LOCAL OPTION VOTE SOUGHT FOR COUNTY

CIRCULATION OF PETITIONS PRELIM STEP

Four of Five Polls In County and Towns Gave Dry Majorities

Petitions have been in circulation for weeks now as the required number of signators to demand a local option election in this county is being sought.

How successful the effort has been was not learned, but it is known that several hundred persons have signed these petitions for an election to attempt to return Floyd county to the list of "wet" counties.

The number of bonafide petitioners must exceed 25% of the vote cast at the last general election before wet forces would be in position to require County Judge Henry Stumbo to set the date for the vote. On the basis of the vote last November, approximately 3,000 signatures would be required.

One previous occasion Judge Stumbo denied a local option vote when it was found that the number of qualified voters who had signed the petition was not more than 25% of the total votes cast in the preceding election. A check of the petitions showed, he said, that some names appeared more than one time.

The first countywide local option vote in this county was held May 15, 1943, when the county was already wet by virtue of repeal of the Pro-

This Town ... That World

I hope I have spring fever. If I haven't, I'm in a bad fix.

THE HEAT'S ON
The temperature has already risen past the point at which I lose my interest in the seed catalogs. These works of art are best viewed by most of us while sitting beside a roaring fire and while last spring was but a faint and pleasant memory.

PREDICTION
Bought my 1966 fishing license last week. At most, I shall return to the Clerk's office only one more time for that particular purchase (if you know what I mean—or do you?).

TO GET HELP
An anonymous contributor wants to be helpful.

If (he says) an emergency arises—maybe a burglary is threatened, or the family cat refuses to come down from his perch in a tree—

And if the telephone is out . . . or you can't remember the number . . . or if they simply don't answer, and you must have the police and there's no help in sight—

Don't panic. Just drive to the nearest parking meter, walk away without depositing a coin. The police will be there within five minutes.

OBVIOUSLY
It's raining as this is being written, and we, though claiming no great perspicacity, know the happiest people in the county at the moment: the fellows who have been fighting these forest fires.

KY. FLORISTS TO COMPETE

FTD Competition Set At Lodge As A Part Of National Contest

Florists in Kentucky will match designing skills in Florists' Transworld Delivery Association district competition at May Lodge, Jenny Wiley State Park, next Sunday.

This and other district contests will be held throughout the United States and Canada to choose participants for 14 semi-final regional competitions. The winners will seek the national design title at FTD's annual convention in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, in August.

The competition, sponsored by FTD, seeks to honor the top floral artist in North America.

The flower industry's spectacular competition is open to floral designers in all the 11,000 FTD shops in North America. In regional and final contests, entrants will be judged on the artistry and originality of floral designs in five categories: bridal bouquet, novelty arrangement, design for the new mother of twin boy and girl, Valentine's Day arrangement, tenth wedding anniversary arrangement, and dish garden.

The FTD "Designer of the Year" for 1966 will win a cash prize of $1,000 plus travel tickets for two for a European vacation, or $1,500. Runner-up a ward is $500, and the third-place floral designer will receive $250.

SUITS CLAIM $117,548 DUE

Woman Asks $100,000 For Car Wreck Hurts; Contractor Sues Two

Two circuit court suits filed last Wednesday seek damages totalling $117,548.98.

Asking $100,000 damages, Mrs. Jewel Allen, of Wayland, named Harold Conley and Lee Edward Allen as defendants in a complaint which alleged that the two-car collision in which she was injured was caused by the "joint and concurrent negligence on the part of both defendants." She was a passenger in an auto driven by her husband, Lee Edward Allen, when the wreck occurred, Aug. 15, last.

Mrs. Allen claims her ability to work and earn a living has been permanently impaired. She claims she lost wages of $1,006.70 and that doctor and hospital bills amounted to $2,500.

In the second action Jonas Miller, Prestonsburg drilling contractor, alleges that Glenn C. Spradlin and Lawrence Keathley, of Martin, are indebted to him in the amount of $7,048.98 under a contract which, he says, provided that the defendants were to pay half the cost of labor and materials in drilling for oil and gas on a Clay county lease. For cost of moving equipment $500 is claimed.

CHURCH OPENING SET AT SUNDAY MORNING

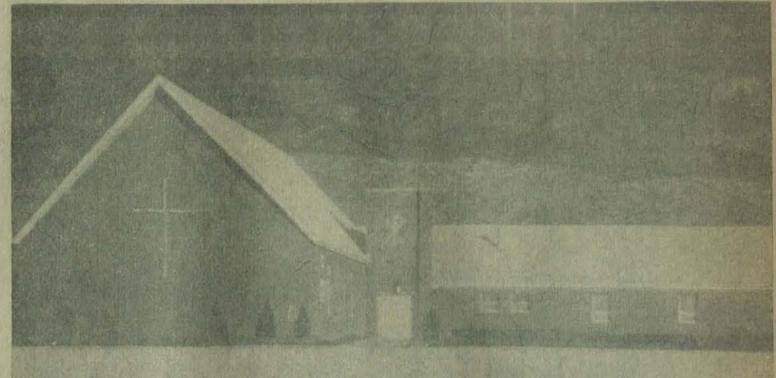

The church choir will sing "How Lovely Are Thy Dwellings," the pastor's sermon will develop the topic, "Dreams or Visions"—and thus will be set the mood for the opening to worship for the first time next Sunday morning of the new First Presbyterian Church here.

Final touches were being added to the interior of the new $90,000 structure this week, and a parking area also was being completed.

