The old bridge collapsed under a coal truck about a year ago and was replaced with a culvert that proved incapable of handling the stream flow. DeRossett, in the center of the picture, had praise for his crew, describing them as "the boys who do the work but don't get the credit." They are Sheriffe Wells, Bill Marsillett, Lenvil Campbell, Charles Lewis, Carl Bays and Billy Merritt.

City Manager Evans Resigns Effective Aug.

After six-and-a-half years as city administrator here, David Evans has announced his resignation, effective August 11.

Leaving to accept a position with the Johnson county school system, Evans will teach children with learning and behavioral disorders in grades 7-12 at Johnson Central. It is a move he says he has wanted to make for some time.

Evans said he considered pursuing a teaching career while a student at Western Kentucky University. He took some education classes but, as he had changed majors "a couple of times," he was not able to finish the teacher certification program and graduate on time.

Graduating in 1977 with a B.S. in public administration, Evans first worked for the Big Sandy Area Development District office here, before becoming city administrator for the city of Morehead. He left Morehead after about a year, when the city administrator position became available here.

During the fall semester of 1983, Evans attended Morehead State University, finishing his teacher certification program. He left here for MSU at 4 a.m., Monday through Friday, attended classes there and then came back to Prestonsburg to fulfill his duties as city administrator for the city of Morehead. He left Morehead after about a year, when the city administrator position became available here.

Building Plan, Closing Dates, See Revisions

Floyd school authorities did not get all they wanted but they did receive uncommon praise when they appeared last Wednesday before the state Board of Education in Frankfort.

The state panel, adopting a recommendation of its hearing officer, revised the Floyd school district's building priorities to lift the construction of a new Garrett grade school from ninth to third place, behind the Prestonsburg middle school and Allen grade school projects. The Floyd board had requested the amendment.

However, the state board insisted, also on the recommendation of hearing officer Dr. Dan Branham, that construction of a new Left Beaver high school be fourth on the building agenda, an apparent concession to state legislators Greg Stumbo and Benny Ray Bailey, who had argued vigorously for its inclusion in the top four. The new school will consolidate the Wheelwright and McDowell high schools.

Construction of a classroom addition at Betsy Layne grade school, which the Floyd board had listed as fourth on the agenda, will now be listed fifth.

Superintendent Ray Brackett said he was "not displeased" with the plan adopted by the state board, describing it as "a good start toward providing as many buildings as we can for as many children as we can."

In any event, any disappointment at the state board's modification of the Floyd board's building intentions paled against the glowing accolade bestowed by the state panel on the new Floyd administration. Brackett had completed his report on progress here, and longtime board critic Joyce Everly was making the point that outspoken "teachers no longer feel threatened," when members of the state board broke into applause.

Deputy State Superintendent Dan Branham said later that Brackett was "one of the first superintendents" he knew to receive such an accolade from the state board. An obviously satisfied Brackett said, "It was a positive note. I felt good about it for the district."

Beshear Boosts State Knowhow and Talent

Lt. Gov. Steven Beshear struck a pensive pose as he listened to another speaker at the "conference on the future" he organized last Friday at May Lodge.

Despite Kentucky's recent coup in landing Toyota, the state's economic future depends more on nurturing homegrown industries than on attracting out-of-state firms, Lieut.-Gov. Steven Beshear told a May Lodge audience Friday.

Beshear told about 100 local government workers, political and business leaders, who gathered for a one-day "regional conference on the future," that the basis of economic growth here will be "businesses born of Kentucky knowhow and talent." Public investment in creating new Kentucky businesses and expanding existing firms would prove more profitable than "chasing industries and branch plants from elsewhere," he said.

The conference was the eighth of 15 being held around the state by the Kentucky Tomorrow Commission, of which Beshear is chairman. The commission's final report, which is due in July, will contain more than 200 recommendations in areas ranging from culture and the arts to science and technology, all aimed at making Kentucky more self-reliant, the lieutenant-governor said.

In a series of talks that were generally heavier on slogans and boosterism than on hard questions or concrete proposals, Beshear spoke of a "revolution changing the way we work, the way we play, even how long we live," and said he wanted to offer "a vision of the best that Kentucky can be."

"The rules are being re-written," he said. "We need to wean ourselves from the outdated policies of the past."

Beshear, who is raising money for a 1987 bid for governor, created the Kentucky Tomorrow commission last year. The panel's recommendations will be directed to legislative committees, local governments, business leaders, and the governor, he said.

In an earlier talk, Louisa attorney Bill Jackson also sounded a theme of self-help, naming education as "the number one problem" in this area. "We need to

Martin Man Loses Leg In Accident

Steven Wayne Debord, 21, of Martin, lost a leg early Sunday morning when struck by a train in the Dinwood section, near Martin.

According to Debi Bentley, administrative secretary at Our Lady of the Way Hospital, Martin, Debord was taken there first, but was transferred immediately to the University of Kentucky Medical Center, Lexington. Bentley listed Debord's condition as guarded when he left Martin. The UK Medical Center listed him in fair condition Monday.

Members of the Floyd County Emergency and Rescue Squad, state police, the Floyd sheriff's department, and an ambulance were dispatched to the scene at about 3:45 a.m. Sunday, after the train's conductor radioed that the accident had occurred.

Rescue squad member Onda Hunt said Debord, whose right leg was severed below the knee, was trapped under the locomotive when help arrived. Hunt, other rescue squad members Chuck Akers and Dwayne Gayheart, and ambulance attendant Ricky Branham labored under the train for about 45 minutes, gradually working Debord free.

Hunt said train accidents such as this are more difficult to deal with than auto accidents, as the "jaws of life" tool used in freeing people trapped in cars is ineffective on the heavier, thicker train metal.

Spurlock Named As Chamber Chairman

Prestonsburg banker Burl Wells Spurlock was named chairman of the board of the Kentucky Chamber of Commerce at the organization's annual meeting in Louisville recently. Spurlock, who was vice-chairman of the board, assumes his new post as the Chamber, which lists 2000 businesses as members, enters its 40th year.

Robbery, Theft High On Grand Jury List

A Printer man was indicted last week by a Floyd Circuit Court grand jury on criminal abuse charges, following complaints that he harassed four children who were about to board a school bus at McDowell grade school. The true bills allege that Jeffery Blackburn tried to pick up two of the children, picked up a third, and picked up and restrained another.

At a meeting of the Floyd Board of Education in March, Peggy Tackett, of Minnie, complained that a man had approached her eight-year-old daughter five times, once holding the child until she screamed in terror. The three other children were boys.

Glen Russell "Rusty" Huff, of Garrett, faces two counts of wanton endangerment following allegations by Ella Halbert, John Glen Halbert, and Garner Ray Halbert that he drew alongside their car, shooting into it, on March 30 and April 2.

Johnny Crisp faces an identical charge for allegedly shooting into Link Sammons' home on February 22.

Indicted on five counts of burglary and one of possessing burglar's tools were two Beauty men, Charles Steven Marcum and Bob Lynn McCoy. The grand jury alleges that on March 26 they broke into houseboats belonging to Harry Charles, Jr., Clyde Burchett, and Dottie Peters.

Also indicted for burglary were A.C. Collins, of McDowell, accused of stealing a stereo, VCR, and guns from the home of Robert Keith Carter on Feb. 21; Robert Warren Walton and Tommy Ray Goble, accused of breaking into David Caldwell's home on November 26 last year; Michael D. Watkins, for allegedly stealing materials from the VanHoose Lumber Company on Feb. 26; James R. Jacobs, of Wayland, said to have stolen a shotgun from Randall Johnson's house on March 15; Ernie Gilliam, Jr., of Wheelwright, accused of stealing candy, cigarettes and cash from a Wheelwright business owned by Henry Hall on Feb. 22; Terry Howard, accused of breaking into the home of Darlene Ratliff, injuring her, on April 4; and Donald Ray Tackett, John D. Tackett, and Frank Hall, accused of stealing property from the home of Tony Slone on May 8.

Indicted on theft charges (with the grand jury's allegations in parentheses) were Michael D. Watkins (theft of 1986 Oldsmobile from Ed Walters Motors on Feb. 26); Ruby Ann Watkins (theft of 1978 Monte Carlo from Elizabeth Bingham on Feb. 21); Effie C. Webb (theft of property from B.W. McDonald on March 15); Johnny C. Patton and Brian K. Castle (theft of property from DFM, Inc. on April 14), the pair also indicted on a charge of criminal mischief; Randy Lee Howell (theft of vehicle from Blackhawk Mining Co. on April 24); Glen Dale Frasure (theft of vehicle from

City Seeks To Void Cable Co. Franchise

Battle lines have been more clearly drawn in the city's TV cable war.

Raging for several years, the conflict will presumably come to a head soon, the result of a four-count suit filed May 6 in Floyd Circuit Court. In the suit, the city of Prestonsburg seeks to void CCG Two, Inc.'s (aka Consolidated Communications) exclusive franchise here. The suit comes just as the cable company is beginning what regional manager Marty Crawford describes as a complete system renovation.

The first count alleges the cable company failed to pay 1985 franchise fees on time. Count two alleges that CCG Two's predecessors-in-title failed to pay franchise fees based on gross receipts and that CCG Two is responsible for paying their back debt. Count three alleges that the cable company has failed to abide by conditions agreed upon in 1984—including response to customer complaints within 24 hours, implementation of a preventive maintenance program, designation of checkpoints to examine for system upkeep, improved communication with the city, and making a good-faith attempt to improve the signal. The final count charges that, while customers are paying $9.92 per month for basic, 12-channel service, CCG Two has, through negligence and willful disregard, refused to provide adequate service, resulting in interruptions in service due to worn and antiquated equipment.

Crawford counters that the city has never responded to a system upgrade proposed by his company in November. The outgoing mayor and council deferred to the present administration, which, he says, has ignored the proposal and concentrated its efforts on changing the franchise agreement. Crawford has said in the past that the franchise is valid and that his company will not consider changes.

Crawford, who says the suit is completely unfounded, calls count one, regarding the late payment of 1985 fees, particularly unreasonable. The fees were paid three days late. Crawford said he had planned to hand-deliver them to Mayor Ann Latta but, thanks to a cancelled meeting, sent them instead by courier. However, that count is most significant, says City Attorney Larry Brown, as it is clearly specified in the franchise that late payment is prohibited.

Having replaced about six miles of cable in mid-March, Crawford says the next major renovation push is planned for May 16. He added that the city had not brought its complaints to CCG Two before filing suit.

"The first time I heard about the complaints from the city was when I read the suit," he said. "According to contract I should have 90 days to fix things."

But Brown remained firm that the city has a strong case. "They cannot sidestep the fact they violated the contract with the late payment of fees," he said.

McNally, Gray Appeal Denied

A U.S. Court of Appeals panel has upheld the 1984 fraud and conspiracy convictions of Prestonsburg businessman Charles J. McNally and former state cabinet official James E. Gray.

The Sixth Circuit panel held in Cincinnati Monday that there was sufficient evidence to convict the two men on charges of accepting kickbacks on the state's workers' compensation insurance policies.

McNally and Gray have been free on bond pending their appeal. They face a maximum penalty of five years in prison and a $10,000 fine for conspiracy and five years and a $1000 fine for mail fraud. McNally's attorney, Frank Haddad, said both men would petition the appeals

Homeowner Is Loser To Tipple Operation

A Clear Creek homeowner's argument that a nearby coal-washing plant should not be allowed to operate is without merit, a circuit court judge held last week.

The ruling by Franklin Circuit Judge Ray Corns came in response to a suit filed by Palmer Humphrey, who claimed the state Cabinet for Natural Resources and Environmental Protection abused its discretion last year when it granted a new permit to the Left Beaver Coal Co. to operate its Ligon tipple.

The company was denied a permit in 1984 after Clear Creek residents claimed the operation had polluted their water supply and the firm's system of injecting slurry waste into worked-out deep mines was held inadequate for preventing groundwater pollution. Left Beaver Coal, a Turner Elkhorn Mining Co. subsidiary, then resubmitted its application with a different waste-disposal system, which the cabinet approved in October. Humphrey said he plans to appeal Corns' decision.

Sen. Bailey To Address PCC Graduating Class

Two-hundred-twelve graduates will hear State Senator Benny Ray Bailey when he delivers the address at Prestonsburg Community College's 21st commencement to be held at 7:30 p.m., Friday, May 16, at the First Baptist (Irene Cole Memorial) Church, here.

Senator Bailey, who was awarded the John D. Rockefeller Public Service Award in 1978, received his first college degree of associate of arts from Alice Lloyd College. He went on to earn a B.A. from Pikeville College, a master's degree from Indiana State University, and Ph.D. degree from Ohio University. He has been widely recognized for his work in education and public health as well as for papers and speeches on problems of Appalachia.

DUI Charges Abound Here

Two drunk-driving prosecutions failed because a police officer did not appear in court, County Attorney David Barber claimed this week. But his own failure to notify a defendant that he was to be tried for a third offense resulted in the man's being tried only as a first offender, the prosecutor admitted.

A drunk-driving charge against Mays Branch physician Dr. Seelam A. Reddy, 34, was dismissed, and a jury acquitted Charles D. Osborne, 36, of Stambaugh, of an identical charge, after Prestonsburg Patrolman Mike Meade failed to answer a summons Monday for trials scheduled in Floyd District Court.

While Sgt. Gerald Clark testified in the case against Osborne, the testimony of Meade—who claimed to have seen him drag racing—was necessary to show that the defendant's driving was impaired, the prosecutor said. Cross-examined by defense attorney Jerry Patton, Clark conceded he had not noticed any staggering on the defendant's part or any slurring of his speech; nor had he seen evidence that Osborne's driving was impaired, although he recorded .10 on the breath test, the officer said.

Kenneth A. Campbell, 25, of West Prestonsburg, pleaded guilty to a DUI charge—his third conviction under the 1984 drunk driving law—and was ordered to put in two days of public service with the Prestonsburg Fire Department and pay $207 in fine and court costs.

The penalty could have been much heavier, including a mandatory jail sentence, except that District Judge Harold Stumbo ruled that he be tried as a first offender. The ruling came after defense attorney C.V. Reynolds argued that his client had received no written notice that he was to be tried for a third offense and so was subject to heavier penalties.

County Attorney Barber attributed to overwork the failure of his staff to send out the required notice.

Other DUI convictions logged Monday:

Paul D. Wells, Prestonsburg, 15 days' jail, $507; Roger Parsons, 31, Prestonsburg, $424; Janet Gibson, 32, Cliffsides, five days, $407; Janet C. Halbert, 47, Martin, $357; John Clark, Prestonsburg, two days' public service, $157; Clarence L. Childers, 33, Louisa, 10 days, $457.

A DUI charge against Cledus Ousley, 30, of St. Louis, Mo., was amended to public intoxication on account of a relatively low (.08) BA reading. A like charge against Bobby Bryant, 47, of East Point, was dismissed, defense attorney C.V. Reynolds arguing successfully that the arresting officer, Prestonsburg Police Capt. D.J. Conley, did not see his client drive the vehicle.

Dale Christian Conn, 36, of Tram, was convicted in his absence of trespass, disorderly conduct, and intoxication, sentenced to five days and ordered to pay $157. Frank H. Shepherd, of Gunlock, was fined $100 for regarding a stop sign and for littering. Roger D. Cartmell, 36, of Auxier, was ordered to pay $47 in court costs after pleading guilty to driving on a suspended license and without insurance. Todd J. Crace, of Allen, who did not appear for trial, was ordered to pay $87 in fine and costs for driving on a suspended license. Michael Dale Wallen, of Allen, convicted of escape and intoxication, was sentenced to 30 days and ordered for pay $87.

HRMC Wins Awards

Carol Blevins, HRMC's Public Information Officer, displays the awards received by the hospital from the Kentucky Hospital Society for Public Relations.

Two publications produced by Highlands Regional Medical Center received awards at the annual meeting of the Kentucky Hospital Association's Society for Public Relations. The annual meeting was held in Louisville, May 5, 6, & 7.

The Tower brochure received one of 24 Thoroughbred Awards given at the meeting. The Thoroughbred Award is given for the best entry in the category. The Tower Menu received a Certificate of Merit from the Association.

HRMC's Public Information Officer, Carol Blevins, who accepted the awards in behalf of the hospital said she was very pleased.

"We only sent in three entries," added Blevins, "and to have two of them win awards when you are competing with hospitals all across the state is a great honor. Competing in events like the Thoroughbred Awards is one more way of getting people outside our area to recognize the high quality of health care we offer at HRMC."

Council Votes $4,000 For Pool Renovation

An impassioned plea from Park Board Chairman Bill Ray Collins convinced Prestonsburg's city council to authorize $4,000 and the use of three city employees to aid in the renovation of Archer Park's swimming pools.

At Monday's council meeting, Collins said the condition of the three pools there posed the biggest problem facing the park. He estimated the cost of materials slone at $3,500. The repairs are necessary, he said, before the pool's Memorial Day opening.

Mayor Ann Latta suggested funding the project with money from the more than $70,000 windfall natural gas tax the city received in January. Councilwoman Margie Osborne suggested rounding the figure off at $4,000.

