RADIO SALUTE TO P'BURG PLANNED

PROGRAM DEDICATED TO TOWN SLATED
AUGUST 30

Under the sponsorship of THE FLOYD COUNTY TIMES, radio station WKCY, Cincinnati, will salute Prestonsburg on Friday evening, August 30.

Through the facilities of this 50,000-watt station, a program dedicated to Prestonsburg and Floyd county will be made available to 88 per cent of the nation's population—a potential audience of 11,000,000 persons. Material for the broadcast will be prepared by members of THE TIMES staff.

An address by Mayor E. P. Arnold of Prestonsburg will be a feature of the program.

The salute to this community is one of 135 in WKCY's 1940 series. The programs are to be heard over the L. S. Wilson station (140 on the dial) Mondays through Saturdays at 10:30 P. M. EST.

Because Mr. Wilson feels that WKCY and newspapers in neighboring communities are striving for the same common goal—to give the best possible public service—he believes newspapers are the logical sponsors of programs in the salute series.

The 1939 series, inaugurated when WKCY became as powerful as any station in the entire United States, was so widely hailed and such favorable response was received from the communities participating that Mr. Wilson said WKCY program officials to set aside his quarters for hours every week to answer inquiries.

Mr. Wilson said he believed that last year's salute did much to bring about a closer personal relationship between the station and its listeners. It is his hope to strengthen these bonds of friendship through this new series of public service programs and to acquaint all of the nation's potential night-time audience of 88 per cent of the population of the United States with the many outstanding advantages of the communities chosen for the salute series.

Programs in the series will be devoted to telling the story of each community's industrial and residential advantages together with little-known contemporary and historical facts. The editor of each sponsoring newspaper is responsible for gathering material for the broadcast. When possible, the editor acts as spokesman for his community. Much publicity about the program, in many cases, will be chosen through popular ballot of newspaper readers.

This Town-- That World

OF MOTHER

How many times did your mother whip you when you were a child? My mother whipped me one time—a gentle flick on the forehead with her thumb-finger after I had pestered her for an hour while she was busy. She didn't mean it as a whipping, but it was the only one I had, and I have had several. The shock of that gentle spirit touching me except to rub scabs legs or to caress a head now nearly bald was to me much more than I could have dreamed of. I feel close with my own children. I think of this wonderful example of a mother.

As the musician calls the faithful to prayer, as the child says his nightly "row-I-Lay-Me," so should every mother's son or us forget all about that one day that is designated Mother's Day and make every day just that.

But if you are so busy, so enthralled by other interests that you can't take time for that one woman, in the whole world whose latest had always been in you, well, a little remembrance on Mother's Day, next Sunday, will help.

YET—WRONG AGAIN

Not anybody's kicking, but just to keep the record straight we're correcting ourselves again. When we stated last week that Jack Allen, upon leaving Peabody College next year, will be the first first cousin to receive a Ph.D. degree, we forgot that Prof. D. L. Clarke, of Beaver

Mrs. John Goodman, Town Branch, Dies Sunday Morning

Mrs. Catherine Sizemore Goodman, 64, of Town Branch, daughter of "Uncle" Jeff Sizemore, died suddenly at 10 o'clock Sunday morning at her home, the victim of a heart attack.

A native of Town Branch, Mrs. Goodman was a member of the Regular Baptist Church. Besides her father, she is survived by her husband, John Goodman, a patient at Eastern State hospital, Lexington; two sons, Frank Goodman, Richlands, Va., and Albert Goodman, Chatterbox, Va.; four daughters, Mrs. Bess Runyon, Beltry, Mrs. Josie Davis and Mrs. Virgie Webb, both of Town Branch, and Ruth Goodman, whose address is unavailable; one brother, Alex Sizemore, Bull Creek; four sisters, Mrs. Julia Derosselt, Emma; Mrs. Annie Derosselt, of Johnson; Mrs. Belle Derosselt, Bull Creek; and Mrs. Rhoda Stone, Town Branch.

Funeral rites were conducted Monday afternoon from the home, with the Rev. A. L. Allen officiating. Burial was made in the family cemetery on Town Branch, under the direction of the Arnold Funeral Home.

MINER, KILLED IN SLATEFALL

COLLIE TACKETT, 31,
WEEKSBURG, DIES
INSTANTLY

Trapped beneath a slatefall while he was working in the Weeksburg mine of the Koppers Coal Company, Collie Tackett, 31 years old, Weeksburg, was killed Sunday afternoon. Death was attributed to a fractured skull. His chest was crushed and both legs were broken.

Employed as a track layer in the mine, Tackett, against the advice of his helpers, had knocked out a prop and was getting ready to put down a new section of track. The slate fell immediately after the prop was removed.

The victim was the son of the late Alvin Duval Tackett, of Weeksburg, who was killed several years ago.

Funeral services were conducted Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, and burial was made in the family cemetery beside the grave of his father, with the Ryan Funeral Home directing.

Dean Amburgey, 57, Langley, Dies at Martin Hospital

Langley, Ky., May 4 (Sp.)—Dean Amburgey, veteran employee of the Warfield Natural Gas Company, died in the Martin General hospital early Wednesday morning, last week, after a long and complicated illness.

Mr. Amburgey, who moved to Maytown from Hazen, Ky., 11 years ago, was born in Tranton, O., July 30, 1882. He was a good citizen, highly esteemed by all his acquaintances. A number of years ago he was converted, and the life he lived was a splendid example of his faith. For 27 years he had been a Mason, being at the time of his death a member of Thomas C. Cecil Lodge, F. & A. M., Pikeville.

Funeral services were conducted Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock, the Rev. C. C. Newsome officiating in the presence of a large crowd of sorrowing relatives and friends, with the Masonic Lodge in charge at the grave, the Ryan Funeral Home directing. Active pallbearers: O. R. Rickard, S. E. Corbitt, Arnold Casaday, W. B. Jarrell, W. A. Stewart, C. E. Ferguson, and Jack Ryan, while honorary pallbearers were the remaining employees of the Warfield pump station at Warco. Mrs. M. Amburgey had visited her son more than a decade.