Sunday School will begin at 10:15 a.m.; the worship service, at 11 a.m. The Alan Reed memorial organ will be used for the first time, also, with Mrs. Edmund R. Burke as organist. The choir will be directed by J. Richard Cummings.

With this first service in the new structure at the northern approach to Prestonsburg via new U. S. 23, the Sunday morning church program will be reorganized. The Sunday School will recess at 10:50, and all will assemble in the sanctuary for the worship service which will begin at 11. However, pupils of the first three grades will return to their classes prior to the beginning of the sermon for a period of handiwork, stories and pictures. Nursery facilities will be provided.

The pastor, the Rev. T. W. Chisholm, invites all to these services. Dedication of the new church will be held later, at an hour when all may attend without missing their own church services, he said.

DRY WEATHER, WIND BUILD FIRE HAZARD

Unseasonable dry weather and seasonal winds have conspired to turn these early spring days into a time of destructive forest fires, the Division of Forestry office at Lancer said this week.

Fires burst out in various parts of the county, the middle of last week, and since that time have harried firefighting crews almost to the point of exhaustion. There was no estimate of the acreage burned over, but the damage to timberland, fencing and other property is heavy.

As of Wednesday noon, seven fires were still going, and five of these were new blazes. And the end is not in sight, unless rain comes. The Forestry office said the Weather Bureau had given it some hope of light showers Wednesday night.

Wednesday, fires were reported at McDowell, Spewing Camp, Ned's Fork, Hen Pen, Melvin, West Prestonsburg and Little Paint Creek. The Little Paint blaze began Tuesday and for a time drew near homes there. One abandoned home and a smaller building were burned on the land of Mrs. Cassie J. Allen, Fencing around Blackburn's store there caught fire.

Last Saturday, an Abbott mountain fire threatened the Henry Spradlin property. This fire is believed to have been deliberately set, Forester Forrest Burchett said.

The Little Paint fire was blamed on the "blowing" of a power line transformer. Most of the fires have resulted from the burning of weeds and other debris from garden "patches."

Price Moore, fire control supervisor at the Forestry Division office, said approximately 50 men are fighting the blazes, shifting from spot to spot to meet the most urgent needs because the Division is undermanned and unable to fight all fires at the same time. And the men assigned to the firefighting job are by now pretty well exhausted, fighting blazes late at night and arising early to get at the work before the night dampness dries and the fires regain their full fury.

Moore said 30 unemployed fathers have been assigned to the Division. "Without these men, we really would be hurting," Moore said.

All this damage has been created, despite the intensified efforts of the Forestry Division to forestall such outbreaks. A drive on violators began March 1, and citations are being issued against violators of the fire laws.

COURT TERM TRIALS SET

Petit Juries To Start Work in Second Week Of Term Next Month

Although the April criminal term of circuit court will convene on Monday, April 4, and grand and petit juries will be empanelled at that time, the court will not get down to the business of hearing the trial of cases until the following Monday.

The first week will be left open for grand jury work.

First of the 79 cases listed on the court docket, that of Catherine Martin, who is accused of false swearing, will be called for trial, April 11.

It will be the second trial for Miss Martin, the first resulting in a "hung" jury.

After that, there is, as the docket now stands, a "break" till April 19.

There is not a murder case listed for trial, nor has the grand jury an indictment to make for murder (as of this date). Fraud and theft will claim a large part of the court's attention.

A dozen liquor cases are booked for hearing during the term—three on April 19, one on the following day and the remaining eight on April 21 and 22.

TERRY PLANS M'GOFFIN JOB

Floyd Firm To Develop Big Coal Block, Report; Operation Set May 1st

The Terry Elkhorn Mining Company, which has operated auger operations in the Daniels Creek and Dewey Lake area for several months, plans to strip and auger coal from an 8,000-acre block purchased in the Gun Creek, Puncheon and Salt Lick sections of Licking River, in Magoffin county.

The Salsyville Independent reported last week that the company expects to begin mining coal, around May 1, and that it has awarded a contract for the construction of a large tippie on the Tom Patrick farm on the right fork of Gun Creek, about eight miles south of Salsyville.

The tippie, it was said, will process approximately 2,000 tons of coal daily. A railroad spur to the operations is expected to be completed by the time mining is ready to begin.

SANITATION WORK DONE

Three Groups Sponsor Minnie Landfill Site To Serve Left Beaver

A new sanitary landfill has been established near Minnie to provide a garbage disposal for a sizeable area on Left Beaver Creek, it was announced this week.

Site of the dumping ground, which will be for public use, is near the top of Sizemore mountain, on the Steele's Creek side.

Sponsors of this second landfill to be established on Left Beaver Creek are the Drift Woman's Club, the Floyd Fiscal Court and the Left Beaver Community Development Association.

The first landfill dumping ground in the area, sponsored by the Drift Woman's Club, was located at Drift. County road machinery is used to excavate trenches which, when filled with refuse, are covered by machinery and thus kept sanitary.

Dead animals, it was pointed out by the Floyd County Health Department, may not

Jury Convicts Hunt But Asks Jail Term Of 30 Days Probated

Mack Hunt was convicted in quarterly court Monday on a liquor possession charge, fined $20 and given a 30-day jail term, but the jury recommended that the jail term be probated.

The probation request, made because of the defendant's physical condition, was honored. Hunt is almost blind. He was placed under $500 peace bond for a period of one year.

The trial was a full-dress affair, with arguments made by opposing counsel at the conclusion of hearing of testimony.

