Jack Wild of the Public Relations department, University of Kentucky, does an interesting column which goes to the state to state in the column, scheduled for release Jan. 20, was particularly interesting to me, a fellow traveler who loves his company, much as I do to often suffer the tortures he touches upon in the following paragraphs.

Some folks I find, think it's fun to write a newspaper column. Well, I'd tell them it is fun to write a column, but it is not fun to write a column every day, or every week, or in an hour, or in a day, or in a month.

The next stretches of barren mountains in the state, without an acre of soil, will be left without a single tree, and the state will be left with the world's most terrible example of barren white space. This letter extends for 72 inches from West to East, and it states that as any state from the western mountains to the eastern mountains, it is a state that is left with the world's most terrible example of barren white space.

Mr. T. R. Nantz will and can, may need said the writer's tale of woe.

SIX MURDER TRIALS STILL FACE COURT

Half Month of Term Gone With Heavy End Of Docket Remaining

Heavy end of the docket of circuit court is just ahead, with six murder cases listed for trial after a half-month of rather desultory court work.

First of the cases is that of Israel Prater, Joe Ratliff and Chester Nealey, who are accused of murder in the death of a Huesville woman. It is docketed for Friday of this week.

The past week in court was on the same matter, even as that of the preceding week. Only seven cases went to the jury, and of these only one resulted in a verdict.

Three were convicted on bootlegging charges. One of these, Guy Davis, was arrested in his cave at the head of Buckingham Hollow, a few days ago, was given a 60-day jail term and was fined $100.

Two were convicted on bootlegging charges. One of these, Guy Davis, was arrested in his cave at the head of Buckingham Hollow, a few days ago, was given a 60-day jail term and was fined $100.

COUNTIES GET POLIO MONEY

Counties of Seventh Congressional District Get $8,835.69 in 1949

The eight counties in the Seventh Congressional district received $8,835.69 as aid in their fight against polio in 1949. One B. S. Taylor, Greenburg, Ky. chairman of the 1949 March of Dimes, declared this.

Taylor said the district suffered 38 cases of the disease. Among the eight districts, Taylor said, the highest was Martin with 11 cases and the lowest was Wayne with none.

In the month of March, $8,835.69 was spent on patient care compared with $132,688.38 raised in 1949.

Taylor released the figures in his plea for increased funds to fight the disease in 1950 and he declared the $128,000 in addition to the money realized from the 1949 March of Dimes fund.

Dr. Jillson Sees No Production From Deep Sands in This Area

Lexington, Ky., Jan. 18 (Sp.)—Dr. Wilbur Ross, Jr., Lexington, resident of Prestonsburg and now director of the department of geology of Transylvania College here, says varying possibilities of large-scale production of oil and gas from deep sandstone throughout the area.

Dr. Jillson covered some 2,500 miles and engaged in field work during the summer of last year. In his survey he studied only deep wells, those being drilled and those completed, and examined and sampled many types of oil sands at that time.

Dr. Jillson said the deep sandstone in the area is not as extensive as some geologists in the area and obtained their views in relation to localized deep drilling embraced by the reconnaissance.

Of the production potential from deep well operations in Kentucky, Dr. Jillson noted that one field in which there is any extensive deep and successful drilling, this, he wrote, is in central-eastern Kentucky.

CITY ADDITION IS UNDECIDED

Annexation Is Discussed In Public Meeting Here; Council To Take Action

Extension of Prestonsburg's corporate limits remained an undecided question this week, despite the fact Mayor Charles Clark had been asked to take action on the matter.

Approximately 100 persons gathered Tuesday evening at the Jackson Furniture Company in the Park Addition to discuss the matter.

Clark said the city's side of the question, Clark said public reaction there, on the whole, was favorable, although some opposition was expressed.

Future development of that section and all other unincorporated areas is threatened by action taken Monday by the City and Water Commission by voting to refuse gas and water service to any area outside the limits of the city.

SESSI MEET CALLED TO DETERMINE METHOD OF PROMOTING EVENT

Two methods of promotion of Floyd County's Sesqui-Centennial celebration, next July, will be discussed by the Sesqui-Centennial committee at its meeting Monday evening, it was announced.