Surviving are the widow and the following children: Mrs. Juanita Iago, and Mrs. J. H. Kaiser, of Detroit, Mich.; Mrs. Edward Gassett, Jeff, Mrs. Yadae Young, Langley; Paul Amburgey, U.S.S. Savannah, Mare Island, Calif.; Lola, Samuel and Billy Amburgey, at home; and Mrs. N. E. Grubb, Leonard, Mich. Five grandchildren remain, also three sisters, Mrs. Wm. Smith, Martin; Mrs. Lige Warrick, Jaeger, Va. and Mrs. Joe Edwards, Spidert, Ky., also the aged parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Amburgey, Maytown.

BUS CHARTERED TO TRANSPORT 21 PRISONERS TO PEN

PRISON CONSIGNMENT IS LARGEST EVER SENT FROM FLOYD COUNTY;
TWO BEGIN MURDER SENTENCES

A specially-chartered bus, the first ever to be used for such a purpose in the county, Tuesday morning bore Floyd county's largest single contribution of convicts to the state reformatory.

The 21 prisoners left to "pull" an aggregate term of 54 years. Included in the group were two convicted in the April court term of murder—Harold Martin, to serve a 21-year sentence, and Ernest Hunter, penitentiary-consigned for 18 years.

Housebreaking constituted the majority of offenses for which the others were transferred to the penitentiary.

As Sheriff Dial Salisbury, his deputies and specially-designated guards conducted the prisoners from the jail to the waiting bus, approximately 250 persons, officials and citizens, watched the departure "down the river." The prisoners were taken from the jail in pairs, but only two couples were handcuffed as they walked down the saunter of officers and spectators who lined the sidewalk leading from the jail to the nearby street.

Some of the housebreakers were mere stragglers. Only one prisoner flung back a hand that yelled a muffled goodbye to fellow-prisoners who called to him from the jail.

Besides Sheriff Salisbury and Jailor Will Halbert, guards escorting the record group of convicts leaving for a state prison from this county were:

Alex L. Slone, 61, Fed, Succumbs To Diabetes

After suffering from diabetes for the past several months, Alex L. Slone, 61, of Fed, succumbed at his home at two o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

A native of Knott county, the victim had resided at Fed for several years, where he was a merchant. He was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Slone.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Martha Reynolds Slone. They had no children.

Funeral services will be held this afternoon (Thursday) at 2 o'clock, and burial will be made in the Fed cemetery, with the Ryan Funeral Home directing.

DR. SMITH TO DELIVER SERMON SUNDAY

Dr. Thomas W. Smith, of Northville, Mich., who for 22 years was a pastor in New York City, will preach at the Presbyterian Church Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. His subject will be, "Mothers of Great Men."

Dr. and Mrs. Smith are here for a visit with their daughter, Mrs. S. A. Combs, and Mr. Combs.

DIPLOMAS TO BE AWARDED 310 AT MASS GRADUATION

DR. JAGGERS, OF STATE DEPARTMENT, WILL BE PRINCIPAL SPEAKER
AT CEREMONIES, MAY 24

Three hundred and ten seniors of the nine Floyd county high schools will receive their diplomas at the fourth annual countywide graduation exercises which will be held in the Prestonsburg high school gymnasium Friday evening, May 24, at 7:30.

Principal speaker for the event will be Dr. R. E. Jagers, of the state department, of certification who delivered the dedicatory address at the dedication of the new Maytown and Martin high school buildings several weeks ago. County Superintendent Town Hall will preside and present the diplomas to graduates.

Free transportation of the graduates will be furnished by school bus which is believed to be the only one of its kind in the state.

A section of the gymnasium will be reserved for the graduating class of each school. These sections will be decorated with the school colors, and next week each school will send representatives here to aid in the decorating.

Prestonsburg high school leads in the number of graduates, with 81. Garrett has 45; Betsy Layne, 44; Martin, 34; Wayland, 32; Wheelwright, 20.

James B. Shipman, 56, Hueysville, Dies Tuesday Night

James B. Shipman, 56 years old, Hueysville, succumbed to tuberculosis at eight o'clock Tuesday night at his home. He had been afflicted for several years.

The victim came to this section 26 years ago from Tennessee, where he was born. He was employed by the Central Ekhorn Coal Company at Garrett up until two years ago, when he was forced to give up his position because of ill health.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Martha Shipman; four sons, Roy, Henry, Howard and Arthur Shipman; two daughters, Mrs. Ada Gearheart and Mrs. Clara Hale, all of Hueysville.

Funeral rites will be conducted from the home this afternoon (Thursday), with the Rev. Lawrence Price officiating. Burial will be made in the family cemetery at Hueysville, under the direction of the Ryan Funeral Home.

Besides Martin and Hunter, convicted of murder, other convicts to begin "doing time" when the bus stopped were:

James Hall, grand larceny, one year; Aldo Miller, child desertion, two years; Robert Salisbury, breaking and entering, three years; Henderson Walters, breaking and entering, one year; Harold Thompson, grand larceny, one year; Willie Shortridge and Floyd Blackburn, breaking and entering, one year each; Harold Warfield, grand larceny, one year; Everett Coltrin, on two charges—for breaking and entering, one year; for manslaughter, five years; George Hall, child desertion, two years; D. DR. DANIEL SEES OPENING BY JUNE 15TH

PURCHASED; WORK
SLATED MONDAY

Opening of a hospital here within the next few weeks was assured as Dr. D. H. Daniel, veteran Paintsville physician and surgeon, announced the purchase of the T. M. Hereford residence in West Prestonsburg and plans for remodeling the structure.

