WELCOME!
Welcome to the rural school kids on their big field day, Saturday—welcome from an old rural kid himself from Way Cross.

Strange—aren't it?—that children can be having such a miserable time of it in school, here by "rural" where parents and demanding teachers, retrained during the pleasant sunny hours from skylark? Where they will, and all that, and yet be envied by some people. Now, isn't it? Oh, well! There's no point in trying to explain it to them, but it is a sad, sad, sad fact. Later, they'll understand without explanation. Even as you and I, understand.

BUSINESS AND PLEASURE
For the record, and for the information of interested in general:

Our friend Fred J. Graham, who for years operated at Allenton, is fishing today up and down the river and frequently to Tennessee lakes, has moved with his wife to Bruns, Ky. Graham made this move with much afterthought—against the Dr. Branton, you see, is on the new Lake Cumberland, where you will, the Way Cross river. There he is building cabins, and he expects to be host to all and sundry who are looking for the lake. The fact of the matter is, Graham wanted to be near the lake so he could visit whenever the lake is open. Graham is a fisherman, and the question is, will business come before pleasure?

WEATHER REPORT
Most of us folks living in towns don't even know what the weather is like, unless we go out in it. It is a sad, sad, sad fact. But, if you know it, it is a day or two, if the clouds are running low, or if the water comes out of a spigot, and most of us don't bother much with growing things to know if rain is needed or not.

It is doubtful if many of us even know it's sweet potato diggin' time. Yes, up the creek, away from the river, the potatoes are a main crop. And that, my countrymen, would be bad.

POOZY!
I am just reminded that we have it in another Week This is Let's Write Week.

So what? They've decided that, just when the post rates go up.

WAYLAND HITS 136-PT. MARK

Blood Program There
Draws Workers' Praise;
Bloodmobile Here Next

Wayland and surrounding communities contributed 136 points of blood on the visit last Thursday to this county of the Red Cross regional center's bloodmobile, and finished the day's work determined to go even better, next time they will, and all that, and yet be envied by some people. Now, isn't it? Oh, well! There's no point in trying to explain it to them, but it is a sad, sad, sad fact. Later, they'll understand without explanation. Even as you and I, understand.

"We can get 200 points," declared Frank E. Harmon, blood chairman at Wayland.

But for the rejection of 20 persons who volunteered blood, the community would have easily reached the standing quota of 150 points per visit of the bloodmobile.

"I have never seen such enthusiasm as Wayland showed," declared Mrs. A. H. Mandel, of Marion, county blood recruitment chairman. "They will do well, any time."

The bloodmobile will be in Prestonsburg again, next Tuesday, and workers here are busy contacting interested persons, and enlisting new volunteers.

Mrs. W. S. Harkins, Jr., is leading the local committees handling the bloodmobile.

At Wayland all clubs and church groups rendered excellent service last Thursday.

Among those who gave blood there and expressed a gladness in doing so was Carl Collins, of G. H. the body of whose brother, Dr. Willie L. Collins, had been killed in World War I, and was then awaiting burial on the next day.

STORE BREAK JAILS 4 MEN

Two Confess Taking Coal Company Funds;
Two Wanted by Army

Four men jailed here last Wednesday by Deputy Sheriff Frank Parsons brought to eight the number of men charged in the hold man's branch within the week on charges alleging theft.

Named for grand larceny and breaking and entering were Paul Kease, Charles Caldwell, James T. Jewell, alias Tommy Lawford, and Melvin Wilson.

The four were accused of looting the commissary of the Harold Fuel Company, rifling the company's cash register and throwing it into the Sandy river near Boldman.

Deputy Sheriff Parsons found the cash register and brought it here. Its contents were placed at about $20 in cash.

The four men at first admitted they were together on the night of the break into the commissary, but they denied the crime.

Later, Caldwell and Kease confessed, naming the others as accomplices. Jewell and Wilson persisted in their denial of guilt.

WHEELWRIGHT FLOYD COUNTY HOSPITAL SITE

Is Announcement Made:
As UMW Approves Loan;
10 Locations Mentioned

A hospital at or in the vicinity of Wheelwright, one for each of nine other Kentucky, Virginia, and West Virginia mining communities will be constructed within the next three years on funds loaned by the United Mine Workers Wheelwright Fund. It was announced in Washington, Wednesday.

The statement announcing approval of the loans to hospital associations for construction purposes, did not disclose the amount involved, nor did United Mine Workers' district headquarters have any knowledge of the plans as to size or exact location of the three hospitals to be built in this section.