Mrs. Hunt was convicted March 7 in quarterly court on a charge of selling intoxicants and was fined $50 and given a 30-day jail term. She has appealed the case to circuit court.

NANCY HICKS CRASH VICTIM FRIDAY NIGHT

6 Hurt, One Seriously In Head-On Collision Last Sunday Morning

Two wrecks on Floyd county highways last week-end claimed the life of a Hippo woman and resulted in injuries to eight others.

Mrs. Nancy Frazier Hicks, 63, wife of Alka Hicks, Hippo merchant, was almost instantly killed at 7:45 p.m. Friday when the pickup truck in which Mr. and Mrs. Hicks were driving collided with a heavy produce truck driven by I. B. Caudill, of Isom, Kentucky, on KY 40 (the David road), approximately half a mile west of the intersection of that road with KY 114.

Mr. Hicks was injured but has been dismissed from the Prestonsburg General hospital.

Seven persons were hurt, one seriously, shortly after Saturday midnight, in a head-on collision of two automobiles, near the Sugar Loaf Cafe, between Prestonsburg and Allen. The injured:

Ellis Crum, 37, of Arkansas Creek, near Martin, and Edna Sammons, 40, of Allen, a passenger in his auto; Andy Mitchell, 20, of Sugar Loaf, and three passengers in his car, Otis Sisco, 20, of Sugar Loaf, Janet Barnett, 16, West Prestonsburg, and Rosa Craft, 19, Prestonsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Hicks at the time of the Middle Creek wreck were driving toward Paintsville where a daughter was hospitalized. The tragedy occurred on a curve, opposite the home of the Rev. L. P. Tussey, and Mr. Hicks said the truck driven by Caudill swung across the centerline of the road. He denied that he was blinded by the lights of the approaching truck. Hicks' truck struck the bed of the larger vehicle, near the rear wheels, and was knocked over the embankment at the lower side of the highway.

Caudill, who was not held by officers, was admitted to the Milford Hall, Sr., of McDowell, sends along this by Colonel Gardner which, he says, has helped, many the time over the years: "I have had a great many troubles, but most of them never happened."

Don't know why, but this suggests the thought that a little more caring would remove a lot of care.

SIGN LANGUAGE

We're a bit late reporting this, but we had hoped for a photo, which never came about. Anyway, our attention has been called to a sign which appeared on the door of a certain Floyd county "place," soon after January 1. It reportedly read:

"Closed for the season—Joe Wheeler's the reason."

revivals conducted in this county last year under auspices of Irene Cole Memorial Baptist Church resulting in a large number of conversions at the Home Branch mission.

He received his B.A. degree from the University of Tulsa and his B.D. degree from Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, Louisville, in 1963. Since 1960 he has led the Fern Creek church from mission status to a church with 650 members.

The choir and congregation will be led in the music services by Gus Kalos, director of music for the church and head of the Prestonsburg Community College music department. The pastor, the Rev. W. D. Jagers, invites the public to attend these services, which will be held daily at 7 p.m.

Engagement Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Caldwell announce the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Judith Glenn, to Jimmy Charles Curnutte, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ora Curnutte, of Auxier. Miss Caldwell is an employee of the Bank Josephine and Mr. Curnutte is in his senior year at Morehead State University. An April wedding has been planned.

Miller also claims he has been damaged to the extent of $10,000 by what he terms "slandering and derogatory and untrue statements" concerning him and his operations in the state.

Plaintiff says in his petition that he is in the business of drilling for oil and gas and that he sells shares and interests in leases upon which he is drilling or expects to drill. He listed his representative in selling interests in his Kentucky developments, as Victor A. Vincent, Hickory Corner, Michigan. Because of these communications, he says, the selling price of interests offered has been greatly reduced.

KENWOOD A REALITY, DIRECTORS ARE TOLD

Kenwood Products Company, Eastern Kentucky's wood utilization industry, is no longer a dream, but a reality, Robert H. Sloat, president, told stockholders last Thursday at the annual meeting in Paintsville.

Construction of the Kenwood complex is to begin late this month and will progress in two phases.

Phase One includes 10 improvements at the plant site: 1. Grading, excavating and clearing; 2. Site drainage; 3. Road paving; 4. Water treatment; 5. Area lighting; 6. Railroad siding; 7. Kentucky Power sub-station; 8. Bridge construction; 9. Water service to the site; 10. Improvement of the access road.

These improvements will involve a total expenditure of $1,480,000 Sloat said.

Phase Two is the actual plant construction and is scheduled to begin May 15. It will progress in several steps representing a final investment of $5 million.

First items on the construction list are the collection yard and sawmill. The site will then be developed in this manner—kilns, remanufacturing, particle board plant, administration building and garage.

Preliminary layout drawings prepared by Davis and Floyd, Greenwood, South Carolina engineers, were on display for stockholders. They show the plant site, some four miles north of Paintsville, developed in four building areas—satellite industries, particle board plant, sawmill and remanufacturing.

Announcement of the actual ground-breaking date was not made. It has been tentatively set for March 26, but is contingent upon an announcement expected this week that a $511,000 grant has been approved from the Economic Development Administration.

A record-breaking production of 160,000 board feet of lumber per day on a two-shift basis is planned at the sawmill. The particle board plant production figure has been set at 35 million square feet per year.

Equipment order will be issued May 1 and start-up of the collection yard and sawmills is set for August.

Sloat announced that Floyd county has now purchased more stock in the corporation than any other county in the state. He expressed dissatisfaction with the performance of Capital Investment Company, brokers for the stock issue, and gave credit for the progress made on Kenwood to the administrations at Frankfort and Washington.

