A MOMENTOUS MATTER

Apparently enough, this was written on Feb. 2. Now, we are back to work. It is—yes—in fact, here.

Dear Editor:

I would be glad to see your issue but I am a despondent man. I have been plunked from piles 2, 3 and 4. I am a boat 2. I am in a bad way. I am a boat 2. I am in a bad way. I am a boat 2. I am in a bad way.

These latest letters in my file are from Perry, dated 2 March. I am a boat 2. I am in a bad way. I am a boat 2. I am in a bad way. I am a boat 2. I am in a bad way.

It is off, he sounded like a 200 lb. man. I am a boat 2. I am in a bad way. I am a boat 2. I am in a bad way. I am a boat 2. I am in a bad way.

Well, sir, I had my share of hard work. I am a boat 2. I am in a bad way. I am a boat 2. I am in a bad way. I am a boat 2. I am in a bad way.

PS: Who was that old man? I am a boat 2. I am in a bad way. I am a boat 2. I am in a bad way. I am a boat 2. I am in a bad way.

He is also known as the University Radio Table program on the radio. He has written several books, traveled in three continents and has spoken in 47 of the states of the union. 6760 RECEIVE OVER $10,000
Social Security Pay In County Monthly. Is Year-End Report
Seven hundred sixty persons in this county are receiving $10,557.70 in the $77,552.66 being paid each month in the Ashland area of 14 counties in federal insurance benefits. Sprague J. Godbey, manager of the Social Security Administration's area office, said recently.
Benefits are being paid to 378 people in the 13 counties by the federal system of old-age and survivors insurance. These figures are for December 31, 1946 as disclosed in a report for the end of the year of these social security beneficiaries.
Twenty-two per cent are retired workers, aged 65 or more, who numbered 149 in December. Their payments totaling $20,303.03 a month. The remainder includes wives over 65 or widows of insured workers who have died.
The number of persons in each group who are receiving social security benefits in the Ashland area at the total of the monthly payments:
Retired workers, $50, monthly payments, $2,322.82; widows, 235; monthly payments, $2,939.09; widows over 65, 94; monthly payments, $1,121.82; widows with children, 2,119; monthly payments, $23,958.87; aged dependent parents, 15; monthly payments, $175.84.
In addition to these monthly insurance payments, a total of $21,013.86 was paid during the year in lumpsum benefits.
With the announcement of these figures, Mr. Godbey pointed out that it is advisable for workers of 65 or more to call or write the Social Security office at the Federal National Bank Building, Ashland, Ky., for information whether or not they are still working or a worker and planning to retire. He added, it may be to his advantage to file an application for Social Security benefits under a procedure that has been arranged to prevent possible loss of benefit payments.
Survivors of deceased of World War II, who have died after discharge in the armed forces, were also urged to get in touch with the Social Security office regarding possible benefits under the new "Veteran's Amendment" to the Social Security Act. "Claims under this amendment filed on or before Feb. 15, 1947, may be paid retroactively for more than three months," Mr. Godbey said.
A Social Security representative is at the Prestonsburg postoffice the second and fourth Tuesdays of each month.

Legislative Victory
Of Pikeville Dentist
Did Not End Troubles
Grover Cleveland Bentley's right to practice dentistry still is questioned, although a resolution was adopted at the last session of the General Assembly authorizing him to legal practice.
State Senator Douglas Hays, of this county, led the fight in the Senate to have Bentley's name on the list of dentists in the State. Bentley's name had been denied the right to practice his profession because Bentley's quarrel with a professor of the Louisville College of Dentistry 35 years ago prevented him from being graduated with his class.
Now it develops that Bentley has been practicing and that other dentists have objected. The Legislature directed the State Dental Board to issue Bentley's license. The Board declined to do so.
A student case from Danville is held to a general but not a relative veto. The board has notified the State of Kentucky. On the other hand, Bentley's name is on the list of dentists in the State.
Attorney General Duhamel informed Pike County Attorney P. P. Kuske last week.

THOMAS ALVA EDISON
THE historic importance of Edison's birth 100 years ago in February, 1847, at Milan, Ohio, can be measured in terms of the enormous influence of electric light and power upon the world. He is generally thought of because of his invention of electric light, seldom for his dynamo which made possible modern electric power distribution.
Several years before his death, he expressed his satisfaction with the electrical industry and the "magnificent proportions which electrical development has attained... of his vision, courage, zeal and devotion to public service."
Of government incursions into competition with business-managed electric companies, he said: "There is far more danger in public monopoly than there is in private monopoly, for when the Government goes into business it can always shift its losses to the taxpayers. If it goes into the power business it can pretend to sell cheap power and then cover up its losses."

