TWO DEAD; ONE INJURED BY TRUCK NEAR HAROLD, KY.

Wednesday Night Tragedy Near Scene of Similar Recent Accident

BOND EXECUTED

A truck reported here to be owned by the Utilities Elkhorn Coal Company, driven by Ed Fleming struck a group of three on the highway above Harold, Ky., Wednesday night at 7 o'clock, instantly killing two men and injuring one woman. The tragedy took place within one mile of a recent mishap that took the lives of three school children.

The dead: Dakota Stapleton, age 24; Dayton Duval, 26. Mrs. Dayton (Duval), third of the group, suffered an injured hip and other bruises, as she was struck a glancing blow by the machine.

The driver did not stop at the scene of the tragedy, but was later arrested by Pike county officers in Pike county. He was brought to Floyd county jail here Thursday by officers.

Fleming said he did not see the people walking on the road as another car was approaching, but after he hit them he became excited and drove on to where he and the coal company officials were returning to the scene when they met the arresting officers. Mr. Bowman, a company official, stated, it is said, that Fleming was not intoxicated upon reaching Wingo.

Charles Moore, brother of Mrs. Duval, is quoted as saying that the Duvals had been to the store at Harold. Returning home, they were at the time the truck struck them, were walking on the dirt shoulder of the road off the pavement. He said that the truck was traveling at an excessive rate of speed.

A report from Pikeville stated the truck was equipped with a governor that would not permit a speed of over 35 miles per hour. The governor, it is said, was tested only two weeks ago.

Fleming was before county judge pro-tem John Allen, late Thursday afternoon, but waived a hearing. He was charged in two counts of involuntary manslaughter and one of assault with a battery. He executed bonds of $5,000.

BI-STATE MEETING IN PIKE SATURDAY; URGE 'BREXIT'S' PARK

Pikeville, Ky. (Special)—A record crowd is expected in Pikeville Saturday, March 6, for the bi-state "National Forest Reserve" meeting due to responses received from business and civic leaders of Kentucky and Virginia interested in a national park at the Big Sandy "Brecks."

Quoting W. Clyde Sanders, chairman of the temporary committee formed to urge the formation of the park, "The many letters certainly express that much enthusiasm is aroused among our natives and they seem determined to use their influence in trying to bring to reality the one thing that nature must have intended for us."

Speakers, recognized as authorities on the subject of "Conservation," have been secured for Saturday's meeting slated for purpose of forming a permanent organization. Civic leaders, business men and public officials of Floyd and other counties of this vicinity have been invited to be present.

STATE TAXPAYERS GIVEN TO APRIL 30

Floyd Taxes 50 Per Cent Paid; District No. 2 Has Best Record

A 61-day extension has been granted by the state for the payment of state property and poll taxes. The original deadline was set for February 28, but the proclaimed moratorium sets the date for April 30.

The governor decreed the added time for payment of taxes to aid the flood sufferers in particular, it is said. In preparing a report on tax collections at the sheriff's office here, Deputy Sheriff O. H. Stumbo stated that Floyd county has paid approximately 60 per cent of the county and state taxes previous to March 1. The report is expected to be completed this week and total figures for the period of collection rendered.

Thursday evening, Sheriff M. T. Stumbo totaled the collection for the month of February and stated that about $50,000 had been paid during the month.

So far, it was stated, district No. 2 has the best record in tax payments. Not officially confirmed, it was estimated that the district has paid better than 70 per cent of its 1936 taxes. The district is composed of the Right Beaver section of the county.

The collections made represent the small taxpayer of the county. Sheriff Stumbo said, as a large number of the corporations have not, as yet, made their payments. Most of the business concerns and corporations in the county were affected during the flood due to curtailed shipping and railway service.

Coal mines were at a standstill for approximately 20 days.

COUNTY TOURNEY BEGAN THURSDAY

Prestonsburg Beats Wayland, Garrett Defeats Martin in Close Contest

Floyd county high school teams are getting a taste of the 58th district basketball tournament this week-end. Thursday night, March 4, saw Prestonsburg and Garrett get by the first round competition, the former trouncing an inexperienced Wayland team 38 to 4, and the Garrett team nosing out Martin by the slim margin of 26 to 25.