The meeting will convene at 7:45 p.m. in the office of Floyd chapter, American Red Cross. All interested persons are urged to attend.

Dr. Jillson wrote of this area: "Here groups within restricted limits of the area, and sharply defined surface of the east-west pattern—these are to be found in wells which produced in the past from 10,000 to 20,000 cubic feet of natural gas per day from the 81 Peter (Lower Middle Devonian) sandstone." Drilling, he wrote, encounters this sandstone at from 2,428 to 2,793 feet, and the unfractured sandstone exhibits high porosity and permeability.

Moving into Ohio, Dr. Jillson found substantiation of his general conclusions in the general success obtained from 4,000 to 10,000 feet and some wells may be located in the Ohio valley proper.

AN EXPENSIVE FOE

Infantile paralysis is an expensive foe of mankind as it is cruel. Caring for polio victims is costly, with care in individual cases running as high as $10,000. Patient care in this disease can be done at the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis $51,000. These funds must be replaced, if the National Foundation is to keep its pledge to aid victims of this disease and continue the search for a cure or preventive. You can help fulfill this pledge by donating five dimes and dollars to the current March of Dimes campaign of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

KENTUCKY ON THE MARCH

By EWING GALLOWAY

When this column was started three years ago I received a few letters, but it was not until the publication of the first column, the last column, that I have been stuck so that rule pretty close.

But along comes a proclamation from the committee for the Rockcastle county that can't be ignored. It is only a promise, but the fact of it sounds so good that I must pass it along to my readers with a tongue-in-cheek but the new Committee for Rockcastle will make progress when for many years to come. The proclamation about qualifications for membership is a gem. It should be read by every citizen of Rockcastle county who may be interested in the future. The document is authored by A. F. Hoffman, editor and publisher of the Mt. Vernon Star, and John P. Lair, owner of the Beaver Valley radio show, and signed by 40 charter members. I quote in part:

"In order to see that the county's qualifications and to state its citizens to action with a view to selling this heart-shaped piece of terrain to the outside world, a brand new organization has been born—The Committee for Rockcastle."

"This Committee for Rockcastle is composed of public-spirited citizens who truly have the courage to fight for what they need and want—who look forward to the county's progress, not so much in terms of dollars but in terms of opportunity. Not with a view to selling a new corner some real estate or corner him with taxes, but of giving him an opportunity to develop his industry and consequently ours—to live and let live."

"This Committee for Rockcastle will know cliques, clans or factions. It will know no prejudices, jealousies or discussions. The absence of these elements are a prerequisite to membership in the Committee for Rockcastle. The doors of the committee are open to you if you are qualified. There will be no dues or fees assessed. No paid officers—only persons whose near and dear support is solicited."

THE MAILS MUST GO THROUGH—TO WHERE?

There is no prouder boast in the language than the "time-honored statement" "The mails must go through." But from this corner I am beginning to wonder if they should be added, "to certain points."

With passenger service cut to three round trips a week on the Big Sandy, and with no passenger service whatever on the thickly populated Beaver Creeks of this county, Uncle Sam's postal service, possibly the best in the world, is a thing belonging to the early 1900's, rarely met to the age of planes, faster than sound.

Last Saturday morning I mailed a newspaper to my daughter at St. Charles, Mo., which is about 15 miles from St. Louis. At the same time I mailed newspapers over this county to hundreds of persons.

Monday morning, that newspaper addressed to the Missouri postoffice was delivered to the addressee. Not all Monday noon did a subscriber living as close even as Martin, 15 miles from Prestonsburg, receive his newspaper.

The mail must go through to where?

With trucks hauling the mails when there is, no train service on the Big Sandy, and all the time on the Beavers where there are no passenger trains, mail delivery is a precarious, haphazard matter. Letters and magazines and newspapers and parcels pile up at certain points. The driver of the truck cannot "work" the sacks of mail between postoffices. He is doing well to get the load to certain points, not to mention the delicate matter of routing and separating all those individual pieces of matter destined for thousands of different persons over a vast, sprawling territory.

