American Red Cross Enrolls 40,000 Per Day As Public Clamors for First Aid Training

Gloria Thackberry "suffers" from a severed artery in the palm, a fractured arm and internal injuries—all the result of a Red Cross first aid class at Alexandria, Va. First-aiders Richard Harris and the proper first aid care.

Quick to sense the necessity for first aid training to meet the emergency which confront a warring nation, hundreds of thousands of Americans have enrolled in Red Cross first aid classes.

Since late December 7 an estimated 60,000 a day have signed up to receive the Red Cross first aid instruction, and Red Cross officials foresee no immediate slackening of public demand for the training.

More than 10,000 American Red Cross first aid instructors are engaged in teaching the classes. Throughout the country physicians by the thousands have volunteered to augment this army of instructors. Many of them have taken Red Cross "refresher" courses before assuming the instructor's role.

Approximately 8,000 Red Cross highway first aid stations and mobile units, equipped to give emergency care to victims of highway accidents, are spotted across the continent ready to meet civilian first aid needs should enemy bombings make necessary the evacuations of cities.

The available supply of textiles for civilians during 1943 should not fall more than 10 per cent below last year's production, according to J. M. Walton, director of the WPB Textile, Clothing and Leather Division.

Basing his estimate on the assumption that increased military and foreign requirements will be met through conservation measures, which have already been instituted, and allowing for possible production loss from the production of rayon and other shortages, he declared that the output of fabrics should be sufficient to meet all essential civilian requirements.

There is no overall shortage of textile fibers, he said. We have a surplus of cotton which, along with our production of rayon and wool, should prevent any shortage of fibers. Production is limited only by the available processing capacity for fibers, Shetlands, towels, bedspreads and blankets are expected to be available in quantities to take care of civilian needs, he said, and the same holds true for knitted hosiery and underwear.

Housewives who unwrap their bread and find the loaves unloafed, need not be dismayed for lack of a fancy blade called the "bread knife." Following the announcement that bakeware still shop sales had been on Jan. 18, there was a widespread buying spurge of such knives. Any keen-edged meat or other type of slicing knife that is handy in every kitchen will do the bread cutting trick as neatly as the fancy blade.

Construction projects having a top cost of $1,344,800 have been stopped in the last three months in line with WPB's policy of curtailing non-WPB to free materials, equipment and labor for more essential uses.

Complaints and photographers and secretaries can have their transportation paid to Washington by Uncle Sam, who will also be happy to do their room-hunting for them. WPB district offices will give them 30-day travel orders, and the War Relocation Authority will send them to Washington at an increase up to $2,000, depending on their experience and capabilities.

The OPA is campaigning to stop gasoline stations from accepting No. 4 and 5 gasoline coupons before they are valid. Suspension hearings are already being held.

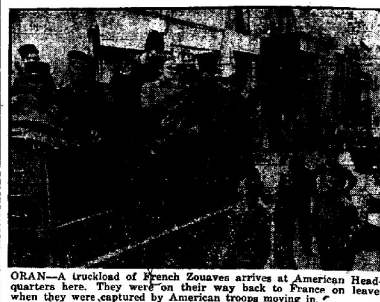

The broken-down condition of a large proportion of the tires turned in by motorists to the government has caused the necessity for periodic inspection to extend the life of tires now on cars.

more than 36,000,000 passengers in September, a 91 per cent increase over September, 1941.

A plan to mobilize commercial vessels to augment facilities of local civilian defense councils in the event of war emergency or public disaster has been announced by the OPA for the critical areas of the Atlantic, Gulf, and Pacific coasts, and for the Great Lakes region.

Manufacture of anti-freeze solutions compounded with inorganic salts or petroleum distillates has been prohibited by WPB, as a result of widespread complaints that certain solutions recently distributed in large quantities have been found highly destructive to radiators, ignition systems, and rubber components, in automobiles and trucks.

This week, more than 200,000 stores will remind housewives to save waste paper. For seven weeks from now, some of the lots turned in at this time, will be ready to fire airplane cannons. The six 8's of waste (at salvage are: Save, Sell, Saponify, Separate, Ship, Shred).

Laundries, which maintain a diaper service, may require a deposit covering diapers, containers, baby clothes, bottle sterilizers, and other infant necessities of a durable nature, which they rent to customers, the OPA said.

To lessen any possible confusion and lack of understanding of the OPA point rationing system, which is now being adopted, a comprehensive program of education on the subject will be carried on through the public schools in Ohio, Kentucky, West Virginia, Indiana, and Michigan.

