This Town... That World

SUGGESTION FOR JULY 4TH
Citizens of Prestonsburg and other Floyd county towns which have no Fourth of July programs planned should join the people of Martin and Garrett in their celebration of the Fourth. The arguments of some people to the contrary, we are all Floyd citizens. Friendly feeling and better acquaintance will be made to the better of all. It is suggested that the people of Martin and Garrett be invited to join the people of Prestonsburg in their celebration of the Fourth.

HOW TO KEEP COOL
The weather is so hot that the means of relief falling, you might try literary devices such as those to put yourself in the right frame of mind.
"Her glance filled him..." "her eyes were like a breath of cool air off a far mountain peak..." "It isn't that hot, it's just a little warm..." "I suggest you try out the old one and to your own accompaniment begin yodeling..." "These then could 'finger' off me."

DIVERSION FROM THE FARM
This is the time of year when city folks ship the children off to relatives out in the country. We heard of a guy building up a pretty good business selling a form letter to country cousins to take their urban kin, just to forestall such visitation. It ran something like this:
"Dear Maggie and John:
I know those old darlings of yours must be sitting in the city here. You should let them come stay with us the remainder of the summer."

1953 BUDGET UP BY $7,000

Debt Service Fund Up, Roads Spending Reduced by $23,500

Floyd county's budget for the new fiscal year which began Wednesday provides for the expenditure of $214,000 as compared with the $207,000 actually spent during the fiscal year just ended.
Heaviest increases of expenditures on individual items will be on debt service. The budget, which has been approved by W. M. Seale, state finance officer, and which received the fiscal court's O. K. at Tuesday's meeting, provides for payment of $27,000 on debt service from the general fund, as compared with $18,000 last year, and $10,000 to be spent on road and bridge fund debt service which $18,000 was spent during the preceding fiscal year.
The largest cut in expenditures was on highways, with $30,000 budgeted for that purpose. Last year actual road expenditures totaled $25,000.
Other items in the budget for the new fiscal year:
General government, $50,000; protection to person and property, $17,000; health and sanitation, $17,000; hospitals, charities and corrections, $8,500; libraries and other educational activities, $2,500; miscellaneous, $80,000—all this from the general fund, forestry, $2,000.

PER CAPITA POPULATION DROP COSTS

Rate Down 30 Cents, Floyd Loses $26,266; 15 Counties Are Hit

For the school year which began Wednesday the per capita support of education by the state will be $310.10 per child, 30 cents less than last year's rate, it was announced in a report by the State Board of Education.

Reason for the drop is that there are more school-age children this year than last. The total amount to be distributed will be the same. But Floyd county, which lost a school population of 570, will receive $26,266 less than last year. From this fund, which is for teachers' salaries and for other purposes, last year's $308.40 rate was paid per child.

The Independent Prestonsburg district had a school population gain of eight, which will result in the district receiving $186.00 more in per capita funds this year than last. The total per capita fund for Prestonsburg, City Superintendent Charles Prater said, will be $32,244.00. Fifteen county school districts, including many of the coal-mining areas, will lose $10,000 or more in per capita funds because of heavy population losses.

In addition to Floyd, these counties and their losses are: Harlan, $77,100; Boone, $66,000; Pike, $55,513; Perry, $49,976; Muhlenberg, $20,564; Bell, $20,512; Knox, $18,984; Lincoln, $18,000; Adair, $16,476; McCreary, $15,552; Johnson, $12,584; Breathitt, $12,000; Knott, $10,454; and Christian, $10,000.

Losses in school populations in these counties was: Adair, 342; Bell, 460; Breathitt, 308; Christian, 234; Harlan, 650; Johnson, 381; Knott, 271; Knox, 441; Letcher, 508; Lincoln, 308; McCreary, 316; Muhlenberg, 408; Perry, 650; and Pike, 500.

The $308.10 per capita was announced by Wendell P. Butler, superintendent of public instruction. Butler remarked that the money would be added to $2,300,000 actually attending public schools, while in another district (Breathitt) it would amount to $128.42 per child actually in school.

(Murray, with 1,148 children between 6 and 18, had 1,084 or 90 percent of three children in average daily attendance last year. Beechwood, in Kenton county, has 941 common children, but fewer than a third, 242, are in average daily attendance.)

Butler emphasized that Kentucky voters in November "will have the opportunity and responsibility of changing this inequitable method of apportioning funds."

OUSTER SUIT FILING ASKED

Attorney General Asks Combs To Seek Ouster Of Three In Martin-Co.

C. Kilmer Combs, Prestonsburg attorney, was authorized last week to file ouster proceedings against two members of the Martin county Board of Education on the grounds they were illegally appointed. He was directed by Attorney General J. D. Backman to file the suit in the Attorney General's name against Mrs. Howard Preece and Oscar Harmon.

The Attorney General's action was based on a request by Combs and an affidavit filed by three school employees—Sheldon Clark, superintendent; Delbert Kirk, attendance officer; and George Blankenship.

TIME RUNNING OUT ON BOARD

In Work of Purgatory; Independents To Lose Vote at Aug. Election

The Floyd County Board of Education is in a purgatory of indecision. The board, which is made up of 11 members, has been in session for the last day of its preliminary work, but it has no hope of having time to challenge the new independent candidates who have no party affiliation assigned them on the registration books.

The board will not challenge the new candidates because the voters would not have time to appear and establish their party connection. The board has asked that the new candidates be assigned to a party affiliation. A party affiliation is men who became of voting age in military service and applied for absentee ballots. The application form used in such cases has no line for party affiliation. It was said.

In the 22 precincts whose voting lists were inspected by the purgation board this week and last, there were 144 such voters. The other 31 may move as many more. The voting lists for the other precincts had not been compiled in time for inspection. It was explained.

The status of these voters whose cards are marked neither Republican nor Democrat will be left to the discretion of the precinct election officers at the primary, it was indicated.

The board, however, has submitted to the County Clerk the names of 153 voters who changed their party affiliation since the last general election and has asked that their registration be suspended until the November election. This action was taken on advice of the Attorney General who pointed out that voters changing parties after a general election are not eligible to vote at the following primary.

PERKINS ASKS AID FOR AREA

Proposals Gain Favor Of Secretary Dinkin; Labor Surplus Cited

The plan of Congressman Carl D. Perkins for action to relieve the unemployment situation in the Prestonsburg-Pikeville area was answered last week by Secretary of Labor Dinkin with a promise to help what he could do about the proposals submitted by the Congressman.

Perkins proposed:
1. Give the two areas a Group IV labor market rating as areas having a substantial labor surplus. This Group IV rating would give the areas certain advantages in bidding on government "procurement" contracts.
2. Push the Labor Department's proposal to the Administration that fast tax amortization be allowed new plants built in distressed areas such as this. The rapid tax write-offs are now permitted only to new defense plants. If extended to other types of plants, it would encourage new industry to go into distressed areas.

Congressman Perkins said he found Dinkin interested "and very sympathetic." Dinkin volunteered to forward to the Kentucky Chamber of Commerce the name of any company planning expansion.

The Prestonsburg labor area includes Floyd, Johnson, Knott, Magoffin and Martin counties. The Pikeville area is restricted only to Pike county because of its extensive area.

Perkins said his proposal, if adopted, would not be a cure-all but would mean a few days more work for miners.

"Painting a gloomy picture of conditions in the section, the Congressman said, Dinkin said that there are thousands of East Kentuckians who are victims of economic developments centered beyond their control that unemployment had reached alarming proportions and many miners are working only one day a week.

Feud-Leader Was 'Nice, Old Man' Rev. Parsons Says of His Friend

Soldier men of the cloth grant that Devil Anas Hatfield had many virtues at all. Most ministers concur that he was a peace-loving, friendly and a shrewd in general. But not the Rev. Henry Parsons of Bealeysville, N. H. Parsons was an employee of Devil Anas for six years, and in the evening of the old feud-leader's life, when the years had mellowed him, he came to the home of the minister and ate many a meal. "He was a clever old man, but heartless, but high-spirited," said the Rev. Parsons. "He was a real nice old man."

New Court Procedure Cuts Legal Red-Tape

A divorce action was the first filed in the Floyd circuit court Wednesday under the new, streamlined Kentucky rules of court procedure, and it will be well for the defendant to be on his or her toes.

