Board scraps project at Betsy Layne

by Susan Allen
Staff Writer

A move to cancel a controversial school construction project Tuesday pitted the two newest members of the Floyd County Board of Education against each other.

Newly-appointed board member Brent Clark asked that a 21-classroom addition project at Betsy Layne Elementary be abandoned until a new middle school can be constructed in the Betsy Layne area.

Board member Bob Isaac disagreed with abandoning the project, saying it would open the door for "politics as usual" to interfere with decisions to build schools.

Isaac was a parent representative on the district's Local Planning Committee (LPC) before being named to the board in May. The 16-member LPC drew up a plan for new school construction in the county for the next four years.

One of two public hearings on the plan was held Monday, July 19 and a second hearing, conducted by state officials, will be held Tuesday, July 27. After the July 27 hearing, the plan will be submitted to the state school board for approval.

At Monday's hearing, no comments were made concerning the 21-classroom addition, but parents representing Prairie Elementary pleaded that their school remain open and a group of Mud Creek citizens asked that the site for a new middle school be more centrally located.

At Tuesday's board meeting, Isaac said the LPC's plan would have to be revamped if the Betsy Layne project is eliminated. Isaac said the committee did not "look" at that project because they assumed it would be completed. Isaac suggested that the LPC's plan be submitted as is and that any changes be made after it is approved by the state board.

Clark disagreed with Isaac's con-

Board approves then rejects raises for certified workers

by Susan Allen
Staff Writer

Floyd County school board members voted Tuesday to give pay raises to certain classified personnel, but nixed raises for teachers and certified workers.

The regular July meeting was moved from South Floyd High School to Allen Elementary Tuesday because the district could not obtain a certificate of occupancy to hold the meeting at the new school.

A fifty-cent per hour increase was granted to the system's cooks and custodians while school bus drivers received a two-dollar per day pay raise.

On the issue of certified personnel increases, superintendent Steve Towler proposed a pay scale which, he said, would bring certified personnel salaries in line with others.

The board first approved Towler's recommendation but, after a short recess later in the meeting, the board reversed its decision saying the move would cost more than Towler noted.

Towler first said the increase, targeted at school principals and administrators, would cost just over $6,000. Towler also said if the board approved the pay schedule it would eliminate the indexing system which allowed new employees to move into old jobs while keeping the previous employee's salary.

After a short break late into Tuesday's meeting, board chairman John Patton said that a closer look at the proposal showed that the total increase in the salaries would cost closer to $16,000.

"Why can't we say eliminate the index and go with last year's salaries?" Patton asked. "It ought to be a simple thing to do."

Towler said that the raises would eliminate inequities in central office salaries caused by the old system of indexing. Towler said the system's reorganization plan resulted in some directors being paid less than others. The recommendation was rejected unanimously by the board and chairman Patton recommended that each

Harmon will seek seat on panel that fired him

by Geoff Belcher
Staff Writer

A former Floyd County police chief took steps last week to become a member of the very city commission that ousted him earlier this year.

Charles L. Harmon, former chief of the Wheelwright Police Department, on Friday filed with Floyd County Clerk Carla Robinson Boyd his intention to seek election to the Wheelwright City Commission.

The commission voted in February to oust Harmon on charges that he violated internal policies and procedures after he publicly criticized commission members Andy Wayne Akers, Lowell Dean Parker and Luther Johnson.

Harmon requested a formal probe of the commission's actions by Kentucky Attorney General Chris Gorman.

So far, Harmon is the only person to file for candidacy to the Wheelwright City Commission in November's general election. Potential candidates for non-partisan elected positions such as city council and commission seats and district board of education posts must file their intentions to seek office with the county clerk no later than Tuesday, August 3.

Among other filings:

- Prestonsburg City Council members Jerry Fanning, George Archer and Mike Vance have each announced that they will seek the office of mayor;
- Prestonsburg resident Steve Allen has filed to seek election to the Prestonsburg City Council;
- Wayland City Council member Curtis Tufts has filed for re-election;
- and Robert D. Isaac has announced his bid for the Floyd County Board of Education District Two seat.

Closing early!

The Floyd County Times office will be closing at noon today, Friday. Regular office hours will resume on Monday, July 26.

Truckers facing ban on use of Route 23

by Scott Perry
Times Editor

Coal truckers traveling north on Route 23 between Prestonsburg and Paintsville will face a state-imposed detour in September when extended weight limits are removed from that section of the highway.

According to a spokeswoman for the state Transportation Cabinet, Route 23 will be closed on September 7 to loaded coal trucks from its intersection with Route 3 in Floyd County to its intersection with Route 460 in Paintsville, a distance of approximately 10 miles.

Northbound coal haulers carrying more than 80,000 pounds will be required to use two alternate routes—either Route 114 and Route 460 or Route 3 and Route 645—to bypass Paintsville. Route 1428 at East Point is not approved for extended weight vehicles.

Transportation spokeswoman Sandra Hulen said the closure was approved at the request of Paintsville's City Council—to alleviate traffic congestion in that city—and to allow repair work on deep ruts in the northbound lane caused by overweight vehicles.

The Cabinet has also determined that a bridge spanning the Big Sandy River at Hager Hill in Johnson County is unsafe for extended weight traffic. Southbound traffic of unloaded trucks will not be affected by the new weight limits.

The traffic restrictions are expected to remain in effect until new Route 23 is completed through Johnson County. That construction work is underway now but could take up to two years to finish.

Airport to be closed while repairs made

Combs Field remains closed to air traffic this week following a plane crash Tuesday that killed a Tennessee man.

Wreckage of a single-engine Beechcraft Bonanza still covered part of the Combs Field runway Thursday as officials with the National Transportation Safety Board searched for clues to the cause of the crash in which pilot Michael D. Cashion, 66, of Nashville was killed.

The airport, which is jointly owned by the cities of Prestonsburg and Paintsville, will remain closed indefinitely until repairs can be made to a section of the runway damaged by the crash.

Grant clears way for jobs project

by Geoff Belcher
Staff Writer

The state approved a nearly half-million dollar grant this week, bringing a proposed multi-million dollar manufacturing plant that will provide 300 new jobs one giant leap forward toward its goal of relocating in Floyd County.

Darrell Gilliam, executive director of the Floyd County Development Authority, said Thursday that the Kentucky Department of Local Government had approved a $492,500 Community Development Block Grant requested in May by the Floyd County Development Authority in order to aid RND Design Incorporated move its operations from Mexico and Chula Vista, California to the city of Martin.

Under the terms of an agreement with RND Design, which manufactures low voltage patio and deck lighting, the company's Martin site is expected to initially employ at least 150 laborers and grow to employee around 300.

Gilliam said that $300,000 of the grant funds approved this week will be used to purchase the United Supply building and surrounding property at Martin currently owned by the Big Rock, Virginia-based United Coal Company. The $175,000 will be used to purchase inventory, and $17,500 will be used to pay the costs of administering the grant.

Total costs for the project, Gilliam said, are expected to exceed $1,675,500. The remaining $1,182,500, Gilliam said, will be provided by the Big Sandy Revolving Loan Fund, which is expected to contribute $75,000; and RND Design itself, which will invest an estimated $890,000.

If all continues according to schedule, Gilliam said, relocation of the plant should be completed by September 1.

Gilliam added that RND Design President Ralph Bowen is in the final stages of negotiations with Wal-Mart Discount Stores corporate office at Arkansas to sign a $500,000 service contract that will upgrade RND's employment schedule.

Combs to fill interim on state's high court

Sarah Walter Combs became the first woman to sit on the state's highest court this week when she was appointed by Gov. Breton C. Jones to fill the Kentucky Supreme Court seat vacated by Justice Dan Jack Combs, who retired due to health reasons.

Combs will serve on the court until November, when a special election will be held for the remainder of Dan Jack Combs' term, which runs through 1996.

Combs, widow of former Governor and Federal Judge Bert T. Combs, has filed candidacy papers for the election to represent the 22 Eastern Kentucky counties in the Seventh Judicial District.

She practices law at Stanton and also serves as Stanton's city attorney. Her legal experience includes a stint with Wyatt, Tarrant and Combs, of Louisville and Lexington, where she gained trial experience and handled appellate brief writing and arguments in the Court of Appeals, the Supreme Court of Kentucky, and the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Sixth Circuit. She has also engaged in trial work in both the Western and Eastern District Courts of Kentucky.

Victim faked his death to avoid it

by Geoff Belcher
Staff Writer

The healing process has begun for the survivors of an unprovoked shooting spree last week, but the wounds, both mental and physical, run deep.

Kentucky State Police officers arrested convicted killer Herbert (Gene) Salisbury last week after he allegedly walked into a residence and opened fire with a .38 revolver, killing one man and wounding another.

Meredith Allen Conn, 29, of Printer, died Jimmy Hall, 29, of Drift, was shot once in the chin and once in the shoulder and survived, he said, only because he pretended he was dead until Salisbury fled the scene. Salisbury also allegedly fired at 20-year-old Michael Bryant, but missed.

The incident had reportedly been, Hall said, because on the day of the alleged attack he had asked Salisbury not to use vulgar language in front of children. However, he added, Salisbury had apologized for the remarks and acted as if nothing were wrong until he returned later in the evening with the revolver.

"(Salisbury) didn't say anything," Hall said. "He had a smile on his face and he just started shooting everybody. He shot Meredith down in cold blood. He's a cold-blooded murderer. That's all you can say for him."

In December, 1975, Salisbury was convicted of voluntary manslaughter for the 1974 shooting death of 25-year-old Crit Butler and was sentenced to 13 years in the Kentucky State Reformatory at LaGrange, but was credited with time served and became eligible for parole in August, 1976. Defense attorneys and then-sheriff Joe Wheeler Lewis argued that Salisbury had acted in self-defense.

Hall returned from the University of Kentucky Medical Center Sunday, but said this week he is nowhere near a full recovery from his ordeal. Hall has suffered severe nerve damage to his left arm, which will greatly impair his work as a self-employed carpenter and furniture maker, he said, adding that doctors do not know when or to what extent he will regain the use of his hand.

In addition, Hall said, he is plagued by the memories and nightmares recalling what happened; the chilling thought that the alleged acts were committed by a person to whom he had offered trust, friendship, aid and shelter; and the morbid thoughts of what could have happened if his girlfriend or her children had been present at the time of the shooting.

"He didn't care who he was shooting," Hall said. "He would have killed (anyone) that was there."

As important as writing is to K-12, we need to get out a few extra dollars and pull it out," chairman Patton said. Board member Irene Clark agreed with Patton's view. "It should be treated as an emergency," but we're not here to do that," she said.

cerns and said that the plan should be "done right" before it is submitted to the state. Clark also said that it would be a waste of money to do anymore work on the project because the site is not suitable for building.

Over $400,000 has already been spent on the project which includes site preparation and architect, engineer and construction manager (CM) fees. No other work than site preparation has been completed.

