

ELECTION COMMISSION TOLD TO RECONVENE

CANDIDATES ASK OFFICERS BE APPOINTED

Controversy Is Decided By Cornett, Wednesday At Salyersville Court

Judge John Chris Cornett ruled at Salyersville Wednesday afternoon that the plaintiffs are entitled to one election officer in each precinct, as requested. He directed the Election Commission to reassemble forthwith and comply with the order of the court.

The county election commission last Friday named election officers to preside at the county's 38 voting precincts next Tuesday, and the following day a group of candidates, including A. B. Chandler, filed a circuit court action seeking a mandatory injunction to require the commission to reconvene and name one election officer of their choosing in each precinct.

Circuit Judge Edward P. Hill disqualified as the trial judge, because he himself is a candidate, and Judge Nolan Carter, of Fayette county, was designated by the Court of Appeals to preside at the hearing Tuesday morning.

But, it was pointed out by W. W. Burchett, legal counsel for the election commission, that the same statute which provides the means of 25% or more of the candidates gaining election officer representation also provides that the special judge, if one is required, shall be from an adjoining county.

"Looks like you've got the wrong judge," the Fayette county jurist remarked after reading the statute.

LYONS ADMITS KOTT SLAYING

Former David Resident Surrenders To Officers After Body Discovered

Orville David Lyons, 23, former resident of David, told California authorities recently that he killed his roommate, John Kott, 31, in the hope that he would be executed for the slaying.

Lyons voluntarily surrendered to officers, an hour after Kott's body was discovered under a bed in the beach cottage occupied by the two men at Newport Beach, California. "I wanted to die but was afraid to kill myself," he explained.

He was booked on suspicion of murder. The slaying took place May 3, it was said. Kott had lived in the cottage several years. Lyons moved in with him, only a few months ago, officers said.

California officers also said Lyons told them that he deserted the Army, a year ago. His family moved from David to Cannel Coal Gap where their home was destroyed by fire recently.

This Town... That World

ONE MORE THING TO DO
Have you argued yourself hoarse about this election, made enemies of your friends, thumped your chest and cried out against rottenness and crookedness, inveighed against some things and praised a few?
Then how about doing one more thing? How about taking the trouble to go out and vote, next Tuesday, the sentiments you have so vociferously, and sometimes eloquently, voiced?

DISCOURAGING THOUGHT
We thought that, along about this stage of the game, we should relate some anecdote which would point up the lighter side of a political campaign. Our informant tells us this is of rather ancient vintage but, for want of a better, we repeat it.

It concerns the candidate who made it home, late at night, saddle-sore and generally the worse for wear. The faithful wife was waiting up for him. She met him at the door to inquire about how things were going.

"Bad, bad, I'm gonna quit," he announced.

"But why?"

"Because, Susie, they're accusin' me now of stealin' a hoss."

"But you ain't guilty, are you?"

"Naw," the weary candidate replied. "But, you know, they may prove it on me."

CONDITION, LOW

In a local restaurant, the other day, I did a bit of eavesdropping as a party at a nearby table enjoyed reminiscing about a character whom at least two in the group knew personally.

One recalled the old geezer and how he hit the bottle a bit freely, particularly on cold days. "When he did, he never failed to announce that he was going to die. And then he would look faint and say, 'If you don't believe I'm in a pretty bad fix, just take a look at how low my spirits in that bottle are.'"

If I can find the paper in which it was published, I hope to print, next week, what that Frankfort minister had to say about the current political campaign and the low tactics involved.

The late Noah Harris used to remark that he'd always noticed that if he made it through March he made it the rest of the year. I make the same remark about getting through an election campaign.

RETURNS HOME

Former Tax Commissioner Manis Conley returned to his home here Wednesday from the Methodist hospital, Pikeville, where he underwent treatment. His condition is much improved.

HEAVY VOTE EXPECTED IN PRIMARY BALLOTING

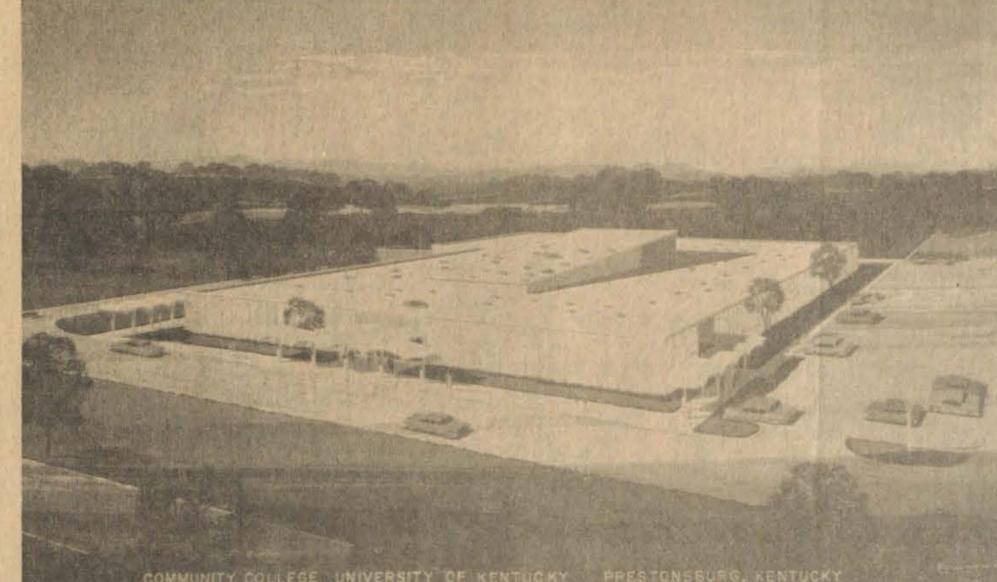

In a period of 11 hours next Tuesday—from 6 a.m. to 5 p.m.—the voters of Kentucky will resolve the issues of the current political campaign, by many termed the bitterest in state history.

Floyd county is expected to poll one of its heaviest votes, and only a decreasing population could keep it from being the county's largest.

Not only Floyd but 108 other Kentucky counties will use voting machines next Tuesday, and so the results, statewide and local, are expected to be known Tuesday night.

Local races in the Democratic party for Circuit Judge, Commonwealth's Attorney, Circuit Clerk and Representative are adding to the interest and heat generated by the spirited campaign for Governor. Floyd county has been a veritable battleground for weeks, and the scrap has perhaps been more bitter here than elsewhere.

FLOYD AUTO MISHAPS DROP

Four Accidental Deaths Reported in '62; Eight Fatalities Occur In '61

Accidents on the highways decreased in Floyd county during 1962, as compared with 1961 totals, State Safety Commissioner Glenn Lovern said this week.

Releasing the comparison of traffic accident totals at Frankfort, Lovern said, "The people of Floyd county are to be congratulated for reducing accidents last year. In view of the fact that almost three-fourths of the counties experienced an increase, this county can be proud of this achievement."

Lovern said that Floyd county totals for 1962 were improved over 1961, with 4 deaths reported for 1962, compared with 8 for 1961. There were 371 accidents reported in the county last year—seven fewer than in 1961.

Accident totals and death totals are not necessarily comparable, the safety chief pointed out. Many counties which recorded an increase in accidents actually had a decrease in deaths. This may fluctuate as the many factors involved in a fatal accident are always different. One fatal accident may involve one car and one driver who is killed. Another will (See Story No. 2, Page 8)

Festival Art Section Plans Being Formed, Chairman Announces

Plans are being made for the art section of the Hometown Arts Festival which will be held at the Floyd County Library here the week of June 17, it was announced this week by Mrs. Duna Combs, of Langley, art exhibit chairman.

Members of the art exhibit committee—Mrs. Frankie S. Best, Carlos Neeley, Mary A. Hale and Kendall Craft—will announce the names of judges of art entries next week. Ribbons will be awarded during the art program, the first evening of the festival, when names of winners will be announced. A small exhibit of paintings and drawings also will be shown. This work, however, will not be eligible for ribbons, Mrs. Combs said.

MINE CHUTES ARE BLASTED

Dynamitings in Perry, Theft of Explosives Reported This Week

Dynamiting last Wednesday night of two coal chutes on Frazier's Creek, near the scene of a tippel blast on May 6, plus two Perry county explosions and additional thefts of explosives brought fears of new trouble in the area's coal field this week.

Twin chutes serving two small mines owned by Jake Cooley and operated on Frazier's Creek by Walker Hamilton were destroyed in the latest Floyd county dynamiting. Investigating officers said at least a case of dynamite was used in blasting each installation.

Only a man's footprint remained as a possible clue, officers said. State Detective Chester D. Potter, who led the investigation, could not be reached for a statement.

First of the Floyd county dynamitings following the truce between pickets and operators caused an estimated $2,000 damage, the night of May 6, when an estimated 10 to 15 sticks of dynamite were tossed into the hopper of the Columbia tippel of the Turner-Elkhorn Coal Company, on the Bill Hall Branch, near McDowell.

This incident was not caused by any labor trouble, was the opinion expressed by authorities. In Perry county Monday the trailer home of Berman Gibson, leader of pickets, was damaged by a dynamite blast. Within 12 hours another explosion caused damage at the Allais Machine & Electric Supply Company, owned by Emery Engle, former Hazard coal operator.

FOUR FLOYD STUDENTS BENEFIT FROM GRANTS

Awarding 10 new scholarships to young Kentuckians who will enter medical college next fall, the Kentucky State Medical Association this month brought to 82 the total of scholarship students who will be studying for the practice of medicine with six of these from Floyd or adjoining counties.

The scholarships are worth $1,200 a year. Besides the 10 awarded for next year, 14 scholarship students are now in their second year, 17 in their third and 11 in the fourth.

In addition to these, eight scholarship recipients from Floyd or an adjoining county will complete their internship this year or are in medical service with the armed forces.

KSMA scholarship recipients from this county now in medical college are:

Ballard Wright, Bonanza, to begin his fourth year next fall; Raymond D. Wells, Lancer, to be in his third year, and Frank D. Southfield, Martin, who will do his second year's work in 1963-64.

Now completing her internship is Mary Alice Hall, of Wheelwright, another scholarship beneficiary.

Since 1945 the KSMA scholarship fund has made $373,117 available for medical scholarships. Of this total, $168,117 came from private sources and another $205,000 from the state. Last year, the drain on the fund became so heavy that Governor Combs found it necessary to replenish it from his emergency fund.

COURTHOUSE BONDS SOLD

The $342,000 bond issue on which bids were opened Tuesday by the Floyd County Courthouse Corporation was purchased by two Tennessee firms, the First Knoxville Company and the First U. S. Corporation at a bid of $331,682.70, with 3.89% interest.

A representative of the county's fiscal agent in the transaction, Charles A. Hirsch & Co., Inc., Cincinnati, said, "We are very happy with the sale of the bonds at this good interest rate."

B. F. Reed, of Drift, is president of the Floyd County Courthouse Corporation which serves as an agent of the county in the financing of the structure. Work already has been started by Akers & Akers, contractors. (See Story No. 6, Page 3)

FISCAL COURT GIVES SUPPORT

Of Candidate, Setting Precedent; Resolution Is Adopted Unanimously

The Floyd fiscal court set a precedent Tuesday.

For the first time in its history it officially endorsed a candidate for public office.

By unanimous vote the court adopted resolutions in support of Edward T. "Ned" Breathitt, candidate for the Democratic nomination for Governor.

The resolution pointed out that Floyd county is now participating under a cooperative road program with the state of Kentucky which enables the county to buy and operate equipment for the building and maintenance of county roads.

One candidate, the resolution said, would do away with the cooperative road program, while the other has endorsed it and pledged $5 million to the rural road fund.

County Clerk C. Ollie Robinson and County Attorney Barkley J. Sturgill joined County Judge Henry Stumbo and Magistrates Fred Conn, Bryant DeRossett, Zeb Ousley and Edward Caudill in that part of the resolution which recognized the "great progress Floyd county has made under the Combs administration and the cooperative road program."

The resolution was adopted on motion of Magistrate Conn.

"For six months," said Breathitt, "I have slugged it out with a veteran campaigner—and he hasn't laid a glove on me. My record, my platform remain unscathed and unspotted. On the other hand, chicken after chicken—some of them very old chickens—has come home to roost in my opponent's henhouse."

This announcement was made Wednesday afternoon after a University of Kentucky committee, headed by Dr. R. D. Johnson, UK dean of extended programs, had come to Prestonsburg, viewed the college site and had given final approval of the entire project on behalf of the university.

"The committee has taken a final look at the site and the plans, and all are in order for the next steps, with all possible objections cleared," Dr. Johnson said. The "next step" involve advertising for bids already set for Friday, and the awarding of the contract.

Dr. Johnson expressed his pleasure with the site and the plans which have been completed for the college structure. "We are appreciative of the help and cooperation of the local committee and look forward to pleasant associations with the people of Prestonsburg, Floyd and neighboring counties."

Conferring with the university committee and Keith Ashby, assistant state engineer, were Mayor George P. Archer, R. V. May, W. J. Reynolds, Jr., and Burl Spuriook, of the Big Sandy College Development Corporation. University representatives, in addition to Dr. Johnson, were Dr. Godbey and C. R. Hager.

Bonds to finance the construction of the college have been sold, and it is expected that first work at the college site will begin in July. Completion of the structure is scheduled in time for classwork to begin with the opening of the 1964 fall term.

DEMOS RALLY AT GYM HERE

Breathitt Hits Chandler For 'Obscenity' in Talks; Governor Combs Speaks

An estimated 4,000 Eastern Kentuckians, most of whom were Floyd countians, last Saturday roared their approval as Edward T. "Ned" Breathitt, Democratic candidate for Governor, and Gov. Bert T. Combs reviewed for them the issues of the current political campaign and verbally spanked the opposition.

The big gathering was at the Prestonsburg high school fieldhouse where Floyd supporters of Breathitt were joined by delegations from other counties of the area.

With Governor Combs and Candidate Breathitt on the platform there were seven other candidates for state office, all of whom were introduced. One of these, Attorney General John B. Breckinridge, candidate for lieutenant governor, drew high praise from the Governor, who also had a good word for the other candidates.

"For six months," said Breathitt, "I have slugged it out with a veteran campaigner—and he hasn't laid a glove on me. My record, my platform remain unscathed and unspotted. On the other hand, chicken after chicken—some of them very old chickens—has come home to roost in my opponent's henhouse."

Following the election, a round-table discussion was held on the eye program of the Lions. A decision was deferred as to what project the club will adopt for promotion.

Hillis-Hebbelin Vows Solemnized

Announcement being made by Mrs. Martha Stambaugh, of Allen, Ky., of the marriage of her granddaughter, Miss Patricia Lee Hillis, St. Louis, Mo., to Ronald Gene Hebbelin, of St. Louis, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. George R. Hebbelin, Davenport, Iowa.