Perkins proposed:
1. Give the two areas a Group IV labor market rating as areas having a substantial labor surplus. This Group IV rating would give the areas certain advantages in bidding on government "procurement" contracts.
2. Push the Labor Department's proposal to the Administration that fast tax amortization be allowed new plants built in distressed areas such as this. The rapid tax write-offs are now permitted only to new defense plants. If extended to other types of plants, it would encourage new industry to go into distressed areas.

The new rules, which were adopted by the Kentucky Circuit Court Judges Association, will be in effect by July 1, 1954.

BOARD, COURT TO VOID PACT

With Louisville Firm, Bond Representative In School Financing

The Floyd County Board of Education and the Fiscal Court acting this week to break their contract with the W. C. Thornburgh Company of Louisville, in the attempted sale of bonds to finance school construction here.

The action was taken in the hope that a new bond representative may be found which can effect sale of the $445,000 bond issue necessary for the construction of a county high school building grounds. A school site, with 100 acres, was selected last week by the board.

The board, at its meeting last week, called on the court to adopt resolutions to revoke the contract. The court did by unanimous vote the following day.

Under a contract signed July 5, 1950, the board and the court employed the Louisville firm as bond representative under these conditions:

1. The company to employ a recognized bond counsel who would prepare all resolutions, leases, mortgages and other instruments necessary for the sale of the bonds.

2. The bonds to be redeemable prior to maturity at a price agreed by the county and state board of education.

3. The W. C. Thornburgh company to be paid for its services $10 per $100,000 worth of bonds sold, and the company to proceed with all reasonable promptness to sell the bonds.

HORNE LOSES BALLOT SPOT

Candidacy Is Voided By Circuit Court As He Fails To Appear

Walker Horne, the West Prestonsburg man whose candidacy for Sheriff on the Democratic ticket was attacked in a recent court case, Monday lost his place on the ballot.

He failed to appear for the hearing on an injunction motion, and the court voided his candidacy. The court did by unanimous vote the following day.

Under a contract signed July 5, 1950, the board and the court employed the Louisville firm as bond representative under these conditions:

JUDGE HANDS DOWN RULINGS IN FIVE CASES

Judge Gramman Plans To Remain Here Till Hearings Completed

Despite an effort by the Floyd County Court to remove Judge Gramman from the bench, the judge plans to remain here until all cases have been decided.

These decisions have been handed down during the first two days of the week.

1. Upheld the appeal of Commonwealth's ex-officio, Burns Martin from the Floyd Circuit Court order of last March setting aside the $120,000 salary supplement the county voted on Sept. 1, 1950. Judge Gramman ruled that the salary supplement was not a salary supplement but a bonus.

2. Dismissed the petition of the Thompsons against the County Attorney, W. B. Hensley, for failing to come to trial during the first two days of the hearings.

3. Ruled that the fiscal court could not dismiss A. B. Davidson as county detective. Davidson was appointed by the Commonwealth's attorney, W. B. Hensley, and the fiscal court could not dismiss him.

4. Dismissed the Tax League's appeal from the fiscal court's settlement with County Attorney W. B. Hensley. The settlement was made on motion of the county attorney.

MUD-CR. GIRL SHOOT'S SELF

Viola Adkins, Galveston, Victim of Revolver Shot From a 'Worthless' Gun

Viola Adkins, 16, Galveston, dressed in her best clothes lay down on a bed at home and shot herself early this morning with a 38-caliber revolver. The bullet passed completely through her body and the mistress of the bed. She died almost immediately. It was said that she was a worthless girl.

Frank Crum, deputy sheriff, who investigated, was told that the girl seemed in her regular clothes and went to a neighbor's home, planning to pick berries. While there she made excuses to return for something. Upon her arrival at home she re-dressed and aimed the revolver in such bad condition that it was considered worthless by the family.

She was a daughter of an attorney, Mr. J. H. Adkins, who survived. Surviving are the following brothers and sisters: Frank, in Ohio; Quentin, Galveston; and Melvin, Mrs. Florence Newcomb Teberry, and Mrs. Mary Hall, Galveston. A half-sister, Laura Adkins, at home, survived.

cases was not entered till this week, however.

Four Tax League suits, those against W. W. Rutherford, Harry Stumbo, John Chris Cornett and members of the local court whose terms expired in 1950 remain in the hands of Special Judge Lawrence P. Spackman.

"Here, everything is lovely. The hottest day we've had, it was only in the shade. The electric line is out and we have no fan or refrigeration, but they assure us the power will be on again in time for hog-killing and use of our deep-freezer."

"Your darling youngsters are down here as they will, and no worry about the dangers of traffic. We have never snakes this year than usual. Only two rattlers have ventured into our yard all year. And that red bull of our neighbor's doesn't get into our pasture more than once a week. Besides, he has slowed up a step in the last year. And your darlings are wonderful tree-climbers."

"Do let the children come Aunt Sophronia is with us, but we will make room. We'll let her come stay with you while the children enjoy country life with us. She isn't any trouble whatever, except at night. I (Mary) sleep with her, since she wakes in her sleep and always bumps up the match-box and tries to start a fire in the middle of the living room. She's a wonderful bed-fellow — if she only wasn't afraid of the night air and didn't insist on the windows being closed."

"John and Mary"

GIVE IT TO THEM

The United States now is counting its wheat in the billions of bushels, with little or no storage room left. This is a case of starvation in the midst of plenty. It is not we who are starving but the people of other parts of the world. That wheat can't possibly do us any good. So why keep it? Why not give it to those who are starving? We would not suggest food for Red China or for Russia, but human beings in other lands are hungry and this is a national sin if we hoard our unneeded wealth of food and play the Dime to their lamp."

UNMEDICAL DIAGNOSIS

When I pulled up lame this week with a charley-horse (result of spraining from my chair with unwieldy slatery) an acquaintance wanted to know what was the trouble.

Somebody suggested the Jake-leg, and the inquirer responded, "Wouldn't be surprised. This place is so dry I've been expecting them to start drinking that stuff."

IN HIS USUAL FORM

Yale Editor, Gordon Moore, writes from Florida, continuing about the "bass" he and his friends are catching down there and to inform me I can have Dorey Lake, its bass and small bluegill, or whatever. This about bluegill down there as he tells me must have emigrated from Texas, and like the true fisherman he is, winds up with a whooper to the effect that he "threw a two-pounder back because the general consensus of opinion was it wasn't a keeper."

He also leaves one son, David P. Fitzgerald, and one daughter, Miss Lavaine Fitzgerald, both of Prestonburg, and a nephew, Edward Clayburn, Yaleville, Michigan. Three brothers, Lee and Richard C. Fitzgerald, both of West Prestonburg, and Henry Fitzgerald, Russell, Ky., are also mentioned. He is married, Mrs. M. T. Stumbo, West Prestonburg, and a half-brother Isaac Henry Fitzgerald, also survive.

The funeral was conducted at 11 a.m. today (Thursday) at the Presbyterian Church here by the pastor, the Rev. Orville Pearson, and the Rev. Isaac Stratton officiating. Burial was made in the Jack Arnett cemetery on Middle Creek under direction of the Carter & Callahan Funeral Home.

"TO CONQUER GRIEF"

A courageous, realistic and comforting message for those who are bereaved and sorrowing is voiced by Catherine Marshall in the July Reader's Digest.

Mrs. Marshall is the widow of the late Peter Marshall, former chaplain of the U. S. Senate. For a time after her husband's death she believed, as do millions of bereaved persons, that life could never again be worth living. "Yet," she writes, "I can testify that today I am truly happy with a deep, satisfying contentment. That happiness by no means diminishes Peter. It is exactly as he would have it."

This strength from deeper came, Mrs. Marshall says, through certain steps of confession, and through prayer that the "tragedy which I did not understand would nonetheless be my grief for good."

In her letter the author learned that the first really helpful step was to face up to the fact that her grief was essentially selfish. "Most of us grieve not for the interrupted happiness of our loved one, but because of our loneliness and need. Scarcely deal with them as you deal with self-pity. Confess them once by one to God, have them forgiven and forget them, even as God has promised to do."

Grief is sickness of the spirit, and God alone is physician to the spirit, Mrs. Marshall writes. Out of her own sorrow she has brought into her life, through prayer, "the definite feeling of still being loved, cherished and cared for. It is a great reality, the most comforting and sustaining force of my life."

GOOD GOVERNMENT LEAGUE
AND MR. TAXPAYER,
DO YOU WANT TO SAVE
AND PAY LESS TAXES?

