THURSDAY

This Town ... That World

The trees on that hillside are green—if you can see them through the smoke.

FOR THE RECORD

There seems to be some misunderstanding even yet about my driver license trouble. Just to set the record straight, I was required to take the written test. It was the road test—thank goodness—that I was by law permitted to skip, since I had my old license.

WANTED—WATER

Dewey Lake has been let up and down, like a yo-yo, since the March rains began. The only trouble now is, the spring has run out, and it won't go back. There isn't enough water coming in to restore the seven feet or so that was let out for the placing of old car bodies to cover for fish.

I read somewhere, that to be a good newspaper editor one must rise each morning, angry at the world. So equipped, one would blast away in a fine frenzy, still little to praise and be a power to make strong men tremble. That lets me out—I ain't mad at nobody.

WHAT OTHERS RECEIVE

Before me lies a mimeographed paper from the North-South Mountain Parkway Committee, Middleboro, Kentucky, which meets these interesting facts:

In the month of March, the United States announced loans as follows: Argentina, $322 million; Brazil, $398 million; Costa Rica, $259 million.

The same committee then wonders if, maybe, the needs of Eastern Kentucky couldn't be recognized by our generous Uncle Sam. Not that the United States would be expected to reduce foreign aid but that it would recognize poverty and depressed areas in our own country.

FOOD STAMPS ASSIST AREA

Three Eastern Kentucky Counties Participating; 4,000 Families Aided

Nearly 4,000 Eastern Kentucky families participating in the U. S. Department of Agriculture's food stamp program received more than $225,000 worth of food stamp coupons during March.

USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service reports that 3,979 low-income families in Floyd, Knott, and Perry counties representing about 21,000 persons received $189,000 worth of coupons free of charge after purchasing $44,023 worth. The bonus coupons were issued to the needy families to help them buy more and better food.

The recipient families who normally would have averaged spending about $18 a month for food were able to spend nearly $57 during March at their local foodstores. They were able to buy any food of their choice, except for a few important items.

Representatives of the Agricultural Marketing Service and Kentucky Department of Economic Security supervising the three counties' food stamp project are pleased with the initial success of the new food program in Knott and Perry counties. Floyd county has had the program since June 1, 1961, after it was designated as such.

GROUND BREAKING FOR SCHOOL ...

POSITIONS ARE DRAWN BY FLOYD CANDIDATES

HILL PAPERS LEGAL, SAID; FEW APPEAR

45 Candidates Register
For May Primary Polling;
2 Quit Race for Council

Before the Saturday midnight deadline had passed 45 Floyd county men had filed for office at the County Clerk's office here as candidates.

Failure of Judge Edward P. Hill, candidate for re-election to the office of Circuit Judge, to have his signature acknowledged by the County Clerk created considerable interest. It was later decided, however, that his declaration was in order.

Tuesday afternoon, the draw for position on the ballot was held. Two candidates, Henry Stephens and Thomas Leo Music, candidates for the Democratic nomination for Circuit Clerk, appeared for the drawing. The drawing for position on the ballot for city elections, which did not come till November, was not held.

Here is the order in which candidates were drawn:

RECREATION PROGRAM SET

At Jenny Wiley Park;
Hiking, Nature Study,
Archery Plans Are Made

The season's recreation program at Jenny Wiley State Park is well-nigh completed, with horseback riding preparations further being made by the park recreation director, said this week.

A location for the stables has been made near the branch, but the horseback riding part of the program has advanced little further than that.

Hiking and supervised nature study are all set, with the last of three hiking trails now being completed. The longest of these, an elliptical mile and a quarter trail, begins and ends at the lake reservoir on the hill, near the lodge. Another extends along the lake from the lodge to a point near the cabin, and a third extends from the cabin to the lake.

Other supervised recreation will include an archery range, swimming and swimming instruction and boating.

Free movies are being shown at 7 p.m. Fridays at the Pro Shop at the golf course. The public is invited, Mr. Wise said.

Boating and fishing are behind schedule, with the lake level down and the dock not installed. The lake level was let down to permit the placing of old car bodies as fish shelters most of the car bodies are in, and lack of rainfall keeps the lake from filling back to the conservation pool. While it remains at this low level, it was said, the dock cannot be restored. Meanwhile, boatmen and others have been inquiring in vain about when they can find a berth for their boats at the lake.

Some of the "keeper-size" bass promised by the Division of Game and Fish were released in the lake last week. How many there were of these is not known.

ORGANIZATION STUDY SLATED

Watkins Invited Here
To Discuss Community
Betterment, Development

Thomas N. Watkins, director of research, Kentucky Chamber of Commerce, will speak at a meeting of business, professional, and civic leaders at noon next Wednesday at the Kentucky Hotel clubroom here. A special meeting of the committee to study the needs of the county will be held at 10 a.m. Wednesday to consider plans to submit to the noon meeting.

Mr. Watkins comes here in answer to an expressed desire for an organization of leaders to plan a united and continuing effort for community betterment and development. Organization of a Chamber of Commerce here is seen as a possibility. Mr. Watkins will outline steps necessary to the organizing of a local unit.

Next Wednesday's meeting was arranged by a committee formed during last summer's trip made to Chattanooga, Tennessee, by Prestonsburg business and professional men. A special meeting of the committee formed on that trip will be held at 10 a.m. Wednesday to consider plans to submit to the noon meeting.

