LOOKING TO THE FUTURE
B. M. Gillespie, owner of the Gillespie Furniture Company here and in the Allen-Hatchcock Market, recently gave in a "sensible" case that descriptive material. He bought two pairs of blue and black for $125 each and sold them to Tom Gibson, of Clark and N. E. Little, of Georgetown, for $85 each. About the same time he placed with Mrs. Gibson, of Lexington, a purchased French suit.

Purchased stock on Floyd county, this, the head on the water, means something for the future.

JAIL BROTHERS IN BREAK HERE

Dewey Osborne Denies Confession of Guilt In Lunch Room Case

A confession, later denied, resulted in the arrest here Friday of Dewey Osborne and his brother, Charlie, on breaking and entering charges in connection with the looting of the Prestonsburg grade school lunch room on the night of Nov. 4.

Dewey Osborne said authorities had entered the building and took food stuffs, but later changed his story. County Attorney W. W. Burchett also said he found the stolen items outside the building, Osborne was at liberty, under bond, at the time of the looting, on a charge of breaking and entering.

Osborne was taken to the County Jail on the charge of breaking and entering. He was released on $1000 bond.

Three cases of food taken from the lunchroom were recovered at Connersville, Ind., and later returned to the school. Osborne was released on $1000 bond.

HUGE CROWD TO WITNESS GRID GAME

P'burg-Pointsville In 22nd Annual 'Til Friday Evening at 8

The Prestonsburg Black Cats, followed by several hundreds of rabid fans, will invade the fair of the traditional athletic rivalry, the Pointsville Tigers, Friday night for the annual meeting of the two teams on the gridiron.

On the outcome of Friday night's game hangs the Big Sandy Conference championship and the right to represent the conference in the Floyd Bowl game with the Cumberland Valley Conference titlist at Pineville.

Prestonsburg had no schedule change for the past week, but the Cats were not idle because of that. They were being worked hard in preparation for the Pointsville game, and the drilling on both of offense and defense was carried on unabated throughout this week.

Cochran John R. Elmer's excellent record in the game was a loss to Hazard, in an excellent physical condition for the big game and are ready to turn on with their best brand of football.

Pointsville, likewise, is at top form and Coach Oran Turner is hoping for his boys an upset over the more highly rated Black Cats.

The game time will be 8 o'clock.

Woman's Club Sponsors Home-Talent Production For Showing Next Week

To raise funds for a public library, the Prestonsburg Woman's Club will present at the grade school auditorium here Monday night, Tuesday, Nov. 17 and 18, the highly commended, "Comptagopolis" featuring comedy and musical numbers.

Elmer Logan Moore, director, announced this week.

Rehearsals have already been held, and tickets went on sale today (Thursday).

"Comptagopolis" features the Judge's family, the joys and sorrows of the several members and particularly the series of hilarious situations in which they find themselves.

Prestonsburg business men this week join in a large advertisement to aid the club in its efforts to raise funds for a library and a new home for the club.

The "Woman's Club, knowing of the interest here in a library, expect the largest house to see a local talent play here to turn out for the production.

FLYING RESIDENT'S KIN Victim in Breathitt
Mrs. Nancy Loyell, 49 years old, was killed last night when her car was struck by a truck on Thursday at her home at Deery, Ky.

AFTER 45 YEARS FLOYD NATIVE MEETS HIS DAUGHTER FOR THE FIRST TIME

The story of how a native of this county and his 45-year-old daughter whom he had never seen first met reached THE TIMES last week.

A few weeks ago, M. K. Hall, native of the Foster Creek section, heard a knock at the door of his home at Plummer's Landing, Fleming county. The stranger he admitted to his home was his daughter, Mrs. Tom Payne, of Paynesville, W. Va., and the mother of five sons.

This is the story, as pieced together by father and daughter:

Before the birth of Mrs. Payne, her parents separated. Mr. Hall remarried and moved, 35 years ago, to Plummer's Landing where he owns a large farm. During her last illness, the child's name was given to a childless Paynesville, W. Va., couple.

The child was reared by the couple as their own and not till the foster-mother lay dying was the silence of 21 years as to Mrs. Payne's real identity broken.