This section of America produces a very precious fuel to the rest of America. This is important business, here in this valley and its tributaries. And, we like to believe, we are an important people. At least, our interests are as important to us as the interests of others are to them.

So we are not satisfied with this bit-and-miss mail delivery. We are not satisfied with a mobile postoffice unit moving out of Pikeville toward Bristol, Va., then, in the opposite direction.

We must that the postal service is not designed to favor any particular section or to handicap any part of the country. A quarter of a million Americans reside in this neglected area, and are being neglected. Strikes us, it's time somebody got busy and set "those words up to read." The mails must go through to all the land.

have been a source of consolation to a miner in his fire. I have held onto this post by telling the truth, thus establishing and maintaining my position among fishermen as lowliest of all.

And then this. This from my own crew!

It just goes to show you what one false step can do to an otherwise spotless reputation in any field of endeavor or sport. One can't be too careful, can one?

Mr. Homan estimated that "roughly 1,200 miners are idle in Floyd county." The Big Sandy-Elkhorn Coal Operators' Association has 15 member-mines and their production this week was only 30 per cent normal.

Production from truck mines, on the other hand, was heavy and mounting. Mr. Homan indicated. They will work six days next week. He declared. Homan said 116 of these mines in District 30 have signed contracts and that these, with those working in the Hazard field, have an annual production capacity of 15,000,000 tons of coal a year. "This" the miners' representative added, "is more than the combined production of the Big Sandy-Elkhorn and Hazard Associations."

At the Princess Elkhorn Coal Company's No. 1 mine the men did not return to work Monday morning. By afternoon of that day a picket line had been set up to prevent a company spokesman from talking from working. Late Monday, local union officials resorted to the radio to ask employees of Mine No. 2 to report, with the result that a picket line was established there.

Through the efforts of district officials of the union, however, the picket lines were dissolved at David Wednesday morning, this statement added.

There was no disorder reported over the field.

Spreading strikes were credited with biting into the nation's steel production this week. "For weeks past, economic conditions in the coal fields have grown progressively worse, with many miners and their families the greatest sufferers."

Expected by today (Thursday) is action by Robert Denham, general counsel of the National Labor Relations Board, who was reported ready to ask an injunction against the three-day week UMWVA President John L. Lewis ordered for the miners, July 1.

Quoted as typical of the comments in western Pennsylvania was the comment of one miner who wished to remain anonymous. He said:

"Regardless of what Lewis says or does now, there'll be no contract, no work." The miners want it shown down. They don't care if the Patterson act is invoked. That, at least, would give them 30 days in which they could work.

"We've only drawn one full pay since June, and that's tough."

A United Mine worker local official who asked a daily newspaperman that he remain unnamed, declared:

"Five days or nothing."

The decline in the coal industry was emphasized by figures released this week showing that 54,000 fewer carloads of coal were shipped in 1949 from this field than during the preceding year. This amounts to a loss of approximately 2,700,000 tons of coal, it was stated.

For both these years the Princess Elkhorn Coal Company mines at David led the field in days worked. Its No. 1 mine worked 229 days in 1948 but dropped to 196 days last year. The No. 2 mine in 1948 worked only two and a half days less than the older operation but dropped to 152 days in 1949. The drop in coal production was approximately 100,000 tons.

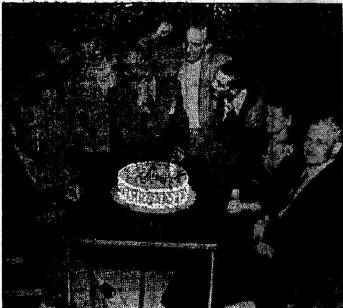

A son of the late Sol and Caroline McGuire, Warren, he was a native of the Bull Creek section of the county. He taught in the county schools for several years, and was widely known and respected.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Alice Moore Warren, of Allen, one son, John Warren, Nashville, Tenn., five daughters, Mrs. Don Allen, Mrs. Elva Beverly, of Allen, Mrs. Edith Frances Howell, Miami, Fla., Mrs. Beth Mae Huthchinson and Mrs. Ruth Ann Porter, both of Zephyr, Tenn. He was two brothers and one sister, John Warren, Add Warren, and Mrs. Loma Derocott, all of Prestonsburg and vicinity.