The validity of the architect and CM contracts has been questioned by state officials because the contracts reportedly were signed without the full board reviewing the terms and conditions. The board has not ratified those contracts.

Earlier this year, the school board voted to stop all payments to the architect and CM on that project until a decision was made whether to ratify the contracts.

Board member Eddie Billips recommended Tuesday that the project be canceled and that the LPC look at the condition of the school and decide what priority it would be on the new facility plan.

Billips also suggested that the board reaffirm the LPC's four-year plan as is and that Betsy Layne Elementary be "dropped into the plan" where it is deemed proper by the LPC.

Clark argued that building a middle school first would eliminate the need of mobile classroom units at several schools and would save the school system $1 million in rental fees over a five-year span. He added that building a new middle school would also delay the closing of Prater and Harold elementary schools.

The board voted 4-1 to abandon the project, with Isaac voting no. The Betsy Layne school issue now goes back to the LPC for evaluation.

Psychiatric center opens its doors

The new 100-bed, ARH Psychiatric Center in Hazard came on-line recently, making its public debut with a dedication ceremony, ribbon cutting and community picnic.

The new hospital will serve patients from 21 eastern Kentucky counties: Floyd, Bell, Breathitt, Clay, Harlan, Jackson, Johnson, Knott, Knox, Laurel, Lee, Leslie, Leitcher, Magoffin, Martin, Owsley, Perry, Pike, Rockcastle, Whitley and Wolfe counties.

The $15,000,000 facility is a Kentucky first in state government and private healthcare collaboration. Appalachian Regional Healthcare built and equipped the new center through tax-exempt revenue bonds. The Cabinet for Human Resources has contracted with ARH to provide evaluation, supervision and treatment of patients admitted for specialized psychiatric services. These services will be provided by a crisis stabilization unit, a general adult psychiatric unit, a rehabilitation unit and a dual diagnosis unit for those diagnosed with both mental illness and a chemical dependency.

The admissions process is also unique. The ARH Psychiatric Center will utilize "a single portal of entry" system. Patients will be admitted through the mental health center which serves their county of origin. The mental health centers will also provide any follow-up treatment needed when a patient returns to the community. This team approach involving the state, the local mental health centers, and the ARH Psychiatric Center, is designed to provide seamless care with innovative, well integrated mental health services located close to patients' homes and families.

The new hospital was specified for eastern Kentucky by the Health Care Reform Act of 1990, which was introduced by Senators Benny Ray Bailey, Kelsey Friend, Nelson Allen, Nick Kefauver and Doug Meyers and passed by the Kentucky General Assembly.

The ARH Psychiatric Center is expected to have a significant and positive impact on the local economy. When fully staffed, the new facility will provide 200 jobs with a payroll in excess of $5,000,000 annually.

ARH is a not-for-profit healthcare system with hospitals, primary care centers, home health care and other related facilities and services in Kentucky, West Virginia and Virginia.

Floyd track may still be in running for August meet

by Geoff Belcher
Staff Writer

Despite the apparent on-again/off-again hostilities of the Kentucky Racing Commission, former Governor Julian Carroll said Thursday, Floyd County may still be in the running for the commission's end-of-the-year racing meet.

Carroll met with the racing commission's five racing dates subcommittee Wednesday, he said, and was told that committee members would recommend to the full commission that Floyd County's Kentucky Downs harness track receive live racing dates in 1994, provided that adequate documentation could be shown to prove that track project investors were continuing efforts to meet construction requirements.

That documentation is already being prepared, Carroll said, and will be sent to racing commission members as quickly as possible.

Although the racing commission earlier this month denied requests to conduct the Kentucky Colt Racing Association's final fairgrounds celebration at Kentucky Downs, Carroll said, the commission did not expressly deny Kentucky Downs the right to host the as yet unscheduled meet later in the year.

"I would hope," Carroll said, "that we're still in the running."

Tall orders for tough times

by Scott Perry

Hard times call for hard decisions and nowhere is that more obvious than in a resolution adopted last month by the state board of education.

Faced with a massive shortfall in revenues for the upcoming year, the state board is asking local boards of education to take a step out of character and to do the right things.

For instance, the state wants local school officials to:

- Fulfill their fiscal responsibility.
- Decrease spending in non-essential areas.
- Thoroughly evaluate programs and staffing for possible elimination of unnecessary expenses.
- Encourage the use of creativity to maximize resources to support KERA.

And, here's the clincher...

• Encourage the wise and most prudent use of all education funds to ensure accountability in fully and faithfully implementing KERA.

Those are tall orders that many local school officials in Kentucky will find contrary to conducting business as usual.

Spending educational dollars for the best interests of education has not always been a top priority for many local boards.

But then, hard times call for hard decisions.

It shouldn't have taken a budget crunch to make these matters important and local officials shouldn't have to be told to spend taxpayer money wisely but, sadly, it did and they do.

If local officials do what it takes to make the hard calls this time, though, further reminders should be unnecessary.

B.L. PTO demands school completion

Editor:

On Tuesday, July 20, 1993, the Floyd County Board of Education voted to stop the construction of our new Betsy Layne Elementary School. With a promise of a new middle school (already No. 3 on the construction plan) and a vow to keep Harold and Prater schools open, our own board members recruited parents from these two schools and Stumbo Elementary to stand up for this construction stoppage. Betsy Layne parents and teachers did not have an opportunity to express their opinion.

The new 21-room addition is the result of much research done by an unbiased local planning committee who sincerely felt (based on research) that this addition should take precedence over a new middle school.

Dr. Clark stated that a new middle school would eliminate all mobile classrooms at all four schools. This is just not true. At Betsy Layne Elementary alone, there are 11 trailers. A new middle school would free up only five classrooms. At Harold Elementary there are only eight classrooms in the buildings. A new middle school would free-up 0 classrooms inside the buildings.

We would like answers as to why $456,000 has been spent only to be done away with and time, space and money wasted. The past year has been not only an inconvenience, but a safety hazard to all of our students. We want answers and we want our school!

It's time for us to stand up for what is rightfully ours.

Please show your support loud and clear at the state hearing at Allen Elementary on Tuesday, July 27, at 6 p.m. There's still time to make a difference if we stick together.

How to get rid of your city

Editor:
Getting rid of your city is as easy as falling off a log.

1) Never vote. You might, by accident, elect a good official. Bad officials are elected by good people who do nothing.

2) Never get involved in the electoral process, city council, or the fiscal court. Church goers and good citizens should never stoop to getting into politics. All you have to lose is all your freedoms. Our elected officials know how to run the county and they don't need a bunch of citizens sticking their noses in where they don't belong.

3) Forget the Ten Commandments and don't associate with those who believe in them.

4) Always vote the straight ticket, regardless of who is running. It's worked so far, just look how much Frankfort has done for us. Besides, it makes sure the same people stay in office, and we don't have to change the names on the doors.

5) Always stick to the party, stick with your friends regardless, whether they are an officer for the people or not.

6) Always remember the people in power own their office for life. They don't owe you anything and you should not expect anything. You should never insist that your son or someone else might make a good county or city official. If he is worthy, he will be chosen by those in power.

7) Last but not least, don't ever criticize anyone in office or be caught voicing your opinion. If you still don't understand, refer to rule #1.

To destroy your county and city governments, just keep on doing what you have been doing.

A victory for simple justice

A sorry chapter in Kentucky's legal history ended last week.

By the narrowest of margins, the Kentucky Supreme Court upheld the 1988 amendment outlawing broad-form deeds. That brings Kentucky into line with the rest of the nation, which had long ago abandoned these dubious legal instruments.

To understand the importance of the court's ruling, a bit of background is in order. In the early part of this century, coal buyers traveled throughout Eastern Kentucky, buying mineral rights for small sums. The deeds they used allowed coal companies to mine coal by any means — thus the term "broad-form deed."

By the 1950s, the development of strip-mining techniques meant that coal companies were able to mine at will using methods that for all practical purposes destroyed the surface of the land. In other states, Kentucky, the courts refused to do so. Time and again, they sided with coal companies over landowners despite the fact that the owners of the land could have no way of realizing the effect of selling mineral rights under broad-form deeds.

The courts' position left Kentucky landowners powerless to stop the destruction of their own property until 1988. That's when voters overwhelmingly approved an amendment giving property owners the right to reject strip-mining on lands covered by broad-form deeds.

That election, in which more than 80 percent of voters supported the amendment, was a landmark for simple justice in Kentucky. Now the Supreme Court's ruling is another step toward ensuring that the era of the broad-form deed and the abuses it brought are indeed past. — Lexington Herald-Leader

Don't be conned

After Hurricane Andrew devastated much of southern Florida and the rest of the nation had the horror of the storm brought home through the news media, a call for help went out.

The people of Kentucky responded. Truckloads of donated goods went into Florida and checks came into various social services agencies to be put into use in the South to help those in need.

Once again, Mother Nature has unleashed her wrath, this time in the form of vicious flooding in the Midwest. The call has gone out again for those of us lucky enough not to have suffered.

Unfortunately, times of legitimate need bring with them those unscrupulous con artists who use other's distress as their gain. Under the guise of collecting for charity to aid those in need, they line their own pockets with the money intended to help. If you want to help flood victims, make sure your donations go only to an established charity.

If someone approaches you about donating, don't hesitate to ask questions. Representatives of legitimate charities are glad to provide information; con artists aren't. — The Daily Independent, Ashland

Balance and nature

Bill Clinton's instinct for compromise is proving to be a boon to America's natural heritage.

Not that he's getting much credit from the parties untangled in two knock-down, drag-out legal battles that administration initiatives appear to have resolved in recent weeks. Entrenched economic interests accustomed to federal coddling on one side and environmentalists on the other profess to be appalled by government-sponsored settlements.

But Mr. Clinton has apparently managed to get the disputes out of the courtroom, where they could have festered for years to come. As a result, the process of environmental restoration and economic transformation, described in carefully balanced agreements, can at least get under way.

His plan for the ancient forests of the Northwest, the home of the celebrated northern spotted owl, Mr.

Clinton succeeds in protecting much of what's left of a rich and wonderful ecosystem, battered by the choppy-you-drop philosophy of the Reagan-Bush era.

Thanks to the intervention of a Republican judge, who accused the two GOP administrations of breaking the law, wildlife now matters as much as lumber. The habitat of the owl and other creatures is protected, along with salmon streams. Logging will continue at a much reduced level, though, to the disappointment of environmentalists, the plan allows experimental cutting in certain forest reserves. Loggers displaced by the industry's decline will get substantial aid.

Assuring the survival of Florida's wondrous freshwater marsh known as the Everglades is no less daunting a project. But Interior Secretary Bruce Babbitt managed to wring from sugar growers an agreement to help restore some of the water flow on which the "River of Grass" depends and to remove some of the farm chemicals that hasten its degradation.