Then stop the "fiddlin' and vote for Fiddlin' Dewey Shepherd, the man who has no equal when it comes to economy; a man who can and will restore harmony among the "warriors" of the various political groups striving to conquer and devour each other by mere paper ammunition.

Rumors and reports from various sections lead us to believe a lot of "fiddlin' around" has been going on at the court house, but these are the fiddlers who have no ear for the one-gallus man who must toil by the sweat of his brow; this type of "fiddlers" is out of tune with the demands of the taxpayer, out of tune with all the people. Elect a real Fiddler who will get things back in tune and restore peace and good-will; a man who is in sympathy with the poor and humble.

I was born and reared on Open Fork of Middle Creek, am married and have eight children and have always had only the bare necessities of life; if I elected your next Sheriff, I ask for no more from you Mr. Taxpayer, I want no riches, fine homes, city ham or fine automobiles and above all NO CONSTITUTIONAL LIMIT, as this amount is more than I could use if I had it. All I need, want or expect to receive as your next sheriff:

1. To serve the people of my county and make a record that will out-live me.
2. Sufficient table groceries for my family each year not to exceed $2,000.00; you can see we are not accustomed to fancy trimmings and "center cut steaks."
3. Clothing not to exceed $1,000.00 when I take prisoners to LaGrange.
4. Small sum of $17.50 estimated cost of fiddle strings and rosin, which is much better than paying for "dangeroos" to submit to music and good reason.
5. No commission for collecting school taxes. Our schools never give me any and get more too.
6. No deputies who carry big pistols to arrest an offender, as good treatment will command respect; if force must be used, then the Sheriff should take over.
7. Each community will be given the right to select its own deputy, whether my friend or enemy.
8. I pledge to and will turn over to the County Treasurer all funds coming into my hands over and above the amount set out herein, which is calculated to save the Taxpayers of Floyd county the sum of $16,730.00 in four years.
9. I pledge my support to all those old pledges and slogans by all candidates that have not been fulfilled but renewed afresh every four years or any new ones that might become standard in this campaign which is for the betterment of the one-gallus man.
10. My habits, honesty and integrity, if challenged by either of my opponents, will be fully placed before the people for their decision.

If either of my opponents will pledge to save the taxpayers a like sum, I will withdraw from this race and support that candidate.

COUNCIL SCOUTS TO PRESENT PAGEANT AT NATIONAL CAMP

over $500. He enters a general denial. Then, by mail, you demand that he admit certain facts; that you worked for him; that he paid you $10 a day; that he owes you for 50 days. Within 10 days, he must either specifically deny or admit each allegation under oath.

If he is proved false on any of them after he has been put to such expense as getting a lawyer and bringing in witnesses, then part of the case will be assessed against him. Besides, he might be prosecuted for the false statement.

Under new rule, there will be no excuse for a lawyer to be caught by surprise when a case comes to trial. The lawyer's power of discovery, or ability to learn beforehand what evidence the other side will offer, has been widened considerably.

Without leave of the court, lawyers can question by pre-trial deposition not only the persons named in a suit, as now permitted, but other persons involved, or even persons who may not be qualified witnesses themselves, but who may be able to tell others who could give admissible testimony. A lawyer may question under oath, an opposing attorney on any record he plans to use in a case. He may question him about his list of prospective witnesses, and then go to question those witnesses.

Here's another case cited to show how procedure has been changed:

A circuit court jury awarded damages to a man injured in an automobile accident. But, to the man's dismay, he found he could not collect on the award.

In making up the pleadings before trial, his attorney had neglected to enter a denial to an allegation that the injured man shared in blame for the accident. On the second day of the jury's award, in a later settlement of his suit, he got much less.

Similar technicalities, along with a lot of "fool delays" in readying cases for trial, will be junked by the streamlined rules, patterned after federal court procedures.

The 36 new rules are relatively simple, as compared with the 400 rules of the 100-year-old Kentucky Civil Code which the new rules supplant.

More power is given judges and lawyers to speed up preparation of cases for trial, weed out cases that should not be tried, and reduce the number of jury trials by permitting judges to decide more cases. Actual trial procedure will remain about the same.

Suits filed before Wednesday of this week will be heard under the old rules only if motion is made for such a hearing when the case is called; otherwise, the new rules will apply.

to accept the Louisville firm's proposal on July 4, 1950. The final court's acceptance was on the following day.

The court's resolutions point out that the court advertised the $445,000 bond issue for sale on two occasions and that on both a representative of the W. C. Thornburgh Company, with the company's full content and authority, was present and refused to make any legal bids on the bonds or to sell the bonds to another firm.

It also alleged that the Thornburgh firm had information about the bond sale but refused this information to other bidders. This, the court claims, is why no bids were received. It also contends that since the second advertising of the bond issue the company has made no effort whatever to sell the bonds and has not asked the court to re-advertise them.

The company several weeks ago, at the urging of the county board, reduced its fee from 1% to 3/4%, but the court's resolutions point out, has since demanded that its compensation be increased from 3/4% to 1%, an increase which would have cost the board an additional $17,500. This increase was asked, it is claimed, with the knowledge it was in open and flagrant violation of State Department of Education regulations.

The court's resolutions added: "Since time is of the essence in the sale of the bonds, the Board of Education will suffer loss and damages in the sum of $5,000 unless the bonds are sold immediately."

Steps to break the contract were taken by the board and fiscal court on the advice of legal counsel and the State Department of Education.

Henry C. Hale Denies Rumor

During the course of any campaign at least one of the candidates will, instead of running a campaign on his own merits, try to discredit the candidacy of some other opponent in his own right. I do not believe in this kind of campaign and intend to run for the Democratic nomination for the office of County Court Clerk on my own qualifications instead of trying to slur my opponents.

I have been in practically all parts of this county since announcing my candidacy. One rumor being spread by one of my opponents that keeps coming back to me is that I am being ren for the office of County Court Clerk by some person or persons at the courthouse who expect to control the office and share in the financial gain from it when I am elected. THIS IS COMPLETELY UNTRUE AND UTTERLY FALSE.

My record, as I have previously mentioned in my articles in the paper, while serving you as a member of the General Assembly is one of complete independence. I looked at every bill from the standpoint of its effects on the people of Floyd county and voted for it only if it was in their favor.

While I was a member of the legislature, certain persons here and in Frankfort attempted to exert influence on me to the detriment of the people of Floyd county. But I can truthfully say, and the record will bear me out, that such persons were unsuccessful in trying to control me.

I want everybody to be for me in this race and if it should occur that certain persons are for me whom you do not like or approve of, I certainly hope that you will not blame this on me. For I can assure you that if I am elected your Clerk, I will serve you as honestly, courteously and efficiently as I am capable of doing; and will run the office of County Court Clerk, without any control from any person or persons.

Sincerely,
HENRY C. HALE

BREAKS PARK IS DISCUSSED

At Meeting of Officials Of Virginia and Kentucky Conservation Depts.

Elkhorn City, Ky., June 30 — Steps toward development of a two-state park at the Breaks of Sandy were taken Tuesday by Kentucky and Virginia.

Meeting at the grassy picnic area above the Breaks with conservation and park officials of both states and with directors of the Breaks Park Association, the conservation directors of Kentucky and Virginia agreed on a proposed course of action.

The commissioners, Henry Ward of Kentucky and Raymond V. Long of Virginia, concurred that before the two states could join hands in developing the park, a two-state commission would have to be formed and an initial outlay of money appropriated.

Each state legislature, they agreed, would have to name its members to the commission and make an appropriation so that the commission could have a survey made. The survey would determine the acreage desirable, the availability of water, cost of the land, and other important factors.

Commissioner Long estimated it would cost $100,000 to develop the park. Commissioner Ward said he thought Virginia would have to re-route the highway from Hayti, Va., to the Kentucky line by way of the Breaks.

Kentucky has already completed an excellent highway from here to the Virginia line, but the black-top road there on to Hayti is narrow and has sharp curves.

Ward pointed out that before a two-state commission could be formed it would be necessary to have Congressional approval. He said that should not be difficult to obtain. A measure providing such approval is pending in Congress.

Before anything could be accomplished, Commissioners Long and Ward agreed that the project must be studied and considered a great deal more in detail. A survey would help that, he said.

Today's meeting resulted from action taken by Kentucky and Virginia legislatures in 1932. At that time both bodies passed resolutions directing their conservation departments to make preliminary surveys of the Breaks area to determine the feasibility of the two states joining in developing a park there.

