DRAFT RULES THAT ONLY ESSENTIAL WORKERS ARE DRAFT-EXEMPT

Dependency draft deferment—even for men with children—will be wiped off for countless thousands under a new order issued by the War Relocation Authority's selective service bureau Tuesday to take effect April 1.

Designed to impel transfer of draft eligibles from non-essential to essential work, the order—depending completely from any issued heretofore—sets up a list of activities as "non-deferrable," regardless of dependents, after April 1.

Although selective service boards were instructed to wait on that date, reconsidering the status of "non-deferrable" workers in that classification will be given an additional 30 days to find essential positions providing that they have registered with the U. S. Employment Service for a job transfer.

The list, which WMC Chairman Paul V. McNutt will "wag a tailing," in a broad list that dependency deferments are being narrowed generally to relieve labor shortages in war industries, covers:

1. All job-occupations in 18 manufacturing, eight wholesale and retail trade, and nine service activities.
2. Twenty-nine job occupations—non-deferrable regardless of the activity in which they are found.

Even if it is one of the 39 activities which have been designated as essential for purposes of occupational deferment.

In the first group are:

- 1. Textile-making—Curtains, draperies, and bedspreads; pleating, stitching, tucking, and embroidering; trimmings, stamped art goods, and art needlework; cut, beveled, and etched glass; cutware; glass novelties; mosaic glass; stained, leaded, ornamented, and decorated glass; jewelry; fixings and materials; jewelry; lapidary work; ornamental gold and silver leaf and foil (non-industrial); silversware and plated ware (non-industrial); costume jewelry and novelties; decorative leathers; plumes and artificial flowers; frames, mirror and picture; greeting cards and picture postcards; jewelry cases; and sign and advertising signs.
- 2. Wholesale and Retail Trade—

This Town-- That World

Almost 14 months now since the crafty Jap sneaked up behind us and cut his own throat.

Killer seems to be afraid Russia is going to lose this war—for Germany.

LET US IN ON THIS Blood plasma, cordons of the great life-saving media of this war. Blood donors are eagerly sought, for the plasma supply is not sufficient for the harvesting of the battle blood. Then why don't they arrange to tap the blood supply of soldiers like this? We've got some good mountain blood, even though since good mountain boys are spilling their blood, and there should be some arrangements made to let us get our blood into this war.

WORK IS BEING AROUND

North Africa, it would seem, appears to have from the storm to at least one flood country near the draft board here this week received the following letter:

"Will you please send me my call to the army? My wife has hit me in the head with a stick of stove-wood. We can't agree and I won't live with a woman and let her peck around me that way. So send me my call just as quick as you can. My rapin' to go."

WHISKEY IS GIVING IT

There's one thing you can say for John L. Lewis, those who like him like him a lot, and they don't like for anybody to hit him. Take those letters I've received from readers giving me hell Columbia for that editorial of a couple of weeks ago. And not a soul to give me any support, moral or otherwise. Maybe I was wrong. Oh, well.

WOMEN BATHING PUBLICLY

As having set a record for our army forces. It's a pity life didn't know about Mrs. C. W. May of Prestonsburg, Ruth (Mrs. C. W.) May, who goes her volunteer stint of evenings, sewing on surgical dressings for the Red Cross. In her spare time she also has knitted several helmets and mufflers.

G. B. HALL DIES AT 77

Superintendent Hall's Father Is Claimed By Death Sunday

G. B. (Greenbury) Hall, prominent Floyd county man and father of Owen Hall, Superintendent of Floyd county schools, died last Sunday afternoon at the home of his daughter, Mrs. M. D. Ramsey, on Frazer's Creek, near McDowell. He was 77 years old.

Mr. Hall had been in failing health for several years, but had been critically ill for only a few days, his last illness having had its inception in a cold which was followed by complications.

A farmer, and in earlier years a carpenter and timberman, Mr. Hall was one of the section's best citizens. His religious faith was that of the Regular Baptist Church. He was a son of Owen and Mrs. Jada Stumbo Hall, pioneer Floyd county, and was born and reared in the community where he died.