"This pool is a nightmare," said Collins. "This is a losing situation until we get the pipes fixed so water can circulate."

Aside from new pipes, the pools need new drains and tiles, along with repairs to the underwater lighting system. Patchwork on the big pool is estimated at $1,500, while $2,000 is needed for work on the two children's pools.

In addition to the $4,000, the park will receive an extra bonus. Councilman Bill Callihan told Collins he would donate his monthly $25 salary for serving on the council to the park.

Collins said the park also needs beefed-up nightly police patrols. "The park wants and needs a police patrol every hour on the hour" to combat vandalism, he said, adding that a security guard will have to be hired at some point, to completely alleviate vandalism.

In other action, the council unanimously passed a resolution requesting state Transportation Secretary C. Leslie Dawson to prohibit coal trucks from travelling through town. The ban is requested along KY 1428 from the intersection of 1428 and Rt. 3, and the intersection of 1428 and the U.S. 23 and 460 interchange.

Exempted would be trucks operated by or for Uptown Mining, which is located within the city limits. The resolution came after discussion of the coal truck problem at council's April 28 meeting, and a statement then by Police Chief Stan Fletcher that his department would stop all coal trucks driving through town.

An issue unresolved for several weeks was addressed by some council members—enough to see it laid to rest for the present. With four of seven council members abstaining, a motion made by Councilman William O. Goebel, III, passed to uphold the city planning and zoning commission's recommendation to deny a zoning variance for the Arnold Avenue lot now occupied by Brown's Motor Court.

Though a number of Arnold Ave. residents were on hand to encourage the change, which would have allowed the Branham and Baker Coal Co. to replace the motel with a two-story office building, Mayor Latta said it was inappropriate to go against the city's comprehensive plan, which calls for keeping Arnold Ave. intact as a residential neighborhood, even if residents request such a change.

The residents said they felt the office building would be more appropriate there than the motel. Though Brown's has been run as a commercial enterprise, it was grandfathered into the residentially-zoned neighborhood. For it to be replaced with another business would require a zoning variance from the council.

The vote came after Goebel had twice made a motion to disallow the change. After dying for want of a second the first time, the motion was finally seconded by Harry Ray Porter, after Latta's explanation of the city's options. Only Goebel, Porter and Osborne voted on the motion—all yea—with Gary Brown, Frank Adams, Bobby Ranier and Bill Callihan abstaining. The abstentions meant those council members had given up their vote, so the motion officially carried 3-0.

It was announced that the city, in conjunction with the Prestonsburg Business Association, will sponsor a Farmer's Market in the Riverfront Parking Lot on Saturdays, beginning May 31 and continuing throughout the summer. The market will operate from 8 a.m.-2 p.m., and only those people living in the immediate vicinity of Prestonsburg or Floyd county who do not raise produce for commercial sale will be eligible to become members and sell there.

Other rules include: members must agree not to arrive at the market prior to 7:45 a.m., nor begin selling prior to 8 a.m. They may only sell produce raised by themselves or members of their family. Only quality produce may be sold, and at prices posted at the selling area. Vendors will be required to clean up and remove all trash from their immediate area, prior to leaving. Membership dues will be $5 per year or $1 per day.

As part of a city beautification program, Latta announced the city's leasing of the area between city hall and the Town Center Plaza, which will be converted into a mini-park. The property will be leased from Frank Fitzpatrick for $1 per year, until such time as Fitzpatrick decides to develop the site.

Council voted to allow fund-raising road blocks only for the Floyd County Emergency and Rescue Squad, the Disabled American Veterans, the two local Shrine groups, the Arthritis Foundation, Disaster and Emergency Services, and Little League, in the future.

EKU Commencement Scheduled May 17

Robert D. Bell of Lexington, retired Ashland Oil executive and a leading advocate for higher education in the state of Kentucky, will be the speaker Saturday, May 17, during Eastern Kentucky University's 79th spring commencement exercises.

EKU is expected to confer about 1,300 degrees during the 1:30 p.m. ceremony at Hanger Field, including 174 associate, 962 bachelor's, 164 master's and three specialist in education degrees. Many of EKU's 687 December graduates also are expected to participate in the afternoon program.

Eastern President Hanly Funderbuck will preside over the ceremony, which is open to the public.

Bell serves as a member of the Governor's Scholars Program's Board of Directors and the Kentucky Tomorrow Commission. He also chairs Kentucky Advocates for Higher Education.

Rollin R. Richards, a 1929 EKU graduate and retired member of the EKU faculty, will join Bell as the 1986 honorary degree recipients. Both will receive honorary doctor of laws degrees.

reputation as a collector of antiquities. "A pile of junk," he says, with a self-deprecating gesture. "When I'm gone, it'll take them a week to push it over the creek bank."

But that is not meant seriously. The truth is he loves the stuff. The hands that fashioned it. The families that survived by it. The comfort it gave. The scores it settled. The dreams it nurtured and put to rest.

For May, the bric-a-brac of quotidian life in times long gone is a legacy. A legacy of pioneers and of peoples for whom the pioneers were latter-day interlopers. Something handed down and to be handed on.

"I've walked every ridge, every holler, every branch," says May who, 30 years ago, paced out a line from Charleston, W. Va. to Maytown, five miles a day, every mile on foot. Some 7000 miles of gas company pipes snake around these hills, he'll tell you, many of them along routes mapped since 1926 by Newton May. As if his love for the place might have been absorbed through the very soles of his boots.

"Wonderful people," the 82-year-old engineer says of the householders he met along the way. And if they did not all greet his arrival with the same warmth, he could understand why. Smooth talkers with broad-form deeds had been this way before him, and revenue agents were still combing the hills in search of illegal whiskey.

To hear May talk of landholding companies that "stole people's land but don't pay enough taxes to buy a school bus," or of revenue agents cutting up stills "out of meanness" and then "dividing up the moonshine with bankers and politicians," is to know whose side he's on. For those who distilled it, moonshine earned the cash that bought them "a little calico, some salt or pepper," he explained. "They had nothing. They made it for survival."

If Newt May still gets angry when he thinks of tycoons grown fat on the coal they acquired from unsuspecting mountaineers or of revenue agents entertaining city slickers with a poor man's liquor, it is because, for ordinary people in the times he's not about to forget, survival did not come easy.

Perhaps it is because his roots and his memories go back to pioneer days—to John May, who came with 80 slaves from Tennessee to settle on Shelby Creek in 1790 and whose descendants would settle in the Right Beaver community that now bears their name. Or because his mother, Causetta Osborne May, was a collector of historical lore. Or because his father, James A. May—chairman of the Floyd Board of Education for 25 years and a state representative in 1932—himself played no small role in shaping the county's history.

In any event, his "junk"—his arrowheads and augers, his grindstones and faded readers—tell a story that, for May, has a kind of sacred quality. "So many children any more don't even know their grandparents, how they lived, what they were like," he lamented. "It's such a tragedy."

In a world where heedless moderns would let the old light die, Newt May is a keeper of the flame.

court for a rehearing and, if necessary, would take their case to the U.S. Supreme Court.

According to testimony in the case, former state Democratic Chairman Howard "Sonny" Hunt arranged to have a Lexington insurance agency kick back a percentage of its commissions in return for its retaining the state's workers' compensation business after Julian Carroll was elected governor in 1974. Between 1975 and 1979 a total of $200,000 was paid to a firm called Seton Investments, for which McNally was described as front man. The payments went to buy Lexington and Florida condominiums, which were at Gray's and McNally's disposal, according to testimony.

administrator.

"It certainly was a goal I always had," he said. "I thought about it a lot and prayed about it a lot, too. In 1983, the doors seemed to open. The council was gracious enough to let me go to Morehead."

While he is unwilling to take credit for improvements here during his tenure, some of the more significant advances Evans had a hand in are the completion of the Cliff access road, the bridge project currently underway to connect the Goble-Roberts Addition to KY 1428, and the restructuring of the planning and zoning commission.

Evans' plans were formally announced at Monday's meeting of the city council. After reading aloud Evans' letter of resignation, Mayor Ann Latta said the city appreciated the administrator's years of service and that he would be missed. "Dave has really been the bulwark of city government for several years. He has been of invaluable assistance to me and it's going to be difficult to replace him," she said.

Evans was granted emergency certification by the Johnson County Board of Education and will need nine more hours before he is officially certified as an LBD teacher. He began a class Monday at Pikeville College to begin meeting that obligation and plans to finish the remaining six hours this summer at MSU. Long-range plans call for a masters degree in education.

"I can honestly say I did my best," Evans said Monday of his years as city administrator. "I don't think anybody who sets goals for themselves ever accomplishes everything they want to. No matter how much is done, there's always more. I just hope I've contributed in some small part to the community and the area."

Pikeville accountant Jerome A. Kanney, citing banking and other business growth in the area, called on his audience to "open your eyes to the good things happening around us."

Melvin Hamilton on December 25); Eugene Tackett (theft of 1980 Chevrolet from Larry D. Elswick on May 1); and Gary Compton, of Prestonsburg (theft of property from Big Lot's on Jan. 17).

Indicted for receiving stolen property were three Magoffin men, Dwayne Joseph, Willie Bailey, and Freddy A. Prater, accused of having goods stolen from Janice Prater and Doris Pennington on Feb. 9; and Roger Dean Parsons, said to have been in possession of property stolen from Sue Ward last June 20.

Theft by deception charges were listed against Frankie Berry, of Van Lear (for allegedly passing worthless checks for $159 and $160 at Maloney's store on Dec. 3 and Dec. 4); E.M. Webb, ($6031 check to Sandy Valley Explosives on Jan. 9); James Davis, Jr. (two checks for $1732 to Robert W Processing on March 17 and March 24); Virgil Tackett, of Beaver (checks for $447 and $1327 to United Supply Company on Jan. 30); Vanessa McKinney, of Harold (checks for $126 and $600 to Kentucky Carpet Co. on May 3, 1984 and Jan. 25, 1986); Rose Cox ($300 check to David or Brenda Ratliff on Feb. 2), also charged with possession of a check bearing the forged signature of Clotie Whitaker; Rosemary Cox, ($500 check cashed at the Bank Josephine on April 15), also charged with possessing a check in the same amount bearing the forged signature of Gertrude H. Arnett.

Glenn Kidd and Barbara Kidd were indicted on charges of growing and trafficking in marijuana; also indicted for growing marijuana were Hie Sammons, Denny Hoover, Paul Roberts, and Randall A. Robinson.

Dewey Lee Rogers was indicted on a charge of fraudulently receiving $1368 in food stamps between July, 1982 and June, 1983; Jimmy Douglas Salisbury and Deborah Lynn Salisbury were accused of defrauding their creditors by removing groceries and equipment which were subject to a security interest last October; Chillis Meade is accused of fraudulently receiving $1017 in food stamps between April and July, 1984, and Levita Meade is accused of fraudulently receiving $761 in AFDC during the same period; Charlean Hamilton was indicted on charges of fraudulently receiving $1495 in food stamps and $1190 in AFDC between March and August last year.

Indicted for flagrant non-support was William Thurman Flanery, accused by Gail Lawson of failing to provide for his seven year-old daughter from January through May this year.

Our Yesterdays

(Items taken from The Floyd County Times, 10, 20, 30, 40 and 50 years ago.)

Ten Years Ago

(May 12, 1976)

Two raids by county officers over the past week netted a sizeable quantity of beer and liquor. The Prestonsburg city council last Thursday authorized Mayor William O. Goebel and City Clerk Beverly Hackworth to execute to the Floyd County Humane Society a lease on a two-acre Middle Creek tract as a site for a future animal shelter. The American Cancer Society needs to raise $5,000 in Floyd county this year in order to continue its program of research, education and help. And an intensive canvass of the county has been planned. Descendants of the feuding Hatfields and McCoy's—including two who were alive at the time of the battles—gathered May 2 at a tangled, vine-covered cemetery beside Blackberry Creek, Pike county, to formally bury the hatchet in a feud whose hostilities ended before the turn of the century. A large group of area citizens and several local officials gathered Friday evening at May Lodge, Jenny Wiley State Park, in a show of support for Kentucky Educational Television (KET). Blake Robert Burchett and Susan Vaughn Martin, both of Prestonsburg, have been selected to serve as student leaders to help in the orientation of new students at Transylvania University, next September. Kim Hall, 16-year-old Allen Central senior and Rebelette basketball standout, has been chosen to play in the state East-West All-Star game. It was announced last week by Rebelette coach Patty Murphy. Two students from Prestonsburg received degrees Sunday during commencement exercises at the University of Louisville. Gregory Damron Stumbo received a juris doctor degree, while Evelyn E. Salisbury received a doctor of medicine degree. Born: to Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Bundy, of Thelma, a daughter, Rebecca Lynn, April 3 at Highlands Regional Medical Center; to Mr. and Mrs. Proctor Tackett, of Staffordsville, a son, Carl Junior, April 18 at HRMC. There died: Darvin Webb, 67, of Dwale, Thursday at Highlands Regional Medical Center; Payne Douglas Lemaster, 37, of West Liberty, formerly of Prestonsburg, in a automobile-train accident near his home, April 17; Bee Bolen, 67, of Garrett, Saturday at St. Joseph's Hospital, Lexington; Dewey Cook, formerly of Topmost, May 6 at a Gallipolis, Ohio hospital; Grace Sturgill, 83, of Harold, April 29; Hauley Conley, 62, of Prestonsburg, May 5 at the University of Kentucky Medical Center, Lexington; Rev. E. Hampton Barnette, 86, former pastor of the First Methodist Church here, Friday at Pikeville.

Twenty Years Ago

(May 2, 1966)

Small mines of the county began Monday to move back gradually into coal production, but several operations had not returned to work by mid-week. The Times was told. The Prestonsburg Community College ended its second year Tuesday and began immediately to look toward new work this summer and a big increase in its student body next fall. A mass of arctic air descended on Floyd county during the night Sunday, and the next night saw the worst killing frost experienced in this section in years. County Clerk C. "Ollie" Robinson said this week that 24,850 Floyd countians will be eligible to vote in the May 24 primary. Miss Jackie Slone, representing Maytown High School, was named Floyd County Music Festival Queen here Saturday. There died: Henry Thomas Cooper, 80, formerly of Drift and Banner, Friday at Sunbury, Ohio; Mrs. Mary Salisbury, 74, formerly of Hunter, last Monday at Sandusky, Ohio; Mrs. Hattie Webb, 86, of Prestonsburg, Tuesday at Our Lady of the Way Hospital, Martin.

Thirty Years Ago

(May 10, 1956)

A special program will be presented Sunday, May 20, in the grade school auditorium here in honor of the opening of the Floyd County Hall of Fame. Sheriff Gorman Collins said Wednesday that the Federal Communications Commission has granted permission for the installation and operation here of a short-wave radio communications system in connection with law enforcement. The Drift Presbyterian Church was officially organized Sunday afternoon, with 14 charter members. An extra inning was required at Drift, Sunday, before the bat of Joe Weddington lined out a home run, breaking a 4-4 tie and defeating the Drift entry in the Lonesome Pine League, 6-5. There died: Mrs. Jane Thornsbury, 71, last Friday at her home at Estill; Thomas J. Martin, 68, of Eastern, Wednesday at St. Mary's Hospital, Huntington, W. Va.; Harry Castle, 70, last Thursday at his home at Garrett; Martin L. Johnson, 73, former Floyd county magistrate and a merchant at Weeksbury for 40 years, Wednesday near Melvin.

Forty Years Ago

With eight trains serving the people of this county scheduled for suspension of their runs beginning Friday of this week, and with all bus lines in the county still strike-bound, public transportation nears the vanishing point. After the pros and cons of the Big Sandy canalization project had been voiced before the House Rivers and Harbors Committee in Washington, Monday and Tuesday, Congressman A. J. May expressed confidence that the committee would give a favorable report on the project. Mollie Rose, 20-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eli Bryant, of Hi Hat, was drowned in Left Beaver Creek, Sunday, near the Bryant home. The Prestonsburg-David road will receive bituminous surfacing this year over more than half its length. W. J. Turner, Drift merchant, purchased the Morrell Supply Company, here, last Thursday, for an amount admitted to be "over $100,000". The First Guaranty Bank, the county's latest, will open for business in temporary quarters at Martin, Saturday morning. Married: Miss Martha Caudill, of Martin, and Mr. G. B. Minton, of Louisville, at Louisville; Miss Phoebe Bray, of West Prestonsburg, and Mr. Glenn Allen, of Goodloe, Saturday at the Methodist Church here; Miss Peggy Joyce Spradlin, of Cliff, and Mr. Douglas George, of West Prestonsburg, Saturday at Ashland; Miss Virginia Lee Collins, of Prestonsburg, and Mr. Joel David Martin, of Edgar, here, May 6. Born: to Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Branham, of Martin, a daughter, Theresa Ann, April 30. There died: Henry S. Allen, 38, last Thursday at home at West Prestonsburg; Seymour M. Prater, 60, near his home at Hueysville, Saturday; Mrs. Sarah A. Frazier, 89, at the home of her son Caner Frazier, at Martin, Sunday.

