of Martin took a new turn Tuesday as the City Council there enacted two ordinances—one abolishing the Waterworks Commission in its entirety, the other creating a Waterworks Committee and providing for the operation of the latter.

This action was taken a matter of days before the expected arrival here of a mandate from the Court of Appeals reinstating Lawrence Keathley and Ray R. Allen as members of the Waterworks Commission. They were ousted through a suit filed in the Floyd circuit court, but the Appellate Court held, a few weeks ago, that Keathley and Allen were entitled to office.

If Keathley and Allen were reinstated, they would serve with Lloyd MacGregy, the one member of the Commission whose place is not disputed. They would take the places of T. J. and Clyde P. Allen.

But, with the Council abolishing the Commission and setting up a committee, what the next developments will be is a matter of conjecture.

The ordinance enacted this week provides for three members of the Committee, appointed by the Council for terms of two, four and six years. No person may be appointed a member of the Committee who within the three years prior to Oct. 14, 1949 had held any city, county, state or federal office, or who is related within the third degree to the Mayor or any member of the City Council, it was stipulated.

Members of the Waterworks Committee, the ordinance provides, will have absolute control over the water system and will be required to post $2,500 bond each at the expense of the water system. Compensation of no member may exceed $100 a year.

Clubs, Individuals To Aid Cancer Drive Thru County Canvass

Miss Mary Elizabeth Powers, Floyd campaign chairman, said that volunteers will canvass every home in Prestonsburg and that the help of clubs in all parts of the county has been enlisted for the drive to raise funds for the fight on cancer. Contributions to the Crusade can also be mailed to CANCER, care of your post office.

"At every home visited by our canvasser," she said, "an American Cancer Society educational leaflet will be left whether a contribution is made or not. Imparting this life-saving information to the public is every bit as important as our fund-raising success in this humanitarian campaign."

The local goal of $1,093 is part of the national Crusade goal of $16,000,000. The funds will be used to expand programs of services to patients, research into cancer's causes and cures, and public and professional education.

It was pointed out that 22,000,000 Americans now living will die of cancer unless present mortality rates are reduced.

SEEKS OWNER OF SUITCASE

Find at River's Edge At Cliff Mystifies Investigator Here

The Carter county sheriff's office informs, Thursday, after an investigation, that Shirley W. Bailey is at this date employed and working for the Omar Baking Co., Columbus.

Commonwealth's Detective Alex L. Davidson this week was concerned with the mystery of a suitcase, filled with men's clothing and tools, found under the north end of Cliff bridge about five feet from the river's edge, Tuesday morning. George Craft, 16, son of Willie Craft, from Spradlin branch, found it, hinges broken possibly by the impact of fall, when he neared the bridge area on a fishing trip.

Examination of the contents revealed a green pair of men's pants; a grey hat, size seven and with a Columbus store signature; shirt, size 16; two pair of socks and several items of non-apparel, including two issues of the Saturday Evening Post for October, last year. A cash receipt for the purchase of a mechanic's wrench, with the wrench, was in the black bag.

What possibly constituted a clue to the owner's identity was a requisition form of the Jeffrey Mfg. Co., of Columbus, Ohio. It was issued to the branch of the U.S. Steel company in Columbus, in care of either S. or J. Bailey, and was for 12 rings. These rings turned out to be small insulated wires evidently for the specialized use of a mechanic. The requisition was dated July 20, 1951.

Inquiries of the Jeffrey Mfg. Co., at Columbus, revealed that a Shirley W. Bailey of Graham, Carter county, Ky., was formerly employed at their plant. He was the only Bailey on their payroll that year. Graham is located about 15 miles from Grayson, county seat of Carter, and the authorities there are investigating the whereabouts of Shirley W. Bailey. They said they had not seen him for some time.

What complicates the quest at the moment for the identity of the owner of the suitcase are the initials, "W.J.B.," on the pants. These initials, a cleaner's mark, could possibly be that of a relative of Shirley W. Bailey, Davidson said.

STORM LOSS BOOSTS NEED

For Red Cross Funds; Flood Quota Is Upped To $9,220 for Drive

The fun-raising drive of the Floyd county chapter of the American Red Cross will be extended to give volunteer workers more time to complete their solicitations, L. B. Brashear, fund chairman, said this week.

The current drive has a goal of $9,220.00. The campaign started with a goal of $8,730.00, Brashear pointed out, but as a result of the recent tornadoes which ravaged southern states an additional quota of $490 for the relief and rehabilitation of the disaster areas was assigned Floyd county.

Brashear was optimistic in reporting on the progress of the campaign, but said it was impossible at this time to determine accurately how much of the goal has been reached since workers have not been able to complete their solicitations. He

Like Your 'White Elephants'? There Ain't No Such Tater!

Who remembers the White Elephant? Plenty of farmers have planted them and more would plant if the seeds were procurable. The trouble is—"there ain't no such tater."

White Elephants were the large sized seed that packers would not put in a bag of seed potatoes and, as a result when the seed-packing job was over a large volume of the potatoes remained unpacked. The packers then put them in a bag, labeled the sack "White Elephants," and so the name originated. Thousands of people who planted them thought they were a variety. But they were not—they could be Cobblers, Green Mountains, Early Ohio, or whatever the packer threw in as "excess baggage."

Ogden Stewart, Prestonsburg businessman, found all this out years ago when people began trying to purchase White Elephants from him. He had heard there was "no such tater" and in order to clear the matter up asked upper-bracket officials in the co-operative system. These gentlemen are agricultural experts. Some have been county agents, workers in extension service and practical farmers. They said, "No."

Still Stewart was not completely satisfied, so he wrote, two years ago, the University of Kentucky. U. K. stated that it hadn't issued a Kentucky state seed tag for White

Elephants in several years. This indicated that the packers of potatoes were discontinuing the practice of bagging over-size seed under the label, White Elephant. Another letter of Stewart's went to the USDA Experiment Station at Beltsville, Md. They wrote that they did not recognize the White Elephant as a variety of potatoes. Other inquiries were made and the answer was always the same—"there ain't no such tater."

In this matter of Kentucky state seedtags, a tag will be issued and if it contains Cobblers, the tag will so state. You know you are getting Cobblers. If the tag states it contains Chippewas, Chippewas you have. If it states you have White Elephants, (which it will not now, since none are being issued) you might have any kind of over-size seed potatoes. In the light of this it is no wonder numerous people thought the White Elephants were a variety, like Cobblers or Green Mountains, or July potatoes.

Now the July is a variety, except somewhere else it may be called Hoosier Boy, Late Hoosier, Patch-blower, Maggie Murphy or Mortgage Lifter. It's proper name is McCormick. But for some unknown reason it acquired more aliases than an absconding bank cashier. People in Eastern Kentucky used the name

ORIGINAL SCRIPT WRITTEN FOR PAGEANT TO BE PRESENTED ON EASTER SUNDAY BY CAST OF 400; CHOIR PRACTICE SET

The script for the Passion Pageant which will be presented near Martin on Easter afternoon is an original, in that it is not copied or adapted from any other, and on the other hand it is not original, inasmuch as every word of it is taken from the Bible, it was pointed out this week.

Preparations for the pageant, which will consist of 34 scenes, continue, and on Friday of this week at 7:30 Franklin W. Moore, Prestonsburg, will conduct the pageant choir practice at the Martin Methodist Church. Other practice periods will be on the following Friday and Saturday night at the church.

The pageant will be directed by Miss Blanche Dings, with Margaret Pickle and Sonia Greer as associate directors. Approximately 175 individual roles will be enacted, and, including crowd scenes, the cast will number about 400 persons.

The Easter pageant presented at Lawton, Okla., which is second to the famed Passion Play of Oberammergau, began with a cast of only 13 and two scenes, it was pointed out by those undertaking this Floyd county Easter observance, the most pretentious ever staged in Kentucky.

POSTOFFICE, HOME BURN

Damage reported here as $2,000 or more was caused Monday night by fire which destroyed the postoffice at Dony and the nearby home of the postmistress, Mrs. Haley Jones, and her husband, Butch Jones.

The blaze was caused, according to the report received here Tuesday morning, by defective wiring. Lost in the postoffice, along with mail, office records and equipment, was cash receipts placed at $250. Only a few items of first-class mail and contents of two or three lock boxes were saved from the postoffice, it was said. Contents of the residence were a total loss.

The small postoffice structure and the home were separated by a space of only a few feet.

Lake Rose 13.28 Feet Daring Heavy Rainfall; 9,281 at Dewey, Sunday

Although gates of Dewey Dam were never completely closed during the recent heavy rains, the reservoir stored up during the flood period, March 22 to Friday of last week, 13.28 feet of water at maximum stage.

With the water back to normal Sunday, and with Spring making its best showing, the reservoir area had its biggest crowds of the year. The number of visitors was placed at 9,281, Roy Moore, reservoir manager estimated through spot checks and observation at the dam, the Brandy Keg dock and at Buffalo. Many were fishing, but the water was muddy, and few game fish were caught.