Dr. Daniel purchased the residence, a capacious brick structure, from the Bank Josephine. At the same time, Prestonsburg's City Council voted to close the street fronting the property and to lease it to Dr. Daniel for a period of 25 years.

Dr. Daniel said the hospital will be opened by June 15, if possible.

Workmen will begin remodeling the residence Monday, it was said, and construction of a 10-room addition on the south side of the old structure will be started.

The present building and the addition will have a capacity of from 20 to 30 beds. "Later, we will add to the front, if more room is needed," Dr. Daniel said. A nurse's home is planned for the future. Nearby property will either be leased or bought, he said.

The City Council leased the street only for hospital purposes, charging only $1 a year. This action was taken to encourage establishment of a hospital here. Approval of the lease must be granted by the Floyd circuit court, however, before Dr. Daniel can occupy the property, it was said.

Planning one of the most modern hospitals in Eastern Kentucky, Dr. Daniel will move equipment now in use at his hospital in Paintsville, to the hospital here.

Through the efforts of the Prestonsburg Co-Operative Business Association and the Prestonsburg Woman's Club, Dr. Daniel became interested in this community as a hospital site.

A physician and surgeon for 31 years, Dr. Daniel is known throughout this section. He is a graduate of the Louisville School of Medicine and took post-graduate work at New York and Chicago in surgery and gynecology.

TRAVEL BULLETIN TODAY'S ROADS

Prepared by Eastern Kentucky Automobile Club

Kentucky's third annual Garden Tour is scheduled for mid-May and its sponsors hope for a most successful attendance. Ten Kentucky cities will open their homes and gardens under the auspices of the Garden Club of Kentucky with all funds going toward the restoration of the Garden of Liberty Hall at Frankfort.

Kentuckians, always noted for their hospitality, are extending residents of other sections a cordial invitation to come to the state at this beautiful time of year when spring bowers are at their height and the countryside is at its best. Too many Kentuckians will find great pleasure in visiting these homes which are open only during Tour Week.

The Garden Club of Kentucky is to be commended for the fine work it has done in sponsoring the tours and its efforts in securing permission from the home owners to show their homes and gardens. From a humble start in 1936, the club has been aroused in all sections of the state and each year finds an increased number of people visiting the gardens. Mrs. Theodore F. Kneele, of Louisville, has been the general chairman since the inauguration of the tours and is especially to be commended for her efforts. Each city having homes on the tour has representation on the general committee.

The Louisville houses are grouped into four sections—those in the vicinity of Cherokee Park, Glenview, River Road, and Harrods Creek. Significantly, the year round "house," designed by Thomas Jefferson for John Brown, first U. S. Senator from Kentucky, is one of the most interesting features in Frankfort. The house contains fine examples of early American furniture, china, glass and silver.

MARTIN

Paul Bentley, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Bentley, has returned to his duties at Great Lakes Naval Training School after spending a furlough with his parents.

Large crowds attended the showing here of "Gone With the Wind," Sunday and Monday.

The Martin school band attended the music festival at Pikeville last Saturday.

Mrs. Sonia Greer was shopping in Ashland Saturday.

Miss Jacqueline Arrington spent Saturday and Sunday in Ashland as the guest of Misses Naomi and Charlotte Vaughan.

Elmer Childers, of Ashland, spent the week-end with Martin friends.

The senior play, "No Fooling," will be given in the high school auditorium Thursday, May 9, at 8 p. m.

Following is the schedule of events for commencement week:
Junior-Senior banquet, Friday, May 17, 8 p. m.; baccalaureate sermon, Sunday, May 19, 2 p. m.; class night, Tuesday, May 21, 8 p. m.; county-wide graduation, Friday, May 24, 8 p. m.

The 1940 school awards have been received and are now on sale in the high school building.

The graded school pupils making the highest scores in each of the grades in the achievement tests given at the end of the term are:
Eighth grade—Bobby Jim Meeks, Jack Hale, Anna Tackett, Bonnie June Meade, Charles Edward Stumbo, seventh grade—Vivian Radtiff, John Maddox, Marvin Compton, Maxine Lafferty, Willie Hamilton, sixth grade—Burns Radtiff, James Gann, John Wohlford, Cleo Collins, Roy Radtiff, fifth grade—Jack Myhrner, Russell Prader, Hassen Kliser, Randall Tatham, fourth grade—Tony Crisp, Bobby Blackburn, Clyde Derossett, Jacqueline Tackett, Donald Adams; third grade—Peggy Munneraker, Betty Sue Blackburn, Roy Dunaway, Woodrow Hunter, Homer Smith, Billie Jean Fannery, Joe Ann Branham, Rodney Salisbury.

More than five names listed means a tie in the score.
Certificates of promotion to high school were presented to the following at the close of the graded school (these are listed according to their standing):
Bobby Jim Meeks, Jack Hale, Vivian Radtiff, Anna Tackett, Bonnie Meade, Charles Stumbo, Vio Radtiff, Leon Hall, Virginia Collins, John Hays Turnley, John Maddox, Charles McOthlen, Elizabeth Rose Johns, Thelma Ison, Wayne Blackburn, Jr., Kathryn Fugitt, Ben Conley, Cleeth Barnett, James Salisbury, Mabel Branham, Delilah Beverly, Billy Skaggs, Rebecca Peters, Billie Cassidy, Geneva Osborne, Jeanette Crisp, Claudia Begley, Jack Thompson, Forrest Westfall, Delphis Branham, Virgil Peters, Irene Bentley, Fred Smith, Beatrice Canale, Pauline Davis.

Thanks and congratulations are extended to the members of the Safety Patrol—Ben Conley, Leon Hall, Bobby Jim Meeks, Charles Blackburn and Charles Cassidy—for their excellent work in making the pupils safety-conscious.
Vivian Radtiff, John L. Maddox, Forrest Westfall and Beatrice Canale, seventh grade students, successfully passed the eighth grade achievement test and were promoted to high school. This makes two promotions this year: for Vivian Radtiff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tip Radtiff.