There's EXTRA SAFETY in the Tire that
OUTWEARS PREWAR TIRES
While many prewar products are still in the dream stage, one is not... the new prewar B.F. Goodrich Silvertown that OUTWEARS PREWAR TIRES.
It's been produced... and what is more... in the past twelve months 2 1/2 million dollars worth of tires to car owners in greater quantities than any tire in B.F. Goodrich history.
Of course, many car owners have heard about the thousands of extra miles of service from the broader, flatter tread that covers more road area and gives greater protection against skidding. They know about the 37% stronger cord body that gives better resistance to road shocks and bruising. It's no wonder the factory's outstanding production has been taxed keeping up with this extra demand.
But this is one product you can take out of your dream book... it's here! If you'll be needing new tires soon... check with us, today for the tire that's worth much more but costs no more—the B.F. Goodrich Silvertown that OUTWEARS PREWAR TIRES.

TELL THE CHILDREN BETTER

MANY—we might say, most—of the section's customs we cherish and would preserve, but there is one we would abolish like snuffing out a candle, if we could.

That is the crude, heathenish custom of celebrating Christmas to the roar of fireworks and gunfire.

Don't you think this is a bit of paganism that should go? True, the youngsters thrill to the noise of a giant cracker going boom, and we would not make the children unhappy. But don't you think there should be taught that Christmas, if anything, is not that sort of occasion? If you have a yen for fireworks, why not make the carol scream on the Fourth of July by lighting a fuse? Or even the New Year would be more appropriate for celebration of this sort than Christmas, the day which marks the birth of Christ.

In other places the noise-makers are trotted out for the Glorious Fourth; the New Year comes in to the accompaniment of noise-making devices. But not Christmas.

In Prestonsburg and Floyd county, the reverse is the story. July 4 sees a huge crowd here from all parts of the county; sometimes, the day is celebrated. But no fireworks.

But let Christmas draw within a tooth here. Boom, boom? Children may sing "Silent Night" and the devout may turn their thoughts centuries back to the holy quiet of a stable in Bethlehem where lay the newborn King—but gentle carols and religious thinking cannot compete with the ungodly noises of the merry-makers, young and old.

Fireworks for many of us are no longer known as such—they are "Christmas crackers."

Let us change their name. Tell the children better, please.

And let those who sell fireworks, particularly the noise-making varieties, sell them after Christmas for New Year's and Independence Day celebrations.

'Keeping Up with the Joneses'

THE vain business of "keeping up with the Joneses" has been panned by everybody from the most talented cartoonist and writer to the oneriest husband in the land with an ambitious wife; yet, this envy of the social or economic pacemaker sometimes serves the useful purpose of spurring the sluggard from the comforts of the shade to his place in the sun.

In this editorial THE TIMES is guilty of a bit of urging on this community its duty to keep up with its neighbors. Thirty miles to the south of us, Pikeville has set a pace that will sorely try us if we are to keep near. That community has already voted a bond issue of $150,000 as its part of the financing plan whereby it will gain a Class III airport at a total cost of $988,546.

Pikeville has taken the initiative and thus gained the benefit of federal funds which match the total of local moneys to be expended. The money it has voted for the project does not constitute a community indebtedness, either. The bonds are enabling bonds and the airport project itself stands solely responsible for the redemption. That is wherein Pikeville is far ahead as one of 12 Kentucky cities to be allocated federal funds for pioneering in the new air age.

Years from now, the need for this civic improvement and investment against the future will become apparent. Time was when good roads were as little valued, a matter so infinitesimally small in the distance as men looked only with their eyes and called not upon the "mind's eye," the imagination, that only a few earnestly gave it either thought or effort. But good roads became a positive necessity. One day, adequate airports will be a necessity for any community wanting or expecting to remain alive as an economic factor in the scheme of things. Given time, we all know this to be true.

Meanwhile, Pikeville and other more ambitious towns will be in the ground floor. Air travel and trade in these towns will have already been developed to the benefit of these places. And we shall have to start, late, and slowly, and edge forward, inch by inch, trying to catch up, trying to find our place in the sun after having belatedly left the blissful coolness of the shade.