OBSEVANCE FEATURES TO ENLIGHTEN PUBLIC

Observance of Library Week, April 21-28, in this county will be marked by features designed to acquaint Floyd citizens with the extent library services have been developed for their benefit.

Mr. Sherman Sherman, M.D., of Martin, Library Week chairman, said Monday.

Mr. Sherman sketched the scope of the library movement in the county, beginning with the first Bookmobile unit to serve in 1944. Three Bookmobiles now operate out of the county library here, ranging into every community where a car can be driven. The regional library serving a five-county area is also located here.

From a small beginning, the Floyd County Library, which has grown all it has more than 40,000 books for circulation. Other services offered by the library include reproductions of famous paintings, educational films, magazines, musical language recordings. Records as well as books are loaned. Reading matter offered also includes selected daily and weekly newspapers.

Mr. Sherman announced that the first of a series of radio broadcasts will be conducted four of some of the Bookmobile stations. A Bookmobile will leave the library here at 9 a.m. next Wednesday, and anyone interested is invited to accompany it on its call at various points.

Three radio broadcasts also are planned—two on WPKT at 1 p.m. Monday and Wednesday with comments from Bookmobile patrons and one on WPKT at 8:15 a.m. Thursday when a reading group will discuss a book.

Robert Wallace, regional librarian, will speak at the Prestonsburg-Kilbuck Club meeting, Thursday evening next week.

The Floyd County Library Board will meet next Thursday at 2 p.m. at the Martin branch library. The Martin branch will reopen Tuesday at 2:45 p.m., after having been closed by the March flood.

Water rose three feet inside the Martin library during the March flood, and 360 books were lost. Persons who have books borrowed at the branch library are asked to return them, or if the books were lost in the flood to report them so.

The branch library there, the only such adjunct to the county library now in operation, was established in the fall of 1959 and was at first operated by members of the Allen-Martin Woman's Club. The club has since that time disbanded, and so the library work there has been done by volunteers. Mrs. Mary R. Vance, Mrs. Sherman Sherman, Mrs. Violet Rice, Misses Jane Prazier and Nyoka Rice.

P.E.O. SISTERHOOD MEETS

By Commissioner Fox;
Cleanup, Landscaping,
Other Work Is Planned

Edward B. Fox, commissioner of Kentucky Department of Parks, authorized Wednesday the employment of 30 force account workers for a temporary period of two months at Jenny Wiley State Park.

Fox said, "It is necessary to supplement the regular park crew with these temporary employees to get the essential cleanup and landscaping of park areas completed before the main tourist season begins."

"Inclement weather and the recent flood prevented this work from being done prior to this time. The vacation cottages were completed last fall but area clearing and landscaping were not possible, due to weather conditions."

The workers, he said, will also be utilized in clearing and developing horseback riding and foot paths, and in landscaping and other activities at the park.

"The recent flood," Fox said, "has left the area in a state of disrepair. It will be necessary to make immediate repairs must be made. We expect to have all the accommodations, recreation facilities and general park area in excellent condition when the main tourist season begins. This promises to be the largest season yet at Jenny Wiley State Park and we want everything ready for the local citizens to enjoy and for the thousands of visitors who will visit the park."

ATTENDANCE RATE HIGH

In Floyd-Co. Schools;
Pike, Jefferson Exceed
In Average Attendance

Floyd and two other Eastern Kentucky counties are among the top six in average daily attendance figures, the Department of Education announced this week.

"That is about a surprise to many people," said Dr. Frank Dean, director of statistical services. "They don't realize there are such important counties in the mountains."

Such statistics are far more important and valid than enrollment figures, Dean said. The results are a measure of the quality of the education system, he said.

WHY DOES "HAPPY" CHANDLER HATE EASTERN KENTUCKY??

EDWARD T. "NED" BREATHITT For GOVERNOR

Editorial from the . . .

THE LEXINGTON HERALD

Former Gov. A. B. Chandler, running for the Democratic nomination for governor in the May primary, once more is shedding crocodile tears over the plight of Eastern Kentucky, hit by successive floods in the early part of this month. The Versailles man, bringing into play all his political arts and forensic twists, has pledged undying love for the people of the mountains and has given his "solemn pledge" that if elected he'll do something to stop the floods and aid "my people."

In 1957, when A. B. Chandler was governor of Kentucky, a flood just about as devastating as that which hit Eastern Kentucky this month, wrought death and destruction from Prestonsburg to Harlan. Now just what did Mr. Chandler do to help Eastern Kentuckians wearily mopping up mud from their homes and places of business? He visited them, expressed his great regret at their "plight"—and then boarded a steamship for a two-month vacation in Europe and Palestine!

The record does not show that he did anything about the floods that he now so glibly, as a candidate, promises the suffering residents of the mountains that he will do if they'll only send him back to Frankfort!

Attacking Gov. Bert T. Combs, who yesterday was in Washington meeting with Kentucky's congressional delegation and others who may have something to do with providing the state with flood control, Mr. Chandler Wednesday said: "I have access to more doors of importance in Washington in one day than the little judge will have during his lifetime." Can Mr. Chandler tell the suffering people of the mountains why he didn't use a single one of those doors back in 1957 when water stood neck deep in Hazard, Prestonsburg, Pikeville, Harlan and Middlesboro? Was he too busy packing for his luxurious trip to Europe and the Holy Land?

