

This Town-- That World

THE EXEMPTER The rush around the County Clerk and Sheriff's offices was terrible Monday as folks rushed to get their car on taxes and auto licenses. I can't understand why people don't do like I did. I bought my new license plate three weeks before the deadline. Only, I haven't got it on the car yet.

WEDDING DEVELOPMENTS West Prestonsburg operative covers both the waterfront and backwater--I'll give you three guesses as to who he is and you say Belshazzar for the first two reports he would have a wedding announcement to make if the matter of a mustache hadn't got in the way. In no rush whatever to get the yarn told, he drawled. "It looks like a sure thing. She's thrown her cane away and ain't had a ache or pain for days. Mighta been able to give you the story this week, but he shaved his mustache down to Charlie Chaplin size, just a little stiff bristle in the middle of his lip, and when he kissed her she thought she was stung by a pack-saddle. After that, she demanded that he have it shaved off, but he stood on his Constitutional rights and declared his right to a mustache. They compromised, I understand, and he's to let it grow out to droop like it used to. So the wedding depends on how long it takes his lip to get in shape."

NOW SEE HERE, MY DEAR... I hesitate to quote Dr. George Gallup after the things that happened in what the GOP might call that SOB election of last year, but he has come up with some figures which bear out a dark suspicion so many men have long entertained that they deserve a place in this newspaper. This latest question Dr. Gallup has "sampled" the country with reads: "Knowing what you do now, if you had to do it over, is there a chance you might marry the same person, do you think you probably would, or are you certain you would?" Fair question or unfair, answers were given; and, unless the folks were trying to lead the good doctor astray again, it doesn't look as if we are holding our own with the wimmen-folks. For: Fifty-two per cent of the men said they certainly would--marry the same person again, that is, if they "had it to do over"--while only 47 per cent of the girls were certain they would. Only 8 per cent of us Old Faithfuls said we might not while 11 per cent of our ever-loving spouses said, well, now, they might not. And 18 per cent of the missuses just didn't know, lawsy me, what they'd do. We men thump our manly chests and hereby remind our beloved lovelies to look whose love abides till the sands of the desert grow cold, whose the steadfastness, whose the voice that shakes the mast with "I'll Love You in December as I Did in July"--or was it June? Now, I doubt if Dr. Gallup has (See Story No. 4, Page 5)

LOCAL OPTION VOTE MAR. 26

Dry Forces in 2nd Rally Prepare for Local Drive For Votes During Month

"Are you in favor of the sale of alcoholic beverages in Prestonsburg, Floyd county, Kentucky?" That question will be answered, yes or no, on Saturday, March 26 at a local option election which County Judge Alex L. Davidson authorized Monday by a court order. Setting of the date for the election in accordance with the time asked by the petition was mandatory. The petition asking a local option election here, the court order pointed out, was signed by approximately 325 legal voters of Prestonsburg, a number which is equal to or more than 25 per cent of the number of votes cast here at the last general election. A meeting of dry forces was held at the Baptist Church Sunday, this the second in the last two weeks.

She was a member of the United Baptist Church. Her husband died Oct. 22, last year. Surviving are eight sons and daughters, Elzie Bayes, Mrs. Stella Whitaker, Mrs. Mollie Marshall and Mrs. Beulah Akers, all of Whitaker, Elbert and Ermon Bayes, Mrs. Betty Akers and Mrs. Mollie Shepherd, of California, and Newt Hall, of Michigan. 'ALLEGED' NOT WORD FOR IT Clay Claims, Referring To Bourbon Vote Case In Letter to Stephens

The Justice Department's use of the word "alleged" in referring to the Bourbon county vote-fraud case drew sharp criticism last week from Cassius M. Clay, leader of a movement for pressing for prosecution of the case. The text of a letter from U. S. District Attorney Claude P. Stephens contained an assurance the case is still under "active investigation." Clay said he was gratified at that advice, but he took exception to the notation, "Re alleged election irregularities." "The Bourbon county fraud does not belong in the 'alleged' class," he said. "The Bourbon county grand jury more than three months ago found that the evidence conclusively proved that fraud and forgery had been committed in 11 precincts. The grand jury had to halt its investigation when the federal authorities impounded the election records and took them to Washington. "If the Justice Department can do this in Bourbon county and keep the records there without doing anything to clear up who committed the fraud, it can do this in any other county or city of the nation." District Attorney Stephens recently filed a $50,000 libel action here against Clay, alleging published statements of Clay's were intended to damage his standing in his profession and to result in his dismissal from office. Forged ballots were found in the 11 precincts in the November Presidential election in Bourbon county. The FBI started an investigation several weeks ago.

Roberts, Hall Draw Jail Terms and Fines In County Court Here

Two liquor cases heard at the county court term, Monday and Tuesday, resulted in convictions carrying fines and jail terms. Kenneth Roberts, of Lackey, former officer, was fined $50 and given a 30-day jail term on each of two charges of possessing whiskey for sale and of transporting whiskey, and Grant Hall, of the Mud Creek section, who failed to appear for trial, was given a $20 fine and a 30-day jail sentence for possession. The Roberts case was hard-fought and is being appealed. Four cases of whiskey were found in his car recently by Deputy Sheriff Harold Conn, who chased him from Lackey to Wayland. Roberts' defense was based on testimony of three other men, each of whom claimed one of the cases belonged to him. Had ownership thus been established, the defendant would have been within the legal possession limit. Roberts' courtroom statement to the effect that he guessed he got turned up because he didn't have the right connections drew the ire

Firm Asking Rate Boost Company Official Claims Higher Costs Necessitate Industrial Rate Increase

The Kentucky & West Virginia Power Company, Inc., filed Tuesday an application with the Public Service Commission for approval to increase the company's industrial rates. In making this announcement, R. E. Doyle, Jr., general manager of the company, said, "The increase is scheduled to become effective March 21 and will amount to approximately $306,000 per year. Domestic and commercial users are not affected under this proposed increase." Doyle added that "on April 1, 1946, the power company reduced rates to approximately $400,000 per year. This reduction was made at a time when it was generally felt that the increase in operating costs would level off. In this event, it was believed that the company could make such a reduction without affecting the standards of service which it has tried to maintain." "Everyone knows now," Doyle continued, "that instead of costs leveling off they continued to increase. As a result of this condition, the company finds it necessary to restore some of the reduction made in 1946. The power company has maintained a policy, during its entire existence of offering the lowest rates possible to its customers consistent with adequate and dependable service." The records of rate revisions made by the company indicate that, since 1931, 13 reductions have been realized for a total annual saving to users of $894,710. Mr. Doyle stated that "these reductions have been brought about through improved operating efficiencies, together with greatly increased use of the company's electric service."