The total number of visitors at the lake last month was 21,210, almost twice the 10,579 who made lake visits during February. Total visitations for the first three months was 32,951.

19 FOREMEN GET AWARDS

Nineteen Floyd county mine foremen were awarded gold safety label buttons at the presentation of annual mine-safety awards by the Big Sandy-Elkhorn Coal Mining Institute in its meeting at Pikeville, Saturday night.

The Russell Fork Coal Company won the class A plaque by having only three lost-time injuries during the past year, and no fatal accidents. The class B plaque was won by the Punched Creek Coal Company with no lost-time injuries.

Three foremen received four-year pins. None of the crewmen had been injured since 1948. They were Olney Collins and J. P. Gibson of the Inland Steel Company at Wheelwright, and Ed Kincer, of the Elk Horn Coal Corporation.

Three-year pins were awarded to the Elk Horn Coal Corporation's Wayland division, and Robert Arlie of the Inland Steel Company.

Those from Floyd winning two-year safety awards were James Sparks, Add Polly, Reggie Watkins, and B. V. Moore of the Wayland division, and Estill King of the Inland Steel Company.

One-year pins were presented to Roy Thomas, Fred Wolf, Lonnie Adkins, Clarence Turner, and Earl Branham of the Wayland division, and Leonard Engle, Leon Forte, Hillard Stone, Fred Rife, and R. L. Gilliam of Inland Steel.

Following presentation of the awards, company safety directors took part in a panel discussion of the new state mine safety law passed at the recent session of the Kentucky Legislature.

Taking part in the discussion were Arthur Bradbury, safety director of the Inland Steel Company; James Fleming of the Elk Horn Coal Corporation; Harry McCarty of the Clear Branch Mining Company, and M. E. Prunty, of the Consolidation Coal Company.

J. T. Parker, institute program chairman, was the moderator.

HICKS, BUDDY DIE IN CRASH

Veterans of Korea Are Killed by Train At Lima, O., Friday

Two veterans of Korea met instant death, shortly before midnight Friday at Lima, Ohio, as their auto and an eastbound Erie passenger train met at a rail crossing.

Smith Junior Hicks, 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. Grover Hicks, of Goodloe, and Cpl. Gallen Howard, 22, were killed when Hicks, owner and driver of the car, sought to avert a collision by swerving his auto down the railroad right-of-way.

As far as could be determined, the diesel locomotive hit the right front portion of the car, dashing it virtually to pieces. The body of Hicks was thrown several feet to the north side of the tracks while the dismembered body of Howard was found between the rails near the crossing.

The train, it was said, was traveling at a speed of about 70 miles an hour, and impact of the collision dashed the engine of the auto, a 1951 Mercury, a distance of 200 feet from the scene of the tragedy. Dr. H. R. Johnson, coroner, said death of the two veterans was accidental. Hicks' neck was broken.

The two victims served together in Korea with the First cavalry. Howard, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Woots Howard, of McGuffey, O., and a native of Knett county, had returned to McGuffey March 16 from Ft. Knox on sick leave after suffering a broken leg in an auto accident near Lima, last Jan. 24.

NAME DARBY FLOYD GOP CHAIRMAN

Other County Posts In Party Selected Without Opposition

Barely falling of a majority vote on the first ballot, Harry R. Burke was unseated on the second ballot as Floyd county chairman of the Republican party at the caucus held here, Saturday afternoon.

His successor is William (Bill) Darby, Prestonsburg, a leader among young Floyd county Republicans.

Darby's election came through a coalition of forces opposing Burke's re-election to the GOP leadership. Two other candidates for the post, Richard Spurlock, Prstonsburg, and Gorman Collins, Lackey, who trailed Darby on the first ballot, threw their strength to him.

The organization was completed with the election, without opposition, of Mrs. Viola Stewart, of Langley, as chairwoman; Lloyd McGarey, Martin, secretary, and Foster Meade, McDowell, treasurer.

W. D. Steele, of Betsy Layne, presided as temporary chairman. The caucus attracted unusual interest as Republican hopes of success this year have risen.

The new chairman pointed to previous party weakness in Floyd county—"so weak Judge Bush rode over us, rough shod"—and plans were laid for an intensive advertising program this year to acquaint young voters with Republican principles.

There will be a meeting of Republicans at the courthouse, here, Saturday at 1 p.m., to select delegates to the district caucus at Paintsville, April 11. Those chosen will go unopposed, it was said. There the Seventh district delegate and alternate to the state GOP convention will be named.

Taft buttons were in evidence at the caucus here, but there was no open discussion of Presidential candidates.

ARREST MAN FOR HOLDUP

Reported in Michigan; Cab Driver Is Accused Of Selling Boy Liquor

Although Willie Stanley, of the Mud Creek section, who was jailed here last Thursday to be held for Michigan authorities on a charge of unarmed robbery, failed to gain liberty on a habeas corpus proceeding filed in circuit court, he later was released under $3,000 bond as Michigan officers failed to appear here.

County Judge Henry Stumbo said the bond provided for Stanley's appearance here, April 12. If Michigan authorities are not here on that date with extradition papers, he will release Stanley without bond, the Judge indicated. Stanley was accused of being one of two men who robbed a Michigan man of $64.

Accused by a 13-year-old Lancer boy of selling him a pint of whiskey, Den Joseph, Prestonsburg taxi cab driver, was jailed Monday by Sheriff A. B. Meade. He executed bond and his trial before Judge Stumbo was slated today (Thursday). His accuser was picked up.

Grigsby, 2nd Floyd Athlete Named 'All-State' This Year

Naming of Pete Grigsby, 17-year-old star of the Martin high school basketball team, to The Courier Journal's all-state net squad brought to Floyd county last week-end for the second time this school year such statewide athletic recognition.

At the close of the football season last fall Prestonsburg's John Delmar Hughes was named to the all-state grid eleven.

Young Grigsby, an all-round athlete, shares all-state honors with such high school net stars as Linville Puckett of Clark County, Phil Grawameyer of Manual, Phil Rollins of Wickliffe, Howard Crittenden and Charles Floyd of the championship Cuba team, Lewis Snowden of Clark County, Charles Harrison of Clarkson and Kenneth Sidwell of Caverna.

As early as mid-season, Gordon Moore, of Prestonsburg, had nominated the Martin star as Eastern Kentucky's leading candidate for the all-state spot.

July potato. In Western Kentucky it was called Mortgage Lifter. In between these two sections it had other names. The July would mature in a short time and could be planted as late as the Fourth of July, although most folk planted it in June. Its use is dwindling, for farmers are growing other varieties.

Speaking of new varieties, there is the Kathdin. John S. Gardner, of the University of Kentucky extension Service, doesn't think so well of it. But others do. It does keep well. In the outside concrete cellar house of Bascom Harris on Brandy Keg are two bags of potatoes. They have been kept under exactly the same conditions of light and heat all winter. One bag contains Cobbiers, the other contains Kathdins. The Cobbiers are shriveled and sprouting. The Kathdins are firm and unwithered. They have only a few sprouts. The contrast between these two varieties of potatoes at this spring day is arresting.

But whether a farmer plants one or another of the several varieties of potatoes, 'later-plantin' time on the farm is symbolic of spring and the renewal of life. It is always heralded by the boys playing marbles and their elders planting potatoes. No other crops receives much consideration until the potatoes are dug out of their "hole", or the seed purchased, cut and planted.

On some farms planting may almost become a ritualistic invocation to the powers of weather and germination. There is a right day when the "signs" are propitious and the correct "signs" are arrived at by a consultation of the almanac—usually Ladies Birthday. Some do not plant by the "signs" but plant always on Good Friday, inelement weather and "signs" notwithstanding.

Cutting is a matter for extended conversation. Some farmers cut by halving, others solve the matter by planting wholes. Others quarter, still others slice and pare at the "eyes" until one "eye", some say, two "eyes", reduces the potatoes to seed cuttings. You plant a certain distance apart on the farm and over the fence the distance between the hills is doubled.

Cultivation is varied from farm to farm, but is assuming under the coaching of agricultural agents a more scientific uniformity.

Years ago, farmers planted, almost universally in Floyd, the Red Early Rose. Some called it Long Reds from the color and size. It was of a pinkish cast and was longer than most potatoes. Favorite planting spot was an old humus-packed foothill where the stick weeds grew. If it grew good-sized stick weeds it would grow good Irish potatoes. Phenomenal yields have been reported from this variety. But in the decades past, and not too many at that, farmers began to switch to something new. The Cobbler was the preferred new potato. Cobbiers did well and their planting was continued. The Red Early Rose was almost completely discontinued—only a few farmers, who cling to things because they are tried and true, still plant the Rose. But don't depend on buying your seed. Few stores sell them and fewer farmers have the Long Reds to spare you.