Mr. Chandler served four years as governor, from 1955 to 1959, and so far as we have been able to learn he did absolutely nothing to aid Eastern Kentucky economically or to advance the flood control plans for that area. Why would any right thinking voter believe for a minute that his crying today over the plight of Eastern Kentucky is anything more than a vote-getting play?

Upon his return in the summer of 1957, Mr. Chandler was met by a huge crowd of "well-wishers," newspapers reported. Mr. Chandler, deeply moved by the demonstration, "told the crowd that he could not look at the plight of other peoples in the world, as I have in my time, without coming home in a spirit of deep humility." Apparently he could not look too closely at the "plight" of his own people, either.

It will become the former governor to ridicule the efforts that Gov. Combs is making and has been making day in and day out to do something to lift the economy of Eastern Kentucky and to get that area the flood control that Mr. Chandler so easily put out of his mind as he waved goodbye to Kentucky's problems and set sail for Europe!

HAPPY CHANDLER CONTINUES TO MAKE BAD STATEMENTS ABOUT EASTERN KENTUCKY

1. Happy makes fun of the Mountain Parkway. He says, "The new highway goes uphill to nowhere." He's against this new road. Our mountain people have been landlocked for over 100 years and this new road gives us modern transportation. This is the biggest breakthrough in history. Ned Breathitt has promised to complete our parkway! Happy Chandler does nothing but criticize us and the new road.

2. Happy Chandler says that "if the schoolteachers don't think they are getting paid enough they can go somewhere else, you understand?" This is what Happy thinks of education and our children. Ned Breathitt sponsored the Minimum Foundation Law for Education. Ned Breathitt has promised to continue and expand the educational program of Kentucky. Ned Breathitt does not want our teachers to go somewhere else. Ned Breathitt wants to pay our schoolteachers a decent wage. Ned Breathitt is for education.

3. Happy Chandler makes light of our park system. Happy Chandler, during his last administration, did nothing for our parks. Not a single park expansion was made. Under the Combs administration a new park facility has been built in Floyd county. This will mean more to our economy. Tourists by the thousands will come here and spend money with us. Ned Breathitt has promised to expand our park program. Ned Breathitt will continue this great program that will mean more to Eastern Kentucky.

4. Happy Chandler would destroy our Welfare Program! In Eastern Kentucky our welfare program means everything to our Old Age Pensioners, Needy Blind, Aid to Needy Children, and Permanently and Totally Disabled. Under the Combs Administration our Welfare people are getting more money than ever before in history. Our people under the present Welfare Program are getting 10 times the amount they would pay in Sales Tax. Happy Chandler would destroy the present tax system that makes our Welfare Program work. Ned Breathitt has promised he will expand our Old Age Assistance Program and continue to help our senior citizens and recipients of our Welfare Program.

BREATHITT PLEDGES $180 WELFARE PAY INCREASE

Paducah, Ky., April 15—An additional average increase of $180 a year in payments to Kentucky's aged, blind and disabled persons, was pledged here Monday by Edward T. "Ned" Breathitt.

The candidate for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination said during the past four years payments to the aged, blind and disabled have risen on the average by $104 a year and his platform calls for an additional average increase to $70 a month.

The increase, Breathitt said, will compensate by more than 1,000 percent the burden placed on the aged, blind and disabled by the state sales tax, and most of the money will come from the federal government.

He also said he would increase medical, hospital and other benefits for those eligible under the Kerr-Mills Act.

He also said his administration would:

Provide the state's unemployed with additional skills and resources.

Oppose any attempt to saddle unjust tax burdens on low-income groups.

Breathitt charged that aid to the aged, blind and disabled was inadequate under the administration of his opponent, former Governor A. B. Chandler.

Breathitt branded Chandler's claim of friendship for the little man as a sham and stated that Chandler's tax program would soak the poor, just as he soaked the poor in 1956.

STATE SCHOOLS TO RECEIVE ADDED $1.4 MILLION FUND

Prestonburg, Ky., April 12 (Sp.)—Kentucky's school districts, to which the Legislature appropriated $108.7 million for the current fiscal year, will receive an additional $1.4 million in state funds. Finance Commissioner David H. Pritchett has announced. The action, "to keep Kentucky's common schools completely in line with the Minimum Foundation Program for education, is being taken for two reasons," Pritchett said. They are: (1) Kentucky school teachers, by asking higher college training are qualifying for salary increases faster than ever before; and (2) local revenue from franchise company properties, which are taxed by school districts, has declined because of a 1930 Court of Appeals ruling. Wendell H. Butler, state superintendent of public instruction, said:

Thomas J. Layne, 83, Of Martin, Succumbs;

and J. A. Murphy, of the Hazard post, were questioned closely about the daily activities of the pickets from September through November. That was the period when the labor union was at its height.

Goode testified that one picket, Lowell Sammons, identified himself early during the unrest as "treason" for the pickets.

Other testimony by troopers was that the pickets sometimes used abusive language and once threatened to rush State Police after they had arrested a picket.

Testimony that pickets used violence to close the nation's tonnage truck mines was introduced during the hearing Tuesday.

