PAY TRIBUTE TO PROF. HOLBROOK

Meredon, Ky., March 11. In a lonely but beautiful pine grove that overlooks the campus of Morehead college in which he spent twenty-seven years in helping to build, Prof. D. M. Holbrook was laid to rest here today.

More than a thousand students and as many townspeople recited the lengthy eulogy and the accompaniment of Prof. Holbrook as the college held a memorial service for him this morning at the regular convocation hour.

The body lay in state in the auditorium of the college surrounded by a veritable garden of roses as students and friends viewed it for the last time. For two hours a steady stream of friends passed by the casket for a last glimpse of the man.

Classes of the college were dismissed this afternoon and business places of the town were closed during the funeral.

Prof. Holbrook's closest associate and a man with whom he had worked for many years, Dr. P. C. Burton, president emeritus of the institution, said the last rites for Prof. Holbrook. Friends from many points in Eastern Kentucky came here to attend the funeral.

INTRA-MURAL CONTESTS ARE HELD AT MOREHEAD

The annual intra-mural tournament held at Morehead the past week was considered one of the greatest ever staged at the teachers' college. Fourteen teams entered, representing nearly every county in Eastern Kentucky, each team being composed of boys attending school here. The following counties were represented: Lawrence, Fleming, Boyd, Magoffin, Johnson, Rowan, Perry, Carter, Elliott, Jessamine, Morgan, Greenup, and Lee. The fourteenth team was composed of boys from the Blue Grass district. The tournament started Monday afternoon, March 7, four games being played each day until all were eliminated except Perry and Carter counties who will play at a later date for the championship. A silver loving cup will be awarded the winner.

FARM LOAN FUND NOW AVAILABLE

Six Apply This Week to County Agent; Deadline, April 30

County Agent N. D. Isbell is receiving applications of farmers for loans from the second federal farm loan fund which is now available regionally. Six farmers had made applications up till Tuesday afternoon.

Terms of the loan are practically the same as that of last year, except that the interest rate has been increased from five to 5 1/2 per cent. A first mortgage on the farmer's crop is required, with a waiver from tenants' landlords. Funds thus obtained by farmers may be used only for seed, feed, and farming operations this year. Only farmers who were engaged in farming last year are eligible to receive money from the fund.

Former County Judge Ed Hill, Geo. E. Archer, cashier of the Bank of Josephine, and Leo M. Davidson, assistant cashier of the Bank of Josephine, form the committee which passes on the applications. These three served in the same capacity last year. This year, final approval or rejection of applications will be made in the county in which the farmer resides, a government agent coming to this county and, if necessary, going to the farmers' homes to make a personal investigation.

Notes made by farmers in preparing the loan become due November 30, this year. Requests for making applications close April 30.

The county agent announces that he will be in his office on Saturdays and Mondays, on which days farmers wishing to apply for loans, may see him.

SURVEY OF JOHN'S CREEK ROAD SEEN

Floyd County Promises $3,000 On Work; $50,000 for Construction

Survey of the John's Creek road will be started as soon as Floyd county appropriates the $3,000 which it has promised the state highway commission for that work, according to a copy of minutes of the meeting of the highway commission on February 9. These minutes, made available to The Times last week, also show that the commission has under advisement the matter of completing the Beaver Creek road using county road machinery.

Except of the minutes follow: "Dr. Stumbo and others appeared before the commission and stated that Floyd county has $3,000 which it will advance for survey on the John's Creek road and that the county has $50,000 to be used on the construction of this road when needed. On motion of Commissioner Justice, it was ordered that survey be started before the John's Creek road when Floyd county pays up $3,000 to pay the cost of same.

This delegation argued that the department complete the Beaver Creek road, using the county's machinery, and that the commission agree to bear the cost of keeping this machinery in repair. This matter was referred to the Engineer of Maintenance with the request that he make report and recommendations to the commission as soon as possible."

Meeting Set for March 25; When Spelling Bee To Be Held

In addition to the county spelling bee finals, with spelling champions of 15 schools gathered here in competition, a meeting of high school principals will be held here on March 25, and which is of importance to the schools during the remainder of the present term and during the next term will be discussed.

County Superintendent Stephens called the meeting of principals to formulate a course of study which is to be adopted as a standard by all of the high schools of the county, so that a student in leaving one school of the county at any time may enter another and pick up his studies where he left off at the other school.

Mrs. Dan Throckmorton, member of the Prestonburg high school faculty, plans a music contest for students in high schools of this county, and Joe Moore, of the Garrett consolidated school faculty, propose to sponsor a held day in the spring, with various schools of the county entering contestants. These matters probably will be considered by the school heads in their meeting here March 25.

This week schools entering the spelling bee are holding their contests in order to select their champions, and an interesting bee is expected here.

DESIGNATE APRIL 8 'BLUE RIBBON DAY'

Board of Education Urges Teachers to Sponsor Programs in Schools

Friday, April 8, was designated "Blue Ribbon Day" in the schools of Floyd county by the county board of education at its session here Friday. Principals of the various schools, now in session, are being asked to cooperate and to sponsor programs in their schools on that date.

Blue Ribbon Day is the day annually devoted to a tribute to health, and was introduced in this county by the Floyd county health department. Through the interest created in the activities of this day and through the work of the health department, Floyd county now has hundreds of children eligible for the Blue Ribbon symbol of the highest standard of health.

Owing to the economic situation now prevailing Blue Ribbon Day will not be celebrated on a large scale, as was done two years ago, with representatives of the various schools gathering here in one big health demonstration. Local school activities are being planned instead.

