Like Your 'White Elephants'? There Ain't No Such Tater!

White Elephants in several years. This indicated that the packers of potatoes were discontinuing the practice of tagging white-eyes sent under the label 'White Elephants' to the U.S. Department of Agriculture at Beltsville, Md. They wrote that they had notified their buyers of the change. Other inquiries were made and the answer was always the same—'there ain't no such tater.'

White Elephants were the large sized seed packers would plant in a big seed potato. The packers then put them in a bag labeled the sack 'White Elephants,' and so the name originated. Thousands of people who planted the seed were very angry. Did they were not—they could be Ohio, Green Mountain, Early Ohio, or whatever the packer threw in as 'white baggage.'

Olden Stewart, Prestonsburg business, found all this out years ago when people began trying to purchase 'White Elephants from him. He had heard there was 'no such tater' and in order to clear the matter up asked upper-bracket officials in the co-operative system. These gentlemen are agricultural experts and have been county agents, workers in extension service, and practical farmers. They said, 'No such tater'.

Bill Stewart was not completely satisfied, so he wrote, two years ago, the University of Kentucky, U. K. stated that it had issued a Kentucky seed act for 'White Elephants' which is now in effect.

TO THE PEOPLE OF FLOYD COUNTY:

As a member of the Fiscal Court I feel it my duty to write this letter. When I was a candidate I told the people in my district I would do all I could for them in the way of improving roads, but to my sorrow I have found it impossible to do things I thought I could do.

I found, right in the beginning of my term, there was a raise in salaries to all county officers, and other jobs have arisen in the Commonwealth which have made more burdens on the county treasury...

At the first court hired Mr. Wiley Jones as detective and paid him $250 a month until Mr. Bert Combs was appointed Prosecuting Attorney. Since that time we have a new Prosecuting Attorney elected and he has hired Mr. Alex Davidson for County Detective at a salary of $250 per month, and the court has approved that order also.

Dr. Leslie Tells Plans For Taxpayers' League Meet Here, Saturday

Dr. Edward B. Leslie, who will preside as temporary chairman at the organization meeting of the Floyd County Taxpayers' League to be held at the courthouse Saturday morning at 10:30, this week invited all county and city officials to join with private citizens at the meeting.

The national R'd Cross is seeking at least $5,000,000 for southern tornado relief in addition to the previously announced campaign goal of $85 million nationally.

Reports indicate that a second truck struck the Rowe vehicle, causing it to go out of control. The truck at fault did not stop.

Restaurant Prices Frozen At February 3rd Level

A regulation freezing all restaurant prices at the level charged during the week of February 3, has been issued by the Office of Price Stabilization, effective April 7. It requires each restaurant to post dollar-and-cent ceilings for its principal meals, food items and beverages not later than April 25.

The posters, to be furnished by O.P.S. have spaces for forty food and non-alcoholic beverage items customarily served. If an eating establishment also serves alcoholic beverages, a poster with spaces for listing ceiling prices for 20 items must be displayed. Both posters must be plainly visible to customers.

In Louisville, Quentin E. Scholtz, chief of the food and restaurant section urged operators of restaurants who do not receive copies of the regulation with the next week to communicate with his office, 307 South Fifth Street, by writing or by telephoning ABBR 2581. Scholtz has furnished the agency's office in Cleveland with the names of four thousand Kentucky restaurants to which regulations and posters will be mailed.

BETSY LAYNE

The Betsy Layne Parent-Teacher's Association met in the school auditorium, Monday, March 22. The President, Eugene Stanley, presided and the program was presented by the high school band, directed by Billy Sargent. A business session was held at which time a committee was appointed to nominate officers for the P.T.A. for another year. The final meeting of this year will be April 21, at 7:30 p.m. Everyone is invited to attend.

Plans are being made for a community sunrise service to be held on the Lear cemetery overlooking Betsy Layne at 7 on Easter morning. A cordial invitation is extended to everyone.

