FLOYD COUNTY TIMES

NUMBER 6

PRESTONSBURG, KENTUCKY

JUNE 4, 1942

This Town-- That World

NO BLACKOUT HERE

The snags pots were lit, along with others, down Saturday night. Don't be silly--there was no danger of frost. The snags were intended to drive the mosquitoes away.

BEAVER!

NIGHT PERSUADE MYSELF

The Rev. W. B. Carriott asked me, the other day, to write something about the pitifully low church attendance in Prestonsburg. I made an honest confession and admitted that I was ashamed to chide others who are no more guilty than I. The man has a splendid heart and did not realize he should be ashamed of myself. He hurriedly indicated that it wouldn't hurt me to think about writing such an editorial, anyway.

THE COMPLETE ANSWER

George Snodgrass tells about the half with who staggered or staggered onto a bit of wisdom. The number... was listening while some of the "smash" boys were discussing insurance. Wonder if it'll be any good after the war is over? And War Bonds, will they be any good after the war is over?

FIGURES DON'T LIE

Editor is the Beat mentioned in the Book of Revelations. "Under Reuben Taylor can prove it by figures. It's simple. Start with the letter 'a' and number it 100; 'b' is 101; 'c' is 102 and so on. So: H equals 107 I equals 108 T equals 119 L equals 111 E equals 104 R equals 117 Add that up and if it doesn't make six hundred three, sorry and six, the number of the Beat, we'll prove it was two other fellows we were talking about."

NAME CALLING

These names were looked over with much "furrine" than usual was talking about the "hill-billies." His hearer, being in a better mood than usual, wasn't indignant, so he mentioned with the remark that "I wouldn't be talking about hill-billies if I was in your place. They call fellows like you around here names like 'furriner'."

COLLINS DIES OF INJURIES

He was fatally injured Sunday morning at 3 o'clock when the automobile which he was driving from Wheelwright toward Prestonsburg wrecked near the mouth of Clear Creek. He died at the Martin General hospital, a few hours later, of a broken neck and skull injuries.

UNDERGOES OPERATION

Miss Joan Allen, who has been seriously ill for some time, underwent an operation at the Prestonsburg General hospital Tuesday morning. Latest reports indicate that Miss Allen's condition is as well as could be expected.

COUNCIL WARS ON LOITERERS, PESTS, CRIME

Curfew Ordinance To Curb Teen-Age Night Activities

The Prestonsburg City Council moved this week to bid the town of nuisance, a health hazard and a safety menace.

The three-fold front, established at Monday evening's Council meeting, consists of invocation of an old curfew ordinance providing that all children under 16 must be off the streets by 10 p.m., unless accompanied by their parents; work instituted to kill the horde of mosquitoes infesting the town; and an ordinance forbidding loitering on the streets after midnight.

To fight the health menace the Council Monday evening voted to buy kerosene which will be poured into sewer breeding places of mosquitoes. At the same time, 300 gallons of oil were made available for pouring on existing swamps in the fight on mosquitoes.

Floyd county's teacher-organization for the 1942-43 school year was complete this week, barring resignations and the work of filling vacancies.

The county board met last Thursday and named approximately 975 teachers for the rural and consolidated schools. Tuesday night, the City Board of Education named its faculty. The two boards concurred in the employment of high school teachers here, with the exception of an athletic coach for Prestonsburg high school.

City Board Refuses To Hire Longer Than One Year

Teachers for the Prestonsburg high and grade schools were employed by the City Board of Education Tuesday evening, on the condition that they are hired for the 1942-43 school year only.

The board made its teacher-selections for one year only, because it held that the screen teacher-tenure law "is discriminatory." "No continuing contract is to be given any teacher by... Board of Education, and all teachers are employed with this understanding," the employment order read. "The employment of teachers and the objections to the teacher-tenure law were voted unanimously. High school instructors named are the same as those employed by the Floyd County Board of Education, with the exception of the position of athletic coach here. Walter Price was named for the position by the county board, but Estlin Brantley was named in his stead by the city board. Mr. Price was last year's coach at Wheelwright.

SOLUTION SEEN TO BURGLARIES

As Two Arrested At Betsy Layne, Fingerprinted

Two men arrested at Betsy Layne Sunday may hold the key to solution of many burglaries here, it was Tuesday by State Patrolman Dick Layne, who arrested the pair.