Old varieties are passing from use, except they are tried and profitable under the conditions extant. New varieties appear, are full of promise, may succeed or fail in the long discriminating tests given on the farm. Old varieties may re-appear when a condition warrants.

But one thing is certain. The variety called White Elephant will not reappear. It can't. "There ain't no such tater".

Net Game, Auctioning Of Notables' Packages Scheduled at W'Wright

A basketball game between "stars" of the Beaver Valley Kiwanis Club and Wheelwright Boy Scouts and the auctioning of packages from President Truman, John L. Lewis and others will be features of benefits to be staged at the Wheelwright high school gymnasium, Friday evening at 7:30.

The basketball game will be played to raise funds for the Boy Scouts camp on Dewey Lake and for the 900 Club's fund to furnish a room at the Methodist hospital, Pikeville.

Auctioning of the packages from notables will be held by the Parent-Teacher Association between the two net games to be played, and proceeds will help pay for band uniforms.

Kiwanis "stars" to see action in the two games include B. F. Reed, George F. Leatherman, Paul Greene, "Tip" Anglain, Everett Hall, Ralph Banks, Alvin Reed, John W. Rupp, Tilden Jones, Sonny Wilkinson, Hobart Smith, J. T. Parker, Leah Forter, Bog Greer, Minor Paget, Ray Gibson, Doc Spence and Waldo Cummings.

Glee Club To Sing At Baptist Church

Members of the high school glee club will sing "The Seven Last Words of Christ" at the Irene Cole Memorial Baptist Church Wednesday evening, April 9, at 7:30. The public is cordially invited to attend. Soloists will be Jean Rae Cooksey, Donald Compton, Randall Lee Wells, Mary Belle Layne, and Charlene Akers.

3 'SUPERIOR' RATINGS WON

Prestonsburg Hi Pupils Win Places in Kentucky Festival at Lexington

(Special to The Times) Pikeville, Ky., April 1 — Prestonsburg high school speech students earned three "superior" ratings and four of "excellent" at the Pikeville Regional Speech Festival last weekend, it was announced by Dr. A. A. Page, festival manager.

Franklin Conley, of Prestonsburg, was judged "superior" in oratory, Betty Mahan in dramatic reading, and Anna McComas in poetry reading. The ratings automatically make them eligible for the state speech festival at Lexington April 14-16.

Vyron Smiley received an "excellent" ranking in humorous monologue and was one of two declared eligible for the state meet, in the absence of "superiors" in that event. Vera Baldrige was rated "excellent" in discussion, Lillie Derousett in dramatic reading and Mary Belle Layne in poetry reading.

The Prestonsburg students are coached by Mrs. Cora Cook.

Johns Creek high school's two veteran debaters, Leonadis Short and Dale Burchett, repeated their performance of last year by going through four rounds of debate unbeaten Friday to win their way into the state festival. In addition, Short captured the only "superior" given in extemporaneous speaking, and Burchett earned an "excellent" in oratory, all on the same day.

Dorton's debate team nosed Hazard in the final round to become the region's other debating representative at Lexington.

First place in public speaking went to Benham high school, which had never before been to a Pikeville festival. The Harlan countians collected five "superiors" and three "excellent" in other events to roll up the highest point score of the 18 schools represented, and capture the first regional speech trophy ever given here.

David Team Winner Of Church Loop Meet

David's team of the Church Basketball League won the tournament which ended here, Saturday afternoon, defeating the Prestonsburg Baptist team in a spirited final contest, 16 to 15.

The score was all even when a double foul was called by the referee. David's player sank his shot, and the Baptist player missed his.

The Methodist "B" team won the title in the junior division of the tourney. Teams in the meet, in addition to the finalists, were the Methodist and Porter Addition fives.

Line-up in the championship game:

Baptists	David
Spradlin	(6) Hager
Laferty	(4) Everly (3)
Hughes	(4) Fitzpatrick (5)
Burchett	(1) Bussey (1)
Daniels	Marshall
Cook	Dixon (7)
Campbell	Capelli

4-H Club Council Meets at Maytown

March meeting of the Floyd County 4-H Club Council was held at Maytown high school Friday. The Maytown Club members assisted by their leaders, Mrs. Alma Lowe and Mrs. Otha Howard were hostesses. A covered dish dinner was served in the lunch room to about 30 guests and council members.

Following the dinner several Maytown club members, accompanied by Mrs. Elsie Patrick, presented a group of musical numbers.

Mrs. Frankie Best, of Cliff, presided at a business meeting in which council members from Har-old, Spruce Pine, Bonanza, McDowell, Maytown and Cliff took part.

The next meeting will be May 30 with the Bonanza club under the leadership of Mrs. Grace Conley and Mrs. Mattie Music.

In January the Council enjoyed the hospitality of the Cliff club.

CARD OF THANKS

Although my wife had resided in Prestonsburg only two years, she found friends here, and never were these more evident than upon her sudden passing, March 23. To all these who showed their respects and who gave of their kindness during my bereavement I extend my sincere thanks. I would especially thank Mrs. Mont Gibson, Sr., for her thoughtfulness, the Rev. L. W. Benedict for his comforting words, the congregation and choir of the Presbyterian Church, those who sent flowers, and the Carter & Callihan Funeral Home.

Irvin, Heart Victim In Florida Last Week, Buried Here, Tuesday

Funeral rites for W. H. Irvin, prominent Paintsville man, who died of a heart attack at St. Petersburg, Fla., last week, were conducted Tuesday from Mayo Memorial Methodist Church, Paintsville, and burial was made in the Mayo cemetery near Prestonsburg.

Mr. Irvin, who was 68 years old, was a native of Nashville, Tennessee. He came to this section 33 years ago as exchange manager at Paintsville for the Southern Bell Telephone & Telegraph Company. Later, he acquired two telephone systems of his own, the Valley Telephone Company in the Beaver Creek section of this county, and the Johnson County Telephone Company. He also founded the Nohl Bottling Company at Paintsville which he operated until falling health forced his retirement, a few years ago.

Mr. Irvin had been a member of the Methodist Church more than 30 years, was a Mason and formerly was a member of the Paintsville city council and the school board there.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Maggie Sheffield Irvin, one son, Cpl. Ernest Irvin, with the air force in England, and three daughters, Mrs. Geneva Carter, Prestonsburg, Mrs. Judith Taylor, Fronton, Ohio, and Mrs. Juanita Perry, Paintsville. He also leaves five sisters.

Burial was made under direction of the Carter & Callihan Funeral Home.

Sam Ingles, Fleeing Ohio, Became Another Kenton

Simon Butler looked down at the inert body of William Leachman and thinking he was dead, fled into the western woods, to become the mainstay of Mason county and a pillar to the young settlement in Kentucky. Simon Butler changed his name to Simon Kenton and Kentucky honors him with a county name. Years later Simon Kenton learned that William Leachman was alive.

The story of Simon Butler, alias, Kenton, is known the length and breadth of our state because he contributed much to its settlement and protection. But there are other stories of men who, thinking they had killed another, fled to escape the clutches of the law, only to learn it was all a mistake, that their adversaries had not died but yet lived and there was no capital crime. This is such a story but since the principals occupied humble stations in life there is no record except the remembrances of our elders.

Sometime between 1860-65 there came into the Big Sandy a young man who said he was from Ohio and that his name was David Johnson. He was not too definite about the locale of his origin, but his countenance, actions and personality passed the test of friendship with many and was accepted with few questions about his previous life. He married Elizabeth Hunt, a daughter of James and Mattie Hunt. The Floyd county marriage records show the date of marriage to have been June 29, 1866, the officiating minister being the Rev. William Keith (Keath), Methodist minister of the period. The Civil War had ended only the year before and the county had again acquired the stability of order. The young couple went to housekeeping near Banner.

The years rolled on and only one child was born to this union—a son who, when he reached manhood, came down with typhoid and died. Oldsters say that Dave and Lizzie Johnson reeked under the shock and were never the same again. He was a tenant-farmer, never indicating any desire to acquire land and remain upon it. He lived quietly on the Left Fork of Ivy Creek and when living there grew a beard and the whiskers were of a reddish cast that matched his florid complexion. Some said he was Irish; others, noting the slight accent he retained, said he was German.

The end of the century came and people traveled frequently in the Big Sandy valley, for now the railroad was breaking the isolation of a century. Uncle Dave decided to move away to Ohio. He must have been growing old by now, for he had been married a third of a century and he was certainly in his twenties when he arrived here. There were those who regretted his moving, for he was well liked. Universally, he was called Uncle Dave Johnson.

The year after the move his friends and in-laws had not heard from him, and Bill Hunt, his wife's brother, went down into the southeastern part of Ohio to look for his sister and brother-in-law. Bill did not know the exact locality where they lived, only the general section spoken of by Uncle Dave when he left Kentucky. He spent considerable time asking people if they knew of a David Johnson. No one did.