In addition to the Wheelwright hospital, hospitals are planned for Pikeville, Jenkins and Hazard.

"The newspaper report this morning was a bit too me to me as it was to," said Carson Elliott, of the district UMW office at Pikeville.

Dr. As Barnes, medical administrator for the miners' welfare and retirement fund, who changed to be in the Pikeville office of the United Mine Workers, said that he could not add to information supplied in the Washington press release except that the hospitals will be for miners and their families only but will be open to the general public. Any qualified physician will be permitted facilities of the hospitals, he added.

Asked if the Wheelwright hospital could have any conceivable connection with the Floyd County Memorial Hospital, Dr. Barnes said it could not.

He said that in which hospitals will be constructed as a result of the Wheelwright Fund loan are: Cumberland, Ky.; Beckley, Logan and Williamson, W. Va., and Coeburn, Va.

The Welfare Fund board of trustees, headed by UMW President John L. Lewis, approved loans to hospital associations of the three states, described as non-partisan charitable corporations.

Miss Josephine Roache, director of the fund, said the figures were not too high, but it was difficult to estimate the amount to be spent.

BOARD WARNS NEW FATHERS

That Information Must Be Supplied; Three Groups Are Notified

A forthcoming draft call will be largely filled with registrants who are listed as married but childless, John S. Collins, clerk of Draft Board No. 25, here, said.

Some of these men may have become fathers since their registration and may have failed to convey this new information to the Board, Mr. Collins added. He mentioned the number of registrants called for preinduction demand for 91 registrants to report for examination on Oct. 15, and the fact that 15 will leave for induction to the armed forces.

Those to leave for induction are: Fred Hoover Salisbury, formerly of Pikeville, now of Lexington, O.; James Douglas Bille, West Prestonsburg; Alvin Mann, Glasgow; Richard Curtis Sexton, Glasgow; James Buford Sloan, Glasgow; Monte McKinley Hall, Bensenville; Lloyd Sammons, Martin; Alvin Dale Wright, H. Mrs. Williams, who succeeded Mrs. Carlton Wright, formerly of Wayland, now of Louisville, was installed as the new district governor by Mrs. Kennedy Barry, president of the Kentucky Federation, at the conclusion of the district convention held Saturday at David.

Saturday's annual district meeting, the 33rd largest attendance in years—23 delegates, 11 alternates and 58 members of clubs over the district. During luncheon at the David school gymnasium, Mrs. Harry Fiedler rendered organ music.

At the afternoon session, which was opened by a program of vocal music by the David Test-A-Minutes, Mrs. Fiedler, first companion by Mrs. Fiedler, first committee reports were heard.

The prize for the largest delegation to the convention went to the Allen-Martin club.

Sufficient Demand By Teachers Would Get Study Centers

Morehead State College, which has formed two study centers for teachers at Paintsville, will form one or more study groups in Prestonsburg if the demand justifies it, W. M. Caudill, director of public relations for the college, said here Wednesday.

The centers are formed to give teachers the opportunity of earning additional college credits without interfering with their regular teaching duties.

Mr. Caudill said an enrollment of approximately 20 is needed for one study center. He said classes can be arranged for either Friday nights or Saturday mornings, and asked that interested teachers contact Chalmers H. Prater, superintendent of Prestonsburg schools, or write him at Morehead State College.

Drive for Funds Begins In County To Fight Red Propaganda over Radio

The Crusade For Freedom campaign will continue through October 24, the first anniversary of the dedication of the World Freedom Bell in Berlin, it has just been announced by George Hart, Kentucky Crusade chairman. He notified Floyd county chairman, A. B. Thomas, and the new closing date to conform with the national schedule.

Mr. Made this week distributed receptacles for contributions in every section of the county, so that all citizens may have an opportunity to contribute to the fight against Communism. At the same time he placed hundreds of pieces of literature for distribution, so that all may know of the importance of the Freedom Crusade. Lapel pins were made available to contributors.

Hart said he had been advised by Harold E. Stassen, national campaign chairman, that national response to the Crusade's truth campaign against Communism had been enthusiastic and that the nation is blanketed with local organizations seeking members and funds.

The Crusade, whose collected funds go to continue Radio Free Europe's air-wave battle against Soviet propaganda and tactics, "is really catching on in Kentucky," the State chairman said. The informational efforts by press, radio and television have been "splendid," he said, and the Kentucky Crusade hopes to have gifts and members from every county before the closing deadline.