In jail at Pikeville are Harold Charles Gouge, Beaver, Pa., and Floyd Ratliff, Jr. of Ivel. Their raids on filling stations and other places of business may be traced to other states, Patrolman Layne said. He expressed his belief on this belief on the confession of two Lima, O. boys, Garnett Inman Green and Evonda Cowan, who said they accompanied the young men on their motor trip to this county.

The girls told of the theft of cars and eight tires. Goings admitted, Patrolman Layne said, that they netted cash and three pairs of men's pants as loot.

Ratliff was quoted by the highway patrolman as saying he "went over a hill" from the Canadian army. The car in which the four were driving had been stolen, it was claimed. Their fingerprints were being checked this week with prints photographed by an F.B.I. agent at the Howard Motor Company here which was burglarized Saturday.

Patrolman Layne said he recovered one of the eight tires said to have been stolen. Four of the tires had been sold to Jack Cowley of Allen, he said.

ERRONEOUSLY LISTED DELINQUENT YOUTH IN AUSTRALIA

Poster Mitchell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Levi Mitchell, of Beaver, this county, recently was erroneously listed as a "suspected" delinquent on Draft Board No. 44 in asked THE TIMES to emphasize that this was the result of an oversight and to check the name with prints photographed by an F.B.I. agent at the Howard Motor Company here which was burglarized Saturday.

Instead of being delinquent, Mr. Mitchell volunteered at Langley Field, Va. Feb. 6, 1941--and is now with MacArthur in Australia.

Bombers' Spook?

The American fliers reminded Japan that the open city of Manila was not a closed grave—but an open tomb.

London, Warsaw, Shanghai and Nanking are avenged because the burning sea of Pearl Harbor is still burning in American hearts. Japan is entitled to receive what she gave. Japan gave no warning at Hawaii and she gave no mercy at Bataan. These are cruel words, but these are cruel times. The blazing cities of the Axis nations are the only lightness to civilization. The way to bring peace to our cities is to bring war to theirs. The foundation for international justice must be dug with 1,000-pound bombs.

This is the lesson they have asked for and we must drive it home with bayonets. Where our planes can fly, our armies will march. And where our armies can march, their dictators will kneel.

Who are the legislators holding up passage of the bill that would raise the pay of soldiers and sailors? . . . Ra, Ha Dep't: The Japs can now join the other Kings who thought the oceans could protect them.

This Is New York:
The old-fashioned private houses on West 52nd Street between 5th and 6th Avenues—where the veteran New Yorkers put down the blinds every evening—shut out, "Swing Street." The J. P. Morgan mansion, covering an entire block of Madison Avenue real estate. Boasting one of the most splendid mansions in this side of a "Dead End" movie.

The emergency case interned at Bellevue Hospital, who read detective stories between life-and-death assignments. . . Times Square—the "glamorous street"—where the corners are occupied by a drug store, a habashu, a cigar shop and a hot dog stand.

The pure-white Squibb Bldg. on Fifth Avenue, a well-manicured finger-pointing at a star. The Riverside Drive Jitterbuggy, that dance on the grass to the rhythm from nearby Claremont Inn.

The hundreds of heads that pop out of as many windows in the Wall Street car whenever two cars bump noisily. . . The noon-day box layers make their wagers—willing to put more across a nag's nose than on their wives' necks. . . The waiting of the zoo tenants in the dead of night—a nuisance to the midtown (near the park) dwellers. . . E. Cantor's $200 hut.

The Flay Apartments in mid-Hudson. Bachelors of the First Foot Floogie (with the F.F.) All Lunt, the star, washing dishes at the Stage Door Canteen. The Woolworth redies, who do longer has a 5-and-Dimery on the site. . . Hotel America, where most of the circus performers tent. The famed showman serving with two midlets—several of whom helped him keep the wolf from the door with their talent. . . The two live penguins, that solve as ass't head-waiters at the Penguin on E. 51 St. . . New Street, one of the oldest.

Park Avenue's sere spot of 59th Street, where the real estate agent, who goes Brooklyn—with a large ruff, a jet shop, a butcher store and a cigar store. . . Mrs. Katsenborg, the notable first-lady, who rarely misses a premiere. They hold the curtain if she were tardy (George S. Kaufman, one of the town's wisest, who wears a monocle). . . The big bows on Miss Hart's necktie. . . Lucy Monroe, the Star-Spangled Soprano, who is also ready to sing the Chinese National Anthem or the Jewish anthem, kateweh. . . Popular Dairy Kay's aggie.