These are just beginnings. Restoring what's been lost during years of abuse is a vast and uncertain undertaking. But better to get started than to endlessly exchange legal briefs while the destruction of America's landscape continues. — Louisville Courier-Journal

Ten Years Ago

(Wednesday, July 27, 1983)

Jink Johnson, 41, and his estranged wife, Thelma E. Yates Black, 46, formerly Floyd County residents, died of a single blast from a 20-gauge shotgun that was ruled as murder-suicide. Kentucky State Police post in Pikeville cut the ribbon on the new barracks and dedicated it to memory of 22 state troopers who died in the line of duty. Grip was loosened on Floyd County Fiscal court after the state took over five months ago; but restrictions on the spending are still in effect. The Rev. Dewey Conley, 62, and Bobby Lynn Hackworth, 45, were cited for heroism for the role they played in rescuing a child from a burning auto last April on Abbott Mountain. There died Curtis Lee Crisp, 39, of Dowl, Wednesday at the VA Hospital in Lexington; Jason Hall, stillborn son of Leonard and Tammy Lee Hall of Bevinville, July 19 at Our Lady of the Way Hospital; Bill Goble, 71, of Water Gap, July 20 at the University of Kentucky Medical Center; Joyce Parker, daughter of Lowell and Joyce Smith Parker of Wheelwright, stillborn Sunday at Our Lady of the Way Hospital; James Howard Burke, 53, of Weeksbury, last Wednesday at Pikeville Methodist Hospital; Wilburn Conn, 93, of Printer, Saturday at Our Lady of the Way Hospital; Janice Brown Huff, 24, of Mousie, Monday at U.K. Medical Center, Lexington.

Twenty Years Ago

(July 25, 1973)

Joe Hobson, attorney for The Bank Josephine, announced Tuesday that the majority interest in the bank has been purchased from the Harkins family and others by E. R. McGuire, of Ashland, his two sons, and others, including John C. Mayo, of Ashland, and Harry LaViers, of Paintsville. The Floyd County school system will lose approximately $217,000 in Title I funds this year and as a consequence 21 teaching positions will of necessity be eliminated. A decision on the direction the investigation into the shooting death here July 12 of Dr. George P. Archer will take was expected to be reached at a meeting Tuesday of officers and officials engaged in the probe. Dr. Claude L. Allen, of Langley and Martin, was named chairman of the Floyd County Board of Health last week. Mrs. Judith D. Archer, 46, wife of William T. Archer, and city clerk of Prestonsburg for 27 years, died at her home South Arnold Avenue home here, early last Friday morning, victim of a revolver bullet. Miss Jane Carter Webb, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil A. Webb, of Prestonsburg, and Capt. Robert Joseph Perry were married July 7 in the First United Methodist Church here. There died: Mrs. Lura H. Dooley, 52, Wednesday; Carl Hall, 49, of Milan, Mich., July 17 in Ann Arbor, Mich.; Fletcher May, 58, of Langley, Friday at the Highlands Medical Center.

Thirty Years Ago

(July 25, 1963)

Harmony within the Democratic party was the keynote of the district organization meeting headed Tuesday evening at May Lodge by Edward T. "Ned" Breadth and Harry Lee Waterfield, the party's nominees for governor and lieutenant governor respectively. President John F. Kennedy has informed Gov. Bert Combs that he has made available an additional $1,250,000 through the Office of Emergency Planning to meet federal aid claims arising from the disastrous March and April floods in Kentucky. The Lexington Leader, in a signed news story under a Prestonsburg dateline, last Thursday alleged that "one of the largest bootlegging operations in Kentucky is flourishing in 'dry' Floyd county, home of Gov. Bert Combs, and only token efforts have been made to stamp it out." Born: to Mr. and Mrs. Fred T. May, formerly of Prestonsburg, a son, David Herschel, July 18 at Lexington; to Mr. and Mrs. Gene Dillman, of Columbus, O., a son, July 13; Mrs. Dillman is the former Sandra Sue Pick. There died: Mrs. Clara Mae Terry, 63, of Garner, Sunday at the Beaver Valley Hospital, Martin; Mrs. George Lyons, 65, of Garrett, last Thursday at home; Mrs. Julia Belle Mosley, 82, Sunday at her home at East McDowell; Mrs. Sarah T. Sturgill, 75, of Harold, July 11 at the Methodist Hospital, Pikeville; Mrs. Lona Shepherd Prater, 74, Tuesday at her home at Blue River; John A. Barnett, 76, of Weeksbury, last Wednesday at Paintsville.

Forty Years Ago

(July 23, 1953)

The Floyd County Board of Education's 1953-54 budget of $1,208,532 has been approved by the fiscal court. The Mountain Anglers' casting team composed of Edmund and Bill Baker Burke, Stuart Stephens, Quentin and David W. Allen, won the five-eighths ounce accuracy and slush championships in the District 10 tournament at the Petersburg, Florida, last Sunday. Dr. Edwin E. Carleton, formerly of Wheelwright, is the new general medical director for the Inland Steel Company. Wounded in the Korean fighting: Cpl. Homer Akers, of Melvin, and Charles Mitchell, of Craynor. Joe Hatfield, 14, suffered a neck dislocation Monday when he dived into Left Beaver Creek, near Hunter. Charles S. Bond, son of Mrs. Catherine Bond and the late Charles P. Bond, of Prestonsburg, recently took the oath as a midshipman at the U. S. Naval Academy, Annapolis, Maryland. The death last Friday of Russell Hall, 17, of Weeksbury, has been ascribed to rabies, health authorities said Monday. The Rev. L. W. Benedict has resigned the pastorate of Irene Cole Memorial Baptist Church here, effective July 31. He plans to retire, and he and Mrs. Benedict will move to Ashland. Born: to Mr. and Mrs. William A. Rose, of Graham Street, their first child, Marilyn Ann, there died: Mrs. Kate Caudill, 70, Grethel, Sunday; Willard Boyd, 44, Sunday at his home at Betsy Layne; Mrs. Essie Blackburn Stephens, 67, formerly of Prestonsburg, July 18 at an Ashland hospital; Mrs. Woodie Ellis Seibert, at her home in Newport, Ky., Monday.

Fifty Years Ago

(July 22, 1943)

Sgt. Charles E. Wells, of Auxier, has been cited for heroism as a tank commander in the Tunisian fighting. Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Williams, of Wayland, have been notified that their son, Sgt. Fred Williams, 25, has died in a Japanese prison camp. Lt. Burr Hereford, son of B. P. Hereford, of Millican, formerly of Cliff, is missing after the Flying Fortress on which he was navigator failed to return from a North African bombing mission. Death of Pvt. Emerson Estep of wounds received in Latin America, July 3, has been confirmed by the War Department in a letter to his mother, Mrs. Goldie Estep, of Allen. Wounded in the South Pacific fighting: the late David E. Carleton, of Allen. The person who fired a bullet through a window of the Woodland Inn and inflicted a slight wound on a woman there last Sunday night has not been learned. Born: to Lt. and Mrs. J. E. Gambill, former Floyd teachers, July 17, at a Martin hospital; a son, Johnny Michael; to Pvt. and Mrs. Harry Porter, of Prestonsburg; a son, Harry, Jr.; There died: James Goble, 60, at his home on Cow Creek; Tuesday; Wesley Phipps, 79, Saturday at his home on Bull Creek; Robert Lee Myers, 52, Thursday at Weeksbury; D. B. Stephens, 65, well-known Allen businessman, last Thursday at a Pikeville hospital.

Sixty Years Ago

(July 21, 1933)

The list of Democratic and Republican candidates seeking nomination to office in this county now stands at 151. Forty-two are candidates for jailer. Thirty-two persons entered the county teachers' examination here Thursday, and all but four saw the tests through to the finish. Mrs. V. C. Gabany, of Prestonsburg, suffered a badly broken arm, four others from here were slightly hurt and Gwynn Meredith, of Salyersville, may have been fatally injured Sunday in an auto collision at Paintsville Sunday afternoon. Work is underway at the corner of court street and the Mayo Trail on a Standard Oil service station. T. M. Hereford sustained a broken leg Monday while moving a drilling rig at Sump. Rastus May, 21, was cut about the head Thursday when a gasoline engine operating the grist mill of his father, Sherman May, exploded. Miss Thelma Barker will head cast of "Molly's Idea," the home talent musical comedy to be staged at the new gym here next Friday. There died: Sarah Frances, seven-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Roberts, of Tram, July 12 at a Pikeville hospital.

-Letters to the editor-

Remembrances of James J. Carter

Editor:
This article may appear quite long, but I ask that you print it. The subject is about someone who not only was a personal friend, but also one who was a servant to his community and nation.

On 3 October 1988, he addressed a letter to me recounting the names of many of our mutual friends in Prestonsburg—several gone and others yet living. He said:

"We often reminisce about when you lived in Prestonsburg on Maple Avenue, you and Edgar, Frank and John Heinze; Louis Harkey Mayo and brothers Dick Erwin and Walker Porter Jr.; Arthur Johns and William Thomas Archer; Bev, Cottrell, Estill and Roland Burchett; Freddie James; Bill and Jack Jones. Then on Graham Street there were David Darwin May, James William and Jack Salisbury, Billy Callahan; Second Avenue (now Arnold Avenue), there were Winston Burke, Bill Baker, Edmond and Lucien; Leo, Jack and 'Muck' Carter; Babe and Bunk Friend; Bill Arnold and Jodie Spradlin, James and Billy Morrell; Jack and Dick and Geraldine Allen; Sam and Jimmy Hatcher, 'Little Joe', Walter Scott and Monty Scott Harkins. Then there were: James and Lucien Lafferty; John Calvin Hopkins who lived on the hillside above town; Oliver Hanson Stumbo; Harold, Lex and Eugene Holcomb; Adrian and Ray Collins; Lon, Mary and Joe Hill; John and Ralph Archer; Fred, Bob and 'Little Hawk' Francis, and others I just can't remember or think of at the present time."

"Sometimes one wishes to recall the days of 'Cowboys and Indians,' shinning up trees, hide-and-go-seek, tracing, snipe hunting, playing with little toy cars on the river bank, etc. and those times were wonderful to remember. Sadly, some of them never grew up or advanced to some late age in life. It was grievous to learn of the death of Carthel Hill Smith whose surname was sunk in the Pacific during World War II. But we all grew up together in a close-knit community, and together our lives were enriched in lasting friendships."

"Though many have moved away, as you, or have since died, their memories are etched in our minds. We are all richer for knowing and having known one another. God Bless you, our friend."

A few weeks before his death, I saw him in a Lexington hospital. Although his leg had been amputated, he still seemed as jovial as I had known him in childhood. He was still happy with those unlost days of our early growing-up years and said they were times to never be forgotten. Somehow, I sensed an unexpressed knowledge that he knew his downward steps were numbered; that his life was ebbing slowly toward eternity. God, in his healing way, takes care of us. The room was still and we were alone. But he never knew that I was uttering a final muted prayer. And now, my eternal friend, God's servant and devoted patriot, James Joseph Carter, rests with the ages of time.