The musical prelude was given by Dr. Marie Salvador, organist, and the Boys' Choir sang the mass. Two solos were sung by two soloists from the Mens' Choir, "Ave Maria," and "On This Day" were sung during the presentation to the "Blessed Mother."

The bride wore a street-length gown of pink silk chiffon, fashioned with a scoop neckline and short sleeves, enhanced traunte work, frosted the bodice. Complimenting the gown were matched accessories, a hat of flowers in shades of pink offset by a small deep pink bow.

The bride's mother was dressed in a street-length gown of turquoise chiffon designed with an oval neckline from which fell a panel of chiffon cinched loosely at the waist. A hat bearing a chiffon rose fell gracefully toward her face.

The reception was held at the Cheshire Inn, Clayton, Missouri. The bride is a graduate of Newark senior high school, and attended the Newark College of Commerce. She is employed in the magazine accounting department at D'Arcy Advertising Co., St. Louis.

Mr. Hebbelin was graduated from Davenport high school in 1955, and attended St. Ambrose College in Davenport for two years. He served three years with the U. S. Marine Corps and is employed with Western Casualty and Surety Corporation, Clayton, Mo., as an underwriter.

Carter made official his decision not to sit in the hearing, and the case was set for hearing at Salyersville at 1 p.m. Wednesday before Judge John Chris Cornett.

Plaintiffs in the suit contended they did not have representation on the election officer list prepared by the election commissioners, Tommy Ratliff (D), Mrs. Josephine Evans (R) and Sheriff Henry C. Hale (D). They claimed more than the required 25% of the candidates had joined in asking the commission to reconvene and give them 12 judges, 12 clerks and 14 sheriffs of election. On the courthouse. Foundation piling was being driven this week. The entire job will cost $496,848.50.

An urban renewal project, if approved, will mean the purchase of the old courthouse property at an appraised value of around $100,000, and conversion of the site to a parking facility.

The new courthouse will be of three stories, with offices on the first floor, courtroom space on the second and the jail atop the building.

George Lee Shannon, Prestonsburg architect, designed the building.

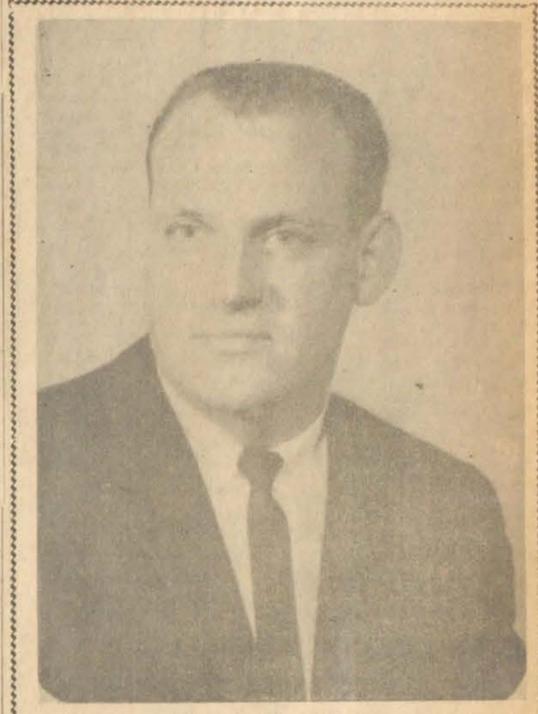

American holly, Japanese holly, magnolias, and certain other broadleaf evergreens may only need shaping. Don't shear these plants but snip out the extra long pieces over a period of a year or more until the growth is sufficiently regular.

Woman Loses 'Needle' Suit

Mrs. Gertrude Evans, 52, of Paintsville, Wednesday lost her $89,184 Jefferson circuit court suit against a Louisville doctor who she said left part of a surgical needle in her spine when giving her spinal anesthesia in 1954.

She said an X-ray in 1950 disclosed presence of fragments of the needle. J. Donald Dinning, attorney for the defendant, Dr. Naven M. Olson, contended the two half-inch fragments were part of an ordinary sewing needle and not a surgical hypodermic needle.

Some of Kentucky's proud heritage is preserved in Liberty Hall, historic Georgian House at Frankfort. Having the finest Palladian window in the Commonwealth, the house was built by Kentucky's first U. S. Senator, John Brown. According to tradition, some architectural plans suggested by Thomas Jefferson were incorporated into the house.

Sportsmen Convention Scheduled At Lexington; New Program Is Planned

Time is rapidly approaching for the annual League of Kentucky Sportsmen convention. It will be held this year at Lexington and is the 28th annual meeting for the dedicated organization.

It is highly important that each sportsmen's club in the Commonwealth send its delegate, for it is at this meeting that the program for the next 12 months is formulated; that new officers are elected, and that new goals and objectives are outlined.

It is important that not only League clubs be represented but also that those unaffiliated sportsmen of the state attend. Of course, they may not vote in League affairs, not being members, but there they will have an opportunity to express their opinions about the conduct of fish and wildlife management in this state.

And besides this business angle it is at these conventions that old acquaintances, actually those who see each other only on such occasions, have an opportunity to get together and the camaraderie of those assembled is indeed inspiring.

Few indeed will be present at this 28th meeting who also attended the very first such convention. Many of those oldtimers have passed on, but those few of the old school who return this year surely are a steadying influence on the ideals and purposes of the present day League. Their sage advice is sought and heeded by those who will guide the destinies of the League in future years.

McDOWELL GRABS TITLE

The McDowell Daredevils retained the Floyd County high school baseball championship by winning the Martin Purple Flash, 4-1, in the final game Monday afternoon in the Drift park.

Pete Grigsby's nine eliminated Wheelwright in the opening game and drubbed Maytown in the semi-finals, while Denzil Halbert's team bounced Prestonsburg in first-round play.

McDowell will advance to the regional tournament in Ashland this Thursday and Friday, along with Rowan County, Montgomery County, Russell, Ashland and Paintsville. The winner will move on to Lexington for the state baseball tournament, the first week in June.

Frank Asbury, former Jenkins and Dilce Combs football coach, has resigned at Jenkins to become head football coach at Madison Central high school in Richmond. Speculation is that Dave Hurst, who resigned at Middlesboro recently, will return to Jenkins where he tutored for two years before going to Middlesboro. Walt Green, ex-Hazard mentor, was slated to go to Dayton, Ohio, but changed his mind and returned to Middlesboro and his assistant at Hazard, Jack Carvey, was elevated to top spot.

The new Dewey Lake bathhouse and beach will be completed within the next 30 days. Prestonsburg had only 24 candidates report for spring football, Monday afternoon.

Foster "Sid" Meade, superintendent of South Portsmouth schools, has been named umpire-in-chief by the Kentucky High School Athletic Association for the state baseball tournament.

Meade, a former coach and a veteran basketball and baseball official, will have a crew of four other umpires for the tournament that is to start June 5 at the University of Kentucky.

The other umpires are Bill Wise of Georgetown; Don Sullivan of Frankfort; Carroll Elliott of Shelbyville and Bruce McLean of Paintsville.

This is the fourth consecutive year that Meade has been selected to officiate in the baseball meet. This past basketball tournament was also the fourth straight for Meade.

The April issue of the Kentucky Athlete, official magazine of the KHSAA, shows that Meade received the highest number of votes of any official that worked in the state cage tournament by the coaches of the 16 teams that were entered in the event.

Meade received 51 total points, 10 more than the second highest, the most votes ever recorded in the commissioner's office.

The 54-year-old Meade has worked in more basketball games than any other official registered with the KHSAA.

Four new records were established in this year's Eastern Kentucky regional track meet at Elkhorn City. Claude Tolliver, Fleming-Neon, set a new mark in the shot-put with a heave of 48 feet, 3/4 inches. Dickie Everidge hurled the discus 125 feet, 5 inches; Lonnie Prater, Prestonsburg, turned in a new time in the high hurdles in 17.8 and G. Belcher, Elkhorn City, ran the low hurdles in 23.1 over the 230-yard dirt track.

Prestonsburg high qualified eight members of its track team for the state high school track meet.

The Black Cat barriers, who won the mile relay, also won the 880-yard relay, but were disqualified on a controversial ruling, which cost the Cats the regional championship.

Fleming-Neon finished with 33 1/2 points, host Elkhorn City 30 5/8 and Prestonsburg 29 1/4. Others in the order of finish were: Paintsville, Hazard, Belfry, Jenkins, Pikeville.

NATURE TRAILS

By RUFUS M. REED

THE DOG, MAN'S BEST FRIEND

Of all the animals, the dog more nearly has the finer traits of humans; in some ways, they are superior to us. A dog never holds a grudge, as we do. You may beat or kick your dog, and in less than a minute he is ready to forgive you and lick the hand that whipped him. A dog sticks closer to his master than a brother; he never deserts him in trouble, sickness, danger or starvation. If you feed a dog, he appreciates it; if you starve a dog, he will love you just the same. Dogs worship their master in much the same way we humans adore and worship God. A dog's master is a god to him.

If you are sick and have the blues, your dog knows it and suffers with you. A dog is the most faithful animal known and will give his life for his master.

Did you ever hear about Tip, the collie sheep dog? She is the only dog that has a granite memorial erected in her honor; she was also awarded a medal of honor by the Canine League of England. How true these lines about a dog!

"There never yet has been a dog Who learned to double-cross; Who catered to you when you won, Who dropped you when you lost."

Tip had a beloved old master, age 80, a retired gamekeeper who lived in the bleak hill country of Derbyshire, England, where they raise sheep.

This old gamekeeper, Joe Tagg by name, decided one cold December day to take a walk out in his native hills. He was living with a niece Miss Thorp, in the village of Bramford; he told her he was going out for a stroll in the hills and would be back late in the afternoon, and not to worry about him, for he had his faithful guardian, Tip.

Miss Thorp rarely worried about the old man Tagg when he had Tip with him. So she went on with her work and thought no more about it. Tip was then in her prime, about seven years old, handsome to look upon, with a black-and-brown silken coat, dark brown ears, and white throat. She was the pride and envy of the villagers and the constant companion of old Joe.

But when dark came on the evening of December 12, and Tip and Old Joe had not come back, Miss Thorp began to get worried. Yet she felt he would be safe with Tip, and that they had perhaps gone to spend the night with some relatives on the other side of the hills.

The next day, December 13, came and went, with no sign of the dog or the old man. Then Miss Thorp spread the alarm that her aged uncle had gone away into the isolated hills with his dog and had failed to return.

Searching parties were organized and they fanned out in all directions and asked at every farmhouse but nobody had seen dog or man. It was very cold in England then, with snow on the hills and moorlands; the nights were growing bitter and Miss Thorp feared that her uncle had perhaps crawled in some barn to sleep and had frozen to death. She grew more anxious every hour.

Finally the county officers, police, Boy Scouts, and all the neighbors joined in the search. They combed over every crag, ravine, hollow and cranny of the hill country of Derbyshire but found no trace of dog or man. The weather grew worse but the search went on until Christmas passed. The air was keen with the chill of frost and dense, white fog blanketed the valleys and moors. But the search went on until after New Year's Day, and no person found a trace of the missing pair. Then after New Year's day passed, the searchers gave them up as lost. They realized the old man was no doubt dead, but what had become of Tip? Now and then boys would go into the hills and moors during the winter to whistle and call for her to come but she never came!

Tip and Old Joe had disappeared on December 12, 1839. Then one day in March 27th, 105 days later, some men were getting ready to repair a dam near one of the moors. As they were driving out the sheep through some thickets, to get them out of their way, they came upon an old, ragged, gaunt, skeleton-thin dog standing on guard beside a heap of rags and bones, in a thicket where the men had never thought to look. The bones were those of Old Joe, and the dog was Tip, still alive and on guard, but so haggard and weak she could scarcely stand up. Yet she barked feebly as the men approached the rags and the skeleton of her master!

The grim drama soon unfolded. Joe had taken suddenly ill and had frozen to death on the bleak moor.

And Tip had remained there with him all through the winter, from December 12 to March 27. How had she managed to keep alive? Nobody has been able to figure that out. Perhaps she caught a rabbit now and then or a muskrat. And what a long and faithful watch that was! It has never been equalled in the history of mankind. They picked up the ragged, starved old dog and carried her tenderly back home. She recovered and soon became famous. People from everywhere came to see Tip. After she died in 1955, they erected a granite memorial in her honor, with these words: "In Commemoration of the devotion of Tip, who stayed by the body of her dead master, Joseph Tagg, on the Howden Moors, for fifteen weeks, from December 12, 1839, to March 27, 1854."

STATE REPRESENTATIVE ENDORSES CHANDLER

I make this last minute appeal to my friends in Floyd county to support A. B. Chandler, a proven friend of all the people all the time.

As your Representative in the last Legislature and during its special session I observed the greatest waste of our tax dollars in our State's history. Special favors, lucrative jobs, and plain "hand-outs" were as common as roll call. I say to you, here and now, that the half has never been told.

I went to the Legislature hoping I could support the Combs Program, but the Veterans Bonus issue quickly dashed my hopes. I did not want to penalize worthy veterans just because financial conditions forced them to leave Kentucky. I wanted it executed just like the people voted—$300 and $500.

Again I urge you to vote Chandler Governor and bring to a screeching halt this payroll padding, favoritism and waste. You can take it from me that the waste will exceed the tax on food, clothing and medicine.

HUGHES MERITS PRAISE, NOT CENSURE

(An editorial in The Lexington Herald)

If we recall it correctly, one of the candidates now seeking the Democratic nomination for governor rode into the mansion at Frankfort largely on the strength of a story that he worked his way through college on total assets of a $5 bill and a red sweater. This same steed stood him in good stead in his second try for the governorship in 1955.

Hence, it is hard to understand Albert Benjamin Chandler's vicious and unwarranted attack upon a student at the University of Kentucky who is trying to earn his way through the College of Law. Lowell Hughes, a Prestonsburg young man, devoted four years of his college career to the University's athletic program, winning renown in several sports and at the same time recording a higher scholastic standing than any of his teammates during his four years. His playing days ended in 1959. Lowell Hughes decided to study law, and since then he has been pursuing that course.

Lowell Hughes was without sufficient funds to pay his way through college, despite what some well-heeled politicians have been saying. He applied to Gov. Bert Combs for a job and was assigned as a field representative in the Department of Revenue. From 1960 until a few months ago Mr. Hughes had been working 35 hours a week for the department while carrying a class load of some 12 hours a week. During vacations and week-ends he gave full time to his state job. He received from $308 up to $376 a month for his work.

What does Lowell Hughes do? Mr. Chandler implied that he did nothing, that he had a "very rich father" and endeavored to leave the impression, or at least some of his followers have spread the rumor, that the law student was drawing $11,000 a year, instead of a total of that amount for more than three years of employment.