Scrambled Eggs:
Yes, poppers have to be good to get their letters printed. To many professionals are crashing the dailies, discussing the country's welfare. The smaller reports of it first turn, responded to urging in stress and came through under a hard drive.

THE UNIONIZED MILK INDUSTRY
John L. Lewis is now trying to unionize the milk industry throughout the country. If he succeeds every bottle of milk delivered will have a union label endorsing that there has been no non-union contact from the cow pasture to the doorstep.

The idea is to have milk from hands and delivered by union milkmen and delivered by union milkmen. The new slogan may be "Milk From Union Cows, Contended or Not!"

We can imagine a union cow, choosing its union cow in a union meadow, making a unionized milk and losing in some approved by the Musicians Union.

We can picture union clover, union brooks, union hillsides and union hay.

The lowing herd winds slowly o'er the lea,
The plowman homeward plods his weary way.

All unionized and happy as can be. Whoever thought the cowhand would some day become a closed shop.

What would grandpa have thought if somebody had predicted that the walking delegate would wind slowly o'er the lea, that the cow would jump over the moon only if it had a union permit and that the milkmaid's answer to "May I go with you?" would have been "No! Unless you are a member of the union with good standing, mister."

Somehow we find it hard to gaze over the rolling country these spring days and take in the bucolic scene without feeling that, although he is not there in person, the spirit-form of John L. Lewis lingers through the meadows, looks disapprovingly on the guano of the rubber brook and welding an invisible rubber stamp, puts an "Okay J. L. L." on the flank of every mooly.

Whispering into the ear of every cow the wonders of the five-day week and warning the bull to take orders only from its local board.

To revise Anne Emille Poulsen's old verses:
At five o'clock he milks the cow,
The busy farmer's man.
At six o'clock he strains the milk
And pours it in the can.

At seven there's a clamor and
A merry little row,
It's found the cow that gave the milk
Was not a union cow.

The busy farmer's man is called—
With him it goes quite hard.
It's charged that when he strained
The milk
He lacked a union card.

At eight o'clock John L. appears,
A frown upon his face.
And there will be no milk today—
"T'WAS NOT A UNION CAN!"

"I'm short of food but long on stair carpet and paper trends, wheebarrow, snath, flag by 55, 12-foot stail, long-handled hoe, hammer, crowbar, jigsaw puzzle, dust mop and kitchen utensils. A609."—Yankee Magazine.

THE RACE TRACKS OF AMERICA WILL DO ANOTHER $200,000,000 TO ARMY AND NAVY RELIEF FUNDS THIS YEAR. The chart writer would perhaps describe the belated decision thus: "Slow to get off, appeared out of it first turn, responded to urging in stress and came through under a hard drive."

How Long Will Your Tires Last?

IT'S UP TO YOU

Add 25 to 50 percent to your tire mileage—HERE'S HOW!

Don't neglect or misuse your tires! Watch out for under-inflation . . . check air pressure frequently. Don't bump or park too close to curbs. Slow down! High speeds burn up your rubber. Avoid "jack rabbit starts" and quick stops. Get your wheels aligned and your brakes adjusted to insure even tread-wear. Shift tires occasionally . . . front to rear left to right. And be sure to have your tires taken off the rims for THOROUGH INSPECTION, inside and out, REGULARLY.

Watch your tires carefully, have that hole or break fixed immediately. The longer you wait, the shorter the life of your tire. Do not put a boot in that tire—have it VULCANIZED.

Cheap, carelessly-done tire repairs never were worth buying . . . and NOW, it's worse than foolish to risk the life of your tires. Now, more than ever before, high-class tire repairing and re-capping service is the most necessary and dependable motoring asset you can buy.

We are proud to offer this high-class service to the people of Eastern Kentucky, with the most modern tire repair and re-capping shop in the state.

SALAD BALLAD:
Leafy greens atop in a bowl take to almost any kind of dressing but fruit salads like a special touch of their own. From Florida, where fruits abound, comes a favorite recipe for Fruit Salad Dressing. If you want to toss in the yolk of an egg and beat it well, all right; otherwise, leave it out.

Fruit Salad Dressing: Mix together 1/2 teaspoon salt, one-eighth teaspoon pepper, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, one-fourth cup Florida orange juice, 1/2 teaspoon grated lemon rind, 1 teaspoon sugar, 1/2 cup mayonnaise, and 4 tablespoons heavy cream. Beat with rotary egg beater, or shake well in covered fruit jar until well blended. Just before serving add one and one-third cups dressing.