There followed letters between Mrs. Payne and her father, question asked and answered until there was positive proof.

Then the happy homecoming.

MAN RAISES HIS ARMS ABOVE HIS HEAD FOR FIRST TIME IN YEARS

A few days ago a man said the rheumatic pains in his arms and shoulders disappeared and now he can raise his arms above his head for the first time in years. He said the pains he used to have from this rheumatism were simply awful. Sometimes his knees and hips were stiff and sore but the pains were mostly in the back of his neck and across his shoulders. Now, however, his suffering is entirely gone and he says the change is due to taking TRU-AID. "Oh! What relief!" states this man. "Why don't other rheumatic sufferers get TRU-AID?"

TRU-AID is a new formula. It contains Three Great Ingredients, so it is almost like taking three medicines in one. It goes right to the source of rheumatic aches and pains. Miserable people soon feel different all over. So don't go on suffering! Get TRU-AID.—Hughes Drug Company.

Progress booms throughout the South—pushing the number of local and long distance calls handled each day to a new all-time high.

During the past two years Southern Bell has broken all records improving and expanding facilities to meet this increased volume of calls. In some communities the job is more difficult than in others. Often, additional switchboards must be manufactured and installed. Sometimes, a new building must be constructed.

Our entire telephone team is in there pitching. We are doing everything humanly possible to speed up and improve your telephone service. Speed, efficiency and courtesy have always been a tradition with telephone folks. And that's the way we mean to keep it.

WANT YOUR NAME ON HER BALLOT?

Noting that the back entries in one working section had not been rock dusted and that insufficient quantities of rock dust had been applied in several other active places, the inspectors recommended immediate action to conform with recognized dust-control standards. Other major safety suggestions were for forcing of more air to several active entries, driving of crosscuts at regular 60-foot intervals, installation of well-constructed air locks, a split system of ventilation for the No. 1 section and weekly tests for explosive gas and other hazards after underground storage of blasting materials, use of incombustible stemming exclusively and shunting of the battery ends of blasting cables.

Allen and McNab credited the mine with a number of recent safety advances. They embraced recording of the daily fan inspections, improved ventilation at several working faces, pre-shift examinations for explosive gas and other dangerous conditions, re-training devices for the locomotive, underground man-trip seating stations, adequate fire-fighting facilities underground, a positive check-in-and-out system, wearing of goggles by employees exposed to flying particles, and maintenance of ample first-aid equipment near the working sections.

Sixty bushels of Tennessee No. 1 barley seed were distributed to Bourbon county farmers so they can compare their barley with Kentucky No. 1 barley.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

THE WORD OF A TB PATIENT

Editor, The Times:

I have just read your views on the dreadful disease called T.B. Think your ideas are swell. Except you didn't mention all the money sources that you should. Stamps and seals, but how about trying the business men, the U.M.W.A., railroaders and the other unions. Then let's see the ladies clubs—there's a pretty sure shot. Then when you get some money coming in, I see you still have candidates left. When I was there they were having a platform of about every description. Why not make them take back water on this one? The Blue Grass should be pretty well fixed up by now. I say, use Floyd county money for Floyd county people. Let Beaver Creek's coal sales should be at least a million dollars a day. I wonder where the state's "divvy" is on that. Why not let the state put up a nice part of the capital? One name can't do very much. Why not ask the state to purchase a prison camp, or even a C.C. camp, and all the hospital equipment. That's just what the state of Idaho has done. Or, there's a T.B. fund. There's so much set aside for T.B. each year.

For Floyd county, I would suggest a portable x-ray to move from one community to another and force the people to get tested, like the sheep it does in collecting taxes. Just tell the people for me that there is none immune to T.B. How do I know? Just this—I am now right in the middle of a T.B. hospital, where they have about 45 patients of different races, creeds, colors and ages, from others in kidneys, blood, flesh, muscles, bowels, skin, bones. So you see even the x-ray can't always tell. Blood and sputum tests fail often.