Fifty Years Ago

(May 8, 1936)

Bids are being asked by the Floyd county board of education this week on construction of seven school buildings and a one-room addition to another school. The Rev. Wilson Cole, 45, Holiness minister, was killed Sunday morning when struck by a train near Betsy Layne. Ambrose Compton, 25, was shot and killed Sunday afternoon near his parents' home at Dinwood. Edgar Aldridge, alias Tom Ledford, alleged automobile thief and fugitive North Carolina convict, died Thursday at Methodist Hospital, Pikeville, of a bullet wound received March 8 at Drift when he was shot by an agent of the FBI. Claude Huff, of Lackey, was seriously injured Thursday evening in an auto wreck on the Lackey-Hindman road near Ball Branch, Jones Fork. There died: J. E. Hale, 81, at his home at Prestonsburg, Monday; Mrs. Elizabeth Laven Johns, at her home at Dwale, Saturday night; Hillard Baldrige, 28, of Hueysville, at the Paintsville Hospital, Sunday; Thomas Nelson, 73, at the home of his son, Highland Nelson, on Town Branch, Wednesday; John Mosley, 83, Wednesday at his home at Emma; Hilla Bailey, seven years old, of Wheelwright, at the Beaver Valley Hospital, Friday; Oran Morris, 18, at home at Estill, Wednesday; Edgar Hicks, 8, of Wayland, Tuesday at the Paintsville Hospital.

THE ANSWERS, FINALLY

Now, those who got the answers all right can gloat over them, and those, like me, who didn't can stop wondering what 8 S on a SS could possibly be other than 8 sailors on a sinking ship, or if 1 W on a U might by any stretch of the imagination be 1 wart on a unicorn. Here, thanks to J. D. Bond down in Deland, Florida, are the answers to the No 1 Q. Test.

- 26 Letters of the Alphabet.
- 7 Wonders of the World.
- 1001 Arabian Nights.
- 12 Signs of the Zodiac.
- 54 Cards in a Deck (with Jokers).
- 9 Planets in the Solar System.
- 88 Piano Keys.
- 13 Stripes on the American Flag.
- 32 Degrees Fahrenheit at which Water Freezes.
- 18 Holes in a Golf Course.
- 90 Degrees in a Right Angle.
- 200 Dollars to Pass Go in Monopoly.
- 8 Sides on a Stop Sign.
- 3 Blind Mice (See How They Run).
- 4 Quarts in a Gallon.
- 24 Hours in a Day.
- 1 Wheel on a Unicycle.
- 5 Digits in a Zip Code.
- 57 Heinz Varieties.
- 11 Players on a Football Team.
- 1000 Words that a Picture is Worth.
- 29 Days in February in a Leap Year.
- 64 Squares on a Checkerboard. (Or Chess).

AND THE WINNAHS ARE!

Almost 200 readers sent entries to what one termed "that darned quiz" and, of these, 62 were absolutely correct. A few arrived too late, and only one failed to list the address. Never fear, we'll get it.

While the correct answers can't be faulted, some others deserve a four-star rating for originality. Ones I particularly like are 12 sons of Zeus rather than 12 signs of the Zodiac and 1 way on a U-turn instead of 1 wheel on a unicycle. Or, how about 90 divisions in a Russian army, not 90 degrees in a right angle?

Numbers 12, 13, and 23 seem to have given the most trouble, although No. 18, 5 digits in a zip code was my Waterloo, or one of them. Best incorrect answer to that, I thought, was "Five deacons in a Zionist church."

As promised a while back, here are the winners: Debbie Porter, whose entry was the first received, Zenith Hall, Fritz Fimitzer, Mrs. Edward Smallwood, Kenneth Ray Allen, Scott D. Bradley, Mrs. Aaron Derossett, Doris A. Robinson, Marvin Bartlett, Kathy Scott, May Stephens, Debbie Reynolds, Larry Totten, Sharon Horn, Barbara DeRossett, James E. Conley, S. May, S. Hale, Teresa Hays, Charlotte Stumbo, Katherine Page, John McIntosh, Curtis Dwayne Conn, Ruth Ann Hobson, Victor Harper, Jr., Steve Panning, Sandra Conley, Jimmy D. Hall, Eunice Hall, LeMayn Dingus, Frank G. Grey, County Judge's staff, Alicia Hughes, Abby Grant, Kevin Shannon, Sue Webb, Peggy Bailey, Audrey Hudson, Don Wills, Suzanne Conley, William G. Conn, Blake Walker, Ruth Ann Hall, Chris Holbrook, Darrell Hall, Clyde Burke, Sue Salmons, Tammy L. Meade, Melissa Nelson, Caren Stallard, Sandra Johnson, Jewel Joseph, Pat Reynolds, Gary Ratliff, Frank DeRossett, Gail Blackburn, Tim Webb, Deloris Knauz, Sandy Zemo, Robert D. Castle, Rex Wilson, and Ron Cooley.

A JOB WELL DONE

David Evans this week resigned as City Manager of Prestonsburg, a job he has handled with diplomacy and unflinching courtesy to the public. Not least of the reasons we're sorry to see him leave is the fact that he has done a top-notch job, and there's not any epidemic of that going around these days, here or elsewhere. We wish him well in his new work with the Johnson County school system.

Corrections

A story in last week's Times implied incorrectly that A.J. McCoy, Jr., 18, still faced indictment by a Floyd Circuit Court grand jury. In fact, his case was adjudicated on Feb. 19 by another court. Former Wheelwright police officer Danny Bates wants it made clear he did not quit but was fired from his job—he says because he arrested a city council member and cited another.

REBEKAHS MEET

The regular meeting of Miriam Rebekah Lodge No. 31 was held May 6, with Noble Grand, Mrs. Sue Moore, presiding. Those on the sick list and those in need of sympathy were recorded, and cards were signed for them.

A business session was conducted, and the members were notified of the annual homecoming to be held at the Youth Camp, June 8, and of memorials to be held June 10. A crafts table will be displayed at the assembly in Lexington in October, and items will be for sale at that time. Initiation was discussed and will take place around June 1. The Re-orientation Ceremony was held with all officers and members taking part.

Members present for this meeting were Sue Moore, Loretta Akers, Mabel Jean LeMaster, Theckley Short, Lorena Wallen, Emma Lou Horn, Violeta Wright, Jean Hickman, Hope Whitten, Mary Zemo, Virginia S. Goble, Venelia Rinehart, Wanda Justice, Paulena Owens, Kelly Sue Moore, Belva Wills, Willa Mae Branham, Doty Laferty, and Bell Conn.

The next regular meeting will be held May 20, at 7:30 p.m.

Admiral Richard E. Byrd, the explorer, took his pet fox terrier "Igloo" with him to the Antarctic.

temporarily absent from the meeting room, returned to voice her hope that Floyd education "keeps going in the same direction" it now appears to be headed. Dealing with this school district has "become a much easier process" since Brackett took over as superintendent, she said.

In his report, Brackett said improved public relations and better communication with state school and fire officials were among his "immediate aims" after taking over as acting superintendent last September. He noted that board meetings are now more accessible to the public, that groups like the Floyd County Education Forum and the School-Community Partnership Committee are active, and that news media offer coverage of school activities.

All schools have been certified free of asbestos; fire alarm systems have been repaired in all but three schools; all buildings are in compliance with electrical code standards; and Allen Central High School, in disarray last year, is now "a showplace," Brackett reported.

There are currently "no textbook shortages at either the elementary or secondary level," the superintendent said, although an affidavit attached by Martin Elementary School Principal William L. Hughes indicated a shortage of Level 10 reading books at that school. Hughes added it was not worth ordering more texts so late in the year, especially since a new text is about to be adopted.

Twenty-three classes are being taught by teachers out of field, 17 fewer than last year, and the situation is expected to improve even more next year, Brackett said.

The state board approved 10 "calamity" days for three Floyd schools but denied 27 days sought for a dozen schools. Approved were seven days for Garrett, shut down at the start of the school year on account of structural damage, and two days for Allen Central and one for Maytown, closed because of interrupted water service. Among those denied were two days for each of 10 schools closed down because of a reported high bacterial count in the Prestonsburg water system last summer.

Barring further lost days, Floyd schools are now scheduled to close for the summer between June 10 and June 13.

RETIRED TEACHERS MEET

The Floyd County Retired Teachers' quarterly luncheon-meeting was held at May Lodge, Jenny Wiley State Park, Thursday, May 9, beginning at 10 a.m., with Mrs. Danese Amburgey, president, and Miss Ruby Akers, first vice president, presiding. Miss Akers called the meeting to order and welcomed those in attendance. Mrs. Goldia Williams gave the devotions, stressing the importance of looking on the positive side of life. Silent prayer was observed for three late members: Mrs. Nora Scalf, Everett Patton, and Sherrill Frazier. Mrs. Mildred Salisbury led the group in the Pledge of Allegiance, and Mesdames Olive Rose Hall and Carlos Hayward sang several songs.

Mrs. Sarah Laven, secretary, gave the report of the last meeting, and Mrs. Rhoda Prater, treasurer, gave the financial report. Woodrow Allen, chairman of the legislative committee, gave an in-depth report of the recent Kentucky legislative session, with emphasis on the projected amount of increase retired teachers are to receive after July 1, 1986 and 1987.

Mrs. May K. Roberts, who serves on the membership committee on the state level, stressed the importance of retired teachers becoming members of the retired teachers' organizations, and dues for the coming year were paid by many.

It was agreed that the Governor, Lieutenant Governor, and some of the senators and legislators, as well as the officers of K.R.T.A. and those working on a local level, should be given credit for the consideration given retired teachers during the last legislative session.

Mrs. Grace Conley, chairman of the nominating committee, presented a list of the officers for 1986-87, as follows: Mrs. Danese Amburgey, president; Mrs. Ruby Akers, 1st vice president; Mrs. Carlos Hayward, 2nd vice president; Mrs. Sarah Laven, secretary, and Mesdames Ethel Ratliff and Goldia Williams, co-treasurers.

It was announced that Governor Martha Layne Collins has proclaimed May 25-31 as "Retired Teachers' Week."

With all officers except the treasurers having served during the previous year, only these officers were installed by the president, Mrs. Danese Amburgey. Mrs. Jane Bond, health educator, and Mrs. Paula J. Shannon, R.N., of the Floyd County Health Department, gave a worthwhile program on "Hypertension" and checked blood pressures.

The door-prize, donated by Allen's Flower Shop, was won by Mrs. Carl Woods. Enjoying the meeting and the luncheon were Danese Amburgey, Ruby Akers, Carlos Hayward, Arthur Hayward, Sarah Laven, Rhoda Prater, May K. Roberts, Olive Rose Hall, Edith Hopkins, Ethel Ratliff, Grace Conley, Josephine Spradlin, Mildred R. Hall, Ruth Worland, Mabel W. Allen, Woodrow Allen, Imogene Caldwell, Lloyd Wells, Clyde B. Allen, Goldia S. Williams, Elizabeth M. Bailey, Wilma Montgomery, Velva Hall, Bessie R. Conley, Alma Lowe, Arnold Lowe, Minnie Grace Sutherland, Zella Archer, Alice Harris, Minerva Cooley, Mildred Salisbury, Annis Clark, Ruth Rainey, Hattie Reedy, Mildred Whitaker, Delphia Hicks, Elsie Dotson, Ann Dickerson, Nadine H. National Award Winner

The National Secondary Education Council announced recently that Serena Thornsby, has been named an Academic All-American.

Miss Thornsby who attends Allen Central was nominated for this award by Joyce Watson, a foreign language teacher at the school. She will appear in the Academic All-American Scholar Directory, which is published nationally.

She is the daughter of Junior and Juanita Thornsby. Her grandparents are Ina and Bill Powers, of Kendallville, Indiana.

GFWC/KFWC DRIFT WOMAN'S CLUB

The GFWC/KFWC Drift Woman's Club inter-club dinner was held at the Drift Woman's Clubhouse with Miss Ruby Akers, president, presiding.

Miss Akers gave the welcome, and Mrs. Doris Ann Lawson, vice president, was leader of a get-acquainted game. She also gave the devotion, "By Faith Alone," and the Pledge of Allegiance was led by Mrs. Beth Ward.

Miss Ruby Akers presented Dr. Mary Pauline Fox, director of Pike County Health Department and chairman of Appalachian Regional Hospital Board of Trustees who spoke on "Women and Stress". She emphasized that walking is a natural tranquilizer, makes one sleep better, reduces tension and related headaches, relieves depression, improves emotional health, sharpens the senses, increases mental alertness and has favorable effects on most bodily functions.

The president announced that Miss Dora Hall, 7th District art winner won second place in water color in the KFWC art contest. She is a student of Johnny Stumbo at McDowell High School.

Mrs. Kay Hess, president of KFWC, has selected as the theme for 1986-88, "Enthusiasm Makes the Difference".

Door prizes were awarded and dinner was served to members from the following clubs:

Allen Womans Club—Mrs. Bell Conn, Mrs. Hollie Blanton, Pat Allen, Diana Reed and Joan Adams, Violette Wright, guest. How To Buy A Clearwater Beach Condominium Retreat

A spacious 13 unit water-view condominium motel, the La Sal offers luxurious accommodations in totally refurbished and professionally decorated condominium apartments.

Live in it or Rent it, full time or part time

Simply, La Sal Motel, a Condominium, is a commercial property that is licensed to operate as a motel with one exciting difference.

Instead of one owner for the entire building, the condominium concept affords the opportunity of ownership of the individual apartments.

This offering is registered with the Internal Revenue Service under Section 6111 as a tax shelter.

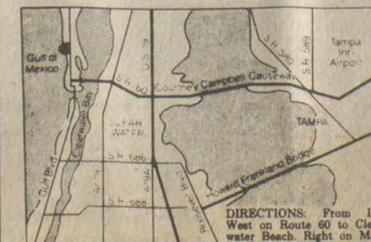

This concept provides the opportunity for an ownership voice in the operation of the motel and a rental program that enhances your ability to receive maximum revenue advantages without the usual problems and worries of revenue producing properties.

Additionally, unlike time-share, you own a luxurious high quality condominium motel unit that offers all the advantages of water-view condominium living. Not only can you enjoy water-view living yourself but when you are not using the condominium it can be rented as a motel unit on a weekend, weekly or longer term basis by the on-site professional management company. You do not have to rent your unit unless you so desire.

Your own Florida Beach retreat with all the revenue benefits of a commercial investment.

On Florida's Suncoast

Situated in the heart of the Suncoasts surrounded by the metropolitan Tampa area, the fourth largest fastest growing area in the country, La Sal is located on the north end of famous Clearwater Beach on Mandalay Avenue. This prestigious location offers a stunning water-view of both the Gulf of Mexico and Clearwater Bay.

La Sal is just steps from miles of sparkling white sand beaches, beach pavilion and fishing pier, public tennis courts and basketball courts, children and adult parks, fully staffed and supervised recreational center where you will find classes and organized team sports. Golf courses are in abundance.

La Sal is also within walking distance of restaurants, shops and grocery marts.

This is first-come, first-served limited opportunity

Because of the recent down-zoning on Clearwater Beach another opportunity like this may never again be possible.

Combined with the soundness and substantiality of construction taken for granted when originally built the La Sal could not be duplicated without exorbitant cost today.

Architect Barry P. Ullman has designed a complete renovation that blends the superstructure of the 1940's with the technology of the 1990's.

The general contractor, First Southern Builders, Inc. has directed the work such that every detail has been considered. New plumbing, new electrical wiring, new central air and heating units, telephones, cable television, new double thermal pane windows, new doors and ceiling fans in each condominium unit reflecting the craftsmanship of 13 years experience producing a finished product with which they are glad to have their name associated.

The La Sal offers 7 two bedroom units, and 6 one bedroom units each professionally decorated by Joyce Fuller Interiors. A deluxe package of GE appliances and quality furnishings include a frost-free refrigerator with ice maker, electric self-cleaning glass door range, GE space-saver microwave, RCA remote control color television and care free furnishings.

All condominiums are equipped with dishes and silverware, cookware, coffee maker and toaster. All the amenities you would expect. A roof top patio covering the entire building provides a magnificent view of the Gulf of Mexico, the beaches, the bay and surrounding areas.

This lovely patio-garden also provides a private sunbathing location and a wonderful spot to gather with friends for breakfast, cocktails or to enjoy the spectacular sunsets for which the Florida Suncoast is famous.

A courtyard with a heated swimming pool and shuffleboard completes the on-site recreational facilities for the entire family.

When should you reserve your condominium at La Sal

NOW! Renovation will be complete by the end of May and units are selling fast. Make our island your island, catch a fish, catch a sunrise, catch a sunset. Your own Florida beach retreat that provides a tax shelter and cash revenues.

This is an unbelievable opportunity to reserve your unit at pre-completion prices.

Starting at just $145,900 these condominiums are priced below completed appraised value in an area that is showing above average appreciation rates. NOW is the time to act. These units will not last long. Everyone will want to buy one of these but only a total of 12 are available with low interest rates and good terms, if you act today. That is why you must be on the Reserved Purchase list to select your water-view condominium at La Sal.