Mayo State Vocational School will be providing the trained workers for the Kenwood operation, Sloat announced.

The school is now preparing a 36-week training program in logging, hauling and sawmill operation. It will include classroom work at Mayo as well as practical training at Jenny Wiley State Park and on the wood working machines. This pre-employment training will provide peak efficiency employees for the Kenwood plant in three months as opposed to a normal one-year on-the-job training period.

Not only will the new Mayo course provide employees for Kenwood, but also will furnish trained personnel for the many sawmills already in operation in the Big Sandy area. Cost of the new program is expected to be in excess of $1 million.

Adequate labor supply for Kenwood seems to be no problem. Applications already received are more than adequate to fill the requirements of the firm, making possible extensive screening to assure employment of the most capable personnel, Sloat said.

When possible Big Sandy area residents will be utilized at the plant. Sloat said 40 percent of the applicants have been persons from this area who have been forced to seek out-of-state employment and want to return to the Big Sandy valley. He said the wage scale of Kenwood, $1.50 to $3.20 per hour for non-supervisory personnel, will make this possible.

Stockholders chose a 21 member board of directors and a five-member advisory committee. The new board then elected officers for the coming year, and a 5-member executive committee.

Three-year directors are George Branham, chairman of the board; Robert Conley, treasurer, both of Paintsville; Robert Wilhite, secretary, Lexington; D. L. Pendleton, Jr., vice-president, Stanton; E. Paul Williams, Ashland; William Baird and Walter P. Walters, Pikeville.

Two-year directors are: Clarence Castle and O. T. Dorton, Paintsville; Hardin Kennon, Clay City; Francis Miller, Irvine; John Mahan, Ashland; Otis Cooley, Prestonsburg; and Ollie Arnett, Salyersville.

The one-year directors are Robert Walker, Ravenna; W. H. Cox and Mitchell Preston, Paintsville; Grover Frederick, West Liberty; Edward Connelly, Louisville, (representative of Capital Investment); Jerry F. Howell, Jackson; and Marvin Music, Prestonsburg.

Elected to the executive committee were Branham, Conley, Arnett, Cooley and Castle. Named to Kenwood's advisory committee were Ex-Governor Bert Combs, Mayor George P. Archer, of Prestonsburg, John C. Mayo, Ashland, and Alex H. Spradlin, Prestonsburg.

Former Pike Countian Victim In Oklahoma; Burial Made at Ivel

He was a son of the late William H. and Daisy Byrd Warren. Survivors include one son, Jack Edward Warren, Jr., of Oklahoma City; three daughters, Lola Lee, Linda Kay and Cinda Sue Warren, all of Oklahoma City; a brother, Elmer Ross Warren, Maywood, Illinois; three sisters, Mrs. Henry Leedy, Prestonsburg, Mrs. Virginia Boggs, Cincinnati, Ohio, Mrs. Bronwin Fortman, Maywood, Illinois.

Funeral services were conducted Friday at 2 p.m. from the chapel of the Floyd Funeral Home, the Revs. John W. Conley and W. D. Jagers officiating. Burial was made in Davidson Memorial Gardens at Ivel.

comply with the provisions of the Federal Mine Safety Codes, as distinguished from the act.

"The bill emphatically would not require Title 1 (smaller) mines to comply with the codes, but only with the limited number of safety provisions in the act."

Holcomb said the net result of the amendments might even be to put the U. S. Bureau of Mines out of the inspection business, leaving the job up to the states.

He pointed to provisions which permit the individual states to submit plans which would entitle state inspectors alone to inspect and close noncomplying mines.

Telephone Talk

By ROY L. ATHERTON Your Telephone Manager

RECENTLY IN THIS COLUMN WE TALKED ABOUT WESTERN ELECTRIC AND THE TREMENDOUS AMOUNT OF PURCHASING IT DOES TO SUPPLY BELL TELEPHONE EQUIPMENT. This time, let's talk about Western Electric manufacturing. First of all, Western is the largest manufacturer of telephone equipment in the world! These facts may give you an idea of the vast scope of its service.

- In 1964 Western Electric produced enough telephones to provide a set for every man, woman, and child in New York City.
- It made enough central office switching equipment to serve all Bell telephones now operating in Boston, Chicago, Denver, New Orleans and San Francisco combined.
- It manufactured enough wire to circle the earth at the equator nearly 2400 times.
- Western Electric investment in plant facilities before depreciation passed the 1.38 billion dollar mark in 1964, up 52 million from 1963.

Perhaps you wonder how Western knows the right amount of equipment and material the telephone companies are going to need. Well, on commonly used items like wire, poles, telephone sets, etc., the companies plan their probable requirements as much as two years ahead.

On big items like complete dial offices and long distance equipment which have to be engineered and manufactured to fit specific places and situations, Western is also notified well in advance.

In other words, Western Electric manufactures only equipment that has been specifically placed on order. It does not supply a company with any items not requested. This kind of careful planning results in lower cost of equipment bought by the Bell System. And of course, to you this means low-cost, high-quality telephone service and equipment!

McDowell Loses To Ashland In State Tournament Play; Hall Is All-Tournament

Although McDowell high school's Daredevils lost their first game of the state tournament to the Ashland Tomcats, they played a strong game, was in the game till the last 4 1/2 minutes and emerged from the tournament with one of their players, senior Ricky Hall, on the All-Tournament team.