Tell the people that it all can be cured, if they are not already dead, by chest surgery. We have them here in all stages, one who weighs 204 pounds, about 40 years old, the picture of health, but who can never get well entirely, because he waited too long. Folks, this is a fact. You won't believe that large wild game has T.B. No? Well, I can prove this one. A friend of mine, a Mr. Buck, road foreman of equipment for U.P.R.R., went hunting this season. He and his partner got their deer, big and nice. They hauled him in to Pocatello, Idaho, where they dressed Mr. Buck, and found him a bit skinny, like myself. So they called an official of the wildlife department and had the buck's lungs tested. What do you think? You are right—about 90 billion T.B. bugs to the square inch. Mind you, that fellow could jump over a 12-foot barrier or 30 feet in dead level, and was raised in high altitude.

About myself, you guessed it—right spang dab from Beaver Creek, Gearheart, Ky., and I know them all. I worked on trains on Left Beaver around 20 years ago and I learned how to approach a candidate—never let them approach you. Since we are back to that, they not ask "he man you want for Governor to do his stuff in getting a T.B. state hospital in Floyd county, instead of promising to change the moon or lowering food prices?"

I hope the people join you in your fight on T.B., also polio, cancer and so on. I will be glad to give any person information of T.B. surgery. Keep the thing going. I will help all I can.

T.B. State Hospital

Editor, The Times:

We, the citizens of Trum, have been trying for many years to get a bridge at Trum and have been up to this point unsuccessful in even getting a survey of the possibilities of getting a bridge. We think as taxpayers citizens we have the right to ask for this and that it is the duty of the county to do this for us. So we think it is time they got their heads together and did something about it, due to having so many children who have to cross the river in order to get to school, and that we cannot survive in a normal way as people should without getting a way out of this place. We don't want any more promises that are in vain. Action is what we want.

CITIZEN

LAFERTY NAMED JUDGE
Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 12.—P. D. Laferty was appointed police judge of Lackey in Floyd county by Governor Elmon S. Willis today. He takes the place of Corde Chaudill, who resigned.

TO THE VOTERS OF FLOYD COUNTY:

I want to thank you all, both Democrats and Republicans, for the splendid majority Floyd county gave me in my race for re-election for State Senator.

In the primary I had for my "campaign managers" these good Democrats—Reuben Taylor, Tom Ellis, Spivey Vaughn, James J. P. May and Les P. May—and I had no reason to change that set-up for the November election. They did a good job.

You all have been good to me, and I want you to know of my deep appreciation.

Elementary School Study Is Planned At U-K. Meeting

Outstanding schools in selected "pilot counties" of Kentucky will be surveyed as a means of developing a program of positive action to improve conditions faced by elementary education, a conference of the State Committee on Elementary Education at the University of Kentucky has decided.

Among the approximately 35 leading educators from throughout the state attending the meeting on Oct. 31-Nov. 1 were G. H. Farley, Superintendent of Pike county schools, Pikeville; Dr. Hugh Shafer, head of the Department of Education, Morehead State Teachers College, Morehead; and Palmer L. Hall, Superintendent of Floyd county schools, representing the Eastern Kentucky district, which included this county.

A sub-committee of the state committee will attempt to locate schools in the state doing outstanding work and conduct an on-the-scene study of the school's program in regard to elementary education and the status of the elementary grade teacher. Dr. Charles R. Spain, U-K, Kentucky School Service head and chairman of the state committee, said.

It is planned to gather all the information possible in regard to the practices of the school, to take pictures and to give the program all possible publicity through the medium of press and radio as an example of the work of a model elementary school.

Objectives of the state-wide study of elementary education, one of the first ever attempted in the nation, are to find ways and means of improving elementary schools to inform the public concerning the crisis which is being faced in the elementary schools of Kentucky and to gain the support of the entire state in improving the status of the elementary teacher and the elementary schools.

MEET THE MIGHTY MOKO!

He bends iron bars like hairpins. He makes confetti out of telephone books. He tosses bar-bells around like paper-weights. He's terrific! He's colossal! He's the strongest man in the world!

But not even the Mighty Moko—with all that fabulous strength—can do as much work in a day as 4c worth of electricity!

Truly, giants leap to your bidding every time you flip a switch—willing electric giants ready to take the burden of hard work from you. Ready to help you sew and cook and clean—to guard your food—to make life easier, healthier, more comfortable for all your family.