Here's how you do it:

PHS Brings Home Academic Laurels

At Prestonsburg High School Monday morning the pride was palpable. A six-student team from the school matched wits in Louisville Saturday with teams from 109 Kentucky schools—and came home with second-place laurels.

And the honors, Principal Robert May was quick to point out, were for "what we're here for in the first place—academics."

The team participated in the state finals of the Governor's Cup, an academic contest that began this year as part of a statewide effort to boost the sagging record of Kentucky schools and as one of a growing list of competitive events testing intellectual and creative skills.

For May, Prestonsburg's achievement—tying for second with Oldham County and Green County High, behind the overall winner, Pikeville High—was especially satisfying in view of the unfavorable attention given Floyd schools in recent years.

"After all the bad publicity, it's good to see positive things happening," he said. "We've felt for a long time that we've had a good high school. This helps overcome the negative image. It helps impress on people that we're doing good things."

The six students—senior Geoff Belcher, juniors Chris Croot, Tony Skeans, and Scott Wells, and sophomores David Spiggle and Mike Rosenberg—represented the school in "quick recall," a team event in the college bowl format, posing factual questions drawn from the Kentucky school curriculum. The winners of 16 regional contests met for the statewide runoff, with Prestonsburg placing fourth in that event.

In individual events, Wells went on to state competition in social studies, Belcher in English composition, Spiggle and Croot in science, with Croot earning first-place honors.

Coached by special education teacher Nell Lawson, with English teacher Monette Sturgill lending a hand with creative expression and English composition, the Prestonsburg squad had earlier won district and regional competitions that saw schools in the 16 regions usually associated with high school basketball square off in scholastic duels instead. "It was survival of the fittest," the coach remarked later.

A tough training schedule, which had the students work out at 7:30 each morning, paid off for the Prestonsburg team, especially in quick-recall, said Mrs. Lawson. Perhaps the glamor event of the competition, it challenges students, buzzers in hand, to come up first with answers to a dauntingly wide range of questions.

In four individual events—math, social studies, science, and language arts—students were given hour-long written tests consisting of 50 multiple-choice questions. In English composition, the contestants were given a topic on which to write a 500-word essay.

Mrs. Lawson cited the Governor's Cup competition as an example of the greater emphasis being placed on academic achievement statewide and said she hoped it would result in improved scores by Floyd students on standardized tests.

May noted that Floyd students had benefited from the organization at Prestonsburg High School last year of the East Kentucky Academic Conference, which saw 14 schools from Floyd, Pike and Martin counties meet Saturday mornings in regular competition.

Of the expansion of scholastic contests—which this year included a Sweet Sixteen competition sponsored by Lexington Mayor Scotty Baesler, the "Scholastic Challenge" series produced by Kentucky Educational Television, and other events—the Prestonsburg principal said, "I think they're here to stay—at least I hope they are."

"They give good students a chance to find out for themselves what they can do. They learn a lot, in practice as well as in the competition," May said. "It adds a lot to a school system. It carries over to other things."

Math teacher Bobby Wells and English teacher John Patton, who acted as official and moderator respectively during the district and regional Governor's Cup competition, accompanied the Prestonsburg squad to the state finals, which were held at Louisville's Executive West Motor Hotel. Although some teachers say they should be paid for such time-consuming, extracurricular activities, coaches and officials here volunteered their labor.

In this county, Allen Central and McDowell high schools also participated in Governor's Cup competition. While it was also open to grades six through eight, that division drew no Floyd participants this year.

May 25-31 Proclaimed Retired Teachers Week

Retired Teachers Week has been proclaimed May 25-31 by Governor Martha Layne Collins. Honoring the retired teachers of Kentucky, the proclamation said, in part, "Whereas, the teachers of Kentucky have tirelessly taken on the noble and sacred trust of educating and training our children; and, the Commonwealth of Kentucky is proud to be the home of many teachers who have retired after spending most of their lives rendering this priceless service..."

Teacher of the Year

Prestonsburg Community College's teacher of the year, Dr. Thomas Matijasic, came to PCC in 1983 fresh out of Miami University in Ohio. He rapidly found that his classes in American History and European History were overflowing, a fact he attributes to a real interest in history in eastern Kentucky and a pool of very able students. Matijasic describes himself as a traditional teacher, by which he means lecture followed by discussion and tough exams. But he is also an innovator. While at PCC he founded a hiking club and a softball league. Plans are underway for a Caucus Club to discuss foreign affairs and current events. Also in the works is a series of lectures on the bicentennial of the Constitution, which will be given to area high school students. This summer he is offering a new course in Kentucky history which, if well received, will be taught once a year.

Matijasic has published five articles since 1983 and has had four more accepted. He spent last summer in Europe and the prior summer at Fort Necessity in Pennsylvania doing research. His designation as teacher of the year came on a vote of the PCC student body.

NOTICE OF HEARING

Notice is hereby given that a hearing will be held on the 12th day of June, 1986 at the hour of 1:00 p.m. in the Conference Room of the Floyd County Annex, Prestonsburg, Kentucky. The purpose of this hearing is to determine if Curtis Tackett, a resident of Rt. #1, Box #225, McDowell, Ky., should receive an entertainment license. All interested parties should be present.

DAVID A. BARBER
Floyd County Attorney

THANK YOU!

We, the management team at Food City, would like to say thanks to Stan Fletcher and the local police department, along with our fire department, for their part in helping us with the Child Find Program, Saturday, here at Glyn View Plaza. We appreciate our police and fire departments. They always stand ready to help, with the great concern they have for our community and in serving the people. We feel proud to have such good men and women protecting us.

We finger printed and photographed about 800 children, Saturday. This is just a fraction of the total that we've done in Floyd county. And I might say, we are still in the process of reaching those children that didn't get a chance to come in Saturday. We want to protect our children of tomorrow.

Again, many thanks to parents, principals, teachers and to all who were involved in helping us with this Child Find Program. It can never be said that Floyd county doesn't want to protect its future—"its children."

Your friend and Food City Manager,
Nathan Snodderly

FINANCIAL PLANNING

SOME STOCK MARKET TIPS

Today's hot investment seems to be the stock market. If you're thinking of taking the plunge, here are some facts to consider:

- An investment in stock is an investment in a capital asset. Any gain or loss on your investment will be subject to special tax rules. If you hold the stock for six months or less and sell it for a gain, this short term gain will be taxed at your ordinary income tax rate. If you sell the stock after holding it for more than six months any gain will be taxed at the favorable long term gain rate. Then only 40% of your gain will be subject to taxation in your tax bracket.
- Selling stock that you've held for six months or less at a loss allows you to deduct your full loss, up to $3,000 a year, against your other income. If you've held the stock for more than six months and sell it at a loss, only 50% of your loss is deductible, again up to the $3,000 limit. Losses over the limit can be carried forward until they are used up.
- If you're thinking of investing your IRA dollars in stocks, you should be aware that you lose the favorable capital gains tax treatment. Gains on your IRA earnings are sheltered until withdrawal at retirement; however, all money withdrawn will be taxed at ordinary income rates.
- Using discount brokers for your stock transactions may be worth investigating. Discounters can save from 10% to as much as 90% on brokerage commissions. Most discount brokers have minimum commissions in the $25 to $45 range, so smaller stock transactions will cost about as much as with a full service brokerage.
- Be sure that your account with whatever broker you choose is protected by the Securities Investors Protection Corporation (SIPC) or by the brokerage firm's own insurance. The SIPC provides up to $500,000 coverage on customer accounts. If necessary, split your accounts so that you do not exceed insurance limits.

Festival Queen To Be Chosen, Here

One of the five candidates pictured will be crowned Floyd county's 1986 Music Festival Queen at the conclusion of an evening of art and music to be held here, Thursday, May 22. Candidates are Greta Lee Mullins, senior at Allen Central and daughter of Freddie and Lois Mullins; Delilah Rice, senior at Betsy Layne and daughter of Leo and Maxine Rice; Belinda Stumbo, junior at McDowell and daughter of Greg and Kathy Stumbo; Tina Branham, senior at Prestonsburg and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Branham; Sherry Branham, junior at Wheelwright and daughter of Charlotte Branham.

Art and music departments of the county's high schools are this year combining efforts to present a Fine Arts Festival which broadens the annual music festival to include an exhibit of art work. The exhibit will be open for viewing at 6 p.m. at the high school fieldhouse, here, followed by the all-county chorus and band concerts at 7 p.m.

Elizabeth Frazier, choral director at Prestonsburg High School, will be clinician and conductor of both the junior and senior division all-county chorus, and Cliff Wallace, superintendent of Pendleton county schools and former band director of Greenup county high school, will be the clinician and conductor for the junior all-county band. Clinician and conductor of the senior all-county band will be Ron Lucas, McGraw-Hill Publishing Company representative and former band director at Henry Clay High School.

Log Home Workshop Set at MSU, June 15

Morehead State University will conduct a two-week, intensive workshop on log home building as part of its 10th annual Appalachian Celebration.

The workshop classes will begin a week before the celebration on June 15 and will be taught by Bill Peyton, founder of American Timbercraft, Ltd. Designed for both the novice and professional builder, the workshop includes hands-on experience, lectures and films. Participants will peel and groove tulip poplar logs and construct an actual log home during the dawn to dusk sessions. Peyton, an experienced and internationally recognized log home builder, founded American Timbercraft to provide log construction skills for builders. One of his special interests is encouraging the use of native timber for low-cost housing.

All materials and necessary tools will be furnished. In order to provide individualized instruction class size will be limited.

Additional information may be obtained from Phil Kenel, Appalachian Development Center, Morehead State University, Morehead, Ky. 40351. Telephone: (606) 783-2077.

Coordinated by MSU's Appalachian Development Center, the Appalachian Celebration is a week-long tribute to the mountain culture and features a variety of arts and crafts exhibits, workshops and demonstrations, including an Arts and Crafts Market with more than 100 artisans participating and concerts, including Louise Mandrell and The Kendalls on Saturday, June 28. Details on the celebration are available from Pete McNeill, ADC, Morehead State University, Morehead, Ky. 40351. Telephone: (606) 783-2077.

A temporary program to provide On the Job Training (OJT) to Vietnam-era Korean conflict and Disabled Veterans who have been unemployed for at least 15 of the last 20 weeks. Provides 50% reimbursement of training wages (up to $10,000) to employers who provide OJT in growth industries, new technological fields or occupations where demand for labor exceeds supply. Nursing Home Week Observation Urged Governor Martha Layne Collins has signed a proclamation urging citizens to observe National Nursing Home Week, May 11-17, by visiting nursing home patients in their communities.

Kentucky's 325 nursing home facilities will "Celebrate Lifetime Achievements" of over 27,000 nursing home patients and residents by coordinating related activities throughout the week.

"Those individuals receiving necessary medical care in Kentucky's nursing homes contributed to the growth of our Commonwealth over the years," said Jack Wells, president of the Kentucky Association of Health Care Facilities (KAHCF), Kentucky's nursing home trade association. "National Nursing Home Week is our way of honoring these Kentuckians for their efforts."

Travel With Children Needn't Be Rough Ride

Contrary to what many people may believe, children make excellent travel companions. They bring with them a willingness to be amazed and a zest for discovery, according to the May Reader's Digest. The trick is to keep their needs and interests in mind.

Here are a few suggestions from the magazine's special "Guide to Family Vacationing":

- Before registering in any hotel, make sure it has a swimming pool or game room.
- Have your child bring along his own carry-all containing everything he wants. And pack a few surprises; a deck of cards, a jigsaw puzzle or a pair of binoculars can go a long way—or at least help you to.
- Keep a good supply of snacks on hand, and carry litter bags in the car. Also handy are moist towelettes and a brush for crumbs.
- Tape players with headphones make excellent back-seat diversions. A few music or story cassettes can give hours of listening enjoyment to them and miles of peace and quiet to you. (Dual headphones are available.)
- Dole out fun chores. An older child can be placed in charge of keeping track of expenditures. Another can be the navigator, responsible for tracing the route and estimating arrival times. A vacation diary is also a good idea.
- Play road games. A favorite family pastime is trying to spot license plates from all 50 states.

A complimentary reprint of "The Reader's Digest Guide to Family Vacationing" is available from the reprints manager, Reader's Digest, Pleasantville, N.Y. 10570. Prices in quantity are as follows: 50 copies—$12, 100 copies—$20, 500 copies—$40, and 1,000 copies—$65.

The best things in life are free.

trouble

When you're buying a new cooling system for your home, you're really buying freedom. Freedom from summer's scorching heat. And freedom from worry about your family's comfort and safety.

That's why we work so hard at Heil to make our cooling products dependable and trouble-free. Before any Heil product goes to market, it goes through our product testing lab—one of the toughest in the industry. If it doesn't measure up in the lab, it doesn't go to market. Your Heil dealer offers a full line of Heil residential cooling products, including energy-efficient heat pumps and the super-advanced Heritage Elite air conditioner. All with Heil dependability built-in.

Garrett-Maynard Wed

Wedding vows were exchanged by Miss Teresa Garrett and Mr. James Maynard Friday, March 7, at the First Baptist Church, Irene Cole Memorial, Prestonsburg.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe H. Garrett, of Endicott. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Maynard, also of Endicott.

The double-ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Stephen Hopkins. A program of music was presented by Alice Buchanan, organist, Myra Lawson and Sandy Horn, vocalists.

Keith Burchett served as bestman. Groomsmen were Darrell Howell, Michael Goble and Johnny Endicott. Dewayne Howell, nephew of the groom, was the ringbearer.

Arlene Burchett, sister of the groom was matron of honor. Sandy Horn was maid of honor and bridesmaids were Linda Howell, sister of the groom and Debbie Goble, sister of the bride. The flowergirl was Stephanie Goble, niece of the bride.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church annex. After a wedding trip to Tennessee, the couple will reside at Prestonsburg.

Vannucci-Girdler

The Rev. and Mrs. Lorie Vannucci, of Martin, announce the forthcoming wedding of their daughter, Renee Maria to Joseph Steven Girdler, June 7, at 2 p.m., at the First Assembly of God, Martin.

Miss Vannucci, a graduate of Allen Central High School and Transylvania University, is now enrolled at the University of Kentucky College of Medicine.

Mr. Girdler is a graduate of Laurel Co. High School and the University of Kentucky. He is presently employed by Electronic Business Machines, of Lexington, and will complete graduate studies at Asbury Theological Seminary, later.

After a wedding trip to Mexico, the couple will reside in Lexington.

Grethel Homemakers Club

The Grethel Homemakers Club met May 5 at the Grethel Baptist Church annex with Arietta Hall, president, presiding. Devotions were led by Glenna Evans, and the lesson on food preservation was taught by Mrs. Frances Pitts, extension agent for Floyd county.

The following have been elected officers for 1986-87: Arietta Hall, president; Christine Crisp, vice-president; Eileen Martin, secretary; Shirley Hamilton, treasurer; Glenna Evans, devotional chairman; Barbara C. Newman, telephone chairman.

The next meeting will be September 8.

A person can learn to read a language without learning how to pronounce it.

Alzheimer's Impact Is Meeting Topic

The impact on the family of caring for a victim of Alzheimer's disease will be the topic of a talk to be given tomorrow (Thursday) night at Highlands Regional Medical Center by Dr. Gary Prater, psychologist with the Mountain Comprehensive Care Center office in Paintsville. The meeting will begin at 6 p.m. in the Floyd Room.

W.M.U. CIRCLE MEETS

Members of the Annie Allen Circle W.M.U., Baptist Women, met at the home of Mrs. Goldia Williams at Allen, Monday evening, May 5. Mrs. Patty Minns, president, was in charge of the meeting. The possibility of making a donation to the Marrowbone Baptist Center in Pike county, in memory of Mrs. Opal Dingus, was discussed, and Mrs. Minns appointed Mesdames Patsy Evans and Rebecca Rasnick to be in charge of this matter. It was also decided that letters regarding this memorial would be sent to Mrs. Dingus' husband, William Dingus, and to the Marrowbone Baptist Church.

Mrs. Vivian Fraley presented the list of Baptist missionaries who are observing birthdays during May, and Mrs. Sarah Laven led prayer for them. Mrs. Laven also led the program on "The Communicators," and read a letter which Mrs. Rose Mary Frazier and her mother, Mrs. Alta Malone, had received from missionaries, Dave and Mary Ellen Perkins. The Rev. Perkins formerly served as pastor of the Allen Baptist Church. Mrs. Patsy Evans closed the meeting with prayer.

The hostess was assisted by Mrs. Sarah Laven in serving refreshments to Mesdames Patty Minns, Zella Archer, Rebecca Rasnick, Dolly Pettrey, Susan Akers, Myrtle Allen, Patsy Evans, Docia Woods, Vivian Fraley, Ora Bussey, Lucy Regan, and Lillia Mae Price.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Vivian Fraley, Monday evening, June 2, at 6:30.

Fatality-Free Proms Urged by McDonald

Superintendent of Public Instruction Alice McDonald recently challenged Kentucky's graduating seniors to make 1986 a fatality-free graduation.

McDonald said she was optimistic about the prospects because of the success of Project Graduation, a program started last year by her Student Advisory Committee. The program, which is supported by the Kentucky Department of Education and Kentucky State Police, promotes alcohol- and drug-free proms and graduation ceremonies.