HOUSE BALKS AT CLEMENTS ORGANIZATION

Governor Tells Plan For New Legislation At Special Session

Four bills which had been prepared against the convening of the General Assembly in special session were thrown into the hopper Tuesday, first day of the session, after Governor Earle C. Clements had told the Legislature of the ends he hoped to attain through the special call. And immediately after that the Administration suffered a series of setbacks in the House where there developed an apparent move to throw off shackles which kept members in line at the regular 1948 session. No. 1--To reduce the tax calendar from 20 months lying in three calendar years, to 12 months lying in one calendar year. This means it is proposed to assess property as of January 1, with the delinquent date December 31. At present property is assessed as of July 1, the tax due September 15 of the following year, and the delinquent date is March 1 of the next following year. No. 2--To enable a county which requests it to obtain from the state a staff of specialists to help the county re-assess property. This bill, the Governor continued, provides for the reduction of tax rates proportionate to the increase in assessment so that, generally speaking, the tax actually collected will not exceed that of the preceding year. The exception is where a rate reduction would disqualify a school district from equalization aid. No. 3--To clarify and redefine duties of the Department of Revenue, with respect to the new assessment program. No. 4--To raise the floor salary of county Tax Commissioners to $2,400 a year, and make the office a year-round job. Fifty-seven commissioners now make less than $2,400 a year, and some draw less than $1,200. This bill also seeks to increase the number of deputies in the larger counties. In general, it also raises qualifications for the office of tax commissioner. Boldly declaring his belief that it is his and the Assembly's duty to undertake reforms necessary, the Governor told the legislators: "I want to emphasize positively and pointedly that the recommended legislation is corrective and not coercive. It is remedial and not drastic. It preserves all the functions of local self-government. It

Penniless, Ill, Guest Is 'Mystery Woman'

A "mystery woman" from whose mind memory of half her life has fled has been a guest since Dec. 11 at the tourist camp, near Banner, of Mrs. Josephine Hill, and efforts to contact relatives or past acquaintances have been fruitless. The woman, who gave her name as Mattie Wyatt, came to Mrs. Hill's, high-frozen, and since that time has been confined to bed. Asked where she had been, immediately before appearing there, the woman said she did not know, that she had not been "any one place long enough to know." Events 40 years ago, however, she recalls well. That long ago, she says, she lived in Caldwell county, place of her birth. She says she is 76 years old.

JURY INDICTS KNOTT JUDGE But Indictment Missing; Attorney Here Hazards $500 He Can Prove Case

An indictment charging Knott County Judge C. B. Bates with malfeasance in office has been stolen from the clerk's office at Hindman, it was reported here last week. Circuit Clerk Rath Bates was quoted as saying he had no knowledge of how the indictment disappeared and Commonwealth's Attorney Earl C. Cooper was equally mystified. "This is not the first time that indictments have been misplaced in this county and never returned to their lodging place," commented The Hindman News last week. The indictment against Judge Bates was filed by the grand jury on the testimony of Burnis Martin, formerly of Hindman, now a Prestonsburg attorney. Martin, in an advertisement in the Hindman newspaper, made the following statement: "The grand jury of Knott county a few days ago returned an indictment against C. B. Bates for malfeasance in office. The ink on it had hardly gotten dry before it was stolen from the office of the Clerk. It is rumored that C. B. Bates says that what was sworn to before the grand jury could not be proven against him. "This is to serve notice on him that I swore before the grand jury that he was knowingly and wilfully violating the law and was committing the offense of malfeasance in office by paying the jurors in his court the sum of $3 per day where the law only allowed the sum of $1 to be paid, and that he followed this illegal practice after I had twice been before the grand jury to indict him for it; that he said in open court before witnesses that he knew that $1 was all that was allowed but that he was going to pay $3 anyway and he did afterward go ahead and pay $3 wilfully and intentionally and did thereby violate the law and his oath to uphold the law. "Since C. B. Bates says this can not be proven against him, I am this day depositing my personal check for $500 in the Bank of Hindman to be paid over to C. B. Bates if I can not prove the above charge of malfeasance in office that I swore to before the grand jury, and I further promise that if I can not prove said charge that I will leave this county and never again set feet on its soil."

HOME DRIVE SET MONDAY Local Chapter Removal Threatened for Floyd Unless Quota Reached

When home solicitation for Red Cross membership begins next Monday in the 1949 Floyd county drive for funds, more than the mere task of working to see that Floyd county meets its quota in a great humanitarian cause is at stake, J. R. Hurt, fund drive chairman, pointed out this week. The identity of Floyd Chapter itself is at stake during the drive. Unless the county reaches its reduced quota of $6,400 this year, the chapter will be merged with another county's, it was said recently. The county has not reached its quota since 1945. The Advanced and Special Gifts committee has been at work for several days, and returns to date are encouraging. Tuesday evening, the Eagles Club here held open house with a bingo benefit for the Red Cross, and the benefit will be repeated on succeeding Tuesday evenings. Other local civic and social groups are joining the drive, and over the county cooperation and effort are expected to reach a new high. Leaders of the drive expressed the hope a Red Cross emblem will be in every home and place of business in the county by the drive's end.

VOTE SWITCH EFFECT FELT Herdman Ruling Jolts Theory Formerly Held As to Party Allegiance

The widespread belief that a voter may change his party affiliation only during the period between the primary and general elections was given a jolt this week by an opinion written by Assistant Attorney General Walter C. Herdman in response to an inquiry from County Attorney W. W. Burchett. Wrote Mr. Herdman: "Under KRS 117.050 a person may change his party affiliation on any day that registration is allowed, which means any time during the regular office hours of the County Clerk except during the 69-day period that the registration books are closed prior to every primary and general election and the 10-day period immediately following a primary or general election." Interested persons here commented on the ruling to this effect: "If voters are permitted to switch from one party to the other before a primary, then given the right to go back to another party between the primary and general elections, the effect would be to allow voters of one party to 'gang up' to nominate a weak candidate or defeat a strong one of the opposite party in the primary, then switch back to their regular affiliation for the November fight. Further clarification of the law may be sought, it was indicated. Maytown Wins Opener Prestonsburg's Black Cats lost tonight the first game of the district basketball tourney to the Maytown Wildcats, 45 to 32.

MARTIN CASE FINALE NEAR

Saturday, last day of the current civil term of court, is expected to see a circuit court decision in the long-standing dispute over the rightful possession of the office of police judge at Martin. Kessie Akers, present holder of the office, was unable to appear for the hearings scheduled Tuesday and a physician's statement to the effect that he is ill of high blood pressure was presented in court. Circuit Judge Hill declined to continue the hearing beyond the current term but granted his attorney an extension of time till Saturday to take his depositions. G. D. Ryan claims the office under an appointment by Governor Earle C. Clements and alleges Akers did not execute the bond required of an officeholder. Akers was elected to the office at a regular city election.