Those who have not been contacted by any local Crusade organization may send their gifts to Crusade For Freedom, 205 W. Chestnut Street, Louisville 2, Ky., and the donations will be credited to the county from which they came, Hart announced.

The Oldham County Homemakers Association had charge of all food served at the Oldham County Fair.

GMC
GASOLINE & DIESEL TRUCKS
1/2 TO 20 TONS
GENERAL MOTORS

What's the fastest-growing line of trucks in America?

Look around you—in cities, on farms, at terminals and loading docks—wherever goods are moved on wheels.

More and more, the pay load's packed on a GMC.

You see those letters on medium and heavy Diesels, the most economical workers in their field. For GMC means first in Diesel power.

You see gasoline-powered GMC's front-running the highways of America—pace-setting delivery of the necessities of peace and war.

You see nimble bantamweights of the family—the highest-powered 1/2- to 2-tonners made—outpitting, outhauling every other truck in their class.

Ever wonder why GMC is gaining a greater percentage of the industry than any other truck-maker?

Ask the truck drivers themselves.

See the confident way they talk of the power plants, the broad-shouldered, chassis—the way a GMC handles.

Ask about the tons they've hauled, the miles they've logged—the nip-and-tuck schedules they've licked time and again.

Ask these cost-wary haulers why they've made GMC the fastest-growing fleet in the land.

They'll tell you it's because GMC's the finest motor truck made.

If you'll come in, we'll show you why we think they're right.

Veterans Will Find It Hard To Qualify For New Pension Pay

Eligibility for new pension benefits for certain totally and permanently disabled veterans, recently voted by Congress, are extremely rigid. The new law becomes effective November 1, 1951, and raises benefits from a maximum of $72 a month to $120. Under it benefits must be specifically applied for. It applies to Veterans of World War I and II and those who served after June 27, 1950, say R. Adams, Manager of the VA Regional Office said today.

"A great deal of incorrect information apparently has spread rapidly regarding new pension benefits recently voted by Congress," Adams said. "Many veterans new drawing a pension for total and permanent disabilities not service-connected assume they will be eligible for the increase. As a matter of fact, those found eligible are likely to be a small fraction of those who think they can qualify," he stated.

"Eligibility is rigidly restricted to those veterans who are blind or so helpless that their need for constant attendance can be established," he said. Veterans otherwise eligible undergoing care at VA hospitals or other institutions at government expense are ineligible, Adams added.

This Is Our Crusade

IT IS but natural that the people of this county should be curious, these days, about every movement that is started, lest they be lured into some left-wing or Communist front scheme. So The Times devotes this space to assuring readers of this newspaper that the Crusade for Freedom is everything that Communism is not. It is a movement designed to let the individual, you and me, in on this job of letting the world know where we and our country stand in the battle for world freedom.

Earlier this year, Floyd county played its part admirably by supplying several thousands of names for the Freedom Scroll wherein we went on record as opposed to Communism and those other isms which would destroy a free world.

Now, the Crusade is on again—this time to permit the ordinary woman and man or child to have a part in getting the message of Freedom to the peoples of Europe and Asia and on behind the Iron Curtain. Our contributions in money are now sought—not, necessarily, much money, but some—enough for each of us to have a part in the battle which must be won if freedom is to exist.

Why the Violence?

IF newspaper reports received from Leslie and Clay counties are true, the enemies there of organized labor have become so desperate that human life is merely a pawn in the growing struggle. And we had thought the days when lawlessness as a weapon in such matters were gone forever.

What have coal operators there at stake which justifies violence? What more than the operators of Floyd or Pike or any other county? True, they have been selling coal there when operators in organized fields have been begging for markets, but that is no reason for dynamiting and machine-gunning innocent men such as nerve dispatches report.

If the miners there want to organize, they should be permitted to do so. That would force the operators to compete with those of other organized fields of this section on an even basis, with no wage differential in their favor—and, it occurs to The Times, this is as matters should be.

Violence is no more justified in these Kentucky counties than it is in Ohio where the United Mine Workers are accused of depredations in an effort to unionize a coal field.

Bruce Stivers and Sam Rutledge of Shelby county have built trench sites, following plans from the U.S. College of Agriculture and Home Economics.

KENTUCKY ON THE MARCH

The first installment of the Paintsville story, which nobody should have missed, told how, back in 1947, a group of citizens planning a recreation center, raised $3,500 to start the project moving, and how in 1948 the Junior Women's League raised $10,000 with programs broadcast by the local station.