"With the success of Project Graduation, with the broad support it has received, and with a little luck, I believe we can achieve a fatality-free graduation this year," McDonald said.

McDonald said that about four dozen high schools across the state were participating in the Project Graduation program. Many others have expressed interest, and the idea is spreading, she said.

High schools will have 500 proms and graduation ceremonies for nearly 40,000 seniors this year, McDonald said.

"We want the seniors, their parents and friends to enjoy this special time now and forever," McDonald said.

Students from Oldham County High School and Montgomery County High School appeared with McDonald at a press conference.

Kentucky State Police Commissioner Morgan Elkins and State Police Capt. John Lile also participated in the press conference.

Mine Tech Classes Scheduled at PCC

Morehead State University will offer special classes in mining technology this summer at two sites in Eastern Kentucky.

Coal Mine Roof and Rib Control, taught by Charles Patrick, assistant professor of mining technology, will be offered on Mondays and Wednesdays from 6 to 8:30 p.m., June 9-July 31, at Ashland Community College. Patrick also will be the instructor.

Coal Mine Roof and Rib Control is designed for people who deal with purchase, design, installation or maintenance of underground support systems, whether for small or large coal operations, Patrick said. The course was developed to provide participants with basic coal mine ground control principles to assist them in economically creating a safer underground working environment.

Safety and efficiency also are the objectives for Mine Blasting and Explosives which is designed for people who purchase and handle high explosives and those interested in mining blast design. According to Patrick, it will cover such areas as types of explosives, blasting theories and blast design as well as control and effects.

Both courses offer three credit hours and a fee will be charged for each. Registration is currently under way and additional information may be obtained from Patrick at (606) 783-2649.

No ifs, ands or butts—smoking is harmful to your skin, points out the May Reader's Digest. People who smoke have deeper and sharper wrinkles at the outer corners of their eyes, and the skin on the backs of their necks takes on a cobblestone appearance. Smokers' skin also tends to be pale and sallow.

Floyd County Babe Ruth Baseball News

In Tuesday's game the Martin Cardinals won an easy victory over McDowell Angels, 14-4. The winning pitcher was Mark Tipton, who gave up 1 hit and had 11 strike outs. The game was highlighted by tripe base hits by Mark Tipton, Billy Akers and Jeff Hughes, of Martin.

The Saturday opener found the Betsy Layne Astros defeating the Garrett Pirates, 17-7. The Astros record went to 2 and 0. Winning pitcher was Brad Hall and C. Gearheart. Betsy Layne was helped with a home run by Duran Newsome.

The Garrett Pirates' pitcher was Tony Kidd, who hit a home run, but it was not enough as the Astro's trounced the highly regarded Pirates 17-7, handing the Pirates their second loss.

In the second game Saturday, the Martin Piranhas won their second game in a row and handed the favored Prestonsburg A's their second loss. The Martin team came from behind in the 7th inning and scored 7 runs to beat Prestonsburg 15 to 11. Winning pitcher was Micky Parsons, who also had two triples. The save went to Stu Robinson.

Library Mini Course Scheduled at MSU

Twenty-one librarians and bookmobile personnel from Central and Eastern Kentucky will participate in a mini course, "Creative Library Programs," sponsored by Morehead State University and the Kentucky Department of Libraries and Archives.

The sessions, scheduled Monday through Friday, May 19-30, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the Rowan County Public Library, will be taught by Faye Belcher, MSU library consultant. This is the 18th year that the workshop has been offered, according to Belcher.

In addition to classroom discussions on programming ideas and literature, the librarians also will have an opportunity to critique their own storytelling presentations on videotape. Participants in the workshop may earn three credit hours.

Additional information on the workshop may be obtained by calling (606) 783-2142.

Landowner Can Get Assistance With Management of Farm Pond

By ART LANDER, Jr.
Ky. Dept. of Fish and Wildlife Resources

Each year hundreds of landowners throughout the state receive technical guidance on fishery management from biologists of the Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources. This free service, provided by the department's seven district fishery biologists, assists landowners with farm pond stocking and management, as well as related water quality problems or aquatic weed control.

Ted Crowell, assistant director of the Division of Fisheries, explained that even though the technical guidance is provided free, landowners must pay for the transportation cost of fish that are stocked, fish toxicants, or other chemicals that may be recommended. "It's important for landowners to also realize the program is operated on a first-come, first-served basis, and that it may take some time for the biologists to get around to visiting all the landowners' ponds because there's usually a waiting list for these technical guidance services, and the biologist's first priority is the management of public fishing waters."

Some changes in regulations passed last December 13 by the Kentucky Fish and Wildlife Commission now enable biologists to implement more programs than ever to help landowners keep their ponds in good shape for fishing. For example, pond owners can now be issued a permit for special management that will allow size and/or creel limits which differ from statewide fishing regulations. Any valid management strategy could be utilized under the biologist's direction for a specified period of time. For example, permittees could remove the size limit on bass if a population is stunted, or prohibit the harvest of any bass if only a small number of big fish are present. The permits will be signed by the local conservation officer, district fishery biologist, and director of fisheries. Written notice of the special regulations in force must be posted at the pond.

District fisheries biologist for the Eastern Fishery District, which includes Floyd county, is Ed Carroll, Prestonsburg Community College, 886-9575.

STUMBO PARK NEWS

By OSCAR RICE

High school baseball was limited to two games last week with proms and senior trips causing some cancellations. Betsy Layne improved to 13 and 5 with two wins against Shelton Clark and Johnson Central.

In the Johnson Cental game, Randall Spurlock held the Eagles to one hit while winning 4-0. Tarry Boyd got the game winning R.B.I. and two singles.

Shelton Clark was the Saturday game of the week, and Lefty Bud Newsome showed why he's a top college and prospect once again with a 4 hit, 1 run game and 11 strikeouts, in a 7-1 win for the Bobcats. Duran Newsome arrived late and in a pinch hitting role hit a two run home run to power the Cats. Bud Newsome who was hitting .520 going in, went 3 for 3 with 2 R.B.I.'s also.

This week finds Betsy Layne vs. Allen Central at 4:30 Monday; Prestonsburg vs. Betsy Layne, Wednesday at 4:30; Allen Central vs. Phelps, Wednesday at 7; Allen Central vs. Magoffin county in a double header, Thursday at 4:30; Betsy Layne in a double header with Belfry, 4:30 Friday; and Betsy Layne vs. Wheelwright, the W.D.O.C. radio game of the week, Saturday. The Allen Central girls high school softball team will play Saturday at 1 on the Little League Field.

Water Safety Class Begins May 27 at PCC

A water safety instruction class at Prestonsburg Community will begin Tuesday, May 27, and will continue through June 13. There will be a total of 60 hours of instruction—both classroom and poolside taught by Dr. Dorothy Carlson, instructor at the college.

For more information, call Juanita Ratliff, 886-3863, ext. 215.

JAPANESE YEW

COPYRIGHT 1986 KVMA

Kentucky Veterinary Medical Association
The gardener sees it as one of the more attractive shrubs, remaining green when other evergreens have turned brown, producing brilliant red berries which augment its eye appeal.

Your veterinarian likely sees it from another perspective—because its both the most common and the most deadly of several plants which grow in Kentucky. It also seems to be the most frequently eaten by animals, especially horses. The culprit is the Japanese Yew.

Actually, the list of potentially poisonous plants which grow in Kentucky is quite long and includes a variety of species: horsetail, scouring rush, brake fern, Johnson and Sudan grass, sorghum, pokeweed, dwarf larkspur, Dutchman's breeches, wild cherry, black locust, Ohio and sweet buckeye, Horsechestnut, St. Johnswort, water and spotted hemlock, mountain laurel, dogbane, swamp and common milkweed, Jimson weed, all the nightshades, Indian tobacco, white snakeroot, cocklebur, juniper, oak trees, the Kentucky coffee tree, clover under certain conditions, boxwood, castor beans, elderberry or black elder and marijuana.

Fortunately, many of these are poisonous only under certain conditions and most of them taste too bad to be eaten except in severe famine.

Many of them are also not widespread in distribution.

The common use of the Japanese Yew (Taxus cuspidata) as an ornamental shrub throughout the northern two-thirds of the United States likely accounts for the dozen or so horses that die annually in Kentucky from eating the plant, as well as some cattle deaths.

Taxine, an alkaloid, is believed to be the major killing agent, usually acting quickly, sometimes almost instantaneously in horses, by causing cardiac arrest.

All parts of the plant are poisonous except the flesh of the ripe berries, and the foliage is toxic whether fresh or dried.

While most animals find the foliage distasteful, they still manage to eat it occasionally. Sometimes trimmings are thrown over a fence into an overgrazed pasture and the animals are hungry. Other times, trimmings are mixed with grasses from a lawnmower and the taste is disguised. Still other times, boredom will lead to simply seeking something new to eat.

In horses, ingestion of as little foliage as 0.05 percent of the animal's body weight has been shown to be lethal. In a practical sense, this translates into only a few mouthfuls for the normal horse. In cattle, as much as 0.5 percent of the body weight is needed to reach a lethal level.

Horses normally die a peracute death in which they collapse and die within a few minutes. Animals have found near the shrub, with identifiable foliage in their mouths.

Cattle may last as long as a day, probably because of the dilution effect of the ruminant. Animals which do not die rapidly usually exhibit stomach cramps, tremors and general collapse before death.

Prevention is the only sure course. There is not treatment, other than pumping the stomach, and there is seldom time for that.

If you suspect an animal of having been poisoned by eating Japanese Yew, a veterinarian is the only recourse for treatment and speed is absolutely essential.

It is poisonous for all animals, including man.

Announce Camp Dates For State's Disabled

Heide Miller, director of Camping and Recreation for the Kentucky Easter Seal Society, announced recently that applications are still being accepted for physically disabled children and adults who would like to attend a summer residential camping facility. Two sessions still have openings: Camp Kysoc, near Carrollton, Kentucky, from June 14-25, and Camp Green Shores, on Rough River Lake, from June 29-July 10.

Children from 7 years on up, with physical and mobility disabilities, or who are mildly retarded, are appropriate for these camping sessions. Physical disabilities refer to conditions which cause a deformity or interference with normal function of the bones, muscles, or joints, including polio, cerebral palsy, amputation, muscular dystrophy, blind or partially sighted, epileptic, or speech/hearing impairments. While both of the Easter Seal Camps charge fees for those who can afford to pay, camperships are available to persons unable to afford the camp fee.

Each camp offers a variety of activities including fishing, boating, swimming, nature studies, arts and crafts. The camps are specially designed to accommodate persons with mobility problems. Cabins are wheelchair accessible and woodland trails are hard-surfaced. Camp staff are specially trained to assist persons with physically disabling conditions.

For more information about the Easter Seal Camps or to apply, contact the: Camping Department, Kentucky Easter Seal Society, 233 East Broadway, Louisville, Kentucky 40202, or telephone (502) 584-9781.

Volunteer "Neighbor" In Every Sense

The term "neighbor" well describes Lisa Hutchinson's relationship to Our Lady of the Way Hospital because she is both a "good Samaritan" and "the girl next door"—she is a hospital volunteer who lives across the street from Our Lady of the Way Hospital.

Since last August, Miss Hutchinson has given five hours each week to Our Lady of the Way's patients and employees. She is pictured here, at right, with ward clerk Pearl Wallace and patient Leovadis Collier.

These documentaries, animated shorts, and fiction films represent some of the best educational films produced in America during the last year. The screenings will run from 4 to 6 each afternoon from May 12 through 17. All showings are free and open to the public.

Teachers, librarians, health care professionals and other community workers who might like to use any of the films in the future are especially encouraged to come, but all audiences will find the films interesting and entertaining.

Please call Kelly at (606) 633-0108 for a complete schedule and film list.

Homecoming Service Held Sunday At Sammy Clark

Sammy Clark Free Will Baptist Church held their first annual homecoming service Mother's Day Sunday.

Mothers were honored with roses and carnations were placed on the altar in memory of Della Kidd and Arizona Spencer by their children. Singers from Tip Top presented a program of music and the church's only living charter member, Gaine Spears, of New London, Ohio, was presented. Elder members recognized for their services were Lee Kidd, Irving Clark, Sie Hamilton and Polly Anne Akers.

The pastor is Bobby Joe Spencer.

Celebration of Literature

Among those taking part in Allen Central's Celebration of Literature were Melissa Jackson, kneeling, and, from left, standing, Marie Hall, Vanessa Burke, Michael McKinney, CaSandra Slone, Pam Baldrige, Amy Mayo, Mandy Cooley, Ruby Sammons, and Rodney Stevens.

Faces of William Shakespeare, Ernest Hemmingway, Jack London, Edgar Alan Poe, Emily Bronte, Mark Twain and many others greeted Allen Central High School students the morning of "Literature Celebration" day, as they viewed posters of these various literary figures.

While the date, April 23, was chosen for this celebration partly because it was William Shakespeare's birthday, it was also a celebration for all literary works.

To take part in the celebration, students chose either a favorite character from literature or a favorite author to dress like for the day. Various characters included many "Caesars" or "slaves" wearing togas and laurel headresses; Alice in Wonderland; Little Bo Peep with her sheep; Juliet, Heidi; Mark Twain; the Wicked Witch from the tale of Snow White with her "poison" apples which she handed to each teacher, and many Southern Belles as well as an elegant Victorian lady.

In addition to dressing, a variety of activities took place in the English classes ranging from special films to fresh foods such as fruits, cheeses and crackers, and fruit drinks as a part of the celebration. Then too, to give a special tribute to William Shakespeare, "A Midsummer Night's Dream," accompanied with music by Mendelssohn was shown during the lunch hour so that all those who wanted to take part could share in the day's events.

Throughout the day, students registered in the school's library for a prize to be given at the end of the day. The winner, Angela Woods, received a picture book of England.

This first Celebration of Literature at ACHS was initiated by Patricia Watson, instructor of English, and events were hosted by the English classes.

Dr. Turner Honored

Jack Justin Turner, associate professor of political science at Middle Tennessee State University in Murfreesboro, Tenn., has been named one of three outstanding teachers at that institution for the 1985-86 academic year.

Turner, who received a cash award of $1,000, is pre-law advisor and director for majors in international relations. He earned his bachelor's degree at Berea College and the Ph.D. at the University of Kentucky.

Two other professors were similarly honored for excellence in teaching at the annual Alumni Banquet, this year marking the institution's 75th Anniversary.

To be eligible for the teaching awards, professors must first be nominated by alumni, students, and other faculty, and then evaluated by departmental colleagues, department head, and students.

Robert B. Jones, associate vice president for academic affairs, said that "outstanding" teachers have a thorough knowledge of the subject matter they teach and keep abreast of new developments.

Wilson Graduate Glenda Shepherd, of this county, graduated April 24 from Lindsey Wilson College in Columbia, Ky., and was an award winner in the school's science department.

Rotary Conference

Pikeville will be the site of the annual conference of Rotary District 674, May 16-18. Over 125 Rotarians and their guests are expected to attend, according to conference spokesman Marty Backus.

Volunteers Honored

The Floyd-Johnson Heart Association volunteers will be recognized for their contribution to the fight against heart disease and stroke at the Floyd/Johnson county unit annual meeting, May 15, at 7 p.m., at Jenny Wiley State Park, May Lodge.

Awards include volunteer of the year, Heart Sunday volunteers and Mountain Manor and Riverview Nursing Homes for their participation in the Rock and Rollathon.

Evangelist Walter Webb, 64, of Wayland, died last Thursday, at the Veterans Administration Hospital, Lexington, following a long illness.

He was born February 16, 1922, a son of Alie Stanifer Webb, of Richmond, and the late Albert Webb. He was a retired district manager of the Bluegrass Automobile Club and had served in the Air Corps during World War II as a chaplain. He was a member of the D.A.V. and of the Lancer Church of Christ. He had been an evangelist for 38 years.

In addition to his mother, he is survived by his wife, Mary Francis Barney Webb; one daughter, Janie Jones, of Wayland; two brothers, Clearance Albert Webb, of Hamilton, O., Frank Webb, of Harrison, O.; and a sister, Josephine Martin, of Richmond.

Funeral services were conducted Sunday at 2 p.m. at the Lancer Church of Christ with Bennie Blankenship officiating. Burial was made in the Bradley family cemetery at Wayland, under direction of the Hall Funeral Home.

Obituaries

Daniel Wesley Johnson

Daniel Wesley Johnson, 75, of Harold, died Saturday, at his residence following a long illness.

He was born March 19, 1911, at Osborne, a son of the late Columbus and Cynthia Keathley Johnson. A retired construction worker, he was a member of the Lower Toler Church of Christ at Harold.

He is survived by his wife, Verlie Carroll Johnson; one stepson, Theodore Carroll, of Harold; three brothers, Sam Johnson, of McKinney, Alvis Johnson, of Harold, Charlie Johnson, of Covington, and seven grandchildren.

Funeral services will be conducted today (Wednesday) at 11 a.m. at the Lower Toler Church of Christ, and burial will be made in the family cemetery at Harold, under direction of the Hall Funeral Home.