OIL AND GAS REPORT GIVEN

COMPLETIONS AND DRILLINGS ARE LISTED

One small oil well completion and a number of gas well completions were included in the report of Eastern Kentucky operations last week. A month-end report on the activities in this district, including a number of completed wells and production data, indicate a slight increase in drilling activities.

The Kentucky West Virginia Gas Company deepened well No. 5263 on the W. H. May tract on Long Branch of Jones Fork in Knott county at a total depth of 2,698 feet in shale with the well producing 102,000 feet of gas, 48 hour R.P. 340 pounds.

The Kentucky West Virginia Gas Company reports the completion of well No. 5264 on the W. H. May tract on Long Branch of Jones Fork in Knott county at a total depth of 2,698 feet in shale with the well producing 102,000 feet of gas, 48 hour R.P. 340 pounds.

The Kentucky West Virginia Gas Company reports the completion of well No. 5265 on the W. H. May tract on Long Branch of Jones Fork in Knott county at a total depth of 2,698 feet in shale with the well producing 102,000 feet of gas, 48 hour R.P. 340 pounds.

Warfield Gas Company gives the completed log in on well No. 822 on the Republic Steel tract on Dry Fork in Pike county at a total depth of 4,292 feet in shale. This was one of the deepest Pike county wells.

United Carbon secured a 100,000 daily gas production in well No. 822 on the Republic Steel tract on Dry Fork in Pike county at a total depth of 4,292 feet in shale. This was one of the deepest Pike county wells.

United Carbon also reports the completion of well No. 823 on the Charley Fork No. 1 tract on Biggs Branch in Pike county. The well reached a total depth of 3,923 feet and has a daily flow of 345,000 feet of gas.

The Hamilton Gas Company gives completion data on well No. E-18, Lindsey Amburgey land on Troublesome in Knott county as 73,000 daily gas production at a total depth of 2,861 feet in shale. This concern reports a 216,000 daily gas flow in well No. D-85 on the James Hatcher land, also on Troublesome in Knott county, at a total depth of 2,871 feet in shale.

Sturgill Gas Company reports the completion of well No. 1 on the Kate Weddington land on the Left Fork of Toler Creek in Floyd county, at a total depth of 3,125 feet in shale with a daily flow of 50,000 feet of gas. A Virginia well, of interest to Kentucky operators, was reported completed at a total depth of 3,750 feet. The Southwest Drilling Company, after losing hole in well No. 1 on the Hagan Heirs' land on Left Fork of Stony Creek in Wise county, Va., shut in and have a 68,000 foot gas production coming from shale, R.P. 450 pounds. The concern is planning to drill another well within a mile of No. 1. The well is to be drilled to the Virginia-Kentucky border and therefore holds the interest of firms in both states.

In Knott county the Inland Gas Corporation is moving rig to well No. 213 on the W. R. Smith, et al., land on the Right Fork of Troublesome Creek and is testing in well No. 206, Zada Hutchinson, also on the Right Fork of Troublesome Creek. This is a deepening operation.

The Kentucky West Virginia Gas Company is down 1555 feet in salt sand in well No. 584, Jeff Hall, on Isaac Fork of Right Beaver and has

Thirty per cent of the farms in Washington county have been wired for electricity during the past two years.

THEY GOT NOWHERE FAST
IN 13 WEEKS' TRAVELING

By GERALD GRIFFIN
In The Courier-Journal
Lexington, Ky., May 4.—This is the odyssey of the Melodies; Junea Hatfield Melody, her husband, Melody
Hobart, and their 18-year-old daughter,
Reba Lee, who have been traveling the highways thirteen weeks are still on their way to their destination when they started.

Like Odysseus, of whose ten years' wanderings in returning home after the siege of Troy, the poet Homer sang, the three Melodies have experienced many hardships since they started out on foot, pushing a home-made cart on which they piled all their belongings.

Slowly, on blistered feet, the trio is making headway toward the goal, a little farm somewhere in Johnson county between Paintsville and Louisa. When night overtakes them they pitch a patched-up pup tent on the nearest meadow and they sleep on the ground, regardless of the weather. The roads were plutocrats alongside of the Melodies.

Wednesday this rugged group was encamped on the roadside a couple of miles east of their destination. They had taken a week to get there from Versailles. The weather was bitter cold for the first of May but the three Melodies were sharing with two under-sized squirrel dogs and an over-sized cat. A fire was crackling and popping in a little stove at the tent's entrance.

It didn't take much urging to get the woman to tell of their wanderings in trying to reach their home, which still was at least 100 miles away. But what a mere 100 miles to folks who already have walked seven or eight times that distance! Shucks, they feel like they are almost in ride shot of their destination. And they have the ride with them.

Old Man Melody and his wife and daughter were living with their son, Hobart, 21, in a mining camp somewhere in that section of Southwestern Virginia that juts into a point between Kentucky and Tennessee, according to the woman, Junea. Hobart was employed as a miner but he also was a Baptist preacher when he wasn't mining. There was trouble over union and Hobart was shot and killed. Up to that time the Melodies had 16 living children, and two who were dead. The parents of Hobart took the guns of the dead boy and started back to Johnson county, Kentucky, to give the weapons to another son. Having only a few dollars, they couldn't afford transportation, so the father manufactured a pushcart, on which they piled their belongings and wheeled it to their destination.

For some unexplained reason, they headed for Kingsport, Tenn., the nearest town of any size. If they had walked across the mountains a few weeks later, they route would have been not more than 90 miles. But they became confused.

At Kingsport they got wrong information and walked all the way to Knoxville, thinking they were heading toward home. There the woman remembered that she knew a woman who had lived in Nashville and so they walked all the way to that city, still pushing the cart and sleeping under the ragged tent at night.