Specifically, Mr. Hughes checked county court clerk offices in 13 Central Kentucky counties, including Fayette, on auto, trailer, truck and other vehicular licenses. He also checked out the occupational licenses and taxes of these same counties. He checked the cigarette tax payments and audited sales of wholesalers. He also was called upon under special assignments to help in audits and collections of sales taxes, withholding and inheritance taxes. He was a right busy young man, and his tax work fully justified his employment. His duties never were neglected, and he gave the state good service and earned the annual salary of somewhat more than $3,000 which he received.

When Mr. Chandler pooped to attack this fine athlete and student—he's in the upper 10 per cent of his class and on the staff of the Law Journal—he once again demonstrated the desperation that is obvious in his campaigning in recent weeks. Has the former governor finally seen the "handwriting on the wall," a Biblical quote from the same Book that says one shall not "bear false witness"—acknowledged to be one of Mr. Chandler's chief weapons in the current campaign? The cheap political trick of attacking an honorable, conscientious University student who is trying to earn a degree by working part time undoubtedly will turn many other students to Ned Breathitt's cause.

I try to respect the other person's viewpoint but I also have one of my own. I resent very much the implications and lies of the Chandler campaign committee in last week's Floyd County Times in regard to employees of Jenny Wiley State Park.

Many on the list are not working and NOT on the payroll. I have not worked since March, through no fault of the management or my department supervisor. I quit for strictly personal reasons. As for padding payrolls and having a ball at the taxpayers' expense, they should come over to the lodge and try to replace one of the employees for one day. I think they would change their idea.

Previously they have played up highly that we were forced to buy $25.00 tickets to aid Mr. Breathitt's campaign, which is NOT true. We were given the privilege to buy or not, as we chose. To my knowledge, no one was pressured. I know I was not.

Did not Chandler pressure employees? I distinctly recall hearing

Garrett Scouts Buy Bus

Garrett, Ky., May 20 (Spl.)—A telephone call last week from Mrs. Russell Wheeler, secretary of the First Baptist Church at Louisa, to Shelby Draughn, Scoutmaster of Boy Scout Troop No. 144 at Garrett, led to the purchase of a used school bus by the Scout Troop. Mrs. Wheeler's call came in response to an article that appeared in the Date Line column of the Herald-Dispatch last week. Draughn and another member of the Boy Scout troop committee, Herbert A. Casey, Hueysville, drove to Louisa that same day and made arrangements to purchase the bus from the church and drove it home.

Friday at noon 24 of the troop's Scouts, led by their committee chairman, Kermit L. Rowe, and a member of the committee, Charles L. Hornsby, boarded the bus for their first trip. They attended the three-day week-end Spring Camporee which is held annually by the Lonesome Pine Council at Breaks Interstate Park near Elkhorn City. Because of a previous engagement for Friday night at Alice Lloyd College for its first annual banquet, Draughn was unable to accompany the boys on the bus trip to the Breaks Friday evening. He joined them later Friday night and relieved Charles Hornsby and Sterling Francis, who had driven the bus to camp.

Boys who made the trip were: Lowell Altizer, Clyde Caudill, John D. Case, Bennie Combs, Stevie Collins, Hubert Draughn, Mickey Fouts, Danny Francis, Gary Francis, Larry Francis, Paul Francis, Charlie Hornsby, Ronnie Johnson, Gary Lawson, Rodney Osborne, Jimmie Potter, Anthony Rowe, Phillip Rowe, Randy Moore, Gary Scott, Thomas Scott, Wendell Scott, Larry Shipley and Vandelle Shipley. Leaders were Shelby Draughn, Kermit Rowe, Charles Hornsby and Sterling Francis.

The troop did its Good Turn by picking up three Prestonsburg Scouts at Allen who didn't have transportation, and took them to the Breaks. The Garrett troop plans to take their next trip to Frankfort, the week-end of June 14, to attend the opening of the new Indian Trail, WAH-LA-HA.

some state employees say they HAD to donate $10.00. That was in Chandler's time—they could only raise $10.00.

The improvement under Governor Combs leadership is so remarkable the contrast is painful to Chandler, I presume, and well it should be. He plays up the sales tax, hoping to get votes. Did not the people vote the sales tax for Kentucky four years ago at the polls? If I recall correctly, it was the choice of the majority, and the best tax we have, even if it is a headache for the business man.

That 3% increased aged assistance to $70.00 per month and medical care. Any pharmacy in Kentucky will honor the aged person's doctor's prescription. Take a look at our border states that have had sales tax for years and see if they aren't forward-moving, progressive states. Kentucky is definitely on the forward march. In the history of the state Governor Combs is the first man to occupy the state house that has really had an interest in, and done things for, Eastern Kentucky, a multitude of things long overdue. This is very satisfying to the ones that want some of the conveniences and improvements that other sections of the state have been enjoying for years. The beautiful Mountain Parkway—that leads to no where—is crowded with tourists coming to explore new territory, to them, and spend their money. A great boost to our economy. They are paying for some of the things we are enjoying. Without attractions and proper facilities we would not be seeing license plates from all over the U. S. and foreign countries on our roads.

Instead of a select few profiting at everybody's expense, why not keep the good work going our way that's begun? Another four years should see still greater advancement coming our way with a Governor in the office that will help. Kick-backs for DeMoisey, Petty and Tinsler and too many more to mention, along with special concessions to state park property for special individuals' profit, isn't conducive to good leadership or service to the people of Kentucky.

Is anyone willing to go backward, instead of forward with the 20th Century and the good leadership we deserve? Chandler has had two chances and done nothing. Who wants another four years of the same?

Why not give Edward T. Breathitt, a young, intelligent, conscientious man, the chance to prove to you Kentucky is forward bound and he will help in keeping it so.

$109,657,985 Allotted In Educational Program For Current School Year

Frankfort, May 20 (Spl.)—Final calculation of the Minimum Foundation Program for education reveals that a record $109,657,985 has been allotted to Kentucky's 206 school districts for the current school year, the State Department of Education has announced.

Superintendent of Public Instruction Wendell P. Butler said this is an increase of about $4.4 million over last year's allotment of $105,290,680.

The total cost of the program this year is $155,740,897, Butler added, almost $5.9 million over last year. Local school districts will be required to raise $48,057,873 through local effort as their share of the Minimum Foundation Program's cost, he said. This is an increase of some $697,342 over the amount contributed by local districts last year.

The foundation program is based on a complex formula which is designed to bring every school district up to minimum standards of education and opportunity, Butler explained.

The total foundation program allotments include:

1. For instructional salaries, $105,453,922, an expense of $4,441,714 over last year.
2. For current expenses of school operation, $3,949,990, an increment of $537,340.
3. For capital outlay (buildings and equipment) in the local districts, $15,966,660, a jump of $391,560.
4. For pupil transportation, $10,370,325, an increase of $404,714.

Butler attributed the increased allotment to additional classroom units and higher teachers' salaries—the cost of which is shared by the state and local districts.

A total of 26,111 classroom units are in operation this year in the 206 districts. This is 653 more classrooms than last year.

"The Minimum Foundation Program has demonstrated its effectiveness as the framework for educational progress in our state," Butler said.

Certain adjustments or amendments may be necessary from time to time, Butler explained, but "the general concept of the Act provides a channel through which the citizens of the Commonwealth may purchase for their children an educational program of the highest quality they can afford."

He spoke of his conviction that what is good for Eastern Kentucky is good for all Kentucky. "That is the philosophy of Bert Combs—and that is my philosophy. I preach the same program, the same policies in Lexington and Paducah that I advocate in Prestonsburg, in Ashland or in Pikeville."

Mr. Breathitt's speech was interrupted by applause frequently but he perhaps drew the most resounding cheers in his defense of Governor Combs against what he termed the "filth and obscenity" with which his opponent had attacked Bert Combs. "I am willing," he said, "to let you, the people of Eastern Kentucky, decide for yourselves just who is your friend, just who is telling the truth, just who possesses the moral character to be governor of Kentucky. I do not care what my opponent says about me—but I resent it and resent it bitterly when he assails with slime and falsehood the official record and the personal character of Kentucky's greatest governor and Eastern Kentucky's greatest friend."

Breathitt added that upon his election to the governorship Bert Combs will continue to serve the people of Kentucky. "I do not intend to let him become exclusively a private citizen. . . . I shall draft Bert Combs and draw on his knowledge, his experience and, above all, on his deep and dedicated concern for the people of these mountains."

"The choice which we face," Breathitt declared, "is clear and simple—a program of the people, by the people and for the people; or a government of the cronies, by the cronies and for the cronies."

The speaker pointed out to his hearers that if they want to see the Mountain Parkway completed, opening up this area to commerce, the industry and the traffic of the nation, "then I am your candidate."

"But," he added, "if you want to plow up the Mountain Parkway, bring our highway program to a screeching halt and turn the road fund over to Petty and DeMoisey, then you will choose my opponent."

He listed as prime aims the doubling of the rural highway program, building of state parks and development of a rich tourism program, affirmative action in Frankfort and Washington to control the area's water resources and prevent disastrous floods, an increase of $14 a month in the average pension for the aged, the blind and disabled and an increase in hospital and medical benefits.

Declaring that his campaign is rolling in high gear, Breathitt said:

"Perhaps there is no better measure of our success than the snarling and slanderous speeches made by my opponent during the past few days. He is careening all over the state like a derailed trolley car. For 30 years he has handed it out—but for the first time since Alben Barkley's day he has had to take it."

Before beginning his address, Breathitt introduced to the crowd Dr. Mark Dempsey, 88, of Garrett, who is outspoken in his support of the Hopkinsville man. Ex-Congressman Joe Bates, of Greenup, was another of those recognized.

Governor Combs, who introduced Mr. Breathitt, declared the one great issue of this campaign transcends parks, highways, schools or any material thing. "The question is, are we going to be on the side of morality or are we going to be for immorality?"

Praising Attorney General Breckinridge, Combs told of that official's forthright action wherever the situation called for it. "In Carter county school money was being diverted. I ordered an audit. John Breckinridge said, 'If school funds are being diverted in Carter county, somebody must pay the penalty.'"

In marked contrast to this stand for official integrity, Combs pointed out, was the scene when he said, "Happy" Chandler put his arms around this man McGuire and said, 'This is my friend and he has my sympathy.'"

He spoke of the "conflict of interest" at the University of Kentucky and of Chandler's defense of Frank D. Peterson, who is charged with profiting from his connections with private firms which did business with the University.

He said the city of Newport had been taken over by the underworld. "In response to pleas for help I, as Governor, and John Breckinridge as Attorney General took action. . . . Chandler said, in effect, 'These people ought to be let alone.'"

"John Breckinridge stood firm on Carter county. He stood firm on Newport," he added.

Describing "Ned" Breathitt as "like a breath of fresh air" in Kentucky politics, Governor Combs said: "You people owe me nothing. I owe you a great deal. I owe you the duty of saying to you, 'One man will make you a good governor, and I do not think the other will.'"

The Governor was introduced by Dr. Joe T. Hyden, Floyd county chairman of the Breathitt campaign, who presided at the rally. Dr. George F. Archer, mayor of Prestonsburg, gave the welcoming address. "It is a pleasure," he said, "to welcome this crowd to the Land of Nowhere."

The center of attention on the stage was a man impersonating the celebrated Chesse-Cat created by Hugh Haynie, Courier-Journal cartoonist.

I would again like to take this opportunity to express my sincere thanks to the many friends that I have met throughout Floyd county in my campaign for Circuit Court Clerk.

You have been very patient and very considerate in allowing me to come into your homes to discuss the issues of this campaign.

It is with a true feeling of regret that I will be unable to visit each and every home in the remaining hours before May 28th. Even though I will be unable to see each individual in person because of the lack of time, I am persuaded to believe by your kind responses that the people of Floyd County are convinced that I am the only candidate for Circuit Court Clerk who can run on his record as a proven friend to the laboring class of people.

I remind you that it is very important to place an individual in the high office of Circuit Court Clerk who has the interest and welfare of the laboring man at heart.

I need not remind you of the many powers of that office to restrain laboring people in their efforts for Free Collective Bargaining. As many of you may recall, in the recent struggle of the United Mine Workers to retain their rights, I was chosen as one of your leaders to help maintain this Constitutional right. Yet, by the ranking powers of Circuit Court Clerk in the absence of the Circuit Judge, a restraining order was issued against the miners of Floyd county to prevent them from exercising their free and legal right. I do not say this disrespectfully of the present Clerk.

However, I wish to remind you, especially every United Mine Worker of Floyd county, that only a few short months ago, you saw how difficult it was to improve your conditions as a laboring man when the powers of the office of Circuit Court Clerk were used against you.

I ask you—Do you want a man who proclaims to be a friend to the people to use the influence of his office directly against you and the welfare of your children as was done only a few months ago?

I invite each and every one of you to check each candidate's record and not to be misled by exaggerated and false promises that will be impossible to fulfill, for these promises are made to mislead you as a voter and are soon forgotten.

I entered this race, making no promises except that I pledge to the people of Floyd county that, if elected to the high office of Circuit Court Clerk, it will be my only interest, not a sideline, that I will render honest, efficient and continuous service.

I would like to thank all of my many supporters and friends who have worked continuously for me in this campaign. I say to you to keep up the good work, and I am sure that your efforts will be well rewarded when victory is proclaimed on May 28.

Vote For Labor—Vote Turner. A Friend in the Past will be a Friend in the Future.

Your Friend,
ANCIL TURNER

stolen from a magazine owned by John Hall, of Allen, and located in Stumbo Hollow at Drift. The night of May 11, thieves used an acetylene torch to effect entrance into a magazine on "Magazine Hollow," near Allen, from which dynamite caps and explosive-type fuse were taken.

Fear was voiced repeatedly throughout Hazard Monday that the two blasts may be signals that a new wave of midnight terrorism is breaking out in the coalfields.

"I'm afraid this is just going to be the start of it all," commented a public official.

As usual, the explosions were being blamed on pickets and coal operators, each claiming the other did them. A local politician said the dynamitings could be the results of "grudges of long-standing."

"When labor-management trouble starts in the coalfields, there are a lot of people who figure the time is ripe to settle their grudges," he explained.

JOHNSON GRASS Among the many weeds bothering Kentucky farmers Johnson grass can be classified either as a terrible foe, when it competes with row crops, or as a profitable pasture and forage crop, when used in a pasture program. There are two features about Johnson grass that distinguish it from the other ten weeds designated as "noxious" by Kentucky law: first, it carries a special legislative appropriation ($50,000 per year) to effectuate its control and second, it is the only one that can be used profitably for pasture or silage.

It is the "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" of farm plants. No other noxious weed has any commercial value.