Wheeler Spriggs

Funeral services for Wheeler Spriggs, 62, of Ypsilanti, Michigan, will be conducted at 1 p.m. tomorrow (Thursday) at the Wagner-Stark Moore Memorial Chapel in Ypsilanti, with Hugh Dalton officiating. Mr. Spriggs, a former resident of Prestonsburg, died Monday at the St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ypsilanti.

A son of the late Ben and Della Gray Spriggs, he was born May 18, 1923 at Prestonsburg, and was preceded in death by his wife, Gertrude Crum Spriggs, in 1976. An Army veteran of World War II, he was a retired 15 year employee of Motor State Products, Ypsilanti, Michigan. He was a member of the Ypsilanti Moose Lodge No. 782.

Surviving are his daughter, Mrs. Donna F. Dalton, of Ypsilanti, Mich.; two brothers, Millard Spriggs, of Lorraine, O., and Bill Spriggs, of Martin, and two granddaughters.

Burial will be made in the Knollwood Memorial Park, Canton, Michigan.

Jane Ann Kendrick

Miss Jane Ann Kendrick, 38, died at her home on the Lake Road near here, Thursday morning, after being stricken by a sudden illness.

Born March 11, 1948 in Paintsville, she was the daughter of Mrs. Mae Spears Kendrick, of Prestonsburg, and the late W.R. (Choc) Kendrick. Miss Kendrick was desk clerk supervisor at May Lodge, Jenny Wiley State Park, and had been an announcer for WDOC radio for 14 years.

After graduation from Berea College, she was a social worker at Berea Hospital and also worked in the same capacity at the Thelma Rehabilitation Center. She held a Master's degree from Morehead State University. She was a member of the First Presbyterian Church, of John Graham Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, of Rebekah Lodge No. 31, and was secretary-treasurer of the Big Sandy Chapter, Berea College Alumni Association.

In addition to her mother, she is survived by one brother, William S. Kendrick, of East Point.

Funeral services were conducted at 2 p.m. Saturday at the First Presbyterian Church, here, by the Rev. Timothy Jessen, and burial was made in Davidson Memorial Gardens at Ivel under direction of the Carter Funeral Home.

Pallbearers were Frank McGuire, Bobby Spears, Kimberly McGuire, Jim Simpson, John McGuire, Huey Gray, Worth McGuire, Darwin McGuire, Gary Kendrick and William Joe Kendrick.

Billy Marsillett

Billy Marsillett, 57, of Spurlock, died Monday at the Highlands Regional Medical Center.

A son of Amos Marsillett, of Pikeville, and the late Annie Reffett Marsillett, he was born November 8, 1928 at Prestonsburg. He was employed as a custodian at the Floyd county Health Department.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Emma Jean Justice Marsillett; a son, Danny Marsillett, of Prestonsburg; three daughters, Melissa Carol Adkins, Norma Jean Woods and Denise Ann Damron, all of Spurlock; two brothers, Smith Marsillett, of Water Gap and Toby Marsillett, also of Spurlock; eight sisters, Martha Miller, Essie Poe and Bessie Hughes, all of Claypool, Ind., Ora Lee Hackworth and Sally Shepherd, both of Silver Lake, Ind., Nancy Hile, of Warsaw, Ind., Jarie McDonald, of Manchester, Ind., Anna Bays, of Pierceton, Ind., and nine grandchildren.

Funeral services will be conducted at 1 p.m. today (Wednesday) at the Carter Funeral Home with Claude Goble and Elmer Davis officiating. Burial will be made in the Marsillett family cemetery at Spurlock.

The first federal activity to promote fair employment practices was the Fair Employment Practice Commission in 1941, which sought to eliminate discrimination in hiring in the defense industry, according to "Labor Firsts in America," a publication of the U.S. Department of Labor.

Floyd Compton

Floyd Compton, 66, of Hueysville, died Sunday at the Highlands Regional Medical Center, Prestonsburg, following a long illness.

He was born March 5, 1920 at Handshoe, a son of the late Dave and Maudie Handshoe Compton. A retired coal truck driver, he was a member of the United Baptist Church. He was preceded in death by his wife, Pearl Crager Compton, in 1981.

He is survived by one son, David Compton, of Hueysville; three daughters, Linda Wallen, of Langley, Yvonne Porter and Bobbie Denise Ashley, both of Hueysville; four brothers, Willie and Willard Compton, of Willard, O., Chester Compton, of Rome, O., Jackie Compton, of Plymouth, O., Mitchell Compton, of Mt. Vernon, O.; one sister, Goldie Day, of Angola, Ind., and two grandchildren.

Funeral services will be conducted at 11 a.m. today (Wednesday) at the Salt Lick Community United Baptist Church, Hueysville, with United Baptist ministers officiating. Burial will be made in the family cemetery at Hueysville, under direction of the Hall Funeral Home.

Ray Hatfield

Ray Hatfield, 34, of McDowell, was found dead in his pickup truck, Saturday in the McDowell area. Coroner Roger Nelson said there was no indication of foul play.

A disabled miner, he was born November 27, 1951, and was a son of the late Wid and Daisy Tackett Hatfield.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Letty Jane Mullins Hatfield; two sons, Ray Hatfield, Jr., and Daniel Kevin Hatfield, both of McDowell; four brothers, Randall, Danny, Gary and Terry Hatfield, all of Ashtabula, O.; two sisters, Anna Lou Johnson, also of Ashtabula, O., and Joyce Branham, of David.

Funeral services were conducted Tuesday at 10 a.m. at the Little Rosa Regular Baptist Church at McDowell with Regular Baptist ministers officiating. Burial was made in the Newman cemetery at Hi Hat under direction of the Hall Funeral Home.

James J. Nelson

James J. Nelson, 66, of Findlay, Ohio, formerly of Floyd county, died last Wednesday, May 7, at his residence.

A retired miner, born July 2, 1919, he was a son of the late Jeff and Belle Smith Nelson. He was a member of the Free Will Baptist Church at Belfry.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Josephine Goodman Nelson; two sons, James David Nelson and John Glenn Marsillett, both of Findlay; five sisters, Nancy Campbell, of Water Gap, Susie Larner and Josephine Ruffe, both of Ontario, N.Y., Opal Slone and Glennis Rose, both of Wabash, Ind., 16 grandchildren and 20 great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were conducted Saturday at 10 a.m. at the Trinity Church of God at West Prestonsburg with ministers of the church officiating. Burial was made in the Sizemore cemetery, Town Branch road, under direction of the Nelson-Frazier Funeral Home.

Garage Fire Claims Former Floyd Man

A former Floyd man was one of four who died in Magoffin county Saturday when a fire swept through a race-car garage at Ivyton. Bobby Gene Osborne, 27, of Salyersville, a blaster for the Magoffin Coal Company, will be buried today (Wednesday) after a joint funeral service for all four fire victims.

Born on December 22, 1958 in Prestonsburg, he was the son of Emery and Sharlene Osborne, of Betsy Layne. In addition to his parents, he is survived by his wife, Shari Patrick Osborne, a son Patrick Shawn Osborne, at home, and a brother, Roger Dean Osborne, of Betsy Layne.

Funeral services will be conducted today at the Magoffin County High School gymnasium, with Cohen Campbell and Kaminski Robinson officiating. Burial will be in the family cemetery at Ivyton under direction of Hall Funeral Home.

"It's Not Fair!"

Early in elementary school, most children become very aware of what is and isn't fair. Ironically, they are especially sensitive when it comes to all the ways they think others are unfair to them; but they have a big blind spot when it comes to all the ways they act unfairly. An article in the May issue of PTA Today, the National PTA's magazine, offers several ways parents can teach fairness in the family.

Parents should appeal to children's sense of fairness in a way that motivates cooperation and reduces family conflicts, according to Thomas Lickona, a developmental psychologist and professor of education at the State University of New York at Cortland. The first way is the appeal to reciprocity—the principle of equal exchange—"I did that for you, so you should do this for me."

Another suggestion is to be willing to negotiate at least some of the time. Parents should give children a fair hearing and possibly change their minds when children make a reasonable request in a respectful way.

Lickona believes that we need to teach children that there are times when "fair" doesn't mean "same." "Fair doesn't mean having the same chores as your brother or sister; chores vary with age and ability," states the author, adding, "Youngsters should understand that constant comparisons cause tension in the family." Once parents have pointed out to children all the ways they try to be fair to everyone in the family, they should avoid being drawn into endless justifications.

Discuss the issue of fairness to settle conflicts. Sometimes a quick appeal to fairness can work wonders, such as saying, "Can you solve this problem fairly, or do you need to go to separate rooms?" But, there are times when a persistent family conflict requires a structured, sit-down fairness discussion. Lickona suggests the following steps:

Mutual understanding in which parents and children really listen to and discuss each other's viewpoints until everyone feels understood; solving the problem in which everyone brainstorms possible solutions until they agree on a plan that all consider fair, and following through in which they get back together to talk about how the plan is working.

In addition, parents should involve children in setting fair consequences. When children have a say, they're more likely to accept their fate as fair and to improve their behavior than if faced with a parent-imposed punishment.

Lickona, the author of Raising Good Children, concludes by saying, "When we foster our children's sense of fairness and help them apply it to concrete situations in their lives, we're nurturing an important part of their character development. We're teaching them not only that they should be fair but also how to be fair."

Salisbury Receives MSU Academic Award

Among those named recipients of Outstanding Graduate Student Awards by their departments at Morehead State University's Academic Awards Convocation, Monday night, was Samuel Douglas Salisbury, of Wheelwright, Communications.

Commodities Benefit Many Kentuckians

Every month, 45 truckloads of milk, rice, honey and other foods are sent to 32 outlets across Kentucky. That wouldn't be too unusual, except for the fact that once the trucks reach their destinations, the "customers" don't pay one penny for the food they receive.

The trucks, carrying a monthly average 2.3 million pounds of food to 235,000 Kentucky families, are part of the Kentucky Commodity Distribution Program. The program is administered by the state Department for Social Insurance, but operated on a contract basis by ten area development districts and six community action agencies.

Program coordinator Charles Smith said the department began overseeing the federally-funded distribution of surplus commodity foods in 1982 at only a few sites across the Commonwealth, and has seen it grow considerably.

"Today there are almost 400 regular food distribution points in all 120 counties," Smith said. "The ADDs and the CAAs set their own schedules, with distributions conducted at least quarterly. Some of the agencies try to have food distributions as often as once a month if enough food is available."

Having enough food to meet the growing popularity of commodity distribution is becoming more difficult for Kentucky. The state traditionally has led the seven other southeastern states in food distributed. However, Kentucky isn't the only state in which the program has grown in popularity.

"Up until a few months ago, Kentucky was able to receive and distribute large quantities of food which had been allocated to, but went unused by, other states," Smith said. "Today we're facing increased competition with our counterparts in the other southeastern states for any additional commodities which become available."

Commodities provided to states by the U.S. Department of Agriculture include processed cheese (by far the largest single item available), non-fat dry milk, rice, flour, honey, butter and cornmeal.

Eligibility is determined along family income guidelines identical to those used in the food stamp program. The size and makeup of the household is also considered. Applicants make a self-declaration of their family income and size to the agency handling the local food distribution.

"The contracting area development districts and community action agencies are responsible for managing their own programs," Smith said, "but the state is ultimately responsible back to the U.S. Department of Agriculture. So we monitor and audit the programs at the local level."

"If a quantity of food is lost, stolen or allowed to spoil through negligence, the contracting agency may be required to reimburse the program for the dollar value of the food involved. Lost and stolen food means less food available to our clients."

In the long run, Kentucky's Commodity Distribution Program has a good record of obtaining food and getting it to low-income families. "This year we may be able to have as much as $28 million worth of commodities provided to people throughout the state," Smith said. "As long as the food is available, this program can be a significant benefit to thousands of Kentuckians in need."

C.A.P. Emergency Food And Shelter

The Big Sandy Area Community Action Program has received funds to operate an emergency food and shelter program in Floyd county.

Eligible persons who are in need of a one-time utility or shelter assistance can apply for these funds beginning May 15, at the C.A.P. Office, at Allen, or the Mud Creek Clinic, at Grethel, 8:30 a.m. and 3:30 p.m.

Applications will be taken on a first come, first serve basis and must be of an emergency nature. Applicants need to present a disconnect or eviction notice, proof of income and social security numbers for all household members.

WHAT TO DO WHEN A DEATH OCCURS OUT-OF-TOWN

If you're ever involved in arranging for a funeral for someone who dies out of town, you should contact us or another local funeral director who will then make arrangements with a highly qualified mortician wherever the death occurred. (We have many, many personal contacts all over the country through our membership in funeral service organizations.)

We'll take the necessary steps to prepare the body for immediate transportation back home. We will confer at long distance with you or other family members locally to plan for local funeral services. It is important, though, for you to remember to call us or another local funeral home FIRST. Especially under these circumstances, you need to avoid duplication of effort and fees.

If you wish further details on out-of-town arrangements, please contact us.

Highlands Regional Helps 'Clean-Up'

Sheila Spears, Service Unit Chairman for the Floyd County Girl Scouts, accepts 100 rubber gloves from Susan Martin, HRMC Administrative Assistant. The gloves were donated by Skyland Hospital Supply.

Protection for Girl Scouts participating in the May 31 clean up of Jenny Wiley State Park was a worry of local scout leaders. Fortunately, Highlands Regional Medical Center and one of its suppliers, Skyland Hospital Supply, were able to relieve that concern by donating rubber gloves to the Scouts.

"The Floyd County Girl Scouts approached us in April as a source for rubber gloves," said Susan Martin, HRMC Administrative Assistant. "We were unable to provide them ourselves so we contacted one of our suppliers who provided 350 pairs of gloves."

Carol Blevins, Public Information Officer at Highlands Regional, added, "We provide a number of other community services such as tours, a teacher information program, speakers to groups and organizations, and we'll be participating in Wellfest '86 on May 17. During the Wellfest we'll be providing free blood pressure and blood sugar checks."

John Dallas Branham of Corn Fork was burned with electricity on May 7. He is in the St. Joseph's Hospital in Lexington and is improving. The family thanks everyone for their prayers and concern.

Airline Passengers May Expect Delays

The Blue Grass Automobile Club-AAA, reports that due to the low airline fares, more people are flying to their destinations rather than driving. To prepare passengers for airport delays due to increasing security measures, Kathy Gross, AAA Manager of Special Services, offers the following tips:

Passengers on flights traveling within the United States should arrive at the airport one hour before their flight is scheduled to leave. Passengers on international flights should arrive 1½-2 hours prior to departure time.

The John F. Kennedy Airport reports that it has recently purchased new equipment and implemented new procedures to increase security measures. AAA also recommends that passengers entering the country be prepared for a longer delay than those passengers boarding flights or leaving the country.

The Madagascar periwinkle, a flowering plant grown widely in the United States' warmer states as well as in Latin America, Australia and Europe, has already shown its cancer-fighting potency. When doctors have used two of the flower's compounds in combination with other chemicals, they have achieved 80 percent remission of Hodgkin's disease and 99 percent remission of acute lymphatic leukemia.

VALUES

Who shall place a fixed value upon human life? Ours not the hand which shall hold the balances in placing the weight of a life in this scheme of things...

A woman, gentle, kind and godly, passes away peacefully. And the little world in which she has lived, labored and ministered in all good works pauses to from its heart one last, sad tribute.

Into the Great Beyond pass three others. Or is it a score? In this case of establishing relative values it matters little. For these others have swept through life as if on the wings of a mad storm...

One life against a score, or two score—or a hundred. What does it matter? So long as this one life is marked by the beginning of the soul consecrated to the doing of good unto others...

THE ANNUAL MASSACRE

Soon time will come for the annual massacre in Floyd and other counties of Kentucky. "Massacre" and "hunting season" are synonymous here.

For, every year, Floyd county hunters swarm over the countryside in a general debacle. With many of the characteristics of the Indian on the warpath they force the quarry to run a veritable gauntlet.

Every Nimrod is a corduroy-ed Chief Rain-in-the-Face, hell-bent upon taking the largest bag of scalps scalpable. His needs are not considered—two rabbits or four quail would be sufficient to replenish the festal board...

No, the hunter is on the warpath. He has waited, lo! these many moons. He must slay—right and left—and eat all he wants. The rest can go to the dogs.

The grace of a hare springing over the leaf of a frosty morning; the refreshing call of the Bob White in the fields; the exciting flash of the squirrel up the oak—these beauties escape these hunters' eyes.

They do not pause to think, even, of the day when these wild things will be extinct as a result of their ruthlessness. They do not heed the absence of same even now from the fields and hillsides.

This is written from the records of past years. What this year's record will be we cannot say. Unless there is a change of heart with these hunters of ours, the annual massacre will be started again this year.

REPORT CASE OF PARALYSIS

midst, it is best that the people learn some things relative to it.

"Infantile paralysis is an acute, generalized infection, due to a filterable virus, occurring both in epidemics and sporadic forms. The virus attacks the nervous system with a special tendency to localization in the anterior part of the gray matter of the spinal cord.

"There are various modes of transmission.

"First, contact theory—based upon the assumption that the virus is discharged from the mouth and nose and enters through the same channel.

