Another "Hard" Law Is Needed

KENTUCKY legislators at the last session of the General Assembly got tough and enacted a pistol law that is making the six-shooter an unpopular part of our accoutrements. With courts cracking down on violators of this law, there will be fewer pistols to crack.

Now, it becomes apparent that the Legislature, while about it, should have made another offense punishable by penitentiary sentence, also. "Drunk driving" can be made an unpopular sport, too, with that sort of penalty.

The usual fine of $100—it could be more but rarely, if ever, is—and suspension of driving permit for a six-month period doesn't quite hit hard enough. A sentence that can't be paid by reaching for the wallet must be provided for those who, dazed or crazed by drink, drive at the risk of their own lives and of all of those whom they meet.

A mere pistol, with its six bullets or so, and requiring a rather steady aim, is a harmless weapon alongside the projectile of steel that is an automobile or truck when it careens along a highway or street to strike blindly and with awesome effect.

The drunken driver, in one moment, may kill or maim a dozen. Floyd county has had its horrifying examples. It will furnish more. The death list will grow until the law becomes real lessy exacting of those who, dazed with whiskey and powered by gasoline, are potential killers.

True, this would be a difficult law to enforce. "Good" citizens would be caught. But the life of many the really good citizen would be saved.

WHY GILD THE LILY?

IT IS only natural that the Kentucky Department of Highways cannot avoid mistakes. Road-building is a tremendous job in Kentucky, with so many roads urgently needed. The department cannot be all things to all men, and the impulse to criticize should be more often stifled than exercised.

But some mistakes—boners, shall we say, that work injustices—should be called such. And one such The Times is here calling.

Whatever the circumstances under which the mistake was made, whether the error was of heart or mind, the Department has not only wrought an injustice but also is about to waste precious highway funds in its handling of two roads of this section.

The waste of money is about to be made in re-surfacing of Highway 40 between Paintsville and Salyersville.

The injustice comes from the failure of the Department to surface with money to be wasted on Route 40 the Prestonsburg-Salyersville road, an improvement in the state's highway system that is really needed.

This road linking the county seats of Floyd and Magoffin passes through rich sections of the two counties. In good condition, it would be much more heavily traveled than Route 40, between Paintsville and Salyersville. It would provide a short route for every automobile and truck traveling from that vast area south of Prestonsburg into the Bluegrass and beyond. And that road has only a thin coat of gravel—and that coat full of holes. It is irreversible in dry weather, a great discomfort and an inconsiderable danger to the motorist.

Route 40 between Paintsville and Salyersville, on the other hand, is one of Eastern Kentucky's very best highways. By comparison, the Moxo Trail between Prestonsburg and Paintsville is a farm-to-market road.

Route 40 is a good road. Good weather and bad, it offers all the comfort and safety any road in this section offers.

Then why does the Highway Department propose to re-surface it while doing nothing for an equally important route that, in all justice, already should have had a macadam surface?

To re-surface Route 40 now would be to gild the lily. To neglect longer the Prestonsburg-Salyersville road would be a crime.

Branham's Gunning For Starting Role On Salsbury Staff

"Right in there pitchin'" is a popular expression truly applicable to a Prestonsburg youngster, Ballard Branham, Jr., 19, according to a special dispatch from Salsbury, N. C., where Branham is expected to "make the grade" as a starting pitcher for the Salsbury Braves of the North Carolina league this summer.

The reporter continues: "The likeable 19-year-old youngster from the mountains is dead determined to win the ball in durable service clubs at Newman Park. With the club a short while last year, Branham failed to win a game while losing two but he showed signs last season of having the stuff for a climber and this year he is one of the best prospects in camp just to show that he's planning to do some serious work in a stab for a mound position."

"Ballard is bigger this year, weighing 175 and standing three inches over six feet and he claims the mountain air up in his home land is mighty good for getting a fellow into condition."

While he was in school here he demonstrated that he was not only tall in stature but plenty long on twisting talent. He was a prime factor in helping the Prestonsburg high school Blueczets establish themselves as a power to be reckoned with in state high school baseball circles and made an enviable mound record for himself.

"But right now," says the Salsbury sportswriter, "Branham's over thoughts are centered on making a Pittsburgh Pirate scout sit up and take notice—and like all mountain folks, he'll die tryin'."