COURT ORDER MOVES HALL

Man Facing Murder Trial Docketed for April Term Taken to Clark County Bert T. Hall, who is under indictment for the murder of John Frazer, aged Mud Creek man, was transferred Tuesday on order of Circuit Judge E. P. Hill, Jr., from the county jail here to the Clark county jail at Winchester for safe-keeping. Jail attendants said they knew no definite reason for the transfer. They said, however, that Hall had on occasion been abusive of other prisoners. The accused man, whose trial is scheduled here next month, was taken to Winchester by Deputy Sheriffs Tom Dingus and Harold Conn. Day after his departure, the jail here received from LaGrange reformatory Jarvie Hamilton, who is serving a 21-year murder sentence from this county. Hamilton was returned here in connection with the trial of a civil suit.

Clear Creek School for Third Year Produces County's Spelling Champ

A crowd which jammed the grade school auditorium Saturday heard 22 spelling champs from the county spell for more than two hours before Magalene Howell, 10-year-old Clear Creek student, applied the spelling sense that topped the title. Reba Joyce Salyers, Maytown's champion, missed the word, "Sense," and Magalene spelled that word and the next word, "apply," to be the champion. Magalene, a sixth grade pupil, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Granville Howell, of Hi Hat, and was coached by Wade Sloane. This is Mr. Sloane's and Clear Creek's third year in succession to win the spelling championship of Floyd county. The winner will go to Huntington, W. Va., to spell in the Tri-State Bee, the latter part of March. Besides the Huntington trip, she will receive from The Courier-Journal $10, a certificate and a dictionary. All participants were awarded a spelling certificate. Listed in the order of elimination are the contestants, their schools and words missed: James A. INLAND STEEL APPEALS TAX ASSESSMENT

Suit Filed Here Charges Raise Destroys Uniformity Of Values in Same Class The Inland Steel Company, Wheelwright, last Thursday filed with the Floyd circuit court an appeal from the $1,625,459 assessment levied against its property for county and state tax purposes, alleging the raise made by the Department of Revenue and permitted to stand by the county Board of Supervisors was "wrongful, unlawful and prejudicial" to its rights. Inland Steel was one of 30 Floyd coal companies whose assessments were raised by representatives of the State Department of Revenue, and is the first to take legal action in an effort to procure a reduction. Reductions averaging 10 per cent was made on increases on the county's coal industry as a whole, but the Inland Steel figure stood. The Wheelwright firm listed its holdings, last July, at $878,157. This was raised $747,272. It placed a value of $379,388 on 2,656.72 acres of surface and improvements and 16,632 acres of coal rights, less 4,555 acres mined out and abandoned. The final recapitulation of assessment raised this same property to $692,865. The company listed its autos and trucks, other tangible property, manufacturing machinery and intangible personal property at $498,769. This was raised to $800,000. (See Story No. 3, Page 6)

VETS GROUPS START MOVE To Erect Memorial On Public Grounds To Vets, War Dead

Veterans' organizations of the county held their 14th meeting in recent weeks Wednesday evening at Martin to develop plans for the purchase and erection of a permanent war memorial in the courthouse grounds here. The memorial planned would include a marble statue of a soldier, approximately six feet in height, with flanking marble slabs bearing the names of all servicemen of Floyd county who lost their lives in both world wars. Cost of the memorial, it was said, will be in the neighborhood of $2,500. The move to erect the statue has begun several weeks ago by Elkhorn Post, American Legion, at Wayland, and immediately the Legions of Martin, Garrett, Wheelwright and Prestonsburg and the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post here joined in the undertaking. A drive for funds with which to complete the work is expected to be launched soon.

PERKINS ASKS FEDERAL AID For Schools of Nation In His Maiden Speech As New Congressman

Washington, Feb. 21--Speaking in behalf of federal aid to education, Carl Perkins, freshman Democratic congressman from Hindman, Ky., made his maiden speech today in the House of Representatives. Perkins set the stage by stating that the issue before Congress really is one of increasing federal aid to education, "since the federal government has been supplying aid for over 150 years." He then traced the history of education in the United States and outlined the provisions of the Thomas bill (S. 246), the administration measure to which Perkins has introduced a companion in the House. The measures would provide $300,000,000 annually to be prorated among the states--and administered by the states--on the basis of school census and need. Perkins said the bill proposed a return to the federal policy represented by the early federal land grants, "namely, the policy of giving aid to public education in general rather than to some special kind of education or group or class of persons." As for the reasons for such aid, he said: "It seems to me that the basic reason for federal participation in the financing of public elementary

The memorial planned would include a marble statue of a soldier, approximately six feet in height, with flanking marble slabs bearing the names of all servicemen of Floyd county who lost their lives in both world wars. Cost of the memorial, it was said, will be in the neighborhood of $2,500. The move to erect the statue has begun several weeks ago by Elkhorn Post, American Legion, at Wayland, and immediately the Legions of Martin, Garrett, Wheelwright and Prestonsburg and the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post here joined in the undertaking. A drive for funds with which to complete the work is expected to be launched soon.

PERKINS ASKS FEDERAL AID For Schools of Nation In His Maiden Speech As New Congressman

Washington, Feb. 21--Speaking in behalf of federal aid to education, Carl Perkins, freshman Democratic congressman from Hindman, Ky., made his maiden speech today in the House of Representatives. Perkins set the stage by stating that the issue before Congress really is one of increasing federal aid to education, "since the federal government has been supplying aid for over 150 years." He then traced the history of education in the United States and outlined the provisions of the Thomas bill (S. 246), the administration measure to which Perkins has introduced a companion in the House. The measures would provide $300,000,000 annually to be prorated among the states--and administered by the states--on the basis of school census and need. Perkins said the bill proposed a return to the federal policy represented by the early federal land grants, "namely, the policy of giving aid to public education in general rather than to some special kind of education or group or class of persons." As for the reasons for such aid, he said: "It seems to me that the basic reason for federal participation in the financing of public elementary

Practical-Minded Fathers and Mothers don't want Saloons returned to Prestonsburg

The liquor traffic is greedy for profits. It is constantly seeking new customers. It wants to come to Prestonsburg and win recruits for its business from the happy boys and girls from our homes. In the face of these facts, could any honest dad, with the tug of a lad's love on his heart, vote for the return of the liquor traffic with all its inherent evils of vice and crime? Could any mother intentionally place the beckoning call of the beer den in the path of the daughter whom she loves and for whom she lives? In the name of God and common decency, could there be those who by their vote would return us to such conditions? Yes, of course there are some. Those who profit from blasted homes and blighted lives will work and vote to that end. Slaves to selfish appetite will fall weakly in line. And all too many better-intentioned souls who have been led astray by false promises will be used to further the cause of strong drink. But we honestly believe that in the Ranks of Righteousness will march many a "moderate wet"—fathers, mothers, young men and women with clear, clean thoughts of Christian homes and happiness that are the birthright of citizens in our community.