Dog Solves The Problem

Barbaboo, Wis.—A Barbaboo radio engineer ran into this problem: How could he run an antenna wire 35 feet between a false ceiling and the roof of a new courthouse addition in an opening which was too narrow for anyone to crawl through? County Traffic officer Eugene W. Klipp had the solution. He tied a string around the neck of his pet dachshund, Augie, and boosted him through a small opening. Klipp's son, Douglas, appeared at the other end of the opening and called Augie. The dog scampered quickly across the false ceiling to the boy, dragging the string.

100 YEARS AGO THIS WEEK

The Civil War in Kentucky

By JOE JORDAN
(Kentucky Civil War Commission)

One hundred years ago this week, Col. Thomas E. Bramlette, who had raised and commanded the Third Kentucky (Union) Infantry Regiment, was nominated for governor by the central committee of the "Union Democratic" party. The committee selected him as a replacement for Joshua F. Bell, who had been nominated at the party's convention in Louisville in March but, after taking more than a month to consider the matter, had announced on April 24 that he declined the nomination.

Col. Bramlette, then engaged in raising a division for the Union Army and already assured of a general's commission upon completion of the organization, promptly gave up his military career and accepted the nomination. That put two Union Army colonels at the head of the Union Democratic ticket, for Col. Richard T. Jacob, commander of the Ninth Kentucky (Union) Cavalry Regiment, had been nominated for lieutenant governor at the Louisville convention, and had accepted.

Bramlette, who was destined to be elected governor and to serve a full four-year term, during which he would stand up boldly against what he considered oppressive measures taken against citizens of the Commonwealth by his one-time brother officers of the Union Army, was a resident of Columbia, Adair County, and at the outbreak of the war had for five years been circuit judge. He resigned his office to organize and lead the Third Kentucky. In 1862 he accepted President Lincoln's appointment as U. S. District Attorney for Kentucky, and prosecuted Thomas C. Shacklett, of Meade county, on a treason charge, for siding Confederates. Shacklett was convicted and sentenced to ten years in prison, but was pardoned in 1864.

Bramlette had been considered at the convention as a possible nominee for governor, but he had received only 77 votes, to 627 for Bell, 171 for Gov. James F. Robinson, the incumbent; 79 for Mortimer M. Benton, 49 for Union Brig. Gen. Jerry T. Boyle and 19 for Brutus J. Clay.

During the same week, Union Brig. Gen. Samuel Powhatan Carter, commanding two cavalry regiments, the First Kentucky and the Seventh Ohio, drove a Confederate force out of Monticello, Wayne county, killing eight, wounding eighteen and taking thirty-odd prisoners. Carter, a native of Tennessee and a graduate of the U. S. Naval Academy, is described by the Dictionary of American Biography as the only American officer to have been both a major general and a rear admiral. When the Civil War began, he was a Navy lieutenant. He was detached and assigned to organize and drill Tennessee volunteers for the Union Army, as Lt. William Nelson of Kentucky, also a naval officer, was in his native state. Both transferred to the Army and both eventually became major generals. Nelson was killed in 1862, but Carter survived the war and returned to the Navy, being promoted successively commodore and rear admiral.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our deepest thanks and appreciation to our friends and relatives for their kindness during the death and funeral of our beloved mother, Mrs. Bettie Shepherd. Thanks are also extended to the ministers and to everyone who sent flowers and food. We are grateful for the comforting and efficient service of Carter & Callihan Funeral Home. To all of you, we are deeply appreciative.

KELLY SHEPHERD AND FAMILY

Most winter-damaged shrubs and trees can look as good as ever before the growing season ends if you give them the right "help." Unless shrubs or trees were completely killed by the severe winter weather, they have a good chance to recover. Except on plants that normally start growing late in the spring, new growth already has covered many winter scars. Plants that did not require a complete cut-back now need only a little "aidance" on your part to recover completely.

Lexington, Ky.—Two bacterial diseases, wildlife and angular leaf spot, may be found in burley plant beds soon. Both diseases will appear in plant beds on tender, rapidly growing plants if cool, rainy weather occurs. Wildlife shows up as circular dead areas of various sizes marked by broad halos of lemon-yellow tissue. Angular leaf spot (sometimes called rust) shows up in smaller spots than wildlife, that are irregular in outline and usually are brown.

When buying a dress, be sure to take a good look at the hang tag, suggests Mrs. Rachel Wallace, UK Extension specialist in clothing. A good hang tag will tell you what to expect of the dress, how to care for it, and what the fiber content is.

The seventh annual Honor Banquet of McDowell high school was held Friday evening, May 10, in the school lunchroom. All pupils attaining a "B" average or better for a period of one school year, together with their parents, were guests of the school for the occasion.

Guest-speaker for the evening, William Hayes, director of Alice Lloyd College, Pippa Passes, Ky., was introduced by the principal, George L. Moore. Mr. Hayes pointed out that honor may take many forms, and especially stressed the honor in service to others and in the intellectual development of young people.

Informality was the keynote of the program. Each parent was encouraged to express himself as he wished.

As the dinner was being served, guests were entertained by a group of honor music pupils, under the direction of Mrs. Olive Rose Hall. As a finishing touch, Roger Darrell Akers, one of the honor pupils, gave a rendition of the poem, "Opportunity."

Many who attended expressed delight with the outstanding souvenir programs designed by Carlos Neeley's art pupils.

At the conclusion of the program, Miss Ruby Akers, who was in charge of the banquet, presented each honor pupil with a small silver cup. Those who had earned this honor for all four high school years were given special attention and a gold cup.

Eight members of the senior class received gold cups. They are Roger Akers, Julius Elkins, Delores Gilliam, Silas Jones, Sandra Kinney, Delano Lawson, Ishmael Preston, Donnie Ward.

Other pupils honored at the banquet:

Freshmen—Woodie Carter, Ricky Hall, Anna Rose Howell, Peggy Jones, Phyllis Keathley, Viri Keene, Larry Kendrick, Phyllis Langley, Phyllis Little, Bobbie L. Moore, Glenda Pack, Wanda Stewart, Rebecca Tackett, Peggy Tendzegloski, Arnold Turner.

Sophomores—Elmer Frasure, Laura Fugate, Jane Gearheart, Joanne Gearheart, Lovel Hall, Jimmie Hopkins, Janice Lucas, Linda Mitchell, Pam Moore, Delano Newsome, John Reed, Nova L. Shannon.

Seniors—Keith Howell, Jackie Johnson, Ida Bell Mitchell, Grady Stumbo, Johnny Stumbo.

Leaves of plants affected by black spot develop more or less circular black spots with fringed or feathery margins. The spots may be up to 1/2 inch in diameter and vary in number from one to dozens per leaf. In many varieties of roses, the leaves yellow and fall off following the appearance of the black spots. Sometimes as many as three crops of leaves may develop and be destroyed by black spot; this weakens the plants that they are often winter-killed.

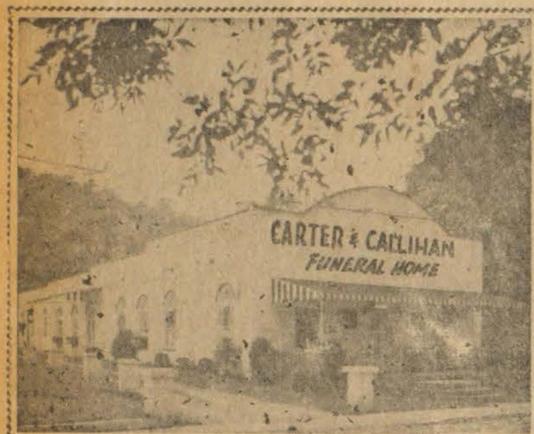

Food Donation Total 2.4 Billion Pounds

Lexington, Ky.—Food donations at home and abroad total about 2.4 billion pounds in the first half of this fiscal year (July-December 1962), according to a U. S. Department of Agriculture report. This is an increase of 4 percent over the same period a year ago.

Donated foods are those acquired by USDA in price-support and surplus-removal operations; They are made available to the states and territories under AMS's distribution program. Schools and eligible organizations in all 50 states, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, and four territories participated in the program. Taking part in the distribution to needy persons during the half year were 48 states, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands, and the Trust Territory of the Pacific.

Lexington, Ky.—The state 4-H meeting held annually at the University of Kentucky early in June will have a new name this year. Known for years as "Juniors Week" and more recently called "State 4-H Week," the event this year will carry the name "State 4-H Leadership Conference," according to Ray R. Rania, chairman of UK Extension 4-H programs.

involve two or three cars and many passengers, of which several may be killed. As a result, these totals do not necessarily correspond with one another.

"Deaths by traffic accidents are usually needless," the safety chief pointed out, "as most of them are the result of carelessness. The people killed in these wrecks are not necessarily the people responsible for them. For example, 34 children, four years or younger, were killed in Kentucky last year in what we call pedestrian accidents. It is unrealistic to think that these infants could be held responsible for the actions that caused their deaths. Some are unavoidable, of course, but parents and drivers must be constantly aware of the unthinking acts of little children and act accordingly."

Traffic accidents are caused, the Commissioner added, and they are almost always avoidable, if drivers stick to driving without being diverted while behind the wheel. Lack of full time attention to the job of driving a car is one of our predominant reasons for these accidents and deaths. "Most of us have finally learned, after many years of tragic experiences, that "most guns are loaded," he said, "so we experience less accidental shootings as time goes by. We must acquire the same respect for the automobile and drive accordingly."

DOES THE CHANDLER CROWD WANT TO CLEAN UP FLOYD COUNTY, OR DO THEY PREFER TO ACCUSE OTHERS IN A WHISPERING CAMPAIGN?

Professing a piety which is altogether out of character, the Chandler crowd expresses great concern about a load of whiskey and beer that was captured by State Police in a distant county.

They yell, "The Floyd County Bootlegging R'ng," wonder in print about the person to whom the liquor was being shipped, and privately whisper names.

We ask these questions and make these commitments, openly, in plain print, to show as a witness to our position:

1. Who owned the whiskey and beer to begin with? Who is he for in the Governor's race?
2. Who made out the bill of lading which is so eagerly sought by Happy's boys?
3. Who then tipped off the State Police that such a truck, containing whiskey and beer, was on its way? And who told them to take a close look for hidden screws and a secret compartment?
4. Where are these professed lovers of law and order when the Grand Juries are in session, or do they come out only when an election is on? Is it easier to whisper a lie than to speak the truth?

Remember Governor Combs did help clean up Newport and Campbell County. He will cooperate with citizens and reputable groups acting in good faith in this or any other county.

These people who are berating Governor Combs and praising Happy Chandler—we wonder if they know what they do? Do they know that Happy Chandler turned a deaf ear to every plea for help from Campbell County—not for one year or two years or three or four, BUT FOR EIGHT!

Do they know whom the gamblers, the racketeers, the night club operators, the bawdy house keepers, the pimps and the hoodlums of Northern Kentucky and every other large population center are supporting for Governor?

When this election is over do you suppose these prophets of doom and gloom will still be around and interested in enforcing all the laws? Might we suggest that we all join hands, along with church people of this county and request Governor Combs to use his power and authority to REALLY CLEAN UP FLOYD COUNTY—to get to the bottom of this and other matters about which people whisper at election time and later conveniently forget.

TRUTH CRUSHED TO EARTH SHALL RISE AGAIN. HERE IT IS.

Henry Stephens
CIRCUIT COURT CLERK

The May primary which has been a very heated one in some races, is now drawing to a close. The people will soon decide the matter, and then they will know who will serve them for the next few years.

I have avoided taking any part in any race other than my own, since I have learned by past experience that when you meddle in other people's affairs you will get hurt in some way, so the best policy is to keep your nose out of other people's affairs and their likes and dislikes.

I have used every effort possible since I have been your Clerk to do a good job and I have been here in the office practically every day, ready to serve the people who elected me. I am considered by all people who know that I am the only dedicated public servant who stays on the job all the time and not just part of the time. I was trained how to do the work and perform the duties of this office by the late William C. Goble, a very brilliant man, and under his guidance I was almost six years learning how to do the job as it should be done. Other candidates for this office claim they are qualified and already know just how it should be done, but it is my opinion that the voters and people will decide who is qualified and who is not and who can and will serve them to the best of his ability. It is generally known through the State of Kentucky, that I have made one of the outstanding Clerks ever to serve the people.

I have mined coal 10 hours per day for the pitiful sum of 75c per day, taught school six years, beginning at $37.50 per month, worked in the corn fields for 25c per day. I was born and reared on a rough mountain farm in a little, log cabin on the Caney Fork of Middle Creek, and my life has been a rough and rugged one, but that has made me more determined to accomplish something worthwhile in life. I have been a member of the Baptist Church for many years, and am a member of the Masonic Lodge here in Prestonsburg, Royal Arch, Paintsville, Knight Templar and Shriner in Ashland, Kentucky and have been for more than forty years. Some of the candidates think I am too old to serve the people. While I am along in years, I am yet very active and expect to be as long as I live. I wonder if some of these other candidates think they will ever get old, and what they will think when people may say the same same thing about them. I have often thought, if I could think, when I was dead and buried beneath the sod and clay on some lonesome hillside, it would be of my folks, neighbors and friends who had done so much for me while I was here on earth and how much more I would have liked to have done for them.

It is my opinion that there is one candidate who has not been in the state of Kentucky long enough to be a candidate, as the law requires one year residence. Figure out who he is. Some were put on as so-called "dummy" candidates for the purpose of selecting election officers and nothing else. One candidate states that he went through Eastern and Morehead Colleges, and majored in Business Administration and Accounting. I would like to know just what kind of a degree he received, if any. I never had the opportunity to attend college and if I had I would have left with a Ph.D. and would have been receiving a good salary, much more than the office of Clerk pays, and I would not have been a candidate. The only money I ever received to go away to school was $65.00, which I later repaid. I was reared in the log schoolhouse days at a time when you only had a few books, but the students mastered them. Pupils in the eighth grade could spell every word in the spelling book. I only had one book when I first went to school and it was a spelling book with a few lines of reading. Some students had none and studied from books of others. My teachers were: James Risner, S. E. (Sol) Allen, Joe Harris, Henry Harris, Jim Harris, Joe Dingus, John Stephens, Jim Stephens, William Byington, A. C. Harlowe, Prof. Beam and a Mr. Burke.

Another candidate for the office of Circuit Clerk let his operator's or driver's license expire in January, 1962, and operated a car almost a year without a license and instead of renewing it here in his own county, as Gov. Bert Combs, Norman A. n., Dr. John Archer, Henry Hale and Henry Stumbo did and as the law provides, went to Pike county on January 8th, 1963, and signed an application to which he made an affidavit that he was a citizen and resident of Pike county, giving as his address Box 364, Pikeville, Kentucky. Therefore he should be making his race in Pike county. I never would have mentioned this fact if he had not made such a flurry of a drivers' training program in all the high schools of Floyd county. The penalty for making a false statement to secure a driver's license is the revocation of the right to drive for a period to be fixed by the Department of Public Safety, Frankfort, Kentucky.