Cats Look Better In 2 Departments In Last 2 Games

Prestonsburg high school's Black Cat baseball team won two games handsly last week behind strong hurling by Harmon and Burchett and a heavy batting attack.

They defeated Garrett Tuesday, 9 to 6 and Friday went to Russell to trounce the Red Devils of that school, 10-5. The Russell game was called at the end of the sixth because of rain. The losers made only one hit off Harmon and Burchett, but errors, hit batsmen, bases on balls and the lone Russell hit scored five runs in that last inning. Burchett's clotting featured the Cats' attack.

ed the removal of army-owned machinery from a Garson plant for transfer to another plant and Campbell promised to bring to the attention of the proper authorities.

"As I told you," May was quoted in the transcript, "these fellows are good friends of mine and I'm very kind to me in the past about some things and I want to help them. I'm not asking any favors for them. I just want them to get equal chances."

Col. Henry B. Sheets, retired, now a Buffalo, N. Y., bank vice-president, told of May's request for a "nice big contract" for the Garsons' Illinois munitions enterprises. Sheets was in charge of administration of the 13 regional ordnance districts during the war.

Henry Garson first came to him with May's recommendation, he said, and complained of discriminatory treatment by the Chicago Ordnance District. Sheets told Garson he would have to handle the matter through the district, he said.

"Garson said he was not satisfied and was going to get a contract," Sheets said. "He said if necessary he was going to use his influence with Congressmen—he mentioned Mr. May—said he had plenty of friends. He said I'd be hearing from him."

Sheets heard from May a few days later, he said. He explained to May that the Garson firms were to be given no contract at that time because of the Chicago Ordnance District's unqualified for the work in question. Later he got the records from the Chicago office and went to May's office to discuss the case.

"He said they were fine contractors, able people and hoped they'd give them a nice big contract," the witness said. He quoted May as having told him at a second meeting:

"Now Colonel, you know how those things are. You see they get a nice big contract."

Under cross-examination Sheets recalled that Garson and May had based their complaints on the refusal of the Chicago Ordnance District to put the Garson firms on the eligible list of bidders and that they claimed their plants were lying idle while a severe shortage of artillery ammunition existed. He could not recall having heard a charge that the Chicago office was discriminating against the Garsons because they were Jews.

Col. Herbert R. White, retired, now a Detroit manufacturer, but wartime special assistant to the chief of ordnance, told of receiving other calls from May on behalf of the Garsons. He first gave aid and comfort to the defense with the statement that he received countless calls from other Congressmen about war contracts.

On cross-examination he admitted that May, as chairman of the House Military Affairs Committee, might have interests in war production outside his own state.

"But I don't think he'd have called me—a lowly colonel—on an investigation by the Military Affairs Committee. I thought this was a personal and not a committee affair."

National Ass'n Names Sturgill to Board

One of the six governors elected by the National Sheriff's Association last week in New Orleans, La., was Sheriff Troy B. Sturgill, of Prestonsburg. The board of governors acts as a national executive committee.

Sheriff Sturgill is now serving his second term as president of the Kentucky Sheriff's Association. He and Mrs. Sturgill returned Monday from New Orleans.

of Brown, and Mrs. Carmody told the grand jury that when the shots were fired they turned to see Brown with the revolver in his hand.

Mrs. Carmody told Coroner Callahan that the victim had been noisy all night but that she could not say he had tried to start a fight.

A warrant was issued this week for John Carmody charging him with operating a roadhouse without license and with failing to observe the 3 o'clock closing hour.

A concealed deadly weapon charge also was filed against Brown by the grand jury.

The victim, an overseas veteran, received his army discharge April 17. He was a son of the late Roy Sutton and of Mrs. Bertha Layne Sutton Hall, of Tram. His mother, a brother and one sister survive. Funeral rites were conducted Sunday afternoon from the school at Tram, the Rev. Carl Layne and Carl Senter officiating. Burial was made in the Layne cemetery under direction of the Arnold Funeral Home.

NEWS FOR THE VETERAN

VA RULES ON CREDITS IN RESERVE TRAINING
Army and Navy Reserve personnel will not obtain added credit toward G. I. schooling by reason of being recalled to active duty for 15-day training periods, according to officials at the Veterans Administration Branch Office in Columbus, O. VA holds that these training periods do not constitute active duty for purposes of entitlement to increased benefits under the G. I. Bill, nor may such periods be counted toward establishment of the qualifying period for educational benefits. This ruling, however, would not apply if the call to duty were for an indefinite period and the veteran served for 90 days or more.