And these giants work for the lowest wages in history! Never has electricity done so many tasks—for so little cost—as it does for you today!

Miss Akers, Mr. Kirby Are Wed at Pikeville On October 25th
The marriage of Miss Marie Akers of Pikeville, Ky., and Sparsburg, S.C., and Mr. James Kirby of Columbia, S.C., took place at high noon on Saturday, Oct. 25, at the First Baptist Church, Pikeville. The Rev. E. L. Howerton, pastor of the church, officiated. The single ring ceremony was performed before an imposing altar festooned with white chrysanthemums, interspersed with electric branched candelabra holding tall white tapers. Ronald Watts Robinson, lighted the candles prior to the ceremony. Mrs. E. L. Howerton sang, "I Love You Truly" and "O Promise Me." The bride came from Lexington and was used for the procession and Mendelssohn's Wedding March for the recessional. Miss Rose Dewey Robinson, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor and wore a powder blue dress-maker suit with brown accessories, with a corsage of white roses. David R. Akers, brother of the bride, acted as best man. The bride chose for her wedding a white gaberdine suit with brown accessories and wore a shoulder bouquet of purple-throated orchids. Her only ornament was a single strand of pearls. Mrs. E. W. Robinson, aunt of the bride, wore a peach gaberdine suit and a corsage of pink roses. Following the wedding an informal reception was held at the home of the bride's aunt. In the dining room the table, overlaid with a lace cloth, was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake enlaced with flowers, topped with a miniature bride and groom. On one end was placed the crystal punch bowl which was presided over by Miss Akers. Sister of the bride, Mrs. S. K. Maynard, Miss Blanche Keathley and Miss Kermitte Ford. Mrs. Kirby is the daughter of Atty. and Mrs. C. B. Kirby of Davis, Ky. For the past year she has been employed as bookkeeper for the F. W. Woodworth Company, of Sparsburg, S.C. Mr. Kirby is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Kirby and holds a responsible position with the Veterans Administration in Columbia, S.C. The couple left for a wedding trip following the reception. Upon their return they will make their home in Columbia, S.C.

Kentucky C. of C. Appoints LaViers Zone 10 Chairman

Appointment of Harry LaViers, of Paintsville, as chairman for Zone 10 of the Member Relations committee of the Kentucky Chamber of Commerce was announced last week by State Committee Chairman Brent Hat of Madisonville.

LaViers, coal company executive and past president of the Big Sandy Elkhorn Coal Operators Association, will name local Member Relations committee chairmen in the principal towns in this area. They in turn will select several leading businessmen in their communities to serve with them.

Hat stated that the active co-operation of outstanding Kentucky businessmen like LaViers, assures the success of the state group's ambitious development program.

Zone 10 includes Floyd County, Elkhorn, Elkhorn, Johnson, Lawrence, Lewis, Magellan, Martin, Morgan and Pike counties.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jones were out of town over the week-end on business.

Displays of Perry county 4-H club products were made in 20 store windows in Hazard.

Praises Willard's Tablets As Stomach Remedy

Willard Tablet Company
Chicago 2, Ill.

Dear Sirs:
God bless the person who thought up the formula of Willard's Tablets.

I had taken many different preparations but none gave me relief. The majority of the time found me bedridden.

I finally took one 24-day treatment of Willard's Tablets and feel fine and am able to work now, thanks to Willard's Tablets.

I recommend your treatment to everyone I meet. I am glad that there is a treatment on the market that can help me.

Yours truly,

CPL. LALICH WEDS VIRGINIA GIRL

Fort Lewis, Wash.—In a candlelight ceremony at the Post chapel with Chaplain's Ben officiating, Cpl. Nicholas Lalich, of Company D, Ninth Infantry Regiment, formerly of Wheelwright, Ky., and Miss Jean Pulley, of Richmond, Va., were married on Oct. 25. Sgt. Bitzer, of Company K, Ninth Infantry, was best man and Mrs. Bitzer was matron of honor. The bride wore a gray suit with a corsage of American Beauty roses. A reception was held at the quarters of Sgt. Bitzer, attended by a few close friends. There will be no honeymoon. As Cpl. Lalich left for three weeks of winter training at Mount Ranier, Oct. 31.