DON'T BANISH BREAKFAST
Don't rush helter-skelter off to work without a morning's worth of energy under your belt. Eat breakfast! Orange juice, bacon or sausage, cereal for instance—you need it! Your favorite cereal need not come in a bowl with sugar and milk, it can hop into biscuits neat as anything. Example:

Southern Griddle Biscuit
1/2 cup bran cereal, one and three-fourths cups flour, 1 cup whipping cream, 4 teaspoons baking powder, 1/2 teaspoon salt.

Sift bran cereal in cream. Mix flour, baking powder, and salt. Add soaked bran cereal and stir until dough is formed. Turn out on flour-dusted board and roll or pat to 1/4 inch thickness. Cut with small cutter and bake slowly on hot-greased griddle five minutes. Turn biscuits over and bake on other side five minutes. Roll 16 biscuits 2 1/2 inches in diameter.

A really popped-up popover, crusty as an old gentleman banker, is one of nature's nobler gifts. You can serve them with creamed ham with crisp bacon, with—well, what have you got? To be sure they stand up in the prettiest of manners, mix baking powder and remember that there's valuable calcium and phosphorus in that baking powder.

Pop's Popovers: Sift together 1 cup flour, 2 teaspoons all- phosphate baking powder, and 1/2 teaspoon salt. Add 2 well-beaten eggs and 1 cup milk. Beat hard with rotary egg beater for 2 minutes. Pour at once into very hot gem pans or heavy muffin tins. Bake 30 to 35 minutes, beginning with a hot oven (450 F.) and reducing to moderate (350 F.) as popovers rise and begin to brown. Makes six to eight popovers.

READING and WRITING

GOOD book news today! In "The Moon Is Down," John Steinbeck has written just the story that is needed in this crucial hour, a story to bolster the faith of free men everywhere and renew their confidence in ultimate victory. No wonder the Book-of-the-Month Club selected this beautiful novel, "The Moon Is Down" is a "natural!" Steinbeck's message can be stated simply in the calm, courageous words of the Mayor of the little town that has been conquered by the Nazis: "People don't like to be conquered, sir, so they will not be," says Mayor Orden to the enemy colonel. "Free men cannot start a war. But once it is started they can fight on in defeat. Here, men, followers of a leader, cannot do that, and so it is always the hard men who win battles and the free men who win wars."

tail to read it." Then you will be sure to have an experience you won't soon forget. Leo Lanis, Austrian refugee author whose autobiography, "Today We Are Brothers," will be published shortly, was introduced to Wendell Willkie at the opening of the new refugee culture center, Freedom House, in New York. "Do you think the German citizens believe German propaganda?" Mr. Willkie asked him. Instead of answering directly, Mr. Lanis told him a story about a tailor who lived in the small Polish town of Katowitz. This tailor had several competitors in the town and as a result, his business wasn't doing very well. He finally hit upon a fine scheme. One by one he approached his competitors and said: "I understand that there is a great need for tailors in Vilna." And one by one his rivals left for Vilna. When they were all gone, his wife came home one day to find him packing. "Where are you going?" she asked. "I am going to Vilna," the little tailor replied. "I understand business is good there!"

More About the Yankees The Yankees have been charged with being colorists—just a group of young business men handling a job. They keep in condition. They start no new. They are just out to win, and to be ready to win. They are a quiet bunch. They are a team of stars who refuse to be accepted as stars. Just ball players. Their business has been playing baseball, and they play it better than any other team. You'd get a better understanding of this if you could mix a white with such fellows as Dickie, Gordon, Keller, DiMaggio, Chandler, Ruffing, Freddy, Levy, Hassett, Hendrick, Gomez, Rizzuto, and the rest. I asked Bill Dickey about the Yankees' lack of color. The tall catcher from Arkansas, who has been around a slight matter of 17 seasons, said: "I've seen him hit off more sure base hits than anyone I ever saw. On one play you'll find him from one end of the field to a hot ground. On the next you'll see him somewhere in short right field killing another hit. "If that was what you don't like, I'd watch Joe DiMaggio play center field and make hard plays look easy? Or watch DiMaggio and Keller at bat when the chips are down?"

TRY AN AD IN OUR CLASSIFIED COLUMN—IT WILL BE OF GREAT VALUE TO YOU!