Spectators said that the Martin team led the mighty Garrett aggregation thru the game until the last few minutes of play. At this point in the game it was stated, one of Martin's players fouled out and the squad had insufficient replacements to stand the fact page of the game.

In the Prestonsburg-Wayland game, the Backcats played the second team during the major portion of the basketballing fracas, Dickie Dickerson, team manager, stated.

At 2:30 Friday afternoon, the fast improving Maytown quint meets Auxier followed at 3:30 by the McDowell Wheelwright game. Friday night at 8:30, the highly touted Betsy Layne Bobcats in what appears to be a top-up between two strong teams. Immediately after that the Garrett team will be seen competing against Lackey on their home floor in a scrap that promises to be close.

The Lackey tournament is entertaining more teams, probably, than any other district meet in the state.

Congressman and Mrs. May Home

Congressman and Mrs. A. J. May and A. J. May, Jr., will arrive home Friday for a few days visit. They will return to Washington early in the coming week.

Hazard To Be Host To American Legion Meet

Hazard will be host to the 1937 convention of the American Legion from the Tenth Kentucky district. It was announced Saturday by District Commander W. Clyde Sanders following the executive session at Prestonsburg. Peyton Hobson, Jr., prominent Pikeville attorney, headed the committee which awarded the two-day convention, June 19 and 20 to the Perry county city.

More than 200 veterans from all sections of the tenth district and many visitors attended the meeting at Prestonsburg Saturday.

The conference opened with a parade starting from the Floyd county courthouse and the business session was held in the new circuit court room opened by district commander W. Clyde Sanders, of Pikeville. Attorney Joe Hobson introduced Mayor A. C. Carter, Ashland Daily Independent.

Mr. Norris also praised the Big Sandy district for the food supplies sent by the Legion. Red Cross and individual members and made the statement that when it came to providing for its unfortunate members, he was willing to put "Big Sandy" against the world. Thus, he stated, "The American Legion has risen to new heights in public opinion."

Charles Wirsch, Commander of the sixth district, spoke during the session. He stated that the American Legion is a public opinion.

WAYLAND OFFICER TAKES OWN LIFE

No Motive Vouchsafed; Burial Rites at Offut Wednesday Afternoon

Funeral rites for Robert Witten, age 26 years, Wayland policeman who shot himself Monday morning near the home of his father, were held at Offutt, Ky., his birthplace, in Johnson county, at 1 o'clock Wednesday afternoon under the auspices of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows.

Funeral services had been held the previous evening at 7:30 in the Methodist Church at Wayland.

Witten shot himself, according to reports, while sitting in a chair in the living room of his home. The bullet penetrated below the jaw and passed out at the crown of his head. His wife and his mother were present when the tragedy occurred. A brother, Ray, was asleep upstairs at the time, it is said.

At the sheriff's office here it was stated that immediately following Witten's act, his wife told officers that she picked up the gun with the intention of taking her own life in her excitement, but thought of their three small children and ran to the porch screaming, where she was found to sound an alarm.

Sheriff M. T. Stumbo said Tuesday, following an investigation, the result of a concern concerning the tragedy showed that the Wayland policeman had committed suicide.

Sheriff Stumbo quoted Millard Salisbury, Wayland chief of police, as saying that Witten had expressed an intention of committing suicide to him three months ago.

Witten had been policeman at Wayland for 14 months. He was a quiet-mannered and well-liked young man. He was a son of the late Robert Witten, who preceded him in death seven years ago.

SIX ARRESTS; TWO STILLS IN RAIDS

Informing Officers of Road Conditions Leads to Arrest on Mud

Three "dry" raids in three days were staged by officers in Floyd county last week. News of the activities in "mooning" drives is near to an oddity here since, throughout the nation, prohibition is now being relegated to history, it seems.

Friday evening, it was reported here, federal prohibition officer, Wince Trimble and fellow officers, in preparation to raid the Mud Creek section, came upon Irvin Tackett near the mouth of Mud Creek and approached him with the following query: "Say, how far can we get up the creek in a car?" Whereupon Mr. Tackett truly informed the officer, "You can get a car up as far as the schoolhouse but from there you'll have to walk or rollerback." As the story goes, Officer Trimble, noticing a suspicious looking coffee sack containing a bulky object slung over Tackett's shoulder, replied, "Well, I can get up there to where you are alright, can't I?" Examination of the sack revealed a 5-gallon keg of "moon."

