WOODS KILLED IN SHOOTING

Fleming Surrenders In Death At Hospital; Victim Shot Three Times

The late-night quietness of the Prestonsburg General hospital was shattered last Thursday by gunfire which killed Donald Eugene Woods...

Woods died at 2:10 the following morning with three bullets from a .35-caliber automatic pistol in his body...

The shooting took place about 11:15 Thursday night in a hospital room to which Fleming's wife, Anna Laura, had been assigned...

Fleming, a mine employe, was released under $10,000 bond Monday afternoon. He waived examining trial.

Policeman Kelly Frazier, the first officer to arrive at the scene of the shooting, said he was called by a nurse at 11:15 Thursday night...

The officer said he questioned Mrs. Fleming, shortly after Woods was taken to the hospital emergency room, and that he was told Woods was lying on the bed when he

CENSUS COUNT SHOWS COUNTY LOST 12,017

7TH DISTRICT 59,704 DROP KY.'S WORST

County Population Now At 41,483; Over 20,000 Believed To Have Moved

Floyd county may have within the past 10 years had the heaviest population loss in Kentucky...

Its population decline from the previous census in 1950 is 12,017. This represents the largest decrease in the Seventh Congressional district...

The census data was released last week by Clyde Conley, Ashland, district census director.

The population of this county, according to the new census, now stands at 41,483, as compared with 53,500 10 years ago.

Between 20,000 and 25,000 persons have migrated from this county because of economic conditions, it is estimated. The current birth rate is around 1,100 per year; the death rate, about 300. That would leave the county a net population gain of at least 8,000 over the 10-year period.

Although this county lost the greatest number of residents, Perry county had the greatest percentage of population decrease. Perry's population dropped 11,677 from 46,566 to 34,889 for a percentage loss of 25-plus. Floyd's loss was 22-plus per cent.

The district embraces 20 Eastern Kentucky counties. Only three of these, Boyd, Greenup and Rowan showed gains in the census tabulation.

Boyd county, in which Ashland is the largest city, gained 1,594, to a total of 51,543.

Greenup had a gain of 4,158, to 19,045; and Rowan, with a population of 12,734, gained 26 in the decade.

Sims Is Speaker

J. Richard Sims, Omaha, Nebraska, President, Woodmen of the World Life Insurance Society.

J. Richard Sims, newly-elected president of the Woodmen of the World, will speak at the district meeting of the fraternal organization scheduled here, Saturday.

Sims, a native of Palmer, Texas, resides now at Omaha, Nebr. He is a former pupil of the late William L. (Bec) Mayo, who founded East Texas State Teachers College, Commerce, Texas, and a classmate of several Floyd countians.

There will be a free chicken dinner served to all members, candidates and guests. It was announced. There will be delegates from Louisville, West Liberty, Jackson, Salyersville, Paintsville, Pikeville, Warfield, Salfry and Hindman.

Sales, Usage Tax Law Forums Set in Floyd

Provisions of the new sales and usage tax will be explained to tradesmen and the public at two meetings scheduled next month in this county in advance of the July 1 effective date of the tax law.

The first meeting will be held at the courthouse here at 7:30 p.m., July 14, and the second will be at 2 p.m., the following day in Room 4 of the Wayland high school building.

ELDERLY MAN BLOWS VICTIM

Former Garrett Man Found Beaten To Death In Woods, Near Hazard

The battered body of an elderly man found Sunday morning in a cove of woods outside Hazard has been identified as that of Charlie Patrick, 69, long a resident of Garrett.

An 18-year-old Clay county youth who was arrested Wednesday has confessed beating Patrick to death with a 2x4-inch timber and robbing him of $20, Commonwealth's Attorney Hollie Conley said here today (Thursday). Name of the slayer was unavailable.

Patrick was beaten almost beyond recognition, both arms broken and his head battered to a pulp, it was said. He had resided at Garrett and Wayland the last 25 years, and formerly was employed as a miner. He was a native of Morgan county, and his body was taken to Big Woods in that county for burial.