Moreover, when that day comes that sees us up and stirring, it may be that a benevolent government will not be spending money helping communities to build airports.

Indeed, if we are to keep up with our neighbors, further sleeping on the matter will help us not at all.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

WET AND DRY

A King had just received his kingdom when two visitors appeared. He invited one of them to come in and asked him his business and the man answered as follows: "O, king, live forever! You and I know that it will take a great deal of money to run your kingdom and I am prepared to furnish you a good portion of it for the privilege of selling your people whiskey."

"Well," said the king, "isn't that an evil thing to have in the country?" "It may be that it is," said the visitor, "but you cannot help yourself. There is nothing you can do to think will prevent people from selling it. All through the ages governments have been trying to stop the sale of it, only to find in the end that the best thing you can do is to get all you can out of it by granting a license to sell it in a legal and decent business license to sell it."

"I will have to study this matter awhile before giving you an answer," said the king, "and in the meantime go in the other room and sit down while I see the other visitor." The second man was called in and was also asked his business. He said: "O, king, live forever! We all know that it will take a great deal of money to run your government, so I am prepared to furnish a good portion of it for the privilege of taking my pistol and holding people up and taking their money."

"But," answered the king, "is that not a great evil to have in the country?" "It may be," said the man, "but no government has ever been able to stop it, so why not be sensible and get all you can out of it to run the government?"

"I believe," said the king, "that justice is the better of the first man's, for it is better to take a man's money and give him nothing than to give him whiskey in exchange for it. But I will have to study it over, so go in there and sit down until I see the first man again."

The first man was called in and he began by saying: "I hope you will take a sensible view of this matter and, since the selling of whiskey cannot be stopped, that you will do the next best thing and let me have a license to sell it for 12 months and I am ready to count you out $8,000 for this privilege."

"Count out the money," said the king. "So he counted the money and received his license and then the king remarked: "You have convinced me that I can do nothing to stop the sale of whiskey, so I shall not try. As it would be a waste of money."

"Why did you say," said the man, "you are not going to try to stop the sale?" "I shall expect you to enforce the law against all unlawful sellers in order to protect the lawful ones."

"Have you changed your mind?" asked the king. "Just a few minutes ago, I could not stop the sale of whiskey and now I can. If you have changed your mind, so have I. If I can stop the sale of whiskey for your sake, I can stop it for the country's sake. Here is $8,000 money back and most of you wouldn't get out of here and if I ever hear of either one of you plying your trade in my kingdom you will find out about enforcing the law."

Mack Lewis Denies He Killed His Wife

To the People of Floyd County: I want to explain the facts concerning the death of my wife. As you all know, I am now serving a life sentence in the state reformatory for the murder of my wife, not guilty, of killing my wife.

God in heaven above knows that I am not guilty of that. The angels in heaven are as guilty as I am or any one else. She shot and killed me first. It was the only thing she did in these courts but when God gives me a trial He sure won't have that charge against me. That's one thing He won't have before against me. I know now and before this awful thing happened that I was doing wrong and going places where I shouldn't have been going and doing.

But if I was the only man in Floyd county that was doing that, I could not have been tried enough for me. The other people did that. Place them on the witness stand before their wives and judge ask them if they are guilty. Nine-nine per cent will say no. There are only two classes of people—the caught and the uncaught. I am the caught, the uncaught are the other class.

My wife, 14 years old, stated before the court that she saw her shot herself, holding the pistol in her right hand and pulling the trigger with her left thumb. Why should this be against her? She ever had the pistol before? She ever had the truth. If I had done this, a life sentence would have been enough. They ought to have killed me. But I am not guilty. I offered to take the court to give me a trial and all my witnesses before the lie detector and they did not. I offered for them to take a parading test to see if I had shot a pistol in the last 80 hours but they didn't do that.

I have seven children from the age of eight months to 12 years old. Where now? On the hands of my poor old mother who is 65 years old, who is neither physically nor financially able to half care for them. But a mother's love for her children and grandchildren—so long as they can stand on their feet they will do for them.

I am trusting in God that He will provide my mother with strength to help them, and that they will become law-abiding, true, honest and reliable dependables. There is one thing I want to thank our county for doing for me and that is strict law enforcement. I think it is the best we ever had in Floyd county. And while I am out these long years I sincerely hope that this good law enforcement will continue, as I know it will be a great protection for my little children. Many, many times can happen I feel unjustly, though it is not.