The board of education also converted the Auxler high school from a two-year to a four-year high school, this action to prevail with the beginning of the 1932-33 term. A recommendation that, beginning with the 1932-33 term, the school in sub-district No. 64 on the head of Big Mutt Creek be established as a two-year high school was made by the board. A school building on Brandy Key, sub-district No. 47, is to be constructed if funds are available.

For the ninth month of teaching service this year teachers in the county, six grades were voted a salary of $30. Nomination of Prof. Aaron Lee to fill the vacancy created in the local high school faculty by the resignation of Prof. J. H. Bywater, was approved by the board.

Rita Martin was sworn in as trustee to fill the vacancy created in that office by the removal from the school district of E. C. Howard, district trustee of district 78, a part of this county and all of Brock's Branch were added to the Martin sub-district school district. If necessary, district No. 27 files a petition at this time, such action to be taken. It also will be added to the Martin district. J. D. Bunker was appointed to visit the various schools to make it certain that the 4-H project work is being carried on in each school.

BANK ROBBERS BELIEVED SAFE FROM CAPTURE

Extensive Manhunt Fails To Find Clue As To Bandits' Whereabouts

LOOT IS $31,000

Though one of the greatest manhunts ever staged in this section has been instituted, no clue has yet been uncovered as to the whereabouts of three bandits, who late last Wednesday afternoon robbed the Paintsville National Bank of $31,000 in cash and in bonds, later escaping in a waiting automobile.

A man who gave his name as William Morris, of White Sulphur, and a woman registered as Josephine Bennett, Ewing, Va., were booked on drunkenness, charges, and held while an investigation was made, but they have been released. Officers over practically every Eastern Kentucky county have maintained a close watch while Johnson county officials have searched the hills in search of the bandits, whose whereabouts have been reported at various places. It is now believed that the robbers have effected a clean getaway.

The robbery was the first of a bank in this section. Working swiftly and with precision, the bandits executed their drama quickly and were equipped with a sub-machine gun, the others with revolvers. The seven bank employees and five customers were held into a rear room of the bank, then two of the banding began scooping up cash and securities, cramming the loot into a sack. A moment later they...

BANK ROBBERY

SAFE FROM CAPTURE

had driven the employe, and customer into the vault and slammed the door, thinking it was locked. A telephone cord caught in the door, however, and prevented it from locking.

The bank, then ordered L. L. Lyons, assistant cashier, into the car with them in order to prevent their actions from appearing suspicious to passers-by and drove away. Two blocks from the bank they released Mr. Lyons and told him to walk back to the bank.

A few minutes after the robbery had been consummated officers, thru-out this section were apprised of the hold-up, and here officers and citizens mobilized a watch for some time for the robbers. Wednesday night, a heavy patrol was placed over the two banks here.

Loss of the Paintsville bank was covered by insurance, and money was taken to Paintsville from Ashland for continuance of the bank's business until adjustment could be made by the security company.

"FLU" PREVALENT

THRU KENTUCKY

During the period covering the month of January and the first three weeks of February, 1932, a total of 1,000 cases of influenza have been officially reported to the State Board of Health from various sections of the state. Of this aggregate, 300 cases were reported in January and 700 cases, during the first three weeks of February.

These figures indicate a substantial increase of influenza this year over the corresponding period of last year. Cases of pneumonia have also shown a considerable increase in 1932, as compared with the corresponding period of 1931. Of this disease, 184 cases were reported in January and 237 cases during the first three weeks of February, making a total of 421 cases. In 1931, 82 cases were reported in January and 47 in February—a total of 130 cases. The incidence of pneumonia invariably increases with the increased prevalence of influenza.

Discussing the influenza and pneumonia situation recently, Dr. J. L. Jones, state epidemiologist, said:

"There is no occasion for alarm in these figures. However, they do serve to acquaint us with the fact that influenza is with us, and increasing from week to week, and so constitute a warning to initiate preventive measures, in an attempt to avoid an undue spread of this disease."

"Influenza is a highly infectious disease, spread by dissemination of discharges from the nose and mouth, chiefly through coughing and sneezing and through physical contact between the sick and well."

How to Avoid Influenza
Do not let any person cough or sneeze into your face, if possible to prevent it.

Do not come in contact unnecessarily with those who may have the disease.

When influenza is prevalent, avoid crowds. Do not use drinking or eating utensils used by others unless they have been washed in boiling water.

Avoid use of the common towel and the common drinking cup.

Keep yourself in good physical condition by eating regularly of simple, nourishing food, getting sufficient sleep in a well ventilated room and by getting as much fresh air and sunshine as possible.

Keep out of the bedroom unless in attendance.

If You Have This Disease
Call a physician.

Go to bed immediately in a warm but well-ventilated room. If the service of a physician cannot be immediately secured, take a laxative and adhere to a liquid diet.

Uncomplicated cases recover in a few days.

If you would avoid complications, stay in bed at least three days after you feel perfectly well.

For the protection of others, cover your face when coughing and sneezing.

If You Are Caring for a Patient
All discharges from the nose and throat should be received upon handkerchiefs, and these promptly placed in water and boiled, or, better still, upon pieces of soft cloth which can be burned.

Wash your hands immediately after handling the patient or anything soiled with discharges.

Avoid, if possible, close proximity to the patient when he is coughing or sneezing.

If more than one patient is being taken care of in the same room, they should be separated as far as possible and their beds separated by hanging sheets or screens.

While caring for patients, avoid contact or association, as far as possible, with other susceptible members of the household.

Preventive Treatment

The members of the State Board of Health at Louisville have prepared a vaccine which a number of physicians have used with success. This vaccine may be obtained through physicians or county health officers.