In general, an eligible veteran of World War II is entitled to one year's training or schooling at government expense, plus an additional month's training for every month of active duty up to a maximum of four years.

VA PAYS PART OF VET TUITION IN ADVANCE
Many non-profit colleges and universities which are faced with a continually growing veteran enrollment, now may obtain partial advance payment of tuition from the Veterans Administration. It was announced recently at the VA's Ohio-Michigan-Kentucky Branch Office in Columbus, O. VA has established a new procedure which permits payment of 75 per cent of the estimated tuition, books and supply costs to schools for veterans studying under the G. I. Bill as soon as the semester's registration is completed and the number of veterans enrolled is known.

The balance of the veteran's educational expenses can be paid either at the end of the semester or at the end of the period for refunding money for those who have dropped out of school. Other schools which cannot qualify under this plan may continue to bill VA in arrears, usually once a month, VA officials said.

APPLIANCES AVAILABLE TO AMPUTEE VETERANS
Artificial limbs and other prosthetic and orthopedic devices are available to eligible veterans at no government expense, VA officials at the Branch Office in Columbus, Ohio, pointed out this week.

Eligible veterans include those requiring appliances as a result of service-connected injuries or associated conditions not attributed to service, but which are aggravated by service-connected disabilities.

Appliances available include artificial limbs, artificial eyes, braces, orthopedic shoes, trusses, crutches, canes, crutches, hearing devices and batteries, elastic stockings or belts, eye lenses and frames, connective appliances necessary because of disfigurement of the face or hands, and special clothing made necessary through wearing an appliance.

Orthopedic and prosthetic devices may be repaired or replaced when necessary due to wear, loss not due to negligence, or for other sufficient reasons.

VA will provide the necessary fitting and training in use of the devices, including expenses to and from the veterans' homes and a hospital or training institution.

Veterans may obtain detailed information concerning the prosthetic and orthopedic appliance program at their nearest VA office.

DELTA THETA PHI AIDS VETERAN LAW STUDENTS

Members of the Delta Theta Phi law fraternity throughout the country are serving as vocational counselors for veteran law students under terms of an agreement between the fraternity headquarters and the Veterans Administration in Washington, D. C.

Veterans appearing before VA advisory and guidance centers whose potential employment objective is the law profession will be referred to these centers only for special occupational information; not otherwise normally obtainable, VA explained.

WOMEN VETS MAY GET EXTRA MEDICAL CARE

Women veterans are entitled to the same medical care for service disabilities as male veterans, the VA Administration in Columbus points out.

In addition, female veterans may be hospitalized in civilian hospitals if medically emergent, upon authorization by VA, for non-service-connected ailments but not for pregnancy. In non-emergent cases which are not service-connected, women veterans will be hospitalized in accordance with availability of beds in VA hospitals.

Male veterans with non-service-connected disabilities, under existing laws, cannot be treated in civilian hospitals or by private doctors at federal expense. They are entitled to treatment for non-service-connected disabilities in VA hospitals when beds are available.

Recent statistics show a total of 159 women veterans were patients in VA hospitals or in other institutions under contract to VA in the three states, including 114 in Ohio, 28 in Michigan, and eight in Kentucky.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q. Are payments to a beneficiary under G. I. insurance subject to taxation?
A. No. Payments made to a beneficiary after an insured veteran's death are tax exempt, except where invested in property.

Q. I am an honorable discharged World War II veteran and would like to know of what benefit is a "survivors' loan." If I purchase a home under the G. I. Bill?
A. The guaranty provides or increases the security you have to offer for a loan by the amount of the guaranty. It tends to induce the lender to lend more nearly the full purchase price of the property and to give you a better rate of interest and finally, four per cent of the amount guaranteed is paid to the lender by VA and is an outright gift to you.

Q. I will complete my course of study under the G. I. Bill in June. May I later enroll for another course of study under the G. I. Bill?
A. Yes. There is no limit on the number of successive courses you may take under the G. I. Bill, providing you satisfactorily complete each course and still have a balance of eligible time to your credit. However, you must obtain a new certificate of eligibility for each subsequent enrollment.