Beside Superintendent Hall, he leaves four other sons and daughters: Milford Hall, McDowell; Ramsey, of McDowell; A. J. Martin, Betsy Layne, and Prof. Boone Hall, Wayland. He is also survived by four brothers: John A. Hall, McDowell; James B. Hall, Frazer's Creek; Willard Hall, McDowell; and Floyd Hall, of Greenup county; also 16 grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

After church services were held from the Ramsey home Monday afternoon by the Rev. Earl Hall, of the Regular Baptist Church, and the Rev. Earl Stephens, of the United Baptist Church, Mr. Hall—buried in a home-made coffin and at a spot near his old home he had selected 30 or more years ago.

PLANS TOLD FOR 'POINT' RATIONING

Canned Fruit, Vegetable Sales Will Be Halted From Feb. 20-Mar. 1

Public sale of canned fruits and vegetables will stop throughout the nation on midnight Feb. 20 and will resume on a tightly rationed basis March 1.

These official dates for starting the drastic innovation in grocery shopping were announced Wednesday by the Office of Price Administration. The order also applies to all frozen fruits and vegetables, dried canned goods and canned baby foods.

The rationing of canned goods rationing has been on the way for several months because of the quantities needed by the armed forces and lend-lease operations.

The new ration system will be even more complicated than the controversial rationing of gasoline, oil and consumer products.

Canned goods rationing will, in fact, involve a dual currency system. Starting March 1, every time a household buys a can of fruit, canned goods, they will have to pay not only the usual money price, but also a value in coupon points.

The rationing system period, she will have 48 points for every

2 DESERTERS JAILED HERE

Mayo Attempts Escape But Officers' Fire Halted His Flight

Two army deserters were in jail here this week, awaiting arrival of military authorities to return them to army posts.

One of the two, Jacob Mayo, a three-time deserter who escaped from Deputy Sheriff Scott Compton several weeks ago when almost at the door of the county jail, was arrested Sunday on Arkansas Creek by Deputy Sheriff Compton and Deputy Curt Stephens.

Mayo first made his approach of the officers but when the officers opened fire he halted.

The other prisoner held as a deserter is George Kneal, who was arrested Wednesday, last week, by Deputy Sheriff T. S. Salsbury and Elliott Prater.

Floyd Red Cross Secretary Hears Many the Tale of Woe, These Days

Over the desk here of Miss Ella White, home secretary of the Floyd Red Cross Chapter, are poured the troubled stories of Floyd couleaux in uniform and of relatives of these men in their country's armed forces.

These stories which come to Miss White are in the same vein as those which reach Red Cross workers in every other county and city of the United States and in the country's overseas bases. And they add up to round the top of the Red Cross, Miss White said this week that she has handled 378 such cases since Pearl Harbor—cases requiring visits to the families of soldiers, responding to urgent telephone calls and telegrams, gathering and relaying information, always serving in the more building program of the Red Cross.

Miss White made no attempt to estimate the number of cases in which she has assisted relatives of the soldier-men in arranging for their soldier's ill allotments. These are in the hundreds, she said.

"Only last Sunday," Miss White said, "there came to my attention a particularly pitiful case, one of the many. From Camp Rucker, Ala., came word that the son of a man who lives on the head of Branham's Creek was critically ill and that his parents' presence might help, since the soldier had refused to eat. His head was aching, and he was about five miles from the highway, and so a man had to ride a horse to the home to get his pocket. His needs were evident. He came here after wading through water and mud almost to his knees. He had one scant piece of food in his pocket. His needs were evident. But they were immediately filled. He was supplied a complete outfit, except shoes and handkerchiefs and a pocketbook. The Red Cross bought for him a round-trip ticket and gave him $15 extra. A Camp Rucker man will meet by the train and lead director. The man's condition, his anxiety over his

Final Report Asks Raise in Salary of Floyd Jailer

The grand jury of the Floyd circuit court filed its final report to the county board of commissioners, Tuesday, last week, after returning 37 true bills in two sessions, which totaled nine days. Eighty-six witnesses were questioned.

Commenting on the apparent decline of crime in this county, the report signed by J. W. Hayes, foreman, attributed the decreased number of felonies to the following: that a large number of citizens are absent from the county in the armed forces and in defense work, and that officers are diligent in their efforts to enforce the law and public buildings, the jury reported that it found them to be well kept and recommended that jailer Guy Horn's $20-a-month salary for caring for the public buildings be increased to $75.