It was late in January when they started out and, while traveling west of Tennessee from east to west, they encountered the snow. Often they awoke in the morning to find themselves under more snow than would cover an Eskimo hut. But they managed to keep warm between the makeshift stove, which was mostly an old iron pot with a lid and a piece of stovepipe, and the body heat provided by themselves, the two tiny dogs and that vicious-looking cat.

The cat of the Melodies is bigger than any ordinary tabby has a right to be. He looks like a wildcat and he acts like one. Brindled and scowling, this animal is kept under control by a stout leather collar around his neck and a steel chain that is attached to a ring in the collar. But the cat and the two dogs are quite friendly with each other.

At Nashville the trio, unable to find Mrs. Melody's friend, inquired the best way into Kentucky, and somebody said to go by way of Murray. So they found out the road to Murray and after so long a time, walked back into their home state and got to that town, where they were given the true direction to their home.

By this time the Melody trio had spent their last cent. The old man even sold his good suit of clothes to obtain money with which to buy food. On and on they trudged. At Hodgenville, they said, people called them Gypsies and threw rocks at them. They were pretty mad about that sort of treatment but still they didn't use the weapons of their slain son.

"I'm a member of the Missionary Holiness Church," explained Mrs. Melody, who said she is 46, "and I don't believe in killing. The Bible says a person should not kill, and I believe in the I. J. M."

"Amen," said old man Melody, who is 56 and looks like an Indian. When I saw them they were sheltering themselves from the winter rain inside their sagged tent. At night they unroll a bundle of quilts inside the primitive shelter and sleep on the ground. They appear to be healthy, despite the damp ground on which they have been sleeping for more than three months. Not one of the trio has been ill since the odyssey began.

Junea reached inside the odorous tent and pulled out an old, single-barrel shotgun which has seen a lot of service, judging from its condition. But the woman was merely showing the ancient fowling piece, an old-fashioned hammer gun, which she said had been the property of her grandfather, the late "Devil Anse" Hatfield.

Take it or leave it, this woman said her grandfather Anse on her father's side and her grandfather Randall McCoy, of feud history, started the famous Hatfield-McCoy feud of history, myth and story. She said she was born on the banks of the Tug River and that is the section bloodied by the Hatfields and McCoy's.

Her mother, she said, was Reba Ellen McCoy, daughter of the feudist Randall McCoy. That mountain matchmaker, according to the woman, now is 83 and is the mother of twenty children, all but one of whom still are living. The one who is dead, Mrs. Melody explained, was shot to death in a mine strike at Matewan, W. Va.

"We've got blisters on our feet and we are living the best way we can until we get back home," she said, "but I ain't in favor of this relief business. And I am against old pensions. All I want is for the government to give me back my pension."

"Pension?" I queried.

"Yes, pension; when the war broke out I joined up as a nurse and I was wounded at Verdun. Maybe you don't believe me, but I come from God-fearing people that didn't fear anybody else. I got my pension from the government and I drew a pension until Roosevelt was elected again, then it stopped. I ain't blaming him for it, though. I can make use of a good President. There was some sort of law passed that took away my pension. I was in Europe two years and eight months three months from the time we left New York until we landed at Philadelphia."

Now the Melodies—as spelled by the miles—are still trudging toward home after going hundreds of miles out of their way. They expect to be there in a couple of weeks at most. They might have stepped out of the Grapes of Wrath or out of Tobacco Road but the Joads and Lester Joads wouldn't like to hear you say that.

TIDBITS
FOLKLORE

OLD WAGONS

Wherever we go, we see cemeteries of old and used cars. Sometimes I wonder whether we may not get to the same pass that the Chinese have reached with their cemeteries; we may have more space in car cemeteries than in crops. I do hope, though, that no religious or other sentiments will prevent us from using the ground where they have rotted away with age.

Now this is quite different from the fate that befell the old wagon in other days. A wagon was not merely a mode of transport; it was a vital connected one to his great-grandfather. Some of the old home-made wagons, wrought out laboriously by the village blacksmith, could have made Holmes' "one-hoss shay" ashamed of itself as a mere upstart. But even the best of these finally came to their last official usefulness. But other romantic things awaited them, even after this.

When the wheels grew old and the fellows wobbled, the truck became snake-like. Sometimes the rims would not hold the tires and the soaking the old wagon in the creek or horse pond. I have seen hundreds of wagons soaking, especially in very dry summer weather. In few instances I have seen old wagons left permanently in the pond. I suppose that this is as suitable a death as the official bridge, sidewalk, curb, sewer, gutter, water works and recreation grounds constructed, additional airport facilities, sanitary engineering, malaria control, drainage, stream purification the bug bites you!

FIGURES show that about one out of every five able-to-purchase new-car buyers really wants a Buick more than any other car.

Not all will buy one.

Too many of them will shake their heads and sigh, "Nope! A car that big and handsome must be out of my reach!"

You'll be smarter than that, we know.

You'll realize it doesn't cost a cent to find out how a Buick feels—and what its delivered prices are.

So you'll walk in to the nearest Buick dealer and say: "Let me have a good look at that car that's showing the rest what modern style is."

"Let me try out that big straight-eight engine that's electrically balanced after assembly to watchworks' smoothness."

"Show me those big soft coil springs you talk about—and what's the business about recoil-mounted Knee-Action, heaviest frames at the price, five-foot front seat room in SUPER models, and six dozen new 1940 features?"

When you've got the answers through a good long ride—ask one more question: "How much?"

Current prices! start at $895 * for the business coupe, delivered at Flint, Mich. To this add transportation based on rail rates, state and local taxes (if any), and optional equipment and accessories—and you'll still get mighty low delivered prices.

When the bug bites you, get the facts—and you'll get a Buick and be happy!