Getting back to college work, reminds me of the fact that many never make the grade, which I regret very much; but if you make the grades you graduate, if not you fail. As one young boy was asked if he attended high school, and his answer was, "Yes, the school on the hill," meaning the school was high on the hill and not a high school in truth. There is one thing in life to remember—your sins will find you out and your chickens will come home to roost. That is the way it has come to me, and no doubt to others also.

Keep up the good work you have done for me and you may rest assured that our goal will be reached on May 28th, 1963. I never have had any doubt about the outcome.

Yours in the faith,
HENRY STEPHENS

WHO HAS DONE MOST, WHO WILL DO MOST FOR FLOYD COUNTY?

In these last few days of the Primary Election campaign you will hear rumors of many kinds. As people of good, commonsense know, such rumors are usually untrue.

The issue in this campaign for Representative is plain, and there is no other. It is this:

Who has done most for Floyd county and who as Representative will do most for the county, our people and the state?

Ask those who know me, if you do not already know, of my interest and actual work in these causes:

1. THE COMMUNITY COLLEGE to serve Floyd and surrounding counties. (I was chairman of the finance drive for this college.)
2. EDUCATION IN GENERAL. (I was president of the Floyd County P.-T.A. Council three years, and led the fight for the Vocational School now being built in this county.)
3. Churches and moral and spiritual uplift.
4. Roads and every other item of progress for Floyd county.

I have not discussed, in detail, my activities toward progress, for the reason that I prefer that this be told by others. I mention them now only because I think the people are entitled to know something of what I have done in the past and thus may be able to judge what I will do in the future as their Representative.

I am deeply grateful to the parents, teachers and all other interested citizens for their enthusiastic support in this race. I will not forget you, nor will I fail you.

Notice of Sale of Electric Franchise

On the 6 day of May, 1963, the City Council of Martin, Kentucky, adopted a resolution directing the sale at public outcry of a city electric power franchise. This resolution is in words and figures as follows:

WHEREAS, the existing franchise held by the Kentucky Power Company for the distribution of electric power in the City of Martin, Kentucky, will expire on October 3, 1963, and,

WHEREAS, there is a continuing public necessity for adequate service of electric power and energy to the citizens of the City of Martin, and,

WHEREAS, it appears that it is to the interest of the public that a franchise be advertised and sold granting and entitling the grantee to use the public streets, thoroughfares and other public places for the erection and maintenance of lines for the transmission and distribution of electric power.

NOW, THEREFORE, be it resolved by the City Council of the City of Martin, Kentucky,

I.

SECTION 1. That there be sold at public auction to the highest and best bidder, the right, privilege and authority to acquire, maintain, construct and operate in, above, under, across and along the streets, thoroughfares, alleys, bridges and public places (as the same now exist or may hereafter be laid out) of the City of Martin, Floyd County, Kentucky, lines, poles and equipment for the distribution of electric energy, either by means of overhead or underground conductors, with all the necessary or desirable appurtenances for the purpose of supplying electric energy to said city and the inhabitants thereof and persons and corporations beyond the limits thereof for light, heat, power and any other purpose or purposes for which electric energy is now or may hereafter be used, and for the transmission of the same within, through or across said city.

SECTION 2. Said lines and appurtenances shall be constructed so as to interfere as little as possible with the traveling public in its use of the streets, thoroughfares, alleys, bridges and public places. The location of all poles or conduits shall be made under the supervision of the proper board or committee of the city government.

SECTION 3. The right, privilege and franchise shall be in full force and effect for a period of twenty (20) years from the date of the passage of the ordinance granting it.

SECTION 4. The grantee of this franchise shall save the city harmless from any and all liability arising in any way from negligence in the erection, maintenance or operation of said lines and appurtenances.

SECTION 5. Whenever the grantee of this franchise shall begin the erection of any lines or other equipment, it shall promptly and diligently prosecute the work to completion and leave the streets, thoroughfares, alleys, bridges and public places where such work is done in as good condition of repair as before such work was commenced.

SECTION 6. Wherever in this franchise, either the City of Martin, or the grantee thereof is referred to, it shall be deemed to include the respective successors and assigns of either, and all rights, privileges and obligations contained in this franchise shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of the respective successors and assigns of said city, and said grantee, whether so expressed or not.

SECTION 7. The grantee of this franchise may make such rules and regulations covering the furnishing of said electric energy as may be fair and reasonable and consistent with the standard practice of the grantee. Said grantee may charge such rates for electric service as shall be fair and reasonable. The said grantee shall render service under said franchise of like quality, that is, adequate, efficient and reasonable, to that now being rendered to said city.

SECTION 8. The consideration paid by the successful bidder for the franchise privilege and right provided for herein shall be complete compensation and consideration for said franchise, privilege and right and for the use and occupancy of the streets, avenues, alleys, bridges and public ways of the City in lieu of any street or alley rental or to the charge for the use or occupancy of said streets, avenues, alleys, bridges, thoroughfares or public places of said City and in lieu of any pole tax or meter tax.

SECTION 9. Each bidder for said franchise, privilege and right shall file as a part of his bid a certified copy of a certificate of convenience and necessity from the Public Service Commission of Kentucky, issued under the authority of KRS 278.020 (3).

SECTION 10. The ordinance granting this franchise shall be accepted by the grantee thereof within sixty (60) days from the date of its passage.

II.

The City reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

III.

The Clerk of the City of Martin is hereby directed after having advertised the time, place and terms of sale and the rights to be sold by posting written or printed notices in six (6) public places in the city of Martin, including the door of the city hall and in five (5) other conspicuous places in the city for at least 15 days before the time of sale and by causing the publication of such notice in the Floyd County Times for not less than three (3) consecutive issues next before the date of sale, to offer for sale at public outcry to the highest and best bidder at the front door of the city hall in the city of Martin, between the hours of 10:00 o'clock in the morning and 2:00 o'clock in the afternoon on some convenient date to be named in such notice and advertisements and upon other conditions herein stated; and receive bids for franchise and authority herein directed to be sold.

No person, however, other than the owner of a plant and equipment sufficient to render the service required by this resolution shall be entitled to bid on such franchise unless the prospective bidder shall deposit with the Clerk before the commencement of the bidding a certified check for the sum of $1,275.00, representing five per cent of the fair estimated cost of the plant required to render the service, pursuant to KRS 96.020. Said franchise shall be sold for cash in hand and the deposit above referred to may be forfeited upon failure of the successful bidder to meet the other requirements of said statute.

IV.

The Clerk will report her acts, together with all bids received by her for such franchise to the City Council at its next regular or adjourned or called meeting held next after such sale.

Pursuant to the direction of the City Council of Martin, Kentucky, as set forth in the foregoing Resolution, the undersigned will, on Friday, 31st day of May, 1963, at the front door of the city hall in the City of Martin, Floyd County, Kentucky, at 10:00 o'clock in the forenoon or shortly thereafter and in any event, between the hours of 10:00 a.m. and 2:00 p.m. offer for public sale at public outcry to the highest and best bidder, an electric franchise on the public streets and thoroughfares of Martin, Kentucky, which electric franchise shall be in the terms set forth in the foregoing Resolution and said sale shall be made in all respects in accordance with the Resolution set forth above and all bidders will be required to comply with the terms of such Resolution.

COMMUNITY SEEKS BUS FOR TRAVEL NEEDS

Garrett, Ky., May 13—The community of Garrett has a problem in the transportation of its four youth baseball teams and Boy Scout troop. Shelby Draughn, president of the Babe Ruth and Connie Mack baseball teams, secretary-treasurer of the Little League teams and Scoutmaster of Boy Scout Troop No. 144, as well as vice-president of the Brotherhood of the Garrett Baptist Church, says that he has his problems in transporting all of the groups to other communities to play baseball and to go on Camporees.

Two teams of Little leaguers, their managers, coaches and others must travel to Hindman, 18 miles away, at least twice a week. The town's Babe Ruth team and its personnel must travel to other towns up to 20 miles away twice weekly, as will the newly organized Connie Mack team. On top of all this, the Boy Scout troop of 30 boys goes to Camporee at least twice each year and would like to cover many of the trails available to them throughout the state each year.

Friday, Mr. Draughn will be taking 30 of his troop's Boy Scouts to a three-day Camporee sponsored by Lonesome Pine Council at the Breaks Interstate Park, near Elkhorn City, 60 miles away. The week-end of June 14, he is planning to take his Scouts to the opening of the Wah-Ha-La Trail at Frankfort. Last year, he took 25 Scouts to the Gen. Zollinger Trail Centennial Hike at Somerset, Ky. On that trip they were fortunate enough to get a county school bus for the trip. Last spring, they borrowed the Mousee Baptist Church bus to go Camporee at the Breaks. Last fall, Draughn took the boys to Jenny Wiley District Camporee at Dewey Lake Boy Scout Camp in his and his assistant Scoutmaster's trucks.

Boys on the baseball teams range in age from 8 through 18 years and have been transported in the past by a small portion of the boys' parents. Several games have had to be postponed because rides didn't show up. At this writing there is no transportation in sight for the Scout trip this week or the one in June, but Draughn says that somehow, someway, he will make both trips. He says that it would be a great relief if he could find a used school bus that his Scout Troop could buy and share with the community. Anyone having a bus to sell or who knows of one could help out a lot by calling or writing Mr. Draughn, Telephone 358-4-01, Garrett, Ky.

Re-Elect ROBERT (BOB) DAMRON of Ivel, Ky. RAILROAD COMMISSIONER

at the Democratic Primary, May 28, 1963

To the Voters of Big Sandy and the 93rd Railroad Commission District:

I have been your railroad commissioner for the past 3½ years. I am proud of my record. I have worked very hard to keep our passenger train, save our depots and jobs for our men.

In 1961 the railroad companies asked the Railroad Commission to grant them an increase in freight rate on coal, and, at the same time, asked for a switching charge of $7.00 per car. This request was quickly denied. This is just a few of the things I have to brag about. It gives me a great deal of pleasure to do something for the economy of Big Sandy and the state as a whole.

I am an ex-railroader and if re-elected, I will give all of my time to the job. I pledge to be the same kind of a servant in the next four years as I have been in the past.

HAS FLOYD COUNTY BOOTLEGGING RING MUZZLED STATE POLICE?

Below is reproduction of story in Morehead News under date of May 2, 1963.

Tricky Tank Truck POLICE FAIL TO BELIEVE ALL THEY SEE, SUSPICIONS CONFIRMED BY FULL SEARCH

Its appearance was about the same as that of a hundred similar rigs which ply the highways of Eastern Kentucky with regularity.

On both doors were the neatly painted signs "Bulk Oil Company, Winchester, Ky." The rear also bore this designation.

The 1962 Chevrolet cab and chassis was in first class condition. So was the liquid-carrying tank which appeared to have a capacity of about 1,500 gallons.

The vehicle was being driven carefully and when a cruiser carrying four state police officers pulled in behind it east of Mt. Sterling, April 22 only one thing appeared amiss—the license plate on the rear was mud-smeared and illegible.

Sensing something was up because of the muddy license and the unusual hour — it was 2:05 a.m. — officers in the cruiser decided to keep the truck under surveillance.

Twenty-five miles further east on U.S. 60—about one-half mile east of Salt Lick — the cruiser's red light flashed and its siren screamed, signalling the operator to pull over and stop.

The driver, Kenneth Fultz, 27, of Haldeman, was arrested for improperly displaying a license plate and the four officers—Lt. L. C. Pyles, Sgt. Harold Watson, and Troopers Doyle Elliott and George Robinson — began an inch-by-inch inspection of the vehicle in an effort to either confirm or refute their suspicions.

To determine exactly what the truck was hauling, Trooper Elliott climbed to the top of the truck, opened the single fill-hatch and peered in. Oil glistened in the beam of his flashlight and the smell verified what he saw.

To remove all remaining doubt, Elliott dipped his hand into the liquid and made a startling discovery — the tank, supposedly carrying 1,500 gallons of oil — was only about three inches deep. Total oil in the truck appeared to be about two gallons.

Convinced that they had stumbled onto something, the officers intensified their inspection.

Opening the rear doors on the tank, they discovered a metal panel in which four screws had been "spot painted" in an attempt to conceal them. Removal of the screws loosened the panel, which, when taken out, revealed a second set of doors. When these doors were opened they exposed the remainder of the oil tank and its true cargo:

4,200 cans of beer and 25 cases of whiskey, gin and vodka, one of the largest hauls of illegal "booze" taken in this section in many years.

According to the officers, the three-inch deep compartment which contained oil ran only a short distance on each side of the fill-hatch at the top of the tank. The apparent hope of the rig's designer was that a perfunctory examination by officers would convince them he was running a legitimate oil-hauling operation. The attempt at subterfuge was complete with a bill of lading, indicating that the truck was carrying 1,500 gallons of oil consigned to a firm in Prestonsburg. A check by State Police disclosed that the Prestonsburg company is as non-existent as was the 1,500 gallons of oil.

Charged with transporting alcoholic beverages in local option territory, Fultz pleaded guilty and was fined $150 and costs and given a 30-day jail sentence by Bath County Judge Claude Shroat. The jail sentence was suspended.

Fultz also pleaded guilty to a charge of improperly displaying a license plate and was fined $10 and costs. This sentence was suspended.

His cargo, valued at $2,500, was confiscated by Bath county authorities. The truck was impounded at State Police headquarters here.

It was later released to its owner, Oliver Henry, of Winchester.

The extent of the operation in which Fultz was involved is unknown, a State Police spokesman said. He indicated he believed that it had been active only a short time.

Troopers in all parts of the district have been alerted to be on the lookout for any resumption of "oil-carrying" service by the vehicle or those similar to it.

Bill of lading referred to in story is on file in State Police Headquarters at Morehead, in charge of Roland Allen, Dispatcher and Sgt. Sword, Commanding Officer, who have, thus far, steadfastly refused to exhibit same to news reporters, law enforcement officers, and interested public officials of Floyd county.

It is reliably reported that the bill of lading will reveal the biggest "BOOTLEGGING RING" in the history of Floyd County.

QUESTION

1. Who in the Governor's home county has the power to muzzle the State Police?
2. Ask the Circuit Judge, who occupies the highest official position in Floyd county, the name of the person and the name of the firm in Prestonsburg to whom the converted oil tank truck, full of whiskey and beer, was consigned. Then, with your conscience as your guide, go to the polls on May 28 and decide for yourselves whether or not that person and that firm is non-existent, as reported by the State Police in all the papers.