Now we move on to the rest of the story, well told by Irene S. Cole, secretary of the Paintsville Chamber of Commerce. By March 29, 1950, or three weeks after our campaign opened, we had received $33,000.00 in cash and $2,000.00 additional in pledges. Since that time we have collected the $20,000.00 in pledges and also received another $10,000.00 making a total of $63,000.00 received from public subscriptions. We had previously set as a goal $30,000.

"The City Water Commission in August, 1950 awarded a contract for the construction of a swimming pool, wading pool and bath house. This contract cost was $52,000.00 however, the bath house and swimming pool are now completed and the cost has been $110,000.00.

Other facilities to be placed on the site besides the swimming pool, etc., include a soft ball diamond, three tennis courts, two croquet courts, volley ball court, basketball court, swings, slides, etc., picnic tables and barbecue pits. We proposed to finance the installation of these added facilities by means of a $50,000.00 City Bond Issue which was voted on last November 7th and was carried by a majority of 5 to 1. Paintsville now has under construction a new high school building and gymnasium, $64,000.00 was paid for the site and the building with equipment will cost in the neighborhood of $30,000.00 when completed. This new building will give eleven additional class rooms and the gymnasium will seat 2,000 for a basketball game and 3,000 when used as an auditorium.

Paintsville is also building a modern water system that will cost $228,000 when completed. The water will be treated with sodium fluoride, a chemical that prevents tooth decay.

IT CAN'T HAPPEN HERE—

It Already HAS!!

A great man once said, "It can't happen here." In the past, that has always been the case. It has been together on all things including the men to be elected to each office in the next term, and, by the way, excluding your son or daughter—not on qualifications—but by political power. That same old bunch that has always come up each election with that famous slogan "VOTE IT STRAIGHT". The old gang is being dominated now by our illustrious sheriff, Banner Meade.

In the case of selecting a campaign chairman for the candidates who would be opposed November 6th, a meeting was held in Prestonsburg and only four were present as should be—Burns Martin, Comm. Attorney; Bill Cooley, Circuit Clerk; Henry Hale, Representative and Bert Combs, Judge Court of Appeals. The decision made at this meeting was unanimous. They agreed to take anyone but Banner Meade.

Then the big meeting was held to elect a Campaign Chairman for the Democrat ticket for Floyd county and this meeting was presided over by Doug Hays. It was all cut and dried as usual. One of Meade's stooges nominated Banner. Jonathan Fitzpatrick, the Highway Foreman, nodded his head and the other stooge jumped up and seconded the motion. Burns Martin, our present Prosecuting Attorney, a young man who won his election over this same "Court House Gang" by a large majority, took the floor. Mr. Martin is to be admired as he has a head of his own and is not to be dominated by their same crowd. He said, and I quote, "Gentlemen, this is not a Democrat meeting as you can plainly see, here are four or five deputy sheriffs, two or three judges, and about all the rest are Banner Meade men. Gentlemen, this is a Banner Meade meeting. You people are not electing a campaign chairman, you are electing the most unpopular Democrat in the county. This is exactly what the anti-administration Democrats want".

The meeting was interrupted by Henry Hale, our representative, who has not as of today took the stand in Frankfort to make a speech in behalf of his district or to introduce a bill, to my knowing. He told Burns Martin, "Let's cut out this kind of stuff" and tried to force Burns to leave the meeting. The Judas hour was at hand. Burns was doubled-crossed after all had agreed not to support Banner for Chairman. Not only do we have for representative today a man not capable of making a speech but also incapable of writing his articles for the papers. A yes man to the nth degree and if he's a yes man to these punkin town politicians what does he say to the big time boys in Frankfort? He is a lost ball in the tall weeds in the Legislature. He can always stand on his record—he has none—and while on the subject, Henry, did the Whisky Lobby in Frankfort send $200.00 to you, to Paul Hays or to Banner Meade as a contribution to your campaign in the Primary?

We don't want to forget our friend Paul Hays, Representative from the 97th District. Henry, isn't it true that Paul Hays wrote your newspaper articles during the Primary? Isn't it also true that our representation may have worked the same way? Isn't it also common knowledge that Paul Hays expects to use these same articles for his future campaign using the same fictitious bills you were supposed to have introduced? (Still a fair brand of our "Court House Politics").

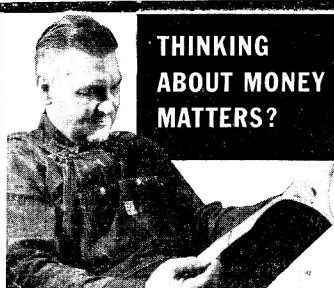

Mr. Hale, isn't it also true that you went along with the "boys" to make the town of Martin a fourth class town? This in order to force the people of Floyd county to accept whisky whether or not they wanted it. Isn't it true that if this rotten scheme had worked that your political future would have been insured by the "Court House Gang".