GOD SAYS:
The end of all things is at hand, be ye therefore sober and watch unto prayer.—I Peter 4:7.
Wine is a mocker, strong drink is raging, and whosoever is deceived thereby is not wise.—Prov. 20:1.

Leslie Countians Set Forest Trees; 1949 Goal, 50,000

How County Agent Hays Pigman has promoted reforestation in Leslie county is reported by James A. Newman, farm forester for Southeastern Kentucky. Thirty-five thousand forest trees were set in Leslie county last year, and the goal this year is 50,000. More than this number of trees probably will be planted, said Newman, since Floyd Wells, of Daley, alone has ordered 40,000 seedlings from the state nursery. Wells planted 33,000 seedlings and five bushels of walnuts last year. He owns a large tract of land in Leslie county and operated a sawmill. The Rev. D. P. Deaton, operator of a sawmill at Wooten, long has been an exponent of reforestation, and began planting trees as far back as 1933, Newman reported. He has several acres of white, shortleaf and loblolly pine and is planning to put out several thousand trees this season. For several years Mr. Deaton has been planting seed in a garden to garden to furnish black walnut and locust seedlings for reforestation. Last year he transplanted several thousand walnuts from his nursery to rich coves and draws on his land.

Kentucky Near Top In Reducing Deaths From Traffic Causes

Kentucky is near the top in reducing traffic deaths. The State Highway Department made public figures Tuesday showing the Bluegrass state ranks fourth from the top among the 20 states reporting decreases in fatal highway accidents. The report, from the National Safety Council, is based on returns for the first 11 months of the last year. It showed Kentucky lost 457 lives during that period—16 per cent fewer than the 544 recorded during the first 11 months of 1947. Ranking above Kentucky were Rhode Island with a 41 per cent decrease, Massachusetts with 23 per cent, and Nebraska with a 21 per cent drop. The National Safety Council report to the Highway Department added: "The reduction in the traffic toll was accomplished in the face of zooming travel figures. Mileage for the first 10 months of 1948 is comparable with the entire year of 1947. "Public Roads Administration estimates through October indicate that travel approximated 333,270,000,000 miles. Yet the national-mileage death rate continues to be the lowest in history." Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Meade returned Wednesday from Florida where they spent a few weeks.

Benedict, Isaac Stratton, M. C. Yates, W. H. Horne and M. Robert Regan taking part in the rites. has been formulated with full awareness that it is not sensational or dramatic. Final responsibility for successful treatment of the problem rests with the people, wherein resides all the power in a democracy," the Governor declared.

The text of the Governor's message described the various bills designed to enact his four-subject call into law. Four bills dealt with the interlocking problem of assessment and equalization.

The setbacks the Governor suffered in the House were these:

1. House Democrats beat the Administration's choice for majority floor leader in the morning caucus. By secret ballot, they elected Fred Morgan, Paducah, over Clements-favored Charles W. Burnley, Paducah. The vote was 31 to 29.

2. The Democrats then beat off an Administration attempt to amend the House's famous "gag rule." The amendment would have limited debate on amendments to five minutes on a side and would have limited debate to 10 minutes on a side on main bills.

3. Mrs. Susan Bond Rutherford, Lawrenceburg Democrat, was told by Clements she could not serve during the special session and expected to return to her job as aide to the state fire marshal. Mrs. Rutherford handed in her resignation and was in her seat when the House convened. But she had to ask Clerk Byron Royster to add her name to the already-printed roll call.

4. House Republicans, in a burst of independence, tossed out Hobart Emerson as minority floor leader and installed instead Paul Carter, Tompkinsville. The vote, also by secret ballot, was 11 to 3.

During the GOP caucus Tuesday afternoon, resentment against Rayburn was freely expressed. It was summed up by Perry M. Cross, Albany, who told Rayburn:

"You're just too damn close to the other side, Hobart! During the regular session you were in John Watt's room all the time."

Watts, now state director of motor transportation, was Democratic floor leader during the 1948 session when Rayburn served as minority leader.

and secondary education is this: The federal government has a fundamental interest in, and is at least partly responsible for, the general education of the national citizenry.

"The very preservation of our form of government depends upon an adequately educated population. Democracy cannot function at home, much less carry its heavy international responsibilities, unless its citizens obtain the basic education to permit intelligent participation in the life of the nation."

The Congressman then pointed out that the birth rate is highest in areas where economic conditions are poorest, and educational levels are lowest. He added: "If we continue to draw each succeeding generation in disproportionately large numbers from those areas, and if we fail to make good the deficit by positive educational measures, the effect on our culture and our representative political institutions will be appalling."

"More enlightened self-interest demands that the richer states protect their citizenship and economic security by promoting the level in education in the poorer communities from which they will inevitably draw a part of their population and upon which their prosperity otherwise largely depends."

'Bookkeeping' Results In Recovery of Auto Taken in July, '48

The Chrysler sedan of Dr. C. L. Hutsinpiiler, Prestonsburg, which was stolen here last July was recovered by the owner last week through meticulous "bookkeeping" of a car thief.

When a man named Wright was arrested recently in West Virginia for the theft of a Van Lear auto, police found in his possession a "little black book" in which was an entry telling of the sale of a black Chrysler sedan to the Indianapolis man. The FBI entered the case, and the Prestonsburg man was notified of the whereabouts of his car of which there had hitherto been no trace.

His was said to have been the 17th stolen car attributed to Wright. The accused man had handled papers in connection with the car so cleverly that he duped Indianapolis state police as well as the dealer to whom he sold it.

The car, little damaged, was sold by Dr. Hutsinpiiler while in Indianapolis last week.

In memory of Bee Osborne, who passed away one year ago this day:

The cross is heavy, Lord, and I am weak to bear it, but I have faith; for thou hast promised, Lord, that thou wilt surely share it. The way is rough, my God, and I am so weary. But I have faith; for thou the same way hast trod alone, in paths most dreary. He is badly missed and gone to a better home than this, we hope.

Wayland High Alumni Mark Homecoming Day And Organize Group

Saturday was Homecoming Day at Wayland high school with every class represented from 1929 up to and including the class of 1948. Approximately 100 alumni and their guests enjoyed a banquet served by the Band Boosters club.

The hall and tables were decorated in the school colors of royal blue and gold. Quentin Terry acted as toastmaster. A permanent Alumni Association was formed with the election of the following officers: Quentin Terry, president; George Hart, vice-president; and Mrs. Marie Castle, secretary-treasurer. Those present agreed on a board of directors to be composed of a representative of each graduating class.