Home Demonstration Week To Be Observed

In observance of national Home Demonstration week, May 5 to 12, Miss Myrtle Widon, state leader of home demonstration work, Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics, points out some of the reasons why home demonstration work is important to the people and determined by them, is given through organized home-makers' clubs with a membership of 16,847 of that number 11,209 members served as leaders. More than 110,200 farm and rural families reported having adopted improvements in homes and family living last year. The spread of information from neighbor to neighbor can scarcely be estimated, said Miss Widon. As a result of home demonstration and conservation are being stressed, but in addition, homemakers are interested in human, health and consumer problems.

As a result of food conservation, 55 million quarts of food were canned and 84 million bushels of vegetables were stored. To insure safety in canning and to save time, homemakers bought 23,000 pressure canners. Diets were improved in 28,797 homes through greater use of milk and eggs.

In 30 counties, homemakers estimated they saved $150,028 by making, repairing, cleaning and dyeing articles of clothing; they put 6,232 sewing machines in good running order and made or renovated 197,070 garments.

Twenty-four thousand families in 46 counties improved their homes and made 4,329 slipcovers, 16,313 glass curtains, 2,882 rugs and 3,028 lampshades. They painted or papered 22,000 rooms.

Easier methods of housekeeping, washing and ironing were adopted by approximately 25,000 homemakers; 8,000 kitchens were made more convenient and 3,000 storage units added. Fifteen thousand homemakers reported having been assisted in buying wisely, and 10,000 learned to make better use of their time.

Mrs. C. H. Dingus, of Martin, received last week a new Gularancon Conckle Spiker, Plano, purchased from Ernest's Piano Store, Prestonsburg. E. H. Brown, owner, Phone 3493.

NEW DEADLINES FOR FILING BY CANDIDATES CITED

Candidates for state, county, city and district offices have been given earlier filing deadlines by the 1946 Legislature.

Robert K. Cullen, chief statutes reviser and Assistant Attorney General Guy H. Herndon agreed the following would be the final dates upon which candidates' declarations must be in the hands of their county clerks or Secretary of State:

All major-party candidates for the nomination for any state-wide office, or for any legislative or district office which includes more than one county, must file declarations with the Secretary of State before midnight June 7.

All independent and minor party candidates who do not participate in primary elections must file with the Secretary of State before midnight June 7.

All major-party candidates for county, city, district or legislative offices, where the districts include only one county or less, must file with their county clerks not later than midnight June 18.

Candidates for Boards of Education and independent candidates for city offices must file with their county clerks not earlier than Sept. 5 and later than midnight Sept. 20.

All primary candidates are required to file pre-primary expense accounts, either with county clerks if running locally, or with the Secretary of State if running for state-wide or large district offices, not later than midnight July 18.

Primary election day in Kentucky is August 2. The 1946 Legislature changed filing deadlines when it passed the absentee-voting law, thus giving the Secretary of State and county clerks more time for printing and mailing out ballots to absentee voters.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

WOULD KEEP THEM AT HOME

Editor, The Times: Floyd county is supposed to be one of the richest in the state. Why can't we have a home for our orphans and aged folks instead of paying some other county to take care of them? Right now we are paying a home in Wolfe county to keep one of our old ladies. Wouldn't it be much better if we had a home for them where their friends could visit them?

A TAXPAYER

Mrs. G. R. Allen was called to Nicholasville, Ky., April 22 by the death of her cousin, Mrs. Bess Northeast Howard.

Every Line is a look at Tomorrow

You spot it on the highway every time a Buick comes along:
Here you meet the future face-to-face.
Here you see the clean, rich, uncluttered design that marks the swing away from what was to what is going to be.
Here's the sweep and flow of fender line that's called for by a streamlined age — here's the solid, steady look that spells roadability — the broad beams that means room — the massive bonnet that tells of Fireball power aplenty.
Here's grace, here's ability, here's sturdy dependability — all wrapped up in one handsome package that's not merely up-to-the-times but ahead of it.

The simple fact is that you're buying in the future when you buy any good car today.
Why not settle on the one that most obviously foretells what the future will be — that has the most in it of what is to come?
Buick dealers' showrooms are kept pretty bare of display models by the eagerness of Buick buyers to "take over" the first minute they can.
But you'll be greeted in every one of them with courtesy and sincere interest in getting your Buick at the first minute possible.
Drop in — talk it over — and insure yourself a happy future by placing your order now. We'll take it, with or without a car to trade.