"Second, insect-borne theory—its seasonal prevalence corresponds to the seasonal prevalence of most insects. It has been demonstrated that the virus may be transmitted by the stable fly.

"Third, other theories—it has been suggested that the virus may be air borne.

"The time that elapses between exposure and onset is 7 to 14 days.

"No definite system of prevention can be formulated until we are sure of the mode of transmission. The infection must be fought, however, as one conveyed by man and all known lines of preventive measures applied, such as disinfection, screening and guarding against insects.

"Little can be done in the line of treatment, but, after the acute stage has subsided, gentle massage may be given. Special attention must be given to maintain a normal position of the paralyzed limb, so as to prevent deformities."

Health Among the Elderly...

Family, Community, Make A Difference

Families and community groups can play key roles in the health of older people by providing information, services, and emotional support, says Carol Fraser Frisk, Acting U.S. Commissioner on Aging.

This year's Older Americans Month theme of "Have Your Health and Have Everything" focuses on what Americans can do to enhance their health in their later years, and ways that families and community groups can assist older people. While most older people can care for themselves, some do need help, and families are the best source of that support, Mrs. Frisk says.

Families and other caregivers who are assisting an older person can obtain help and information from state and area agencies on aging. These agencies have been established in every state to plan, coordinate, and support services for older people who need assistance in maintaining their independence. Staff can assist older persons and their caregivers by providing information and help in obtaining services tailored to the older person's needs. These services range from home-delivered meals and homemaker-home health aide services to transportation and health screening programs. In this area the agency on aging is affiliated with the Big Sandy Area Development District, 2nd floor, Prestonsburg Municipal Building.

Mrs. Frisk notes that whether families are assisting an older person or simply want to ensure that an older person maintains his or her health and independence, they can benefit from learning about nutrition, exercise, drug use, and accident prevention. In addition to the local area agency on aging, libraries and health care personnel can often provide information about available courses, organizations, and literature relating to health and the elderly.

Once caregivers have obtained the information which they need, they can discuss ways that they and the older person can work together to maintain or improve health; or they can simply pass this information on to the older person.

If an older person already has health problems, caregivers can help by ensuring that he or she has a well-balanced diet which does not aggravate health problems or conflict with the use of prescribed medicines. Mrs. Frisk suggests discussing nutrition needs with the older person and with a health care specialist, planning meals with the older person, and helping with grocery shopping.

Families can also assist older people by making sure that fire detectors are working and hot water heaters are set

Named To Dean's List

Barkley Jennings Sturgill, Jr., a junior at Washington and Lee University, has earned dean's list status for the recently-ended winter term. Dean's list status at Washington and Lee represents a term grade-average of at least 3.0 on a 4.33 scale. Sturgill is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Barkley Sturgill, Sr., of Trimble Branch, Prestonsburg.

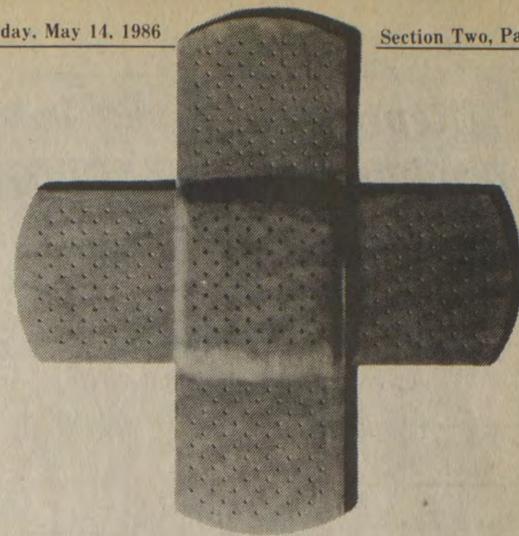

at the proper temperature, that frequently used items are within easy reach, and that good lighting, grab bars, and nonskid rugs are in place.

Mrs. Frisk suggests talking with an older person's health care providers to find ways to be of assistance, ensuring that doctors are aware of all medications an older person is taking, and making certain that the older person understands the directions and cautions on medications.

Finally, Mrs. Frisk says, caregivers can help by including older persons in family gatherings and other activities. All of us, she says, will take better care of ourselves if we feel loved, respected, and part of a group.

While families provide the bulk of services to older people, community groups can often fill family roles for those elderly who have no one available to assist them. They can also provide support to family members who need help in caring for a frail elderly relative. Mrs. Frisk recommends that groups interested in working with older people contact their local area agency on aging for information about the types of services which are needed and the most effective ways of establishing them.

"While we are making a concerted effort during the May 1986 Older Americans Month celebration to draw attention to the importance of health and fitness in the lives of older Americans, we are hoping that this month will serve as the beginning of positive changes in our lifestyles and the creation of health-related services by community groups that will go on throughout this year the years ahead," Mrs. Frisk concluded.

WE'RE HURTING.

Saving lives can be very expensive. The costs of our disaster relief and other humanitarian programs keep mounting. And we can't afford to come up short.

Please help.

Mary Crosby had a grand ride in 'Stagecoach'

By Lynn Hoogenboom

"When you do a job, if you're lucky, you have maybe one or two moments of magic that you remember," says Mary Crosby. "That's why we're in this business. In 'Stagecoach,' there were a million of them — during work, after work. It didn't matter. The people were so incredible."

Mary Crosby

The people, of course, include such musical giants as Johnny Cash, Willie Nelson, Kris Kristofferson and Waylon Jennings. In fact, Crosby, who plays an apprehensive pregnant woman, is one of the few non-singers in the cast of "Stagecoach," the CBS movie, which will air Sunday, May 18.

The only daughter of legendary crooner Bing Crosby laughs when she's asked about her own singing. "In the shower I'm terrific," she says. "As an actress I can sing, and I do work on it, but my ambitions are as an actress, period. I don't want to direct, I don't want to produce. I want to act. That's what turns me on."

EIGHT MILLION WAYS TO DIE (R-Tri-star Pictures) Starring Jeff Bridges, Rosanna Arquette, Alexandra Paul ★

By J.T. YURKO

What kind of movie would you expect from the of writers such films as "Scarface," "Midnight Express" and "The Evil That Men Do"? You'd expect a trip on the sordid side, with lots of foul language, violence, foul language, nudity, foul language, guns and foul language. That's what you get in "Eight Million Ways To Die," a lamentably lame down-and-out detective tale set in seedy Los Angeles.

Jeff Bridges is a detective who seems to like two things: blowing away narcotics suspects and getting drunk. On the side he takes odd jobs, such as protecting hookers from irate pimps. Hey, it's a living. But he doesn't do it very well. The hooker gets wasted early, and that puts Bridges deep in the heart of the underside of the underworld.

There must be a story somewhere in the midst of this confusion, but it would take the likes of Sherlock Holmes to find one. Characters meander around aimlessly, cursing in a wasteland of drugs, sex and incessant bad music.

Rosanna Arquette's characterization consists of whining and trying to look sexy as Bridges' romantic interest. Andy Garcia plays the remorseless drug dealer to slimy excess.

The film is based loosely on the novels of Lawrence Sanders. How loosely? Well, the books are set in New York, and the movie is set in Los Angeles. This, of course, makes the movie's title — a play on the intro line ("There are 8 million stories...") of the old TV show "Naked City" — almost totally meaningless.

The real story of this film is how the mighty have fallen. Hal Ashby has helmed some superb films, including "Shampoo" and "Being There," but his last two efforts have been "The Slugger's Wife" and this low-life saga. He is, of course, hampered with a bad script, but the final shootout is a sorry case of mis-direction.

At least the gun shots will wake you up — if you're still in the theater.

THE COLBYS

Fallon (Emma Samms, center) faces a tough dilemma, and the security of her marriage to Jeff (John James, l.) is at stake: Is the baby she's carrying her husband's or is it the result of her rape by Miles (Maxwell Caulfield) on the eve of her wedding day? "Checkmate," the season finale of ABC's "The Colbys," will air THURSDAY, MAY 22.

A PRESENTATION ABOUT OUR LADY OF THE WAY HOSPITAL will be aired May 15 at 7 p.m., by WPRG on Tel-Com cable system's Channel 5. The show was filmed May 1 and May 7 so the program could be aired during National Hospital Week. Pictured above are B.J. Newsome, at left, and Barry Boyd, of WPRG and Sister Monica Justinger, administrator of Our Lady of the Way Hospital.

James E. Moore will graduate May 18, from the University of Kentucky College of Medicine. He will do his residency at the University of Southern California in Los Angeles. He is the son of Shelly and Barbara Moore, of Wayland, and the brother of Kimberly Moore, of Prestonsburg.

To Wed Saturday, May 24 Moore Will Graduate
Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hall, of Teaberry, announce the forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Joetta Lynn, to Jeff Slone, son of Blaine Slone of Craynor, and the late Zella Slone.
The bride is a 1983 graduate of Betsy Layne High School. She is the granddaughter of Arthur Hall, of Galveston, and the late Ollie Hall, and Mona Hall, and the late Bill Hall.
Mr. Slone is a 1980 graduate of Betsy Layne High School and is self-employed as a carpenter.
The wedding will take place at 1:30 p.m. Saturday, May 24, in the Vogel-Day Methodist Church at Harold, Ky. A reception will take place after the ceremony at the home of Doug and Peggy Slone at Mink Branch, Craynor, at 7 p.m.
The custom of open church will be observed.

Schools Clamp Down On Need for "Shots"
Response was only "fair" to a pilot project launched this week in a campaign to get immunizations up to date on all Floyd school children, said school nurse Jennifer Martin. But efforts will continue to resolve a problem which has become chronic here, she said.
In the pilot project tried Monday, a Floyd Health Department nurse gave 33 children from McDowell and Melvin grade schools shots for protection against diphtheria, tetanus and whooping cough. Parents of children whose records were not on file had been contacted earlier by letter and, where necessary, the school system provided transportation to the McDowell Clinic, where the immunizations were administered.
Prodded by state school authorities two years ago, Floyd administrators have begun to enforce immunization requirements more rigorously. "We had gotten lax. Now we're back on the right track," Mrs. Martin said.
Parents seeking to enroll youngsters in kindergarten next fall can again expect to find teachers and principals insistent that they bring approved records of immunizations, TB skin test, and physical examination, as well as their birth certificate. In the meantime, efforts will continue to catch up with children already in school whose medical records are incomplete, Mrs. Martin said.
"Floyd county is going to do what it is supposed to be doing to follow the law," the nurse said. Besides the legal aspect, she added, "There is a lot of risk in not being immunized."

Knott Vo-Ed Team Competes in L'ville
Among the 20 automotive technology students from Kentucky high schools have advanced to the finals of the 1986 Plymouth-American Automotive Association Trouble Shooting Contest are representatives of the Knott Co. Area Vocational Education Center coached by Kelly Smith. The Martin Co. Vocational Ed Center team coached by Clayborne Hayes, Jr. has been named alternate.
The event will be held in the West Wing of the Kentucky Fair and Exposition Center in Louisville at 8 a.m. Wednesday (May 14). The first two hours are scheduled for instrument calibration and contest briefing, with trouble shooting beginning at 10.
The 10 teams will repair the same unknown problem on 1986 Plymouth cars. The team with the fastest time and best workmanship will represent Kentucky in the national finals in Washington, D.C., in June.
Awards will be presented at 12:45 p.m. The winning team will compete against teams from other states for prizes and scholarships totaling $125,000 in the national championships.
"More than 30,000 students have been placed in full- or part-time jobs as automotive technicians as a result of this contest," Superintendent of Public Instruction Alice McDonald said.
A pre-contest program at the Howard Johnson's Motor Lodge in Louisville at 7:30 p.m. May 13 will feature Wilburn J. Pratt, state associate superintendent for vocational education.

The National Secondary Education Council announced recently that Tommy Slone has been named an Academic All-American. Academic All-American Scholars must earn a 3.3 or better grade point average.
Slone, who attends Allen Central High School was nominated for this award by Patricia Watson, an instructor there. He will appear in the Academic All-American Scholar Directory.
He is the son of Vina M. Slone and the late Darrel Slone. His grandparents are Ishmael and Lula Bailey, of Hippo, and the late Helen Slone.

Some Suffer Life Term Imposed by Illiteracy

They are shackled with the anonymity of prison numbers. They are branded by the "X" with which they sign their names.

They are the 700,000 prisoners in America who can't read or write. They are 60 percent of the nation's inmates, most of whom dropped out of school by the ninth or tenth grade.

Illiteracy is not a problem limited to prisons, however. The National Coalition for Literacy says that one out of five American adults cannot read well enough to conduct their everyday affairs.

"What that statistic means is that 27 million people in our nation are crippled by illiteracy and its damaging social consequences," Superintendent of Public Instruction Alice McDonald said.

"Census figures show that Kentucky leads the nation in the number of adults who do not have a high school diploma. But we are also leading the nation in our efforts to do something about the problems of undereducation and illiteracy. Our prison tutoring program is one example of those efforts."

The literacy program used in Kentucky's prisons is sponsored by the Department of Education, the Cabinet for Human Resources and the Corrections Cabinet. The program is financed through the federal Job Training Partnership Act.

The prison tutoring project is based on a model literacy program that was developed in Jefferson County in 1978, with support from the Department of Education. The program has proved so successful in recruiting and teaching undereducated adults that it is being copied throughout the nation.

Staff members from the Department of Education and volunteers who have received literacy training go into eight of Kentucky's nine correctional facilities to teach inmates to read and write. A unique feature of Kentucky's program is that inmates are also trained to tutor one another in reading.

Literacy instruction focuses on students' most immediate communication needs—from reading letters to reading labels and instructions.

In addition to a proven curriculum, a key ingredient in the program's success in prison settings is the individualized teaching from a caring adult.

Restoring human dignity is as important as word drills to the tutors—even when they are inmates.

Howard Basnight, who has a master's degree in education from the University of Louisville, is a tutor. He's also an inmate. Two dozen prisoners have learned to read because of Basnight's desire to help them.

He says he admires the men who "have the guts to admit they can't read."

"Everybody has their pride," he said. "It takes a lot of courage to get help."

Mary Marshall, corrections coordinator for the Kentucky Department of Education, agrees.

"Toughness takes on a new meaning to prisoners," she said. "It takes a different kind of toughness to overcome fear of failure, to counteract all the negative forces that are draining these human beings, and to try to learn something that first-graders are learning."

Michael Leach had a different motive for wanting to learn to read. Leach, an inmate at Blackburn Correctional Complex in Lexington, had suffered with his hidden handicap for 20 years.

Leach said he enrolled in the reading program because he didn't have anything else to do. After injuring his knee playing football, he was unable to perform his masonry work assignment. So he learned to build words instead.

"I'm in another world now," he said. "Learning to read has made my life. After I learned to read, I felt a sense of relief. It was like when you clap and stand up at a ballet you like. I can only smile."

Leach smiles a lot now, especially when he brags about his tutor, Sara Beard. Trained through Operation Read at her local library, Beard has continued to tutor Leach because she is so excited about his progress.

"He has gone from being a total non-reader to a fourth-grade reading level in a little over five months," she said.

George Elliott is learning to read because fellow inmate Steve Hides likes to help people. In four years of prison life Hides has helped dozens of men learn to read. With 40 college hours under his belt, Hides wants to complete his education after he is paroled.

Elliott, who will be paroled soon, would like to become a volunteer tutor himself someday. Not being able to read was a real factor in his being in prison, he said.

"I couldn't fill out a job application, so I had to find quick, easy ways to make money," he said.

The movement of inmates between correctional facilities has historically made it difficult for prisoners to follow through with their reading instruction. Kentucky's program is unique in that inmates receive literacy instruction no matter where they are incarcerated, because each prison uses the same program.

After being paroled, prisoners are referred to community centers or adult basic education centers that use the same reading program. At this point each person is encouraged to enroll in a preparatory course for the General Educational Development certificate.

As poet Richard Lovelace wrote in the 17th century:

"Stone walls do not a prison make Nor iron bars a cage."

Iron bars may contain prisoners for a period of time, but illiteracy is the prison that restrains them for life.

Reading tutors hold a special key—the key that sets men and women free from the mental prison of illiteracy.

Some Highways To Get Markers

Gov. Martha Layne Collins has announced that construction funds have been authorized for installation of pavement markers on 1,453 miles of selected roadway sections throughout the state. "This safety improvement project will enhance motorists' ability to distinguish lane separations on roads, especially at night and during adverse weather conditions," said Collins. "These markers have proven to be more effective than painted lines that often fade."

The project includes installation of metal snowplowable pavement markers on 22.3 miles of roads in Floyd county. The markers will be installed on U.S. 23 from milemarker 17.36 to milemarker 24.09; Kentucky 3 from milemarker 0.00 to 4.17; and Kentucky 114 from milemarker 0.00 to 11.38.

The Transportation Cabinet authorized a total of $3.9 million for the project, which is being financed with funds from the federal Interstate 4R Program. A contract for construction is tentatively scheduled for a letting on May 23. The project is part of the state's six-year road plan.

THESE PUPPIES ARE JUST RIGHT for adoption now at the local animal shelter. Giving them a good home would be the best way to observe National Pet Week.