*Prices subject to change without notice.

the farm. It takes some art to get one of these recalcitrant tires back in place. A few strong expressions left over from plowing in the new ground are not out of place, either. Even one of a pair of the farm life, with the usual pick-up in spirit on the part of the men folk. The old wagon, now discarded, becomes the property of the boys. Individual wheels are taken off and made into plowings. Two such with a mere framework for a connecting link, were predestinated for breaking calves. Even the rims themselves became gigantic hoops for the boys to roll, except on Sunday afternoons. To keep one of these in motion requires a deal of hitting and running, especially when it goes bounding down hill. The boy who has never rolled one is to be pitied and put into the same class as the boy who never turned a grindstone or ridden horseback.

The old iron part can be taken off the rickety old ruin and remade, if necessary, at the blacksmith shop. The wooden parts gradually decay in the horsehold or accumulate dust in some little-used shed. I do not remember ever having seen any one burn up an old wagon. Whether there is any prejudice against such an act I do not know. Certainly many a farmyard had its antiquated old ruin gradually becoming a part of the dust, sitting amid the jimson weeds and dreaming of the useful life it had once led.

sealing abandoned mines against sulphuric acid seepage and miscellaneous projects.

The character of the work has an estimable social value apart from the effect of employment on the worker's morale. In comparing the cost with that allowance must be made for the similar operations under private contract. When would Kentucky have got around to malaria control or sealing 3,767 abandoned coal mines?

The construction, reconstruction or enlargement of 2042 school buildings partially relieved a serious emergency exposed by a survey of Kentucky's public schools under the auspices of the U. S. Office of Education. During a corresponding period immediately preceding the year from which the WPA report dates, the survey showed that the number of inadequate and city schools had increased 344; but there remained 5,741 one-room rural buildings for 66 per cent of the rural children, the average attendance of whom was less than five months a year.

The conclusion of the survey was that local revenues are inadequate, the rural school system "has little indebtedness and poor schools" and "the state should offer some form of aid for purposes of school-house construction."—The Courier-Journal.

Assets of WPA

The report of George Goodman, State WPA Administrator, on accomplishments in Kentucky in the last four and a half years is open to critical study from both the social and economic points of view. He invites this, though WPA authority is restricted to accepting or rejecting a project. Selection is up to local initiative.

On the credit side is an imposing array of public assets. WPA has given us 532 new schools, libraries, hospitals, jails, gyms, auditoriums and recreation structures and reconstructed 1,110 public buildings. The report speaks for itself in miles, capacity and benefit with reference to highway, street, bridge, sidewalk, curb, sewer, gutter, water works and recreation grounds constructed, additional airport facilities, sanitary engineering, malaria control, drainage, stream purification

Floyd County Times

Published Every Thursday By
PRESTONSBURG PUBLISHING CO.SPECIAL ORGAN FOR FLOYD COUNTY, KY.
$2.50 Per Year Payable In Advance

NORMAN ALLEN Editor

Entered as second class matter June 18, 1927, at the postoffice at Prestonsburg, Ky., under the Act of March 3, 1879.

THE TIMES ENDORSES

1. Immediate completion of the Left Beaver, Middle Creek and Johns Creek road.
2. Consideration by officials of human needs, not the need for political influence.
3. Completion of all Farm-to-Market roads, by W. P. A. labor if possible, maintenance of these routes by the state rural road fund.
4. A trade-at-home policy followed by merchants and customers alike.
5. Full co-operation with all county and city officials, insisting that lawmakers and enforcement officers themselves obey the law to the letter.
6. Continuance of the Floyd county health department and the county agricultural agent work.

THE NEW HOSPITAL

Without the active interest of the Prestonsburg Co-operative Business Association and the Prestonsburg Woman's Club, there might never have been a hospital in Prestonsburg—not in many years, anyhow, not for as many years, perhaps, as we have waited in years ago.

But these two civic and social organizations were active. And Prestonsburg's City Council was not hide-bound.

As a special inducement to a hospital to locate here, the City Council has already taken preliminary steps toward leasing a part of an unused city street to Dr. Daniel, who proposes to establish the hospital, for a period of 25 years at a rental of one dollar a year.

The part of the city corporation that is West Prestonsburg did not need that short street that ran past the old Herford home toward Middle Creek. Both Prestonsburg and West Prestonsburg did need it for this very cause to which it is being dedicated.

And so the Council is eschewing all those old, hide-bound real estate owners' precepts of holding on to what will not run away from them; the Council is making progress possible.

This newspaper wishes for every hospital in Floyd county and also for hospitals everywhere the very greatest success. We all will, some day, need their services, if we do not need them now. Petty jealousy or rivalry should have nothing to do in the establishing or conducting of such institutions. The public as a whole should have first consideration.

The only "cramping pains" this newspaper has ever had in this matter have arisen from the fact that other parts of the county and of this section have supported hospitals while Prestonsburg and vicinity have had no hospital whatever.

For one dollar a year the City Council has leased a street for hospital use. What about some of you private property-owners—would you care to sell or lease at a reasonable fee some of your unused land as industry needs it in Prestonsburg and vicinity.

Brother, sister, you can't take it with you!

The City Council of Prestonsburg is considering

COWBOYS IN PERSON

—AT—

"WHERE THE CROWDS GO"
MONDAY, MAY 13

Soon you will see big hats, loud shirts and high heel boots on the streets of Martin, when Jack Pierce and his Oklahoma Cowboys hit town.

No doubt you have heard this novel group of entertainers at one of the many radio stations on which they have been featured or on a national hook-up.

The boys play on everything imaginable such as auto pumps, hand saws, etc., as well as string instruments.

They will make the old West live again as they entertain with their songs of the plains and their homespun brand of humor that has been handed down from generation to generation as far back as the pioneer days.

You miss a rare treat if you fail to see these artists in person.

