THURSDAY

This Town— That World

How come? And pray tell how do they come to start starting off on the 20th? We were all set for tonight's anniversary time to come along later and then everybody but the passers for a long time when the calendar says jump!

A GOOD GUY After the man is dead the American people we find some interesting person Fred Allen, the noted radio and television wit, was his demeanor, his inflexible kindness and his things are not done. Just like you and I want all our friends alive before our noses are rubbed in the only thing I found disappointing about Fred Allen is his name wasn't Albert at all. His name was Alvin.

SPIN TO BURN Wait! Here think that maybe he has learned about something with more speed to burn than a super-sound missile. As a matter of fact, he reported that a peep had told a neighbor woman that the friend "And so, that, remains about never; tell the head of her knee 'll all ahead to its somebody else."

WARDEN CITES FIRE THREAT

Carelessness of Firebug Blamed for Six Blazes in Middle Creek Area

The advent of spring and drier weather was accompanied, this week and last by a rising incidence of forest fires. Forest Warden Fred Turner noted Wednesday five fires broke out last week and burned over an intermediate acreage, he said.

The Forest Service reported Middle Creek seemed to be having more than its usual share of blazes. There have been six fires there in the same locality in the last three weeks. It is in the trees, carelessness of a fire bug is at work, a number of the rangers service said. Two of the fires on that creek were attributed only this week. There was one each on Buffalo Creek, Tackett Fork of Big Muck and at Bartlett on Little River.

Assistant Warden Oliver Hall thinks that a lot of fires are being caused by careless hunters. "Several recent fires have started on high knolls when hunters propped up," he said.

Turner issued a warning this week that careless trash burning by farmers and gardeners, may lead to a fire on a hillside. He pointed out that burning of trash and brush is prohibited at the present time. He said that he expects to be prosecuted if there is a sufficient evidence. He said that a fire on a hillside had destroyed the 170-acre forest land on the Forest Service property in this county.

There has been a fire on the part of the landowners to protect the planting and as a result to start them, the warden said. "Anyone finding a forest fire, either on a hillside or on a farm, should call the fire department at 3305 or the Division of Forestry at Prestonsburg."

US 23 Near Paintsville Closed; Other Routes Overtaxed by Traffic

The Big Sandy valley's only main highway was closed this week in the rock slide which had been a night of U. S. 23 just outside Paintsville is threatened by a mountainous rockslide. The only highway links between Prestonsburg and other towns above the point where the road is cut south Paintsville and towns south of the lower part of the valley via State Highway 114 through Saltsville or the road through Van Lear and Davis Branch to Paintsville.

The road was closed Tuesday morning when a massive rock slide fell from the hill north of the Narrows, a few hundred yards from the southern city limits of Paintsville. The report was true. A wide and deep fissure into the overhanging rock had widened. Work in the rock had been done a week or two earlier. It is estimated that a 100,000-ton rock slide may be moving and workmen are not certain how much earth behind it will move. A heavy rain which is due Wednesday afternoon, it was said. Traffic on the valley's only main road, which is directly threatened by the highway continues. Railway, highway, telephone and power company officials are working to clear the road.

Two Kentucky Youths Will Represent State In Exchange Program

Max Mary Ann Hufflage of Jefferson county and James D. Sheety of Harren county will represent Kentucky in the 1956 International Farm Youth Exchange (IFYE) program as announced by the University of Kentucky's 4-H club department. Each will spend about five months overseas. Miss Hufflage is Norway and Mr. Sheety is India. Former active 4-H'ers, both will graduate in late May from the College of Agriculture and Home Economics.

While Miss Hufflage was winning honors in home economics projects she was also the "handy maid" for her father on the home farm, dishing with the tractor and doing other jobs.

As state champion in canning, she attended the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago. She took part in many club activities and community relations, citizenship and achievement. As a winning individual and team member she demonstrated she attended two conventions of the National Garden and Vegetable Growers Association. The past summer she was an apprentice home demonstration agent in Jefferson county.

Mr. Sheety's primary interests as a 4-H'er were in raising tobacco and leadership projects. He is the winner for him the opportunity to be a delegate to the American Youth Foundation at Camp Minkwanan in Mohagan. For the past three summers he has shown excellent results for leaders in Indiana, Pennsylvania and Illinois.

These young people will bring to 24 the number of Kentucky young men and women who have been delegates to foreign countries since 1949. More than 100 farm families in the state have cooperated by being hosts to 37 foreign exchanges.