Size made the difference between the two teams. Ashland out-rebounding McDowell and getting 10 more shots at the basket than McDowell.

The 6-foot-4 Hall led both teams in scoring with 39 points, putting on the greatest scoring exhibition in the state tournament since Seneca's Mike Redd scored 41 points in 1963. Some scorers had Hall's total 42 points instead of 39.

His performance in his only state tournament game earned him his place on the All-Tournament aggregation.

To Educate As Well As Grow

(Excerpted from remarks made by Dr. John W. Oswald, president of the University of Kentucky, to members of the General Assembly)

It has been said, and I claim no authorship, that American institutions of higher learning are producing overtrained and undereducated products. The University of Kentucky faculty took cognizance of that accusation. Studies were conducted, surveys were made, conferences were held.

But unlike many other studies, surveys and conferences, results were forthcoming.

Thus, in September of this year, all freshmen students entering your university will be enrolled in the college of arts and science.

There, under proper counsel and guidance, they will undertake an examination of several of the broad fields of study, the several fields of academic discipline.

They shall be exposed to the literature of the ages, the discovery of the scientists, the philosophy of the economist and the sociologist, the exacting mental exercises of the mathematician and linguist. And then at the close of two years they shall, by virtue of their probing and study, be better able to make that all-important choice, the choice of the field to which they want to devote their life.

But in doing so, in making their choice, they shall not be unaware of the activity of their neighbor. The engineer will understand the searching of the historian.

The teacher will be aware of the trials and tribulations of the businessman.

The lawyer will share the fears and joys of the sociologist.

Hopefully—all this will make for a well-rounded personality, the educated person.

I could go on to recite details, to dot the "I" and cross the "T." But the hour is growing late and we have had a good day together. I believe then it is sufficient to say that of all the events of the centennial year, of all the joys we have experienced, of all the projects undertaken, the creation, development and adoption of the academic program will go down in the annals of Kentucky higher education as the most significant and long-lasting project of the dozens conceived and executed.

If our anticipations become our realizations, then in the words of Governor Stevenson we may actually contribute to making man—and the world—what God intended them to be.

And you, as members of the general assembly, must share in the credits for it is men and women such as you who make these things possible.

hibition amendment to the Constitution. The county voted at that election to remain wet by a margin of 472 votes. Three of the four magisterial districts voted dry, but No. 3 piled up a 656-vote wet majority which overweighed the comparatively slim dry leads in the other three districts.

Three years later — on Sept. 30, 1946 — the second county-wide test was held, and this time the county voted dry, 6,304 votes to 4,669.

An attempt to vote Prestonsburg wet was defeated March 26, 1949 when 588 dry votes were cast to 429 for the wets.

Two attempts were made to return the legal sale of whiskey to the town of Martin, and both were defeated — 219 to 168 on June 10, 1950 and 305 to 181 on March 6, 1954.

If you take a minute to check our list of winning vehicle identification numbers, you may know how it feels this week.

The contest's in its last week. So hurry. Here's how it works. Look at the first symbols (the prefix) on your vehicle identification slip. Then look at the symbols listed above. If you find yours on the list, you've taken the first step toward being a winner.

Now go see your Buick dealer. He has a list of 72 winners posted in his showroom. If you see your entire vehicle identification number on the poster—the symbols plus the rest of the numbers—$2332 cash is yours. (If your prefix isn't listed in this ad, don't give up. Your numbers may have been posted during the past six weeks. Every week 72 winners were posted on the showroom wall.

You may have missed your number before.) No slogan to invent, no puzzles to solve. In fact, you don't even have to own a Buick to have a winning number.

Contest Rules: Residents of Kansas, Missouri and Nebraska may, if they prefer, send in a postcard to R. L. Polk and Co., P.O. Box 1347, Detroit, Michigan 48231, and receive the weekly list of winning numbers by mail for comparison with their own vehicle identification number. An official entry form will be included. Sweepstakes limited to persons over 21 living in the continental U.S. Not valid in Florida or states where prohibited by law.

Hurry. Buick's $1,000,000 Sweepstakes is in its last week.

Lawson in Star Role For Georgia College; Logan 2nd in Contest

Keith Lawson, former Garrett high school basketball player, is starring as a freshman on the Abraham Baldwin College team at Tifton, Georgia.

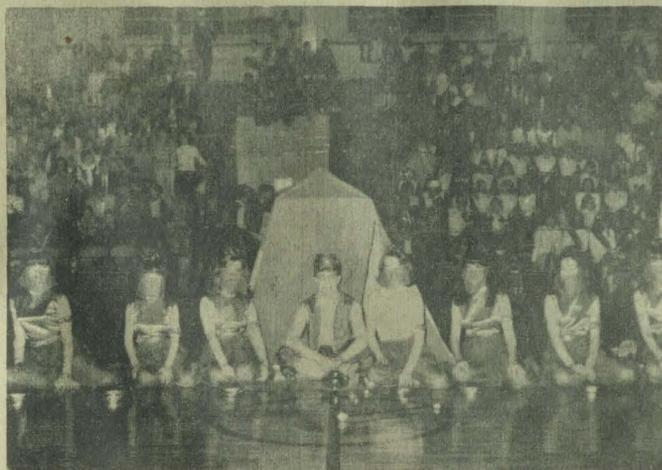

Baldwin's team is known as the Golden Stallions, and Lawson is now called "The Big Stallion."

He scored 41 points recently as his team defeated Georgia Military Academy, 113-94, in Baldwin's homecoming game. The win left Baldwin and Southern Tech in a deadlock for the lead in their conference.