"The Moon Is Down" is so perfect in itself and apparently a village in Norway, although the author never says so—and what happened there after the Nazis had "occupied" it. The first day the Nazi colonel tells the Mayor that the people must work in the mines so that coal can be shipped to Germany. They will carry out instructions because they are an orderly people, the colonel says. "I don't know, sir," the Mayor replies. "They are orderly under their own government. I don't know how they will be under yours."

One of the first signs of spring in the big city is the return of the leafhoppers. They get here before the robins do, bearing divers tales of their misadventures on the platform throughout the country. "Damn it, Victor," reports that of all the questions asked by his various audiences, the most surprising was one from a little lady in a western city. "One thing I don't understand, Mr. Fisher," she said. "Several times during your lecture you mentioned the people of unoccupied France."

Color to me is standing back of the plate and watching that Joe Gordon make plays that I know can't be made. I've seen him hit off more sure base hits than anyone I ever saw. On one play you'll find him from one end of the field to a hot ground. On the next you'll see him somewhere in short right field killing another hit. How the New Order Limiting Telephone Installations May Affect You

To turn out more and more weapons for our fighting men, our Government has called upon the telephone industry and the telephone-using public to limit new telephone installations to an extent that will divert annually thousands of tons of vital metals and rubber to war production.

If you are a new applicant for service or a business or residential subscriber, the limitations of the War Production Board order may affect you, depending upon how much equipment is now available to serve the future requirements of essential individuals or agencies in your community.

Specifically, this is how the order may affect you: NON-SUBSCRIBERS, business or residential, may not be able to obtain telephones in some instances.

BUSINESS CUSTOMERS, particularly those with private branch exchanges or other large service installations who move to new locations or who wish other changes, may not be able to obtain the desired arrangements.

RESIDENTIAL SUBSCRIBERS who move may not be able to obtain telephones or may be asked to accept a different class of service.

We shall observe the order to the letter, confident of the public's full cooperation. We look forward to the day when we shall again be able to give you the kind of service you want, when and where you want it—but now, and for the duration, the one big task of winning the war comes first... with us, as with you.

Anti-Prostitution Act Becomes Effective

Upon the urgent request of the Secretary of War, the Secretary of the Navy and the Surgeon General of the United States Public Health Service, the American Social Hygiene Association and its affiliates are assuming responsibility for stimulating adequate state and local enforcement of the recently enacted law relating to prostitution, lewdness and assignation, which became effective in Kentucky Tuesday.

The law is designed to close segregated districts and eliminate such other vice conditions as endanger the health and welfare of the armed forces, industrial workers and the civilian population in general.

Governor Keen Johnson has issued a statement calling on state and local health officials, all courts and law enforcement officers, all welfare agencies and every citizen in the Commonwealth to inform themselves on this important measure and lend every assistance to prevent prostitution in Kentucky.

The help of every citizen, it is pointed out, is needed to keep each community clean and safe, not only for the armies in the field and factory, but for the protection of the young men and women at home.

Color to Me

I don't believe quiet, easy going Dickey knows how much true color he has. But Bill knows the main details of color, especially when he is talking about the Yankees.

"Who has had the most color in American sport?" he asked me. "I'll tell you—Babe Ruth, Jack Dempsey, Joe Louis, Bobby Jones, T. Cobb, Walter Haben and Bill Tilden. But did you ever stop to think each one of these was a star performer—one who had greater skill than the other fellows had?"

"You can't have color—true color—without exceptional skill. I still say the Yankees are packed with color on account of the different things they can do as hitters, fielders and pitchers. I believe the true baseball fan appreciates this. He likes to see a job well done game after game, better than anyone else can do it."

I'll string with Dickey in this respect. A big part of color must be based upon performance under fire. I've never seen a colorless player in any game. There are no colorful duffers in golf, no colorful duffers in tennis, no colorful duffers in boxing.

It may be we have stressed color, but we not directly hooked up with outstanding ability, too much.

The Main Content There is now one highly interesting sporting scramble under way that has nothing to do with titles, prizes or championships. It concerns a form of inner rivalry at which sport will contribute most in the matter of winning the war.

Why needed war funds get greater help from boxing, baseball, golf, tennis, racing, football or what? Joe Louis and Mike Jacobs sent boxing spirit well ahead of their own, and navy relief shows they are don't warming up.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Washington, D. C. For years the United States has had a huge surplus of cotton. The idea of importing cotton seemed fantastic until recently it is exactly what is about to be done, as the latest development in the Good Neighbor policy.

Both Peru and Brazil are suffering severely from loss of foreign markets. Brazil's cotton was sold in Europe, Peru to Japan. Both Latin American countries wholeheartedly backed the United States in the Rio conference and now Uncle Sam is returning the favor.