To be eligible for such a contract, the teacher must have taught the last four successive years in the Floyd county public system and must possess a standard of college certificate. Mr. Hall said.

Approximately 75 Floyd teachers are eligible for continuing contracts. The Board of Education of G. C. Spradlin as treasurer of the Floyd County Board of Education, Wesley Campbell, of the First National Bank, was named to succeed him.

Consolidated school tax levies for the next year were adopted, remaining unchanged from 1942 except in the Drift and Maxey districts. Drift's 25-cent levy to retire outstanding bonds was dropped, since the bonds have been paid and Maxey's rate was dropped from 50c to 40c.

CLOSING ORDER FOR TAVERNS IS UPHHELD

Judge Says Regulation 'Will Be Enforced To the Letter'

The roadside closing order will be enforced to the letter, County Judge E. P. Hill, Jr., declared after learning that the Court of Appeals had upheld his right to fix the hours during which Floyd county roadhouses outside municipal limits may operate.

The appellate court's decision was handed down Friday by Chief Justice Will H. Fulton, with the whole court sitting.

As a consequence, 30 days after issuance of the court's opinion, no roadhouse in the county outside a municipality may operate during week-days later than 8 p.m., and on Sundays and all County Attorney W. W. Burchett said.

The order entered by County Judge Hill early last April was attacked a week later by a suit filed in the Floyd circuit court by J. B. Ratliff, Lancer roadhouse operator, who sought an injunction to restrain Judge Hill from making his order effective. The injunction was denied last June by Circuit Judge Henry Stephens, Jr.

Ratliff's petition contended that the law empowering County Judges to fix closing hours for roadhouses outside corporate limits of a town is unconstitutional. He also contended to fix the closing hours for those inside such municipalities "amounted to a tax levied on the citizens."

The Court of Appeals opinion decided, however, that classification

The roadside closing order will be enforced to the letter, County Judge E. P. Hill, Jr., declared after learning that the Court of Appeals had upheld his right to fix the hours during which Floyd county roadhouses outside municipal limits may operate.

To the Voters Of The Thirteenth Senatorial District:

I have been asked by many Democratic precinct committeemen and many others influential in our party to make the race for State Senator from this district.

In obedience to their wishes and with deep appreciation for this evidence of friendship, I now announce my candidacy for Senator at the August primary.

Sincerely, DOUGLAS HAYS FOR REPRESENTATIVE I am a candidate for re-election as Representative from the 97th Legislative district.

'Rupp 'n' Ready' Is Net Coach At University of Kentucky

The most hated college basketball coach in Dixie is expected to be that—the University of Kentucky's Adolph Frederick Rupp, says Jimmy Jones of the Louisville Courier-Journal in his article, 'HE'S RUPP AND READY,' in the February issue of Esquire. Rupp, better known as 'The Baron,' publicizes Kentucky's team with the help of hecklers. Since coming out of Kansas 12 years ago he has won a large and enthusiastic following of enemies who call him the 'Human Loud Speaker.' During this time, his boys have piled up 199 victories against 49 losses while meeting the best competition all over the country. They have won six Southeastern conference titles in the last 10 years, and were the first team from the South to play in Madison Square Garden. Three times they have represented the South in the North-South Bowl game, and last March they trimmed Illinois' Big Ten champions in the Eastern NCAA play-offs at New Orleans.

A GOOD WORD —IN BAD COMPANY—

Here is another word which is closely connected with the word 'zeal.' It means ardent in promoting some cause. In speaking of Jesus, Alexander White has said, 'His holy zeal and his love impelled him all through his life, and the same ruthless passion was his greatest strength.'

Turn with me to Matthew 7:21. 'Not every one that saith unto me, Lord, Lord, shall enter into the kingdom of heaven; but he that doeth the will of my Father which is in heaven.' Believe, but there is something to be done. We bear his name; we represent his life in the world and we are supposed to personify his teachings.