At last weary of hunting, he accosted a farmer and asked again, thinking that there would be the same negative reply. But the questioned man, brightened as if he knew a story, and replied: "I know who you are hunting for, all right. But it's not Dave Johnson you want. It's Sam Ingles. He lives right over there in that house," he said pointing. Go over there, ask for Sam Ingles and you will find your Dave Johnson."

Bill Hunt found his sister and brother-in-law. He found David Johnson and was told a story, ere the trio retired, we may rest assured. The first years of the Civil War had been a stirring, troublous time in Ohio. Sam Ingles, descendant of the Irish Ingles, pioneers of Virginia, thought he had killed a man. In desperation he fled the state and found refuge in Eastern Kentucky. That section of Kentucky was at this time isolated and with little intercourse with the rest of the country. Here Sam Ingles lived for a third of a century before he learned, like Simon Butler, that his adversary had not died but had lived. It was the coming of the railroad that caused the news to seep back to him. People were traveling, and he learned that he was not wanted by the authorities in that state. He decided to move back to his native state and leave the name Dave Johnson in Kentucky. In Ohio he became again Sam Ingles. The directing farmer had been a friend who knew the story of his Kentucky sojourn and his Kentucky sobriquet.

Sam Ingles, alias David Johnson and his wife, Elizabeth are buried in Ohio.

Fiscal Courts Lack Power To Conduct Secret Meetings

Frankfort, Ky., March 29—County fiscal courts have no right to hold secret meetings, Assistant Attorney General John B. Browning has given that opinion to John H. Potts, Clay, a member of Webster county's fiscal court.

Browning said the public should not be excluded from any fiscal court meeting. The law requires the court clerk to read the minutes of each meeting publicly and they must be signed by the judge with the approval of the magistrates present. "No order is valid unless so read and signed," Browning said.

Potts was also advised that if he disagrees with any order signed by a majority of the court members, he can appeal it to circuit court, provided the amount in dispute is more than $25.

Man Shot by Sheriff Of Magoffin County Wanted by Draft Board

Corbett Bailey, 19, of Prestonsburg, who is wanted by the draft board here, has been released from the Salyersville jail so he can get proper medical treatment for his wound received in the accidental discharge of Magoffin County Sheriff Carl Cooper's gun.

Bailey has been in two draft calls. The first call he failed to report, according to Elbert Collins of Local Board No. 25 here, but in a few days turned up with the claim that he had not received a notice. He was then put in a later call but again failed, this time entirely, to appear. Here he disappeared from the knowledge of local draft board officials until notice of his wound inflicted by Sheriff Cooper.

Sheriff Cooper and another representative of the law, said to have been a FBI investigator, were sitting in the Sheriff's car in Salyersville when Bailey was noticed on the street, acting suspiciously. After Cooper approached Bailey for questioning, a scuffle ensued in which the sheriff's gun went off accidentally, inflicting an arm wound. Bailey escaped but came into the sheriff's office the next morning, accompanied by relatives, to surrender. His release from custody followed because of the need for treatment. He was to report to Sheriff Cooper, Tuesday of this week, the sheriff said, but had not done so, although he had been seen in Salyersville during the day.

TO THE PEOPLE OF FLOYD COUNTY:

As a member of the Fiscal Court I feel it my duty to write this letter. When I was a candidate I told the people in my district I would do all I could for them in the way of improving roads, but to my sorrow I have found it impossible to do things I thought I could do.

I found, right in the beginning of my term, there was a raise in salaries to all county officers, and other jobs have arisen in the Commonwealth which have more burdens on the county treasury, and if you will check the records you will find I have protested them all.

Since I was elected the Legislature has passed a law to hire a district detective at a salary of not less than $150 a month nor more than $250 a month. I feel, and always have felt, that we don't need a county detective for another burden on the taxpayers.

At first the court hired Mr. Wiley Jones as detective and paid him $250 a month until Mr. Bert Combs was appointed Prosecuting Attorney. Since that time we have a new Prosecuting Attorney elected and he has hired Mr. Alex Davidson for County Detective at a salary of $250 per month, and the court has approved that order also.

I cast my vote against it. I feel that under the present set-up of salaries there will be still less done for rural roads. The people can avoid disappointment by not expecting too much for their roads, since there is not enough left to pay for the work needed.

For these reasons I am resigning my office as Justice of the Peace July 15, 1952.

Your Friend,
J. E. HARRIS.

Body of Hicks was returned here Sunday and burial was made Monday in the family cemetery on Middle Creek under direction of the Arnold Funeral Home. The funeral was conducted by the Revs. Banner Manns, Alex Coburn and M. C. Wright.

Surviving Howard are his parents, a sister, Miss Shirley Howard, of McGuffey, and his maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Conley, of Handshoe, Knott county. His burial was made Tuesday in the Preston cemetery at Lima.

Father of Corn King Victim in Auto Accident

J. H. Rowe, prominent farmer of Gullett, Magoffin county, and father of 14 year old corn king Cleo Rowe, was killed instantly, Wednesday, March 26, when the truck in which he was bringing a load of fertilizer from Winchester overturned near Camargo, Montgomery county. Two boys, Blake Arnett and a son of the elder Rowe suffered superficial cuts and bruises.

Reports indicate that a second truck struck the Rowe vehicle, causing it to go out of control. The truck at fault did not stop.

Rowe had recently achieved national publicity as the father of the world's corn champion.

At first the court hired Mr. Wiley Jones as detective and paid him $250 a month until Mr. Bert Combs was appointed Prosecuting Attorney. Since that time we have a new Prosecuting Attorney elected and he has hired Mr. Alex Davidson for County Detective at a salary of $250 per month, and the court has approved that order also.

Dr. Leslie Tells Plans For Taxpayers' League Meet Here, Saturday

Dr. Edward B. Leslie, who will preside as temporary chairman at the organization meeting of the Floyd County Taxpayers' League to be held at the courthouse Saturday morning at 10:30, this week invited all county and city officials to join with private citizens at the meeting.

"I have no political ambitions and no enemies to get even with, but I expect to live in Floyd county and want to do my part to make it better," Dr. Leslie said. "We need a better understanding between the people of the county and their officials, and all should work together."

He said Saturday's meeting will complete the organization and that it will be in working shape on adjournment. Officers will be elected and by-laws adopted, Saturday, Dr. Leslie said.

Ellis Ratliff was booked at the jail here Monday by Deputy Sheriffs Scott Compton and Thomas Amburgy on a charge of drunkenness and resisting arrest, and out of that case came interesting side-lights. Ex-Magistrate John May, of Langley, also was named in a warrant sworn out by Compton, accusing him with interfering in the arrest of Ratliff and George Earn Robinson who, the deputy said, were drunk. Compton said the former official took the prisoners away from him and Amburgy at the point of pistols.

May told authorities here, however, that the men were not drunk and were sitting in his truck waiting for him while he was inside his home and that when he returned the officers had one of the men bound about the neck and arms with a rope. He added that he inquired about the arrest, was told the men were drunk; that he asked if they had a warrant and that he offered to sign their bonds. Whereupon, he added, Amburgy jerked a revolver and announced they would take May, too. May said he then grappled with Amburgy and wrested the weapon from his hands. He claimed he was unarmed.

Others booked during the week on major offenses:

Robert Steward, drunk driving, arrested by State Trooper Chester D. Potter; Dony Caudill, keeping a house of ill repute, booked by Officers Enoch Hatfield, Willie Johnson and Cain Blackburn; Leonard Hunt, possessing whiskey, arrested by Constable George Hall and J. Burdfield; Milford Blackburn, possessing moonshine whiskey, arrested by Deputy Sheriff Frank Crum and others; Jack Ratliff, booked by Deputy Sheriff Scott Compton as drunk and resisting arrest; Claude Anderson, drunk, no operator's license, by Deputies Willie Johnson and Enoch Hatfield.

Restaurant Prices Frozen At February 3rd Level

A regulation freezing all restaurant prices at the level charged during the week of February 3, has been issued by the Office of Price Stabilization, effective April 7. It requires each restaurant to post dollar-and-cent ceilings for its principal meals, food items and beverages not later than April 25.

The posters, to be furnished by OPS, have spaces for forty food and nonalcoholic beverage items customarily served. If an eating establishment also serves alcoholic beverages, a poster with spaces for listing ceiling prices for 20 items must be displayed. Both posters must be plainly visible to customers.

In Louisville, Quentin E. Scholtz, chief of the food and restaurant section urged operators of restaurants who do not receive copies of the regulation within the next week to communicate with his office, 307 South Fifth Street, by writing or by telephoning AMherst 2581.

Scholtz has furnished the agency's office in Cleveland with the names of four thousand Kentucky restaurants to whom regulations and posters will be mailed.

grader, that year scoring 147 points in 12 games. As a freshman he scored 368 points in 16 contests, the next year amassed a total of 473 in 26 games. He found himself in his junior year when he scored 770 points in 35 games. During the season just ended, his senior year, he chalked up 785 points in 33 games. He has been all-district three times, all-regional twice and all-Big Sandy Conference three times.