The IFYE national program was begun in 1948 when 11 young people from the United States went to European countries, and six European exchanges came to live with farm families in this country. Since that time, the program has exchanged 1,200 farm young people between 44 states and three territories of the U. S. and 46 countries throughout the world.

Farmer, First Custodian Of Most Water in Use In Kentucky, Is Claim

This is article No. two in a series on water conservation, issued by the Kentucky Agricultural Extension Service in cooperation with the Kentucky Soil and Water Commission.
The water for use on your farm in your home in your business and in your manufacturing plant all comes from the same source—the land.
That's true whether this water reaches you through a pipe or comes from a small pond, a small stream, a big river, a large reservoir, a dug well, or a drilled well. We begin to measure our available water when it falls on the land as rain or snow.
The farmer is first custodian of most of the water used in Kentucky. He may be a farmer in one of the adjoining states as many of Kentucky's streams have their headwaters in another state.
What determines the quality and amount of water available to you? It depends largely on what happens between the time the water falls on farms as rain or snow and the time it reaches you.
Some of the water returns to the air through evaporation, to be the source of more rain and snow in the future. Some runs from the land to be collected in streams and rivers. Some soaks into the soil where it is available to growing plants. This soil water is also the source of wells and streams and is the most stable source of stream flow.
Farmers who use and treat their land wisely are helping solve the water problems of Kentucky, whether agricultural, municipal, or industrial.
"Conservation farming" reduces the amount of soil that has to be filtered from "run off" before it can be used by cities and industry. It reduces the amount of silt, sand and gravel that clogs stream channels to increase flooding, of fills reservoirs and lakes to reduce the water storage capacity.
Conservation farming also benefits downstream users in other ways. Good land use and treatment, which is conservation farming, causes more of the water to enter the greatest storage reservoir of all—the ground. This water, which increases crop yield, replenishes ground water, stabilizes stream flow and helps to reduce flood damage. It also slows down the run-off of water and thereby helps to prevent floods.
So water conservation for a growing population as well as greater production of food, clothing and shelter, becomes another goal of Kentucky's 122 farmer-organized and farmer-operated soil conservation districts.

Unexpected Explosion Shoots Flame 125 Feet As Forge Iginites Gas

Pikeville, Ky., March 20 (AP)—A blast unexpectedly from a well being drilled near Road Fork near the West Virginia border yesterday and burst into flames that roared 125 feet in the air.
Homer Six of Lovey and Hershel Young of Varny, escaped injury, but the blast destroyed the derrick, lodgess, and equipment with has estimated by Wayne Lowe of here, the drilling contractor, at $5,000.
Lowe said Young and Six had just finished dressing a bit and were starting to lower it when the well came in from the West. The gas caught fire from the force used to sharpen the bit.
Lowe was drilling for the Columbia Gas Company. He estimated the flow at 5,000 cubic feet a day.
The fire was extinguished several hours later.

...letter from Lieut. James M. ... Floyd County Historical Notes by Henry P. Scaife.

Dear Mother, I beat my self to inform you that I am in tolerable good health at this time but Pop has been very sick with the mumps but he is getting better. I think we will go there before long or I am hoping whether the next comes or not. You may think I will never be there but I will come some of these days. So I have no more time. Jas H. Stump

Dear Mother, I beat my self to inform you that I am well. I am hoping these few lines may satisfy your hands and find you enjoying the same like I am. I would be a great satisfaction to me to be with you and my dear little General McCallan. I can inform you that the Mrs. Ke. is at Lousie the boys is all well but James Bolt he is not well yet. I am saying I think we will be at Pikeville in a few days and there we are coming up. I wish the time would soon come when peace will be made so we could come home and stay with our wives and children.

Three Fatalities In State's Mines During February

Frankfort, March 19 (Sp.)—Kentucky's Department of Mines and Minerals today reported three fatalities occurred in coal mines last month—one each in the Kentucky River, Cumberland Valley and the South-Ten River fields as compared with thirteen for January.

While maintaining a record high production level in February, you also accomplished the task of reducing the number of fatal accidents from 13 to three over the previous month, James H. Fishel, chief of the Department of Mines and Minerals said in a message to all mine officials and employees.

This is a wonderful accomplishment, he said, which every one in the coal industry is due credit for.

Pasture Notes

By Donald W. Claypool
 Asst. Co. Agr. Ext. Agent

March is the month for farmers to re-eval-uate their pastures. It is of special importance to the farmers of Floyd county for good pasture is the cheapest feed that can be had. Pasture crops are most palatable during the spring of the year and it is at that time that the pasture demands of sheep are at its highest. In spring succulent pasture growth can be utilized in finishing market lambs. In the summer after the lambs have been sold, the reduction in pasture growth is actually ideal for maintaining the breeding flock in good condition.