The officers smashed both heads of the keg and took their informer into custody. The federal raiding party continued on up the creek and found a still on Big Mud street. The still was a two-gallon keg of beer. Near 9 o'clock at her home on Graham street, she did not remain conscious. Although she had been suffering for some time, her death was entirely unexpected by people here who knew her as a woman of exceptionally fine character. Mrs. Ellis, 59 years old, was the wife of Tom Ellis, well-known Prestonsburg citizen.

Funeral services will be held at the home Saturday at 1 p. m., with Rev. Robert Potter officiating. She will be buried by the side of her son Charles who preceded her in death some time ago, in the Richmond cemetery under the direction of the funeral home.

MRS. ELLIS PASSES THURSDAY AT HOME

The passing of Mrs. Mary Tackett Ellis, Thursday evening at 5 o'clock, came as a distinct shock to her many friends. Mrs. Ellis suffered a stroke Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock at her home on Graham street. She did not remain conscious.

Sunday School Lesson

LIFE HERE AND HEREAFTER THROUGH CHRIST
International Sunday School
Lesson for March 7, 1937

Golden Text: "I am the way and the truth, and the life: no one cometh unto the Father, but by me."—John 14:6.

Still in the Upper Room with the disciples and after reminding them of his imminent death, made possible through the traitorous action of one of his own inner circle, Jesus seeks to comfort his bewildered followers, giving to them and us some of the most precious words ever to fall from his lips. Knowing the Father and they would be satisfied, Jesus replied that he was the true revelation of the Father, to the world and, if they could not accept this statement from him and believe that, having seen him, they had seen the Father, then perhaps they would believe because of the works he had done before them.

"Christ has given man his loftiest idea of God, not so much by what he said as by what he was. That is an amazing thing to do, done in a world where multitudes had groped after God, guessed about God, philosophized such self-authenticating ritual grandeur that increasing multitudes of people when they try to think about God can say nothing so true, so satisfying, so adequate, as to say that God is like Christ."

Harry Emerson Fosdick. Jesus then promises that those who believe in him shall do even greater works than he did, adding the promise that whatsoever his followers shall ask in his name, he will do in order that God may be glorified. Jesus did not promise that his followers should work "miracles," in the sense that he worked them, but he did say "greater works." Dwight L. Moody says in reference to the "statement of Jesus, 'I used to stumble over that verse, but the longer I've the more I am convinced that it is a greater thing to have power over a living, sinning, God-dating man, than to quicken the dead.'"

Our printed lesson ends with a simple, but far-reaching statement, "If ye love me, I will keep my commandments. No matter how few, believe in and love on Christ, it will avail nothing if our acts and lives we fail to carry out this profession. If we really love Jesus we will be willing to leave undone those things which are contrary to his purpose for our lives, but more important still, we will be willing to do what he wants us to do with our lives."

QUESTIONS and ANSWERS

Concerning the Kentucky Unemployment Compensation Law, Issued February, 1937, by Robert E. Hutton, Executive Director.

Q. Who is an employer?
A. An employer is any employing unit in which each twenty different weeks within either the current or preceding calendar year whether or not such weeks are consecutive has or had in his employment, four or more individuals, not necessarily simultaneously and irrespective of whether the same individual are or were employed in each such week.
Q. What is the Probationary Period?
A. The Probationary Period is the beginning two weeks of the period of employment during which time no deductions for employee contributions are ing life." (John 3:16). So completely were the followers of Jesus in the days of the Early Church in accord with this statement of Jesus that they called themselves the followers of "The Way," before they were known as Christians.

Because the disciples had failed to grasp the divinity and real purpose of Jesus, before they had really come to "know him," and failing to "know" him they did not "know" his Father. However, receiving a deeper insight into Jesus' character and purpose, they could know God and could see him through Jesus. In reply to Phillip's cry that Jesus show them the Father and they would be satisfied, Jesus replied that he was the true revelation of the Father, to the world and, if they could not accept this statement from him and believe that, having seen him, they had seen the Father, then perhaps they would believe because of the works he had done before them.

to be made. However, after the individual has passed his second week of employment for the same employer, the employer shall deduct the amount for the first two weeks as well as for the third week.