15 and 30c

the present generation, at the same time is building for the future.

You who have a "hook" on industrial expansion here and within a radius of a few miles—we would advise a change of heart. You can hold on to every inch of your property, you can "freeze out" those who would come in to establish business enterprise—and, if the coal and gas businesses of the section fall away, where, pray, will you and every other landowner and business man of Prestonsburg be?

THE TIMES contends that, even as in King Arthur's day, the Old Order continues to pass, giving way to the new.

What this town and this county needs is the renaissance in industry that would come with new undertakings. And we should, as they knock at the door for admittance, try to help rather than to hinder them.

LEGISLATIVE SKULLDUGGERY
UNHATCHED

Behind the closed doors of a committee room, sheltered by the anonymity of a secret vote, the House Judiciary committee, a few days ago, by a 14-to-10 vote agreed to "table" the Hatch bill and let it drift quietly into oblivion.

With the press and public clamoring for cards-on-the-table action on the bill, the committee came out in the open and voted again—voted so that everybody would know how each member stood.

And, with the nation looking on, with the hot breath of constituents on their necks, these same Congressmen voted, 14 to 11, to "untable" the bill and give it a chance for a vote from the entire House.

Like the anonymous letter-writer, the committee didn't care what it said and did in secrecy. Out in the open, it was another matter.

And now, Hatten W. Summers, Democratic chairman of the committee, vociferously voicing his opposition to the Hatch bill, again sounds the old cry of "State's Rights," argues that this legislation will deprive the people of their rights.

What rights? What people?

The only rights that will be denied will be those unholy privileges hitherto enjoyed by political employees and political despots who have used the power of their office and the money paid them from the tax-till to elect men to office. The only people deprived of their rights will be these political jobholders and bosses.

For this Hatch bill is a complement to the first Hatch bill; it extends the power of the federal government to curb the political activities of all state employees to whose pay the federal government contributes as well as holding in check these paid entirely from federal funds.

It does not deprive you or me as common voters of anything whatever. Rather, it protects us from the machinations of political machines.

That, my countrymen, cries Sumner, Representative Crawl of Kentucky and others who do not dare trust their political future to a fair fight, is the way to dictatorship! Fiddlesticks!

That's robbing the common voter of his rights as the common citizen is robbed when a law is passed to outlaw pistol-toting by would-be murderers.

Now, THE TIMES has no illusions about this bill. It does not expect it to be a panacea for all our ills resulting from political corruption. For it will fall short in its execution of the letter of the law, just as all other laws fail to bear full fruit. Yet it's a long step forward, and the dictatorship of any individual group or party in political power will suffer as it should.

It's the "hit dogs" that are doing the yelling. The common people should drown out these ululations with their demands for the House to give them the protection the Hatch bill promises.

Prof. Clarke also is the author of the English textbook now adopted by the Lone Star state. Then, again, Prof. Marion J. Mayo, a native of Prestonsburg, now of St. Louis, may also have the same degree. Why can't we think of these things without being told?

TOM GETS "SEND-OFF"

The 21 prisoners boarding the bus, Frankfort-bound, were walking a gauntlet of officers and spectators at either side of the sidewalk leading from the county jail. The last prisoner entered the bus. Out from the jail came Tom James, an innocent bystander, and as he walked the "gauntlet" there immediately rose jailers' farewells, "Goodbye, Tom, goodbye. Be a good boy."

STAFF CONTRIBUTION

And now, after every other calamity has befallen us, comes James E. Goble (the Floyd County Times), not the Courier-Journal's Jimmy) with a four-liner to comment on the "forty-hole" that is Third street. He uses the right of the Muse of Third Street to this particular spot in the column, as follows:

So that our town
Won't get the bird,
Keep visitors
Off dear, of Third.

Feven's sake, fill up those holes, so that we won't be required to fill up those holes in our paper with country-butions such as these!

Radio Salute

Mr. Wilson has asked this newspaper to extend to its readers the heartiest personal invitation to visit WCKY's studios in Hotel Oberlin, Cincinnati, and the powerful 50,000 watt transmitter at Crescent Springs, Ky. In particular he invites residents of this community to visit the studios on the night of the salute sponsored by this newspaper. It is believed many will be interested in seeing the fine new technical equipment, modern studios and offices, and in learning how radio programs are presented locally as well as through the facilities of the coast-to-coast Columbia Broadcasting System network of which WCKY is a basic member. "Basic" in radio terminology means that the station carries all commercial programs originated by the network.

Mrs. Troy B. Sturgill spent last week-end in Berea, Ky., with her children, Billy and Winifred Sturgill, who are in school there.

"The Floyd Countian"
Is Received

"The Floyd Countian," annual published by the nine Floyd county high schools, made its appearance at County Superintendent Town Hall's office last week and distribution has been made to the various high schools. The volume, which is primarily a high school project, is one of the most attractive to date. It was published without contributions from the board of education or the general school fund. Nine hundred copies were received, at a cost of $1,500, and they are being sold for 75 cents each. The difference between the selling cost and the cost of production was met by proceeds from the annual post-season basketball tournament, advertising, and the schools, each of which was required to pay $3 per page for material it inserted.

(Views expressed in this column are those of the writer and not necessarily those of the Times.)

Gallahadion should have been named Gallahadion, for he surely had it in the last 16th Saturday.

If you read Sunday's Courier-Journal, you know that Taft will get the nomination for President. The C-J said: "Senator Taft continues to be the chief threat to Dewey's success. He has a fine background. He is liked by the Big Boys. Last week, nearly 100 delegates to the annual convention of the United States Chamber of Commerce took time out for an off-the-record conference with Taft." They are the ones that nominate a Republican candidate for President.

No wonder the Brooklyn Dodgers' win streak was broken—they had to play the REDS on MAY DAY.

I feel the same as Joe P. Tackett—according to this letter to The Courier-Journal. More Howard Henderson and they'd have a better newspaper.