SHIKE'S POKES

The views expressed herein are those of the writer and not necessarily those of this newspaper.—Editor There's a story going the rounds up here on Jay Silver. I won't touch for it but it sounds real. It seems that a Jay, off on a trip across the States, was asked to 'say all ahoy' to the people who crowded and offered to keep Jay if he would keep with the colored 'broad' home. Jay answered, 'I've seen as he was asleep, some of the fellow blarneyed his face. Jay was up before daylight and off down the road. Just a short distance from town, he took out a pocket mirror to see how he looked; and, seeing the black face exclaimed, 'Now, I'll go on back here, you boys have waked up the wrong fellow!'

attention to themselves, command respect in crowds, and regardless of whether or not this is Rupp's natural characteristic or whether he puts it on as a profitable stage presence, he always has to 'take it' on the case floor. He's willing to take his barbs, though, since it stimulates enthusiasm for his team. To basketball fans, Rupp is a sort of human volcano going around spouting verbiage, and naturally they have to leave their firetraps on cold winter nights to go out and boo him.

In the past, points out ESQUIRE, the teams simply came and filled their engagements with ten o'clock. The papers dutifully carried an advance story and perhaps a one-column cut. The coaches exchanged polite greetings and then went about all. But the man in the brown suit changed all that. Now, when The Baron brings his boys to town, there is no mistaking that something prodigious is in the offing. The papers for weeks have been writing about him, and the fans and village archers have been thinking up choice invectives to hurl.

Concludes Jimmy Jones, 'Take good material, good conditioning, and add the psychology and gab of a natural-born showman, and you have the secret of basketball's rise to glory at the University of Kentucky. The Baron has proved by demonstrating that he is a man making his name can flower and thrive on controversy.'

from that standpoint, but if Christ had come all the way to Galilee and died for me I would not boast that I was not enlisted in doing something for him. We do not speak of ministers alone when we speak of Christians and have neglected the members of the church would feel if we should. The dictionary just gives one definition for all who are Christian.

Let us turn now to Luke 5:46. 'Why do you look at me, and do not the things which I say? If Jesus was possessed with a zeal for others and Paul was so possessed with it that his life was burned up in service and his body was so consumed that his head rolled from the executioner's block, the other disciples had great reason for theirings and imprisonments until they had no heart left for anything save Jesus Christ and him crucified—is it a small matter that we should be indifferent? Did you say that was carrying the matter of zeal too far? Is it not a new thing to speak of an absorbing passion consuming the lives of men? Love for living had eaten up the Greek philosophers. Love for power had eaten up Julius Caesar. Love for prestige had eaten up Tullius Cicero; love for liberty had eaten up Cato; and love for pleasure had consumed Mark Antony. It should be no wonder to us that when Paul was consumed by a greater passion than any of these that we should hear him say, 'I live, yet not I, but Christ liveth in me. For me to live is Christ and to die is gain.' Put this over against a purely intellectual conception of Christianity, and you see what a difference.

'TO BE AS THE MASTER IS TO CATCH THE MASTER'S ZEAL,' traditions tells us that Peter was so carried as his Lord, that when he came for him to go to the cross, Peter asked that he be crucified head downward, for he did not feel himself worthy to be crucified like his Lord. This kind of zeal may burn out life and the individual may be consumed, but to lose life is to lose it.

Norman Allen's and two days later one arrived at Commonwealth Attorney John Allen's. Someone should figure out how to make a bread knife out of a can opener. A firm chin is useless without a stiff upper lip. The Axe-wielding Senators can now stop mauling out their ball. No one ever bothers to read it. F. D. R. should have taken ole yellow Lindy on that hop to Europe. It would have suited me if F. D. R. had taken King Wheeler, Taft and that few-brained Hoffman to Africa and left them. They are just a detriment to our way of life. About all John Horn can find to argue about now is the Roosevelt administration. Personally, I think he's all wet, for he's gained 37 pounds since F. D. R. has been President and he's switched from 'Hoover Dust.' Kel had to turn in from Prestonsburg early Saturday—another mule in his stall. Fred Cochran, the 'whole show' at the Club Rustique.