Grisby's scholastic standing is no less outstanding. He is a straight A student. "Besides," said his coach, Denzil Halbert, recently, "Pete is one of the finest boys I've ever known. A coach usually claims that his outstanding player is the greatest boy he has ever coached, but I'll say this for Pete: If I coach the next 20 years, I never expect to have another boy as skilled as he is."

He apparently is headed for the University of Kentucky after receiving from Adolph Rupp this week assurance of a place on his squad. Other schools angling for his services are Kentucky Wesleyan, Eastern State, Marshall, Vanderbilt and Georgia Tech.

Aside from his court ability, young Grisby starred at shortstop for his school's baseball team, winning a place on the all-tournament baseball team in every tourney in which he has participated. Last May in the district baseball tournament he broke his leg, sliding into second, and for a time it was feared his baseball days were cut short. But he came back, better than ever.

Oddly enough, the Crack Hindman baseball team, which extended Cuba in the semi-finals through two overtime periods, had not a man named to the all-state team. Gardner Martin of the Hindman five was given honorable mention.

In the 15th Region net stars given honorable mention were John Delmar Hughes of Prestonsburg, Richard Lyons of Garrett, Lee Gibson of Wheelwright, Grady Wallace of Betsy Layne, Bill Cassidy of Inez, Bob McCoy of Pikeville, Don McKenzie of Morgan county, Lincoln Collinsworth of Salyersville, Henry Butcher of Meade Memorial and Paul Brown of Paintsville.

gan, for instance, is famous as an Americanized version of a Dutch community—tulips and all. Lawton, Oklahoma is nationally renowned for its Passion Play. Williamstown, Virginia and many others have specialized their appeal to the public and so have become famous. A touch of beauty, a page from the past, a bow to things of lasting worth—these are steps to greatness in some degree for American communities.

TIMBER!
The bloodiest era of Indian troubles in Kentucky came in the years between 1774 and 1794 before pioneers and soldiers ended the menace with a decisive victory during the Battle of Fallen Timbers.

The Betsy Layne Parent-Teacher's Association met in the school auditorium, March 23. The President, Eugene Stanley, presided and the program was presented by the high school band, directed by Billy Sargent. A business session was held, at which time a committee was appointed to nominate officers for the P-T.A. for another year. The final meeting of this year will be April 21, at 7:30 p.m. Everyone is invited to attend.

Plans are being made for a community sunrise service to be held on the Lear cemetery overlooking Betsy Layne at 7 on Easter morning. A cordial invitation is extended to everyone.

A Boy Scout troop is being organized locally, with McKinley Hunter as Scout leader. A fine group of boys met last Friday night and began working Saturday morning, earning money for uniforms. Monday night will be the regular meeting night of the Boy Scouts in the basement of the Methodist Church.

The Men's Fellowship served supper to approximately 35 men last Thursday night in the basement of the Methodist Church. The men of the Vogel-Day Church were guests of the Betsy Layne group for the evening. After the supper, a devotional was led by the pastor, Rev. R. L. Anderson, followed by the showing of a film.

Many from Betsy Layne are attending the revival services at the Vogel-Day Methodist Church at Boldman, under the direction of Rev. and Mrs. Eddie Moran, evangelist-missionary and organist.

Revival services were recently conducted at the Betsy Layne Methodist Church by the evangelist, Rev. Forrest Church, of Avon Park, Fla., and Jesse Elliott as song leader. The meetings were well attended and thoroughly enjoyed. Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Stanley were welcomed into the membership by the pastor, Rev. Anderson, and the members.

A household shower was given at Calvary Baptist Church last Tuesday evening for Mr. and Mrs. John M. Porter, who recently had their home and belongings completely destroyed by fire. A large crowd attended the shower, and the couple received many useful gifts to help them to resume housekeeping.

The annual Mountain Laurel Festival, one of the most beautiful spring pageants in America, is held in the Pine Mountain State Park near Pineville.

Prestonsburg Needs a Jail
PRESTONSBURG needs a city jail fit for human habitation.

Other incorporated towns of the county have their jails and maintain them so that their prisoners can be kept in them as long as their sentences require. The jail here, officials say, is unfit for human occupancy for a long period.

Condition of the jail was given as one of the reasons for the city's failure last week to demand in a trial the full penalty for a woman accused of operating in the business section of Court street one of those "establishments" associated with the "redlight district." The complaining witnesses were willing, too, it was said, for the case to be eased out of court, if the place was closed, and so to avoid embarrassment of innocent persons related to men and women involved the matter was marked as a closed incident.

The Times has previously insisted that, expedient as they are in some cases, compromises of this sort do not achieve the ends of justice. Once the offense is discovered and it reaches the courts, it is a matter of the People against the accused. Mute and sometimes blind to their duty, the people in most cases do not demand of the courts their rights in such situations; loud in their private criticism of public officials, they remain silent when they should go to these authorities and let them know of their interest in law-enforcement and in the work of cleaning up their communities. Yet they have rights which are important.

Prestonsburg's bootleggers and panderers and all such who might be classed as petty criminals should be arrested and given jury trials and jailed, if convicted. Prestonsburg needs a jail—and, on occasion, a well-populated one.

The Responsibility Still Remains

NOW that coal men have defeated, by one means or another, a law requiring them to repair the soil strip-mining so sorely damages, they have a chance to show themselves capable of abiding by rules of good business conduct, purely on a voluntary basis.

If they will voluntarily adopt a code of conduct as pertaining to the soil of their state and to the debt they owe Kentucky, they may make unnecessary those statutes which they claim would impose on them an onerous burden. They would, at any rate, prove to the public that they are not "robber-barons," bent on taking and giving nothing in return.

Eastern Kentucky coal men, among whom are few strip-mine operators, have been used as whipping boys in the fight to defeat legislation Western Kentucky coal operators feared. They "went along" with the strip-mine men, acquiescing to a policy which does the industry as a whole no good in the eyes of the public.

Their support contributed to the defeat of a good bill in which Governor Wetherby was deeply interested. But they cannot hope to win another battle, if they continue to neglect their obvious responsibility.

Operators of this section should insist on adoption by strip-mine men of a code for conservation which is workable for them and satisfactory to those interested in preservation of what is left after the coal is gone.

The first court held in Kentucky was convened in Harrodsburg in September of 1777.

CLENNIE LAYS AN EGG WITH HIS IDEA OF PAYING OFF HIS INCOME TAX DEBT BY SENDING COLLECTOR SURPLUS EGGS

WILLIBA, Ky., March 19—Clenzie Hollon the fun loving operator of a country store at Williba, figured he didn't owe the government any income tax but he was liable for social security tax for himself.

"This he figured was round $38.25. 'But did you know I ain't got a cent to my name?' Clennie wrote the Internal Revenue office. 'You see I raise chickens,' he continued, 'but raising chickens is a failure. I got plenty of eggs but no market around Williba. 'Since there ain't no market around here... I'll just pay you fellers off in eggs. You are close to a market there and can swap the eggs for money...'

Off went a crate with 12 dozen eggs. 'I cannot use any more eggs but I am sending you my personal check for $5 which is above the market price for eggs that are not graded,' replied Eldon R. Glenn, the revenue collector explained the purpose of this law is to 'take care of people like you and me after we reach the age of 65 and have not been able to lay enough aside to live on.' The collector continued: 'You can attach the check I am sending you to your return and you can pay the balance at the rate of $10 a month—but not in eggs. I am returning your crate to you by parcel post.'

Clenzie said "Mr. Glenn was so nice about the whole thing" he reckoned he would pay the balance in money. Clennie, who once published his own newspaper ran for state representative several years ago and promised his prospective constituents just about everything they wanted but couldn't have.

Doctors' Fees Cause Most Misunderstanding, Speaker Reminds Group

Misunderstanding growing out of fees charged for professional services rendered by physicians constitute the largest single item of grievances that the Professional Relations Committee of the Kentucky State Medical Association is called upon to consider.

The statement was made by Clark Bailey, M.D. Harlan, president of the Association, in commenting on the work of this committee which handles grievances and is beginning its third year of service to the public and the medical profession.

Responsibility for such misunderstanding is shared equally between the profession and the public. Dr. Bailey said the experience of the committee showed. He suggested that when feasible, an understanding on fees should be reached in advance before the service is rendered. This is not possible in some surgical and other types of cases.

The Association's president urged new families, and all others who had not done so, to select and visit their physician before getting sick. When this contact is made in advance, the relationship between patient and physician is much more satisfactory.

Dr. Bailey pointed out the committee holds in complete confidence all names and information relative to complaints submitted to it. Any grievance that is submitted should be typewritten and sent to the state association office or to any member of the committee.