But I don't get justice. I think that they, some day, will finally find out different. On Judgment Day, I hope some of the court is by when I am judged. These mighty things have happened to several families and it happened to me. I sure didn't do the crime. All of the people can be fooled part of the time, but all the people can't be fooled all the time. They will find out some day.

Mystery of the Rocking Chair

Ma Hoskins has a favorite rocking chair that's worn and shabby, with a waxy crack. Pa Hoskins has listened to that squeak for thirty years . . . and he decided to do something about it. So he bought a new rocker, and hid the other in the barn.

Ma allowed as how grateful she was . . . but when Pa missed her one afternoon, he heard a familiar sound that led him to the barn. There was Ma rocking happily in her old chair—squeak . . . squeak. No need to tell you how Pa felt.

Quick as a wink he hid the new rocker and then brought Ma's old chair back to the house. Now when he hears that squeak, he looks at the mellow glass of beer he's drinking and says to himself: "She's just as satisfied to hear her old pleasures as I am."

From where it is, that's one of the reasons the Hoskinses are the happiest, oldest-married, peace-fullest folks in our town.

RESOLUTION

Whereas, the practice of open betting or remarks pertaining thereto, and the display of money therefor, is becoming very prevalent at all of our sports events and at our high school basketball games in particular, and

Whereas, such a practice, in our candid judgment, seems subversive to the real objectives of competitive school sports and contrary to the principles that our public schools are expected to teach, and

Whereas, to attempt to do nothing to correct this growing practice would in no small measure be a mark of discredit to our schools,

Be it therefore resolved: (1) That all the schools of the county through their principals and coaches and other important officials hereby express disfavor of such continued practices; (2) That we appeal to the public for its co-operation in this important matter; (3) That the public shall not misconstrue our real intentions as interfering upon its private liberties; (4) We do appreciate the patronage and the approval co-operation of entire public gives our athletic program and we do respect the private rights of individuals; (5) That the text of this resolution be caused to be published through The Floyd County Times and a copy of same be posted at all times in each place where our sports events are conducted; and, finally (6) If there should be continued, pronounced disregard of this appeal, legal resort shall be used to eliminate such practice.

Pike Invalid Dies Of Gunshot Wound

Curtis Albert Huffman, 39 years old, former truck driver, died at the Methodist hospital, Pikeville, early Friday night, seven hours after he had suffered a gunshot wound. Authorities could not determine if the shot was accidentally fired or if Huffman's death was a suicide. He had been an invalid since September, 1944 when he suffered a spinal injury and a crash. Huffman was driving a coal truck he was driving. The death weapon, a shotgun, had been sold, two days before the tragedy, by his mother but the purchaser had not claimed it. Mrs. Huffman, it was said, had told her son to clean the gun and have it ready for the buyer. He was alone at his home when the shot was fired. Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Louise Potter Huffman, a daughter, Miss Christina Huffman, and his mother, Mrs. Ida Akers Huffman. Burial in Chiles Creek cemetery was directed by the Baker & Preston Funeral Home.

A man whose name was given as Ed Gabbard, of Hindman, is in the Knott county jail at Hindman, charged with the rape of a 15-year-old girl Sunday night. He was arrested at Jenkins Tuesday night by Sgt. Curtis Hall and Patrolman Ben Felner, of the Kentucky Highway Patrol. A report received here Wednesday afternoon said he took the girl in his auto to a point approximately three miles above Hindman, where the crime allegedly was committed. Both he and the girl were questioned Wednesday afternoon by Commonwealth's Attorney John Chris Corneat.

Mr. John L. Lewis, UMW of a Building, Washington, D. C. Greetings: With the war over and unemployment growing larger every day, the rank and file of our union wishes to inform you that it no longer approves the nine-hour day and six-day week. War Dead To Begin Return Home in August

The Army Quartermaster Corps has set next August as the tentative month for the return of overseas war dead for whom next of kin have requested burial in this country.

Men who died in the Pearl Harbor attack and numerous others now resting in seven cemeteries in Hawaii will reach San Francisco about Aug. 15. First from Europe, buried in the Henri Chappel cemetery in Belgium, should arrive in New York about Aug. 25.