Defending school board's closed session

Editor:
Recently you implied in an editorial that closed sessions were often conducted in private without regard for legal limitations by public bodies. Specifically, you mentioned the Floyd County School Board.

We are aware of the open meetings law and know that these laws exist for the purpose—that of conducting official business in an open format. As chairman of the Floyd County Board, I take very seriously the importance of conducting business in a legal fashion.

In the case of a recent special meeting of the board, an executive session was requested and approved by the board. The superintendent and board attorney both advised that the topic at hand—"discussions or hearing which might lead to the appointment, discipline or dismissal of an individual employee"—is in fact a legal exception to the open meetings law that is covered under KRS 61.810, section F. If we have interpreted the law incorrectly, we will stand corrected. However, our best advice was that the closed session could be conducted.

We are doing our best to conduct business in Floyd County in a correct fashion and do not want members of this community to believe otherwise.

Ed Patton Jr.

Floyd County Board of Education

Johns gets "consultant's" pay

Pike County Superintendent Reo Johns can get paid $7,000 for work he did for the school system in June, but he can't legally collect his check. It called "transition superintendent," according to a state attorney.

As a result, Board Chairwoman Karen Sue Ratliff said the board will rescind its action of last week and enter into an agreement with Johns for consultation services for June.

Johns was hired in May, but his two-year contract did not take effect until July 1. Nonetheless, he met with state and local educators during June and worked in the central office alongside then-Superintendent Larry Burke.

Last week, the board voted to pay him $7,000 for the month of orientation.

Kevin Noland, general counsel for the Education Department, said it was illegal to retroactively spend taxpayer money on such a contract and also against the law to have two superintendents at the same time.

Noland did say that, after further research, that the board could enter into a retroactive contract with Johns for consultation services. However, he added that the board was under no obligation to pay Johns after only an oral agreement.

Cabinet fines Pike Countians

The Natural Resources and Environmental Protection Cabinet levied penalties against two Pike County Companies between January and April 1993.

Coltie Hall was fined $5,000 after water quality violations were allegedly found by the Division of Water. The penalty stemmed from problems involving a small wastewater treatment plant at a grocery store.

Hall installed a new treatment plant and retained a certified operator in addition to the fine.

In the second penalty, Sidewinder Mining Company was fined $2,800 for permits and fugitive emissions. An inspection in July 1992 found construction of hoppers, a crusher, conveyors and a stockpile under way without a construction permit. The emissions were from a coal haul road.

The company agreed to pay the fine, apply for the permits and submit proof it was in compliance with air quality regulations.

Knott man electrocuted

A Knott County man was electrocuted while working on a microwave oven.

Murk Messer, 20, of Hindman was electrocuted about 10:46 p.m. last Thursday and pronounced dead a short time later at Hazard Appalachian Regional Medical Center, Perry County Deputy Coroner Matthew Hollins said.

Hollins wasn't sure where Messer was electrocuted, but said it was at his home or at a friend's home, apparently while he was trying to repair the appliance.

Martin coal company accepts union election

A Martin County coal company has agreed to drop its objections to last month's union election, allowing the United Mine Workers to represent about 280 workers in the county that's considered a non-union stronghold.

The union victory at Wolf Creek Collieries, a subsidiary of Ziegler Coal Holding Co. Inc. near Lovely, came during a national selective strike, but yesterday's agreement guarantees that the strike will not expand to include Wolf Creek.

The UMW won an organizing election at Marrowbone in late May by a vote of 256-151. In June, the union claimed victory at Wolf Creek on a 146-113 vote in which both sides challenged several ballots.

As part of the agreement, Wolf Creek and Marrowbone will continue current wages, benefits and conditions of employment until a new contract is drawn up between the UMW and the Bituminous Coal Operators Association, an industry bargaining group.

Cancer Seminar

Highlands hosts Skin Cancer Seminar

Highlands Regional Medical Center held a continuing medical education program on July 22, "Skin Cancer Diagnosis & Treatment." The seminar, held at the Highlands Community Club, was attended by approximately forty area physicians, nurses, and other allied health professionals.

Ronald Hall, M.D., dermatologist from Pikeville, was the featured speaker. He spoke on the assessment of skin cancer, the use of Mohs' micrographic surgery, and the use of laser therapy in the treatment of skin cancer.

Henry Wells, M.D., plastic surgeon from Lexington, spoke on the use of laser therapy in the treatment of skin cancer.

William John, M.D., oncologist from Lexington, spoke on the use of chemotherapy in the treatment of skin cancer. The seminar was a success and provided valuable information to the attendees.

MSU extended campus center offering financial aid

Applications for a special financial aid program are now being accepted from new students planning to enroll this fall at Morehead State University's Big Sandy Extended Campus Center.

Entitled "Regional Campus Awards," the program provides financial help to area students returning to the classroom, according to Tim Rhodes, director of financial aid at MSU.

"This program is mainly designed for students who have some college coursework and are planning to return to the campus after an absence," Rhodes said.

The $300 Regional Campus Award will cover tuition for a three-hour course at the undergraduate level, plus books and travel expenses.

These one-time awards were established for non-traditional undergraduate students taking courses part-time at the center. The recipients will be those for graduate students seeking a master's degree. Rhodes said the award is for those who have completed at least one college course.

"Of course, there are other financial aid programs for currently enrolled students and financial aid counseling is available for them at the center," Rhodes added.

Applications for the Regional Campus Awards are available by seeing Dr. Margaret Lewis, director of the Big Sandy BCC, locally at 866-2405 or toll-free at 1-800-648-5372.

Students interested in applying also may stop by the center located in the Highland Plaza Shopping Center.

"At the center, there is a staff of financial aid counselors who can help you with the application process," Rhodes said.

The award is a one-time award of $300 and is available to students who are currently enrolled in a graduate program at the center.

Ousley is USS Sumter crew member

Navy Yeoman Ronald D. Ousley, son of Calvin D. and Frankie Ousley of Martin, recently completed aboard the task landing ship, USS Sumter, homeported in Little Creek, Virginia, for a three-day port visit to Boston.

Ousley was among Sumter's 290 crewmembers who participated in a ceremony commemorating the 16th tank landing ship, USS Sumter, in the Boston Shipyards for World War II during the early 1940s. Sponsored by the Massachusetts Chapter of the USSA Association, the event also marked the 50th anniversary of the first LST assault in North Africa.

While in Boston, USS Sumter hosted more than 1,000 guests for shipboard tours. On the final day in port, several sailors visited the New England Medical Center Veterans Affairs where they received the honor of the 10-story former office building to facilitate a planned renovation.

USS Sumter is a Newport News-class tank landing ship designed to transport and land amphibious and combat vehicles, as well as tanks and equipment during amphibious assaults.

The 1987 graduate of J.H. Allen Central High School of Eastern, joined the Navy in January, 1989.

Help for dyslexia, reading problems and attention deficit disorders

The Shedd Dyslexia Foundation is now working in Kentucky, Tennessee, and Illinois to help children, teenagers and adults with reading problems. These children may have already been tested and labeled as having a learning disability, attention deficit disorder, hyperactivity and reading problems.

Students with dyslexia tend to have a pattern of characteristics. They are bright or smart children. Due to perceptual problems they often have trouble with reading or comprehension. However, this is not their whole problem. Many dyslexics have trouble with reversing letters and numbers. They often have problems with being organized, paying attention and concentrating. Frequently, spelling and writing skills are quite weak. They are often described as lazy, immature, unmotivated, or resistant because of their problems with learning. Some of these students are overactive and are distractible. Many of the children with attention deficit disorders also have academic problems and need extra help.

These students are often seen as having a hidden disability. By looking at them or talking to them you would think they are very bright individuals who must be doing very well in school. Sometimes they are inconsistent. One minute they are doing well, and then they forget. Memory is often a problem.

The Shedd Dyslexia Foundation has several options for programs, including a full-time school, plus parent tutoring programs in different communities. We often call these tutoring programs "Parent Programs." In the Parent Programs, one parent becomes involved by helping the students. Through training and meeting one night a week, parents develop a variety of skills. Classes include 1-1 reading, social skills training and a listening skills class. Parents are also given help with parenting and behavior management. The first step is to identify the problem. Screening clinics have been set up to help parents in the identification of their child's problems. If a child or student qualifies, based on the screening, then he or she would be eligible for participation in a program in their area. To set up an appointment for screening or for more information, call Debbie Taylor, Admissions Office (502-247-8007) or write: Shedd Dyslexia Foundation, 346 Central Ave., P.O. Box 493, Mayfield, KY 42066. Limited scholarship assistance is available to help with screening and tuition costs.

WSAZ television 3 and WTCR radio "bag some bucks"

WSAZ television 3 and WTCR radio have begun a campaign to raise funds for the flood-stricken Midwest.

"These people are in desperate situations out there and they need all the help they can get," said WSAZ general manager Don Ray. He anticipates the people of this area "will be doing as they always are."

In 1985 this area was overcome by nature's flooding and people from across the nation opened up their pocketbooks to help those in need. Now we have an opportunity to give something back. All week long people will be asked to either call 1-800-812-2700 to make a contribution by credit card to the American Red Cross or send a check to the American Red Cross.

Don Ray said, "We want to see if we can make a difference in the lives of those who are suffering from the flood." He said, "We want to see if we can make a difference in the lives of those who are suffering from the flood."

Since 1985, the area has been hit by a series of floods. The floods have caused a lot of damage to the area. The floods have caused a lot of damage to the area.

Exchange student comes to Dana

The Rocky Boyd family of Dana, are anxiously awaiting the arrival of Kayo Moriya, an international high school exchange student from Sagami-hara-shi, Japan. Kayo Moriya is coming to live in Dana, through AYUSA (Academic Year in the USA) International.

The Boyd family is looking forward to the adventure of hosting an exchange student. Not only will the family be making a difference in the life of Kayo, but they will also enrich their own lives by learning more about each other and the world that lies beyond their community's borders.

Kayo will be living as a member of the Boyd family for the coming school year, and will attend Betsy Layne High School.

AYUSA International, which is sponsoring Kayo, is a non-profit educational organization that offers every year nearly 1500 high school-aged students from 24 countries around the world an in-depth perspective on American culture and society by living with an American family.

Families who would like to learn more about hosting an AYUSA student for a semester or year, or about sending their own children overseas through AYUSA Study Abroad, are encouraged to contact AYUSA's local representative, Marie Conn at 606/478-5227 or call 1-800-727-4540.

To All Christians:

My life is so messed up. I have to take antidepressants to prevent depression and seven tranquilizers to sleep. I have been sick for three years and started to get better twice and had set backs! My wife has left me because I have failed to communicate with her and show her the love and affection that she deserves! When I am sick, I am grouchy and don't want to participate in family activities! I am tired of being sick! I am fasting and praying that my wife will take me back and that I can be healed. I will pray and fast until she takes me back or if it be God's will that I am healed or die. I want all the Churches to pray that my wife and I will get back together and that God will help me find a hospital that can help me get off all medication! I am willing to stay three to six months in a hospital that will not make me suffer through severe withdrawal. My biggest fear is I won't make it to Heaven. I am asking everyone to pray that I can feel God's spirit like I used to, and learn to pray daily without ceasing like I used to, and God give me the full confidence of salvation! (A Christian in need of God's grace and love!)