State Senator M. M. Long, St. Paul, Va., who presided at the meeting, said, "We want a historic park. Unless we act quickly it will get out of control. It's now or never."

Long is president of the Breaks Park Association. He said that Clinchfield Coal Company, which owns the land in the Breaks area, is sympathetic toward the park idea because the underlying coal cannot be mined profitably.

Other speakers were Kelly J. Rogers, former president of the association; Lon B. Rogers, Pikeville; Norman Christian, Pikeville; and D. S. Siders, Hayti, all directors of the association.

Among others present were Randolph Odell, Virginia State park commissioner; Mrs. Lucy Smith, director of Kentucky State parks; and Gobel W. Newsum, Jr., Pikeville, a director in the association.

BLADES OF BLUEGRASS

By DON FORD

LIMONETON, Ky. — Nightlight is better than flashlight because our flashlight isn't always good as it should be. We ever spilled milk when actually the milk never should have been spilled. . . . a little foresight would have prevented the spilling.

In research work going on here at the University of Kentucky, we have a good example of foresight and how it can keep the milk from being spilled in our new Dairy Center. We milk some very valuable cows. A bad farm fire could destroy those cows and destroy valuable research records, some of which have been years in the making. This was in the mind of officials and architects when the Dairy Center was planned for completion two years ago. The ground floor was built of concrete, brick and tile, with a tough steel and concrete ceiling, which was the floor of the haymow above. This haymow had a capacity of 500 tons of baled hay—quite a lot.

Fire struck in the haymow at 6:30 a.m. Sunday, May 24, probably as a result of lightning damage. The entire haymow or barnmow burned off, with a loss estimated at $75,000 dollars. And what became of the cows? Really almost nothing happened to them. They were driven to an adjoining field and milked by hand. Later, that same afternoon they were driven back into the ground floor of their concrete barn and milked by machine as usual. The cows were safe. All records were safe. The cows gave about the normal amount of milk that evening and research work valuable to Kentucky farmers goes on as usual. There is no reason to be alarmed.

So it is that by reasonable precaution, by good planning, by the exercise of a little foresight, the cows and the facilities for handling the milk were undamaged. Research goes right on and in spite of even a disaster like the University of Kentucky is able to continue the service to the people of the state.

Mrs. Leslie Sentenced To Eight Years in Pen For Killing of Husband

Pikeville, Ky., June 16 — Mrs. Leslie Weddington, who said she must have killed her husband while walking in her sleep, was sentenced to eight years in prison today on a voluntary manslaughter conviction.

Circuit Judge Austin ordered her confined in the Women's Prison near La Grange.

During the 40-year-old housewife's trial, two psychiatrists testified that she was emotionally unstable. Judge Austin ordered her committed to Eastern state hospital for observation and treatment.

Two weeks ago, the hospital notified the court that she was no longer psychotic and she was returned here for sentencing.

Mrs. Weddington shot her husband, Richard Weddington, in the back while he slept at their home on nearby Johns Creek last November 1. She was convicted March 27.

Stumbo Points up Road Program

My opponent in his articles in The Floyd County Times has indicated that during the last 3 1/2 years of my first term as your County Judge that nothing has been done in so far as the construction and improvement of Floyd County's roads. Nothing could be farther from the truth and I take this opportunity of pointing out specifically some of the accomplishments which have been made in regard to Floyd County's Road System.

In saying that Floyd County received its proper share of roads I have made frequent trips to Frankfort in connection with the construction of new roads and improving old ones in the county. I should especially like to point out that since I have been County Judge I have helped to procure rights of way and have attempted to cooperate with the people in Floyd county and officials in Frankfort to obtain more and better roads.

During the last 3 1/2 years and under my supervision, Floyd county has spent in the neighborhood of $50,000.00 to obtain rights of way for the construction of new roads.

To name a few of the roads which have been built while I have been your County Judge:

1. 4 1/2 miles connecting and improving the remainder of the Harold to Ligon-Hill road, or known as the Big Mud Road.
2. Connecting the David to Bruck Creek road.
3. Mouth of Caney on Middle Creek across the

6. Blacktopping 1 1/2 miles on Brandy Keg.
7. Blacktopping road through the town of Anzles.
8. Construction of Jacks Creek Road. Contract let on June 12, 1953.
9. Bull Creek Road contract let for blacktop 2 1/2 miles.
10. Abbott Creek road contract let for blacktop 3 1/2 miles.

11. Prater Creek to Little Mud Road is now under construction.
12. Turkey Creek to mouth of Stone Coal.
13. Sparlock road to Martin.

The two roads mentioned above HAVE BEEN APPROVED FOR CONSTRUCTION:

In addition to the above, the road program supported by the Fiscal Court has been conducted so as to obtain the maximum improvement and construction with the amount of funds available to us.

In this connection I should like to point out that during my term as County Judge the following roads and bridges have been built by funds available to the Fiscal Court from tax money:

14. Constructed 2 miles of road on Little Point.
15. Construction of road now in progress on Left Fork of Abbott Creek.
16. Constructed 1 1/2 miles of road up Sparlock on Middle Creek.
17. Built and improved 2 miles of road on Buekeye on Middle Creek.
18. Constructed 1 1/2 miles of road on Prater Fork of Bruck Creek.
19. Constructed 1 mile of road on Salvers Branch of Salt Lick.
20. Constructed 1 1/2 miles of road on Mill Creek above Wayland.
21. Constructed bridge across Right Beaver Creek at Eastli.

22. Built and improved 2 1/2 miles of road on Prater's Creek.
23. Built 1 mile of road in Buckingham Hollow at Wheeler.
24. Improved 1 mile of road in Brantham Hollow at Wheeler.
25. Constructed bridge across Beaver at mouth of Spewing Camp.
26. Constructed 4 1/2 miles of road up Brantham's Fork on Middle Creek.
27. Constructed a long bridge across Big Sandy River at Irtaw.
28. Built Bridge across Big Mud at Bink Branch.
29. Built Bridge across creek at Arkansas.

The use of the remaining funds available to the Fiscal Court have been and are being used in maintaining the Floyd County road system. These county roads are now more passable than they have ever been.

During the past 3 1/2 years Floyd county has had the greatest road program in the entire history of the county and I challenge anyone to disprove this statement.

I am sure that those persons who are interested in roads can readily see that this record in black and white completely refutes the general accusation of my opponent that nothing has been accomplished in so far as the building and improvement of roads in Floyd county is concerned.

Contrary to what anyone might say about it, the county road machinery has always been used and will be continued to be used only for the benefit of county roads and for the best interest of the public. I can positively state that the county road machinery has never been leased to anyone for private purposes nor has any county road machinery been disposed of illegally. I wish to assure you that those persons employed by the county have performed the duties as conscientiously as we expect them to.

If you feel, as I do, that the record of progress in the improvement and construction of roads in Floyd county has been greater during the 3 1/2 years that I have served as County Judge than at any other time in the history of the county, I earnestly solicit your vote and influence in re-electing me as your County Judge on the Democratic Ticket.

Sincerely,
HENRY STUMBO

Sheriff Frank Crum, Rance Macdonald and Jim Burchfield. He was released Monday under $5,000 bond.

Sheriff A. B. Meade, who was called to the scene of the accident late that night, said he was told by some that Blanton was drinking, but that others said he was sober.

Mr. and Mrs. Akers were at the store of Bert Newsome, a mile away, when the tragedy took place. Akers told The Times this week. He said their first knowledge of the accident came when Chris Mitchell came into the store, carrying a child whose face was so covered by blood that Mitchell thought the boy was his own.

Victim of the accident was a daughter of the late Lily Akers, and she lived with the Vernon Akers family. She has no surviving brothers or sisters. The funeral was conducted Sunday at the graveside in the Bert Newsome cemetery by the Rev. Bert Newsome, Joseph Isaac, Milford Adams and E. W. Hamilton.

A CHANGE For THE BETTER in the office of COUNTY ATTORNEY

Who can defeat the County Attorney now in office? This is a question many voters are asking. The voters are determined to go about the Clean-up job through the peaceful and orderly process of the ballot. And, since there are five candidates for the office of County Attorney, they are looking for the one candidate who can win over the present office holder.

Other candidates for the office will say the same, but we submit with complete sincerity that ROBERT WELLMAN IS THE ONE CANDIDATE WHO CAN AND WILL DEFEAT THE PRESENT COUNTY ATTORNEY.