The funeral has tentatively been set for Friday morning at 10 from the auditorium of the Allen consolidated school, with the Rev. Doc Huthchinson and Bill Plancery officiating. Burial will be made in the Riley Hill cemetery at Allen under direction of the Arnold & Bell Funeral Home.

Love Your Dog?—Then Know Him! So Says Authority

By TED KESTING

There are hundreds who love their dogs and constantly associate with them—men who work their dogs both in season and out. They call for "class" dogs. They understand them. But the average man, the casual hunter, has no business with such kind of dog.

So before starting your search for the right individual of any breed, have a grandly and clearly in mind the kind of dog you want. According to Huxford Little, author of many dog articles and frequent field-trial judge, that's just as important as fitting the dog to the man.

Your interest in dogs and hunting is an index to the kind of dog that will provide the best fit. If you hunt only a few days a year and are not prepared to devote a great deal of time and money to keeping your dog in top condition, a field-trial type or setter may well be inappropriate. A highly keyed dog would fret you to death. You would get a better fit from a cautious, close-working dog. You might find the right one among Britanni or German shorthairs. If you don't want a dog that points game, investigate the possibility of getting a Springer, American water spaniel, Labrador, or others.

A gentleman recently told me that while he has had beagles all his life he now hunts mostly for pheasant in northern Ohio. He loses too many retrievers and wonders about getting either a Chesapeake or Labrador as a game saver. He had something there. An American water spaniel or a springer might also suit him admirably. Many beagles are used to hunt pheasant, and the beagster is good at this too.

"There is a much more certain pattern to follow in choosing hounds. Regardless of difference of opinion as to the respective merit of Walkers, Jubs, Ticks, and others, there is little or no debate as to proper pattern of performance. Much of the same thing is true in the case of retrievers. Pattern of performance is standard, whether one favors the Chesapeake, Labrador, golden or others. It is a different matter when we talk of the dog for upland game birds. You must consider the temperament of the dog—and the master.

Two Araucaria hens from Argentina, now on a farm in Buckinghamshire, England, have rec. blue and gray feathers and six blue eggs. ### MARTIN BEATS THREE TO WIN 11 STRAIGHT

Running their victory string to 11 consecutive triumphs and the fourth of the season against only two losses, the Martin Purple Plash beat three opponents during the past week.

The Plashmen, on Saturday night at Ligon, turned back McDowell 6-0. Friday night at Martin, they squeaked past Wayland, 47-45, and at Ligon on the previous Tuesday, the Plashers smothered the Bank Mules, 75-35.

The Martin-Wayland tilt proved to be a thriller and was "anybody's game" right up to the final whistle. Wayland had possession of the ball and a lead of 40 to 42 with 40 seconds left.

Wayland's guard, Ted Webb, a field goal by Webb spelled victory. The Plashers won 47-45.

2nd Annual Polio Benefit Set

Floyd county's second Annual Polio Basketball Benefit, a hardwood doubleheader featuring four of the top teams in Eastern Kentucky, is scheduled to be held at the Wayland gymnasium, Tuesday, January 21.

All proceeds above expenses will go to the March of Dimes drive.

Pikeville vs. Wayland
The Pikeville high school Panthers, defending regional champs and one of the best teams in the state, will battle with the Wayland team in one half of the double bill.

Panther Coach Jack Bill Tivette said of the Ways Monday of this week: "Wayland is one of the top teams of the region and is coming along fast—will give us all we can handle."

On the other hand, Tuesday, the Ways head up to Coach Tivette's prediction on the Panthers: "The Panthers and Ways tonight to a whitewash finish before the Polio benefit game. A last-minute 20-10 victory with only a minute and a half remaining of the game. Ways was leading the Panthers, but fell before a superior onslaught."

Martin Opponent
An opponent of the Panthers, preferably of the powerful Cumberland Valley, is being sought to oppose Martin in the other half of the double bill or basketball.

Martin, a speaker from last year's polio benefit, is scheduled against Olive Hill in the 1950 event. "I, Purple Heart," is the nickname of the Ways.