Far-reaching liberalization of the requirements for agricultural decessments which is expected to bring many additional workers on farms has been announced by the War Relocation Authority's Selective Service Bureau. The revised guide provides that a local board would be justified in some cases in deferring an agricultural worker who produced as little as eight tons of potential products. Heretofore, 16 units was considered as a standard.

In a move to protect young workers entering war-time industry, U. S. Department of Labor's Children's Bureau is setting up a series of advisory standards pointing out the hazards of the various occupations in which young workers are likely to be employed and listing kinds of work that are relatively safe or unsafe for boys and girls 18 and 17 years old.

The hours of operation of service stations throughout the country have been regulated by the Office of Petroleum Administration for War. The stations may operate on two plans: Staying open not more than 72 hours a week and for not more than 12 hours a day, or staying open 24 hours a day, seven days a week, but serving only 7-card holders during 12 of the 24.

Over a billion dollars worth of army contracts have been placed during the last two months with concerns employing from five to 500 persons. The Small War Plant Corporation announces.

A new regional critical war production bottlenecks at the request of the armed forces by calling into instant play any or all of the WPB's specialized services is being developed with excellent results in northern Ohio.

Workers will again find cotton flannel shirts selling for approximately $1.50 on retail shelves as a result of OPA action establishing fair margins on these goods. Price inequities had forced withdrawal of these goods from the market.

A forthcoming OPA regulation will prohibit changes in quality, weight, quantity, ingredients, and containers of toiletries and cosmetics except when such changes are required by the War Relocation Authority, and then the manufacturer must certify that the product will give approximately the same results, an OPA representative told the Ohio Cosmologists Association.

THE TRUTH

ABOUT THE BIG SANDY BUS STRIKE

Last April a contract was signed between Kentucky-Virginia Stages and Transport Workers Union, Local 214, C.I.O. This contract, which does not expire until April 16, 1943, expressly provides that disputes between Company and Union shall be settled by arbitration and NOT BY STRIKE. The arbitration clause in the contract is in the exact words proposed by the Union itself.

A dispute now exists between Union and Company over a single issue and no other. Union contends that one of Company's recent employees, who wants to become a member of the Union, and--since last November--has tried repeatedly to join, is "undesirable" and has rejected this employee without any opportunity to be heard or even to know the grounds for rejection. Company does not believe that any reasonable grounds exist for denying membership to this employee, BUT COMPANY IS WILLING AND HAS CONSTANTLY URGED THE UNION TO ARBITRATE THIS ISSUE, according to its written agreement so to do. UNION REFUSES TO ARBITRATE. It refuses to tell either the Company or this employee WHY this employee is regarded as "undesirable" and has been rejected. INSTEAD, THE UNION HAS GONE ON A STRIKE. The strike is in violation of the terms of the strikers' own contract. The strike is wholly contrary to the principle now being solemnly urged by the War Labor Board and the President of the United States that wartime strikes gravely endanger the safety of our soldiers and seriously impair the ability of our Government to crush the forces of foreign aggression.

The Company deplores this absolutely unwarranted, indefensible and unpatriotic action on the part of the Union, which can only result in great inconvenience and injury to its patrons and irreparable damage to the War effort. The Company still is, and always has been, entirely willing to observe to the letter all of the terms and provisions of the contract now in force between it and Transport Workers Union, Local 214, C. I. O.

SHIKE'S POKES

(The views expressed herein are those of the writer and not necessarily those of this newspaper—Editor.)

Seems that a colored fellow was worrying about his chances of being drafted and another consoled him: "There is two things that can happen, boy—you is either drafted or you ain't. If you ain't, you can forget it. If you is—you still have two chances. You may be sent to front lines and then you may not. If you go to the front line you will get shot and you may not—and if you get shot you still have two chances you may die and you may not, and if you do die you still got two chances." It's the truth, children! "I am indebted to Pic. Grover Sexton, Co. C 75th Military Police Bn., Camp Perry, Ohio; for the foregoing."

I may be old-fashioned, but I firmly believe it is so much treason to be A.W.O.L. in overalls as in khaki. If a known deserter is around no one has a kind word for him. Boys, why not treat the habitual Monday and Friday absentees from their jobs the same way? After all, the deserter and absentee are both in the same boat—they are slacking their duty.

Boys, don't holler about the high taxes. Remember, this is our war for all-out survival and just remember that to shoot the Jap Zeros out of the skies, we have to shoot more zeros into our war bill. We're out to win and—let's all praise the Lord and pass the "ersatz."

After experimenting with many different ways to make a second and third batch of coffee from the same ingredients, I find it better to give the grounds a decent burial in the first place.