A Boy Scout troop is being organized locally, with McKinley Hunt as Scout leader. A few group of boys met last Friday night and began working Saturday morning, earning money for uniforms. Monday night will be the regular meeting night of the Boy Scouts in the basement of the Methodist Church.

The Men's Fellowship served supper to approximately 35 men last Thursday night in the basement of the Methodist Church. The men of the Vesp-Day Church were guests of the Betsy Layne group for the evening. After the supper, a devotion was led by the pastor, Rev. R. L. Anderson, followed by the showing of a film.

Many from Betsy Layne are attending the revival services at the Vesp-Day Methodist Church at Boldman, under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Kohn, evangelist-missionary and organist.

Revival services were recently conducted at the Betsy Layne Methodist Church by the evangelist, Rev. Forrest Church, of Avon Park, Fla., and Jesse Elliott as song leader. The meetings were well attended and thoroughly enjoyed. Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Stanley were welcomed into the membership by the pastor, Rev. Anderson, and the members.

A household shower was given at Calvary Baptist Church last Tuesday evening for Mrs. and Mrs. John M. Porter, who recently had their home and belongings completely destroyed by fire. A large crowd attended the shower, and the couple received many useful gifts to help them to resume housekeeping.

Prestonburg Needs a Jail

PRESTONSBURG needs a city jail fit for human habitation.

Other incorporated towns of the county have their jails and maintain them so that their prisoners can be kept in them as long as their sentences require. The jail here, officials say, is unfit for human occupancy for a long period.

Condition of the jail was given as one of the reasons for the city's failure last year to demand in a trial the full penalty for a woman accused of operating in the business section of Court street one of those "establishments" associated with the "redlight district". The complaining witnesses were willing, too, it was said, for the case to be closed out of court, if the place was closed and so to avoid embarrassment of innocent persons related to men and women involved the matter was marked as a closed incident.

The Times has previously insisted that, expedient as they are in some cases, compromises of this sort do not achieve the ends of justice. Once the offense is discovered and it reaches the courts, it is a matter of the People against the accused. Mute and sometimes blind to their duty, the people in most cases do not demand of the courts the rights in such situations; but in their private criticism of public officials, they remain silent when they should go to the authorities and let them know of their interest in law-enforcement and in the work of cleaning up their communities. Yet they have rights which are important.

Prestonburg's hoodlums and panders and all such who might be classed as petty criminals should be arrested and given jury trials and jailed, if convicted.

Prestonburg needs a jail—and, on occasion, a well-populated one.

The Responsibility Still Remains

NOW that coal men have defeated, by one means or another, a law requiring them to repair the soil stripping so sorely damages, they have a chance to show themselves capable of abiding by rules of good business conduct, purely on a voluntary basis.

If they voluntarily adopt a code of conduct as pertaining to the soil of their state and to the debt they owe Kentucky, they may make unnecessary those statutes which they claim would impose on them an onerous burden. They would, at any rate, prove to the public that they are not "robber-barons," bent on taking and giving nothing in return. Eastern Kentucky coal men, among whom are few strip-mine operators, have been used as whipping boys in the fight to defeat legislation Western Kentucky coal operators feared. They "went along" with the strip-mine men, acquiescing to a policy which does the industry as a whole no good in the eyes of the public.

Their support contributed to the defeat of a good bill in which Governor Weatherby was deeply interested.

Operators of this section should insist on adoption by strip-mining men of a code for conservation which is workable for them and satisfactory to those interested in preservation of what is left after the coal is gone.

The first court held in Kentucky was convened in Harrodsburg in September of 1777.

CLENNIE LAYS AN EGG WITH HIS IDEA OF PAYING OFF HIS INCOME TAX DEBT BY SENDING COLLECTOR SURPLUS EGGS

WILLIAMS, Ky., March 29—Clennie Holton the flea-biting operator of a country store at Williams, Ky., did not owe the government any income tax but he was liable for a country tax for himself.