I am sincerely and honestly asking the people of Floyd county to wake up and see the sordidness in our political set up in this county. I want you to see why your sons and your daughters, regardless of qualifications, do not have any part allotted to them for the future of our county, state or national government as for our rotten politicians and politicians are concerned today. You have jumped the ropes and elected one Martin. Why not deviate from this path of the "Straight ticket" "this Court House Gang"? Vote for the man, the future, your children. Start now to liquidate this "Court House Gang" and what they stand for!

In casting your vote for me you will be voting for a man who will represent all the people to the best of his ability on a fair and honest basis. I will not be ruled by any political group. I will make my own speeches, introduce your bills. I will not fail my trust.

CAPITAL Roundup

The Kentucky Judicial Council, revealing its special circuit judges, cost the State more than $14,000 last year, has come up with the suggestion that two roving circuit court commissioners be employed on a full-time basis to relieve crowded court dockets.

Last year the State spent $14,076, 15-20 the rate of $20 a day and expenses for special judges in twenty-seven of the state's forty-two judicial districts. Special judges are named for the trial of cases where the regular judge is disqualified or unable to preside. Over a ten-year period the State spent on this service $93,018.

Amos H. Eiken, secretary of the Council, declared that the proposal of two roving Commissioners has been suggested by bar association groups as a means of expediting the situation.

Assistant Attorney General W. O. Kirk ruled that school buses must restrict their sales to school personnel, and may not enter into open competition with the general public.

The Kentucky Aeronautics Commission removed its equipment from the local Silver Lake Airport here the result of failure to arrive at an agreement over rental fees demanded by its owner. The equipment was removed to other airports here and at Lexington.

Opponents of a constitutional amendment to be voted on by the people this fall that would permit easier amendment to the Constitution, opened headquarters here under the name of "Committee of One Thousand." A Joe Asher, Jackson attorney, will direct the campaign against ratification of the proposed amendment.

The sum included more than $7,000,000 each year for improvements at welfare institutions and for educational establishments—the University of Kentucky and Teacher Colleges.

The Alcoholic Beverage Control Board, through Chairman Guy C. Shearer, announced extension of its ban against saloons, taverns, and other establishments to include pool rooms. The order extended the original anti-littering rule.

The Attorney General's office held that police court records are open to the public and subject to inspection, in reply to a query from a Campbellsville newsman who protested that the doings of the Police Court in that town were withheld from public inspection.

Gov. Lawrence Wetherby named Charles B. Jones, Trenton, former Veterans' Administration official and one-time former school teacher and basketball coach, as executive secretary of the Governor's Coordinating Committee for Highway Safety. Jones will be attached to the State Police offices here, and will be assigned the task of coordinating all phases of safety organizations designed to combat Kentucky's rising highway death toll.

Floyd County Historical Notes

By HENRY P. SCALF

An interesting letter from Mrs. Dave Ward of Cindarella, W. Va. Mrs. Ward was formerly Bass Smith, of Pike county, and is a graduate of Betsy Layne high school in this county. She is doing research on the history of the Lowe (Low-Low) family about 10 years.

She writes: "I have been working on the history of the Lowe (Low-Low) family about 10 years. I don't think this family would be called early settlers in Fike county, since they came in 1929 from Fike county, Virginia."

"My great-grandfather, Orison R. Lowe, came to Johns Creek in 1825. He is the only Lowe listed in the 1850 census of Pike county. His father, Aaron, came about 1815. I have a record of over 500 descendants of Aaron and this is just a good start."

"I am also interested in the Ward family who settled on the river by New Faintsville, then known as Ward City, now River, sometime before 1810. Mitchell Hall in his History of Johnson County gives the name as Lemell Ward. Mr. records show his name to be William Ward. However, A. J. Ward, who gave the name Locust should have known. Genealogy can become so confusing at times."

"I ordered a copy of Mrs. Sweeney's book on Amherst county, Va., which has already gone to press. It includes historical and genealogical data, list of military men, first firms company, remnant of guards at Albemarle Barracks, and many other facts. French civil and military soldiers with proof of service, colonial war soldiers, abstracts of 300 applications for pensions, 25 title records, etc. I believe this will be a fine book."