The pickets were accused by coal operators and their employees of whipping mine employees and threatening them with "bloodshed."

Jack Hall, an employee of Utilities-Eko Coal Company, picket testified, he was beaten by several pickets when approximately 250 pickets descended on the firm's property last September 20.

Another employee said he was struck on the head the same day. Other testimony was that one picket threatened a third employee of Utilities-Eko with a knife during the disturbance.

Hall, a truck driver for the coal company, testified the man who threatened him said "he'd cut my guts out."

Mosey Johnson, of Garrett, president of Utilities-Eko, testified the pickets threatened to turn over the firm's office building after his employees sought safety there during the outbreak of violence.

Most of the evidence heard Tuesday related to incidents involving the pickets and coal firms operated by Johnson and his son, Parry Johnson.

The Johnsons testified the pickets trespassed at mines they own in Pike and Knott counties on three days in mid-September, although the property was "posted" against trespassers.

They identified Lew Howell and Odell Cravens, both of Floyd county, as spokesmen for the pickets. Howell was accused of encouraging the violence at Utilities-Eko.

"Bring 'em out. Bring 'em out rough," the younger Johnson quoted Howell as saying during the violence.

He and his father testified the pickets chased employees of the coal company from the triple.

"They [the pickets] were carrying 2-by-4s, iron pipes, and crowbars," the older Johnson testified. "I saw one fellow employes hit on top of the head."

Hall testified he was first warned by the pickets not to haul coal when the pickets visited the Johnsons' King Branch Mine in Knott county, September 14.

A second warning was allegedly issued to him during picketing at the Johnsons' Pike county mine September 18, he testified.

"They said if I was caught back there it would be bad for me," Hall testified.

He quoted Howell as telling a picket to beat him (Hall) up and "make the blood come" during the trouble September 20.

Attorneys for the pickets brought out in their cross-examination of the Johnsons and their employees that possibly a "riot" had been fired during the trouble September 20.

The witnesses acknowledged hearing "something," but denied that the owners of the firms had plans on them or in their trucks during the violence.

Other testimony introduced by the government was intended to substantiate the charge that the pickets forced coal companies in the area to close temporarily. Locked trucks leading to and from mines, increased on private property and threatened employees. All are violations of labor laws.

The Johnsons testified their property was posted with "No Trespassing" signs when the pickets came.

Another witness, David E. Beyer, of Wayland, testified about picketing October 23 at Right Beaver Coal Company. Beyer is an engineer for the firm and an officer in Evans Elkhorn Coal Corporation, Floyd county.

He said cross-examination closely by Dan Jack Combs, attorney for the pickets, about whether Right Beaver Coal Company was not in arrears to the U.M.W. welfare and retirement fund throughout September and October, the period when labor unrest was at its peak.

Beyer in direct testimony identified Right Beaver as a union welfare fund, the 40-cent-a-ton levy required in U.M.W. contracts.

Former Floyd Woman, Husband Make 'Second Career' Helping Others: Send Aid To County

Those visited by disaster and tragedy almost invariably learn the lesson that the heart of America is big and warm and sympathetic and help come from the most unexpected sources and from all parts of the country.

Victims of the March flood in this and other counties learned the lesson well as individuals, schools, clubs, churches and business firms came to their aid with food and clothing.

Of all those who helped, none perhaps has made a "second career" of helping others as have Mr. and Mrs. Jack W. Thomas of Pasadena, Calif., who sent more than 300 pounds of good clothing to the Harold school and shipments of about the same size to Gladys, Virginia, Harlan and Hazard, and through whose collection on Mississippi "Angels" large retail department stores sent to the area a truckload of new shoes.

Mrs. Thomas is a native of Big Mud Creek. Her husband formerly was in shoe business, a musician, and later in the printing business.

The Los Angeles Times said of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas, recently:

"An urgent appeal for clothing for homeless victims of the devastating floods and tornadoes hitting some Southern states has been made by a Pasadena couple.

"Mr. and Mrs. Jack W. Thomas, 203 Sierra Madre Blvd., who have made the work of helping others almost a second career, said the need for shoes and clothing, particularly children's clothing, is immediate for the residents of Alabama, Mississippi, Tennessee and Kentucky.

"Huge quantities of donated garments, almost all of which are cleaned and pressed by Mrs. Thomas, have been packed and sent on to Indian reservations, local needy and others throughout the country.

"This current need for clothing has found our racks almost empty, Thomas said. We can use any kind of wearing apparel offered.

"Mrs. Thomas, who lived in Kentucky as a child, said she knows the cold and poverty there. It can be miserable even without these floods that have now hit Kentucky.

"During the bitter cold spell there recently, the Thomas' sent out some boxes of warm clothing.

"Some Pasadena visitors on New Year's Day may have noticed the Thomas' collection. It was filled with clothing and their families who could not otherwise have had an opportunity to see the Rose Parade.

"Auntie, the garden with doughnuts and milk, the children were entertained by Thomas, a magician in Vaudeville for 30 years. For 20 years, as long as they have been married, Mrs. Thomas has been a volunteer.

"During that time, at each parade, she and her husband have helped and given to the needy.

"Mrs. Thomas said she and her husband have been married 20 years.