Sure, Egg Prices are Low...

but chicks started now should make good money next fall

1. Low egg prices in the spring have always been followed by high egg prices in the fall. In 1950 U. S. average egg prices fell to 30.7c in the spring. By fall the price was up to 57.7c.
2. A billion more eggs will be needed next year. Every year there are 2½ million more people in the U. S. than the year before. They need a billion more eggs. Your market is always expanding.
3. Chicks started now should be profitable pullets next fall. They should start to lay in September just when egg prices usually start to hit their peak.
4. Don't be misled by today's low egg prices. Start good chicks. Start your usual number of chicks. Start them right now. Grow them out on Purina Startena and a Growing Chow. Next fall you will have pullets that should make good money all fall and winter.

WHEELWRIGHT PRESENTS BOYS' CHORUS

The Department of American Homes with Mrs. H. M. Wilkinson, Sr. as chairman presented Mrs. Chalmers Frazier in a music program at the March meeting of the Wheelwright Woman's Club. Mrs. Frazier, a Prestonsburg woman and an artist in her community, proved her ability before a large group of clubwomen and their guests. Her program pertained to development of music appreciation in the home, which was opened by the playing of her two little daughters. Simple, little tunes were played, with the mother taking the lead and both children seemed to have a keen sense of enjoyment in music, which Mrs. Frazier said was the result when children were led and encouraged in music appreciation.

Mrs. Frazier presented Master Randall Wells, a member of her boys' chorus, in a solo number accompanying him at the piano, further developing her idea of appreciation in the home. She presented her boys' chorus of 12 voices in several numbers. This chorus is made up of Masters Raleigh Archer, Johnnie Mack Cooksey, Rodger D. Callins, Robin Phillip Goble, Joe Day Harkins, Lowell Mackenzie, Marvin E. Music, Jimmie Rowe, Burl Spurlock, Joe P. Tackett III, Randall Wells and Chuck W. Wichers.

During the short business session a letter was read from the Jenkins Womans Club, inviting the club members to its silver tea. A reminder that dues for the club are to be paid in April this year instead of May, as formerly, was given to the club by Mrs. Conley, the president. The Nominating committee reported the following slate of officers for the coming year: Mrs. Lyman Jones, president; Mrs. Charles Wilson, vice-president; Mrs. Robert Allen, recording secretary; Mrs. Bob Grimm, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Joe Fannin, treasurer.

The club donated $75 to the Girl Scout drive. Refreshments were served to Mrs. Frazier, her two little daughters, Mrs. Charles Wicher, the members of the boys' chorus, little Miss Alice Clark and the members of the club.

Settings of strawberries in Pike county are expected to total 25 acres this year.

BETSY LAYNE WOMAN'S CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS

The Betsy Layne Woman's Club held its regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. W. P. Howell. Due to the absence of the program leader, Mrs. Alex Davis, Mrs. Beecher Hardwick, president of the club, was in charge of the program. Mrs. Hardwick read Mrs. Davis' opening talk, in which was discussed the main objective of international relations. The fact was brought out that we have helped to create a better understanding in this field by writing letters to women abroad, by contributions to the General Clay fund and by sending CARE packages to Korea. The international relations department of the GFWC has sponsored two projects this year and Mrs. Glenn Blackburn discussed these two projects—background conference on U. S. foreign policy and Mexican-American relations to be held February through March 23 in Mexico.

The next topic for discussion was the presentation by Mrs. Arthur Van Kammen of an article, "Welcome Letters". This discussion gave club members an idea as to how much the German-American Women's Club in Munich, Bavaria, U. S. Zone accomplishes its aims and ambitions. The next feature of the program was an armchair visit to three foreign countries with Mrs. Fredrick Beggs, chairman, International Relations Department, GFWC. The visits, received by Miss Alice Williams and Mrs. Hardwick, were to Paris, Vienna and Japan.

Mrs. Glenn Blackburn next gave a discussion on "A Mountain of History", in which was stressed the importance of understanding how and why our present world situation developed. Mrs. W. P. Howell presided a discussion on "The Great Debate of 1951". The fact that we all want peace, want to preserve our freedom and our way of life was stressed. Mrs. Howell also brought out the fact that we are under attack on every front and that the nature of the attack is not always clear in every instance.

Mrs. O. J. Williams gave a talk on the United Nations, the organization that is devoted entirely to peace. Mrs. Williams discussed the fact that the world needs to know the reality of the United Nations and its work. The program was concluded with a talk by Mrs. T. J. Chalmer on "Crede for 1952"—build a new world.

Mrs. Hardwick presided at the business session. Committees for the spring luncheon to be held April 12, were appointed and each member was urged to attend. Miss Clara Shaw, treasurer, KFWC, will be guest-speaker. The recent meeting of the Cancer Society held at Hindman was discussed and plans for the forthcoming cancer drive were made. Mesdames T. J. Chandler, Beecher Hardwick, Edward Lykins and Miss Alice Williams attended the meeting in Hindman. The chairman of the Heart Drive made a report on money collected from the plastic hearts placed in stores in the community and vicinity. Arrangements are to be made to have the flag of the United States displayed in the community on patriotic holidays. The club will observe Citizenship Day on May 20. The plan of work in the Spiritual Values department was read and discussed.

Officers were elected as follows: Mrs. Beecher Hardwick, president; Mrs. Glenn Blackburn, vice-president; Mrs. W. P. Howell, secretary-treasurer.

At the conclusion of the business meeting a dessert plate was served the following members: Mesdames Beecher Hardwick, O. J. Williams, Arthur Van Karmen, Edward Lykins, T. J. Chandler, Glenn Blackburn, Miss Alice Williams and the hostess Mrs. Howell.

The next regular meeting will be held April 17, at the home of Mrs. T. J. Chandler, program leader.

PIKE COUNTIAN HEARS OWN REPRESENTATIVE OPPOSE BILL DESIGNED TO ACCREDIT HIM

Senator Doug Hays' bill to make possible a dentist's license for Grover C. Bentley, of Pike county, met defeat in the House last week—largely through the efforts of a Pike county legislator.

While Representative Henry C. Hale, of this county, and George F. Harris, Salem, Ky., argued for the Hays bill, which had passed the Senate, John Adkins, Jr., an almost blind legislator from Pike county, and himself a dentist, sank for the second and perhaps the last time Bentley's hopes of attaining accreditation in his profession.

He produced records which he said revealed more than 25 years of "fraudulent and illegal practice" by Bentley in three states—Arkansas, Tennessee, and Kentucky.

The House refused by a vote of 42 to 15, to approve the bill. It would have required the State Board of Dental Examiners to issue a license to Bentley.

This was the third time since 1946 that the General Assembly has been asked to intervene in Bentley's behalf. In 1946 a resolution was approved by the Legislature directing the State Board to issue a permit to Bentley. But the Court of Appeals later threw it out on the ground it was special legislation.

Henry C. Hale, pleaded for its passage. Hale showed a photograph he identified as a picture of the 1907 graduating class of the University of Louisville College of Dentistry. Bentley's picture was in the group, Hale added.

Bentley contends he graduated from the Louisville school but because of a fight with one of his professors the night before graduation this teacher refused to sign his diploma.

Hale asked the members to "help this old gentleman who isn't going to live too many years longer."

But Dr. Adkins dealt the final blow to the bill by citing records of the Court of Appeals, the State board, and the college which he said would show that:

1. Bentley failed two courses in his freshman year and three courses in his junior year, which he did not make up by repeating the course.
2. After leaving school in 1907, Bentley practiced dentistry on a house-to-house basis in Kentucky.
3. In 1915 Bentley somehow obtained the license that had been issued to a Dr. John M. Bentley and moved to Arkansas. There he practiced dentistry until 1923, when the Arkansas State Board discovered he was using the J. M. Bentley license.
4. While charges by the Arkansas board were pending against Bentley, he was able to persuade friends in the Arkansas Legislature to introduce a resolution calling for an investigation of the Arkansas board. The resolution almost passed.
5. When a former classmate of J. M. Bentley appeared in Arkansas and confirmed the false identity, G. C. Bentley went to Tennessee.
6. Bentley practiced in Tennessee under the name of J. M. Bentley using a license in that name granted through a reciprocity agreement with Arkansas. This went on until 1930, when the Tennessee board discovered Bentley's true identity.
7. Before his trial in Tennessee, Bentley came to Kentucky where he practiced "fraudulently" until he was stopped by order of Pike circuit court and the Court of Appeals.

ORDINANCE

An ordinance providing for the management, control and operation of the municipal waterworks system of the City of Martin, Kentucky.

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF MARTIN:

Section One: That for the purpose of controlling and operating the water works system of the City of Martin, there is hereby created what shall be called and known as a water works committee.