Meade Plans To Revive Canalization Project In Big Sandy Valley

Revival of the Big Sandy canalization project is planned for the busy session of Congress, it was announced a few days ago by Congressman W. Horne Meade, of Paintsville.

Congressman Meade said he would push the issue at the coming session. The project was killed in Senate committee last year, but since that time has received full approval of inland waterway backers.

If Congressional authorization for the undertaking is received, Meade said he would ask for an immediate appropriation sufficient to start work next year.

Floyd Arnold Mann, student at the Hill School for Boys, Pottstown, Pa., will visit his cousin, Mary Catherine Hunsinger, at Stuart Hall, Staunton, Va., this week.

Century Ago, The Big Sandy Was Bear Hunter's Paradise

Eastern Kentucky has its Bear Caves—and little wonder. This section, back in the days when streams were getting their names, was a bear hunter's paradise.

As witness the following excerpt from Howe's History of Virginia which was quoted by Dr. S. P. Hildreth after a trip in 1864:

"It was a paradise of bears. On the ridges were whole forests of chestnuts and the hillsides were covered with oaks on whose fruit they fattened until their glossy hides afforded the sleek peltry imagination."

"At the mouth of the Big Sandy the dividing line between Virginia and Kentucky, the Ohio river makes an extreme southern bend and approaches nearer to the climate of the east than at any other point between Pittsburgh and Cincinnati. At this period the cane grew in quantities near the falls 30 miles from the mouth and had been visited, in 1844 by Thomas A. Lock of Martinsburg for the purpose of collecting its stems to make weaver's reeds. It was the nearest point to the Ohio where this valuable plant was known to grow in Tennessee and Kentucky."

"The headwaters of the Sandy and Guyandotte interlock with those of the Clinch and Holston amid the Cumberland mountains in their passage to the Ohio they traverse the most wild and picturesque region to be found in Western Virginia."

"At this period it was the most famous hunting ground for bears in all parts of the country. The bear is not strictly a voracious animal, but, like the hog, feeds chiefly on vegetable food. It was the paradise of the hunter."

"In the years 1805 and 1806 an approximately 8,000 skins were collected by the hunters in the district traversed by these rivers."

"In Europe created a great demand for their skins to decorate the soldiers of the hostile armies; soon these brought the hunters four or five dollars each."

"So great that day the attention of the sojourners of the wild region has been turned to the collection of the roots of ginseng. This beautiful plant grows with great luxuriance and in most wonderful abundance in the rich virgin soil of the hill and mountainous. For many years the fur-traders have afforded a constant supply of many thousand pounds annually to the traders."

"No part of America furnishes a more satisfactory growth of forest trees embracing all the species of the climate. The lofty white poplars attain the height of 80 to 100 feet without a limb, having a shaft of four to six feet in diameter. The white and yellow oaks are its rivals in size. The cucumber lowers add to an altitude uncommon to any other region, while its more humble relative, the umbrella tree, flourishes in great beauty by its side. It may contain the stone necessary for building culture cities. In addition to all these vegetable riches, the hills are full of fine beds of bituminous coal and iron ore."

"The following sample form of a membership application shows exactly what the teacher seeks in applying for membership in the Floyd County Federation of Teachers:

Application for Membership
Respecting the American Federation of Teachers as a constructive force in providing better educational facilities for the Nation's children, in protecting the rights to which teachers are entitled in a democratic society, and in strengthening the structure of democratic government in the United States, I hereby apply for membership in the

INSPECTORS' REPORTS NOTE IMPROVEMENTS AT 5 MINES

Federal mine inspectors' reports on five Floyd County mines were released by the U.S. Bureau of Mines this week, and the five mines were credited with numerous improvements.

The reports follow, in part:

Improved timbering and more effective rock-dusting are recommended for the Liberty Elkhorn Mining Company's 350-ton-a-day Liberty Elkhorn mine in a report issued which also credits the operation with numerous recent safety gains. Near Maytown, the development employed 74 men when it was revisited in August by Leslie Johnson.