The people of Floyd County are looking for a young man who has no political scars—who, indeed, is not a politician and one who is not a candidate every four years; who has the desire to give Floyd County good, clean, honest government and wants this so much he is willing to take the lead in the fight, and one who is not bound by old political or business ties to prevent him from doing the job, without regard to where the chips may fall.

We say that Robert Wellman qualifies for that job. Every good citizen who knows him and who holds no bias will say the same.

Besides these qualifications, Robert Wellman's wide relationship which extends to every section of the county makes him the logical man to meet Courthouse organization in this campaign with a People's organization of good citizens determined to have good government and confident that Robert Wellman is the man to do that job.

Think these facts over, get behind Robert Wellman, with him in the Democratic primary—and assure the Democratic party victory in November.

WELLMAN (X)—FOR YOUR WELFARE

As "dabblers," the name he usually applied to woodmen.

To Parsons, he said: "Where were you raised?" Henry replied that he was reared on Big Mud Creek, in Floyd county, Kentucky. Then the old feud leader first asked a question, with a grin: "Ever hear of the Hatfield-Parsons war?"

"Of course," Henry said, "everybody has heard of that war." By this time Johnnie came up, and, viewing the evidence of his father's labor, Henry explained: "You always take my good men."

Henry was put to work at the mill, offsetting lumber. At times he did the steam boiler or did any kind of labor necessary. He got the munit-cant man of the per day. In three or four years Anne raised him to a dollar. Maybe it was the fact that Henry was a good hand around the farm, but Anne liked him the more for it.

He took him to his home and kept him there a year. He cut corn and helped in the sorghum making.

One Christmas Day, Parsons and Devil Anne went hunting for hogs. Before the turn of the last century hogs ran wild in the woods of Logan county. Such had a mark on the ear to determine ownership and ever so often it was necessary to round them up. When the two came to a gap in the mountain side, they lay down on the ground near his trusted Winchester. Henry had become ill and the hill in the hog-hunt was tedious. Squidie played in the nearby trees and Henry shot a few. Soon Anne began to talk about the feed, and in all of the six years' association with him, Henry had never heard him talk so much about the trouble with the McCoy.

He related for Parsons the story of the internationally famous feud. One of the chief factors bringing on the feud was the fact that a very wild hog that Randolph McCoy owned in the mountains. Since Anne lived opposite the mouth of Peter Creek on the West Virginia side, and the McCoy chieftain lived five miles away on Blackberry Creek, these dogs would come down to the river and search for something to eat and destroy the Hatfield coveys. Anne's dog was named "Devil Anne" and the dog was named "Devil Anne" and the dog was named "Devil Anne."

One time Anne left the shanty where the men stayed and went away for the night, probably to his gunnery on Island Creek. But he left "Devil Anne" in the shanty. He left "Devil Anne" in the shanty. He left "Devil Anne" in the shanty.

Parsons was peeling potatoes when Mrs. Stimpkins came. She asked for Anne, explained that she had plucked beans and needed meat for seasoning. Parsons cut her down half a slab of bacon. When the feud leader returned he asked about her and was told of her visit and the giving of the half-slab of bacon.

Anne said: "Did you do for a while?"

In the Beech Creek valley were huge forests of virgin timber. Anne, after the feud had subsided, bought the timber on the creek and had a company from Ohio come in and having acquired an old patent, paid the taxes and asserted title. Anne saw his property in danger.

He summoned his 14 employees, among whom were some of the deadliest shots and most courageous men in the mountains, and supplied them with lanterns. He put them at the task of cutting the biggest popular oak and oaks trees. They worked all night.

When morning came and the weary axmen started for the shanty, Anne explained that he was allowed to take off what timber had been cut the previous day. "What you dabbled did tonight will cut every one of you in the present day," he joked.

The lumber company was predatory. Anne to set his "dinner" table and he was, ostensibly, complying with their request. But Cap, the fiery son of the feud leader, represented the "pushing around." When a group of "detectives" as the Hatfields called them, came to the woods in the employ of the lumber company and began to cut the stump, the Hatfields led to the woods and "laid out." There were 13 employed at the camp at that time and they were afraid of arrest for the night cutting.

Drum was sent to the woods the next day for the "dabbles" that were "laying out." It was two o'clock in the afternoon when they saw the mill and Cap's men. "There's the mill and Cap's men," he said. "I don't am to lay out another. Secure. Get your guns boys, and night," he said. All of them went let's go home. Afterwards Anne back to Cap instructed Elias delivered the three offenders to the mill and the "detectives" to write a note to the "dabbles" as directed by him. It read: "You'll turn off with a nominal fine."

Rev. Parsons was a witness in one of the killings that were perpetrated in the section after the feud. Elias, Troy and Cap had trouble with one Dave Kenney of Pike county who was following the losing jobs. It seems, Parsons relates, that two dead women had been brought into camp by some of the men. Dave, it appears from the evidence, had some things against him in Kentucky, and toward the last he suggested that the women would betray him.

Kenney threatened to whip one of the women but Cap said: "No, you don't. You boss when I'm gone." Kenney reached up and jerked one of the women off the wagon, slapped her down in the snow. When he did so he said he was the "best man that ever saw Beech Creek." Parsons relates that Cap stood up with his Winchester and in a loud, pregnant with personalities of sudden death, said: "Take that back, Dave." Parsons was standing within a space of 40 feet of the wagon and heard Dave Kenney reply: "I won't." Cap said: "You talked too far." Suddenly the Pike county man went for his revolver as he attempted to seize Cap's Winchester. He would have made it too but at that moment, Troy Hatfield, who was standing within a few feet, fired three shots into Dave Kenney. He fell in the snow beside the wagon. In the trial, at which the Rev. Parsons was a witness, Troy was acquitted.

Parsons married Lucinda Price of Johnson county in 1880 and went to housekeeping on Beech Creek. The Parsons home was a favorite stopping place for Anne as he traveled up or down Beech. Mrs. Parsons herself, a great admirer of Anne, likes to describe him at this time.

"He carried a big leather 'shot pouch' on his side, a 44 revolver and a 450 Winchester. Most of the time he had another smaller revolver in the 'shot pouch'; too," she said. Rev. Parsons chimed in to tell about the large hunting knife he carried also and the large amount of ammunition. The feud leader must have been a walking arsenal.

Rev. Henry Parsons started preaching in 1910 and, while he is really 76 years of age, he looks much younger. The years of service to the church have weighed lightly upon him. Today he is left in the hands of many of the ministry. He serves four churches each month, Betsy Layne, Mud Creek, John Creek and Arkansas Creek, and looks forward to many more years of labor for the Church of Christ.

It was this church into which the Rev. Duke Garrett, baptized Devil Anne Hatfield before he died. When the Rev. Garrett was asked to preach the funeral he replied: "I preach for man's sinners but my own." In several ways a man does preach his own funeral, by his way of life, by his devotion and service to his people and the Master. The Rev. Parsons is doing that.

Anne Hatfield had small regard for the courts, Parsons said, and was wont to submit only when the penalty was light or the overbearing exigencies of the case made it necessary. There was the time Elias whipped Doc Mounts with his fists. Dave Richardson and Elias were sent to jail for a while. They were together in a fight, brought on by excessive moonshine. Elias threatened Doc Mounts roundly. Somebody got a warrant at Thatcher from Squier Lambert.

Have Helton been given the unpleasant duty of arresting Elias Hatfield. To show how thoroughly the Hatfields were feared by even the officers of the law, Helton summoned a posse of 25 to help bring Elias, Cap and Dave to court. Even with this body of men at his disposal, Helton hesitated and procrastinated, and finally decided to send the case to the county court. He was to take the case to the court with him. He was to take the case to the court with him. He was to take the case to the court with him.

(Pol. Adv.)

The school of the county should have and are entitled to all the cooperation from the sheriff's office that they require in the interests of a good school system. One need is for the attendance of a deputy sheriff at major sport events in the schools. The presence of an officer at these games to regulate traffic and to perform any necessary duties will relieve the school principals of a heavy responsibility. To the teachers and patrons I want to pledge my full cooperation.

A Friend of Kentucky Passes

EWING Galloway, the Kentuckian who died in New York a few days ago, was not known to The Times personally, but we, along with many other newspapers of the state, considered him a friend, because he dealt directly with the newspapers in his work of promoting sound thinking, business and government in Kentucky.