Suppose A is working for B for $20 a week. B during the first two weeks will not make any deductions from A's wages. The third week he will make deductions for the first two weeks and also for the third. The amount deducted will be 54c (18c for the $20 received for each week's employment).
Q. Under the act, individuals employed at non-manual labor and making more than $2,600 a year or more than $50 a week are exempt from contributions. Suppose an individual is employed at non-manual labor and one week he receives $45, the next week he makes $50; this irregularly or salary continuing during the year. At the end thereof he has received in excess of $2,600. Will he be liable for contribution and if so, to what extent?

A. Yes, he is subject to the Act for those weeks in which he received $50 or less. Assuming that he has passed his probationary period in the previous year, each week he receives $50 or less he will be required to contribute. Those weeks in which he makes in excess of $50 he will be exempt from contributions. If during 25 weeks of 1937 an individual makes $45 each week, amounting to $1,125 during the remaining 27 weeks of the year he makes $60 each week, amounting to $1,620, he receives then a total of $2,745 per year. He will not be exempt because he made in excess of $2,600, but will be required to contribute $0.01, or 1 per cent of the $1,125. For those 27 weeks in which he received $60 (amounting to $1,620) he will be exempt from contributions.

(B) Suppose that the same facts as in (A) exist over a period of a year, the individual does not receive a total of $2,600. Will he be required to contribute for the whole amount or will there be an exemption as to part?
A. He will not be required to contribute on the whole amount but will be an exemption as to part?
Q. A. He will not be required to contribute for the whole amount or will there be an exemption as to part?
A. He will not be required to contribute on the whole amount, but will be exempt as to part. On the amount received each week in excess of $50 no contribution will be made but as to those amounts less than $50 or less, contributions will be required to be made. For example, A is working for B. During 40 weeks of the year he makes $40 a week amounting to $1,600 during the remaining 12 weeks of the year he makes $60 per week amount-

LIFE MEANS HUMAN BEINGS

The men and women who make up the population of the world in which we live are not saints and unless we are badly mistaken, they are not sinners.

Every individual, man or woman, has some good qualities and, of course, some bad qualities. However, all of them do not possess the same good traits and, luckily, they do not have the same bad ones.

In every person there is something to admire and likewise, in every individual something to disapprove. No judgment along this line, however, will be the unanimous verdict of mankind but each person will be influenced by his or her own valuation of human traits in attempting an appreciation of another human being.

Admitting for the sake of argument that every individual has some goodness there is no reason to be surprised at its exhibition occasionally. Knowing that every human being is imperfect there is no cause for alarm when human conduct misses the goal of perfection.

Great teachers, whether they deal with boys and girls or men and women, understand this and seldom resort to undue praise of expected goodness or slip into angry denunciation of expected badness. They busy themselves expanding the field of truth and permitting others to share their advanced progress. In time, they set the pace!

It is not given to all of us to be great teachers but it is within the province of every person to keep an eye out for the goodness that so abundantly lives about in the lives of other people and to see that we attend to the task before us, the improvement of ourselves by the development of our higher possibilities.

Tys Terweyn, of WCMI, the Ashland broadcasting station, paid the school a visit.

Col. Terweyn's special interest is the organization of Boys' Safety Patrol in connection with Boy Scouts and Sons of American Legionnaires. Many boys signified their intention of becoming a Boy Safety Patrolman. Lieut. Payne told the pupils the danger that lurks in the practice of persons riding on running boards of cars. Sgt. Sword told the pupils how to ride their bicycles in safety and explained the arm signals that should be used by bicyclist as well as motorists. Officer Abshire discussed the rights of the pedestrian, emphasizing the fact that a law exists in Kentucky specifying that all persons should walk on the left side of the road facing traffic.

The following day the same group held similar programs in Garrett and Wayland, where safety contests are being held also. Prize ribbons will be presented to the winners of essay, poster and slogan contests in Prestonsburg, Garrett and Wayland schools on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of this week.

At the end of the game the score stood 29-20 in an overtime period. Maytown made 4 points. Paintsville, 2. Final score, 33-31.