Another Cumberland Valley power is Lake Fork, McComb, Bell County, Buchanan, Taylor, Taylor, Hall and others. One of the teams will very likely match their best against the Purple Heart.

As is customary in the event, a trophy will be awarded to each participating team.

McComb County board members are impressed the significance of their farm home in retaining surplus trees, setting shrubs and painting mail boxes.

CLUB HALTS BOUNTY PAY

Termed Waste of Money; Floyd Sportsmen Outline $1,800 Budget for 1950

The $150 bounty paid on any fox was discontinued by the Floyd County Fish & Game Club. It was said last week after the 1950 budget of the club had been approved at a meeting held at Maytown.

The sportsmen held that the bounty achieved no beneficial results and was a waste of money. "People who killed foxes in Knott county were even sending claims, and sometimes they collected," Conservation Officer Bernard Baldridge said.

The budget for the year includes the expenditure of $1,800, with the quill-nesting item of $600 the largest single project.

The $150 bounty for the building fund which has been growing since 1948 brings the total on hand to $1,800 for the construction of a clubhouse. John R. Baldridge, club secretary, said.

Other items of the budget: Purchase of racoon, $200; care used for setting on farms to protect food for quail, $200; fish pond construction, $250; junior conservation club program, $250; door prizes, $100.

The fish and game club meets at 7:30 p.m. on the first Monday of each month at Maytown high school.

PRATER'S FOUL SHOTS GIVE PIKEVILLE WIN OVER ASHLAND, 62-61

Foul shooting by "Dickie" Prater provided victory for Pikeville high school over the visiting Ashland team, 62-61, at Pikeville Saturday night.

With 15 seconds remaining of play and Ashland leading, 62-61, at Pikeville Saturday night, Tommie Stevens fouled Prater and the Panther star made the shot to tie the score.

Severe again fouled Prater as the game ended as speakers argued it happened before the buzzer sounded and some argued it occurred after—the referee ruled the foul was before the buzzer. Prater made the gratis throw and the game was over.

Prater dropped in 10 net goals for 20 points during the first half but the Tomcats stopped him cold in the last half. However, the six-foot-three-inch Panther guard could not be stopped on four shots He hit 14 of 17 attempted.

Officials called 33 fouls on Ashland and 21 on Pikeville.

SPORTS AFIELD
Speaking of Bobwhite He Can Very Capably Speak for Himself

By TED KESTING
Sweetest upland game bird for many men is the common bobwhite. In New England they call him a quail, and down south he is a partridge. But, biologically, he is closer to the facts. But, fanned naturalist Don Quixote thinks we should accept the bird's own name for himself: Bob-WHITE! Bob-bob-WHITE! Ah, Bob-WHITE!

Some scientists believe no other creature has as many as 100 words in its vocabulary; that is a meaningful vocabulary. It includes the imitative powers of cat-birds, parrots and the songbirds and the gobble-gobble of turkeys.

Students of the bobwhite list such phrases as the following: the food call, drop by the cock bird when bringing home the bacon; the screaming battle cry of the cock when another male takes too much interest in his mate; the flicker-like whistle of the male in pursuit of his love partner; the note of the hen when she invites the male to a great deal of baby talk.

That is to say, the various notes of the chicks, the metallic piping of the hen, the chirpy bob-white, but so soft, it carries only a few yards. And if you listen long enough and know what to listen for, you might detect the yattering note that nervous transients as "walks day, walks day."

Ornithologists say it is used for bluffing their mates. When danger is real you'll hear the old birds rapping out that mechanical message in code to-blick-blick-blick over and over. Chicks are absolutely responsive to this kind of means. Well, perli is right at hand.

The birds, too, are right at hand—their haunting part of the birds of all ground birds. You hear them all about you, the alarm cry spattering like hail on a tin roof, but not a feather can you see.

WOODROW ALLEN

The fact that over 300,000 young men and women will graduate from college this year is eloquent testimony to the unequalled need for college education. In this kind of competition, a boy or girl, without advanced education, just hasn't a chance at the better jobs.

By providing an Educational Loan Fund, which will help a son or daughter is still young, you can guarantee that he or she will get a college education. You owe it to your children to make this provision!

See me soon and let's discuss your child's future.