We did not always agree with Mr. Galloway's views as expressed in his column, Kentucky on the March, but we always admired his courage and his willingness to take a stand on any issue.

Ewing Galloway was a Kentucky farmboy who made a belated start toward success and attained it in New York City in the field of the keenest competition. Internationally known as a photographer, he could have been forgiven if he had left the state permanently for his business interests elsewhere. But he never forgot Kentucky.

He returned to his native Henderson, to the soil from which he sprang, and much of his later years was devoted, without thought of profit, to publicizing those things which he considered good for other Kentuckians.

We regret that Ewing Galloway did not get to make the visit he had planned this summer to this and other newspapers to which he had been a contributor. Something of his great spirit might have rubbed off on us.

It All Depends

THIS editorial appeared in The Courier-Journal, tending to prove that it all depends on whose foot is pinched.

We never thought we'd live to see the day, but it has arrived. The Governor of Texas, huh, the biggest, richest, wildest, and woolliest of them all, the capital of the rugged individualism and the mortal enemy of "creeping socialism," has appealed to President Eisenhower for Federal aid.

Governor Shivers has a good case, and we hope the President hears him. Things are tough in Texas, all over. Heat of typical Texas intensity and the fourth successive summer of a Texas-size drought have done the damage, and not all the oil in Texas (or under the waters adjacent), nor even that "Texas viewpoint" so proudly invoked by Governor Allan Shivers and Senator Price Daniel last year can cope with it alone.

"The small farmers and ranchers of Texas, in particular," says Governor Shivers, "suffering many people with their first realization that there is anything small in Texas, need all the help they can get from any quarter, in the form of credit extension and relief."

"Well, as we said, we hope they get it, even if the mere size of Texas, compared with the unconstructed Yankee to prove that the need is for galloping rather than creeping socialism. Anyway, Governor, welcome back into the Union."

The Law Can Be Enforced

THE Division of Motor Transportation has informed Paintsville authorities it will afford every possible cooperation toward controlling liquor traffic involving the use of taxicabs.

The Division will cancel the license of any cab-owner convicted of using his vehicle for such a purpose. This is as it should be. All authorities have to do to bolster law enforcement on this score is to certify to the Division of Motor Transportation the fact that a conviction has been had.

The action, of course, must be initiated from this—that is to say, the source—end. We shall watch the results in Paintsville, if any. Perhaps action there will give Floyd county some ideas on enforcement.

1953 March of Dimes Contributions Up 24%

NEW YORK, June 24 — Eighty million Americans contributed $5,500,000 to the fight against infantile paralysis in the 1953 March of Dimes. It was announced today by Basil O'Connor, president of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

This total, based on reports from 3,059 volunteer campaign chairmen, represents a new record, being 24% higher than the previous record total raised in 1952. Mr. O'Connor said. Last year $44,625,000 was contributed, or 27% cents per capita for the entire nation. The 1953 per capita is 34 cents. Both figures are based on the 1950 census.

The new record shows that millions of parents and children who fight against polio realize the crucial nature of this battle has been reached," said Mr. O'Connor. "They know that recent progress in scientific research and the continuing increase year after year of polio cases make their responsibilities greater than ever before."

Mr. O'Connor paid tribute to the 2,000,000 March of Dimes volunteers who conducted the fund-raising crusade in 10,000 communities throughout the nation.

"Without their unselfish efforts, the American people would not have been so actively aware of the increasing responsibilities of the National Foundation," he declared. "Contributions improved by five years of heavy outbreaks of the disease plus increased expenditures for new developments in the field of research have made larger sums vitally necessary for the fight against infantile paralysis."

Despite larger public contributions each year, the National Foundation has ended the last four years with outstanding bills, mainly to hospitals, of from three and one-half to seven million dollars. Thus, for this period of time, each succeeding March of Dimes has been in effect mortgaged for such an amount before any new cases were reported in the new year.

"But each year, thanks to our tireless volunteers and to an awakened public, the bills 'have been paid, research has gone forward unhampered by financial limitations, and every polio patient who needed help was given assistance for medical and hospital care."

Mr. O'Connor added that in 1953, as in the past, the course of the disease cannot be predicted. All chapters of the National Foundation, however, are prepared to assist the unknown thousands who will need March of Dimes help this year, he said.

The preliminary financial figures showed that all 48 states exceeded their 1952 contributions to the anti-polio fight, with the state of Nevada showing the largest percentage of increase. Other large increases were reported from Minnesota, Iowa, Michigan, Nebraska and New Mexico.

Top per capita figures were reported by Nevada, which averaged 64 cents, while Wyoming, with 50 cents, and Idaho, with 46 cents, came next in order.

Residents of New York State made the largest dollar contribution, totaling $6,000,000 for the state, while California with $4,635,000, and Ohio with $3,974,000 followed.

ELECT Hershel Warrens For SHERIFF

It is being talked in every part of Floyd county that "HERSHEL WARRENS IS THE BEST MAN RUNNING FOR THE OFFICE OF SHERIFF". The opposing candidates, in their efforts to minimize the effect of this fact, have been spreading the rumor that "Warrens" doesn't have a chance of being elected. That just happens to be the only way they can think of to campaign against an honest man.

I believe that the people of Floyd county are more interested than ever before in selecting the best candidates for office. Your inspection of my reputation for honesty and dependability will be most welcome. Would you rather be able to say "I voted for the best man" or "I helped elect so-and-so even though I knew he would be crooked when he got in office"?

I have no intention of mud-slinging or speaking ill of any man, but the people should judge a man by his past record and select the candidate who they know will be the best Sheriff and will protect the youth of Floyd county from bootleggers and drunken drivers.

Any candidate who promises you honesty without showing you a reputation for clean, honest living cannot be relied upon. Honesty comes from the heart; from a man's innermost thoughts, not from cheap political promises that will be forgotten as soon as the election is over.

I can make one promise that you can depend on never being broken. That is that I will never sell out under any circumstances. Win or lose I will be in the race fighting to the end and if elected NO BOOTLEGGER IN FLOYD COUNTY WILL BE ABLE TO BUY PROTECTION FROM THE SHERIFF'S OFFICE.

Let no man tell you that "Warrens doesn't have a chance." With your help we can win this election and clean up the law enforcement mess we have had to live with in Floyd county for so many years.

Sincerely yours,

Hershel Warrens

Judge Orders Woman Home from Hospital To Face Prison Term

Mrs. Leslie Weddington, of Johns Creek, who was confined several weeks ago of voluntary manslaughter in the death of her husband, has been ordered returned to Pleville from Eastern State Hospital, Lexington, to face sentence.

Judge Jean L. Auxier last week ordered that Mrs. Weddington, mother of five, be returned from the hospital where she was committed after she was convicted on the charge and given eight years in the penitentiary.

Judge Auxier committed Mrs. Weddington the second time to the hospital after defense attorneys, W. A. Doucette and Charles Lowe, pleaded that the woman was not sane and did not know what she was doing when she fired the shot which killed her husband, Richard Weddington.

Mrs. Weddington was committed to the hospital for observation prior to her trial, and psychiatrists from the institution testified in Pleville court that in their opinion Mrs. Weddington was in a sleepwalking trance at the time of the shooting and did not know what she was doing until after the shooting.

IT'S A GOOD WORLD

BY WILMA Y

One of the sweetest sermons we ever heard was the Pastor's sermon on Sunday morning by Rev. Merle Wadley. He is a young preacher in his first pastorate, but one who obviously is going places. Members of his church were happy Sunday to learn that brother Stanley, of Ashland, is slowly improving after having suffered a stroke last week. His son, Dick Stanley, one of our first Baptist laymen, brought the report from the hospital Sunday evening.

The temperature is getting so hot even the candidates are seeking the shade.

Time was when the ladies dared not go into public with a runner in their hair. Now, with prices so outlandish, few go without one or more, many laughingly remark.

"Little pitchers have big ears." An apt remark! Quite often youngsters give away the very information adults would withhold.

Mary Wolverton, known as one of the dandiest nurses in the county, tells a cute comment made by her kid nephew. Out in the yard, he heard a terrific noise recently. When his grandmother, Mrs. Myntner, asked what it might be, the youngster replied solemnly, "I don't know, Granny, unless it is one of those variations a-comin'!"