Rationing To Mean Fair Distribution

With food rationing to start some time in February, so that everyone will get his fair share, folks are wondering just what the food situation is. Home economists at the Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics have this to say: 'There will be an ample supply of cereals for people at home as well as for lend-lease use, even though the crop this year will be short. The supply of fats and oils is not as large as last year, but larger than in pre-war years. Sugar supplies will be smaller, than last year because of transportation difficulties. More sweet potatoes and dried beans are in prospect for use because of a big carry-over. Should the white potato crop be only average, there will be greater potatoes available than last year. The supply of fruits and vegetables will depend on weather, labor and transportation. There will be more home canning than ever before. Gardeners will be urged to plant vegetables with the most food value. Poultry and egg production will be increased, but so will overseas shipments, hence there will be less for home consumption. Meat supplies will be smaller. Meat will be rationed so that everyone will get his fair share. It is expected that the total supply of milk will be the same, but civilians will probably get less because of large shipments being sent overseas.'

1942 Game Kill Reports Needed To Get 1943 Ammunition Supply

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 28 (Sp.)—An urgent plea was sent out today to all Kentucky hunters by S. A. Wakefield, director of the Division of Game and Fish, to get their 1942 game kill reports in to the Division as soon as possible in order that this information may be forwarded to the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service in Chicago as a basis for figuring the amount of ammunition that should be released for Kentucky hunters for the 1943 hunting season.

Wakefield stated that he had received a communication from the Fish and Wildlife Service requesting such information immediately so that this organization could present figures to proper authorities to prove that wild game killed in Kentucky and used as a table meat is essential to the all-out war effort and justifies the release of ammunition to hunters for the 1943 hunting season.

Requests have been made already by the Division of Game and Fish a number of times in practically every newspaper in the state for these game kill reports, but to date the response has been very weak. Wakefield said: 'On the back of each hunting license is a form to be filled out. State the number of each species of game killed during the season and mail the license at once to Frankfort, in care of the Division of Game and Fish. In Letcher county, W. H. Gibson has a three-acre field of alfalfa which he cut four times, getting approximately five tons per acre.'

'Erwähnen Sie nichts von Amerikanischen Eisenbahnen zum Führer!' GEN'L VON BLITZ: Don't mention American railroads to the Führer! He has been hearing reports on their wartime performance. This is frantic. The last rug in the War Ministry he has totally chewed up! UNCLE SAM: Ugham!, it breaks our heart to think your boss guessed wrong again. Remember he said that private enterprises like railroads in 'Meccadent' America would think only of business as usual? Does he know now that right after Pearl Harbor, all railroads - like a nationwide machine - swung into the biggest mass-transportation job the world ever saw? GEN'L VON BLITZ: Please! Don't speak of UNCLE SAM: But your Führer ought to know. Tell him that in 1942 our railroads rolled up some 440,000,000 ton-miles of wartime freight - one-and-a-half times the volume carried in 1918! Remind him that much of this freight was for civilians - keeping them the best-fed, best-housed, best-clothed nation in the world! Tell him that, since Pearl Harbor, more than 11,000,000 railroad trips were made by soldiers moving in organized groups - not counting men under individual orders or on furlough. And vastly increased civilian travel was handled at the same time. Tell him that when his U-boats were sinking coastwise shipping, the railroads pitched in and delivered more than 18,000,000 tons of coal to New England. GEN'L VON BLITZ: Please! Such figures - they give spells by the Führer! UNCLE SAM: So sorry! But tell him if he's still around at the end of 1943, he'll hear a story of American railroad performance that will twist him like a pretzel. Along with our fighting men, our railroad men are all-out for victory. And they're not faint! CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO LINES ONE OF AMERICA'S RAILROADS - All Mobilized for War AVOID UNNECESSARY TRAVEL... THE TRUTH ABOUT THE BIG SANDY BUS STRIKE

Last April a contract was signed between Kentucky-Virginia Stages and Transport Workers Union, Local 214, C.I.O. This contract, which does not expire until April 16, 1943, expressly provides that disputes between Company and Union shall be settled by arbitration and NOT BY STRIKE. The arbitration clause in the contract is in the exact words proposed by the Union itself.