Another Floyd countian, Dennis Logan, was runnerup to Lawson in the homecoming game in the scoring department with 17 points.

Lawson is a son of Hubbard Lawson, of Garrett.

A light rainfall can be as dangerous as a downpour, advises the Kentucky Department of Public Safety. In a heavy rain, safety becomes a matter of real concern, but drivers tend to forget that a little rain makes a road twice as dangerous until they lose control or slide into the car in front of them.

(Exact in size and shape)

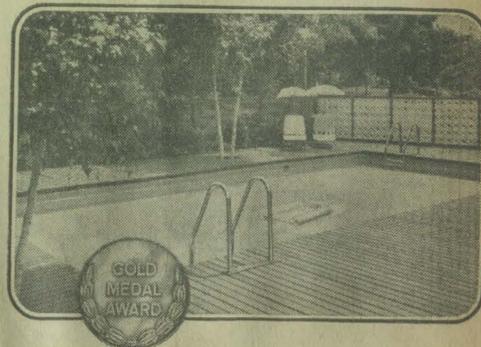

Suppose you use postal cards for direct mail advertising. Five thousand cards will cost you $200.

Forget the cost of printing and addressing the cards—but remember they alone cost $200.

Why do we suggest 5,000? Because that is almost the exact number of copies of the Floyd County Times that go to subscribers each week. (We mention 5,000 subscribers—only a fraction of the number who read The Times, weekly. The most authoritative study yet made shows at least 4 1-3 persons read each copy of a weekly newspaper. So at least 20,000 read The Floyd County Times every week of the year.)

Now, how much does an advertisement in The Times, exactly the same size as a postal card, cost you with no extras for printing, addressing and mailing? EXACTLY $6.82½. COMPARE THAT WITH $200! It Pays To Advertise in The Times.

OVER 57,000 KENTUCKIANS RECEIVE FOOD STAMP AID

About 12,000 Kentucky families received almost $440,000 worth of free food-coupons during February in the state-federal food stamp program.

State Economic Security Commissioner C. Leslie Dawson, who made the announcement, said almost 57,700 persons were helped in the 15 counties now participating in the program, largest in the nation.

Dawson said $480,000 was paid by the recipients to obtain a total of $845,000 worth of food coupons. The bonuses are provided by the U. S. Department of Agriculture while Economic Security administers the food coupon distribution.

In Floyd county there were 1288 families, or a total of 6,831 persons, helped by food coupons last month. The families were given bonuses of $42,072 which they matched with a total of $57,772 of their own for a total of $99,844.

The commissioner said the food stamp program is designed to enrich diets of the poor while developing their ability to purchase the best values in fresh foods and canned goods available in local stores.

Food stamps will be distributed in four additional counties (Bell, Clay, Elliott and Menifee) in April. Jackson, Knox, Lawrence and Rockcastle counties are included in preparation stages now and coupons will be distributed there in May, Dawson said.

Food coupons are spent in stores cooperating in the program and approved by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Certain items such as tobaccos, soaps, and imported foods are excluded under food stamp regulations.

CONGRESSMAN PERKINS FILES FOR REELECTION TO HOUSE

Frankfort, Ky. March 22 — Declaration papers for nomination as the Democratic candidate for re-election to Congress from the Seventh Congressional District of Kentucky were filed today for Representative Carl D. Perkins.

Perkins, who is seeking his tenth term in the U. S. House of Representatives is the ranking Democratic member of the Education and Labor Committee.

As chairman of the senior education subcommittee, he sponsored and successfully engineered the passage of the first federal act to aid the public elementary and secondary schools of the nation. In breaking down traditional Congressional opposition to such legislation, the Perkins Elementary and Secondary Education Act utilized the new concept of distributing funds according to the numbers of children coming from low-income families as a means of determining need. This strategy not only broke open traditional patterns of opposition to federal aid but also resulted in proportionately larger grants going to school districts with relatively fewer pupil populations but higher numbers of low-income families, characteristic of the school districts of Eastern Kentucky represented by Perkins.

In the previous Congress, Perkins was the author and sponsor of the Vocational Education Act of 1963. This legislation is providing more than four times the federal financial support of vocational education enterprises in Kentucky than was possible prior to its passage and is greatly strengthening facilities and programs offered in the state area vocational schools at Hazard, Ashland and Paintsville and their extensions into surrounding counties. This legislation for the first time provided federal funds for the construction of vocational education schools.

The Perkins subcommittee fashioned programs which have resulted in the Neighborhood Youth Corps and the Adult Basic Education Program now authorized and funded under the Economic Opportunities Act.

Perkins was co-sponsor and instrumental in the passage of the Manpower Development and Training Act and sponsored the inclusion in the Economic Opportunities Act of the work experience and training program for unemployed parents.

Perkins has not confined his activities and interest to the field of education but has been extremely active in supporting, and sponsoring measures to develop water resources and to provide flood protection for four major streams in Eastern Kentucky — the Upper Kentucky River, the Big Sandy, the Licking River, and the Ohio River.

In 1963, Perkins received the National Association of Vocational School Administrators' top award given to the person making the most outstanding contribution in the field of vocational education.

NATURAL BEAUTY

The natural beauty of lakes and streams, fields and forests, and grasslands and wetlands enriches our lives, the National Wildlife Federation reminds. However, these assets are in real danger of being damaged or lost in the growing competition from other uses of lands and waters. This problem will continue to grow as the nation's human population mounts. National Wildlife Week, March 20-26, is a period when people consider how natural beauty can best be preserved.