This he figured was about $32.25. "Did you know I can't get a cent to my name?" Clennie wrote the tax collector. "I can't raise chickens," he continued, "but raising chickens is a failure. I got plenty of eggs but no market around Williams."

"Send me three dozen eggs around here. . . I'll just pay you fifteen off in eggs. You can close to it. I'll mark them and strap the eggs for money."

"I can't use any more eggs but I am sending you my personal check for $5 which is above the market value for eggs. You are not getting my surplus eggs," replied Clennie. The revenue collector explained the purpose of this law is to make card

Doctors' Fees Cause Most Misunderstanding, Speaker Reminds Group

Misunderstanding growing out of fees charged for professional services rendered by physicians consists the largest single item of grievances that the Professional Relations Committee of the Kentucky State Medical Association is called upon to consider.

The statement was made by Clark Bailey, M.D., Harlan, president of the Association, in commenting on the work of this committee which handles grievances and is beginning its third year of service to the public and the medical profession.

Responsibility for such misunderstanding is shared equally between the profession and the public. Bailey said the experience of the committee showed, he suggested that when families, in understanding, do not understand, the doctor should be notified in advance before the service is rendered.

This is not possible in some surgical and other types of cases. Bailey pointed out the committee holds in complete confidence all names and information relative to complaints submitted to it. Any grievance that is submitted should be typewritten and sent to the state secretary or to any member of the committee.

Sure, Egg Prices are Low...

but chicks started now should make good money next fall

1. Low egg prices in the spring have always been followed by high egg prices in the fall. In 1950 U. S. average egg prices fell to 30.7c in the spring. By fall the price was up to 57.7c.
2. A billion more eggs will be needed next year. Every year there are 2 1/2 million more people in the U. S. than the year before. They need a billion more eggs. Your market is always expanding.
3. Chicks started now should be profitable pullets next fall. They should start to lay in September just when egg prices usually start to hit their peak.
4. Don't be misled by today's low egg prices. Start good chicks. Start your usual number of chicks. Start them right now. Grow them right on Purina Starfeed and a Growing Chow. Next fall you will have pullets that should make good money all fall and winter.

WHEELWRIGHT PRESENTS BOYS' CHORUS

The Department of American Homes with Mrs. H. M. Wilkinson, Sp. S. chairman presented Mrs. Wheeler's music program at the March meeting of the Wheelwright Woman's Club. Mrs. Wheeler, a Prestonsburg woman and an artist in her community, proved her ability before a large group of subscribers and their guests. Her program pertained to development of music appreciation in the home, which was opened by the playing of her two little daughters. Simple, mother taking the lead and both children seemed to have a keen sense of enjoyment in music, which Mrs. Wheeler said was the result when children were led and encouraged in music appreciation.

Mrs. Wheeler presented Master Randall Wells, a member of her boys' chorus, in a solo number accompanied by him at the piano, further developing her idea of appreciation in the home. She presented her boys' chorus of 12 voices in several numbers. This chorus is made up of Masters: Richard Archambault, Johnnie Mack Cookey, Roger D. Collins, Robin Phillip Goble, Joe Low, Harlan, Lowell Mackenzie, Mark K. Music, Jimmie Rowe, Earl Spurrlock, Joe P. Talbot III, Randall Wells and Chuck W. Wheeler.

During the short business session a letter was read from the Jenkins Woman's Club, inviting the club to its silver tea. A reminder of the times for the club are to be paid in April this year instead of May, as formerly, was given to the club by Mrs. Conley, the president. The nominating committee reported the following slate of officers for the coming year: Mrs. Lyman Jones, president; Mrs. Charles Wilson, vice-president; Mrs. Robert Allen, recording secretary; Mrs. Bobbie Conroy, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Joe Fannin, treasurer.

The club donated $75 to the Girl Scout drive.

Refreshments were served to Mrs. Wheeler, her two little daughters, Mrs. Charles Wheeler, the members of the boy's chorus, little Miss Alice Clark and the members of the club.

Sessions of strawberries in Pike county are expected to total 25 acres this year.