Talks were given by Sherrill Frazier, Francis Harmon and L. B. Price. Mr. Terry introduced the principal speaker of the evening, Boone Hall, who spoke on the advancement made in schools in the past 20 years and of the value of an alumni association to the school.

After the banquet, the alumni attended the Wayland-Hindman basketball game. During the halftime intermission, the school band performed with majorette Marta Gay Mosley leading the group in formations. An A was formed for the alumni, an H for Hindman and a W for Wayland. At this point in the ceremonies the Homecoming Queen was crowned by Wayland co-captains, Jack Spradlin and Douglas Castle.

Salt for Curing Meats Unlike Poisonous Types, Says State Health Head

"Special brands of salt sold and used this fall to put up country cured meats are not the same as the poisonous salt substitutes removed from the market recently," Dr. Bruce Underwood, State Health Commissioner, has stated. The name of the special salt used for meat curing is similar to the name of one of the poisonous salt substitutes mentioned in dispatches recently.

Worried farmers are inquiring whether or not their home cured meat should be destroyed. "There is no need for doing this," Mrs. Sarah Vance Dugan, director, Division of Foods, Drugs and Hotels, State Department of Health, says. The salt sold for curing meat was sodium chloride, a pure salt sold in 25, 50 and 100-lb. bags and purchased by farmers for the purpose of meat curing. If the meat curing has been done properly, there is no danger involved.

The products which were withdrawn from the market were sold only in drug stores in Kentucky in two-ounce and 16-ounce packages. The only one found in Kentucky which was of the poisonous salt substitute type was "Westsal."

RECORD!

Breakers, makers and recorders of records in Kentucky's high school competition may have one to beat it but this is a good one to try for size—James Mullins, Garrett Guard, has hit 74 of 88 free throw tries for a season's average of 84 per cent in 29 games!

Marking Profitable Trip, Maytown Wildcats Whip Hellier's Cagers 42-27

A profitable trip to Hellier netted the Maytown Wildcats a 42-27 victory Friday night.
Outstaring Donald Music's Hellier team 12 to four in the first stanza and sharing second quarter scoring honors with 12 points each, the Wildcats were in front, 22-16, at the half. Holding Hellier to a mere three points, the visitors tabbed nine to increase their lead 31 to 19 at the end of the third stanza. Maytown tapered off with 11 points in the final period while Hellier hooped 12.

Wayland was clipped in another close game Saturday night at Hindman, losing, 42-39, in the last two minutes of play. Castle, of Wayland, and Dobson, Hindman ace, shared scoring honors with 14 points each. Wayland tallied more field goals than either Hindman or Hazard but lost their road-trip bids for victory at the fateful foul line.

Line-ups:
Wayland (58) Pos. W. Wright (42) Castle (16) ... F. ... J. Curry (6) Crager (10) ... F. ... Osborne (9) Spradin (8) ... C. ... R. Curry (13) Fraley (14) ... G. ... V. Hall (8) P. Hopper (8) ... G. ... B. Hall (8) Substitutions: Wayland—J. Hopper (2).

McDowell Trips Garrett, 52-49

Stumbo Gets 21 Points To Lead the Daredevils In Friday Night Upset

McDowell, Ky., Feb. 28—The McDowell Daredevils, dubbed the "giant killers," have done it again!

Entertaining the Garrett Black Devils, who have hit a winning stride recently with nine consecutive victories, the Daredevils tripped Garrett, 52-49, here Friday night.

Among Garrett's recent victims was Meade Memorial 49-46, Pikeville Panthers, 50-47, and Hindman's Yellow Jackets, 47-34, rated as three of Kentucky's best and disposed of in one week! This was indeed startling opposition to the liking of the Daredevils! The McDowell quint recently set down the powerful Wheelwright Maroons who were undefeated until they met the Daredevils in their den.

"Wild Bill" Stumbo led the McDowell attack with 21 points. He was abetted by Bobby Turner's 16 and Newsome's nine points while Hayes and Moore successfully operated in the other departments of the playing. Mullins paced the losers with 17 points.

Garrett led, 12 to 11, for the first period but McDowell took the lead, 19-18, at half time and advanced to 37-30 at the end of the third quarter. A sizzling fourth stanza saw McDowell tally 15 points as Garrett copped 19—just three points shy of tying the score.

Line-ups:
McDowell (52) Pos. Garrett (49) B. Stumbo (21) ... F. ... Patrick (11) Newsome (9) ... F. ... J. Slone (7) Hayes ... C. ... M. Slone (9) Turner (16) ... G. ... Mullins (17) Moore ... G. ... Bolen (5) Substitutions: McDowell—Hall (4), Newman (2); Garrett—Moore, Lyons.

WATCH!

Next week The Times will publish the Floyd county coach selection of an All-Floyd County basketball team—the first, we believe, to be picked in Floyd county based strictly on the season's performance. The coaches are voting a secret ballot and selecting the players on an all-opponent basis.

LOCAL GROUP FORMS ASS'N

To Promote Athletics; Softball Sanctioned For P'burg Schools

Several interested Prestonsburg men gathered Sunday afternoon at the grade school auditorium here for the initial meeting of what is destined to become the Prestonsburg Athletic Association.

The group selected Dr. George Archer as temporary chairman and Adrian Collins, secretary-treasurer. With Dr. Archer at the helm, the meeting got under way with a harmonious discussion of purposes and possibilities of an active athletic group. One of the proposed projects receiving hearty approval was the endorsement of a softball league here this summer.

William O. Goble, Franklin Moore, Gerald Leslie and H. L. Mayo were appointed to the committee on by-laws. Freddie James, Joe P. Tackler, Jr., and Wilbur Schu were named to the aims and objectives committee. J. M. Cyrus, Jack Hyden, Adrian Blackburn and Ballard Graham were selected to act as a sub-committee.

The group sanctioned the formation of a junior auxiliary organization in the Prestonsburg schools to further active interest and participation in behalf of the school's athletic contests.

The committees were asked to prepare reports to be presented at the next meeting at 2 p.m., Sunday, March 13, at the grade school auditorium. Those present were recognized as a full-body committee and urged individually an all-out community attendance at the coming meeting.

McDowell Five Goes Down 39-34, As Wildcats Crown Great Season at Maytown

The Maytown high school Wildcats crowned a successful season Saturday night by topping the McDowell Daredevils, 39-34, in a close contest at Maytown.