Plans To Keep Open Memorial Hospitals Slated for Completion

Governor Bert Combs said Saturday that a plan to keep open four United Mine Workers hospitals in Eastern Kentucky will be completed this week.

This plan, he added, would be submitted to the United Presbyterian Church and to trustees of the U.M.W. miners' memorial hospital fund.

The Governor made his statements in an interview on WSAZ-TV, Huntington, West Virginia.

The fund plans to close hospitals it owns at Whitesburg, Hazard, McDowell and Middleboro.

Combs said that state officials conferred in Washington this week with representatives of both the church and the U.M.W. He said his special assistant, John Whitman, and Welfare Administrator Felix Jorjanc took part in the meeting.

Combs expressed belief that it would be "a workable plan."

He indicated he may go to Washington next week for more talks with the church and U.M.W. officials.

Many workers who are of retirement age are still working full time at regular employment. It is believed that a great number of these workers have not applied for their Social Security benefits because they are still working. If you are one of these workers, you should contact your Social Security office at your earliest convenience. It may be possible for you to work and still receive benefits for some months of the year. This will depend on the amount of your benefit and the amount of yearly earnings.

There are several reasons why a person of retirement age should contact his Social Security office even though he is still working.

1. A man or woman may, in some cases, continue to work full time and still be entitled to some benefits for the year.

2. A person can establish entitlement to benefits while he is still working, and his claim can be completely processed before he retires. This can be done even though his earnings, at present, prevent him from receiving benefits. This eliminates delay in receiving benefits at the time he finally does retire.

There is often a delay in payment when people do not have the necessary proofs and other required information available when they file their application.

If an application is filed in advance of actual retirement, a person will have ample time to secure the necessary proofs for completion of his claim. This would eliminate the last minute rush to secure the needed information which might delay your benefit check.

The Social Security Administration is unable to take any action toward preparing a person for retirement until he has filed an application.

Be sure to contact your Social Security Representative in the Courthouse in Paintsville, Kentucky, any Thursday, if you are of retirement age and have not filed an application. This will help you to get your first check on time. Your Social Security Representative is at your service to help you with your Social Security problems. For further information you may call your Social Security District Office in Pikeville, Kentucky. The telephone number is 432-2177.

DeROSSETT
For CIRCUIT CLERK

In this, my first race for public office, I want to say that I believe the voters are entitled to know the platform upon which I appeal for support.

Many of you are acquainted with my background, qualifications and Christian training. A sense of service has ever prompted me to assist my fellow man. I shall carry these qualities of heart and mind into the office of Circuit Clerk.

I believe in giving our young people a break in life. One break they should have is adequate driver education. This is the day of modern traffic problems and proper training will save lives and money. I pledge you to initiate and promote a driver training program in every Floyd county high school. This program will save at least 30 percent on insurance protection and, what is more important, it will save lives on our highways. Floyd county is the only one in the state that doesn't have such a program.

Enquire about me from my neighbors, friends and associates. You will find that I merit your consideration and I pledge to make you an efficient public official.

Sincerely,

FRANK DEROSSETT
FOR CIRCUIT COURT CLERK

With our side would take some of that residual oil it's buying to place a few foreign countries and all concerns and give it to Costa Rica or some other depressed land, and so remove the competition it is creating to the remainder of our own oil industry.

Then, again, we wonder if the United States measures the ratio of benefit against the cost on all these projects it sponsors overseas. They do it here at home, do it so additionally, so painstakingly and with such great deliberation that whole valleys almost literally down before the government decides where to start working.

alleviating flood damage short of construction of dams. Among these are stream clearance, straightening and dredging as well as flood walls.

Wrote General Graham, in part: "The two matters are being investigated as a part of our Big Sandy survey presently under way and scheduled for completion in 1963. The present schedule of operations for the Big Sandy River Report by our District Engineer at Huntington, West Virginia, and our Division Engineer at Cincinnati, Ohio, proposes submission of two reports in response to survey authorization for the Big Sandy River Basin. One report covering flood control, hydroelectric power, water quality control, water supply and recreation is scheduled for submission to the Board of Engineers for Rivers and Harbors in the late summer of 1963, and the other report, covering the navigation aspects, is scheduled for submission in fiscal year 1964.

"The Paintsville project is one of several reservoirs now being considered by the Federal Government in the initial report, rendering free services in the treatment of eye defects and diseases among the people of the underdeveloped area. His talk at the youth rally will be based on his experiences and work in Haiti.

Combs commented, "I hope we're not talking about another study survey. We've been surveyed by the federal agencies represented at the meeting have the power to make 'realistic improvements' if the entire joint committee will act as a task force to push projects through.

Governor Combs served as chairman of the Conference of Appalachian Governors until December 1962. When West Virginia Governor W. L. Battle became chairman, other states in the Conference are Tennessee, Virginia, Maryland, Alabama, North Carolina and Pennsylvania. Besides Combs and Battle, other governors present were J. G. Clement, of Tennessee, and Albert B. Harrison, of Virginia.

A report on recent flood damage in five of eight states was given by Edward McDermott, chief of the U. S. Office of Emergency Planning and Rebuilding, who said that flood damage would be $82 million in Tennessee alone in Tennessee, and would total over $1 million, he said, and in West Virginia, more than a million.