I saw "Greaser" riding the bus Saturday. He must have quit his medical course and sold his tail.

Levi Fleming has moved to Martin. He'll either be on the Town Board or next election or bombing on the town.

We have just found out why there are more car wrecks on Right Beaver than on Left Beaver. Right Beaver Creek and the Right Beaver road are just alike—they are both "black top." Kinda gets a fellow mixed up, I guess.

Someone wanted to know what became of "Wrong Way" Corrigan. He got married—that's all.

There's one consolation in driving an old model car—people cease wondering if it's paid for.

The Swiss people are getting so nervous over the war that they are even plugging the holes in their famous cheese—to keep the Germans out.

Communism—You have two cows. The government shoots you and takes both cows.

Mr. Editor, your editorial on the pollution of our streams really hit the nail on the head and now it seems to me that it's up to our law enforcement officials to do something.

Our Game and Fish Club has made wonderful strides in aiding in the enforcement of our game laws. The individual dynamiter is almost a thing of the past, for killing fish in this section and giggering and shooting fish has fallen off at least 50 per cent in the past two years. If a fellow is caught with one fish he is taken to Prestonsburg and fined—that's the law. Yet our coal washers and pumping stations kill fish daily and nothing is ever done about it. My opinion is that a law that doesn't treat the corporations and the individual on equal terms is "no dice."

Some of our county officials have visited the Game and Fish Club meetings and have promised their full cooperation in the enforcement of our game and fish laws. Which is fine, but why jump on a ragged individual for killing a dozen fish when corporations are killing countless numbers daily? The Beaver Creek Road to be the favorite spawning grounds of large schools of fish—but not any more—for fish cannot live in hot, acid, oily, sulphuric, coal-dust water. The individual violators have been cut to a minimum in Floyd county. Now what about the wholesale slaughterer? Is this going to continue in Floyd county or can it be broken up? It's a job for our law enforcement officials, for we all know it's a flagrant law violation.

SHERIFF'S SALE

Notice is hereby given that in order to satisfy two executions issued from the Floyd Circuit Court and directed to me, one in the case of the Commonwealth of Kentucky vs. Vada Hubbard, T. J. Bentley and W. L. Miller, and one in favor of the Commonwealth of Kentucky vs. T. J. Bentley and Orville Hayes, issued on replevin bonds I or one of my deputies will, on Monday, May 27, 1940, at about 10 p. m., same being the first day of the May term of the Floyd County Court, at the front door of the courthouse in Prestonsburg, Kentucky, sell at public sale, to the highest and best bidder, on a credit of three months, with bond of approved surety the following described property, or so much thereof as to make the sum of $86.02 (which includes cost and interest to date), and the estimated cost of this sale, amounting to $39.00, viz:

All the right, title and interest, both legal and equitable of T. J. Bentley in and to that certain tract of land: Lying and being in Floyd county, Ky., on main Beaver Creek, and being the same land conveyed to T. J. Bentley and Nora Bentley by Rhoda Clarke and Wilson Clarke by deed dated March 31, 1932 and recorded in deed book at page 511, records of the Floyd county clerk's office, containing 14-acre, more or less, including all improvements placed thereon, and bounded and described as follows:

Beginning on a raw bush below the Mayo Trail, corner to Ralph Salisbury line; thence running up old county road to state highway; thence running with Mayo Trail to the beginning, so as to include all the land in said boundary. Only the undivided interest of T. J. Bentley is levied on.

Levied upon as the property of T. J. Bentley, this the 1st day of May 1940.

Who's making up your mind ... YOU?

WE DON'T LIKE high-pressure selling and trick names for the parts of cars any more than you do. You can probably make up your own mind which car is "best," "finest," "most amazing." We figure a fellow who's going to buy a car wants to know such things as—how it performs, how it rides, how good looking it is. Maybe we're crazy, but it seems to us the best way to find out those things is (1) step on the gas, (2) take it over some bumps, and (3) look at it.

THERE AREN'T MANY TRICK NAMES for the things on a Ford. We just call our engine a Ford V-8 engine ... instead of giving it some trick name, we gave it two more cylinders than the other cars in its price class. There isn't a richer interior than ours near the price—but just calling it "Regal Highness Decor" wouldn't make you think it was any more beautiful. Not if we know you!

MAYBE WE SHOULD think up a lot of high-sounding names, and throw some more "bells" and "finery" into our selling—but we prefer that you be the judge, after allowing our V-8 car to do all the buying and selling. We'll give you the keys for a trial ride—and we'll keep 'em 'til you ask us which of the six colors we like best.

THAT METHOD may not be "high-pressure" selling—but it's sure producing results with this 1940 Ford! For they're being bought, not sold ... they're going to folks who tried out every low-priced car—and then came back for ours. We'll have a brand new Ford ready for you to try out tonight. Will you let it give you a sales talk?

Get the FACTS and you'll get a FORD V-8 jobs. They will meet at the past in early May, make their run before the people and pass the first turn by early June and their stretch drive will be the hottest political campaigning Kentucky has ever seen. It will break up happy homes and babies in their cradles will scream in defiance because the doctors and attendants of the Lyter or Happpy. To put it mildly, it will be a bitter campaign.

About a year and a half ago we ran a story in this column as to the impracticability of putting the new two million dollar state office building in its present location at Frankfort. We not only pointed out its danger in time of flood, its greater expense in heating equipment and messenger service but, at great length, we commented on the deed that left the property to the state with the provision that it be used for a state prison or penal institution. Last week the Inns heirs filed suit against the state for damages because they alleged the will specified that all the property must be used for the above stated purposes and that the state office building is in direct contradiction of the provisions of the will and as a result the ground should revert to the heirs.

As the new office building is almost completed if the courts hold their claim legal, it will be a very expensive thing for the state and its taxpayers.