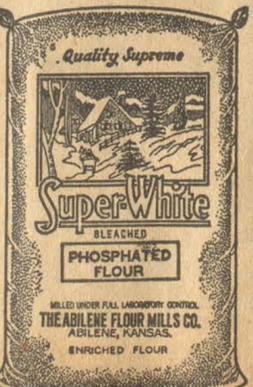

The Wildcats took the lead in the first quarter scoring, 10 to 7, but McDowell tallied 12 to 10 in the second half period to make the half-time count read 20-19 in favor of Maytown. A tight third quarter saw the Wildcats hold the Daredevils to three points while they mustered nine. In the fourth quarter skirmish, "Wild Bill" Stumbo collected two field goals and six of eight free throws and his teammates added two more foul shots for McDowell's 12 points as Maytown hit two field goals and six of seven gratis shots for 10 points.

Wendell Jones, Maytown forward, and B. Stumbo, McDowell forward, shared high scoring honors with 12 points each.

Line-ups:
Maytown (39) Pos. McDowell (34) J. Boyd (10) ... F. ... B. Stumbo (12) W. Jones (12) ... F. ... H. Newsome (8) Patton (2) ... C. ... S. Hall (5) Frasure (11) ... G. ... Turner (8) Cooley (2) ... G. ... Newman Substitutions: Maytown—Halbert (2), W. Boyd, Martin, T. Jones, Mullins; McDowell—Hayes, P. Stumbo, Moore (1).

RUPP REPORTS

U. K. Coach Looks Back on the Olympics

RUSSIAN VETO AGAIN

There's little doubt that virtually all the Americans who were in London last summer for the Olympic Games found the experience enjoyable. I had a very fine time, but narrow escape from possibly serious injury.

At incident came when I almost fell out of my chair upon hearing remark made during the international rules meeting.

Changes have been made in basketball rules since the Olympics in Berlin, and all countries in this sphere have adopted the rules in the United States, but the Russians in London were played under the same rules used in 1936.

When the tournament started we were to get the ruling heads to clear up some of the jumping that usually follows a free throw.

The latter rule will also serve somewhat as a handicap for the taller players, moving the ball farther from the basket under the three-second regulation.

of a player because "it is discrimination and is not democratic."

That surprise almost caused me to fall out of my chair.

Lining up alongside the United States when the vote was taken were Russia, Czechoslovakia, Poland, Hungary and Ireland, among others, and the proposal was defeated, 17-13.

Thus, unless a change is voted before the next Olympics, there will be no height limitations when the games are staged in 1952 in Helsinki.

In only two respects will the rules for international competition differ from those currently in use in this country. A player in the Olympics still will be banished after his fourth personal foul, and the free-throw "lane" will be widened (to the width of the foul circle itself) to move players away from basket areas and clear up some of the jumping that usually follows a free throw.

The latter rule will also serve somewhat as a handicap for the taller players, moving the ball farther from the basket under the three-second regulation.

RIFLE MEETS DATES LISTED

County's High Schools To Vie in Three Groups; Other Entrants Named

Definite dates for Floyd county's high school shooting matches to officially recognize the sharpest of the sharp shooters were announced this week by Bernard Baldrige, Floyd county conservation officer, who will supervise the shooting meets.

Auxier, Prestonsburg and Betsy Layne will hold one-man, two-men and four-men team matches, March 19, at the mouth of Sugar Loaf about five miles south of Prestonsburg on the Mayo Trail. Wheelwright, Martin and McDowell will converge on McDowell, March 26, for their matches. Maytown, Garrett and Wayland will compete, April 2, at Garrett.

The Floyd county champions will be determined, it was stated this week, by the highest scores of these meets. The winners, in addition to receiving a trophy, will earn the right to represent Floyd county, among teams from the other 10 counties of the district, in the district matches tentatively set for the latter part of April. The definite time and site has not, as yet, been chosen.

Glen Reynolds, junior Conservation club supervisor in this district, said some schools had already picked their best while others were busy with preparations to select their representatives. In case of ties, he said, the winners will have to shoot it off at a later date.

Preparing to enter the district meet are Royaltown, and probably Salsyerville under Sam Carpenter, Magoffin conservation officer; Breashtown county high and Jackson city high school under the direction of Woodrow Bach; Viper, Combs, Hazard, First Creek and Robinson under Ora Davis, Perry county conservation officer; Oil Springs, Flat Gap, Meade Memorial and Van Lear in Johnson county under Lester Adams, Inez and Warfield in Martin county under supervision of Raymond Copley, and Carr Creek in Knott county.

The third quarter netted the Cats six field goals and one foul for 13 points to Louisa's seven. In the fourth quarter, the Blackcats got five two-pointers and three for three free shots while holding the Bulldogs to a single field goal and three of five foul tosses.

TO THE VOTERS OF FLOYD COUNTY:

I am proud to be an American. I am proud of my country, my state, and my county. I am glad to live in our Great Democracy where a young man can grow up and with the help of God and his fellow man receive an education and a chance in life no matter how meager his material means might be. I am a firm believer in government for the people and not government for some politician or group of politicians.

If you nominate and elect me your County Court Clerk, I will be there to faithfully, honestly and diligently serve you and the good people of Floyd county. No job in that important office will be too small or too great for me to overlook my duties and obligations to you and our fellow citizens.

The office of County Court Clerk is yours. You must select a custodian. Place me in charge for the next four years and I will guard it for you. During that time I will give to you and your office all that is in me.

Every voter in Floyd county has his or her interests, rights, and privileges recorded, filed, or registered in our County Court Clerk's office. Give me the opportunity to serve as your clerk and I will make it a pleasure for you to come into your office to transact business. I will faithfully and accurately keep and protect your interests, rights, and privileges in a cheerful and excellent manner.

Your Friend, DURAN MOORE 2-24-1t.

TO THE PEOPLE OF MAGISTERIAL DIST. 3:

I take this opportunity to let you all know what you have been waiting to hear, yes or no as to whether or not I was a candidate for Magistrate.

For the past 10 years I have wanted to be your Magistrate, but, owing to my close friends or neighbors, or relation being in the campaign for something, I did not make the race. After careful consideration, and the urging of support I have been promised, I have decided to be a candidate for Magistrate in District 3 on the Democratic ticket.

I don't need any introduction. I think everybody knows who I am all over this district. For I have friends and plenty relatives from the head of Arkansas to the head of Skull.

I will tell you later what kind of service I will try to give you when I am elected.

I want to thank the few good strong friends of mine who would have been candidates, had I not run. I tell them, here and now, that sometime I will return the favor. I also want to tell the many friends of mine who have been asked by others, and have held back their promises until they found out what I was going to do, that I will be seeing you.

ELLIS MARTIN Drift, Ky. 2-24-4t.

TO THE VOTERS OF FLOYD COUNTY:

I believe that the time has come in Floyd county for the voters to work and elect a working man for our Jailer. After all, it is the working man that pays all the bills. The only time the politicians are for the working man is on election day.