After meeting with Gov. Combs and Kentucky's Congressional delegation in Washington on March 26, McDermott recommended that President Kennedy accept the special Appalachian bill.

To give immediate priority to federal projects in eight states, President Kennedy told the heads of federal agencies and departments to "make appropriate changes under present authorities and budgets" and to look ahead to flood requests which will be made soon for the 1963-64 fiscal year. He also directed each agency inventory to report on its efforts to see to it that these things are accomplished and to submit a progress report by June 1.

Present were Luther Hodges, Secretary of Commerce; Anthony Calabrese, secretary of Labor; Ericine and Wallace Stewart, Utah, secretary of Interior; and William W. Wirtz, secretary of Labor. Agency heads represented the Housing and Home Finance Agency, Small Business Administration, Atomic Energy Commission, National Aeronautics and Space Administration, Council of Economic Advisors, Budget Bureau, and the Defense Department.

John Whitman, special assistant to Governor Combs and staff director of the Appalachian Governors' Conference, met with Undersecretary Roosevelt following the White House meeting.

Whitman and the other representatives of the eight governors released the memorandum felt by those present at the White House meeting to report on their strategy and commitment to action by Whitman declared.

The initial discussion with Roosevelt had plans for the undersecretary to visit each Appalachian state at a later date, after each federal agency has approved a recommendation for the special Appalachian body.

Dr. Charles Wilson, of Pikeville, will be the speaker at the youth rally to be held Friday, April 19, at the Lanesville Baptist Church. The meeting is for the Big Baptist youth enterprise Association, will begin at 7 p.m.

Dr. Wilson, an ophthalmologist, and his wife spent March, 1962 and February of this year in Haiti, rendering free services in the treatment of eye defects and diseases among the people of the underdeveloped area. His talk at the youth rally will be based on his experiences and work in Haiti.

In Indiana they limited hunters to six shells apiece in the goose pits. Results: the largest kill for any one day occurred the day the new rules went into effect. Moral: when you hear someone say, "They're not high; they're just small," remember it pays to wait 'em out before you shoot.—Sports Afield.

Breaking 100-straight doubles at trapshooting is comparable to pitting a no-run, no-hit baseball game. Merle Kemmerly of Bossier City, Louisiana, is the only amateur who has broken 100-straight doubles at the 63-year-old Grand American trapshooting classic.—Sports Afield.

The common sunfish ranges from the Great Lakes to Maine and south to Florida, west to the Dakotas and southward. The sunfish tends toward sluggish, weed-choked, muddy-bottomed habitat.—Sports Afield.

Underneath Vast Stephens Farm Lay Huge Reserves Of Minerals

(This is the third article in a series on the Stephens family.)

John Stephens, one of the sons of Samuel Stephens and Florence Patton Stephens, who went heading for California in the Gold Rush had no inkling that underneath, and on the waters of Beaver and Middle Creek lay a fortune at home in coal and natural gas.

John, who never married, returned from the west, a bit disillusioned about far-off wealth and knowing nothing of "black diamonds" and the other hidden minerals of the mountains, sold his part of his father's estate to one of the other heirs.

But whether John Stephens or any of the heirs of the Stephens estate knew of it or not, a vast storehouse of mineral wealth, awaiting development, was under the 16,000 acres of the Stephens barony. Stephens Branch, approximately three miles long, all of the Canyon Fork of Middle Creek down to what oldsters called the Cold Springs, and hundreds of acres of bottom on main Beaver lay under a title to Samuel and Florence Stephens. They, too, had little conception of the vast resources under their land.

Decades later the Bailey-Peterson Coal Company and soon afterward the May Coal Company began development. Today the Stephens Elk-horn Fuel Corporation, successor of the May Coal Company, is exploiting part of the original Stephens farm. It is said that none of Samuel Stephens' heirs reaped any large reward from the land. Most of them were restless and, people said, stubborn. They wanted to leave the old home site, look for wealth and a good life elsewhere.

Development of the natural resources of Big Sandy was coming, though, before Samuel and Florence died. In the eighties a railway was pushed up the valley to Peach Orchard, finally to Whitehouse. Timber merchants swarmed on the main stream and looked up into the tributary valleys. Giant walnut trees were bought for a song. In a few years other buyers returned to dig up the stumps. While Samuel Stephens was approaching the last years of his life, logging became the concern of many prominent Big Sandians and Outletsburg grew to the largest hardwood market in the world. It held that lead for a decade.

All of the many sons and daughters of Samuel Stephens were married before 1880, with the exception of John who had gone west.

The Stephens Branch home was never empty, though, for grandchildren were constant inmates.

Samuel Stephens, after a vigorous old age, died, July 24, 1867. His widow survived until 1890. Both were buried in the cemetery that bears the Stephens name, on a point near the residence of the late B. L. C. May, who married a granddaughter.

In this pine-covered cemetery, others, who like Samuel and Florence Stephens pioneered the development of homes in the community, lie buried. A black-topped road trails along now at the foot of the hill, going up Stephens Branch and down Canyon Fork. In Samuel's day it was a wagon-trail rut.

Eight children of the old pioneer whose marriages and children were not listed in former articles of this series are Thomas, Samuel A., Mary, Cynthia, Andrew, David, Morgan G., and Darius P.