NUMBER 541

Lexington Herald-Leader columnist Merlene Davis certainly opened a can of worms this past Sunday when she boldly stated that "men were the main cause of headaches in women." With all due respect to Ms. Davis that was a broad statement to make which leads me to assume one of two things, she's mad at her husband or she's one sandwich short of a picnic.

If I accused my husband of causing me to develop a headache, he'd laugh in my face because, according to him, you have to have a brain to get a headache. Of course, as any idiot would know, having a brain is not a prerequisite for getting a headache. That being the case, animals would develop headaches, and we'd be buying over-the-counter pain medication for them.

I can see it all now: Butch, our Australian Shepherd has just run headlong into the bumper of a passing car. As he limps back to the garage, I see his eyes painfully pleading for huge doses of Ibuprofen.

My mother's cat begins choking on a hair ball. Mom finally dislodges the hair ball, but the cat loudly meows until he receives something to soothe his scratchy throat.

These are far-fetched notions, but they aren't anymore outrageous than Merlene's theory. Honestly, I do not believe men are the leading cause of headaches in women. As far as I'm concerned, the real culprit producing headaches in women are persons or persons unknown who do not follow directions, live up to our expectations, or agree with everything we do or say. If men fall into this category then they are guilty by association.

Some women are known to produce headaches in other women. My sisters and I are known to do this to one another on a regular basis. For example, my youngest sister can take me from a mild discomfort across the eyes to sheer migraine pain intensity in five minutes or less. "You've put on several pounds haven't you, Sara?" she asks as she pokes her finger into my protruding tummy.

This almost invariably produces a three-alarm head throbber. When this occurs (and it always does whenever she comes home), I tell myself that I'm not going to let her comments bother me, but for some odd reason the pain reappears and intensifies.

Fortunately, my husband does not cause headaches, he keeps them from occurring. In fact, if it wasn't for him my whole life would be nothing but one gigantic headache. As long as I've known him, I've never heard him complain of a headache. I'd like to think that's because I've never been a bit of trouble to him, but that wouldn't be entirely true.

I don't give him much to complain about except that I don't always have supper fixed on time, am late getting home from work, do things for other people frequently, forget to go to the grocery, leave the laundry piled up, forget to clean the windows, and don't get to clean the house as well as I should. If this causes him to get a headache, he never complains to me.

Yes, Merlene Davis can blame her headache on men, but this brainless woman is not about to make such a bold statement

Heather Monday has first country single released nationally

by Meg Waaland

Courier staff writer
As a student at Liberty-Benton, Heather Monday almost let stage fright keep her from singing at a ninth grade talent show. Things have changed. Today, the 20-year-old country singer says, "The more people (in the audience), the better."

There's a reason for that big increase in self-confidence. Monday, the 1991 Findlay High School graduate, has been singing professionally for 1 1/2 years now.

This week, Monday's first country single, "Too Hot To Sleep," was released nationally by Broadland International, according to Gary Buck, her producer. This single is included on a compilation disk with other Broadland performers. Compilation disks are sent to radio stations in hopes of getting the songs played on the air.

The company works with performers such as Grammy winner Billy Jo Spears, Johnny Duncan and Jean Watson — who has had 40 songs on the charts, Buck said.

Monday appeared two years ago on "Catch a Rising Star" on the Nashville Network and sang at the 1991 opening of Gilley's in Nashville, where Broadland International spotted her. She signed her contract with the company on October 3, 1992, which also happened to be her wedding day.

By early December, she was at Reflections Studios in Nashville, recording five songs for a mini-album. One of the songs was written by Buzz Cason, who has written for country star George Strait.

She hopes to go back to the Nashville studio soon to complete another five songs for a full album.

Monday's music is further away from rock 'n' roll than that of many performers, but it is not "twangy country at all. It's modern," she said.

"I grew up on country — my parents listened to it," said Heather, whose parents are Larry E. and Rita Monday of rural Findlay, "but I hated it."

As she grew up, that attitude changed. She started singing Dolly Parton songs around the house. At the Liberty-Benton talent show, she sang a Crystal Gayle song, "Nobody." She entered talent shows as a country singer, even coming in as first runner-up in a contest in California — where she met Reba McEntire, who presented the awards.

She said that she doesn't try to copy the singing style of any performer.

"You gotta do your own thing to make it," she said — though she would like to record two of her favorite Patsy Cline songs — "Sweet Dreams" and "You Belong To Me."

Buck says he's "quite excited" about Monday's chances of hitting it big. She has good songs, is a good stage performer and is young and energetic, he said.

Several agents are working on getting Heather an opening spot on a tour, he said. Touring in Europe is a possibility, Monday said. "Country is really big over there."

Ron Sisler, Heather's husband, supports her efforts 100 percent. "I'm proud of her," he said.

Sisler, 22, is a farmer and recently started a plumbing and heating business out of their home. He plans to travel with Heather if her career takes off — which he predicts could happen anytime.

"It's a hectic business," he said.

Ice and Ice Cube or the Grateful Dead and Country Joe & the Fish?"

Because, friends, not to be outdone by some outfit with a fancy-sounding French name like "Parfums de Coeur," or "Sissies Are Out," we here at BubbaCorp Enterprises International Ltd. (of which I am executive assistant to the assistant vice president's assistant) are now announcing our own line of musical fragrances.

For the reggae aficionado, we offer the spectacular new "Buffalo Soldier!"

Yes, friends, with new Buffalo Soldier, you too can smell like your favorite Rastafarian dope smoker — just don't let the police smell you, much less the sheriff or the deputy.

For the heavy metal enthusiast, (See Truth, B 3)

Hello, friends. Are you suffering from low self-esteem? Are you suffering from terrible, overwhelmingly oppressive depression? Are you ready to call it quits, kick the bucket, off yourself, push up some daisies, and head off to that big ol' methadone clinic in the sky?

Well, before you overdose on those Flinstones vitamins, let me make you a little offer that just may cheer you up.

Yes, friends, you too can be the life of any party, the center of everyone's attention, so that you can put away the razor blades, grab that foul mood in a figure four leg-lock and rattle that sucker to the ground.

"And just how could such an amazing turn of events take place?" you might ask.

How? Simple. You see, friends, through the miracles of modern technology, now you too can smell like your favorite sweaty rap performer (I'd use the word musician, but I don't really think it applies).

That's right, thanks to the fragrance GENIUSES at Parfums de Coeur (whatever that means), for the low, low price of only $8.50 an ounce, you can purchase new "Rap Musk" (whatever that means) And no, I'm not making this up. I wouldn't kid you about something so serious.

According to an associated press article, new "Rap Musk" is packaged in a "shapely bottle" topped with a neon baseball cap, which should appeal to younger folks, and comes with the all-important warning "Avoid spraying in eyes" (and I'm certainly glad they warned us because I've grabbed a bottle of scented chemicals and squirted 'em in my eyes in a vain effort to make my pupils smell better even though I'm not actually a teacher).

But wait, there's more. As if new Rap Musk weren't good enough, Associated Press reports that the good folks at Parfums de Coeur are also offering new Flower Power, "a psychedelic body spray (that) bills itself as the scent of peace and love" (although I'm not really sure how something can

SMELL "psychedelic" unless of course you can actually smell millions of spiders and melting faces whenever you spray it on — I'll have to look that up).

But wait, there's more. "And what more could there POSSIBLY be?" you may ask. "How could you possibly improve upon smelling like Ice-T, Vanilla

Poperri

by Scott Perry

A concerned reader called the other day, criticizing the newspaper for allowing people to criticize the newspaper.

More specifically, the caller wondered where we got off publishing a letter from a reader who disliked the subject matter offered by one of our regular columnists.

Of course, those of us in the business of newspapering have grown accustomed to the fact that people don't always like or agree with what we print and we offer them the opportunity to say so in the letters to the editor column.

We call it "fan mail."

It really hurts our feelings, too, when some irate reader compares us to the south end of a northbound mule or theorizes that when the Lord was passing out brains, we thought He said trains and asked for a slow one.

Many a night we've lain awake contemplating the meaning of life, allegations regarding our parentage and whether or not a pork chop is a "finger food" and we have concluded from these self-examinations that a lack of sleep makes your eyes red and puffy.

Nobody told us when we got into this line of work that it would be easy—they did tell us, however, that we wouldn't make any friends or any money—so we're not going to get all bent out of shape by our critics even if we are sometimes confused by their arguments.

Fact is, critics often make us do a better job and always give us somebody to talk about behind their backs.

Ha. Ha. Just kidding, we don't really talk about you guys behind your backs.

Okay, we make a few faces, but that's it.

ALL RIGHT! WE CONFESS! WE THROW DARTS AT YOUR LETTERS AND USE FOUR LETTER WORDS TO DESCRIBE WHAT WE REALLY THINK ABOUT YOU AND STICK PINS INTO DOLLS WITH YOUR NAMES ON THEM! WE'RE GOING TO GET EVEN AND YOU'LL BE SORRY YOU WERE EVER BORN!!! HAHHAHAHA!!! Don't forget to write.

NEWS OF THE WEIRD

Los Angeles hypnoterapist Yvonne Smith said in May that more than 30 people had joined her support group of those who say they have been abducted by aliens. The group meets in Smith's home once a month to discuss their problems in coping, for example, with memories of aliens' sexual assaults, with aliens' planting of tracking devices inside abductees' bodies, and with abductees' methods of distinguishing between alien abductions and abductions engineered by the CIA. Said Smith, "Because (alien abduction) is controversial, there's still a certain stigma attached to it."

CLICHES COME TO LIFE

—The Washington Post reported in June that Wang Dan, 24, the China government's "most wanted" student agitator in the 1989 pro-democracy demonstrations and who was jailed for three years as a dissident, has bought business clothes, moved to entrepreneurial Guangdong province, and is actively searching to join money-making enterprises.

—In May, Mark Kreider of Newcastle, Del., a full-time Grateful Dead concert-attender ("Deadhead"), was robbed of $5 and shot in the back following a Dead concert in Sacramento, Calif. Kreider could not help police pinpoint where the crime was committed because he said he did not realize he had been shot until at least an hour afterward when his back began to hurt.

—In April, a gang attempted to dig a 40-foot tunnel to get into the Bank of Montreal vault. They had to abandon the plot when they inadvertently disturbed the roots of a tree, causing it to collapse the roof of the tunnel.

—A March bomb threat to Lugino's pasta plant in Duluth, Minn., was traced to a patient in the psychiatric ward of St. Luke's Hospital. After identifying a likely suspect, a police officer asked a nurse to ask the man gently if he had "made a bomb threat."