511 SENIORS TO GRADUATE

In Floyd High Schools; Commencement Exercises To Start This Week-End

Floyd county high schools will graduate 511 seniors in exercises beginning this week and extending through June 10.

Prestonsburg high school leads the list in number of graduates with a total of 142 scheduled to receive diplomas. Wheelwright is second with 81 seniors.

This is a drop of 28 seniors under the 539 graduated last year. Prestonsburg is up from 126 last year, but Auxier, on an emergency basis for several years, has skidded from 15 last year to seven this year. (A drop in Floyd county population may be a contributing factor to fewer seniors. See separate story on census).

Dr. Harkey Mayo, Prestonsburg native, and acting dean of George Washington Law School, Washington, D. C., will deliver the commencement address at Prestonsburg high school, June 7, at 8 p.m. The baccalaureate sermon will be preached at the high school gymnasium, June 5 at 8 p.m. by the Rev. Charles H. Moffett, pastor of the Pikeville Presbyterian church. Class night is scheduled June 6, and the junior-senior banquet and prom, May 28. Wheelwright high school-end observance began Tuesday evening with class night. The junior-senior prom is scheduled in the high school cafeteria May 28, with the baccalaureate sermon Sunday, May 29, at 2:30 p.m. at the school auditorium. Rev. James Kirk, former Wheelwright Community Church pastor but now pastor of the First Methodist Church at Grayson, will deliver the baccalaureate. Graduation exercises will be held June 2 at 8 p.m. at the gymnasium with Dr. A.A. Page, president of Pikeville College, as the speaker.

Combined eighth-grade graduation exercises of the Wheelwright and Melvin schools will be a feature of the Wheelwright program, it was pointed out. Approximately 160 eighth graders of the two schools will receive their diplomas when the high school seniors are awarded their diplomas.

Rev. J. S. Bell, pastor of the Hindman Baptist church, will deliver the baccalaureate sermon at (See Story No. 8, Page 2)

PICK ROBERTS AS PRESIDENT

Retarded Child Group Names Pace Successor At Annual Election

One Wheelwright man was named to succeed another as president of the Floyd County Council for Retarded Children in the annual election of officers, held May 13 at the Martin school for the retarded.

E. H. Roberts was named to succeed E. M. Pace as president. Other officers named are: Mrs. Robert Martin, of Martin, vice-president; Mrs. D. C. Stephens, Prestonsburg, secretary; R. V. May, Prestonsburg, treasurer.

The Council was formed in 1954 and now has three schools in operation—two at Martin and one in Prestonsburg.

The WHAS Crusade for Children report, issued recently, pointed out that the class for "educable" retarded children at Martin was unable to find a teacher who possesses "all the required qualifications for the work" but that the Floyd Council for the Retarded has approvingly noted that the teacher employed at the start of the school year "is devoted to the work and hopes to take further training at the University of Louisville this summer." The U. of L. workshop is sponsored by a $4,000 grant from the WHAS Crusade.

COURT VOTES LICENSE FEES

Agencies Appropriations Are Unchanged; Scouts CD, Others Given Funds

Appropriations voted by the Floyd fiscal court to agricultural agencies and other organizations are unchanged from last year's.

The Agricultural Extension department was voted a total of $6,400—$2,400 for the county agent's secretary, $900 for the county agent's travel expense, $900 for the home demonstration agent, $900 for an assistant county agent, $900 for the University of Kentucky Cooperative Extension Service, and $800 for miscellaneous office expense.

The Soil Conservation appropriation of $2,700 likewise stood unchanged. Other appropriations voted, all unanimously, are: Civil defense, Scouts of America, $500; the Betsy $1,000; Jenny Wiley district, Boy Layne fire department, $500.

Also without change is the 8-cent health tax.