Thomas married Nancy Jane Bradley, March 15, 1852, and had 12 children. They were Susan, married Isaac P. Flannery, April 13, 1876, and upon his death married Sam England; Florence, married David A. Canady, November 30, 1871; Isaac married Malinda Yates; Samuel married Rebecca Castle, November 19, 1868, and after her death married Sophie Whitaker, December 22, 1875, and following her death married Mary Simmons, June 2, 1923, and later married Rosa (Wierman) Hainsbee; Reuben A. married Nancy Haywood, December 28, 1861 and upon his death, he married Thomas Ratliff, September 26, 1894. She died in Utah, James B. married Lammie Haywood, November 14, 1852; William D., born October 14, 1859, died January 19, 1906, never married; J. R. (Riley) married Margaret Baldridge; George H., about which no information is available; Rebecca A. married Sandy Vaughan, November 20, 1867, and after her death married B. B. (Doc) Porter; Lee married Susan McKnight; Elizabeth married John McCann and later, March 31, 1886, married Vernon Bentley.

Samuel A. Stephens, born April 30, 1831, died May 30, 1880, married October 19, 1861, Sarah Osborne, born March 27, 1839, died June 19, 1904. They 11 children were David, born Lewis, March 18, February 10, 1903; D. B. married Myrtle L. Hall, January 22, 1908; B. B. married Rosa Martin, March 4, 1906, and following her death married Virgie Ratliff, May 29, 1902; Ed L. married Grace Adams, of Macoffin county and upon her death married Lily May, also of Macoffin county; Susan, married June 24, 1886; Thomas G. (Bringer) Allen, President married Panny Howard and later January 17, 1894, married Lydia Crisp; Monroe married Reecie Crisp and later Alice Adams; Rhoda married B. B. Osborne; Mary married A. L. Osborne and later was married to John Jones; Irvin and known as to whom married, but it is said he went to Oklahoma; Florence married Bill Flannery; Dollie G. married February 4, 1866, Elbert Pratt; Sallie married Logan Dinkus; Margaret, died in infancy.

Mary Stephens married David Osborne, October 11, 1835. They had 13 children: Albert married Ello Prater and after her death married Hattie Preston Allen; Samuel married Susan Osborne; Matt married Darius Patton; Ewing married Stella Chapman; John D. married Ella Hall and later Clara Hall; Rebecca married Joe Salisbury; Cynthia married Jacob Crisp; Rhoda married Logan Dinkus; Cynthia and Rebecca Osborne were twins.

Cynthia Stephens married Samuel Hale and to them were born only one child which died in infancy. This was a second marriage of Samuel Hale, he having married Eda Helton whose mother was a Wierman, before his marriage to Cynthia Stephens. There were eight children born to this first marriage of Samuel Hale. The eldest, James Hale, emigrated west where the nearest railway to Big Sandy was Cincinnati and it was necessary to go there by steamboat. Arriving in Kansas City, Missouri, the western railway terminal, he found himself with only fifty cents. James Hale, the oldest, died a few years ago in Wynoka, Oklahoma, possessed of vast real estate holdings, one ranch alone having 35,000 acres on the Cimarron River. He survived all of his brothers and sisters. In 1826 he returned to the Big Sandy to visit his relatives, the only time he ever came back.

Other sons and daughters of Samuel Hale and Eda Helton Hale were A. J. Hale, died at Verdigris, Oklahoma; B. B. Hale, died at Coty, Nebraska; John who emigrated to Missouri, but returned to live in Floyd county; Vernon Hale, who went to Oklahoma but had his legs broken in a wagon wheel and died from the effects of the injury; Elizabeth born 1870, died August 1903, married Alexander Stephens, born July 15, 1865, died December 30, 1902, having married in 1887; Mary married Samuel Stephens and died in Webster county, Missouri; Samuel Stephens was killed in an automobile accident near Ralpersville, Macoffin county, and his body was returned to Missouri to be interred by his wife, Martha Hale married Paul Shepherd (Hale) and they moved to Seymour, Webster county, Missouri, where they died.

COOPER REQUESTS FUNDS TO SPEED FLOOD CONTROL

Senator John Sherman Cooper (R-Ky.) last week gave his legislative recommendations for flood control projects in Eastern Kentucky. "At least one year."

"I have written today to the President, asking that he recommend to the Congress increased appropriations for flood control projects in the Big Sandy, Upper Kentucky and Upper Cumberland River basins. The increase of $14,920,000, added to the $14,920,000 previously in the budget, will enable the Corps of Engineers to undertake work this year, which I believe will shorten the time by at least one year, in which flood protection can be provided for Eastern Kentucky."

The first recommendation is that budgeted funds for projects now under construction be increased and that funds be placed in the lowest bid projects now ready for construction. The projects and additional funds recommended are as follows: Big Sandy River, Flathead Reservoir, increase from $3,250,000 to $10,500,000; Flathead Reservoir, increase from $4 million to $6 million; Pound Reservoir, increase from $1,700,000 to $3,200,000—all under construction. Corps of Engineers should be directed to take immediate steps to settle with the C. & O. Railroad and if settlement fails, to condemn, as location of railroad is a problem, speeding up Flathead completion.

Upper Cumberland River: Local flood protection for Cumberland River, to start construction, $70,000; Laurel River Reservoir, to start construction, $1 million.