BETSY LAYNE WOMAN'S CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS

The Betsy Layne Woman's Club held its regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. W. P. Howell. Due to the absence of the program leader, Mrs. Alex Davis, Mrs. Beecher Hardwick, president of the club, was in charge of the program. Mrs. Hardwick read Mrs. Davis' opening talk, in which she discussed the main objective of the club, which is to bring about better understanding in this field by writing letters to women abroad, by contributions to the General Aid fund and by sending CARES packages to Korea. The international relations department of the GFWC has sponsored two projects this year and Mrs. Glenn Blackburn, secretary, caused these two projects—back-ground conference on U. S. foreign policy and Mexican-American relations to be held February through March 23 in Mexico.

The next topic for discussion was the presentation by Mrs. Arthur Van Kammen of an article, "Welcome Letters." This discussion gave club members an idea as to how much the German-American Women's Club in Munich, Bavaria, U. S. acccomplishes its aims and ambitions. The feature of the program was an auspicious visit to three foreign countries with Mrs. Fredrick Beggs, chairman.

The visits, received by Miss Mrs. Glenn Blackburn next gave discussion on "A Mountain of History", in which was stressed the importance of understanding "how" and why our present world situation developed. Mrs. W. P. Howell presented a debate on "The Great Debate of 1951". The fact that we all want peace, want to preserve our freedom and our way of life was stressed. Mrs. Howell also brought out the fact that we are under attack on every front and that the nature of the attack is not always clear in every instance.

Mrs. O. J. Williams gave a talk on the United Nations, the organization that is devoted entirely to peace. Mrs. Williams discussed the fact that the world needs to know the reality of the United Nations and the purpose of the organization. The program was concluded with a talk by Mrs. T. J. Chalmers on "Credo for 1952"—build a new world.

Mrs. Hardwick presided at the business session. Committees for the April and May meetings were appointed and each member was urged to attend. Miss Clara Shaw, treasurer, KFWC, will be the guest-speaker. The recent meeting of the Cancer Society held at Hindman was discussed and plans for the forthcoming cancer drive were made. Medaemon T. J. Chandler, Beecher Hardwick, Edward Lokins and Miss Alice Williams attended the meeting in Hindman. The chair-report on money collected from the plastic hearts placed in stores in this community and vicinity. Arrangements are to be made to have the flag of the United States displayed in the community on patriotic holidays. The club will observe Citizenship Day on May 26. The plan of work in the Spiritual Values department was read and discussed.

Officers were elected as follows: Mrs. Beecher Hardwick, president; Mrs. Glenn Blackburn, vice-president; Mrs. W. P. Howell, secretary-treasurer.

At the conclusion of the business meeting a dessert plate was served the following members: Medaemon Beecher Hardwick, O. J. Williams, Arthur Van Karmen, Edward Lokins, T. J. Chandler, Glenn Blackburn, Miss Alice Williams and the hostess Mrs. Howell.

The next regular meeting will be held April 17, at the home of Mrs. T. J. Chandler, program leader.

PIKE COUNTY HEARS OWN REPRESENTATIVE OPPOSE BILL DESIGNED TO ACCREDIT HIM

Senator Doug Hays' bill to make possible a dentist's license for Grover C. Bentley, of Pike county, met largely through the efforts of a Pike county legislator.

While Representative Henry C. Hale, of this county, and George F. Harris, Salem, Ky., argued for the Hays bill, which passed the Senate, Sen. Adams, Jr., an almost blind legislator from Pike county, and himself a dentist, sank for the second and perhaps the last time Bentley's hopes of attaining accreditation in his profession.

He produced records which he said revealed more than 25 years of fraudulent and illegal practice by Bentley in three states—Arkansas, Tennessee, and Kentucky.

The House reacted by a vote of 42 to 15, to approve the bill. It would have required the State Board of Dental Examiners to issue a license to Bentley.