The court later Wednesday acted to take advantage of the new state law which is expected to net the county an additional $8,000 in license fees. This law gives the fiscal courts of counties authority to impose and collect license fees on restaurants, outlets for soft drinks and ice cream, pool tables and bowling alleys and on retailers of tobacco products. Wholesale cigarette licenses are the only occupational fees which go to the state.

TWO CHARGES WAIVED HERE

Blackburn Defeats Peace Warrant Move; Fleming Gives Bond

Bennie Blackburn executed a new $10,000 bond Monday when he waived examining trial on a charge of shooting and wounding with intent to kill James "Red" Stone, and at the same time he defeated a move to place him under a second peace bond.

The peace warrant had been sworn out for Blackburn by Margaret Gibson, who contended she feared Blackburn would destroy her home and endanger her life. She is generally known as Mrs. Stone. The warrant was served on Blackburn while he was in the county courtroom to answer to the shooting and wounding charge.

After Blackburn had pointed out that the woman's home is about two miles from his home, that he has never had any enmity for her and that she is not a witness in either case in which he is involved, County Judge Henry Stumbo held that evidence was insufficient to sustain the peace warrant.

Later in the day, Ballard Fleming waived examining trial on a charge of slaying Donald Woods here, and Judge Stumbo set his bond at $10,000. Fleming is at liberty under bond.

MUSIC STORE BURNS HERE

Loss Estimated As High As $40,000; Blaze Cause Is Unknown, Craft Says

Contents of Scott's Music Store No. 2 here and the adjacent Pottery Shop were destroyed or ruined by fire here, at 1:30 a.m. Monday. The loss was estimated at between $35,000 and $40,000.

The building housing the two businesses was owned by the Harkins estate, and was largely reduced to ruins. Loss incurred to the building was not estimated.

Back portion of the structure was originally the Harkins stable and was built of stone. The portion of the building fronting on Lake Drive was of more recent vintage and had housed various businesses.

Cause of the blaze is not definitely known, although defective wiring was suspected. A representative of the Kentucky Inspection Bureau assisted in investigating the fire, Fire Chief Darwin McGuire said. It was said that when the fire was first discovered it appeared as a thin line in the old portion of the building. While the fire department was fighting the blaze the gasoline tank of a burning truck exploded inside the building.

Scott Craft, owner of a music store at Paintsville as well as the store here, said his inventory, which included two organs, television sets, pianos, and a wide variety of hand and other musical instruments, would range from $35,000 to $40,000 in value. He said he had $21,000 worth of insurance.

CRUM KILLED IN ACCIDENT

Mishap Claims Two In Indiana; Otto Horn Is Critically Injured

One former West Prestonsburg man was killed and a second was seriously injured Monday night in an Indiana automobile wreck which claimed the lives of two of the five men in the car.

Bill Crum, 35, was killed near Scottsboro, Ind., and the driver of the auto, his nephew, a son of Mrs. Anna Crum Goble, of Underwood, Ind., also was fatally injured.

In critical condition is Otto Horn, of West Prestonsburg.

The wreck occurred when the driver missed a curve. Crum died of internal injuries. Both his arms were broken. It was said here that Otto Horn has broken legs and internal injuries.

Body of Crum was returned to West Prestonsburg where funeral rites were conducted at 10 this morning (Thursday) from the Full Gospel Tabernacle by the Revs. Bob Martin and G. R. Fannin. Burial was made in the Crum family cemetery at Banner under direction of the Carter & Callihan Funeral Home.

Crum was a son of the late Wilson and Eliza Lewis Crum, of West Prestonsburg. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Hope Horn Crum, and the following brothers and sisters: Jack Crum and Mrs. Virginia Gay, both of Scottsboro, Ind.; Wilson Crum, Jr., of Water Gap, Robert Crum, West Prestonsburg, Mrs. Pauline Palmore, Waynesboro, Va. and Mrs. Anna Goble and Mrs. Alice Kelly, both of Underwood, Indiana.