But two agriculture officials—John B. Hudson, president of Commodity Credit, and Sam Redden, aide to Secretary Claude Wickard, conceived the smart idea of putting the plan squarely up to southern congressmen, the Senator Johnson as the U. S. cotton.

This worked like a charm. Cotton congressmen have full confidence in Secretary Wickard, even approved importing some cotton, especially the long staple variety from Peru, which does not directly compete with U. S. cotton.

Meantime, plans are being made to purchase other Latin American agricultural surpluses, including beef and vegetable oils. But Argentina, which is suffering more than any other country, will get no U. S. handling permit. Castillo remains on the neutrality fence.

MERRY-GO-ROUND

President Roosevelt has indicated to him to tour the country, that he may take a transcontinental trip this summer. He has wanted to inspect several army camps and war production centers.

HOPKINS LOOKS AT WAR

He is convinced that Hitler is really alarmed at the tough resistance of the Russians, the growing war strength of the United States, and the fear of an invasion on the European continent.

One of his greatest worries, Hopkins believes, is manpower. German industry has done a great job hitherto. But now with an increasing drain on both industry and the German army, the tremendous losses at the Russian front are having a definite effect.

With his close friends, Harry Hopkins is known as one of the most optimistic men in the administration. But even discounting this optimism, there are many who seem to have a fairly bright light in their eyes recently.

MUSSOLINI'S DOTAGE

Inside word brought back from Italy by those in the know gives a gloomy picture of Benito Mussolini. He has been pretty well isolated from the war command and direction of the government, both of which are dictated, directly or indirectly, by Nazis.

POWER PROBE

A powerful lobby is again back on Washington scene. Driven out of the capital a few years ago by the blasting investigation of Justice Hugo Black, then U. S. Attorney General, the utility forces have quietly resumed their undercover pressure operation.

Prestonsburg Loses As Patton Is Wild Against Wayland

Facing his old teammates, Prestonsburg's pitching mainstay, Ray Patton, turned in his most rugged performance of the season at Stuart-Robinson, and the Heater Creek team won, 15 to 9.

Patton was wilder than a hawk. Wayland scored twice in the first inning without a hit. Prestonsburg scored one run off Stephens, Wayland, in the first inning but was unable to solve his baffling slow curve thrower until the game was beyond recovery.

Patton retired in the fifth after Adkins hit a tremendous homer over the right centerfield fence. The second hit pitched by his successor, May, to Martin was smashed over the left-field fence. May, who started at first base, hit an inside-the-park homer, but the game was gone. E. Branham hit Wayland's third roundtripper of the game.

At Wheelwright, Drift succumbed, 4-1. In a 12-inning thriller which was featured by five homers, two by Magistrate Henry Stumbo. Buck Stumbo relieved Price for Drift in the eighth when Drift was ahead, 4-3, and was the losing pitcher. Wheelwright played errorless ball, while the losers were making two scores.

Children's Bible Camp In Pike County Offers Recreation, Training

Since October, 1941 work has gone forward on developing Camp Evangel, the Children's Bible Camp located on Levisa fork of Big Sandy river. This is between Big Creek and Fed's Creek, near High, Pike county, Ky. The 375-acre lease obtained from the Kendall Coal & Coke Company fronts on the river for about a mile and affords an ideal camp site that permits swimming and some fishing.

The project is sponsored by the Southern Highland Evangel, an interdenominational Home Mission group organized in 1936. Approximately 45 Christian workers who are connected give full-time to Sunday School and community work. There are in five Southern mountain states a ministry in Eastern Kentucky and West Virginia.

Some thousands of boys and girls have been regularly contacted through school camps during the school term. Many have memorized 120 selected Bible verses and received as reward a New Testament and a book. These completing the work are entitled to spend a week at Camp Evangel without cost. The expense for carrying on this work is met through voluntary gifts from interested friends, some from the local section and also from other sections of the country.

A somewhat limited camp session will be carried on this summer. It is planned to have three camps, beginning July 3, 17 and 31 with 125 children each, some coming from 100 miles away. Interesting Bible study classes will be conducted and in afternoons there will be public chapel and hand-work. At all times the boys and girls are under the care and supervision of an experienced staff of workers. In connection with these young people will return to their home communities and churches to become leaders in Christian life and service.