This was the third time since 1948 that the General Assembly has been asked to intervene in Bentley's behalf. In 1948 a resolution was approved by the Legislature directing the State Board to issue a permit to Bentley. But the Court of Appeals later threw it out on the grounds it was special legislation.

Henry C. Hale, pleaded for the bill. Hale showed a photograph he identified as a picture of the 1907 graduating class of the University of Louisville College of Dentistry. Bentley's picture was in the group, Hale added.

Bentley contends he graduated from the Louisville school but because of a fight with one of his professors the night before graduation this teacher refused to sign his diploma.

Hale asked the members to "help this old gentleman who isn't going to live two many more long years." But Dr. Adams dealt the final blow to the bill by stinging records of the Court of Appeals, the State Board, and the college which he said would show that Bentley did not make up by repeating the course.

2. After leaving school in 1907, Bentley practiced dentistry on a house-to-house basis in Kentucky.

3. In 1915 Bentley somehow obtained the license that he presented to a Dr. John M. Bentley and moved to Arkansas. There he practiced dentistry until 1923, when the Arkansas State Board discovered

WHAT'S THIS?—BARKLEY TO HEAD DELEGATES FROM KANSAS TO REPUBLICAN CONVENTION!

LEXINGTON, Va., March 17 (Sp.)—Barkley J. Sturgill, of Prestonsburg, Ky., will be the chairman of the Kansas delegation of 22 students to the head Republican convention to be held at Washington, D.C., University, April 28-29. Members of the mock convention will stage a realistic simulation of the national GOP convention to be held this summer in Chicago.

As "state GOP chairman" Sturgill will have the responsibility of determining as nearly as possible the voting policy to be followed in the real-life national convention. This close investigation by student leaders into actual political developments injects an element of realism and accuracy into the mock convention. Five times since its inception as an adolescent, forty-four years ago, the W & L men have tagged a "nominee" and seen the choice later sustained in the genuine national conventions.

Only four "bum steers" have been charged against the student politicians in their nine quadrennial attempts in their nine quadrennial attempts.

By TED KESTING

Most of us think of the mountain lion as a "western animal, and it comes as something of a surprise to learn that it still lives in the East too. There is a small colony in Florida, and a full-sized one in New Brunswick. More surprising is the fact that in the north-east in limit of their range the mountain lion—or panther or cougar or catamount—are more numerous than ever because of the increasing number of deer on which they largely depend for winter food.

Dr. William Long, noted naturalist, spent some time in the West just to study their habits. One of the most interesting items in his report concerns "scrapes." These are wood-splashed piles of earth or pine needles in which the lion leaves his sign, probably by spilling urine. Ben Lilly, famous western hunter, reports that he saw a lion make a scrape with his hind feet. But Long says some scrapes are certainly made by the big front paws, as indicated by pug mark or wood-scar marks.

To the question of why scrapes are made, no positive answer can be given. Long thinks they are the work of a male lion after he has killed and eaten. His purpose (probably instinctive) is either to tell any female lion that with him she still have good hunting or else like a dog wolf, he leaves his sign to tell any hungry lion how to find food by following the "real" lion's tracks.

Can Long's of Long's was to learn how a lion kills big game, he says he had the luck to catch one of it. The lion has plenty of speed, but not much endurance because his small lungs make him short-winded. If chased after eating he takes quickly to a tree, not having learned how to empty his stomach as a lion can, as a fox or wild dog. I have heard that a lion sprays upon the back of a deer; then, holding on by grip of his teeth, he slashes out a paw to grasp the head and twists it back, breaking the deer's neck and killing him instantly.

This may be the lion's method in some cases, but Long doubts it because of the dozen or more kills he examined, not one had a broken neck. Without exception, they showed deep gashes that slashed from the neck down and across one side. The deer had died from opened blood vessels, and probably without any feeling of pain because of the shock caused by the paralyzing blow of the lion's leap.