CIRCUIT COURT CLERK

TO THE CITIZENS OF FLOYD COUNTY:

YOU HAVE WITHIN YOUR GRASP THE OPPORTUNITY TO MOVE FLOYD COUNTY UP THE LADDER OF PROGRESS. —

Several years ago when the automobile first came to Big Sandy, you were considered a qualified driver if you could point a car in the right direction on a long, crooked country road — But that day is far behind us.

Gradually our roads got better, our cars faster and more numerous with the tragic results of death on every curve. Nine out of every ten Floyd county families have experienced the bitter grief of a highway accident. Insurance rates sky-rocketed — They have doubled and tripled to pay for our folly.

In this age of space and speed — with our eyes on the moon and planets more distant — Floyd county has stood still. Our schools lack the equipment to train our young people to drive on super-highways with their turnpikes and clover leaves. It is never impressed on them, that an auto in inexperienced hands, is truly a deadly weapon.

I promise you without any if's, and's or but's, to remedy this situation.

I AM THE ONLY CANDIDATE FOR CIRCUIT COURT CLERK that has agreed to sponsor this Driver-Training program in every Floyd County High School. Other counties have such a program—Floyd county desperately needs it!

MAPLE BLADDER GALL

These tiny blisters on upper surface of maple leaves are first green, then bright red, then turn black. They house colonies of a small mite which form the gall in their feeding activities. After the galls appear, it is useless to spray. Spray next year in the spring, before the galls form, with a highly refined white mineral oil; or this fall with Malathion to kill the mites overwintering on the bark of the tree.

APHIDS ON ORNAMENTALS

These sucking insects attack almost any type of evergreen or deciduous shrub or tree. Use one tablespoonful of the 57 percent strength Malathion emulsifiable concentrate in one gallon of water, with a tablespoonful of household detergent. Miller notes these aphids will attack roses, too.

MY FELLOW CITIZENS OF FLOYD COUNTY:

As my final appeal, seeking reelection as your Circuit Judge, let me urge that you think long and seriously of your duty to yourself and community, to select the best man for the important office. It is poor taste to brag on my own qualifications, moral and legal. During the eighteen years I have been Judge of the Circuit Court, you have had occasion to observe my decisions, my conduct, and the things I stand for. It is upon my record alone that I appeal to you for your support.

My opponent likewise has a record as your Commonwealth Attorney the past six years, during which you will agree the liquor situation has become continuously and progressively worse. He was your County Attorney four years before that. You have had occasion likewise to observe his handling of cases, especially criminal. You must admit he has done practically nothing toward fighting liquor cases and the confiscation of property used in the liquor traffic. Would you say my opponent has been a strong prosecuting attorney, or the weakest one you can remember? I ask you what he has done to justify your support of him against a man who has done at least a fair job.

These will be my final words thru the paper and I will have no opportunity to answer anything my opponent may say. Last Friday after midnight, my opponent called by telephone to ask me to meet him in Frankfort at 9:15 Monday the 20th, to settle the much discussed retirement question. I do not know what he had cooked up, and did not want to get into a trap, so I told him to come to Prestonsburg Saturday the 18th and I would talk to him about the matter. He never called or mentioned the subject further. I have a suspicion, he may attempt to magnify the situation with respect to my retirement plans. It is quite true I have accumulated retirement benefits, since I have been paying two percent of my income into the retirement fund. The important feature to remember, and which concerns me most, is the fact that if I should be defeated in this election I would lose approximately thirty percent of my maximum retirement benefits. I submit to you this is a most unfair manner of dealing with a man nearing retirement age, who has devoted the best years of his life to the duties of the office. However, I repeat—the most important question facing the voters is that of QUALIFICATIONS, MORAL AND LEGAL.

It is rumored my opponent has or will put up a thousand dollars in a local bank, as a forfeiture, if I will name the consignee of the liquor tank truck full of a little oil and a lot of liquor. Well, Mr. Ronald Allen, Highway Patrol Dispatcher, first freely told a friend of mine in Prestonsburg by telephone the name of the outfit to whom it was consigned, but later, for some reason apparent to all, he closed up like a clam. You should know the reason. The Courier-Journal in Sunday's paper gave us an editorial on the BIG MORAL ISSUE IN THE GOVERNOR'S RACE. This same paper, with its able reporters, should have investigated the tank truck affair and given the public the name of the outfit the liquor and oil was being shipped to, as it affects the BIG MORAL ISSUE OF A local race.

Another red light: You will recall Banner Meade helped choose your present Sheriff. Now he is desperate to choose your Circuit Judge for the next six years.

If you good citizens of Floyd county want a man for your judge who will dabble in every political squabble that comes along, I am not your man.

If you want a man supported by the big LIQUOR MONOPOLY, you should not vote for me.

If you want a man the politicians can control, you do not want to support me.

If you want to complete the formation of a political machine in Floyd county, unmatched by anything in our memory, and which would control our lives and liberties and that of our children for years to come, then you should oppose me.

Although you may hear rumors to the contrary, I have kept and shall continue to keep my promise to keep out of the Governor's race.

I have worked with my opponent for the last six years. Our relations have been pleasant, and I have nothing derogatory to say of him. But he is keeping pretty bad company.

In conclusion, I thank you for your support and confidence in the past. If, after soul searching, you support me in this my last race for Circuit Judge, I shall do my very best to justify your confidence.

Sincerely yours,
EDWARD P. HILL

HEREFORD

AN OPEN LETTER

DEAR FELLOW CITIZEN:

The 1963 Primary election campaign is rapidly drawing to a conclusion. For the past year, and particularly during the last five months, Peggy and I have attempted to visit every home in Floyd county. My position now is the same as it has always been—I WANT TO SERVE THE PEOPLE OF THIS COUNTY.

I have tried to conduct myself in such a manner as to be worthy of your support and confidence. I have not downgraded my opponents nor have I promised to perform services which are not duties of the Circuit Court Clerk. I have the qualifications to make you a good clerk. Your present Circuit Clerk has made an outstanding record. I would in no way attempt to detract from it. However, I earnestly believe that young men should be given a chance to show their mettle. If we do not intend to delegate responsibility and public trust to the youth of this county, then why do we strive so hard to see that they receive a proper education?

In closing, I would like to issue a word of warning. During these last few days rumors will be widespread. They will be designed to mislead you and to cause you to vote AGAINST instead of FOR the candidate of your choice. I ask you to make ME ONE SOLEMN COMMITMENT—JUDGE ME NOT ON THE BASIS OF RUMOR, BUT, RATHER, JUDGE ME BY WHAT I SAID TO YOU WHEN I WAS IN YOUR HOME, OR WHEN I MET YOU ON THE STREET-CORNER OR ON AN UNPAVED COUNTRY ROAD. Then, as now, I stand for honesty and fair dealing in public office, for service and dedication to a public trust. If you honor me with your vote I will not betray your confidence.

Sincerely,

DAVID R. HEREFORD

TO BEAT EGGS

Egg whites beat up better at room temperatures than if they come directly from the refrigerator, according to USDA home economists. Separate whites from yolks and leave the whites at room temperature for a short time before whipping. Cover yolks with cold water, return to the refrigerator, and use as soon as possible.

TO THE VOTERS OF THE 95TH LEGISLATIVE DISTRICT AND MAGISTERIAL DISTRS. 1 AND 2

I am still pleading with you voters for my Daddy. I want to say to the good mothers and daddies and school boys and girls, I am telling you the truth.

On May 28 you good people are going to make a choice in this election. Which one are you going to choose? — a man who has a good job and doesn't need this office, or a little, sick school girl who has no mother to care for me.

I ask you all to vote your feelings. I want to go to school, if I can, and I must depend upon my Daddy, and nobody else, to help me.

I want to say to the people on Right Beaver Creek that it has been 28 years since we have had a man elected to this office. I hope the people understand what I mean. I will appreciate anything from anybody that will help my Daddy in this race. He is a candidate for Representative. I am the daughter of A. J. Conley.

COACH GRIGSBY FOR CHANDLER

I would like to take this opportunity to express my thanks to all those who have faithfully supported our youth organization in Floyd County for Governor Chandler and Lt. Governor Waterfield during this Democratic gubernatorial campaign. I feel that our time and efforts will be rewarded when the votes are counted on May 28 and our candidates have won the battle.

It is my firm conviction that A. B. Chandler and Harry Lee Waterfield are honest, experienced, and sincere men who have the interests of ALL the people of Kentucky at heart. Their past record proves that ACTION speaks louder than words. They have proven themselves champions of education through their progressive record and past performances and once again they desire to aid the TEACHERS and the YOUTH of our great state of Kentucky. We must give them this opportunity! Good leadership and management in government are qualities hard to find in politicians these days. Since there are so few of these qualified leaders left in the world today, it is of utmost importance that we champion the cause of such men. Therefore, all honest, sober, and interested citizens of this great state and Commonwealth should choose the men whom they will entrust our most cherished heritage—our democratic way of life and government. Give them the opportunity to serve us once again! I appeal to all honest, intelligent, and sober citizens in this county to vote for these two choice men on May 28, 1963—A. B. Chandler and Harry Lee Waterfield! Two good terms deserve another, so let's put them BACK in Frankfort where they belong!

HOLLIE CONLEY SAYS

In the last days of this campaign the issues of the Circuit Judge's race become crystallized. They are three-fold.

First—TRUTH as it relates to which candidate is telling the voters the facts and which is using other ways.

Second—MORALITY — that is, which candidate's personal background and conduct make him more fit to hold this office?

Third — PROGRESS. I have pledged special grand juries to help curb the crime in this county. As most of you know, the Grand Jury for several years has met at the same time as your Circuit Court was in session. Since your Commonwealth's Attorney is supposed to be in both places, it does not give him a chance to work with the Grand Jury. I propose to change this.

I offer you, the voters of Floyd county, a dignified court. I extend to you all fairness in the trial of cases, and true justice as my wisdom permits. Rumors will be spread at the last minute. I do not believe in mud-slinging and will not resort to that as a means of getting a vote. You know my reputation, you know me as you see me everyday. As I always have, I will depend on your confidence in me.

I deeply appreciate all the support that you have given me.

Your friend,

HOLLIE CONLEY

100 YEARS AGO THIS WEEK

The Civil War in Kentucky

By JOE JORDAN
(Kentucky Civil War Commission)

One hundred years ago this week, Kentucky Adj. Gen. John W. Finnell issued a call for 20,000 enlistments "for the defense of the state," as authorized by an act of the U.S. Congress. These "home guards" or militia troops were not to be sent out of the state. They were to be paid by the federal government, and were offered as a bounty a month's pay in advance.

A military commission completed its inquiry into the 1862 Tennessee and Kentucky campaigns of Union Major Gen. Don Carlos Buell. He had been relieved of command about three weeks after the Battle of Perryville. The commission had begun its investigation November 24, 1862, and had heard testimony which filled 5,000 manuscript pages. No report was ever made public. Buell was never restored to command.

Col. Richard T. Jacob, the Union Democratic Party's nominee for lieutenant governor, was still in the field, commanding his own Ninth Kentucky (Union) Cavalry and all other federal troops in the Cumberland River valley in Wayne, Clinton and Cumberland counties. The Union men had crossed the state line and driven Confederate troops out of Celina, Tennessee, and burned the town and also had forced Brig. Gen. John Pegram's brigade out of Monticello. The Confederate high command ordered Brig. Gen. John Hunt Morgan, who already had two regiments in Wayne county, to move with the rest of his division into Kentucky from Tennessee and attempt to keep the Union troops out of the region south of the Cumberland.

When Morgan got to Wayne county, riding ahead of the main body of his division, he found Col. Roy S. Cluke's Eighth Kentucky Cavalry and Col. D. W. Chenault's Eleventh Kentucky Cavalry regiments lying in front of a superior federal force in Horseshoe Bottom of Greasy Creek; they had been skirmishing with the enemy for two or three days. He sent couriers to hasten the march of his other regiments—the Second, Third, Fifth and Sixth Kentucky and Ninth Tennessee—and his artillery.

As the troopers urged their tired mounts to greater speed, Theodore Bybee's horse dropped dead. Bybee, a member of the Second Kentucky's Company C, caught hold of another soldier's stirrup with one hand and ran the remaining eight or ten miles.

The reinforcements arrived barely in time, Cluke's men being down to their last two cartridges apiece. As the enemy charged, they fired those two and backed about 25 paces, keeping their faces toward the enemy. Then the newly arrived Rebels passed between the backing files and discharged a volley that sent the federals reeling back. The country was heavily wooded and the retreating Union men quickly disappeared, very few prisoners being taken. Morgan sent an officer under a flag of truce to demand a surrender, but darkness closed in while the Union pickets were trying to locate Col. Jacob, and the flag-bearer returned without an answer.

PFC. CONLEY IN WISCONSIN

Pfc. Leonard Wood, Mo. — Army Pfc. Elmer Conley, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Rice, live at Estill, Kentucky, is spending the summer at Camp McCoy, Wisconsin, where he will take part with other members of the 5th Engineer Battalion's Company B in a road construction and quarry operations project.

The 20-year-old soldier, a truck driver in the company, entered the Army in September, 1960. He attended Wayland high school.

The Tragedy of Flood

(An editorial in The Courier-Journal)

In the recurring tragedy of the mountains, fierce and sudden floods are once more tearing at Eastern Kentucky. From the high ground to which they have fled, people look down once more to watch the dirty, mud-silted waters of mountain streams swirling through the streets of their towns, wrenching their homes from foundations, smashing through their stores and banks and business places, ripping the farm soil from bottom land, burying roads and rails with mud slides, carrying away bridges and buildings and hopes and dreams, burying all they have built up.

Soon the water will recede, and once more the people will come down to the old, grim battle with mud. From the ruined merchandise of their stores and the mud-soaked possessions of their homes they must try once more to re-create a pattern of living. But this time they must wonder whether it is worth the effort. It makes sense to spend the savings of a lifetime to rebuild a home, or to borrow money to replace flood-damaged stock, as long as there is hope that the home will stand or the business flourish. But if there is no reason to hope for a future free of floods and their destruction, the effort becomes pointless.

And there is about the floods on the Kentucky, Big Sandy and Cumberland rivers an ominous pattern, a quickening rhythm that lends little reason for hope. At the turn of the century each generation in the valley towns of Eastern Kentucky could expect a bad flood. By the 1930's, because of mining and highway building and over-cutting, each decade saw a river rampage. But it has been only six years since record floods swept through these valleys, and this year's flood levels at Hazard and Harlan threaten to top even the disasters of 1957 and 1946.

This poses for the people involved a grim decision. Small merchants who borrowed from the Small Business Administration to rebuild their homes and businesses six years ago have only begun to pay off their losses from that flood. Where will they turn this time? On what can they borrow? And what hope can they have that, if they do burden themselves with debt to begin again, another flood in another few years will not again destroy their investment?