A dispute now exists between Union and Company over a single issue and no other. Union contends that one of Company's recent employees, who wants to become a member of the Union, and--since last November--has tried repeatedly to join, is "undesirable" and has rejected this employee without any opportunity to be heard or even to know the grounds for rejection. Company does not believe that any reasonable grounds exist for denying membership to this employee, BUT COMPANY IS WILLING AND HAS CONSTANTLY URGED THE UNION TO ARBITRATE THIS ISSUE, according to its written agreement so to do. UNION REFUSES TO ARBITRATE. It refuses to tell either the Company or this employee WHY this employee is regarded as "undesirable" and has been rejected. INSTEAD, THE UNION HAS GONE ON A STRIKE. The strike is in violation of the terms of the strikers' own contract. The strike is wholly contrary to the principle now being solemnly urged by the War Labor Board and the President of the United States that wartime strikes gravely endanger the safety of our soldiers and seriously impair the ability of our Government to crush the forces of foreign aggression.

The Company deplores this absolutely unwarranted, indefensible and unpatriotic action on the part of the Union, which can only result in great inconvenience and injury to its patrons and irreparable damage to the War effort. The Company still is, and always has been, entirely willing to observe to the letter all of the terms and provisions of the contract now in force between it and Transport Workers Union, Local 214, C. I. O.

Farmers Prepare To Produce All Food Needed

Better management and the use of more machinery will enable Kentucky farmers to make all the increases in production wanted this year, says Dr. Roy E. Proctor, of the State College of Agriculture and Home Economics.

DO YOU WANT A BABY?

Nothing equals a baby to bring complete unity and happiness into the home and its husband and wife together in a stronger bond of enduring love and mutual interest. Divorce is now in the homes of couples that have children.

Unhappy wives, children due to relievable functional weakness may now enjoy the dexterity and activity of Nature's most wonderful creation—a normal, fully-developed, vigorous woman. A sensational new vitamin treatment specifically for women may be just the thing needed by the childless wife and quickly bring the happiness of a baby in the home. It is, of course, absolutely harmless.

February is the best time to sow bluegrass on lawns. If they were not seeded in September, says Prof. N. R. Elliott of the Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics. Select a time when the ground is covered with a light snow or is hour-cumbed by freezing, he advises. Use only good re-cleaned seed for sowing at this time as seed in the chute may be killed by freezing before it is covered with soil. If the soil is reasonably good, sowing one to two pounds of seed on 1,000 square feet of surface. Bare spots or poor soil should have two or three times that much.

It will be better to wait until after the middle of March to sow the white Dutch clover seed on the lawn, as this seed germinates in a few days and the young plants are easily killed by freezing. The white clover seed is much heavier than bluegrass and therefore must be sown separately; also a very small amount of this seed will be needed, three or four ounces per 1,000 square feet of surface. In order to get an even distribution of this small amount it can be mixed with a pint of dry soil or sand.

ADVICE TO FIRST AIDERS

DON'T WAIT TILL IT'S A "STRETCHER CASE"

MAKING your electrical appliances last for the duration is one more way of helping on the Home Front. Electrical helps were never more important. Time and labor-saving, they march to work at the twist of a wrist—invaluable aids to homemakers pressed for time by the demands of serving their country in all sorts of war effort while keeping the Home Fires burning, too. Among the lessons Wartimes teach us is that of how important just a little extra care may be—with an electric appliance it may mean only a drop of oil in the right spot at the right time—a frayed cord replaced before it causes a short circuit, or a blown-out fuse—a tightened screw—to keep an appliance working—these thoughtful precautions are more precious than pearls, in Wartimes. Treat your Electric Appliances with respect.

- DO'S AND DON'TS FOR APPLIANCE CORDS 1. Take a firm grip on the plug and pull gently when disconnecting. 2. Keep cords free from grease and moisture. 3. Don't let them get "kinked". 4. Never travel on worn cords repaired at once.

Drive in frequently and have your car inspected, no matter what make it is. If adjustments or repairs on your car seem necessary, you'll be given a check list of what needs to be done—and, usually, the Studebaker dealer can provide you with an exact cost estimate in advance. Don't wait until your car starts giving you trouble. Have it checked regularly at any Studebaker dealer's and keep it rolling for victory.