Good to note in The Times that Harriet Johnson will be back on the Wayland family this year. Having heard so much about her, we feel eager to make her acquaintance. She is noted as a top-notch English writer. They say she can even get the children to read classics, a genuine achievement these days. After trying every method we know last year, we went so far as to put the cart before the horse, when several pupils showed a keen interest in Poe and Tennyson upon hearing Esch Arden and The Gold Bug. They enjoyed an account of the life stories of the two poets to such an extent we tried reversing it and having them study the lives of several great writers, listing outstanding works of each, with the hope that more would choose serious reading. A few did, but the majority stuck to comics and lighter materials in all spare time.

E. R. and his old lady are in their third childhood. Eric Ronald, age five months, is spending a month with Poppa and Mammy, all by his lonesome, because his mother, who works four hours nightly, while Daddy baby sits, had to shift to day for three weeks only. When he reached Morehead on the drive home from Cincinnati, Poppa said he knew the road, as the map was laid aside. Soon we wound up in Sandy Hook, of all places! The Boss asked what we had been doing. Instead of poisoning signs for the driver, we remarked that we were watching Eric. Just out of Prestonsburg, we turned into the David road, to come across by Stephens' Branch. You should have seen Edgar May's face when he looked up and said, "How'd we get in David? It was Mammy's turn to inquire what HEDD been doin', to miss the turning off point to Man-ton. He said, 'Watchin' Eric'."

It is a swell pastime, all right. We sometimes wonder if our two combined ever were this sweet. When his mother and daddy they might come a week early if she got back on night shift in the hospital, as hoped, we realized they'd better stick to their part of the bargain, or some day they might have triplets, and no grandparents to do a turn with 'em! A phone call to Edith Rose must have pacified her. They did not come for Eric ahead of schedule!

Libby Rec's eyes nearly popped out of her head last Friday night when she got home from the tour out west and found him here unexpectedly. Now the baby has three to four instead of two. So far, he sleeps all night long, without a sound. His mother is a nurse, and so particular with him, we would hate to return him less perfect than when we went for the dumplings. Mom does not average a kiss a day from the old man, since Eric appeared, and E. R. finds countless excuses to come back on the hill throughout the day, especially if Eric is not awake when he leaves for the plant. Tell you about a new generation—it really is wonderful.

JARVIS ALLEN PLEDGES:

A RETURN TO

Equal Justice under the Law

One hears constant complaints from every corner of Floyd county of justice being denied to certain persons because they are poor, uneducated, politically influential, or ill-advised. One also hears constantly of the dismissal of causes of action which are just and which should be heard and FAIRLY DECIDED according to law.

It is a sad commentary on our courts when persons summoned before them go away from the "Bar of Justice" knowing that they have been wronged and have been denied one of the basic rights guaranteed by our Constitution!

The Floyd County Court is the busiest court in the county and holds regular monthly terms for the trial of cases. During recent years its case-load has been far heavier than that of the Floyd Circuit Court and it is my belief that when a man goes before the court he should be tried by a person trained in the law so that his every right might be safeguarded, and so that the rights of our other citizens should be equally protected.

If you elect me your County Judge I solemnly promise and guarantee a return to "EQUAL JUSTICE UNDER THE LAW."

I promise that every man desiring to be heard will be heard. I promise to maintain the dignity befitting Courts of Justice and I shall make every effort to restore the confidence of the people in the County Judge's office. Records of all activities of my office will be maintained and made available to all interested persons without question.

I shall consider it my duty to observe and protect the civil and human rights of all men. I shall not seek nor attempt to bolster the income of the office by imposing unjust fines, nor shall harsh or unjust penalties be imposed.

When I sit upon the bench as your County Judge, I shall decide the cases coming before me on the basis of the facts as governed by the law of this Commonwealth and I promise before GOD to administer at all times JUSTICE TEMPERED WITH MERCY.

BILL HALL

For SHERIFF

As I travel over the country, I find that there is one thought uppermost in the minds of the people, "the deep-seated desire to restore some sort of old-fashioned honesty in our elected officials."

A public office is a public trust. It is time that sensible, honest citizens and patriotic people become alarmed over the machine politicians who have turned our public offices into family affairs, the first step on the road to political dictatorship.

I am not a politician and I have no desire to be one. I have nothing to hide from any person. My campaign is wide-open. I am not sponsored by any politicians or group of politicians, and I am not interfering with any other race.

Voices, watch this campaign, and be not deceived by rumor-spreading candidates who have been disloyal and unfaithful as to law-enforcement and common ordinary honesty in our country.

I am just an ordinary citizen who has worked hard and earned my living by the "sweat of my brow," dealing with my fellow man honestly, honorably and with deep and abiding faith that the good people desire a "CHANGE" from family-dictatorships in Floyd County.

I have not promised deputy jobs to anyone. I will leave that to you people in the community in which he may live and work. I will not spread "false-rumors" on anyone, for I intend to play the game FAIR. That's the way my Christian father and mother taught me around the "family-hearthstone" to live and treat my fellow-citizen and nothing short of that kind of men and women seeking public office, will clean up politics here and elsewhere, undo family-dictatorships and restore old-fashioned honesty in our county government.

People, see your neighbors, relatives and friends, talk and vote with BILL HALL FOR SHERIFF.

Sincerely,

BILL HALL

For
COUNTY COURT CLERK

Dear Friends:

I have had to be away a few days while Kathleen was in St. Mary's Hospital recovering from an operation. We are thankful that she has gotten along well, and will soon be able to be out again.

God has been kind to us. We wish to thank you, one and all, for keeping up the good work in my campaign while I was away. I feel good toward everyone. The only unpleasant thing about an election campaign is that everyone can't win. I realize that many times it is necessary to choose between relatives and friends, but we have our duty to God and our country, and my utmost desire is that we make the best of it.

I feel good toward my opponents in this race. I don't want to hurt any of their feelings, or the feelings of their friends.

I promise to always strive to keep my mind and body clean and working to uphold the good that we have in the world, and not for the interests of those things that seek to tear down and destroy. Both in office and out, I have always tried to do all of the good that I could to as many people as I could, and to be honest and kind to everyone.

I believe that you feel that I have been a faithful servant to the people in the County Court Clerk's office. My only obligation is to the people. I will not be obligated to any politician or clique. I have always strived with all my ability to do what was fair and honest and efficient for the good people of our county. I have always felt that the good could be made better, and the better best; that is and will always be my aim.

Kathleen and I have many fine friends and relatives throughout Floyd county. We appreciate your kindness toward us. We realize that the County Court Clerk's office is more important to more people than any other office in the county. Every man and woman in the county will have some business or interest in this office during the next four years. No business could successfully operate, nor no home could be secure without this office being in clean and faithful hands. We have kept your records well and have been faithful and true to the trust that you have put in us.

I have had in my custody in the County Court Clerk's office all records of your deeds, mortgages, contracts, automobile and truck licenses and registrations, your registration as a voter, the election boxes and ballots and tabulations, marriages and marriage licenses, sales and transfers, discharges, and various other licenses and records, and a record of all money spent by the County Fiscal Court.

You can readily see the importance of having this office in efficient hands. Every family will have some kind of interest or business in the County Court Clerk's Office in the next four years, and I want each of you to realize that only with your help will it be possible for me to continue to serve you for the next four years, and that if I am nominated and elected the office will still belong to you, yours to give and yours to take away, and so long as you put your confidence in me it will be operated for your benefit and convenience. I have tried to secure and keep the most efficient help.

You can always feel free to come into the Clerk's office and transact business and visit with us. We will be glad to be of service to you. We have and we will continue to save your time and money.

I appreciate the kindness and the courtesy that you have shown me in the past. I am grateful to you all and will always do my very best to make you happy that you have helped me in this election.

If not obligated to someone else I will sincerely appreciate your vote and influence in this race. Please give me your kind consideration.

State Places 10,000 In Farm Jobs in May

Frankfort, Ky., June 24 — Recruitment of Strawberry pickers featured placement activities in the State Division of Employment Service during May. L. P. Jones, director of the division, reported today.

Hiring of pickers in several areas, notably Paducah and Bowling Green, jumped the number of agricultural jobs filled by the division from 91 in April to 10,000 last month. However, farm placements last month were only 66 per cent of the number placed for May, 1952, because of reduced strawberry acreage, especially in Mayfield and Paducah, combined with cool, rainy weather.