Upper Kentucky River: Carr Fork Reservoir, to start construction, increase from $100,000 to $1,500,000.

My second recommendation is that the President request funds for the Corps of Engineers, to dredge upper reaches of the three rivers, where Corps determines justified, and very important, to dredge their small tributaries, which have recently flooded many communities. I estimate the cost at $100,000.

My third recommendation is that the President request funds to enable the Corps of Engineers to review reservoirs and flood protection facilities previously approved, to determine if they can now be approved on the basis of new information secured by reason of recent floods. The resolution, which I introduced on March 15, has been adopted and forwarded to the Corps of Engineers. It directs the Corps to undertake this work but funds must be provided by appropriation. I estimate a cost of $100,000.

Examples of projects which I believe could now be approved are:

Haysi Reservoir and Paint Creek Reservoir, and local flood protection at Martin-Big Sandy River Basin; Line Fork Reservoir and Walker's Creek Reservoir and local flood protection at Whitesburg—Upper Kentucky River Basin; and Martin Park Reservoir, Upper Cumberland River Basin.

My recommendation would double construction funds for Flathead and Pound Reservoirs and add $2 million for Flathead Reservoir in the Big Sandy River Basin. It adds to the budget $14 million.

Hollie Conley As Judge Offers Justice, Personal Morality, Firm Decisions, Dignity and Respect

Justice for all, with partiality to none, is the greatest of all qualities which your judge can offer. When partiality creeps into decisions of a court, when judgments are tempered by political considerations, you may be the one who suffers. As a candidate for the high office of Circuit Judge, I pledge profuse courtesy and respect based upon the facts and the law as I see it.

Respect for the dignity of your court and a belief in the justice of its decisions depend entirely upon the mentality, the experience and the personal traits of the person who holds the position. As a husband, as the father of four children, as a businessman, as County Attorney and as Commonwealth Attorney, as a citizen, I have ever attempted to be sober, honest, discreet and courteous—in short, I have shunned evil as well as the appearance of evil. I shall keep this attitude throughout my public service to you.

As your Commonwealth Attorney, I have prosecuted with vigor those whom the facts indicated were guilty. Despite my best efforts, there is still much to be done in our county in eliminating crime. Perhaps the illegal liquor traffic lurks in the background of most criminal activities in our county. I have never flinched as Commonwealth Attorney in prosecuting those charged with this evil offense. It is my thought that our Grand Jury may have been unable to completely investigate this particular type of crime because of the many other crimes coming before them. I WOULD PROPOSE TO

CALL SPECIAL GRAND JURIES TO DO NOTHING BUT INVESTIGATE THE BOOTLEGGING TRAFFIC.

Citizens are entitled to have their courts run honestly and promptly. The issues should be met head on and a firm decision rendered, in a studious, conscientious and fearless manner. This type of service to all I honestly pledge.

Your voice and support are earnestly solicited.

Your friend,
HOLLIE CONLEY

TO SPIKE A FALSE RUMOR

Last Sunday, my opponent, Hollie Conley, and some of his supporters spread a false rumor pertaining to my nomination papers. They rumored that I would not be on the ballot on account of a defect in my papers. These rumors are false and without foundation in law or in fact. The County Court Clerk, possibly through unintentional oversight, did not sign my papers on the proper line after administering an oath. This oversight is unimportant, and can be and will be corrected in due time. In fact, the law does not require an oath at all.

My opponent did not believe these rumors himself. Otherwise, he would stop campaigning if he thought he was getting elected your judge that easy.

What do you think about a crowd that will resort to false rumors in an effort to get the highest and most important judicial office in our county?

I ask my friends to spike these false rumors, and continue to wage the good fight against the forces of evil.

Faithfully yours,

EDWARD P. HILL

TOTAL PERFORMANCE:

FORD GALAXIE 500XL SPORTS HARDTOP

YOU'LL KNOW WHY SHE DOESN'T FEEL THE BUMPS...WHEN YOU TEST-DRIVE FORD'S NEW '10,000,000 RIDE

The 1963 Ford gives you a ride every bit as smooth as cars costing hundreds more, and for two reasons: a revolutionary new suspension system... and added road-hugging weight.

We took ten million dollars to develop the new Ford ride. We designed a revolutionary new suspension system for the '63 Ford. Where ordinary suspensions move only up and down to absorb road shock, the Ford suspension moves backward as well. In this double-action suspension system, coil springs up front and leaf springs in the rear combine to give you firmness in cornering and a special smoothness over the road.

We added weight, strength and stability. The new Ford is now as tautly hundreds of pounds more car than any other car in its class. This remarkable weight advantage is in the suspension, frame, and body. And, as you know, this added weight means a more stable ride.

But a solid, road-smoothing ride is only part of Ford's total performance story for 1963. Look how Ford swept the field this year in the grueling Daytona, Riverside and Atlanta 500's and in the demanding Pure Oil Performance Trials. Only a car with total performance—the best combination of strength, balance, precision control, braking power and road-clinging suspension—could roll up so many wins.

Before you buy any new car, test-drive a Super Torque Ford. If you haven't driven one lately, you can't really know what a new Ford is like. Make this important discovery—if it's built by Ford, it's built for performance... total performance.