However, this is assuming that the pasture is of very good quality and the number of pastures in Floyd county that would be rated very good are relatively few. How to provide a high quality pasture which will maintain an adequate growth throughout the summer months is a problem a farmer must face in planning his pasture program.

Below are listed three pasture mixtures which will do well in this area provided they are properly managed. These mixtures were developed by the Experiment Station and will be accepted by the Floyd county A.S.C. office to qualify for re-sharing under the 1946 A.S.C. program. The mixtures are only suggestive and the farmer may use other combinations if he desires. In any case to qualify under the A.S.C. program it will be necessary to seed at least 18 pounds of mixture per acre using not less than 5 pounds of an approved perennial grass seed and at least 3 pounds of an approved legume.

Regular Session Passed 16 Laws Good for Farmers

Frankfort, Ky., March 19 (Sp.)—Passage of 16 new laws termed highly favorable to farmers by the Commissioner of Agriculture, Ben Butler, was accomplished in the regular session of the legislature. Reviewing the new laws, Butler said 14 of the bills directly affect every farmer in the state. Of prime importance, Butler said, was the bill amending the Dog Law and authorizing payment of the bill from dogs occurring after June 30, 1954 instead of June 30, 1953. Butler said the amendment will result in a payment of approximately $60,000 to Kentucky farmers.

"Vital to farmers was passage of the law simplifying procedure for refund of taxes paid on gasoline used in the production of farm commodities," Butler said.

Among major items of the Department of Agriculture were bills giving the Department authority over marketing of agricultural products. One established an Egg Marketing Board in the Department and required that all egg graders be licensed and graded with the grade displayed on packaging. "This is the only law in the state which will help neighboring states can unload their surplus eggs and run our prices," Butler said.

Another law prohibits packaging of commodities in such a way as to mislead the buyer as to quantity. It also requires that all commodities be sold by weight, measure or numerical count.

Other laws favorable to farmers include regulations on marketing of unseeded grass seeds; appropriation of $60,000 annually to subsidize showing of Poled Herefords; requiring all hand trucks or other equipment used in warehouses in weighing tobacco to be of uniform weight; deleting provisions of KRS 247 that allowed inspection of county farm bureau records by county fiscal courts; providing for transfer of strawberry marketing and inspection rules from the University of Kentucky Experiment Station to the Agriculture Department and establishing of a mosquito control program by the Department if deemed necessary by the Commissioner.

New Members Are Named To Agriculture Board; Walters is Reappointed

Frankfort, March 19 (Sp.)—A new State Board of Agriculture has been named by Gov. A. B. Chandler to replace the former board. Six new appointments were included in the group and one reappointment.

Mike Walters, Democrat, Shelbyville tobacco farmer and warehouseman, was renamed to the Board from the Third Appellate district. Others named were: Hugh Leavelle, Democrat, Hopkinsville, First District, farmer; Frank T. Street, Democrat, Henderson, Second district, orchardist; William F. Reardon, Louisville, Fourth district, truck farmer; John Beaman, Republican, Vanceburg, fifth district, farmer; Luther K. Rice, Democrat, Paris, Sixth district, livestock farmer; and Frank Wheeler, Republican, Harlan, Seventh district, dairyman.

The law requires a bi-partisan division on the Board. Two other persons, the Commissioner of Agriculture and Director of the University of Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station, are ex-officio members of the Board.