Recommending full compliance with the adopted timbering standards requiring the setting of safety posts in all face areas and erection of permanent timbering close to the working faces, Inspector Johnson also proposed instruction of workers in approved rock-dusting methods and removal of coal-dust accumulations from several haulageways.

More than a score of recent safety advances were reported by Johnson. Among these were the rock-dusting of areas around the underground explosive-storage boxes, use of permissible bit-drilling units only firing of shots immediately after charging, a water gauge and an automatic stop-signal for each main fan, sufficient air in the working places, weekly air measurements, replacement of the wooden stoppings, and the use of permissible bit-drilling units only.

Among these were the rock-dusting of areas around the underground explosive-storage boxes, use of permissible bit-drilling units only firing of shots immediately after charging, a water gauge and an automatic stop-signal for each main fan, sufficient air in the working places, weekly air measurements, replacement of the wooden stoppings, and the use of permissible bit-drilling units only.

Although more than two score safety improvements had been effected recently at the Beaver Coal & Mining Company's 400-ton-a-day Beaver No. 1 mine at Drift, an inspector recommends increased coal-dust control and other corrective measures. The development employed 113 men when re-examined in August by Inspector Leslie Johnson.

Recent safety gains cited by Inspector Johnson encompassed removal of some loose haulageway roof, frequent roof testing, special containers for carrying blasting materials, safer location of the underground section boxes, use of permissible shot-firing units, a water gauge and an automatic signaling device for the No. 2 fan, recording of the daily fan inspections, generally adequate ventilation, installation of air-lock doors, pre-shift examinations for explosive gas and other hazards, gongs for the locomotives, discontinuance of coupling moving cars, detailed precautions against electrical and mechanical hazards, universal wearing of "hard" hats, and the use of goggles by workers exposed to flying particles.

The inspector noted that "conducible" rock dust had been applied in the mine but suggested broadening of the rock-dusting program to include one air-source as well as increased rock dusting of several other areas. Control of coal dust during cutting operations and cleaning of coal-dust accumulations from the mine also was suggested.

Many recent safety improvements in the Clear Creek mine at Hi Hat are commended and further precautions for the ventilating system, more effective rock-dusting, and added timbering safeguards are proposed. Operated by the Hi Hat Elkhorn Mining Company, the mine employed 113 persons in the daily production of 650 tons of coal when re-inspected in September.

Although commending the adequate ventilation in working places and the pre-shift examinations for hazards, Inspector Johnson also recommended substantial improvements.

Stoppings, air-lock doors or attempts at single doors, weekly examinations for hazardous conditions, offset installations for the Hayes mine fan, and safety devices for each fan.

Between considerable rock dust had been applied in the mine and a dust-tight housing had been provided for an open-type electric fan in the tipple. To minimize further any dust-explosion dangers the inspector advised additional rock-dusting where needed and removal of all loose coal accumulations from the tipple.

Adherence to the timbering standards, enough safety posts close to each working face and sufficient permanent timbers for protection against roof falls, frequent roof testing by workers, and the removal or support of all loose roof were suggestions offered to increase timbering safety.

Noteworthy recent safety gains also embraced rock dust for stemming shot holes, re-railing devices, a gong for each locomotive, discontinuance of jumping on and off moving cars and coupling them by hand, guards for the trolley wires at underground man-trip stations, frame-rounds for mining machines, and hand-held electric drills, and suitable underground fire protection. Other recommendations called for further precautions in stemming explosives and detonators, unobstructed clearance along haulage roads, several electrical safeguards, and a ban on smoking in the mine.

In re-examining the Princess Elkhorn Coal Company's 1,200-ton-a-day Princess No. 2 mine, at Pernelle, near David, with extensive recent safety gains, a federal inspector also suggested more effective coal-dust control, safer timbering practices, and several other precautionary measures. The development employed 170 men when re-examined in August by Inspector Russell Shaw.

Recommending increased rock-dusting in a number of specified areas, Inspector Shaw also suggested cleaning of coal-dust accumulations from one roadway and use of water to alloy coal dust during cutting and loading operations. The inspector also advised several timbering precautions, including setting of permanent timbers closer to working faces and wider use of safety posts in face regions, prompt replacement of displaced timbers, and removal or effective support of loose roof at a number of active areas.