Crappie Limit Upped Thru New Regulation

Frankfort, Ky., March 24 (SPL)—Two emergency regulations affecting the crappie limit of crappie or newlights and the sealing of minnows from creeks have been re-adopted by the State Game and Fish Commission and were effective as of March 23, the date of expiration of the present regulation governing the same.

The announcement by the Director of the Division of Game and Fish points out that due to an over-population of crappie or newlights in most Kentucky waters, the fisherman will be permitted to take a limit of 30 of this species each day or have in his possession 60 provided he has fished two or more consecutive days.

The other regulation prevents the sealing of minnows from a stream for sale. The regulation does not prevent any resident from sealing minnows from creeks for private use, but a person may not have more than 500 creek minnows of any species or in aggregate in his possession at any time. Neither does the regulation prevent the taking of shad minnows for commercial purposes in any quantity for exportation. Dale Hollow and Kentucky Lakes and all streams under lock and dam but not above the last lock and dam upstream.

LAWYERS, JUDGES TO SEE PROCEDURE DEMONSTRATION

Kentucky lawyers and judges will be given the opportunity to observe a preview of "the most important step in judicial proceedings in Kentucky in 50 years" at the Ohio valley regional meeting of the American Bar Association, April 9-12 in Louisville.

Amos Eiben, Frankfort, executive Council, said the pre-trial conferences approved by the 1952 Legislature and expected to be included in the new Kentucky Code of Practice effective January 1, 1953, "will expedite litigation and thereby benefit the entire public of Kentucky." Eiben explained the pre-trial conferences are meetings between judges and opposing lawyers in legal proceedings in order to obtain a clear statement of issues and to "throw out" matters that are immaterial and "likely to waste the time of judges, lawyers and citizens involved."

The Judicial Council is the "executive committee" of the Judicial Conference, a body of all circuit judges in Kentucky. Eiben said all circuit judges in Kentucky had been invited to attend the pre-trial demonstration and that all lawyers within the several circuits had been invited to attend. The demonstration had been scheduled for Friday, April 11, at 2:30 p.m. in U.S. Court Room No. 1, Federal Bldg., 6th and Broadway. Judge Douglas Garrett, of the States Court, District of Columbia, recognized as the leading authority on pre-trial conferences, will be in charge of the demonstration. Law, Mr. Del Bryant DeRossette, who has been confined to bed for the past week with flu, returned to school this week. Alex and Gerald DeRossette were in Pikeville on business, Saturday.

Eiben said pre-trial conferences are "a national trend" and are being adopted gradually in all states. The procedure has been adopted already in the Federal courts.

The 1952 Legislature passed a bill allowing the Court of Appeals to amend the old Kentucky legal code and put the new code in practice. The code revision committee is working on the new Code and it must be approved by the Courts and the Legislature before the pre-trial conference is a "permissive" section of the new Code.

The Kentucky Judicial Conference, scheduled a meeting at 9 p.m., Thursday, April 10, to discuss "general administration of justice" in Kentucky. Eiben called the conference "the first meeting of all circuit judges of Kentucky, in Louisville, in conjunction with the annual meeting of the Kentucky Bar Association."

Other outstanding speakers at the Ohio Valley regional meeting will be John Foster Dulles, author of the Japanese peace treaty; Judge Harold R. Medina, famed communist trial jurist; James E. Webb, former Under-secretary of State; Howard L. Barkdull, Cleveland, president of the American Bar Association; Leroy A. Lincoln, New York, chairman of the board, Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. and Nathan P. Feinsinger, chairman of the Wage Stabilization Board.

BOND ISSUE INVALIDATED
Legal consternation was thrown into Bowling Green's city government by the Court of Appeals when it invalidated an $85,000 bond issue for hospital improvements because the city had not taken proper steps to convert from third-class to second-class form of government after the 1950 General Assembly changed the town's classification.

(Last Week's Correspondence)

Patty Ann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Taylor, of Prestonsburg, spent the day with Billie and Peggy Marshall, Wednesday.

Also likely affected by the ruling is an ordinance by which a large portion of territory was annexed to the city after the change would have taken place.