LET'S LOOK AT THE RECORD

I have served the people of Floyd county as Sheriff for twelve years and six months. It is fair to you, my family and myself to give an accounting of my services from records and not just false accusations and street corner gossip. My duties and services are listed as follows:

1. Deputies who served under me.
2. Law enforcement.
3. Paid affidavits and records kept by the Sheriff's office.
4. My attitude and personal achievements.

During my term as Sheriff, I have had as my deputies the best men I could procure, men who were sober, fair and impartial. Their record while serving as my deputies and the positions now held by them speak for themselves. I had as my office deputies Tom Graham Dugan and Dorothy M. Sturgill. As for the field deputies—Harold Conn has a position as a peace officer with the Insane Steel Company at Wheelwright, Ky.; Epp Lafferty, now Chief of Police of Prestonburg; Bill Keene is a member of the Prestonburg police force; Nels Gilliam is Chief of Police of the City of Allen. Three of my deputies were elected Constables by the people of their respective districts: Harold Scimmons, District No. 1; Johnnie Cuddihy, District No. 4 and Junior Hall, District No. 4. Deputy Sheriff Ellis Martin was elected Magistrate for District No. 2, other deputies who served under me and who are now serving in the capacity as deputy sheriffs under Banner Meade are W. J. Smith, T. Y. Martin, Frank Crum, Oak Mullins, Willie Johnson, Cline Mitchell, Charlie McCown, Oliver Hall and Frank Parsons, and probably others. I had other deputies not mentioned here, who served well. I am proud of all of these men and their records.

2. Law enforcement in Floyd county is a tremendous job and grave responsibility. The public does not have and could not have a fair idea of the work attached to the Sheriff's office in regard to law enforcement. To give you some idea of the work that has been done in my office I will use two examples: 1. The jail records will show that, during the year 1946, Harold Conn, sheriff field deputy sheriff, arrested and placed in jail 562 law violators. What do you think the records will show with all my deputies? 2. At the April term, 1949 of Floyd circuit court my office summoned more than 1,200 witnesses for the Commonwealth alone. We usually have 2,500 or more people to summon as witnesses for both the Commonwealth and defense from every section of the county at each term of court. This does not include the number of warrants served and other processes executed. Every warrant of any kind, search warrants or otherwise, delivered to my office for any person or persons has been diligently and honestly executed. The records show that more than 20 different places have been searched two or more times for illicit possession of liquor. All my deputies will tell you by word and affidavit that they were instructed by me to serve any warrant of any kind on any person or persons for any offense. A sheriff or his deputies cannot impose the penalties as prescribed by law against criminals. Only one major crime committed during my term of office, remains unsolved or where there has not been an arrest or indictment made. This is the brutal murder of Muriel Badridge and those closely connected with this case know that I have spent more than $400 of my own money, know that my deputies and myself have worked days and nights and traveled hundreds of miles that the public knows nothing about, attempting to catch this vicious criminal. As a private citizen now, my time and services are available to the family or others in solving this crime.

3. The fiscal affairs of the county have improved, as the records will show. I have increased the collection of taxes and payments to the county, common schools and state each year. There has been some publicity in regard to my tax settlement for the year 1946-47. Here is the record: W. J. May, cashier of the Bank Josephine, and Floyd County Treasurer, made a settlement for me for these years. Here are the figures of that settlement: Total net amount charged to Sheriff, $201,965.99; total amount paid to treasurer of Floyd county, $201,940.68 or an overpayment to the county and amount due Sheriff, $45.31. An audit for the same year was made by the Auditor's office in Frankfort, Ky. Here are the figures of that audit: Net amount due county, $201,964.44; paid county treasurer in current year, $201,940.68; due Sheriff from county, June 29, 1947, $45.31. You can readily see that the figures of Mr. May and the State Auditor show that I overpaid the county. Their settlements differ only $1.35. These settlements show that I collected and paid to the state, county and common schools almost $5 per cent charged to me by the county clerk and State Revenue department which make its list in collections of all other counties in the state of Kentucky for this year.