FLOYD CAR OPERATION BILL IS $8,789,000.00

Special to The Times New York, May 17—How much am I spending a year to own and operate my car?

That is a question that almost every car owner in Floyd county asks himself periodically. But few of them take the time and trouble to figure it out. They know, in a general way, that it is costing more than it formerly did for gas, insurance, repairs and the rest. But how much more?

New data, on a national basis, indicates that the average driver, with a car in the average price range, traveling the average 10,000 miles a year, is now spending $1,198 for its maintenance and operation.

Bike Safety Program Sponsored By Jaycees; Reflector Tape Given

The Prestonsburg Junior Chamber of Commerce this month will sponsor a bike safety program in an effort to focus greater emphasis on bicycle safety. May is American Bike Month.

David Hereford, president of the local organization, explained that the Prestonsburg Jaycees, who co-sponsor the program with the Schwinn Bicycle Company and the Minnesota Mining & Manufacturing Company, will give free of charge to any bike owner reflector tape strips for front and back fenders. Reflective safety tape protects a youngsters bicycle at night, no matter which way the bike is turned, or from which direction the driver approaches. By brightly reflecting the headlight beams of an oncoming car or truck, it lets the driver know the bike and its rider (See Story No. 7, Page 6)

WAYLAND AND PRESTONSBURG SENIORS TO HEAR OWN ALUMNI IN COMMENCEMENT ADDRESSES

Two Floyd men who have distinguished themselves elsewhere will return shortly to this county to deliver the Commencement addresses at the high schools from which they were graduated.

Dr. Louis Harkey Mayo, professor of law at George Washington University, Washington, D. C., will be the Commencement speaker for the graduation of Prestonsburg high school's senior class in the high school gymnasium, the evening of June 7.

Paul Jordan, Frankfort correspondent of the Associated Press, will deliver the Commencement address at Wayland high school, the evening of May 31. He will be introduced by his friend, Governor Bert T. Combs.

Mr. Jordan was graduated from Wayland high school in 1943, saw service during World War II and received his degree from the University of Kentucky in 1950. He has been an Associated Press writer for the last eight years, the last two as Frankfort correspondent. His closest relatives yet living in this county are Mr. and Mrs. Bee Hall, his grandparents, of Garrett.

Dr. Mayo, who was born and reared in Prestonsburg, is the son of Mrs. Reba H. Mayo, of Lexington, and the late W. P. Mayo, Prestonsburg attorney. He was graduated from high school here in 1935 and from the U. S. Naval Academy, Annapolis, Md., in 1940. During World War II he saw action in the Mediterranean, Atlantic and Pacific theatres of war. His last sea duty was as commander of the destroyer, the USS Isherwood.

Although rebuffed by the House group, Perkins has received assurance from Senate Leader Lyndon Johnson that the Appropriations Committee of that body will give careful consideration to a request to add construction money to the Fishtrap project. The Senate is traditionally more generous than the House in providing funds for public works.

On the House side, both the Democratic chairman of the full Appropriations Committee, Clarence Cannon, of Missouri, and the ranking Republican member, John Taber, of New York, have joined forces to prevent the inclusion of new construction starts not approved by the Budget Bureau. Members of the subcommittee have said they even turned down a project in Speaker Sam Rayburn's district.

Senate Leader Johnson said he had assured Perkins he would make "an honest and dedicated" effort to persuade the Senate Appropriations (See Story No. 2, Page 6)

EX-GOVERNOR LEADS BROWN OVER 35,000

Cooper Easily Wins On Republican Ticket; Perkins Is Big Winner

Johnson's lead over Brown, with only a few of the state's precincts remaining to be reported, had passed 35,000 late Wednesday. The former Governor led in every Congressional district but the Sixth. Although Floyd county gave him a lead, he trailed Brown in neighboring Pike, Magoffin and Knott counties.

Former Governor Keen Johnson won the Democratic nomination for U. S. Senator at the primary election Tuesday at the conclusion of the strangest political campaign ever waged in Kentucky.