The director of this camp is Elmer C. Wagner, Grundy, Va. Others who share in the responsibility are Fred H. McGinnis, Prestonsburg; Thomas C. Swanson, Mays, Ky., and Fred Morningstar, Merrimac, W. Va. The resident care-takers at Camp Evangel are Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Stauffer and Miss Christine Stauffer.

Eighteen buildings have been or are being erected, including 12 cabins, a kitchen and dining-room, a junkie in arrangement are at the center of the camp layout. A Delco plant has been provided which furnishes lights for the principal buildings. Entrance to the camp is permitted by a cable foot bridge that stretches over the Levisa-Grundy highway.

The general public is invited to visit this Bible Camp at any time, but particularly during the month of July when full operations are being carried on. A number of young people from Floyd county are making plans to attend Camp Evangel this summer.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Washington, D. C.
RRs VS. SHIPS
It hasn't made headlines, but a battle royal has been raging between WPB Clear Donald Nelson and the Transportation War Executive Eastman over the freezing of steel for the construction of railroad cars.

With down the west shipping moving along the coast, and more and more traffic by rail, the question is one of the most important facing the country.

What happened was that the War Production board froze all construction materials already on hand in railroad construction shops. The intention was to transfer these materials for use in building other types.

However, Joe Eastman claims that these materials, chiefly steel, already had been bought for use for certain cars in certain shapes, so the order merely will make the materials go unused, with cars shapeless.

Already, Eastman argues, certain plants of Pullman Standard are idle, at a time when all plants should be used to capacity.

Meanwhile railroads are groaning with traffic. Sugar is now being hauled by air at an estimated cost from Florida to avoid subsidies. Oil is clogged up in the producing belts for lack of railroad transportation. In view of all this, Eastman complains bitterly that Nelson won't freeze the steel and let the railroads do the shipping.

INFLUENCING EUROPEAN LABOR

Here is one inside reason why Roosevelt leans toward labor. Basically, the President always has been in sympathy with labor, even though he has become fed up with some labor activities in the past year.

In addition, U. S. war strategists are convinced that the chief hope of revolution in Europe comes from labor. And the chief psychological warfare strategy being devised here is aimed at influencing labor in Germany, Czechoslovakia, Austria and the Balkan countries.

Although not generally known, the nucleus of the old Social Democratic party which tried to create a real republic in Germany is still intact. When Hitler came into power, they moved to Czechoslovakia. After the war, they moved to Paris. After the downfall of Paris, they moved to the U. S. A.

Fifty Social Democrats from the old party are now in this country co-operating with U. S. officials. Furthermore, it is labor in the European occupied countries which is able to assemble or make radio German labor listens to the radio for more than any other class. Some labor groups even have their own very small "underground" newspapers on hand presses and these are distributed by hand.

German labor presents the long hours in munitions factories, the small pay and the lack of food, more than any other group. Also, labor is about the only group which was not taken over completely by Hitler. The Communists, his chief opponent, now have long been underground, but secretly active.

To European labor Roosevelt always has been one of the world's greatest leaders. And one thought in the minds of war strategists is to show Europe that the rights of labor here will not be thrown away completely overboard during war.

WALLACE'S FAVORITES

The men who came to Washington with Henry Wallace in the early days of the New Deal realize now that they picked a winning horse. Almost to a man, they have moved up to important posts in the government.

Claude Wickard was head of the corn-bog section in Wallace's AAA. Now he is secretary of agriculture.

Milo Perkins was a lowly assistant to Wallace, holding down a desk in the outer office. Today, he runs the Board of Economic Warfare, as important as a cabinet post.

Paul Appleby was an assistant in the inner office. Now he is under-secretary of agriculture at $10,000 a year.

Chester Davis was head of the AAA. Now he is director of the Federal Reserve bank in St. Louis.

R. M. O'Spicer, Evans' right-hand man, now is head of AAA.

Sam Bledsoe, Roy Henderson, and Whitney Thomas were in the inner covering agriculture. Bledsoe is now an assistant to the secretary.

MERRY-GO-ROUND

Secretary of War Stimson is held in the warmest personal esteem by army commanders. Hard-working and open-minded he never meddles in military operations and backs up his subordinates 100 per cent. Stimson is always at his desk by 8 a. m., rarely leaves until evening, when he always takes home with him a big bundle of papers that he works over after dinner.