Mrs. Ward's letter is a welcome contribution to this column. Her notice of the Sweeney book will let of great interest to those who are interested in the Amherst record. So many of the early Floyd settlers came from Amherst, Mr. Sweeney, who has been clerk of the Amherst county court for a long time, will feel relieved, we feel sure, from being required, more or less as a matter of courtesy, to copy his records for Keweenaw.

A letter from J. M. Clay, of Catlettsburg, Ky. Mr. Clay is an attorney at law but indicates at interest in the genealogy of his Floyd people. Mr. Clay himself was born in Wayne county, W. Va., but his parents were from Johns Creek. He writes interesting notes on Hugh Harkins, ancestor of the Harkins family, who had an interest in bull-fighting. It seems that long before the Civil War, Harkins, Harkins, Milnes and Bowens engaged in the sport. Harkins had a bull and challenged some of the Johns Creek residents. The bull was driven to Johns Creek after the acceptance of the challenge to receive a beating from the challenged. Mr. Clay relates the story as a family tradition, remarks on the sportsmanlike way in which Hugh Harkins accepted defeat with a heavy laugh.

Garbage disposal at the school is very poorly handled, and a committee was appointed to make plans to better the present method immediately.

An auction sale will be held in the near future for the benefit of the Association.

Mr. Starck commended to those present the bulletin recently issued by the National Council of Parents and Teachers, and expressed the desire that each one read the pamphlets carefully.

Refractions were served at the close of the program by Mrs. John Hays, chairman, and the members of the special committee.

IT'S A GOOD WORLD

BY WILMA Y

(Opinions expressed herein do not necessarily reflect those of The Times.)

If you know anything sweeter or more fitting than the military funeral accorded our boys who are brought back for burial, send it to this column. It is indeed touching to see their burials pay them a final tribute. We salute the loyal, faithful ones, who drop everything to attend and make this service possible, when a comrade dies here or is returned from across yonder, where men are still fighting for peace and freedom.

Just recently an acquaintance was converted, and a mutual friend who had traveled the same road only a few years ago wrote this man one of the most encouraging letters you ever read. He referred to the joy he now derives daily from helping and from serving as he seeks to instruct others in the Word. He is a prominent business man, with a lovely wife and family, and God is using him in a mighty way to lead others into the fold.

Rev. Mearl Wadley, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Martin, emphasized an important truth in his message Sunday morning when he said the door of Opportunity is hung with the hinges of Oppositeness.

A recent fan letter suggests a bouquet for Katherine Allen. Last spring when one grade of Maytown youngsters planned a trip to Frankfort word got around that one child might not get to go, for lack of funds. In her quiet way Katherine immediately sent the teacher enough to defray the expenses of two children. Fully equipped to be the "mink and orchid" social butterfly type, she sometimes expected the use of a doctor, she prefers, instead to be plain folks like the rest of us. As democratic as her husband, Dr. C. L. Allen, she helps her home and spacious yard be the mecca of small fry. Maytown will never forget how she rolled up her sleeves and let the light to link the plague epidemic a few years ago when our school was affected.

Hats off to Dr. Wade Malwood, of Martin, one drugist whose store remains closed on the Sabbath unless emergency illness sends him inside for medicine. Noting the many stores and wayside stands we see open all day Sunday, we wonder how many who trade there pause to think how they, too, break the Holy Day, the sabbath as those engaged in conducting the unnecessary business on God's Day.

Another blue ribbon this week, this one to Prestonsburg Baptist, Methodist and Presbyterian churches for offering to assist several families who have severe cases of tuberculosis in the home. This is Christianity in action.

Every person who read, "Take God With You on Monday," in the September Reader's Digest, caught a glimpse of the only solution to world problems. It is not the product of ministers and theologians but of laymen who are practicing Christianity in its finest sense. If you missed this article, look it up. The author and founder of the organization give a splendid picture of what can be done to meet the need every where. His work is similar to that of Quakers, headed by Lowell Thomas, Captain Eddie Rickenbacker and other celebrities, who acknowledge that the recognition of a Higher Power is the best answer to every problem, whether individual or international.

Have you old folks in the hospital, or do you know others who are there? Do you visit and remember them frequently, let them know how much the ties that bind count to you, too? Or do you forget, to scatter sunshine all the way for those who did so much for you? It takes such a little to make an old person happy, and if we live long enough, every single one of us must some day grow old.

With the unexpected passing of Dick Hubert, Maytown lost one of her best citizens. He had always been a good man and after uniting with the church several years ago he lived an exemplary life. The community and church will miss him greatly.