Safety improvements carried out before and during the current inspection, Shaw noted, embraced pre-shift examinations for methane (an explosive gas), and other hazards, recording of weekly air measurements and gas examinations in the returns and abandoned workings, rock dusting of two dry areas, re-railing tools for the locomotives, provision of permissible trip lights, elimination of a number of electrical hazards, and maintenance of adequate fire-fighting facilities at strategic points underground.

To help reinforce the many safety advances made recently at the Kathryn Elkhorn Coal Company's 500-ton-a-day Turner A mine, a federal inspector recommends more effective coal-dust control and improved timbering practices. The development is near Drift, and it employed 97 men when re-examined in August by Inspector Leslie Johnson.

Suggesting that all working places in the 1 and 2 west sections be rock-dusted to within 80 feet of the faces, Inspector Johnson also advised use of water to alloy coal dust during cutting operations.

The inspector proposed strict compliance with the adopted timbering standards requiring the setting of permanent posts close to the working faces, removal or effective support of loose roof along two haulageways and instruction of employees in approved rock-dusting methods.

More than 30 recent safety gains were cited in the report. They encompassed generally adequate ventilation, prompt cleaning of crosscuts, installation of additional air-locks, pre-shift examinations for explosive gas and other hazards, setting of safety posts close to all working faces, use of permissible shot-firing units only, ordering of employees to give ample warning before firing shots, correction of several electrical hazards, discontinuance of jumping on and off moving trips, posting of one-way-direction signs, universal wearing of protective headgear, and a ban on using open-flame lights underground.

Stewart and 18 for Taylor. Joe Holston, Prestonsburg attorney, representing the plaintiffs, pointed out a 1942 Act of the General Assembly requiring a judge of the election to sign the ballot.

The vote in G. ret. precinct was not questioned, although a Garret ballot was found in the Wayland precinct box and was voided. The court ordered six ballots questioned in Wayland precinct to be counted. Four of these were for the Brown candidates, two for the Pick and Shovel.

The recount gave the following totals: Jay Snyder, 142; Hager Taylor, 154; Joe Gibson, 144; Garvin Turner, 140; Leo Stewart, 139; Willard Castle, 145; Russel Carter, 140; Henry Warren, 140; Wm. Hopper, 141.

Turner and Stewart, who lost through the recount, have asked an appeal and have been given until the last day of the next regular term of the Floyd circuit court to file their bill of exceptions.

The Freedom Pledge And Other Matters

NOW on a year's tour of the United States is the Freedom Train bearing the original Declaration of Independence, the Constitution and other historic documentary evidence of America's plans and battle for liberty.

In every city the Freedom Train has visited hundreds, young and old, have proudly signed the Freedom Pledge. Thousands more will sign the Freedom Pledge before the train and its precious cargo end their trip to every state of the Union.

The fact that these thousands of the young, the old, black and white, those of all religious faiths and in every walk of life, proudly sign the Freedom Pledge as the voluntary act of good Americans makes it particularly difficult for us to understand what appears to be plain stubbornness in the face of the Tax-Harshly Act which they abhor. It would appear that, for the simple reason that they hate this particular law, they are unwilling to make a clear-cut statement of their Americanism.

John L. Lewis, head of the United Mine Workers, and Phillip Murray, CIO leader, are notable instances of what appears to be plain stubbornness in the face of the Tax-Harshly Act which they abhor. It would appear that, for the simple reason that they hate this particular law, they are unwilling to make a clear-cut statement of their Americanism.

The United Auto Workers, headed by Walter P. Reuther, only this week voted compliance with the anti-Communist requirement of the law. Those workers are affected by the Tax-Harshly Act even as the UMW or the CIO.

But the fact is, it is not a question of who is affected or not affected by the Tax-Harshly Act, or who likes it or who doesn't like it. Personal grudges become insignificant beside the future of America. Joseph Stalin, Molotov, et al, viciously assert their un-Americanism—why not counter with pledges of loyalty from American leaders?