—A late-1992 survey of the members of the Maryland General Assembly, conducted by an American University graduate student researcher, revealed that three times as many members are "heavy" drinkers as in the state at large.

—In November, attorney Jay

Rothman filed a lawsuit against a Tarzana, Calif., flower shop that misplaced a love note that he had composed for his wife and which was to accompany a bouquet on the occasion of the birth of their daughter. Rothman rejected settling the lawsuit because, he said, the note he composed was unique. Said Rothman, "I'm a hard-nosed, aggressive plaintiff's attorney. (Writing the note) was one of the only times in my life that I was really inspired."

—A 31-year-old man was killed in Ponoka, Alberta, in May when, in a fit of anger at a bad golf shot, he flung his club, but it broke in half, and the jagged edge snapped back and speared his neck, cutting his carotid artery.

—Stanford University researcher Felicia Pratto reported in October that a person's mental processing system does, indeed, give more attention to negative images than to positive ones. She said this "automatic vigilance" was probably evolutionary and protected individuals from danger. The only non-negative stimuli to have such a powerful effect were those associated with reproduction.

SEEDS OF OUR DESTRUCTION

—In May, to boost morale in war-torn Sarajevo, local fashion designers and the Bosnian army organized a "Miss Besieged Sarajevo" beauty pageant, even though a few of the participants' bodies were marred by shrapnel scars. During a procession on stage, the contestants held a banner reading, in English, "Don't Let Them Kill Us." The 17-year-old winner, questioned by an Associated Press writer, responded, "Plans? I have no plans. I may not even be alive tomorrow."

—In June, the World Organization Against Torture told the United Nations it had hard evidence of a growing trade in the organs of children, citing a kidnapped boy and girl discovered in Colombia with their eyes missing. The group said street children in Haiti, Guatemala and Brazil are often systematically killed for their organs.

THE WEIRDO-AMERICAN COMMUNITY

In May, Gerald W. LaPre, 40, of St. Paul, Minn., was charged with smuggling 30,000 books out of area libraries, or checking them out with bogus library cards, during a 10-year period and storing them in his house, his car and a rented storage locker. Only 19 of the books had been properly checked out (but were overdue). LaPre once told a reporter that he had a "passion for books that fills a part of me like nothing else."

I DON'T THINK SO

In May, convicted serial killer Randy Kraft filed a $60 million lawsuit against Warner Books and author Dennis McDougal, arguing that their book "Angel of Darkness" defamed him. Kraft, who is on death row for the sexual torture-murder of 16 men, said the book is unfair in its portrayal of him as a "sick, twisted" man.

NATASHA'S STARS

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Let your creative engines surge this week, and you'll get the answers you need about work, love or money. You might even want to rob a bank.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) As an earth sign, you are always grounded, and right now, you're out to prove just that. Attempts at shaking up the status quo have you boiling with passion. You may need a couple of days off from all the intensity. Phew!

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Imagine life without talk, writing or any other form of communication. That the isolation you might need toward the end of this week. Sorry, dear Gemini, looks like you said too much and, uh, put your foot in your mouth. You'd prefer fun, alone, or with another.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) You make resolutions about money one more time and decide to show you really mean it. Conversations this week are wild with loved ones. It'll be better to say little, and let your actions speak. Count on a nice, quiet, inexpensive weekend at home.

LEO (July 23-August 22) You are your magnetic self as the sun moves into your sign. You want everyone with you to celebrate—your birthday, the new boss, or whatever. Yes, you sure put on a good party this weekend. Enjoy the spotlight and put on.

VIRGO (August 23-September 22) Contact a pal who can keep a secret, because, wow, do you have a whopper. Popularity peaks just before the weekend and ultimately dips because you simply can't say yes to everyone. Difficult being so desirable, isn't it?

LIBRA (September 23-October 22) Examine what your best interests really are, or you'll find yourself deep in the doghouse this week. The good news is that it's a relatively short stay, and you'll exit grinning and all the better for the rest. Oddly enough, you clearly missed that point even if you were in a forced submission. Keep up all the apologies this weekend.

SCORPIO (October 23-November 21) Do notice (subtly) that others are noticing you this week. Put your best foot forward at both work and play. You may receive an unusual offer that allows you to split early. Don't be responsible; go. You can have it all right now, so why not?

SAGITTARIUS (November 22-December 21) You are so fanciful, Sag. It must be difficult to stay in town this week. Nevertheless, the boss demands high performance, and that is what you give. The spotlight is on you, so take bows for a job well done. You find time to celebrate this weekend. Any excuse will do.

BLUEGRASS STATE GAMES

Today is the day that I make my annual trip to Lexington and all points beyond to cover the Bluegrass State Games.

It will mark the fourth such trip and I enjoy being able to go and cover our local athletes as they try to make their mark in the sports world.

The opening ceremonies tonight are always a sight to behold. It will begin with the parade of athletes and all the other festivities. The flyover by the National Guard makes one proud to be an American. The thousands of athletes that march into Commonwealth Stadium are something to see.

I always enjoy sitting in on the news conferences of the special guest that the Games bring in.

Then Saturday, early in the morning, I'm out and going all over Lexington to various spots to find those Floyd Countians that are taking part in the Games.

I enjoy the Games. Not just because I am covering them for the newspapers, but enjoy watching them as a sports fan. I must admit that some of the sports they have, I have never taken part in as a participant, but if you watch the track and field events, tennis, golf, swimming and racquetball you will find yourself enjoying the competition.

Around 1 p.m. it is time to take a lunch break and hope that you find a seat at some place to eat. Lexington is very crowded at this time of year.

After lunch and a brief time of rest, it's back to the search and just enjoying the Games.

Fortunately for me, the Floyd County 13-year old Babe Ruth All-Stars will be playing in the state tournament in Lexington at this time and I plan on journeying over to cover their games.

So, this is going to be a busy weekend for me, but the first week of August is vacation time (maybe) and maybe I can find some relaxation by taking in a couple of ball games.

REDS CONTINUE TO SQUABBLE...

It is very sad when mature, major league baseball players have to act like a bunch of children.

Case in point is the recent altercation between Kevin Mitchell and Reds manager Davey Johnson. It is no wonder that the Reds do not have a winning attitude. No one wants to play. Mitchell was told (so they say) that a mandatory practice was going to be held and he, along with several other Reds, didn't show up. Then he missed a scheduled game and was socked with a two game suspension, which, according to reports, will cost him in the neighborhood of $60,000.

Now what is $60,000 to a man that is being paid $4 million a season to play baseball? And one who hasn't played that much anyway.

But think of it. That is a lot of money to most people. I say to the Cincinnati Reds to dump Mitchell and the others that has no interest in playing hard baseball and developing a winning attitude.

Let the younger players that appreciate the opportunity to play, be the Cincinnati Reds of the future. Let go of Rip Roberts, Mitchell, Rob Dibble, Reggie Sanders, Bobby Kelly, Hal Morris and several of the others.

Barry Larkin, Chris Sabo and Jeff Branson seem to have a more positive attitude toward the game.

Season ends for Clark

Shanna Clark of the Floyd County 15-year old All-Stars played her final game this past weekend. Clark was the first girl to play baseball on a boys' dominated team. She was chosen for the all-star team this past year which was the highlight of her season. (photo by Ed Taylor)

Making all-star team highlights Clark's season

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

In Paintsville last Monday, the Floyd County Babe Ruth 15-year old All-Stars were preparing to face Carr Fork in All-Star competition and maybe a trip to the state tournament in Louisville.

We caught up with Shanna Clark just before the team was to take infield practice and had a chance to talk with her about the challenges facing a girl playing baseball with a group of young men.

Shanna Clark

Going back to her Little League days, Clark made news when she became the first girl to be named to the Harold-Allen-Prater Little League All-Star team in the midst of some controversy.

"Some of the coaches didn't vote for me to be on the team because I was a girl," she recalled the moment. "Few of the coaches felt that I wasn't good enough to play."

"When I heard about it, it made me feel bad. I thought I was pretty good but some at first thought I shouldn't be there."

But Clark was happy that things turned out the way they did. "They finally came around and accepted it," she said. "Really, I thought I was better than than I am now."

Clark has struggled through most of the season and says that her average started to fall when she began to play softball.

"Softball has really messed me up as far as hitting goes," she stated. "I played softball in high school and then I play in a league up at McDowell."

But her all-star coach James Skeens says that her worry is in vain because she does so many other things well.

"Shanna worries about her average," he said. "But she is a super person. She has a very good attitude, the best ever was."

"She never complains or gripes at you. She is willing to play where you want her and never says a word."

"While her average may be down, her base running, fielding and other parts of her game are great. You couldn't ask for more."

Skeens says that he is glad to have her as part of the all-star team and the team needs more girls on them.

"The biggest moment for me this year was when I went to all-star tryouts," said Clark. "Then I got to pitch. I got to pitch one inning against Maytown. It was the first time I had gotten to pitch. I had three strikeouts in the inning."

Clark said that she is satisfied with playing on the all-star team and feels that she has been accepted by the male players.

"I believe they have accepted me," she said. "They seem to like me and my playing."

She believes that more girls should be allowed to play on all-star teams if they are good enough.

"Over in Knott County a girl wasn't allowed to play," she said, "and it wasn't because she wasn't good enough but because she was a girl."

While most leagues are having problems around the area, Clark likes the Babe Ruth league and feels that changes are not necessary.

"No, I don't think they should change anything," she said. "The league is pretty well put together and I like it."

Clark has been playing baseball and softball for the past six years and is a member of the Betsy Layne women's basketball team.

"Clark's number one fan has to be her mother. She gets all the support she needs from her mom."

"She likes the games as much as I do," said Clark. "She supports me a lot. She does everything for me and takes to all the games and she is at every game I play."

Clark finished her baseball career when the 15-year old all-star team was eliminated from the tournament. She will continue to play softball for the remainder of the summer. But, maybe, just maybe you will find her swinging a bat for the Betsy Layne Bobcats next season.

Countdown is on as Floyd County football season nears

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

Only 35 days left and we all are counting. Only 35 days until the 1993 high school football season gets underway for the four Floyd County High Schools.

With the basketball camps history and baseball season at an end, fans are looking with great anticipation to the start of another gridiron season.

Prestonsburg looks to be a strong contender for yet another district and regional title. Allen Central will be under a new mentor while Wheelwright will not exist but South Floyd will, Betsy Layne will be making their second turn under John Derosssett and there is excitement in the air at Betsy Layne.

ALLEN CENTRAL REBELS
The Rebels will be coming off a two-win season from last year and the loss of talent was heavy at Allen Central last year.

But the Rebels will have a new coach and it will be interesting to see what will transpire under his leadership.

Glenn Reeves is the new head man for the Rebels this season after spending last season as an assistant at Harrison County.

Reeves is very impressive when you talk with him and if the program goes the way he hopes it will the next three years, then Allen Central will have a strong program.