I am a crippled man, having lost a leg several years ago. I am a member of Local Union No. 7796, Drift, Ky. I am a resident of Arkansas Creek and am known all over Floyd county as "One-Legged Horse-Swappin'" Johnny Conn.

I am a Christian man and trying to lead a good life and all the citizens know that they will be treated fairly if I am nominated and elected.

I call upon the good Christian people and the working people to give an old working man a chance by nominating and electing me Jailer of Floyd county. I am 50 years old and have been a Democrat all my life. I will try and see all the voters that I possibly can between now and the primary election, but being a crippled man, I may not get to see all and I take this method of asking for your support and influence.

Subject to the action of the Democratic primary. JOHNNY CONN Arkansas Creek, Martin, Ky.

TO THE PEOPLE OF FLOYD COUNTY:

Upon the solicitation of many friends and good citizens, I have at last decided to seek county office, and this is to announce my candidacy for the Democratic nomination for County Judge.

I have served as Magistrate in District No. 3 for the last 10 years and during this time have tried to remember always that my duty is, first of all, to the people, rich and poor alike.

My record has been such that I have no regrets; I have worked to be of service without thought of enriching myself at the expense of others. And if elected County Judge, the same motives will be behind my every act in office. I pledge my efforts, in particular, to better rural roads.

Your help in the coming campaign will be deeply appreciated. HENRY STUMBO McDowell, Ky. (Pol. adv.) 1t.

TO THE VOTERS OF FLOYD COUNTY:

For the past few years I have wanted and have planned to make the race for County Court Clerk. My cousin, DuRan Moore, of Martin, Ky., has already announced as a candidate for the office of County Court Clerk and, therefore, I will not be a candidate against him.

I hope that my friends will vote for and support DuRan Moore in the same way I am sure you would have supported me if I had not decided to support him myself. CLYDE MOSLEY Wheelwright, Ky. 2-17-4t.

PHARMACY The most important thing in this store is something you'll never see

In your pharmacy you see many things that are important to you and your community. You see a wide variety of attractive merchandise... shelves lined with important drugs, chemicals and other medicinal products. You see the pharmacist himself, a friendly person, a reliable merchant, a good citizen. But there's one thing you'll never see—and, in a sense, it's the most important of all. What is it? It's your pharmacist's professional knowledge and technical skill. To get his college degree and to pass the state examinations required of all pharmacists, he must have a knowledge of many sciences. He knows thousands of different drugs—their dosage, usage and properties. And he has the practiced skill to compound them into the medicines your doctor prescribes, the medicines needed to help you guard your health. Get better acquainted with your pharmacist. Secretary of State Says Roads, Not Promises, Need

To The Times' recent editorial pointing to the need of improvement of the Auxier road leading to the Dewey Dam Secretary of State George Glenn Hatcher, a native of this county, responded with a letter to State Highway Commissioner John A. Keek, calling attention to the editorial and setting out his own reasons for claiming this section's right to road aid and recognition in Frankfort. It is seldom this section of Kentucky finds at Frankfort such friendship, and so The Times reproduces Mr. Hatcher's letter:

I heartily agree with and commend Mr. Allen, the editor of The Floyd County Times, for his forthright editorial. I for one am willing for the covers to be thrown back to see just what is under them that is keeping needed and useful roads from being built and improved. It should be sufficiently clear to you and "the powers that be" in Frankfort, that to do something toward making egress and ingress to the Dewey Dam is necessary to help all of Kentucky. Why not "lay the cards on the table?"

Similar projects in other parts of the state such as Wolf Creek Dam, Kentucky Lake and others have been taken care of without much "to-do," as the writer understands. It would seem natural that necessity in one part of the state should receive the same treatment as in another part. Kentucky and the needs of the people are related from the Big Sandy to the Mississippi river and we are as one. Regardless of whether the Dewey Dam needs one, two, three or more roads to adequately make this great tourist attraction accessible, no one person or county should have to go begging, alone, on their knees to have roads graded, surfaced and completed.

The above editorial seems to convey the same old story of Eastern Kentucky or some other so-called (as some would like to think) remote section presenting their claim and needs for state and federal aid, but as usual, their "hue and cry" for some reason or another cannot be heard. It is too apparent for those who live in such sections that the ones in authority are "Passing the Buck" and "greasing the wheels that creak the loudest." If those responsible had to travel the roads mentioned in this editorial to get to and from their work each day, I am confident it would soon get very distasteful and that immediate action would be forthcoming. Eastern Kentucky's plight when it comes to roads is utterly deplorable and the citizens of our end of the state should not have their rights trampled into the mud and mire of roads, the like of such they had 100 years ago or more.

Our children should not have to breathe the dust for another summer. Many of them have never been privileged to breathe a pure breath of air in their lifetime along the unpaved roads graded many years ago by their homes. It is near-criminal neglect to let such things exist for babies to be born into, and such conditions should be eliminated so that these people already living there won't risk the danger of illness and death. These roads can and should be improved with the money our people have paid for that purpose. Some say that a more equitable distribution of the highway funds, elimination of foolish waste, good use of surplus money, U.S. aid, and absolute wise spending will make all Kentucky roads good for use in summer, and safe for winter driving. Men do the engineering (it should be practical and localized); men also make the plans and specifications for highway construction. Therefore, men can change the plans or make them conform to the needs of Eastern Kentucky or any other section which has been neglected.

The citizens pay taxes and are industrious in our end of the state and deserve roads upon which to travel in comfort and safety just the same as in other places, where better roads are dug up, destroyed and re-built than Eastern Kentucky will ever have at the present rate. They need them worse than the proposed $6,000,000 "truck route" road within the limits of the city of Louisville. Yes, they need roads worse than the need for "roadside parks" where good roads are already built. No new methods should be developed for such frivolous spending to rest and satisfy the haunches of some critical outsider. First things should come first. Equality and justice is all we want in Kentucky; that is all that Eastern, Central Kentucky, Louisville or Western Kentucky would ever hope for. We have been getting very little of either one, lately. To convince yourself or any one else about what I am saying, just take a tour on Eastern Kentucky roads and see the conditions for yourself in rain or shine. A trip over the above roads and Dewey Dam, in particular, is convincing proof of the necessity for immediate improvement.

This dam and the roads to it are more than a county project; it ties in with the farflung efforts to attract tourists to Kentucky. It concerns all counties in Eastern Kentucky, and the state at large. The state and the federal government should be willing to proceed with this important job without a single county or local people having to be required to beg and plead for such financial aid. Work on this dam started several years ago, and if your department says, "yes, the road should be built," then why don't someone give the word for the work to start? In my humble judgment this one road should be built at once, and in this I am not alone, because people in Eastern Kentucky demand recognition now, and you can at least show them that they are still living in Kentucky.