John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers, as individuals, would viciously resent impugning of their Americanism. So would the rank and file of other labor organizations. There is no reason for their Americanism to be impugned, and their leaders should with typical business assert theirs in these days when Communism is the enemy of everything and all that is American.

It strikes us that the idea back of this anti-Communist provision is this:

Some labor unions have become infested with Communists. This country, in time of peril, is dependent as much upon the forces of production as upon its armed forces; therefore, it is important, at any rate, that those at the top be avowed enemies of the forces that would destroy America.

In short, now is the proper time for good Americans to stand up and be counted.

About 80 per cent. of Anderson county tobacco land was seeded with small-grain, vetch or other cover and feed crops.

Boy Eldridge, of Rowan county, has culled and housed 250 pullets from which he is getting 70 per cent production.

Several from this place attended a bridal shower given by Mrs. Joe

Pannin in honor of her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Glenn Pannin. Those attending were Mrs. Noah Reop, Mrs.

Joan Innan, Mrs. Cruger Martin,

Mrs. Arthur Vanhook, Mrs. John

Clatworthy, Mrs. Henry Little, Mrs.

Mrs. Arnold Plich. Games were played, after which refreshments were served and presents sent gifts.

Several not present sent gifts.

We take this means to thank the

Wayland grade A-8-room and the beautiful basket of fruit which was received by our little son who was respectively 11 at the Paintsville hospital.

Several from this place attended the three at Martin Sunday night.

Spears-Hall Marriage Solemnized in Lexington

Marriage of Miss Betty Jo Spears, daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth Spears, Rt. 1, Pikeville, Ky., and Mr. Squire Hall, Jr., son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Squire Hall of Lexington, was solemnized Saturday, Nov. 1, at All Saints Baptist Church, Lexington, with the Rev. Lloyd Matman, pastor, officiating.

The bride wore a gray suit with black accessories and a shoulder bouquet of white roses. Miss Margaret Smith, the bride's only attendant, wore a blue suit with black accessories and a shoulder bouquet of pink roses. James Guiley served as best man for the groom.

The bride is a graduate of Pikeville high school and was employed at Betty Layne several months before becoming a student at Lexington Beauty College. The groom is an employee of Goodwin Brothers Company, Lexington. Mr. and Mrs. Hall will make their home in Lexington.

About 1,000 pigs were bought by farmers in Fleming county, where sheep raising is increasing.

Thanksgiving Meeting Plans Announced

Annual Thanksgiving fellowship meeting of the Assembly of God Church, West Prestonsburg, will be held Thursday, Nov. 27, with an all-day service. It was announced this week by the pastor, the Rev. G. R. Pannin.

Missionaries and ministers from various parts of the district are expected to take part, as well as students from the Pentecostal Institute.

Betsy Layne Overcomes
Early McDowell Lead
To Score 32-26 Win

Betsy Layne, Ky. Nov. 10 (Sp.)—The Betsy Layne Bobcats overcame an early lead to defeat a strong McDowell five Friday night, 32-26. It was a hotly contested affair all the way. "Wild Bill" Stumbo, of McDowell, led the scoring with 19 points. Caudill, of Betsy Layne, scored 11 points.

The Bobcats got to Wheelwright to meet the highly rated Maroon Friday night, and entertain the high-scoring Garrett Black Devils at home Saturday night.

The line-ups:
B. Layne (32) Pos. McDowell (30) Caudill (11) F. Blanton (5) Owens (7) F. Martin (12) Crum (4) G. Turner (6) Wiley (5) G. Newman (6) Conn (5) G. Newman (6) Officials: Castle and Johnson, of Pucelle.

WAYLAND

Walter Martin and family have returned after spending a week in Wayland, Ohio.

"DUCO" MAGIC MAKES OLD THINGS NEW AGAIN—A little imagination... a touch of carpentry... then a glistening coat of DUCO to put ancient furnishings into modern dress. Because of an exclusive formula, DUCO just flows on. It leaves no brush marks, dries quickly, stands punishing wear. This magic... and it's washable. You'll never perfect for kitchen and bathroom walls—ceilings, too. It works wonders for woodwork and floors. Try it.