FINEST AND SAFEST OF BRAKING SYSTEMS!

ON THE NEW FORD V-8

YOU'LL agree when you try the new Ford brakes, that you never felt "softer" or easier Ford brake pedal action, nor ever had any car stop smoother or quicker.

And you get the safety of strong steel cables from the pedal to each wheel. They always work. Weather can't affect them and even damage to one wheel wouldn't affect the other 3 brakes.

Also... Ford brakes give extra-long brake-lining life! Big 12-inch drums give more braking surface for car weight than any other car in America.

All in all, you'll find these brakes a good example of the Ford principle. It's the principle that the usual way isn't always the best way in building a car... but that the best at the price is what makes value! YOUR FORD DEALER

FRIED-APPLE OR HALF-MOON PIES

A group of us who like to think of the old ways of doing things have worked out a menu for a dinner that certainly smacks of other times and places. Since it is not copyrighted as yet, I shall tell about it and you may try it if you like. If there is to be soup, and of course high-class meals should have a soup course, let it be potlicker (something tells me this is not pot licker, but that spelling does not seem vital). The chief course would contain turnip greens, hog's jowl, corn dodgers, homemade hominy, and buttermilk. For dessert there would be fried apple or half-moon pies, with sauce. Now it would be proper to know, to discuss all the dinner, but I prefer to dwell on the dessert.

Fried pies, like all good things, have a long history. First of all, there is the gathering of the apples, paring them, slicing them, and laboriously drying them by a species of foresight that can be known in midsummer that fruit will be scarce in winter. After the drying season is over, little is known about the apples until late in the fall. As long as there is fresh fruit, it seems wasteful to use what is obviously for winter. Along about the time that pumpkin pies die, the family is greeted with the blessed sight of fried pies. I am not a cook and can not tell how to prepare the apples, but I faintly remember that it is necessary to soak them over night before cooking them. After they are stewed properly, they are sweetened and seasoned. The dough is rolled out in large round pieces, just about the size of a skillet or frying pan that is to be used. The apples are placed on one side of this dough, and the other side is folded over as a cover, the edges being pressed with the fingers or with a fork. Then two pies can be put into the skillet at once and fried in deep grease so that the dough will be crisp. I do not know much about cooking, but I am an expert on eating the finished product. It is not necessary to have any sauce for the first three or four after they have been consumed it may add a bit of enjoyment to douse the pie in some sort of spicy sweet sauce. The recipe for this is another dark secret that I do not share; my experience has always been with the finished sauce and not with its concoction. If any of you wish to revive this old delicacy, please do not write me for instructions, but you might let me know when everything is ready for action.

Now there are other kinds of fried pies, of course, as there are other kinds of dough that hydrated fruits, but apple pies seem to have set the standard for these things and are always to be named first. And these same pies can be baked in an oven instead of a skillet with or without sauce to accompany them. Dried apples have other uses, too, such as furnishing after-school lunches for always-hungry children, or in maintaining that fried pies have disappeared, I hope they have not. What I do know is that they could not occupy so prominent a place in the life of a country child as they did in the time when it was nearly impossible to get fresh fruit after severe

CMTC ENROLLMENT BEGAN MON., MARCH 1

The 17th annual enrollment of the Citizens' Military Training Camps began Monday, March 1, with vacancies for 4,010 young men residents of Indiana, Kentucky, Ohio and West Virginia. It was announced this week at headquarters of the Fifth Corps Area, U. S. Army, at Fort Hayes, Columbus, O.

Prospective applicants are urged by army officials to secure their application blanks at the earliest possible time to avoid disappointment. Previous experience has taught these young men that in the ages of 17 and 24 that delay in completing their inoculation and vaccination may cost them the opportunity of being designated candidates.

Thirty days of outdoor life, with hikes, citizenship studies, shooting, drills, parades, and athletics, is offered free to the student at the CMTC camp each summer. The government pays the expense of traveling to camp and return and provides wholesome food, uniforms, equipment, laundry service, medical attention, and other necessary accommodations.

Two CMTC encampments will be conducted this summer within the Fifth Army Area. Both of these camps will be located at Fort Benjamin Harrison, Ind. The first camp July 2 to July 31, will have advanced course Signal Corps and Field Artillery trainees, in addition to infantry candidates of the Basic, Red, White and Blue courses.