Mr. Keek, they expect you as an eighth district man and a neighbor to come to their aid. The people of Eastern Kentucky as a whole are demanding that needed road projects be started and finished to completion in their counties before another winter sets in. In fact, they have made up their minds that whatever money there is to be spent on highways, that they want major portions spent in that end of the state. They say that fooling, flattery and promises have failed to satisfy us. Action only is what it takes to build roads in Eastern Kentucky, and with the proper diversion of funds there where the present need is greatest results can be accomplished.

No one in Eastern Kentucky and other neglected sections of our great state begrudge what the more fortunate areas have received during the 157 years Kentucky has been a Commonwealth. The people have not, do not now, nor will they in the future mind having a proper share of their tax money paid out for necessary upkeep and maintenance. However, they are surely emphatically determined from now on to see to it that Eastern Kentucky have allocated proper and substantial sums for their roads and the building of institutions for the convenience of our people in this end of the state. This splendid assertion of rights does not mean that they are in favor of neglecting any other section whose welfare they have been willing to help pay for in the past; but, it does mean that they want those in power to keep faith with them as citizens of a great Commonwealth. They only want equal consideration in all phases of government.

Eastern Kentucky people are great and strong, for their strength cometh from the mountains as does a great portion of Kentucky's "Where-with-all" (taxes, resources), and they have been faithful throughout the years. Please come to their rescue now and give them the roads asked for and to which they are entitled to, as a matter of right. This will, if done inspire them and make them feel that democracy is a reality. Not a single one of them should ever have to feel that any old "deal" should have to be made or that he or she should have to sell themselves for "a mess of pottage" just to get roads or anything else that they are already entitled to. No cause should exist where counties and their people should have to disagree and fall out over roads or anything for the public good. No common aim should be thwarted or people divided so as to spoil their efforts that that what they should have can be used elsewhere. Just say to these noble folks of the mountains, "Arise, ye good and faithful servants, we are going to pull you out of the mud for certain now."

Mr. Keek, this letter is not written to disparage, or embarrass anyone in particular as this condition has existed for generations, regardless of men, politics, and administrations. This editorial affords me an opportunity to express my feelings which are, of course, in reality those of most every true Kentuckian. The facts are to be seen beyond a shadow of doubt. I am speaking up not only for Eastern Kentucky, but for every Kentuckian who believes in right and fairness.

I am sure that this is a matter in which you are concerned, and which should receive your first attention. I for one am convinced that the roads mentioned and referred to can be built and completed first, and if they are not first, they should be put on the top of the list for improvement now, so that these great tourist attractions, the Dewey Dam and the mountains of Eastern Kentucky may be enjoyed by all. People in distant cities and climes travel for thousands of miles just to see far less than what we have for them to enjoy in the mountains of Eastern Kentucky. Kentucky and her people will have a well-balanced "drawing card" for tourists and for our own folks when you build highways to Dewey Dam and into "God's Country," the mountains of Eastern Kentucky, Nature's own Playground.

Thanking you in advance for your immediate consideration in the matters mentioned, I remain,
Sincerely yours,

X Disease of Cattle May Be in Kentucky

An affliction of cattle called X Disease has been found in 32 states and may be in Kentucky, according to a statement from the Agricultural Experiment Station in Lexington. It is especially bad in the South.

A chronic disease but recently recognized, X Disease may be confused with mange, said Dr. Ross Brown of the Department of Animal Pathology. It is more prevalent in beef cattle than in dairy herds. The cause is unknown.

"Young cattle appear to be more susceptible than mature animals," continued Dr. Brown. "Severely affected animals usually die. The mortality rate has been estimated at 4 to 8 per cent.

The symptoms include watery discharge from the eyes and nose, poor appetite, loss of condition, slobbering, depression, progressive thickening of the skin, thickened areas on the muzzle and in the mouth, weakness and diarrhea.

"The animals may live a few weeks up to several months. Affected cows produce almost no milk and their calves may be born dead or die soon after birth."

Extra Milk from just 6 COWS

...PAYS FOR ELECTRIC HAY DRYER in 1 short year

HERE'S what a state university expert says about finishing hay electrically:

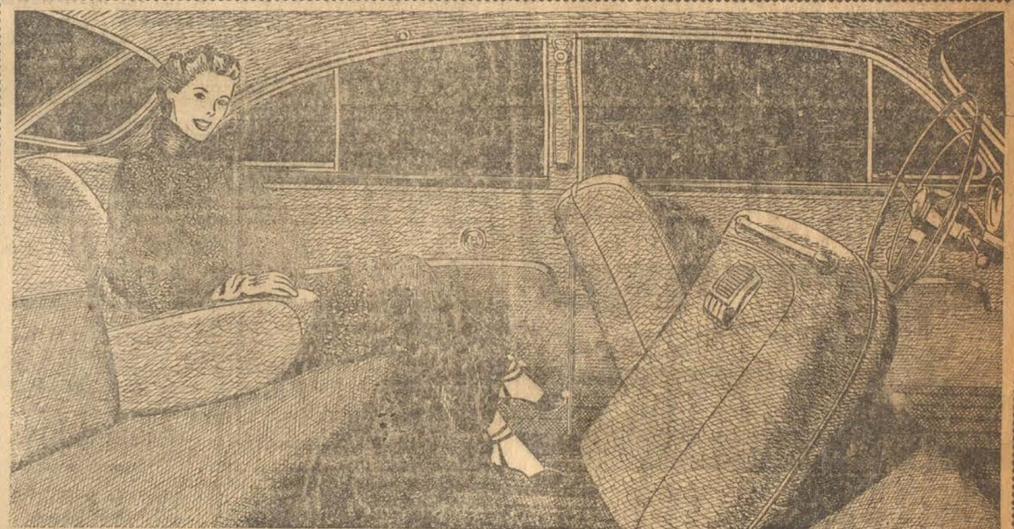

If a hay dryer steps up hay quality from U.S. No. 3 to U.S. No. 1, six good cows will produce enough extra milk in a year to pay for the installation!

How much will an electric hay dryer improve the quality of hay? Three-year government tests on nearly a hundred farms show that field-cured hay yields 35% U.S. 1 and 2, while barn-cured hay averages 68% of these two top grades. The reasons are these: electric hay curing avoids bleaching, minimizes leaf shattering, retains maximum amounts of precious Vitamin A and carotene—and better hay means more milk. Just a few cows pay off the whole investment quickly. The extra milk from others in your herd is extra profit right from the start.

This company's farm engineers are at your service to tell you more about electric hay curing, to help you plan a simple system that will increase your income from your cows. The experience of these practical men is yours for the asking, without obligation.