"Of all the glad surprises There's nothing to compare To peekin' in the cupboard And finding coffee there."

The following letter which I received this week from D. M. Sexton from the Left Fork of Raccoon Creek on Salt Lake is self-explanatory:

Mr. Norman Allen, Prestonsburg, Ky. Jan. 25, 1943

This is to let you know that my son, Buford Sexton, leaves for Uncle Sam's army on the 25th of this month and, as for my aid and assistance in winning this war, I have piled up a lot more of scrap than I am willing to give to the government if they will send and get it. I have no way of delivering it.

Yours very truly, D. M. SEXTON

Thanks, Mr. Sexton. Seems that you're doing your part.

Without taking any part in the argument as to the right or wrong of it, the hard-core miners should go back to work immediately and not violate the no-strike clause in their contract. After all, the employer is the American public. People might have given some thought to their argument in peace-times, but in our all-out war for survival, notice they are acting like fifth columnists. Maybe their leaders haven't been over here long enough to get imbued with Americanism—and, after all, they came here for freedom. So why sabotage it? Those men might have room for argument, but by striking in wartime they are bound to lose.

A GOOD WORD

—IN BAD COMPANY—

By the REV. W. B. GARRIOTT
Pastor, Prestonsburg Methodist Church

This week I am thinking of the other word which was overheard on the lips of many people and is a word which the people of the church do not like to hear. It is a word which means "ferocious and cruel." It is a word which means "to eat." In some way we must get rid of this enthusiasm which is so prevalent among our fathers and mothers and find again the passion which cheered the people from sinners to saints.

You notice that I have said, the enthusiasm which once possessed our fathers and mothers. Many still possess it but it is a great tragedy that many of these have lost the passion for helping others. Some have become indifferent, some have become cold while some have turned back to seek with Him more. I am sure they would not say in words that they are disappointed in Christ but in their actions they have said to the world—"I am disappointed in Him and therefore I seek the company of another." I hear some one saying as they read this, "I do not mean to be indifferent." Then let me ask you this one question: Are you?

Where is the blessedness I know? When first I saw the Lord? Where is the soul refreshing view Of Jesus and his word?

What peaceful hours I once enjoyed! How sweet their memory still! But they have left an aching void This world can never fill!

I am not writing about some petty fancy or quibbling about some hairsplitting theory of theology. The facts are that I am not writing about some creed, as good as a creed may be in its place. I am writing to you about a passion which has possessed men and women in other days and for which Christ went his way to Calvary. Martyrs have sealed their faith with their blood in every land where this mighty force has possessed the people there has been transformation. The drunkard has become sober, thieves have been lifted into chastity, selfish men have forgotten themselves and their selfishness and have changed to selfless living. It has created heroes and heroines, charity has blossomed and human sorrow has found healing in the broken heart of the compassionate Son of God. Weakness has been defiled a staggering blow as the people have emerged from a spirit of defeat into a great faith as they have learned to lean upon the cross.

I read somewhere recently the following: "How great a drama is the passion of Christ. How glorious this word is that of the God-Man. His words are a balm for all the wounds this world can inflict, and the blood that was shed at Gethsemane has a healing stream for all that suffer."

NO CHANGE

In The World's Most Amazing Work Shoe Leather Only Wolverine Shell Horsehides Have It in Uppers, Soles, Insoles

NATURE herself, makes shell horsehide the only leather on earth with a tough, reinforcing center layer or "shell." So even war can't change that. That's good, too, for it's the "shell" that makes this strange 8-ply leather resist wear so amazingly. But there's also a change in the famous Wolverine triple-tanning process that makes Shell Horsehide soft as kid uppers, flexible as bamboo for soles. It even dries that way after repeated soaking.

That triple-tanning process has been a closely guarded secret for many years. So, if you want house-slippers comfort in work shoes plus months and miles of money-saving extra service—wear WOLVERINE SHELL HORSEHIDES. Come in—try on a pair and be convinced—no obligation.

"GEE I was in a jam! For three nights straight, Pop caught me asleep at my desk when I was supposed to be studyin'." Was he burned up? Boy, it was a problem. Then, today the teacher told us that all kids need a good light for studyin' so they won't strain their eyes. So I looked at the bulb in my study lamp. It sure was little. I told Pop about it and asked for the bulb from his lamp. 'Nix!' snorts Pop, 'Nothin' wrong with your lamp. Let's see it.'