The second camp, Aug. 3 to Sept. 1, will have Basic, Red, White and Blue Course infantry candidates only. Each camp will have an enrollment of 2,005 young men.

Application blanks and further information may be obtained from Headquarters Kentucky Military Area, 404 Postoffice Bldg., Louisville, Ky.

WARNING SIGNS TO BE ERECTED ON HIGHWAYS

Frankfort, Ky., March 4—Those long black and white signs, bearing the captions, "Be Prepared to Stop" and "Traffic Survey," which now can be seen at various strategic points along the arterial highways in Kentucky, are requests from the Department of Highways, asking that the driving public co-operate with it in a road planning survey. These signs will be much in evidence for the next year, and the planning of future highways in the state depends entirely upon the result of this survey.

The Highway Department, working in co-operation with the Bureau of Public Roads, began this week making its first gesture towards securing definite engineering data of the flow of traffic over all main roads in the state. Three crews, of five men each, began working on the roads near Frankfort.

The survey signs, placed on temporary standards placed at the side of the road and lighted at night, indicate the presence of a survey party at its temporary weigh station. This party is equipped with weighing machines and forms for securing all necessary data current to the survey.

All vehicular traffic will be stopped. Trucks will be weighed, the size and kind of cargo will be ascertained, the distance of the trip, origin and destination of the truck load will be listed and for passenger cars the surveyors will ascertain the origin and destination of the car, whether it is being used for business or pleasure and its trip mileage.

These surveys are being made at all hours of the day and night all sorts of weather and during all seasons of the year.

When the survey is completed, 12 months hence, the Highway Department will be in possession of data on the flow of traffic on all state and federal highways in the state and, armed with this it will be fully prepared to build the correct type of road for the amount and kind of traffic prevalent in each section.

The commissioner of highways has urged the drivers of motor vehicles to be patient in these surveys and answer all questions correctly. He emphasizes the fact that this survey was not for the purpose of seeking violations of any motor truck laws and that no arrests would be made on the basis of this survey. He also asked that the drivers of automobiles knowing that a survey is being made on the route to their proposed destination, do not purposely change their route to avoid the weigh party. This would throw the entire plan out of balance and a correct survey could not be made.

The three mobile weigh parties are expected to make 72 weigh stations each month. There will be a unit working in each section of the state during the entire year. At the completion of the survey the Department of Highways will have a fair and accurate file of data on traffic flow on each of the main highways in the state and will be able to plan comprehensively for future road building.

Sarah Ann's Cooking Class

Pie is the most popular dessert, especially with the male members of your family. When making pie, be sure your crust is light and flaky for a good crust requires full appreciation for the filling.

- Cream Pie
- 1 baked pastry shell
  - 2 cups milk
  - 3 tablespoons cornstarch
  - 2 teaspoon salt
  - 1-2 cup sugar
  - 1 tablespoon butter
  - 2 eggs
  - 1 tablespoon lemon juice
  - 1-2 cup crushed pineapple
  - 1-2 teaspoon salt
  - 1-4 cup finely chopped nuts
  - 3 tablespoons sugar
  - 1 large banana sliced
- Scald the milk in a double boiler. Mix the cornstarch and sugar and stir in enough milk to form a thin paste; add to the remainder of the milk and stir until the mixture thickens. Stir and cook for 10 minutes. Add the butter and beaten egg yolks and cook 1 minute more. Remove from fire and add the fruit, lemon juice and nuts. Cool. Prepare the meringue by beating the egg whites and adding the 3 tablespoons of sugar gradually. Pour the cool filling into a baked pastry shell. Cover with meringue and place in an oven 300 degrees until brown.

  - 1-4 teaspoon salt
  - 1-3 cup sugar
  - 2-1/2 cups cooked prune pulp
  - 2 tablespoons lemon juice
- Combine the tapioca, salt, sugar, prune pulp and fruit juices. Heat to the boiling point and remove from heat. Let stand while the pastry is being made. Line pan with the pastry, add the filling and arrange lattice strips of pastry across the top. Bake in an oven 300 degrees for 10 minutes and then reduce heat to 375 degrees and bake 30 minutes longer. Serve cool.