They have been promised dams to check the floods, of course, but they have little reason any longer to believe that the promises are substantial. Like the Eisenhower Administration before it, the Kennedy Administration has uttered all the right words, and taken none of the needed action. Roads have been promised, but the only roads built have been built by the state. Dams have been promised, and great reclamation projects to hold the soil and its water to the rocky sides of the hills, but no dams have been built. Today the waters are cascading down the sides of unprotected hills, tumbling earth and debris past the sites of unbuilt dams. It will do so again in a few years unless promises give way to deeds.

Ironically, a hearing by the Army Engineers on the proposed dam on Carr's Fork of the Kentucky, scheduled for Hazard this Thursday, may have to be postponed because the flood to which Carr's Fork contributed has isolated the town, flooded the airport and blocked roads with landslides. Had it been built, the Carr's Fork dam could have knocked four feet from the crest of the flood at Hazard. A dam on Line Fork could have reduced it another four to six feet, a dam on Leatherwood four feet more. Had they been built, the flood would have been bad, perhaps, but not ruinous.

Many dams are needed, if this section of the state is not to be economically ruined, dams on the Tug and Levisa and Russell forks of the Cumberland, on Red River and Walker's Creek. And the present process is too slow. If the Administration is not going to make any unusual effort, if Congress is going to continue to ignore the critical nature of this problem, it is only fair that the people of the region should be told. Before they decide whether or not to try again, they need to know whether there is a reasonable chance of success in these valleys, whether the economy is going to be given a fighting chance to come back. And if dams and roads are to be built and the soil of the hillsides reclaimed at the usual rate, they have reason to wonder what their decision should be.

Hazard, Ky., May 13—Two explosions, about 30 seconds apart, split both rails of the Louisville & Nashville Railroad's main line at nearby Chavies, Monday. There were no injuries reported and the line was back in service at 6:30 a.m., about six hours after the twin blasts. State Police, the F.B.I. and L. & N. private police are investigating. Company Detective C. C. Begley said the explosions, about 125 feet apart, shattered both rails of the single-track line. He said sections of rails and a few ties had to be replaced. The line is the only L. & N. track serving the Hazard coalfield, where there has been labor unrest in recent months. Authorities still are probing an explosion that damaged a rail bridge on nearby Leatherwood Branch last week. State Police Dispatcher Cleatis Holbrook said the explosions took place about 100 yards south of the Chavies coal tippie. The small community, he said, is in the heart of several nonunion mines. Begley quoted residents of the area as saying the blasts shook their homes, but the detective said nothing was damaged except the rails and ties.

Chevy II Nova 400 G-Station Wagon

A Chevy II wagon looks this big when you load it up and this big when you gas it up

That, in the eyes of most Chevy II wagon owners, is just about the size of it. A king-size appetite for cargo. But a dainty one for gas.

And this, we hardly need add, is just the kind of wagon we planned it to be. Just the kind that makes loads of sense, too, these bright beckoning days when you feel the urge to pack up and go.

Taut and trim as it is on the outside, we went to great lengths to keep it BIG where a wagon should be BIG. The load platform extends a full nine feet from the back of the front seat to the tip of the lowered tailgate. Try that on your surfboards, camping paraphernalia and what have you.

And for all the pepper we packed into that 6-cylinder engine (you also have a choice of an even thrifter 4 in most models), we were careful to keep it simple, easy to service—and, as we say, a real stickler on fuel economy. From the way it nurses a gallon of regular, in fact, you'd almost think it makes its own.

Feel in a traveling mood? Well—happy coincidence—this is the time of year your Chevrolet dealer feels in his most generous trading mood.

STATE BEYOND CROSSROADS, STUDY GROUP DECLARES

Frankfort, May 9—"Kentucky has passed beyond the economic crossroads as a result of the enactment in 1960 and 1962 of a far-reaching, aggressive program for total development," according to a three-man study group appointed by Gov. Bert Combs to assess state government activity since 1960.

The Governor's Program Evaluation Group was composed of H. Clyde Reeves, president of the Kentucky Independent College Foundation; Dr. John W. Manning, University of Louisville business professor; and Dr. Roy Owsley, chairman of the Kentucky Educational Television Authority.

All three have had extensive experience in government. Reeves served as state commissioner of revenue from 1938 to 1942 and 1948 to 1952 during the administrations of Governors Chandler, Johnson, Clements, and Wetherby. Dr. Manning served as state finance commissioner from 1948 to 1952 during the administration of Governor Clements. Dr. Owsley was consultant and chief administrative officer of the City of Louisville from 1948 to 1952 and 1954 to 1962.

The Governor asked them to evaluate the Commonwealth's economic position in 1960, indicate major needs for state government action at the time, and evaluate the action and the methods of financing it.

A report issued by the group said, "We feel that the state's financial condition is sound and will continue to improve as the effects of the broad-based revenue program are realized."

Since 1960, the report said, the state has improved education, designed a well-planned, integrated highway system, moved forward in economic development, and bolstered welfare programs.

The report approved the state's method of financing the program with the 3 per cent sales tax and general obligation and revenue bonds.

"Enactment of the general sales tax provided Kentucky with a well-balanced system which in our opinion distributes taxes fairly throughout the economy," the report said. It added, "Projects financed with bonds were necessary and could not sensibly be deferred. The report said Kentucky can meet its bonded obligations easily.

It called attention to a "distinct improvement in the over-all climate of government" and noted the Merit System, the clean-up and beautification campaign and the area development and atomic energy programs.

These and other new programs, the report said, have created administrative problems, but state government is characteristically plagued by such problems.

The report reviewed this action by State Government in education:

Financial support was provided for expansion and improvement. Funds provided for all education for the four years ending June 30, 1964 will exceed $585 million, about $268 million more than in the preceding four years, or an increase of 84 per cent. About $2 of each $3 of the General Fund goes for education.

This has dramatically slowed Kentucky's loss of teachers to other states. Seventy per cent of teacher graduates stay in Kentucky now, contrasted with less than 50 per cent three years ago. More teachers are being trained, a reflection of the increase in teachers' annual pay since 1960 and increases in the minimum teacher retirement benefits.

During fiscal 1961-62, eight new high schools, 33 elementary schools and two vocational schools were put under construction. This program will provide 1,134 new classrooms to accommodate 34,000 students.

Instructional services in Kentucky's vocational schools increased by one-third during the 1960-62 fiscal years. Nine major new construction projects were begun in the last two years at the State's vocational schools which now serve about 10,000 students. The teaching scope of these schools is expected to increase by 25 per cent by the end of 1963 as six new schools are built.

In 1962 an Educational Television Authority was created with plans to put a T. V. teaching network into operation.

State appropriations for higher education increased 64 per cent during 1961-62 over the previous year, with total enrollment in state colleges and universities going up from 19,856 in 1959-60 to 27,149 in 1962-63. During the four years ending in December 1963, 20 new dormitories will be completed providing 5,745 new beds.

The public system of community colleges has been significantly broadened with the approval of five new two-year branches of the University of Kentucky.

The report reviewed this progress in highway construction:

Road building has been at a record pace during the past three years. During 1961, the state invested more money in construction of new highways than in any previous year—more than $122 million. In 1962, this record was exceeded by contracts totaling $157 million. During the past three years, nearly $100 million more highway construction work has been awarded than in the previous four years.

In the last three years, 37 1/2 per cent more money has been invested in road construction than in the previous four years.

At the end of 1962, Kentucky ranked first in the nation in miles of road improvement financed entirely with its own money; second in the nation in highway mileage improved with the use of all monies, both Federal and state; second in the nation in dollar volume of contracts awarded for roads improved without use of Federal funds, and eighth in the nation in money spent for all highway construction contracts.

Since 1960, 43 miles of the Mountain Parkway have been constructed and opened; 33 miles of the Parkway have been placed under construction, to be opened by the end of this year; and 127 miles of the Western Kentucky Parkway are under construction for opening later this year.

Now in use are 250 miles of Interstate and turnpike routes. Another 250 miles are under construction.

In the field of resource development, the state since 1960 has taken progressive action in water use, forestry practices, strip mine control, agriculture, State Park renovation, fish and wildlife, small lakes and roadside parks. The report reviewed these accomplishments:

At the end of 1962 work was under way at 17 locations in the construction of a chain of small lakes to utilize water resources and to provide recreational, industrial, and community water supplies.

In forestry, the number of counties with forest fire protection was increased from 50 to 92. The new tree seedling nursery established in Eastern Kentucky will produce 25 million seedlings yearly.

The $8 million Kentucky Agricultural Research Center was established at the University of Kentucky, Lexington, and Spindletop Research at Lexington was developed. The Department of Agriculture carried out an expanded program of surplus food distribution, adding 27 counties to those receiving these commodities for the needy.

Financial assistance for airport development was provided 34 counties, resulting in the construction of new airports in 15 communities.

On industrial development, the report stated:

A new Division of Industrial Promotion carried out the state's first major industrial advertising campaign. A new community development program was organized, including planning and zoning and urban renewal. A total of 122 communities were aided in these fields. Also added to the State Department of Commerce were units to promote effective wood utilization, crafts production and marketing. Twenty-six new crafts production and marketing centers have been established.

During 1960-62, 350 plants announced plans to establish new or expand existing operations in the state. This will create 21,000 new manufacturing jobs and in-

H. B. No. 365. AN ACT relating to public school education; to provide for the establishment, operation, and financing of a foundation program for the public schools in the Commonwealth of Kentucky and for the apportionment, distribution, and use of the public school foundation program fund.

Said bill is as follows, viz:

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky:

SECTION 1. In this Act, it is the intention of the General Assembly to assure substantially equal public school educational opportunities, through a foundation program, for those in attendance in the public schools of the Commonwealth, but not to limit nor to prevent any school district from providing educational services and facilities beyond those assured by the foundation program; and to provide, as additional state funds are made available for the public schools, for the use of such funds for the further equalization of educational opportunities. This Act shall be interpreted as a measure to provide for an efficient system of public schools throughout the Commonwealth, as prescribed by Section 183 of the Constitution of Kentucky, and for the manner of distribution of the public school fund among the districts and its use for public school purposes, as prescribed by Section 186 of the Constitution.

SECTION 2. As used in this Act, unless the context otherwise requires:

(1) "Average daily attendance" means the aggregate days attended by pupils in a public school, divided by the actual number of days the school is in session for the year;

(2) "Average daily membership" means the aggregate days of membership of pupils in a public school divided by the actual number of days the school is in session for the year;

Smear of Hughes Costly to "Happy"

The University of Kentucky Law School coordinator for the campaign of A. B. Chandler renounced his support of the two-time former governor, saying, "I am now ashamed to have ever been associated with his campaign."

Bill Graves, U. K. law student from Paducah, said that the reason for his denunciation of Chandler was what he called the former governor's unwarranted and deliberately misleading charges that fellow law student Lowell Hughes had drawn full salary from the state while attending the University as a full-time law student.

Graves said that he was personally familiar with Hughes' employment by the state, and that Hughes had spent 35 hours per week of his time to pay his way through school. Graves added that Hughes had carried 12-15 hours of class time per week, spending the additional 35 hours working for the state when not in class.

"Many students in Lowell's position would simply have chosen the easy way of letting their parents carry them through school rather than take on the load that Lowell has. And when Mr. Chandler starts attacking a student for doing that, I want no part in his campaign for public office.

"Students in the law school, regardless of their preference in the governor's primary, respect Lowell Hughes for choosing to make his own way, first by long hours on the athletic field where he earned letters in three sports, and then by putting in 35 hours per week contacting taxpayers in person and making out audit reports for the revenue department.

"A fitting testimonial to the respect Lowell enjoys is provided by the fact that he was elected president of the student bar association by his fellow students and was selected as a member of the law journal staff by the faculty of the law school," said the student who renounced his support of Chandler.

"Several weeks ago a student active in the Chandler campaign circulated an affidavit pertaining to Hughes' employment among law students known to favor Chandler, but not a single law student would sign the affidavit. Even the student who circulated the affidavit under instructions from Chandler headquarters felt that he had been assigned to perform dirty work.

"When that incident occurred, I called Chandler state headquarters and told them that I could not condone such below-the-belt and intentionally misleading charges. I was then assured that the reprehensible tactics would not be employed on the University campus, since I advised them that the students would repudiate that kind of politics. Then last Thursday, Mr. Chandler himself made the deliberately misleading charges public while speaking in Flemingsburg, and the story was carried by the press.

"I had previously agreed to serve as law student coordinator for Mr. Chandler's campaign, and an announcement to that effect was made in the University student newspaper. However, I can no longer support a man who resorts to such unfair political charges. I am now ashamed to have ever been associated with his campaign," Graves stated.

WHO FOR CIRCUIT JUDGE?

I am a Republican and a World War I veteran. I have no vote in the Circuit Judge's race, but as a citizen and taxpayer I am vitally interested in the race.

I have heard so much said about the retirement situation of Judge Hill that I have investigated the law and find that there is no retirement available to Judge Hill until age 65. He could qualify for Special Judge work at 60 by taking a 25% reduction in his salary and making himself available over the state of Kentucky. This, I do not think he should have to do. Certainly Judge Hill would not be working and be concerned so much in this election if he could retire soon. Certainly not when he loves to fish so well.

Even if Judge Hill could retire, which is not true, I would not be willing, as a taxpayer, to pay Judge Hill a salary under retirement, and pay Mr. Conley also. After all, this retirement question is unimportant. What we need to think about is QUALIFICATION, and what the two men STAND FOR, and their REPUTATIONS.

The 28th we choose a Governor for four years, and a Judge for six years. Let's not let the Governor's race keep us from choosing the right man for this important post. We could be awfully sorry, and six years is a long time to wait to correct a fatal error.

FEEDER PIGS AND BREEDING SWINE

New interstate shipping rules for feeder pigs and breeding swine became effective April 1.

The rules were adopted in support of state and federal efforts to eradicate hog cholera. They actually went into effect last November but effective date of sections on feeder and breeding swine was delayed until producers, etc., could become familiar with the requirements.

In general, sections that took effect April 1 provide for health inspection and vaccination of feeder pigs and breeding swine involved in interstate commerce. Purpose is to insure that only healthy hogs, free from hog cholera, are moved interstate.

Provisions of the regulation in effect since last November include prohibition of interstate shipment of hogs infected with or exposed to hog cholera, as well as hogs fed raw garbage. There also are rules on shipment of virulent hog cholera virus and shipment of swine treated with virulent virus after July 1, 1963.

Hog cholera is the number one hog-killer in the U. S. list of diseases. It costs producers about $50 million a year.

STRETCHING YOUR SHOPPING DOLLAR

Few families have as many dollars as they think they need. Learn to be a skilled buyer—this will help you decide how to spend the dollars you do have and give you more satisfaction from the money available.