On December 10, 1949, in Louisville, Ky., at the annual meeting of the Kentucky Sheriffs' Association, the Assistant State Auditor while making an address to the sheriffs from over the state used the records kept in my office and the forms of settlement by Mr. W. J. May as being the best in the state and suggested that the newly-elected Sheriffs get a copy from me and use them during their term of office. I have been requested by a number of Sheriffs throughout the state to furnish them a copy of these records. They are now being prepared for them. Don't you think this is a right good record?

During my term of office I have been honored by all the Sheriffs in the state of Kentucky by having been elected two successive years as president of the Kentucky Sheriffs' Association. I have been honored by the National Sheriffs' Association by having been appointed for two successive years as a member of the Board of Governors of that body. I am now state director of Kentucky for the National Sheriffs' Association.

May I suggest to the public and all officers, especially Constables, that you give your new Sheriff, Banner Meade, and his deputies your honest and courageous support instead of unjust criticism. I further suggest that the extreme penalty be meted by jurors and courts in bootlegging cases; that every one convicted be placed under a peace bond, and given a jail sentence which is mandatory; and that property be confiscated. If these things are done, bootlegging will be retarded. If not, it will prosper.

I am grateful to each and every citizen for all you have done for me and I have no malice or ill will toward a living person.

Your friend,
TROY B. STURGILL

Tricks Warm Hens On Cold Mornings

If hens don't act just right on cold mornings, use a little psychology on them, says Dr. R. T. Wrightman, of the Poultry section of the College of Agriculture and Home Economics, University of Kentucky. "This can be done, he said, by putting a little grain in the litter, thereby making the hens scratch and so warm up. A small amount of wet mash mixed with warm water or milk may also do the trick. "In other words, give the pullets or hens something new or different in order to arouse interest and get them warmed up and moving around," said Dr. Wrightman. "A good manager can use many little tricks to keep a flock of layers in tune. Psychology plays its part in poultry feeding."

David Plans Observance Of Family Night Week; Essay Contest Named

David, Ky., Jan. 16 (Sp.)—Family Night Week will be observed in the David community from Jan. 22 to 28, it is announced here.

The object, according to Mrs. M. E. Thompson, chairman of the committee in charge of the observance, is to remind each family that while every member of a family should develop his own particular talents, it is in the cooperative "give and take" of family relationship whereby these talents are uncovered and their worth proven.

The committee expressed a hope that every parent, husband, wife or child who has cherished in his heart a picture of an ideal family group working, playing, reading, or making several nights of the week named and ask the entire family to help turn the ideal into actual fact.

Wm. Paris Conley, principal of the David school, reports that in following up Family Night Week, the David Women's Club will sponsor an essay assignment in the fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth grades of the David school, offering prizes to the girl and the boy who writes the best report or "What I Like To Do on Family Night at Home." Judges of the essay will be three members of the David Women's club who do not have children in these grades.

Within a Short Time Cadillac Will Raise the World's Standard Again!

In 1950, the reasons for moving up to Cadillac will become so great, and so manifold, that if you are contemplating the purchase of any car outside the lowest-price field—you should see the new Cadillac first.

Cadillac's new cars will have their initial presentation at the General Motors Mid-Century Motorama—at the Waldorf, in New York—from January 19th to 27th.

As soon after that as cars are available, the new Cadillacs will be placed on display for your inspection in this community.

In the meantime, here are some of the things you may look forward to seeing when America's most renowned motor car builder unveils its new offerings for 1950.

You will see four wholly new series of cars—all with entirely new bodies—and all so gorgeously styled that they are destined to change every existing idea as to how beautiful a motor car can be.

You will see cars whose performance is so outstanding that to drive one of them, for a single hour is to want it forever. The advancement embraces every phase of performance—power, quietness, smoothness, safety, and handling ease. To drive one is to get the motor car thrill of a lifetime.

You will see scores of advancements and improvements which add to quality, endurance, economy and dependability.

And, finally, you will see all this in a car whose lowest-priced model will actually cost less than certain models of numerous other makes of cars!

Yes—you should see the new Cadillacs before you act in 1950. They will not only give you the new yardstick for motor car quality—but they will give you the new yardstick for motor car value, as well.

It won't be long! So please stand by for the presentation date for this community.