Section Two: The said water works committee shall consist of three members who are to be appointed for respective terms of two, four and six years. No person shall be appointed a member of said water works committee, who shall within three years prior to October 14th, 1949, have held any city, county, state or federal office, or who is related within the third degree to the mayor or a member of the city council, or who, within three years prior to October 14th, 1949, has been a member of any committee of any political party. No person shall be appointed to said committee unless he is a resident, citizen and taxpayer of the City of Martin. The city council shall forthwith make the appointments to said committee and the persons so appointed shall determine by lot whether their terms of office shall be for the original term of two, four or six years. The members of said committee may be eligible for reappointment and as their respective terms of office of said committee expire, the city council shall make new appointments or reappoint the members whose terms expire, but said appointments shall be for a period of six years. The members of said committee shall be subject to removal for cause and upon reasonable notice.

The members of said committee, first appointed by the city council under this ordinance, shall immediately upon receiving notice of their appointment take the oath of office as such committee and execute bond, conditioned according to law, and for the faithful performance of their duties as such members of said committee, in the sum of Twenty-Five Hundred ($2500.00) the premium on such bonds to be paid by the waterworks fund. Said bond is to be approved by the city council and members of said committee may not act until they have taken the oath of office and have executed bond in accordance with this ordinance.

Section Three: The committee, so created by this ordinance, shall have absolute and exclusive control of the said water works system, in its operation, fiscal management and regulation of rates and in every other respect. It shall provide its own rules, regulations and by-laws, and out of the revenue of the plant, pay all of its operating expenses, repairs and additions that may be necessary to be made there-

Section Four: The said water works committee shall have power to employ, fix the compensation of, and discharge all employees of said water works system.

Section Five: The members of said committee shall receive compensation for their services at the rate of not more than $5.00 per meeting attended as may be fixed from time to time by said committee, but not to exceed the sum of $100.00 per year, for each member of said committee.

Section Six: Ordinance No. 55, appearing in Ordinance Book One, and attempted to be passed by the Board of Trustees of the Town of Martin, on October 14th, 1949, at a time when said town was a City of the Sixth Class, is now expressly repealed. All other ordinances in conflict with this ordinance are also expressly repealed.

Section Seven: This ordinance shall be in force and effect upon its approval by the Mayor and its due publication as required by law.

Passed by the City Council, this April 1st, 1952.

E. F. GRIGSBY, Mayor

Attest:

RAYMOND GRIFFITH

WHAT'S THIS?—BARKLEY TO HEAD DELEGATES FROM KANSAS TO REPUBLICAN CONVENTION!

LEXINGTON, Va. March 17 (Spl.)—Barkley J. Sturgill, of Prestonsburg, Ky., will be the chairman of the Kansas delegation of 22 students to the mock Republican convention to be held at Washington & Lee University, April 28-29. Members of the mock convention will stage a realistic simulation of the national GOP convention to be held this summer in Chicago.

As "state GOP chairman" Sturgill will have the responsibility of determining as nearly as possible the voting policy to be followed in the real-life national convention. This will be accomplished by following political barometers and state primaries.

This close investigation by student leaders into actual political developments injects an element of realism and accuracy into the mock convention. Five times since its inception as an all-student event forty-four years ago, the W & L men have tagged a "nominee" and seen the choice later sustained in the genuine national conventions. Only four "bum steers" have been charged against the student politicians in their nine quadrennial attempts since 1908. No conventions were held in 1920 and 1944.

The mock affair will be directed entirely by university students, with counsel furnished by the political science, history and law faculties. Like the genuine convention, it will bring together 1025 "delegates" representing all 48 states and 5 territories.

Sturgill is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Troy B. Sturgill, of Prestonsburg. (He, incidentally, is a Democrat, as his Christian name would suggest.—Editor.)

GARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank all of the friends everywhere for their words of sympathy upon the loss of my husband and our father, John Salyers. We give our thanks to the Reverends; Coy Combs, Bert Howard, Hawk Moore, Green Bradley, Neal Cornett, Sherman Stone, Earl Howard and Hauley Warrens for their words of consolation, and the Hindman Funeral Home for their fine and efficient service. CAPITAL Roundup

NATURAL GAS TO BE INCREASED

Kentucky consumers of natural gas for heating purposes are due for a substantial increase in supplies, the Public Service Commissioner announced, as it disclosed an improvement in the gas situation over last fall.

The Commission also will regulate distribution of natural gas in the State. It made formal certification of its intention to President Truman that it would take over control of gas distribution within the State. The Defense Production Act authorizes State authorities to assume this authority, but provides in case the authority is not exercised at the state level it shall be done by Federal authority.

UNDERWOOD NEW FIRE MARSHAL

Commissioner of Insurance Spalding Southall announced resignation of W. L. Martin as State Fire Marshal and his replacement by J. T. Underwood, Parkersville, who has been assistant to Martin. Martin accepted a position with the Federal Civil Defense Agency fire division near Cleveland, Ohio.

LADY NAMED WARDEN

Appointment of Porter B. Lady as warden of the State Reformatory at LaGrange was made by Commissioner of Welfare Luther Goheen. Lady has been serving on an acting basis since January 1 when R. L. Whaley relinquished the job. Lady is former deputy warden at Eddyville Penitentiary. Goheen also announced appointment of C. E. Vinson, Louisville, as member of the State Parole Board. He is former insurance agent, retired army officer.

BUCKMAN TO AID COUNTY ATTORNEYS

Attorney General J. D. Buckman, Jr., assigned two of his assistants to work with any County Attorney who may be interested in seizing slot machines ordered returned to the owners by a Federal court decision. However, the Federal court decreed that owners must pick up the machines themselves—a circumstance that would authorize county attorneys to proceed under state law.

CARD GAMES RULED OUT

Assistant Attorney General William F. Simpson ruled that conducting a card game at a private club licensed to dispense alcoholic beverage licenses constituted a cause for revocation or suspension of the license in an opinion given H. R. Santen, City Alcohol Administrator of Paris.

PUBLIC ASSISTANCE DROPS

Kentucky's public assistance rolls showed a drop in February under January of this year, marking the second consecutive month the rolls have shown a decrease.

Total February outlay was $2,852,265 compared with $2,882,394 for January, while the number of recipients fell from 65,152 to 64,412 old age assistant recipients it was reported by the Department of Economic Security. Aid to Dependent Children beneficiaries fell from 54,325 to 53,844 while the needy blind recipients rose from 2,315 to 2,833 for the month.

PSC ORDERS RATE INCREASE

The Public Service Commission directed the Union Light, Heat and Power Company, Covington, not to invoke its proposed $888,000 a year rate increase in Northern Kentucky communities pending determination as to reasonableness of the proposed rates by virtue of a recently enacted law allowing the Commission to suspend proposed increases for not exceeding five months.

COURT UPHOLDS REDISTRICTING

The Kentucky Court of Appeals gave judicial approval to the act of the recent General Assembly redistricting Kentucky's Congressional districts from nine to eight. The Court held that the act violated neither the State nor the Federal Constitutions. Special Judge Leslie W. Morris previously had dismissed a friendly suit brought by Congressman John C. Watts to test the act.

LOBBYISTS MUST FILE STATEMENT

Attorney General J. D. Buckman, Jr., reminded lobbyists that all must file a written statement of expenses incurred during the recent legislative session by April 20—thirty days following adjournment of the General Assembly.

COURT UPSETS PLANS

The Kentucky Court of Appeals upset the plans of 54-year-old Henry Bracken, Warren county, to acquire a cottage from his 96-year-old wife whom he married in 1948 on the ground that "evil design and fraud fairly scream from the record." The couple were married in 1946, divorced in 1947, remarried in 1948 and the wife again sued for divorce in 1950. She died while the suit for a second divorce was pending. Relatives of the woman attacked the property transfer.

ORDINANCE

An ordinance abolishing the Board of Water Commissioners of the City of Martin and the Office of Water Commissioner and Water Commissioners.

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF MARTIN, KENTUCKY:

Section One: That the Board of Water Commissioners, the members thereof and the Chairman of said Water Works Commission of the City of Martin, and the commission, in its entirety, as attempted to be created by Ordinance dated October 14th, 1949, and which appears of record in ordinance Book Number One, and is Ordinance Number 55, be and they are each expressly abolished.

Section Two: That the office of water commissioner and water commissioners be and they are each hereby abolished.

Section Three: This ordinance shall be in force and effect upon its approval by the Mayor and its due publication as required by law.

Passed by the City Council of the City of Martin, Kentucky, this April 1st, 1952.

NIGHT RIDERS HIT FARMERS

Kentucky's tobacco growers, now relatively satisfied with tobacco prices, once faced persecution because they thought prices should be raised. In the early 1900's bands of masked men roused the countryside on horseback and threatened those who wanted higher prices and better marketing conditions.

By TED KESTING

Most of us think of the mountain lion as a western animal, and it comes as something of a surprise to learn that it still lives in the East too. There is a small variety in Florida, and a full-sized one in New Brunswick. More surprising is the fact that in the northeastern limit of their range the mountain lion—or panther or cougar or catamount—are more numerous than ever because of the increasing number of deer on which they largely depend for winter food.