First, know just what is needed. Something bought by whim or on the spur of the moment may not be the best buy. Use a shopping list and question whether you have forgotten anything that is really needed.

Learn what qualities to look for in the things you plan to buy. Knowing grades and standards of products can help you get good buys that give satisfaction and your money's worth.

Experience in buying is always helpful—but some things are bought only once or twice in a lifetime—and these may be the most expensive items purchased. Ask advice from experts on such products before you shop. Also talk to others who have bought and used these items.

Know how much money is available for the things you want. If you cannot pay cash know when and how you can pay. Credit buying usually costs more than if you pay cash.

Read labels and ask questions. What is it made of? How much is in the package? How should the product be used? What care does it need? Don't take for granted that it is a good product just because of the trade name, an attractive package, or a sensational advertisement.

VALUABLE PAPERS

Do you need a safe deposit box? Unless you have a fireproof safe in your home, keeping valuable papers in a safe deposit box may save you money and worry in case of fire or theft.

Most banks rent safe deposit boxes of various sizes to fit different needs, the cost usually depends on the size. The box can be opened only during banking hours. However, this disadvantage and the expense of the box may be outweighed by the safety it offers.

To open your safe deposit box, a guard key kept by the bank, and your own key must both be used. Since you must identify yourself to a bank employee before the box is opened no other person can open it but you. You can appoint someone

MAY IS CLEAN-UP MONTH

The month of May has been set for the annual Clean-Up Campaign in Floyd county. This is coordinated with the state-wide clean-up project.

All clubs, P-T-A's, schools and individual homeowners are being asked to cooperate in this project. It is hoped that every part of the county can be reached with this program.

Since the recent flood in our area, the need for such a project is quite evident. Each organization is being asked to sponsor some clean-up project in their area and report their results at the end of the month.

Only with the total cooperation of all groups and homeowners can this be successfully carried out. This is why the help and support of every citizen is being sought in stopping the litter bug.

Future Farmers of America and 4-H boys and girls in Eastern Kentucky are being encouraged to plant a family garden as a project, says Eugene Cecil, of Winchester, chairman of the Eastern Kentucky Family Garden Improvement Association.

HAROLD STUMBO for COMMONWEALTH ATTORNEY

If elected to the office of Commonwealth's Attorney, I will not tolerate crime or corruption.

As your Trial Commissioner I was criticized vigorously by violators of the criminal law.

Law enforcement officers in this county have stated that I gave them full cooperation in the fight against crime.

As your Trial Commissioner under County Judge Henry Stumbo, I devoted many hours trying to solve problems for the people of this county.

My opponent, Jarvis Allen, has been your former County Court Clerk. The sole issue in this campaign is whether Harold Stumbo or Jarvis Allen would render FRIENDLY, HONEST and EFFICIENT SERVICE as your Commonwealth Attorney for the next six years.

I will protect the Constitutional rights of every citizen, regardless of economic standing, race, creed or color.

It is my belief that government is by the people and for the people.

Your support will be appreciated.

YOUR FRIEND,

HAROLD STUMBO

CANDIDATE FOR
CIRCUIT COURT CLERK

THANKS
RELATIVES AND FRIENDS

I want to take this means of expressing my gratitude to all my friends and relatives for the support you have extended my candidacy for Circuit Court Clerk. Everywhere I find the will to win among you and everywhere I go I have optimistic reports on the vote I will get.

I began this race for Circuit Clerk with the handicap of being relatively unknown, due to the fact that I have never sought a public office before. However, by hard work and long hours, I have made the acquaintance of a vast majority of our people. I have told them of my hopes and aspirations as an elected official. Men and women, boys and girls have rallied to my cause.

I have promised nothing in this race I do not intend to do. I have promised you efficiency, courtesy and the Christian approach to the duties of public office. I have promised you a driver's training program in every Floyd county high school and the first year of my term I will initiate the program with a car in every high school.

I want to urge my supporters, my friends everywhere, to continue the good work, to keep our campaign on the high road, not to engage in mudslinging, nor be deceived by the same. I also take this opportunity to congratulate my opponents for a clean campaign, devoid of bitterness and the familiar smear tactics.

Again I urge my friends to work until the polls close May 28, and victory will be ours.

Your friend,

Frankfort, Ky., March 26 — Although a near-record quantity of distilled spirits is stored in Kentucky warehouses, the State Tuesday lowered its property-tax value nearly $8,000,000, with about $5,000,000 of the cut applying in Jefferson County.

SCHOOL CHIEFS REGRET LOSS OF REVENUE

"A severe blow to our financing," Jefferson County School Superintendent Richard Van Hoose said of the reduction in whiskey-tax revenue. "There has been a pattern of this (revenue) dropping off for two or three years. This adds to an amount already large."

SAVE OUR SCHOOLS

Parents Pay for Good Schools---

Our Children "Pay" for Poor Ones!

FOR THE PAST SEVERAL WEEKS, WE, THE OFFICERS OF THE FLOYD COUNTY TEACHERS ASSOCIATION, HAVE TRIED TO EXPLAIN TO YOU, THE PARENTS, THE IMPORTANCE OF THIS GOVERNOR'S RACE. WE HONESTLY BELIEVE THAT THE EDUCATIONAL WELFARE OF OUR CHILDREN HINGES ON THE OUTCOME OF THIS ELECTION.

EDWARD T. BREATHITT

We think it is a wonderful and significant situation when, for the FIRST TIME in the history of this county, the TEACHERS ARE UNITED SOLIDLY and are working tirelessly for the election of a GOVERNOR of this state. We are convinced that in doing so we are working for YOUR CHILDREN and for OURS.

The OFFICERS of the FLOYD COUNTY TEACHERS ASSOCIATION would like to express our sincere appreciation for the hard work put forth by our fellow teachers in this important GOVERNOR'S RACE. During the remaining days of this campaign we would ask you to continue to work even harder in this GREAT CRUSADE FOR EDUCATION.

This campaign is not a contest between two men—it presents a choice between GOOD SCHOOLS or POOR SCHOOLS. We, as TEACHERS, are CONVINCED that the PROGRAM proposed by Mr. Chandler will DESTROY the school system of this state. We are also convinced that the MOTHERS and FATHERS of this county, because they realize how IMPORTANT AND NECESSARY it is for their CHILDREN to have an EDUCATION, will go out on May 28 and vote for a YOUNG MAN who is interested in the EDUCATION of our CHILDREN.

ARE OUR CHILDREN WORTH FIGHTING FOR? We know they ARE! Therefore, when a group of SELFISH, POWER-SEEKING MEN attempts to DESTROY the PROGRESS made in education the past THREE YEARS, we think it is time to RISE UP AND PUT THEM DOWN. They have made many claims, but we KNOW these claims are FALSE. CAN WE, IF WE LOVE OUR CHILDREN, VOTE FOR A MAN WHO HAS MADE FALSE STATEMENTS ABOUT WHAT HE HAS DONE FOR OUR CHILDREN? We think you as PARENTS will agree with US that the ANSWER is a loud and resounding NO!

MOM AND DAD, THIS IS NOT ELECTION TALK -- THIS IS DEAD SERIOUS BUSINESS! LET'S NOT ALLOW THIS CROWD TO MAKE "PLAYTHINGS" OF OUR CHILDREN'S CHANCES FOR AN EDUCATION. LET'S GO OUT ON MAY 28 AND VOTE FOR A YOUNG MAN WHO HAS TOLD THE TRUTH AND STANDS FOR EDUCATION AND MOVING KENTUCKY AHEAD.

The Positive Platform of Ned Breathitt

FARM TO MARKET ROADS

Ned Breathitt will build twice as many rural roads as are now being built. And he will build them where roads are needed, not according to political needs.

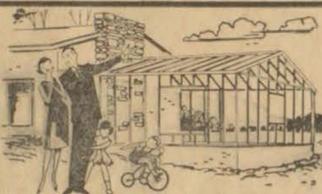

SCHOOLS

Breathitt wants quality education and more classrooms. Quality education will mean more jobs for all of us because industry is attracted to an educated state.

JOBS Breathitt has set as his goal 75,000 new jobs for Kentuckians during his administration. More jobs will put more money in the pockets of Kentuckians.

TAXES Ned Breathitt pledges no new taxes. We must have a tax climate that is favorable to industry and creates jobs for our citizens.

KENTUCKY'S TURNPIKES

Ned Breathitt will complete the state turnpike system, and integrate it with the interstate system to give the state four-lane, limited access highways to serve all Kentuckians.

OLD AGE ASSISTANCE

Breathitt will increase the average old age monthly payments by about $16. Payments to the blind and disabled and to dependent children will also be raised.

BILLION DOLLAR FARM ECONOMY

Ned Breathitt will work toward a billion dollar a year farm economy through a 10 point plan endorsed by Kentucky agricultural leaders.

MORALITY IN GOVERNMENT

Ned Breathitt believes in consideration for all, favor for none. His administration will set an example of honesty and integrity for all Kentuckians.

CONSERVATION AND FLOOD CONTROL

Breathitt is determined to solve the state's flooding problems through better control of strip mining, dredging of streams, reforestation and closer coordination with the Federal government in getting flood control projects. "We must move now for the sake of future generations," he says.

Heart Clinic Closing, Giving Way to the New U. of Ky. Medical Center

The seven-year-old Central Kentucky Surgical Heart Clinic at St. Joseph Hospital, Lexington, will be discontinued, effective May 30, when its last session will be held, according to an announcement by Dr. Richard R. Crutcher, director.

Termination of the clinic service, which the Kentucky Heart Association established for indigent heart patients in 1956, was decided upon by Dr. Crutcher and the team of Lexington physicians who have assisted him in supervising it "because the development of facilities at the new University of Kentucky hospital can now permanently take care of a basic need which we were temporarily set up to fill," according to Dr. Crutcher, KHA president.

The clinic originally was designed to serve patients in Anderson, Bath, Bourbon, Clark, Fayette, Franklin, Garrard, Harrison, Jessamine, Madison, Mercer, Montgomery, Nicholas, Scott and Woodford counties. Later, patients from the entire Eastern Kentucky area were admitted.

Dr. Crutcher stated that "all records of patients currently being followed by our clinic at St. Joseph will be transferred after May 30 to the new U. of K. facility," and added that physicians wishing to refer their indigent heart patients from then on should write to the Out-Patient Clinic Department, University of Kentucky Hospital, Lexington.

The $12 million geological mapping program will aid economic and industrial development.

The report said all Kentucky State Parks were "put in first class condition," with new facilities added in most.

Funds provided by state health and welfare programs were increased by $56 million, or 43 per cent, during 1960-64, the report said. Concerning these programs the report added:

The entire group of health and welfare agencies was reorganized into an agency structure with an administrator to give greater coordination and focus.

Sharp increases have occurred in average payments in all public assistance programs. A medical care program for the needy aged was initiated. Attention on the needs of the mentally retarded resulted in the state's acquiring Outwood Hospital at Dawson Springs to relieve overcrowded conditions at the Kentucky State Hospital and School at Frankfort.

Special clinics and schools for the mentally retarded were established. A rehabilitation program to enable residents of mental health institutions to re-enter normal society was started. New mental health facilities have been constructed.

The state took over care of Louisville and Jefferson county tubercular patients formerly cared for at Waverly Hills Sanatorium.

More than $750,000 is now scheduled for improved new prison facilities in this fiscal year.

The report said all of the three methods adopted to pay for the new and expanded state services were necessary. These methods are: (1) a broadened, more productive tax base, through enactment of a 3 per cent retail sales tax with a reduction in the personal income tax; (2) issuance of "full faith and credit" and "committed revenue" general obligation bonds which were approved by the voters, and (3) issuance of revenue bonds secured by revenues of the projects involved.

The Heavy Hand of Politics

They have forgotten the 3 R's, and took up Politics —

Some of our Floyd County School Teachers are caught in an embarrassing position — Afraid to express their sentiments, voice their convictions, or speak their piece. Politicians, posing as educators, are trying to organize them into a political block, into ward heelers and precinct strikers.

They are being brain-washed as methodically and systematically as CASTRO'S CUBA. The politicians are afraid to tell them the plain truth — that Happy gave the teachers everything they asked for and provided the money to implement the Minimum Foundation Program, and built the finest Institution of Higher Learning in Kentucky, over the objection of his present opponents.

A year ago the teachers of this county were asked to elect a Sheriff. This year they are being asked to elect a Circuit Judge, a Commonwealth's Attorney and a Governor.

If this practice is permitted to continue they will be asked to elect Jailers, Magistrates and Constables, and will be so involved in politics that they won't know whether to electioneer or teach.

No one wants to destroy our fine school system in Kentucky, least of all Governor Chandler.

(We teach that action speaks louder than mere words)

The House Journal unmistakably proves that Combs' puppet Candidate did not sponsor the Minimum Foundation Law. He was present and had two opportunities, but did NOT VOTE FOR IT!

I urge the teachers of Floyd County to throw off their yoke of bondage and not be deceived by the BIG-Fisted, hand-picked politician.

YOU CANNOT AFFORD FOR ONE FAMILY TO CONTROL YOUR COURTS!

There was never a time in the long history of Floyd county when so much was at stake in the Commonwealth's Attorney race as now. Your Commonwealth's Attorney is the shield between the proponents of law and order and the lawless who are always utilizing every means possible to further their ends. Only a competent, well-qualified Commonwealth's Attorney can shield you by vigorously prosecuting bootlegging and all other crimes.

Every voter should ask himself: Who is the best qualified man for Commonwealth's Attorney? Which candidate manifests those attributes of honesty, integrity and ability that are a requisite for the job? Which candidate has the ability to perform the duties of office? Which candidate is unfettered by unholy alliances and is free to perform the duties?

I submit to you that I am qualified and meet all the other tests. I have the legal training and experience. I have the mental and moral ability to do the job. I have no unholy alliances and will owe my election to nobody but the voters.

You cannot afford to allow interests adverse to law and order to influence your vote. The protection of your home, your person and your rights as a citizen depends upon the Commonwealth's Attorney who is between you and the lawless element of our people.

A minority of people would be satisfied with lax law enforcement but the majority of people, I firmly believe, want strict law enforcement. Your choice of Commonwealth's Attorney may mean the difference between whether you have law enforcement or none whatever.

Some men are using the race for Governor to promote their own candidates. I am not trying to ride any coattails. The choice of Governor will not make one bit of difference in the conduct of your court but your choice of Commonwealth's Attorney will.

CERTAIN INTERESTS AND CERTAIN FAMILIES ARE OUT TO TAKE OVER FLOYD COUNTY. If they are permitted to do so your property and person will be at the mercy of those whose interests are adverse to law and order.

If you want law enforcement, if you feel that bootlegging and crime must be curbed, support me in this race. Don't place the control of both the county and Circuit Court in the same family.