While former coach Dewey Jamerson will not be returning as head coach, Brad Blackburn will be the signal caller for the Rebels. Success in the backfield will depend on the play of Glenn Floyd and Steven Akers, who came on strong toward the end of the season. James Osborne and Austin Shelton will also carry the football for the Rebels.

Defensively, the front line for the Rebels will see the likes of Shawn Robinson, Kelvin Dye and Scott Bellamy leading the way.

Adam Coleman and Robert Webb will anchor the end slots for Allen Central. Look for sophomores-to-be Mike McKinney and Chris Bailey to make a contribution to this year's team.

Newcomers for the Rebels this year could be a host of players in the freshmen ranks. A trio that stand out are Thomas Jenkins, Eric Moore and Beau Tackett. Jenkins has soft hands and will one day be a top receiver. Tackett and Moore are opposite runners. Moore likes to run at the defense while Tackett is quick and likes the sweep.

Allen Central will be at home more than on the road as they play six of the 10 games at the Don Daniels Athletic Complex.

BETSY LAYNE BOBCATS

Second year coach John Derosssett will be looking for some replacements from last year's squad. The one replacement he will most concerned with is who will take quarterback Byron Combs place.

Combs leaves the Bobcat program after graduating last year, taking his strong throwing arm with him. Gary Arnett, a late-comer last season, will be another that will be hard to replace.

However, the Bobcats will be a team that will be playing with more confidence this year as Coach Derosssett looks to some veterans as well as newcomers to add to this year's team.

Bubba Combs will be expected to lead both the offensive and defensive lines this season. Shannon Hall will be in the wings to help out, along with Marty Hamilton.

Sophomores that should make a contribution this year are Jamie Garrett, Tim Hunt and Rodney Hamilton.

Craig Hamilton and Doug Keathley are definitely two strong freshmen that could help this year's team.

Coach Derosssett will be looking to win that first game as they went 0-9 last season and will try to avoid a repeat.

Paintsville goes to two per inning rotation; sweep Allen Central

by Ed Taylor
Sports Editor

While Tony LaRussa of the Oakland Athletics has gone to a three-man per game rotation to find an answer to his team's woes, Paul David Brown of the Paintsville Big League team went one better but for different reasons.

Brown ran his pitchers to the mound as he changed hurlers every two innings in a doubleheader sweep of Allen Central. The reason: Brown wanted his pitchers to get all the work they could before state tournament time.

Not only did the pitchers see action every two innings, but every player on the roster played at least two innings in the twinnings.

Paintsville (21-6) swept the Rebels by winning the opener 8-0 and taking the nightcap 7-2.

Scott Caudill, Barry Clark, Justin Hall and Barry Collins combined to give up just two runs, both unearned, on two hits in the second game. Brad Tiller collected two hits, Brad Scott and Barry Hall each had a single. Billy Elam, Halter Riddle, Brent Hamilton and Greg Hunter combined to throw a one-hit shutout in the first game. John Holbrook and Hall each collected two hits in the game.

Coach Brown and Coach Johnnie Lemaster continue to be pleased with their team as they prepare for next week's tournament at Greenup County.

"Things continue to look up for our ball club," said Brown. "The team is continuing to improve."

The team hasn't only been helped by their two coaches but some higher level personnel has been looking on.

"We've had scouts from numerous colleges as well as the major leagues," said Brown. "Scouts from the Phillies, Mariners, Dodgers, Reds, Brewers, Blue Jays and Cardinals have become a regular fixture at the games. Also, college representatives have numbered over 15 in the last two dates."

Six Floyd County players grace the Paintsville Big League roster. Bud Kidd, Barry Clark, Barry Collins and Greg Hunter represent Betsy Layne. Player, as well as former Allen Central catcher Brad Scott, are also members of the team.

The Paintsville Big League team also has players from Sheldon Clark, Paintsville and Johnson Central.

Two years ago, the team advanced to the regional finals in Georgia before losing. Coaches Brown and Lemaster have worked hard in getting this year's team ready for the big week ahead and that is state tournament time.

Paintsville (District 7) will play Louisville Valley (District 2) at 6 p.m. on Monday, July 26 just after Greenup County (District 6) and South Laurel (District 4) open the tournament with a first-pitch time of 3 p.m.

Danville (District 3) will await the winner of the Greenup/South Laurel game and will play at 3 p.m. July 27.

A Paintsville win would put them in the semifinals of the tournament at 3 p.m. on Thursday, July 29. A loss would drop them to the losers bracket where they would play again Wednesday, July 28 at 6 p.m.

Paintsville was the state runner-up last season losing 12-5 to Laurel County in Louisville.

Coach Derosssett to hold football camp at Betsy Layne

With the 1993 football season not far off, Coach John Derosssett of Betsy Layne High School has scheduled his annual three-day football camp to begin Thursday, July 29. The camp will run through Saturday, July 31. The camp is open to all Floyd County grade school players in grades three through eight.

Fundamentals and other facets of the game will be stressed. Each camper will receive a t-shirt and meals.

The camp will run from 9 a.m. until noon daily. Entry fee for the camp is $15 per player.

For more information contact Coach Derosssett at 886-6639 or 886-1764.

Diving accidents can cause spinal injuries

As the summer months heat up, people search for refuge and fun in pools, oceans, lakes and rivers. But with swimming as a popular summer activity, the chance for diving accidents and spinal cord injury increases.

According to a spinal cord injury database at the University of Alabama, sports injuries made up 13 percent of all spinal cord traumas in 1990. Of these sports-related injuries, 66 percent were a result of diving into surf, lakes, rivers, quarries and swimming pools. Spinal injury can happen to anyone. However, most victims are between the ages of 15 and 35.

Safe diving can significantly reduce the chance of head or spinal cord injury. Following are some recommended tips for safe diving:

- Obey "No Diving" signs.
- Never dive into an above-ground pool or the shallow end of any unground pool.
- Never dive into clouds of murky water.

- Remember that the presence of diving boards does not necessarily mean it is safe to dive.

- Swim away from the diving board once you have completed your dive to avoid collision with the next diver.

- Sports-related spinal cord injuries are not isolated to diving," said Paul K. Gardner M.D., staff neurosurgeon at the Kenton D. Leatherman Spine Center in Louisville.

"A spinal cord trauma can result from something as simple as throwing a friend in the pool, playing tennis or cycling."

"It's important to be aware of your surroundings and know what to do in case an accident occurs," he said. "The best way to protect yourself is to use good judgment and know your limitations."

If you are ever involved in or witness an accident that might involve spinal cord injury, you should look for the following symptoms:

- Loss of consciousness
- Vomiting
- Headache
- Loss of movement or sensation
- Deformities of the neck and back
- Severe back pain

If you suspect there is a head or spinal cord injury, you should:

- Call 911
- Never leave the injured person alone (yell for help but stay with the victim).

•Never move the victim unless he/she is in danger of further trauma.

•If you have to move the victim, maintain his/her body in alignment and support the back and head with a study object, such as a board.

For more information about spinal cord injuries, please call The Kenton D. Leatherman Spine Center at (502) 629-7301.

Puckett, Hayes place first and second in ironman competition

Coach John Derossett, head football coach at Betsy Layne High School, recently held an Ironman competition in conjunction with the Bobcats football conditioning program that is presently going on.

First place in the elementary division went to Tyler Puckett of Stanville. Joshua Hayes of Betsy Layne placed second overall.

Coach Derossett will be conducting his second annual football camp at Betsy Layne High School beginning July 29 to Aug. 31. The camp is open to all Floyd County elementary players. The cost of the camp is $15 per player which will include all meals as well as a camp t-shirt.

The camp will run from 9 a.m. until noon each day. Call 486-6634 for more information.

Tag title and grudge match highlight wrestling card

Smoky Mountain Wrestling returns to Paintsville with an outstanding night of action on Thursday, August 5, beginning at 8 p.m. at the Paintsville High School gym--promising to be the biggest lineup ever in Paintsville.

In a six-man grudge tag-team match, Bullet Bob Armstrong returns for revenge, teaming with his sons Scott and Steve to face the Heavenly Bodies with manager Jim Cornette. Cornette will be forced to wrestle in the event.

Cornette and his team hospitalized Bullet Bob in Knoxville in May and now the Bullet has returned to get even with the hated manager and his team. Paintsville fans have waited over a year for Cornette to get his just due, and it may happen in Paintsville.

The Bruise Brothers, tag-team title holders in Smoky Mountain Wrestling, will face challengers Ricky and Robert, the Rock and Roll Express, in a no time limit, no disqualification showdown.

It was this past June 4 that the Bruise Brothers burst into Paintsville High School and began their reign of terror by attacking the Express from behind, leaving them laying bloodied in the ring. Ricky and Robert are determined to regain the titles here.

Prime Time Brian Lee will defend his title against former friend Wild Eyed Southern Boy Tracy Smothers. Lee won the title from Smothers in an earlier match.

This should be a wild one as Lee, a former friend of Smothers, turned on Lee to sign with manager Tammy Pynch, who also will be at ringside.

What is it that Chris Candido hates worst than anything on earth? It is being called a crybaby. Well it seems that is what White Lightning Tim Horner did in front of a television audience and now Horner has challenged Candido to a "Baby Bottle Match" where the loser must drink from a baby bottle in the middle of the ring. This is a chance for Horner to prove his claim.

There's more. The Dirty White Boy faces Bobby Blaze in a special challenge match, signed after Blaze's shocking upset of White Boy on television. If Blaze pins the Dirty White Boy, he wins. But the Dirty White Boy can pin Blaze any number of times, and it does not count. To win, he must make Blaze admit he's had enough and leave the ring.

In addition to the scheduled matches, there will be a tailgate party at 5:30 p.m., where the fans can meet the wrestlers, hear a live band and see Jason Blanton of WSP radio do live remote broadcasts before the card.

Bell time is 8 p.m. in Paintsville on August 5.

can play any better than they did last season. Others are looking for an even better year this year.

There are two question marks that face this year's Prestonsburg team. Who replace Aaron Tucker at quarterback and who will handle the kicking game?

Tucker was no doubt the area's top quarterback. But he is gone after graduation and Thomas Harlow is expected to step in and fill his shoes. There is also sophomore Keith Marsillett who may have a shot at the spot.

Gone is the "Toe of Terror," Marcus Arjau, who was just outstanding in the kicking game for the Blackcats. A replacement will have to be found for the kicking game.

The backfield for the Blackcats is a coach's dream. Dwayne Garza, Seth Hyden, Jody Cornette and a host of upcoming talented prospects await the season.

Not only will there be experience on the offensive side of the line but on the line itself. Familiar names will anchor the line on both sides as Kyle Fitzpatrick leads the Prestonsburg charge with the likes of Ryan Elliott, Kevin Farthing, Brad Wells and Larry Morris.

Morris will be a key to this year's team and will likely see some time in the backfield as well at end.