Maj. Gen. T. B. Larkin, Quartermaster General, estimated about 80 per cent of recovered bodies will be brought back for final burial at the request of next of kin. The remaining 20 per cent will be left permanently in cemeteries of battlefields where they died.

More than just a taste of good water brought L. B. Hall back to his old stamping grounds at Blue Moon, on Mud Creek. He had a fine farm in Indiana, he made money there. But he wanted Kentucky. Floyd county, Mud Creek, Kentucky. And he's nothing loath to tell you just why it was.

"Why," said Mr. Hall on a visit to THE TIMES office last Friday, "I got so homesick I could no longer sit at night and see every person I'd known and I'd lie there and wonder what they were doing back home. I made two trips back during the two years and a half I was there and when I got to talking about another trip my wife said I might as well come and stay. Was I glad to hear that!

"Well, I had a good farm, could drive a tractor all over, had a nice tobacco base, raised fine corn crops, was close to good markets, school bus passed our door, everything was handy. But it wasn't Floyd county.

"Why, if you went to see a neighbor about a truck here, see me after 7. To buy to look up, much less sit down and chew and whistle over the bargain like we do back here. I tell you, those fellows have the plant-section humps. And if one of 'em comes to your place, he comes around to the back door and knocks, tells you his business and sets out right away. I couldn't get used to that. I was always used to going up to the front door and waiting right in and setting down and maybe have dinner with my neighbors before rushing home. With those people it was too much business. No jokin', no bragging on your own or belittling the other fellow's property or taking his car. Why, if you made a good trade with one of them, you wouldn't get any kick out of it.

"You could go into Fekling on the Fourth of July and it had everything you could ride airplanes all day if you wanted to and they did everything you would want to do to have fun. But were those fellows any fun? No, sir, just going about it like it was a business deal. No fun at all. We can have more fun at a beer-drinking than they can with a circus.

"No, I tell you, everything was too serious for me. They're nice folks and all that, but they're just different. And I like our way better.

"It's make a long story short, boys, there's nothing like showing out of that branch to the highway to go to Prestonsburg or Whitesville."

You can tell by the guy's high spot humor he's finding Floyd county just like he dreamed of it, out in Indiana.

War Wound Renders Operation Necessary

Jailer Everett Collins submitted Monday to an operation at Camp Lee War station hospital in which three inches of bone from his right leg were removed. Collins, who was amputated during the war by German army surgeons after he had been wounded by a shell which burst over his tank. This first operation was performed while he was a prisoner of war and was followed here recently by an amputation of another leg.

Welfare Fund Delay Results in Picket Lines at 9 Mines

Nine truck mines in the Mud Creek section were besieged by picket lines Monday morning as members of the United Mine Workers demanded payment of the welfare fund provided in the coal contract from June 1, 1945.

The companies operating the mines have not paid into the U.M.W. welfare fund, miners said. Cars were parked across entrances to tunnels where coal trucks are loaded and workers announced they do not intend to return to work until payment is made, according to a report received here.

Mines affected employ an average of 15 men each.

At Wayland, Elk Horn Coal Corporation miners returned to work Monday after a four-day lay-off resulting from discharge of a miner after he and a foreman had fought.

10,638 in P'burg Area Draw Jobless Benefits In Last Month of Year

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 11 (Sp.)—Jobless benefit claimants in the state collected $5,357,426 during the month of January, the Kentucky Unemployment Compensation Commission reported today, and added that $170,398 of this amount went to unemployed veterans. Total payments were up $66,099 over the December figure of $4,282,327 and veterans collected in January $19,785 more than the $3,850,521 they received in December.

During January the commission wrote a total of 258,241 checks, of which 27,198 went to veterans, and 41,938 to state claimants. In December the total number of checks written was 264,559, with 170,274 of these going to veterans and 34,283 to other claimants.

Prestonsburg area figures for the month are: State claims, 858; interstate claims, 891; veterans' claims, 9,068.

While claims of veterans for benefits declined in January and payment totals increased, commission officials explained this was due to a lag in payments, adding that much of the money shown as paid out in the January report was paid on claims filed in December.

The break-down in veterans' payments included unemployed veterans drawing $4,212,963 in January, with self-employed veterans receiving $57,463.

State claims for the month of January totaled 44,830; interstate claims 19,567, and veterans' claims 25,811, for an overall total of 242,898 claims.