Federal Employees Not Free of Meters

Hopkinsville, Ky. — An appeal of an overtime parking violation by a Marine recruiting officer has been returned to police court for final disposition.

Sgt. Clifton Hix, 34, appealed to Christian circuit court after he was charged with the parking violation and fined $5. Hix said he was advised by superiors that federal employees were not subject to such regulation.

However, the Marine agreed later to dismissal of the appeal after the higher court ruled that parking meters were intended to regulate traffic instead of produce revenue. The court said Hix and other federal employees were subject to such traffic regulations.

There was no immediate word from city officials whether the fine would be paid or the case filed away.

IBBITS of KENTUCKY FOLKLORE

By GORDON WILSON, Ph. D.

BAREFOOT BOY
At the end of summer, 1965, a news item announced, as only news items can, that going barefooted is very rapidly becoming a passing institution. Now, isn't that something? Why, some snooty schools won't allow a barefoot boy or girl to enter the "sacred halls of learning," as political candidates used to call our rather tacky little one-roomed schoolhouses. As Will Parker, the engaging clown in Oklahoma, might ask: "Whut next?"

I'm a fellow who went barefooted from my first learning to walk until I got to be 18 and, therefore, old enough to begin teaching school. But, before July 1, 1907, the day I first began teaching, barefootedness and I were boon companions. And often since that date I have wished that enough solid citizens would start going barefooted so that I might follow suit. I am a bit too old to start such a style but game enough to be a follower.

What I most wonder about is how boys, especially, are going to grow up and be great men without having had all the exquisite experiences of going barefooted. In early spring, when home-knit yarn stockings came off on May 1 or on the day sheep were sheared, our feet, swathed so long in our heavy stockings, were very tender. Usually we wore some shabby stockings for a while to get our feet used to the rough ways of going barefooted. By degrees our feet toughened to the season, and we always swore that they were so tough that we could stomp a chestnut bur without hurting ourselves. Frankly, I never saw this done, but it was a supposed test, just like lifting a cat by its ears to see whether it (and President Johnson's dog) had any grit.

Along the way, from tender, whitish feet to tough, gingerbread-brown feet there were lots of adventures for feet, which had already come a long way from the adorable footies of baby days. Walking in soft dust in the road, wading mud wherever mud was to be found, wading in the cold spring branch, going in a-washing, drawing a starting line with the big toe for a game of marbles, drawing another line to double-dog some fellow to cross it, stumping off toenails when the boy trusted too much to the toughness of his feet — and on and on I could go, for I "was once a barefoot boy," as Whittier said in his famous poem. If any grown man now living and wearing shoes never got a splinter in his foot or even under a toenail, he ought to be ashamed of himself; I almost said he ought to get out right now and have this ennobling experience. Just last night I had to wrestle with a toenail of mine that is still too big for a toenail and almost big enough for a small-sized Shetland pony. You see, that toenail shows how I tore it or its long-ago predecessor off while playing "I Spy" and trying to cut through a dog-trot to home base; but the steps up and down into and out of that dog-trot were of heavy, rough-sawed oak. And thereby hangs a tale and hung my toenail; I haven't got to home base yet, even though that sudden tearing away of my nail took place along about 1898.

One of the best pictures of a one-roomed school I have ever seen is of the Maple Springs School, now long gone and its former glory swallowed up in the Mammoth Cave National Park. The striking thing is that every child was barefooted. No snooty little boy was done up in dress-up clothes, either; every boy sported his overalls, just as boys of the time should have been dressed. The teacher, now a National Park Ranger, gave me the picture, which I used in my booklet FOLKWAYS OF THE MAMMOTH CAVE REGION. In all probability some people will look at that picture and wonder whether the whole thing wasn't posed for some sort of publicity. But feet were made long before shoes, and these barefooted young chaps knew all the strange freedom that bare feet can have. I fear their descendants have not known so well the true barefoot-day joys and sorrows.

All too soon those feet shall hide
In the prison cells of pride."

Alice Lloyd Is Honored By Ky. House Resolution

In recognition of the 50th anniversary of Alice Lloyd College and Caney Creek Community Center, the Kentucky House of Representatives has passed a resolution honoring the college founder and educational pioneer, Mrs. Alice Geddes Lloyd.

Sponsored by Representative W. R. Smith, D-Hindman, and Representative W. J. Reynolds, Jr., D-Allen, the resolution recognizes Alice Lloyd's dynamic leadership in founding and developing elementary and secondary schools and community centers throughout Eastern Kentucky and emphasizes her outstanding role in establishing Alice Lloyd College, formerly Caney Junior.

The General Assembly called her efforts a "unique educational contribution . . . to the general welfare of all the citizens of the Commonwealth."

The college, which can trace its birth to Mrs. Lloyd's arrival on Caney Creek on October 16, 1916, officially begins its Founder's Year observance in June and a list of commemorative events are being scheduled throughout the 1966-1967 academic year.

Alice Lloyd alumnus Townsell Marshall, Middletown, Ohio, director of industrial engineering for Armco Steel Corporation, is acting as co-ordinator of the year-long program.

SPORTS AFIELD

By TED KESTING

Spring puts the zing in bass fishing, because it's that magical time of year when the largest fish are caught. And there are but two things you must know to catch these lunkers: (1) how to find them and (2) how to fool them.

Some fisherman believe big bass are where you find them. Well, after you've found one that's true. But there are methods that will keep you fishing where big bass are known to be, and thus increase your chances of catching them.