Non-agricultural jobs filled totaled 1146 in May, an increase of 14 per cent above April, but nine per cent under the May 1952 figure. About one-half the call from April to May was in the Lexington area. There were 4,446 nonfarm job openings received in the division's 24 local offices last month, and there were 38,266 active job applications on file as of May 30.

With Old Age Pensioners

HENRY C. HALE in Point 4 of HIS PROMISES FULFILLED AS STATE REPRESENTATIVE, which has been published in The Floyd County Times, says to the OLD AGE PENSIONERS, "I HAVE VOTED AGAINST and WORKED FOR DEFEAT OF THE OLD AGE LIEN LAW."

Why, Mr. Hale, do you think you can hoodwink as old people into voting for you when the record shows that you were present and did not vote against Senate Bill 101, commonly known as the Old Age Lien Law? For three terms, Mr. Hale, we sent you to Frankfort to represent us and when a Pork Barreled Legislature drags out this vicious law to rob us old people of our meager possessions, you sit there tongue-tied and paralyzed, and you never as much as raised your voice nor lifted your little finger against this Bill, and as the Record shows you were present and would not even vote against it.

Among the aged who live in this country this law has destroyed the peace of mind that existed in the humble cottages of these old folks and cast a cloud of gloom and despair over them as they are nearing the end of the way. We old families and have had very little opportunity to accumulate enough of this world's goods to own a little home of our own until we have just about come to the end of our lives. Then, you come along, Mr. Hale, and ask us to send you to Frankfort to represent us, which we did three times, and when this vicious Bill was brought up, as stated above, you sit there and permit this bill to be passed without making a protest of any kind against it and rob us Old People of the supreme achievement of a lifetime.

Mr. Hale, with your hundreds of acres of land and wealth, it might be hard for you to understand what we old people are talking about, but you do know that we cannot eat these little homes, and in order to receive something to exist on, that we are forced to sign on the dotted line.

Yes, Mr. Hale, you think we are too old and feeble and weak in mind and body to check your record, but this has been done and you can't fool us Old People with "TRICK" affidavits. You did not vote for us when you had a chance. Now we will not vote for you. Let everyone remember your action in this matter on Election Day and help defeat Mr. Henry C. Hale and all others who did not vote against it.

"Lest we forget"

JOHN LAFERTY

"An Old Age Pensioner"

The following is a transcript from Arthur Y. Lloyd, Director of the Legislative Research Commission, which shows exactly how Mr. Henry C. Hale and others stood on this bill:

LEGISLATIVE RESEARCH COMMISSION
FRANKFORT, KENTUCKY

March 24, 1953.

Honorable Bill Adams
State Representative
District 92
Isom, Kentucky

Dear Bill:

Pursuant to your request today I am enclosing a summary of the vote on Senate Bill 101 (1952 Regular Session).

When I started to check this vote I found that we had already done so previously for a Senator, so I am enclosing a complete copy which shows both the Senate and the House of Representatives. While this is labeled "unofficial" it is unofficial in the sense that the official publication of the House Journal has not yet been printed. However, it is taken from the official Journal kept by the respective clerks in each house.

If we can be of any further service to you at any time please do not hesitate to call on us.

Sincerely yours,

ARTHUR Y. LLOYD
Director.

THE INIQUITY OF SEVEN CENTS A MILE SHOULD BE ABOLISHED!

Seven cents a mile. That iniquity in the sheriff's office began when the Sheriff's Association of Kentucky went down to the Legislature and procured the passage of a law to give the sheriff seven cents a mile to serve court processes. I want to show you how it operates to enrich a sheriff and how it keeps a poor man from going into court to get a wrong righted.

If you live at Wheelwright and have a warrant of arrest for a man who has committed a misdemeanor or if you are engaged in a civil action and need an attachment for a witness, it will cost you seven cents a mile to get the sheriff to come and serve the papers.

What I propose to do is to have the sheriff in the magisterial district in which you reside serve the papers and not charge this seven cents. It is just one of the many little fees that go to build up a big pot for the sheriff at the little man's expense. I'm going to do away with it as one of my first official acts.

GARDEN NOTES

BY O. E. BOGGS
County Agent

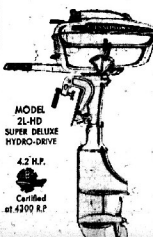

Some gardeners have been wondering whether a much spread after the topsoil has become dry is effective. It is for the reason that deep in the soil there is moisture and the tendency is to rise to the surface, then evaporate. Such evaporation is prevented by a mulch, the moisture being held just below the top zone, on which the vegetables can thrive surprisingly well.

There is another benefit worth repeating that comes from mulching. Plowed under stubble material goes far toward replacing the rotted-down bedding of stable manure that is now in some places, not to be had for love or money. Unless humus of some nature is joined with the soil when only commercial fertilizer is used, it literally "burns out" such a garden may suffer acutely in even moderately dry times.

Now is late-potato planting time, and if they can be found, ask your county agent it would be fine to try at least a few Kennebecs, an excellent potato in every way, and resistant to blight. Failing utterly to find Kennebecs, there are still Sequoia and Katahdin varieties.

As to blight, by this time the tomatoes will have been sprayed five times, and such a patch may be considered fairly well protected for the season, provided there is no normal rainfall, and the nights are warm. On the other hand, if the average of "last night's low" and "today's expected high" is below 60, and if more than one inch of rain falls in a week, that is blight-developing weather, and spraying should continue, 10 days apart, until at least September 15 to make sure that there will be tomatoes until frost. Even though there is no blight weather, it pays to give as many as four more sprayings after the scheduled five have been given; five is a minimum.

Willard Stephens of Floyd County plans to start construction of a dwelling this fall.

Law Enforcement

The Sheriff of your county is the chief law enforcement officer. He holds the most powerful office within the gift of the people. He has the authority to summon every citizen in his county, if he deems it necessary, to assist him in enforcing the law.

When you are deciding for whom you should cast your vote for this very important office, you should deeply realize the grave and serious duty you are about to perform. You should look for these three most important qualifications.

1. SOBERITY. No person should be given this great responsibility and authority if he is not a sober man. He, after having been elected to this office should appoint only a person as a deputy who is a sober, trustworthy gentleman. I have not taken a drink of anything intoxicating for more than 12 years. I shall never take one. I sincerely promise you that no person will be appointed as a deputy sheriff who is not a sober, respectable citizen in your community. A drunk officer has no right to arrest your son who may become intoxicated. The officer is a greater violator of the law than the person upon whom he is making the arrest. You will have 4 years of sober law enforcement when I am elected your Sheriff.

2. TEMPERAMENT. With the unlimited authority and responsibility that is granted the Sheriff, he must be reasonable, even tempered and certainly not a "hot head". He must have as his deputies men of the same characteristics. You never know when your son or my son will fall in the path of an arresting officer and it will be the duty of the officer to make an arrest. You must certainly do not want your son abused and beaten by a "hot head", clothed with the uniform of an officer.

It has always been my idea that kindness instead of abuse, justice tempered with mercy will make your son and mine a better citizen in the future.

3. DETERMINATION. The Sheriff and his deputies must enforce the laws of our state and country. Every person in this county will agree we must have law enforcement. Our schools, churches and homes must be protected. But you want sober, fair and determined officers to do this job. Only by casting your votes for a man who has done this job, can you be sure you will have this kind of law enforcement.

It was said of me on the first Monday in January, 1950 to a crowded courtroom in Prestonsburg, Kentucky, "You can say one thing about Sheriff Sturgill, he treated them all alike." My family and myself appreciated this very much, whether it was intended as a compliment or criticism. We knew that it was the truth. I promise the people 4 more years of the same treatment. I direct the following statement to the God fearing Mothers and Fathers of this county realizing that I shall answer and be held responsible to my Master for this statement, that during my six years of service as Sheriff, I never failed to perform my duties as I saw it and to the best of my ability, I had served every warrant of any kind, upon any person, for any crime. I made no difference in creed, color or standing in life. My office force and myself assisted in every way possible with my time and money, in every investigation of crime committed during my term of office.

I have never during my life had an indictment returned against me or a warrant issued for me, upon any charge. I have never been arraigned before 12 of my citizens to be tried for any crime. Decide from the truth, facts and records, not from misleading, false, smearing gossip.

I shall discuss this more fully later in the campaign. I want you to know my record and it is your duty to inquire into all candidates' records and you, the VOTERS, are entitled to have it.

I hope to see most of my friends during the next 30 days.

Your Friend,