Robbie Rasner, Clint Shotts and Jason Sparlock will definitely be contributors this season. Jason Spencer will play the center spot for the Blackcats in a familiar position that he filled on the junior varsity team. SOUTH FLOYD RAIDERS

The first year for the new school will be an exciting one. Coach Donnie Daniels will be quick to tell you that it will be one of rebuilding after the heavy loss from last year's squad.

Gone is speedster Muntz Oden. A knowledgeable Steven Shelton at quarterback has also departed. Returning for the Raiders will be Arnold Adams who is one of the region's top ground gainers. He, along with Shelton and Oden, led Wheelwright to their first playoff berth in several years.

Adams is a big strong kid that makes his own holes with his strength. A force in the backfield, Adams will still need some help this season.

Solving the quarterback position as well as the rest of the makeup of the backfield is the problem facing Coach Daniels.

McDowell consolidates with Wheelwright this year to form South Floyd and Coach Daniels is hoping that an undiscovered star on the gridiron can be found in those that come from McDowell.

The Raiders will be looking to rebuild and may well do it under the very capable leadership of Coach Daniels.

Unleaded game? Birds fly, fish swim

by Lowell Branham
Scripps Howard News Service

A parable I used to hear a lot back in the days of my youth was the one about the Arab's camel.

Alas, the days of my youth have long since passed, and apparently so has the popularity of that old tale. The few times I've said anything about the Arab's camel to younger folks, they've looked at me like I was speaking a foreign tongue. So far those who haven't heard it, I'll briefly rehash the story.

As you know, nights in the desert get pretty chilly, and the Arab's camel initially stuck just its nose under the edge of the Arab's tent, hoping to escape the cold. The Arab, being a sophisticated sort who sympathized with the beast, allowed the transgression to pass without rebuke and went off to sleep.

But the camel wasn't content to warm just its nose. It kept inching forward until first its head, then its neck, then its hump and finally its whole body were in the tent. By that time, the poor Arab was the one out in the cold.

Anyone who fails to see the resemblance between the Arab's camel and our federal government must have been living in an isolation cell somewhere, cut off from all contact with the outside world.

Consider the matter of taxes, for example. Our forefathers went to war with King George over a tiny tax on tea. Today we scarcely whimper when the hand of the government plunges so deeply into the pocket of the average middle-class wage earner that it makes the Arab's camel look like a piker.

But regardless of how onerous they may be, this treatise isn't about taxes. Nope, it's about something the federal government hates nearly as much as it loves taxes. It's about lead.

For the space of nearly a generation now, the government has been waging unremitting warfare against that evil villain, lead. First, they wanted it out of paint. After they won that fight, they wanted it out of gasoline.

Then they went to work on shotshells. Lead shot, they said, was responsible for countless waterfowl deaths due to lead poisoning. So, initially they banned the use of lead shot in a small number of select waterfowl shooting areas.

But that little list, like the Arab's camel, kept edging forward until finally in the late 1980s, the use of lead shot was forbidden altogether for any kind of waterfowl hunting anywhere in the United States.

I'm not sure why against the government's false contention that the ban is a full and satisfactory solution to the problem.

The government would like to sweep under the rug the fact that the switch from lead to far less efficient steel shot caused a tremendous jump in the number of waterfowl lost to crippling.

There's no way to measure it, but it wouldn't surprise me if the increased crippling loss didn't nearly wipe out any gains realized from banning the use of lead. Waterfowl are hard to kill anyway, and they become doubly so when shooters have to kill them with woefully inefficient steel shot.

Thankfully, I've never been a waterfowl hunter because I don't hunt anything I can't eat, and I'd just about as soon eat a buzzard as eat a duck or a goose. But if I were a waterfowl hunter, I think I would've quit when the lead shot had been found to be inefficient.

Not only is steel shot inefficient; it's also terribly hard on shotguns. In fact, it will ruin older guns that weren't designed to withstand the tremendous battering it inflicts on a barrel.

In its vast and all-knowing wisdom, the federal government is now aiming its anti-lead artillery at a juicy new target -- fishermen. Yep, you heard right. Now that they've put duck hunters in their place, the bureaucrats are going to work to put fishermen on the straight and narrow.

Why? Well, fishermen use lead sinkers, don't they? Plus all those lead jugs and spinnerbaits. And ducks and geese and loons and herons and such could die from ingesting those things just the same as they do from lead shot.

How many have died? Well, that's beside the point. The fact is it could happen, and something has to be done to head it off. Therefore, the Environmental Protection Agency has set a deadline of January 14, 1994, for coming up with new rules to govern the use of lead by fishermen.

Fortunately, whatever the EPA devises in the way of regulations has to be approved by Congress. If you think the feds are going overboard, you'd better write or phone your congressmen -- or women -- and tell them so.

Oh, and in case you're wondering what that strange object is that's creeping into your fishing boat, can't you tell it's a camel's nose?

A Look At Sports

Jim Bowden and get a good knowledge of baseball man in charge.

I wonder if Marge even wants to come off suspension?

Her hall club is falling apart and as soon as the preseason football season begins, then the feds will desert the team for something better.

PRESEASON FOOTBALL....

Speaking of the season, it will get underway July 30 and will run up to August 28, a week before the real season starts.

We will have a preview of the NFL teams later.

WILKINSON GETS ANSWER...

Last Wednesday in this column we wrote about G.N. Wilkinson searching for former Wheelwright coach Robert Harlowe and seeking information on the former coach.

Frank Henze of Prestonsburg saw the column and reached Wilkinson with the information that he was seeking. According to Henze, Harlowe died around six years ago.

Harlowe last coached at Prestonsburg during the 1939-40 season, a team that Henze was a member of.

Henze came to my office Thursday with past yearbooks in hand and I enjoyed just looking at the former years.

I noticed that there were women basketball teams back in the late '30s and early '40s. Ora Mae Allen coached the Martin team. Maytown and McDowell also had women's teams then.

Sometimes it is just good to stop and reflect on the past years. Until Wednesday, now it's sports everyone and be good sports!

Ten Rules To Sleep By

It's been called the great American time-saver. Having to do more in 24 hours than is in one day. Inevitably, sleep time is cut back and the result is fatigue, drowsiness, loss of a sense of humor, creativity and productivity.

Try not to sleep cheat, advises Nancy Butler, director of the Better Sleep Council. "If you're well rested you'll be able to accomplish daily tasks more efficiently and get more out of life."

The Better Sleep Council offers these 10 ways to get the most out of the sleep you do get.

1. Keep regular hours. Try to go to bed at the same time each night and wake up at the same time each morning, even on weekends.

2. Exercise regularly. 20 to 30 minutes of exercise at least 3 days a week is ideal, but be sure not to exercise too close to bedtime.

3. Cut down on stimulants. consuming stimulants such as caffeine, found in coffee or chocolate, in the evening makes it harder to fall asleep. Stimulants also prevent deep sleep and increase nighttime awakenings.

4. Sleep on a good bed. It's difficult to get deep, restful sleep on a bed that's too small, too soft, too hard or too old. For optimum comfort and support, your mattress and foundation should be replaced every 8 to 10 years.

5. Don't smoke. smokers take longer to fall asleep, awaken more often and spend less time in deep sleep.

Plumbing

PORTER PLUMBING COMPANY. ALLEN, KENTUCKY. Commercial, residential and service work. Licensed and insured. Ruston ruston service. Clean cleaning, etc. CALL US FIRST! 874-2794.

Babysitting Service

PRE-SCHOOL DAYCARE. Our 1 day of the Mountains School. Available 7:30a.m. - 5 p.m. for 3, 4 and 5 year olds. Call 789-3661 or 297-2011.

6. Drink only in moderation. drinking alcohol before bed makes it difficult to fall asleep, interrupts the sleep stages and causes awakenings in the early morning hours.

7. Unwind in the evening. try to deal with worries and distractions before going to bed.

8. Don't go to bed stuffed or starved. a full stomach takes longer to digest, causing you to toss and turn during the night, and an empty stomach causes physical discomfort, making it difficult to sleep through the night.

9. Develop a sleep ritual. make the transition from nighttime to bedtime easier by doing the same things in the same order each night just before bed.

10. Give sleep priority. say "yes" to sleep even when you're tempted to stay up for a late party or a midnight movie. You'll thank your body for sleeping when you wake up ready to conquer the world.

Nothing Less Than The Best Will Do

When you need an accurate diagnosis, nothing less than the best in technology and service will do.

Pikeville Methodist Hospital is your answer for the most advanced MRI diagnostic imaging in Eastern Kentucky.

The MRI unit at Pikeville Methodist is one of the most powerful units in Kentucky, creating remarkably detailed and complex images of internal organs and blood vessels. Our unit enables patients to have faster, more comprehensive exams than with any other MRI unit in the area.

And, the MRI is a permanent unit at Pikeville Methodist and available seven days a week.

The quality of our technology is matched only by the quality of our people. MRI exams are performed by specially trained technologists who treat you with care and respect. The exam results are read by board certified radiologists, with three years of MRI experience and trained at the University of Kentucky.

At Pikeville Methodist Hospital, we're giving you the best.

A Look At Sports

by Ed Taylor, Sports Editor

SENIOR, BABE RUTH, LITTLE LEAGUE FINISHES GOOD SEASONS
The 1993 Senior, Babe Ruth and Little League season has come to an end with the exception of two Babe Ruth teams that will be making an appearance in the state tournaments this weekend.
The Floyd County Babe Ruth League placed two teams in tournament play with the 13-year-olds playing in Lexington and the 14-year-olds going to Middletown. Harold Allen-Prater's Little League All-Star team made a strong showing in the Little League district tournament in Paintsville recently.

A lot of time and effort on the part of, not just players, but coaches and parents alike have went into this past season. Raising money for uniforms and other needed equipment has been a chore but everyone met the challenge.
League directors are to be saluted for their efforts in overseeing their league's play. A "hats off" salute goes to:

• Steve Stephens, President of the Prestonsburg Little League.
• Jimmy Goins, President of the Beaver Creek Little League.
• Robert Damron, President of the Harold-Allen-Prater Little League.
• Tony Hall, President of the Wheelwright Little League.

• Harold Case, President of the Floyd County Babe Ruth League.
• Dickie Jarvis, President of the Prestonsburg Senior League.
I know that each president had several staff workers under him and the time and effort they also put forward is appreciated by all.
Perhaps the biggest thing to happen in all the youth leagues around the county was Shawn Deskins perfect game. The game was called into and reported to Sports Illustrated's Faces in the Crowd. They thought it was quite an accomplishment.

HAP hammered 11 home runs in the series at Paintsville and Seth Crisp hit out six, with three flying out in one game. That too is quite an accomplishment for a team and individual.

I have enjoyed covering the games around the county and I want to thank all the coaches for all their help in getting information to me. Hopefully, we will be ready for another banner season next year and all our leagues have some very promising players. The high school ranks have a lot of good players heading their way. We hope you enjoy our All-Star Special Section.
Thanks for the season!