SUPREME COURT OF KENTUCKY

CHAMBERS, STATE CAPITOL
FRANKFORT, KENTUCKY 40601

April 24, 1986

Dear Judge Stumbo:

I want to extend my appreciation of your participation in the 1986 Statewide High School Mock Trial Tournament. I realize that you volunteered precious personal time to devote to the education of the young people who worked so hard to represent their schools in such excellent fashion. Through this personal contact with the youth of Kentucky, we can contribute positively to their preparation for adult life. Your willingness to work with these young people sets an example of what is right with the legal profession—an example they may draw upon in setting their goals for the future.

I hope you will consider continued participation and support of this program, which I believe is one of the better ways of educating the public about the law and the judicial process.

Thank you again for your dedication to youth law-related education.

Sincerely
Bob

June Buchanan School Holds Commencement

The first senior class of The June Buchanan School held commencement exercises Saturday, May 10 in the Cushing Hall auditorium, Alice Lloyd College. The special commencement speaker was Dr. June Buchanan, co-founder of Alice Lloyd College and founder of The June Buchanan School.

Baccalaureate ceremonies were held at 10 a.m. and the speaker was Dr. John E. Roberts, editor and general manager of the Baptist Courier. Angela D. Tackett, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Danny Tackett, of McDowell, was among the graduates. She will major in pre-medicine at Alice Lloyd College.

Teens Told...

It's Okay To Ask For Help

Mountain Comprehensive Care has joined with the other 620 members of the National Council of Community Mental Health Centers and the 3200 members of the American Academy of Child Psychiatry (AACP) in observing May as Mental Health Month. Along with other community mental health centers and child psychiatrists, Mountain Comprehensive Care is using the theme "Reaching Your Potential Sometimes Mean Reaching for Help" to encourage teenagers and their families to learn more about the mental and emotional problems affecting young people and the services available for them in the Big Sandy area.

The center is planning a variety of activities to celebrate Mental Health Month, including participation in the Big Sandy WELLFEST on May 17.

In commenting on the observance, Michael Vance, Prevention/Education Program Director said, "This year, Mental Health Month provides us the opportunity to focus attention on the mental health needs of teenagers in our community. The theme, 'Reaching Your Potential Sometimes Means Reaching For Help' was selected to remind teenagers—and their parents, teachers, counselors and other concerned adults—that no one needs to feel ashamed about asking for help with mental and emotional problems." Vance explained.

According to AACP, as many as 12 million U.S. children under 18 suffer from some form of mental illness. Further, child psychiatrists estimate that approximately three million of these young people have serious psychiatric disorders.

"There are, however, far too many young people who are not receiving the care they need," Vance continued. "The Children's Defense Fund report in 1982 that two thirds of the nation's seriously disturbed children did not get the care they needed and countless others received inappropriate care. Increased awareness of mental illness and mental health care can assist in breaking down some of this reluctance to request help. Community mental health centers offer prevention and education programs which contribute to public understanding and encourage people to take advantage of the services they need," Vance said.

"Through their community mental health center, residents of the Big Sandy area have access locally to services designed to promote mental 'wellness' and treat a variety of mental health related problems," Vance continued. "Mountain Comprehensive Care Center is part of a nationwide system of agencies delivering care at the local level. Last year this system served some 1.4 million young people across the nation. In addition to direct services, community mental health centers offer a variety of other programs geared to teenagers such as suicide prevention programs, peer counselor training and drug and alcohol abuse prevention programs."

Mountain Comprehensive Care offers both out-patient and group counseling services in each of the five Big Sandy Counties of Pike, Floyd, Johnson, Martin and Magoffin. These services are part of a complete array of Mental Health/Mental Retardation/Substance Abuse services available through the center.

NUMB ARMS, LEGS
Warning Signals

There may be misalignment of vertebrae in the spine causing pressure on nerves, yet the patient experiences no pain in the back. Instead, a variety of sensations may be felt in other parts of the body. These include tingling, tightness, hot spots, cold spots, crawling sensations, electric shock sensations, stinging, burning, and others.

The following nine symptoms involving back pain or strange sensations are often the forerunners of more serious conditions. Any one of these may spell back trouble:

- (1) Paresthesias (see above)
- (2) Headaches
- (3) Painful joints
- (4) Numbness in the arms or hands
- (5) Loss of sleep
- (6) Stiffness in the neck
- (7) Pain between the shoulders
- (8) Stiffness or pain in lower back
- (9) Numbness or pain in the legs.

These signals may indicate your body is being robbed of normal nerve function. Until this function is restored, you will, in some degree, be incapacitated. The longer you wait to seek help, the worse the condition will likely become. Don't wait! Should you experience any of these warning signals...call for in-depth consultation in Layman's terms.

Pharmacy Footnotes

By HAROLD COOLEY

ABSORBENTS

Absorbents are the ingredient most frequently found in over-the-counter anti-diarrhea products. They work by absorbing nutrients, toxins and bacteria from the intestinal tract. Because they generally are taken in large doses, most of them are flavored to taste good. Absorbents generally are used in the treatment of minor diarrhea because they are safe. They also have the ability to absorb digested materials as well as bacteria and other irritating matter when taken orally. They act like a sponge in the intestines and, sometimes, cause constipation. Before using this product, discuss it with the pharmacist. It may interfere with the body's ability to absorb other types of medicine when taken at the same time.

Our pharmacists at COOLEY APOTHECARY are part of a 5,000 year old tradition of service to public health and well-being. Let that tradition of pharmacy serve you and your family by offering you the level of personal attention your family's health deserves. If you are new to this community we are located at No. 2 Town Center Bldg., 886-8106 and open Mon.-Fri. 9-5:30, Sat. 9-4. Master Charge and Visa honored plus we welcome all third party payments.

HANDY HINT: Paregoric, used to treat diarrhea, is available only by prescription.

Carr-Eads To Wed

Mr. and Mrs. Lum Carr, of Martin, announce the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Miss Libby A. Carr, to Michael Timothy Eads, son of Kenneth Eads, of Bypro and Mary Wagner, of Lexington. Miss Carr, a graduate of Allen Central and Mayo Vocational School, is employed with R and S Truck Body Company. Mr. Eads, a graduate of Wheelwright High School and Prestonsburg Community College, is employed with Layne Mining Company. The wedding will be solemnized Saturday, May 24, at 2 p.m. at the First Baptist Church, at McDowell. The gracious custom of open ceremony will be observed. A reception will be held at the church.

NWF Wildlife Camp Still Has Openings

Parents who want to focus their children's energy in a positive direction this summer should consider the different and stimulating camp experience offered by the National Wildlife Federation's Ranger Rick Wildlife Camp. The camp, which caters to children and teenagers aged 9-17, still has openings available in all five sessions, June 8 through August 17.

Located on 1,300 acres of scenic forests and hills in North Carolina's Blue Ridge Mountains, Ranger Rick Wildlife Camp emphasizes environmental awareness and love of the out-of-doors. Campers learn to live in harmony with nature and wildlife under the guidance of a qualified, caring staff.

The NWF Wildlife Camps, created in 1970 to provide children with a positive appreciation of their natural environment, has been acclaimed by parents from all parts of the country.

"Our four children have been involved in numerous summer programs which are fabulous, but none comes close to Wildlife Camp's awareness and concern," said Sharon Donnelly, of Palm Beach, Florida.

Wildlife camp is accredited by the American Camping Association and has received the President's Environmental Youth Award from the Environmental Protection Agency for its outstanding achievement in environmental studies.

"Wildlife camp provides a balanced schedule of learning about the environment, outdoor living skills, recreation, evening programs and special trips," said Susan Johnson, Wildlife Camp director. "The heart of the program is nature study with all the other aspects of a more traditional camp."

Campers learn about nature through "quests," an environmental topic which each camper chooses to study during his or her camp session. Quest topics have proven extremely popular and include such subjects as lakes and streams, backyard habitat, small creatures, insects and ecology.

In addition, Ranger Rick Wildlife Camp provides such camp activities as swimming, boating, fishing, individual and team sports and games.

This year, Ranger Rick Wildlife Camp offers a special Teen Adventure session limited to 40 campers aged 14-17. Teenagers will enjoy an eight-day backpacking and camping trip, culminating in a raft ride down the Nantahala River.

Openings are also available for leadership trainees at the sessions, where the teens learn how to work effectively with children and teach various environmental/outdoor workshops.

The 1986 Wildlife Camps will be held June 8-19 (Session I); June 22-July 1 (Teen Adventure session); July 2-16 (Session II); July 19-30 (Session III); August 3-17 (Session IV).

For more information about Wildlife Camp, write to Dept. CS-86, National Wildlife Federation, 1412 16th Street NW, Washington, D.C. 20036 or call (703) 790-4369.

The National Wildlife Federation, this year celebrating its 50th year, is the nation's largest conservation organization with 4.5 million members and supporters and 51 affiliate organizations.

Chaffins Ordained To Ministry, Sunday

Sunday, May 14, Ronnie Chaffins, of Prestonsburg, was ordained into the ministry at Fitzpatrick First Baptist Church. The church unanimously voted to ordain Chaffins upon the recommendation of the Ordination Council of Pastors of the Enterprise Association of Southern Baptist Churches.

During the afternoon service, a charge to the candidate was presented by Rev. Stephen Hopkins, pastor of First Baptist Church Irene Cole Memorial, and a charge to the church was presented by Rev. Jennings West, pastor of Lancer Baptist Church.

Pat Chaffins, his wife, sang a solo entitled We Shall Behold Him. The ordination certificate and a Bible were presented to Chaffins by Rev. John H. Woods, pastor of Fitzpatrick First Baptist Church.

Chaffins has been a member of the Fitzpatrick Baptist Church for 14 years, an ordained deacon for 10 years, and was licensed into the ministry in November 1984. Since that time he has preached both at Fitzpatrick Baptist and at churches in Floyd, Pike, and Magoffin counties. He and his wife, Pat, have provided music services at many area churches during the past three years.

In January, Chaffins was accepted into the Master's of Divinity program at Luther Rice Seminary, Jacksonville, Florida, where he and his family will reside. The Chaffins' have three children, Aimee Sheryl, Joel Anderson, and Anna Elizabeth.

Bring-A-Bike day will climax a week-long bike safety program at the Baptist Day Care Center, here, May 23. Students and parents will learn safety habits for bicycles, tricycles and riding toys.

This program is sponsored by the St. Jude Children's Research Hospital. To sponsor a child in this event or for further information call LaDonna Patton, at 886-2194.

ORDINANCE NO. 8-86

AN ORDINANCE OF THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF PRESTONSBURG ESTABLISHING AN APPEALS BOARD TO HEAR APPEALS FROM THE DECISIONS OF THE CITY OF PRESTONSBURG BUILDING OFFICIAL.

WHEREAS: The City Council of the City of Prestonsburg is enforcing the Kentucky Uniform Building Code; and, WHEREAS: The City Council is desirous of providing for a fair interpretation of the building code; and,

WHEREAS: The City Council realizes that the occasion may arise where a decision of the City's building code officer needs to be appealed; and,

WHEREAS: The City Council desires to establish a commission that can hear appeals according to KRS 198B.070, NOW, THEREFORE BE IT ORDAINED BY THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF PRESTONSBURG AS FOLLOWS:

SECTION 1: There is hereby established a local appeals board for the City of Prestonsburg to be known as Board of Building Code Appeals whose purpose it shall be to hear appeals of the decision of the City building enforcement officer.

SECTION 2: This board shall consist of five (5) technically qualified persons with professional experience related to the building industry who shall be appointed by the Mayor of the City of Prestonsburg with the approval of the City Council. The term of the members shall be for a period of four (4) years with the initial board having a member to serve for a period of one (1) year, one member for a period of two (2) years, one member for a period of three (3) years and two members for a period of four (4) years. One member shall be designated as chairman of the board.

SECTION 3: No local building official or employee of a local inspection department may sit on a local appeals board if such board is hearing an appeal to a decision rendered by his department. No member of a local appeals board shall hear an appeal in a case in which he has a private interest.

SECTION 4: Any party to a decision by the local building official may appeal that decision to the local appeals board. Upon receipt of an appeal from a qualified party, the local appeals board shall convene a hearing to consider the appeal within fifteen days of receipt. All parties to the appeal shall be notified of the time and place of the hearing by letter mailed by certified mail, no later than ten (10) days prior to the date of the hearing. The board shall render a decision within five (5) working days after the hearing.

SECTION 5: The Board of Appeals may uphold, amend or reverse the decision of the City building inspector and there shall be no appeal from the decision of the local appeals board other than appeal to the State Board of Housing, Buildings and Construction.

SECTION 6: This Ordinance shall be in full compliance with Kentucky Revised Statute 198B.070.

SECTION 7: Ordinances or parts of Ordinance in conflict herein are hereby expressly repealed to the extent of such conflict.

SECTION 8: This Ordinance shall be in full force and effect upon adoption and publication.

Triathlon Tests "Iron" Men, Women In Running, Canoeing, and Biking

Whitley City, Ky.—The first-ever Big South Fork Tennessee-to-Kentucky Triathlon has been scheduled for May 10, it has been announced by sponsoring Chambers of Commerce in Scott County, Tennessee, and McCreary County, Kentucky.

The exciting running, canoeing and biking event for well-trained and seasoned athletes will cover a grueling, 73-mile course through some of the most rugged backcountry east of the Mississippi River.

It is sponsored by the Sheltoe Trace Outfitters of Somerset, Kentucky, in cooperation with the McCreary County (Kentucky) Chamber of Commerce and the Scott County (Tennessee) Chamber of Commerce, and is sanctioned by the United States Canoeing Association (USCA).

The three-phase race will commence at the Bandy Creek Recreation site in the Big South Fork National River and Recreation Area. Phase one is a three-mile downhill run on pavement, followed by a 30-mile downriver canoe race from Leatherwood Ford (in Tennessee) to the Yamacraw Bridge (in Kentucky), and concluding with a 40-mile bicycle course back to Leatherwood Ford.

There will be two classes of competition ("Iron Man" and "Iron Woman") in three different age levels: Junior (18 and under); Senior (19-39); and Master (40 and older). First, second and third place trophies will be awarded in all classifications.

Registration forms and pre-registration can be obtained by writing the Big South Fork Tennessee-to-Kentucky Triathlon, c/o Scott County Chamber of Commerce, P.O. Box 442-E, Oneida, TN 37841. Entry forms should be submitted by May 5, or entrants can register on the day of the race.

Registration fees are $15 for individual or $25 for two-person entries. Competitors in this triathlon must be USCA/ACA members and memberships can be acquired on the day of the race. Checks should be made payable to the BSF TN/KY Triathlon.

Helmets are required for all three phases of the race, and approved life vests must be worn by all participants during the canoeing portion of the race. Canoes must not exceed an overall length of 18-feet, six-inches and canoe rentals are available at the race site.

Participants will check in between 6 and 6:30 a.m. on Saturday, May 10 in preparation for a 7 a.m. starting time for the triathlon. Approximately 15 minutes prior to the start of the race all competitors will meet with race officials. Awards are scheduled to be presented at the conclusion of the day-long event at approximately 8:30 p.m.

Triathlon promoters expect as many as 50 participants in the event.

Key access points for spectators will include the Bandy Creek Recreational Area on the Leatherwood Ford Road; Angel Falls overlook approximately 2 1/2 miles (by trail) downriver from Leatherwood Ford; near the BSF Scenic Railway at Worley (in Kentucky), and at the finish of the canoe race at Yamacraw bridge. The best spectator position for the bike portion of the race will be the 2 1/2 mile downgrade on the Leatherwood Ford Road at the conclusion of the triathlon.

Homemakers Give To Research Fund

More than $33,000 was presented to the Ovarian Cancer Research Fund this week by the Kentucky Extension Homemakers Association (KEHA) at their annual meeting. The fund was established by the group in 1977.

Dr. John van Nagell, of the A.B. Chandler Medical Center, accepted the check. "Research requires continued support," said van Nagell. "Because of the support from KEHA members, they have a laboratory at the A.B. Chandler Medical Center dedicated specifically to ovarian cancer research." He said the fund had helped hundreds of women.

"The organization's goal each year is to get a $1 donation from each member," said Annabelle Perkins, president of KEHA. "Since we have 36,000 members we'd like to contribute $36,000 each year. We came very close this year." Since the fund was established nine years ago, the group has raised over $175,000 for research.

In addition to the presentation, 1000 members attended three days of workshops, training sessions and tours of historical places in Lexington.

Some of the workshops the members attended focused on nutritional cooking, home energy-conserving products, Alzheimer's disease, food and drug interactions, latchkey children and alleviating illiteracy.

Learning, leading, serving was the theme of this year's meeting. "The theme really was appropriate because that's exactly what the Homemakers organization does," said Dr. Suzanne Badenhop, assistant Extension director of the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture. "The members contribute countless hours to civic activities in their communities."

"Scared to death" and "died of a broken heart" are not just figures of speech, according to the May Reader's Digest. In one study, about 20 percent of people who suffered sudden cardiac arrest had experienced acute psychological stresses in the preceding 24 hours.