Dr. William Long, noted naturalist, spent some time in the West just to study their habits. One of the most interesting items in his report concerns "scrapes." These are wedge-shaped piles of earth or pine spills in which the lion leaves his sign, probably by spilling urine. Ben Lilly, famous western hunter, records that he saw a lion make a scrape with his hind feet. But Long says some scrapes are certainly made by the big front paws, as indicated by pug mark or wide-spread claws.

To the question of why scrapes are made, no positive answer can be given. Long thinks they are the work of a male lion after he has killed and eaten. His purpose (probably instinctive) is either to tell any female lion that with him she shall have good hunting; or else, like a dog wolf, he leaves his sign to tell any hungry lion how to find food by following the trail back to where the scrape-maker left most of his kill uncaten.

One hope of Long's was to learn how a lion kills big game; but he never had the luck to catch one at it. The lion has plenty of speed, but not much endurance because his small lungs make him short-winded. If chased after eating he takes quickly to a tree, not having learned how to empty his stomach for a long run, as a fox or wolf does. I have heard that a lion springs upon the back of a deer; then, holding on by grip of his jaws, he reaches out a paw to grasp the head and twists it back, breaking the deer's neck and killing him instantly.

This may be the lions method in some cases, but Long doubts it because of the dozen or more kills he examined, not one had a broken neck. Without exception, they showed deep gashes that slashed from the neck down and across one side. The deer had died from opened blood vessels, and probably without any feeling of pain because of the shock caused by the paralyzing blow of the lion's leap.

LEAVE FOR FLORIDA

Dr. and Mrs. Thomas Roberts and son left Tuesday for Vero Beach, Florida, where they will reside. Dr. Roberts has been located here in the dental offices of Drs. Edward Leslie and Herbert Salisbury during their absence in the service of the U.S. Army. Dr. Leslie has returned here to resume his practice and will be located in the Wright building on Court street. Dr. Roberts will open dental offices in his former home town, Vero Beach. They have made many friends during their stay here who are sorry to see them leave.

Crappie Limit Upped Thru New Regulation

Frankfort, Ky., March 24 (SPL)—Two emergency regulations affecting the creel limit of crappie or newlights and the seining of minnows from creeks have been re-adopted by the State Game and Fish Commission and were effective as of March 25, the date of expiration of the present regulation governing the same.

The announcement by the Director of the Division of Game and Fish points out that due to an over-population of crappie or newlights in most Kentucky waters, the fisherman will be permitted to take a limit of 30 of this species each day or have in his possession 60 provided he has fished two or more consecutive days.

The other regulation prevents the seining of minnows from a stream for sale. The regulation does not prevent any resident from seining minnows from creeks for private use, but a person may not have more than 500 creek minnows of any species or in aggregate in his possession at any time. Neither does the regulation prevent the taking of shad minnows for commercial purposes in the waters of Herrington, Dale Hollow and Kentucky Lakes and all streams under lock and dam but not above the last lock and dam upstream.

WAYLAND MRS. FIELD, CLUB SPEAKER

"In unity there is strength," declared Mrs. John Field in her discussion on international relations at the Tuesday evening meeting of the Lackey-Garrett Woman's Club at the home of Mrs. Earl Castle, of Estill.

"America's first line of defense is the morale of her people," the speaker declared.

In speaking of the Korean situation Mrs. Field declared the present difference of opinion on the subject to be a product of the inability of the Truman administration to explain the best points of their own foreign policy and the "no substitute for victory," of Douglas McArthur.

An election of officers was held and the following were elected: Mrs. Frank Rasnick, president; Mrs. Geo. E. Evans, vice-president; Mrs. Willard Castle, recording secretary; Mrs. Otto Martin, corresponding secretary; Mrs. J. C. Wells, treasurer.

Highway Gains Shown In Four-Year Report

Frankfort, Ky. — Kentucky built 6,142 miles of highways during the four-year period from 1948 to 1952. There were 1,387 contracts awarded and the cost of the roads was $126,229,000. Construction and maintenance together cost $197,625,312.

A progress report just issued by the Department of Highways also shows 712 bridges constructed and urban highway construction costing $5,905,022.

The report, entitled "Four Years and Forty," shows gains made in the last four years and compares road conditions today with those in Kentucky 40 years ago. It is being distributed to state, county and city officials and persons interested in highway construction and the tourist industry.

Rural highway construction totaled more than 3,500 miles at a cost of $36,625,000 during the period and $5,000,000 a year was spent in administering aid to county road programs.

Safety devices and highway marking cost $3,350,000 during the four years.

LAWYERS, JUDGES TO SEE PROCEDURE DEMONSTRATION

Kentucky lawyers and judges will be given the opportunity to observe a preview of "the most important step in judicial proceedings in Kentucky in 50 years" at the Ohio valley regional meeting of the American Bar Association, April 9-12 in Louisville.

Amos Eblen, Frankfort, executive Council, said the pre-trial conferences approved by the 1952 Legislature, and expected to be included in the new Kentucky Code of Practice effective January 1, 1953, "will expedite litigation and thereby benefit the entire public of Kentucky."

Eblen explained the pre-trial conferences are meeting between judges and opposing lawyers in legal proceedings in order to obtain a clear statement of issues and to "throw out" matters that are immaterial and "likely to waste the time of judges, lawyers and citizens involved."

The Judicial Council is the "executive committee" of the Judicial Conference, a body of all circuit judges in Kentucky. Eblen said all circuit judges in Kentucky had been invited to attend the pre-trial demonstration and that all lawyers within the several circuits had been urged to attend.

The demonstration had been scheduled for Friday, April 11, at 2:30 p.m. in U.S. Court Room No. 1, Federal Bldg., 6th and Broadway.

Judge Boltha J. Laws, United States Court, District of Columbia, recognized as the leading authority on pre-trial conferences, will be in charge of the demonstration. Lawyers from the Ohio valley region will participate.

Eblen said pre-trial conferences are "a national trend" and are being adopted gradually in all states. The procedure has been adopted already in the Federal courts.

The 1952 Legislature passed a bill allowing the Court of Appeals to amend the old Kentucky legal code and put the new code in practice. The code revision committee is working on the new Code and it must be approved by the Courts and lawyers of Kentucky before use. The pre-trial conference is a "permissive" section of the new Code.

The Kentucky Judicial Conference has scheduled a meeting at 7 p.m., Thursday, April 10, to discuss "general administration of justice" in Kentucky. Eblen called the conference "the first meeting of all circuit judges of Kentucky, in Louisville, in conjunction with the annual meeting of the Kentucky Bar Association."

Other outstanding speakers at the Ohio Valley regional meeting will be John Foster Dulles, author of the Japanese peace treaty; Judge Harold R. Medina, famed communist trial jurist; James E. Webb, former Under-secretary of State; Howard L. Barkdull, Cleveland, president of the American Bar Association; Leroy A. Lincoln, New York, chairman of the board, Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. and Nathan P. Feinsinger, chairman of the Wage Stabilization Board.

BOND ISSUE INVALIDATED

Legal consternation was thrown into Bowling Green's city government by the Court of Appeals when it invalidated an $85,000 bond issue for hospital improvements because the city had not taken proper steps to convert from third-class to second-class form of government after the 1950 General Assembly changed the town's classification.

Also likely affected by the ruling is an ordinance by which a large portion of territory was annexed to the city after the change would have taken place.

The Pennyrile Forest State Park, near Dawson Springs, Ky., is the largest of Kentucky's four state forests. It contains 14,797 wooded acres.

Talent Hunt Is On By Nat'l Folk Festival

Can you sing the old folk ballads, play a dulcimer, or dance a real Irish jig? If you can, whether you're a farmer, factory worker or salesman, there's most likely a place for you in the National Folk Festival at St. Louis next May.

The search is now on for more than 1,000 men and women from all parts of America who'll perform in this eighteenth annual folk get-together. Lumberjacks, students, Indians, mountaineers, residents of the big cities who know the songs and dances their forefathers brought over from the old country—these and many, many more are the people of whom the festival is made.

The festival will be held in St. Louis' Kiel municipal auditorium from May 14 through 17.

So, if you're a singer of the old songs, or a teller of the old tales—or if you know of someone or some group that is—write the National Folk Festival, St. Louis Globe-Democrat, 1133 Franklin avenue, St. Louis 1, Missouri.

CARD OF THANKS

MRS. REFFETT

We wish to thank all of the friends who were so kind to us upon the death of my dear wife, Lily Mae Reffett. We wish especially to thank Rev. Willard Akers and Rev. Banner Manns for their wonderful sermons and all their words of consolation, and the Hall Brothers Funeral Home for their fine and efficient service; and to every one, other than the above-mentioned, who in any way extended sympathy or sent floral offerings we express our gratitude and heartfelt thanks.