Orchard Grass—10 pounds per acre

- Orchard grass—10 pounds per acre
  - Ky. Bluegrass—5 pounds per acre
  - Kent on Lespedeza—5 pounds per acre
  - Ladino Clover—2 pounds per acre
  - Orchard grass—10 pounds per acre
  - Red Top—3 pounds per acre
  - Kent on Lespedeza—5 pounds per acre
  - Orchard Grass—10 pounds per acre
  - Ladino Clover—2 pounds per acre
- In the above mixtures Ky 31 Pesticide may be substituted for orchard grass where Orchard grass cannot be grown. Ky. 31 Pesticide compares favorably with orchard grass normally when it is kept cut short, but it is allowed to produce stems and heads it becomes unpalatable especially for sheep. Pesticide is not recommended in any mixture which will be cut for hay.
- After selecting the pasture mixture our second consideration is how much fertilizer is necessary to produce excellent results. Most farmers in Floyd county have a limited amount of manure, which is usually reserved for their garden or corn. So, let's assume that our entire source of plant food will come from the soil and that commercial fertilizer we decide to apply. To determine the amount of nutrients available in the soil, a sample of soil should be tested. From the results of the tests we can then determine how much nutrients we must add by way of commercial fertilizer to bring the fertility level to that necessary for a luscious stand of grass.
- On the average a good grass stand needs about 40 pounds of nitrogen, 80 pounds of phosphorus, and 60 pounds of potash per year. These nutrients would be furnished by an application of 200 pounds of ammonium nitrate and 200 pounds of 0-40-50 per acre. If the soil is too acid, lime will be necessary. For good limestone to be effective, it should have been applied last fall.
- Our last consideration is that of reseeding the seed bed. For the farmers of Floyd and our neighbors in mountain counties it is recommended that they apply less fertilizer at the same time they sow his seed and then go over the field with a south harrow or herts, with a disk if the pasture is so level but not valuable to erode it is recommended that the previous vegetation be destroyed by plowing or severe disk.

Auto Industry Uses More Stainless Steel

Gary Ind.—The nation's automotive industry used more stainless steel than ever before in 1955, some 140,000 tons, accounting for more than 20 per cent of the nation's total stainless-steel shipments. About 98 per cent of the total automotive consumption was in sheet and strip, used extensively for sheet and trim on passenger automobiles.

your ELECTRIC iron proves it

Ever worry about dirtying a clean white sheet when you iron it? Of course not—because you know that an electric iron just doesn't make dirt.

The cooking units on an electric range heat the same quick, flameless, dirt-free way your electric iron does. Pans stay bright, walls and curtains stay clean longer.

When you think of a modern kitchen you think of a clean kitchen. There's nothing cleaner or more modern than cooking electrically. An electric range is automatic and unmatched for safety, coolness and cleanliness.

It's the 225-h.p. Thunderbird Special V-8 you can have now in Ford!

At 6 p.m. on Saturday, February 25, a '56 Ford set out to re-write the record book at the new Ford Proving Grounds, Dearborn, Mich. Just a little over one hour later, this 225-h.p. Ford had set 30 new world marks—ranging from short runs to 100-mile performance! To you this record-breaking performance promises the most exciting response ever delivered for so little money. Hills you've long known will disappear. Stop lights will be fast-fading memories within minutes after you've nudged the throttle. And when it comes to passing, you'll pass in a wink with plenty of "whoosh" in reserve.

Thunderbird looks, too

But you get more than record-breaking performance when you drive a Ford V-8. You get the long, low look of the Ford Thunderbird. It's the kind of sleek, years ahead styling for which Ford is famous.

Let Lifeguard Design Start Protecting You

And, of course, you get Ford's exclusive Lifeguard Design. Among all cars in the low-price field, only Ford gives you the extra protection. Doesn't your family deserve this extra safety in the event of an accident?

More real economy, real stand-up

So whether you judge a car on performance or safety, you should know it's easy to see that you best buy a Ford V-8. And as a added benefit, you get the economical upkeep and built-in value that are part of the Ford tradition. See your...

"SIGNS OF SPRING"

The return of the birds, the first blossoming of the daffodils, and the new flowers and buds are no more signs of spring than are children's zany acts. At Faculty, we did not have many tops or kites, with the exception of a few home-made ones, our spring signs were of another kind.

When the fish began to run up Beechey Fork, we went fishing, with cane poles when they were handy and with long "sander" "hot-cold" straight limbs that we had cut with our own knives from the trees along the creek. I have caught a good mes of fish with a heavy orange limb for a pole. In fact, I do not recall having done much fishing with cane poles, it seems to me that they were for grown-ups. Before I was big enough to cut my own pole Fisher caught one for me. Having prevailed upon his pole and set it to catch the big one myself, so I could boast about it ever afterward.

Not long after the first fishing weather, sap begins to rise in the hickories. That means that the birds will not be easy to slip off when the hickories get ready to try their skill. The first thing to be made ordinarily was a whistle. To make a good one requires some skill. We used to laugh at the poor little fellows who were too clumsy with their knives even to make a whistle. After the invention to properly attend to any average boy wants a hickory-bark whip, which is really a work of art when properly made. Until it gets dry and stiff, it quite properly resembles the blacksnake whip used by grown-ups and confers a certain distinction on the owner and maker.