REWARD

I hereby offer a reward of $25 for each arrest and conviction of any person or persons offering or selling whiskey, wine, beer or gin to my son, Edgar Stephens, on credit or otherwise. It is a severe penalty to give or sell liquor to another, who has been convicted for drunkenness more than three times. Liquor sold on credit, the account is illegal and cannot be collected. I have had so much trouble along this line, I will appreciate the help of anyone. I think if we women and others who are interested in helping an overworked good for our county and children would go to work and circulate a petition and get the required number of legal voters to sign it, and submit the liquor question to the people of this county, we could vote this county dry, if the election was not stolen as has been done in Harlan county. The elimination of intoxicants would be a large extent eliminate road-houses and save the life of many a boy and prevent ruining the character of many a poor girl and their parents. It also would prevent and stop a lot of cheap constables and deputies from holding up and robbing thousands of dollars to the county, not counting the loss in time in preventing laborers from their work, and furnishing things in their work, which they need. I will take the time and secure a number of petitioners and we will submit this question to the people of this county. I can get the cooperation and assistance of the citizens and different organizations of our county interested in this matter. I hope I may have an encouraging word from people who are interested in the disgraceful calamity now existing in our county and state. This letter and request is written by a heart-broken mother, brought about by the liquor business. I am yours for a better, healthier, Floyd county and state. MRS. HENRY STEPHENS, JR. TOWN-WORLD

LETTERS TO STRANGERS Fearing the spreading of information that might be covered by the enemy, the War Department recently issued a circular forbidding soldiers to write letters to, or receive such communications from, strangers.

This is all right. But a letter such as that which follows is altogether harmless, providing the Camp Robinson, Ark., soldier-writing with an interesting pastime and the Floyd county girl-recruitment with considerable amusement. The letter: "Good afternoon, M.—Don't let this floor you. I think it's just an old army game. My name is of you to romance me. I write letter to you—and, whether you like it or not, you get letters. Now, the army is the only place this is being done, so you aren't supposed to get mad. Just can you, my address that we live in the home state of Lum and Abner. Bob Burns and, from the looks of things, it may be the home of about 20,000 very cute and nice. We, the boys, are just as bad. You may think we go native, too, if you were to know the national freedom, very cute and nice. One instance is the rude letter you are reading now. The conditions it is written under: I am lying flat on the floor, in a queer position, my shoes and socks are off, and my toes are wiggling back and forth, helping me to think of something to say. "Now this is just a routine, everybody in the tent would have to read it, so protect yourself with a very mild answer or silence. "Brookline tells me in different words that you are simply the 'Cream of Kentucky,' a lady of good manners and reputation. Now, the boys are just as good for a soldier and one of adventure to write to, but for three days—has been asking me to write. Persistence sometimes gets results, even when they pick on strong men like me and Sampson. "I am sure crazy about his girl there, but just can't find the things to tell her. We slipped a fast action letter to her one day, but she guessed as much. He had a few sad days, but the last letter he received from her has made him very happy. "OLIVE OIL"

EP "DE WUST" COMES The Union County Advocate tells of one about two gentlemen of color discussing the post-war period. "The speaker's a depressus wus'n de last one," quoth one. "If dat comes to pass," said the other, "de gon' back to ma of perfection." "What wus dat?" "Times got an hard," replied this depressus in detail, "I start out on preachin'." And, if the wust comes to wust, I ain't none too good to try preachin' again."

IMPORTANT PROPS Some of these days, if we ever learn how, we will write an article in detail on just how to go about getting a birth certificate. Reports reaching us indicate that one of the hardest things to prove, except your innocence, is to prove that you were born, and when and where and who played the leading role, if you didn't. Some folks have been complaining about how slow the office of J. F. Blackney, state registrar, is about his all-important matter of getting a birth certificate for a record as having been born. But not Camillus Spanghede, of Prestonsburg. Mr. Spanghede says it's all a matter of time and effort on the right foot. With the assistance of F. C. Critt Hall he prepared an application on 524.11, next day got the affidavit of a relative and on the following day his names were filed in Louisville May 27, certified May 28, and were returned to him May 29.

Poll Tax Pay (Continued from page one) The number of poll tax delinquents in the four Magisterial districts while the ward boys collected 422; District 1 outside Prestonsburg; 1,283; District 2, 1,770; District 3, 1,938; District 4, 1,847. Records of Tax Collector Salisbury were well-kept; the statement, concluded.

Johns Creek Man Called by Death Clyde Endicot, 32 years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Endicot, died Monday at German following an illness of six months. Surviving are his parents, his widow, four children and the following brothers and sisters: John, Sam, May, 20; and Minnie Endicot.