- Honey Cheese Pie
- Mix 1 cup of flour, 1-4 cup of sugar and 1-2 teaspoon baking powder. Work in, until mealy 1 tablespoon shortening and add a beaten egg. Roll 1-4 inch thick and line with this. For the filling, press 3 cups of cottage cheese through a sieve, add 4 level tablespoons of flour, 4 tablespoons of cream, 1-4 teaspoon salt, 1-4 cup of sugar, 1-2 cup strained honey, yolks of 4 eggs, well beaten. When this is smooth fold in the grated rind of half a lemon and the egg whites beaten stiff. Spread this over the crust in the pan and sprinkle the top with cup of sugar and mix with a teaspoon of cinnamon and 1-2 cup of chopped almonds. Bake in a moderate oven until the filling is firm and the crust well browned.

- Apricot Caramel Tarts
- Cook together, a tablespoon butter, 1-4 cup brown sugar, 1-4 cup white sugar, 1 tablespoon water until very thick and brown. Beat egg slightly mix 1/2 teaspoon cornstarch with the syrup from 1 eight-cup of apricots and combine the two. Add caramel mixture and cook in double boiler until thick. Pour into 6 baked tart shells in which apricots have been arranged. Top with meringue made of white egg whites and 3 tablespoons of granulated sugar. Brown in a slow oven.

Mix well, pour into the prepared pie plate; bake 30 minutes in a moderate oven. When cold cover the baked filling with thin slices of banana, then sweetened whipped cream.

Crumb Pie

Roll and sift enough hard dry bread to make a pint of the crumbs. Put into a square of cheesecloth large enough to hold bag fashion, by the corners, and dip into boiling water. Immediately press out as much water as possible. Put the crumbs in a mixing bowl and while still warm add 1-4 cup butter, 1 or more cups of cream (cream should be added to make a medium batter, milk may be used); 1-2 cup sugar, mixed with 1-2 teaspoon of cinnamon, 1-4 teaspoon of cloves and 1-4 of a nutmeg, grated. Quickly stir in the unbeaten yolks of 3 eggs and stir and beat until no streaks remain. Chop and flour 1 cup of seeded raisins, and if you like, 1-4 cup of fine shaved citron. STAR DUST

By VIRGINIA VALE

IT HAS always been difficult to get permission to visit studios in Hollywood. From now, popular comedians, like the Marx Brothers, Jack Benny, and Burns and Allen hope to make it impossible. In fact, if there were any way that they could make pictures without having a flock of carpenters, electricians, property men, and extras around, they would be heartily in favor of adopting it.

It is always gratifying to see a real brother with an eye for all odds. That is why every one is rejoicing over Alice Faye's new picture, "On the Avenue."

A long time ago Paramount has been so busy on other pictures she never got around to make it.

Back in New York all the young stage players and all the dramatic school students go to see Greta Garbo in "Camille" and over.

Deanna Durbin, the fourteen-year-old sensation of "The Sign of the Cross," has been climbing the stairs inside the Statue of Liberty on her first visit to New York.

Kezia Marsh, pretty, selfish and smart, arrives home in Corinth from school and is met by her brother, Hugh, who drives her to the home of her mother, Mrs. Marsh.

"I am glad I had to go to Congress city," he waited. "No, nothing to have me go to New York? Got over it?"

"At least you didn't," she answered. "Sweet here, isn't it? 'Too bad we have to leave. I could loaf here all afternoon."

"And yet at first you said you couldn't go. When I came in this morning, you were just saying you were going to New York."

"I'm not checking your phone calls, my dear. It was just a little question. I didn't think how it sounded when I spoke."

"Next month—August." "Well, even then," she parried good-naturedly. "The pain vanished. He looked at his watch. "One thirty."

"Time to go." "Afraid so."

Ellen switched on her light and looked at the clock on the mantel. A quarter to four and she hadn't been able to go to sleep.

"Don't stand so close; I might splash that dress. Mind if I say you look charming tonight?" She hadn't moved from his side but answered in a half whisper.

"You're sort of unusual yourself, you fascinate me." He had laughed and replied, "I'm not really sophisticated, you know."