Just around the corner from hickory-bark whips and whistles is another hickory product, just as typical as they. That is the leaf hat, but the hickory has to share this honor with the papaw. But hickory leaves are better in the long run, for they are tougher and, therefore, call for more shaves with the right number of pins made from dead reeds. But hat hats, after all are very British, though I must confess to having made several in my Fidelity days.

Spring brings playhouse time though fall is good for that, too. I refer to playhouses made out in the woods, where moss grows green and where all sorts of things can be found to decorate houses with. Spring moss is green, though, and lends itself to being transparent, so to where we want to build our houses. The ground is damp then and soon helps the transplanted moss to feel adapted to its new home, and the moss goes on growing, as if nothing had ever happened. In fact, some of the playhouses I used to know grew on for years after the makers had become grown and no longer conversant with play-house-building.

All the times of spring are little things as compared with the day when winter shoes and stockings are discarded. Last fall, when we had to wear shoes, our feet were so tough that we felt that we could spend the winter barefooted and suffer no injury. But several months of wearing home-knit yarn stockings softened up our toughest feet. Hence when we got off our winter apparel and try being natural again, we own a pair of the tenderest feet that ever were. Acorn hills that would not have been noticed the fall before seem like big, rough rocks and gravel can take on meaning of torture than anything I have ever known except a stubble-field. But by degrees even tender feet can become accustomed to a harsh world again and get by just about everything except broken glass. Here to stay until the frosts of fall, long prophesied by katydids, come again and compel us to shut up our aching feet in hard leather shoes for the winter.

Letter Praises Chandler's Stand On Education

Frankfort, March 19 (Sp.) — Governor A. B. Chandler's support of education in the recent regular session of the General Assembly was highly praised today in a letter to the Governor from Superintendent of Public Instruction Dr. Robert R. Martin.

Martin wrote the Governor, "I have reviewed very carefully the laws which were enacted by the regular session of the 1956 General Assembly and I want to congratulate you and the members of the Legislature for the fair and consistent support which you gave to education."

"I am convinced that more good school legislation was enacted by the 1956 General Assembly than has been passed by any General Assembly since the school code was developed in 1934."

Martin listed as educational highlights of the session:

1. The amended Foundation Program Law is a vastly improved measure over the one adopted two years ago.
2. The proposed constitutional amendment will make possible development of a professional Department of Education to direct the school affairs of this state.
3. The annual Governor's Conference on Education puts Kentucky in the forefront of states which are periodically studying educational problems.
4. The amended annexation law will protect interests of the various school districts and will allow numerous districts.
5. The removal of maximum limits on salaries of the presidents of the University and the State colleges, as well as local school superintendents, will provide better educational leadership throughout the Commonwealth.

"Education is definitely on the march. We are getting our house in order to make tremendous strides to which you and I have dedicated ourselves," Martin wrote.

2,000,000 Are 'Unaware' They Have Syphilis

Washington — About 2,000,000 persons in the United States have syphilis and don't realize it, a United States Public Health Service doctor said today.

The estimate was given to the Senate Appropriations Committee by Dr. C. A. Smith, chief of the service's venereal-disease program, in a Senate hearing.

More than 1,000,000 syphilis cases, however, are not known, he said, because of apparent good health. Still, he said, the disease and treatment would prevent disability and death.

Study Group Declares Inequitable Taxation Not Peculiar to State

Frankfort, March 19 (Sp.) — Property assessments in Kentucky are characterized by inequitable and fractional valuations, but the situation is not peculiar to this State. This conclusion has been reached by the Legislative Research Commission in a study of the property tax as a source of governmental revenue.

The study showed Kentucky ranking tenth among the states in dollars of property taxes collected for state purposes, and in the percent of total state property taxes received by all the states.

It was reported, however, that the property tax program, inaugurated in 1949, has contributed to improvement of the situation. Improvements as shown both within the counties and among counties. A total assessment of $13,900,000,000 is distributed upon this basis:

Results: 51 per cent, tangible; 27 per cent, and intangible; 22 per cent.

The report said several classes of families are excluded from the county property tax base: agricultural and manufacturing machinery, livestock and poultry, farm products in hands of the producer and raw materials and products in course of manufacture. It added, "there is little justification for this favored treatment."

Return of these tangibles to the local property tax base would increase the base by $33,000,000, while machinery alone will add $291,000,000 annually in the larger counties. The report also recommended that assessments should be approved through these steps:

1. Expansion of the reappraisal program to achieve uniformity within counties.
2. Adequate salaries for county tax commissioners.
3. Appointive assessors with security of job tenure.
4. State assessment of mining properties, and possibly larger industrial establishments.