"Mom heard the commotion so she came along. Pop sat down and Mom watched. Then she began: 'So there's nothing wrong with Sandy's lamp, eh? Then why are you squintin'?' Pop caught on fast. He put a 100-watt bulb in my lamp. And he even washed the bowl."

Leslie's Commander Awarded Navy Cross

Frank Leslie, coxswain in the U. S. Navy, and a son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Leslie, sends the following newspaper clipping telling of his commanding officer being awarded the Navy Cross:

"For extraordinary heroism and distinguished service in the line of his profession as commanding officer of the U. S. S. Salt Lake City, Captain Ernest Small was awarded the Navy Cross for gallantry and devotion to duty in the night battle of Savo Island, one of the Solomon group, on the nights, Oct. 11-12, that the Salt Lake City bravely saved the Boise and participated in the sinking of one Japanese heavy cruiser, one transport and four destroyers, while another Japanese cruiser was badly damaged and several other Japanese vessels probably sunk. Due to his aggressiveness and determined action and through his skill and devotion to duty, a superior Japanese force heading for Guadalcanal was destroyed or turned back.

"In one phase of this engagement his excellent seamanship was a deciding factor in protecting the heavily hit Boise from further damage.

To which Coxswain Leslie adds: "I know Dad will get a kick out of this and it also goes to show what the skippers of our ships are made of and that they do really all in the front seat instead of the back one, as some people may think."

Sea Veteran at Home After Months of Action

M. F. "Mickey" Baldrige, 22-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Baldrige, formerly of Floyd county, was home with his parents at South Aberdeen, Wash., recently for the first time since Pearl Harbor.

Young Baldrige, a first class petty officer, saw action on a heavy cruiser at Tulagi, in the Coral Sea, in the Midway battle, in the Solomons and at the landing of Marines on Guadalcanal. After getting his leave with his parents, he was sent to New York to help teach the navy's new men some of the fighting tricks he and his mates learned during 11 months of almost constant action in the South Seas. Mrs. Baldrige is a sister of George Hopsen, of Prestonsburg.

SERIOUSLY SPEAKING

By E. F. EPLING

A job I would not take would be one to make plenty of money at the expense of others, especially mothers and children.

I've found it to be true, when a man weath' gets a set-back he'd use, four-fold, the loss he did to me. And, especially so, a helping hand is never empty long.

The dictator nations are not the only ones who, when given an inch, take a mile. In the U. S. there are many who believe the wealth being poured into their pockets makes them fit to rule.

Good advice and assistance are priceless, but any man with common sense does not need a dictator.

The only rule that'll endure is, "Live and let live." Yet, plenty of people believe they were born to be pampered, petted and enriched by millions of serfs, keeping them as lords, their stomachs and pockets full.

Was about to offer apology to all honest men, both rich and poor. But an apology is not necessary. A number eight shoe will not fit a number nine foot.

Politics is the "rage" in November. You go out and help a friend. The remainder of the year, they go into a rage. If you should need a friend, write for details. ARN CHILDERS, Gallia, O. 1-28-43

Never did have any fun in being a knucker. But a knock in time, at the right place, could have even stopped the outlaws of Europe and Asia.

Can't close until I say, grafters, ungodly, hard-hearted, selfish grabbers, you'll certainly not help a struggling nation to a victorious peace.

It's nauseating to hear a merchant, trading on a certain commodity being handed out to those on the commodity list. In the first place, the schools could not handle all the shipments, and there being no referral agent, this certain commodity could not be distributed. And so they were given out before they ruined in storage.

Now, the funny part of all this bawling children and grown-ups a few apples or oranges (or what have you?) is the pitiful fact that a few loaves of bread might not in some men's grocery store.

If the commodities could only be used on the far-flung battle lines, or by starving peoples of other nations then most of us would gladly and willingly welcome these facts and not expect any of these hand-outs.

I'd like to ask all the men and women, like myself, who have ever been on relief, to remember such business places for even we sometimes have money to spend.

Your best investment—United States War Bonds and Stamps!

To Water Consumers:

House-to-house collection, as conducted by any utility firm, using a truck or automobile and thus consuming gasoline, is to be shunned in these war-time conditions. And so Mrs. Ollie Davis, bookkeeper for the City Water Works, is now remaining in the office at the Bank Josephine four days longer than usual—from the first till the 14th, instead of till the 10th, as formerly, so that water consumers may be given the opportunity of calling at her office and paying their bills instead of requiring additional use of gasoline by the Company's truck in the collection of bills unpaid after the 10th day of the month.

This is a service to the public; at the same time, it seeks to conserve gasoline and manpower. Will you be patriotic and call and pay your water bill while Mrs. Davis is in the office?