The primary item to consider is, how early can you start bass fishing? Some will tell you, right after the ice leaves the lakes. Others will tell you, when the water temperature reaches 55 to 62 degrees.

When water temperature falls below 55 degrees, the metabolism of the bass declines in proportion. "The lower it drops, the more torpid become the bass, until virtually all need for feeding ceases to exist," points out Homer Circle, Special Features Editor of Sports Afield Magazine. But at 55 degrees, the water is as compatible to a bass as 85-degree bath water is to you. And at 55 degrees or more, bass start looking for a place to spawn.

Spawning areas are easier to locate in lakes than in streams. One way is to observe the shore surface: where you see a rocky or gravelly terrain, then the lake bottom should be rocky or gravelly also. The other way is to slowly cruise the shoreline, looking for those telltale light, circular spots in three to four feet of water. These are bass beds which the male makes by fanning his tail and sweeping away the silt, right down to gravel or rocks.

Such areas are your primary targets. Secondary areas would be shallow bays with stumps, or weed beds just beginning to show signs of growth. This is where the bass will come for its food, between periods of lovenest construction.

The general rule for fishing in early spring is — slow and deep. This calls for lures like the jig, or jig-and-worm combinations; spoons; weighted spinners; bucktails and pork eels. These can be retrieved so slowly they'll nudge the bottom, and that's deadly at times.

Who says a '66 Ford rides quieter than Jean Bauchet's $12,000 Facel Vega?

Monsieur Jean Bauchet is an art collector and a connoisseur of fine automobiles. He understands that quiet in a car means quality. After driving a '66 Ford XL, he said, "They would not have to make Paris streets so smooth if all cars rode like this."

Jean Bauchet!

Ford's Quiet Man, who recently toured Europe demonstrating the exceptional quality of the '66 Ford to owners of some of the world's most expensive cars, here discusses a '66 Ford XL with Monsieur Bauchet outside of Monsieur Bauchet's Paris home.

"Such smoothness, such silence," says Jean Bauchet. "Your Ford is quieter, M'sieu."

Ford's quiet quality is the result of advanced engineering features like a revolutionary new frame that "tunes out" road vibrations... the strongest body ever on a Ford. But the quiet ride is just one of many reasons why you're ahead in a Ford all the way. Only Ford in its class offers Stereo-Sonic Tape Player option that brings you over an hour of uninterrupted music of your choice, on each self-threading, snap-in tape cartridge. Magic Doorgate for wagons (standard equipment) that opens out like a door and down like a tailgate, depending on whether you are loading kids or cargo. Silent-Flo Ventilation (on 4-door hardtops) that brings in fresh air and gets rid of smoke and stale air with the windows closed. Even Ford's keys are special—they're double-edged so they fit in locks either side up. Visit your Ford Dealer and test-drive a '66 from Ford. See how many ways Ford can put you ahead in '66.

You're ahead in a FORD all the way!

SOIL EROSION
 Mining, overgrazing, agricultural practices, and construction work often opens soil to erosion, the National Wildlife Federation points out. Natural beauty is preserved and the siltation of streams is reduced when soil scars are healed by the planting of suitable trees, shrubs and grasses. The preservation of natural beauty is the theme of the National Wildlife Week observance, March 20-26, and during the balance of 1966.

BIG SANDY UNDERWRITERS OFFER AID IN IMPLEMENTING MEDICARE PROGRAM

Members of the Big Sandy Association of Life Underwriters are cooperating in implementation of the Social Security Medicare program as part of a countrywide effort initiated by the National Association of Life Underwriters, trade association of life insurance agents, general agents and managers.

At the request of the Social Security administration, the local life underwriters are calling attention to the March 31, 1966, deadline for the voluntary, optional medical benefits part of the program and, wherever possible, getting full and accurate information on Medicare to all eligible persons who have not as yet enrolled.

In making known the local life underwriters' public service undertaking, Jack R. Burchett, Commonwealth Life Insurance Co., Pikeville, Kentucky, president of the Big Sandy Association, emphasized that those persons over 65 who do not sign up for the optional program by March 31 will not only have to wait until October 31, 1967, for another chance, but also will have to pay more for the same protection at that time.

Mr. Burchett also reminds those persons who have already refused to enroll in the optional benefits plan that they have time to change their minds before the March 31 deadline by notifying the Social Security Administration, Baltimore, Maryland, to that effect.

HOW TO PLAY 'MAKE MONEY'

- Get your free "Make Money" envelope on request at end of check-out lanes at any Kroger store — or store office.
- No purchase necessary to participate. Only one envelope per adult customer per store visit.
- Each "Make Money" envelope contains one half of a "Make Money" bill or a coupon for free Top Value Stamps.

 Collect both halves of $1,000 bill — win $1,000 in cash!
 Collect both halves of $500 bill — win $500 in cash!
 Collect both halves of $50 bill — win $50 in cash!
 Collect both halves of $10 bill — win $10 in cash!
 Collect both halves $5 bill — win $5 in cash!
 Collect both halves $1 bill — win $1 in cash!
- If you received a coupon for free Top Value Stamps, you can claim that prize, plus an extra "Make Money" envelope, by presenting the coupon at the check-out counter.
- Offer expires 15 days after closing date announcement in Kroger ads.
- Every winner consents to the use of his or her name and photo at the discretion of the Kroger Company.
- Employees of The Kroger Company, its advertising agency and members of their immediate families not eligible to win.
- Game pieces void if altered or defaced. Game void where prohibited or restricted by law.