The strange quiet of election day brought out a total of only 4,480 votes in Floyd county. Of these, 3,965 were cast by Democrats, who gave Johnson an edge of 447 votes over his opponent.

He will be opposed at the November election by Senator John Sherman Cooper, who had only token opposition for the Republican nomination.

Congressman Carl D. Perkins easily won the Democratic nomination over Ralph H. Sherman and Canton Reynolds. He is expected to be reelected in November by Republican nominee, Her-

JORDAN

Whatever interest there was in the primary was engendered from the Democratic side, and that interest wasn't visible. The Combs administration endorsed Johnson for the party's nomination for Senator, and the Chandler faction of the party backed Brown.

In this county Johnson scored an edge in 38 precincts; Brown led in 21, and Johnson polled 8 absentee votes to 5 for Brown. Tie votes resulted in two precincts, Auxier (21-21) and Tickey (19-19). Frasure's Creek gave Brown all 11 votes cast there.

Johnson led in these precincts: Prestonsburg No. 1, Prestonsburg No. 2, Middle Creek, Spurlock, Porter, Johns Creek, Cow Creek, Mouth Beaver, Jim Banks, John Possum, Mouth of Mud, Little Mud, Antioch, John Ant, Abbott, Little Paint, Rough & Tough, Cliff, Tover, Creek, Maytown, Ivel, Jack's Creek, Drift, Kennedy, Melvin, New Martin, Kiser, Lee Alley, Northern, Lee Hall, Prater Creek, Jack Allen, David, Trimble Branch, Richmond, New Allen, Sizemore and Mare Creek.

Brown's precincts were Depot, Halbert, Betsy Layne, Elder Hiram, Painter Harve, Clear (See Story No. 4, Page 6)

FISHTRAP DAM GETS SETBACK

House Refuses Funds To Start Construction; Perkins Disappointed

Eastern Kentucky has lost its fight in the House to get approval for funds with which to start construction of the Fishtrap dam in Pike county, but hope remains for favorable action in the Senate.

Thus Congressman Carl D. Perkins last week assessed the situation after the House sub-committee on public works had rejected a request for $301,000 with which to get Fishtrap construction under way.

The subcommittee has, however, retained the item of $349,000 which the President budgeted to complete preconstruction planning of the reservoir, which is to be on the Levisa Fork of the Big Sandy River in Pike county, in Perkins' district.

Although rebuffed by the House group, Perkins has received assurance from Senate Leader Lyndon Johnson that the Appropriations Committee of that body will give careful consideration to a request to add construction money to the Fishtrap project. The Senate is traditionally more generous than the House in providing funds for public works.

THINKS BLAZE ARSON RESULT

Policeman Frazier Points To Evidence Of Incendiary Nature

Prestonsburg Policeman Kelly Frazier said Wednesday that he has evidence that the fire which damaged a vacant residence on Earl street here late Monday night was of incendiary origin.

The five-room frame residence, it was said, is owned by Mrs. Frank Hotfield, formerly of Bull Creek, now a resident of Ohio. Damage caused by the blaze was confined to the interior and is minor.

The officer has the handle of a broken glass jug and a piece of cord which had been tied to it. The cord smells strongly of kerosene. Frazier said the cord had been strung from the dining room into the kitchen and back to a corner of the dining room where was a pile of cardboard boxes. Kerosene had also been poured in the living-room, he said. Frazier also pointed out that both doors and all windows of the residence were locked when the firemen arrived, adding that traces must have been left of a key. He has a ter cast of a soft earth near

The second grade children of Mrs. Myrtle Hunt's room here held open house Friday as a culmination of their work at the zoo and circus. The parents enjoyed hearing the children tell the things they had been doing. Some were pleasantly surprised at the ability of the children to stand before the group and tell of this experience. The children learned games, and songs, wrote stories, letters, poems, riddles, drew and painted a frieze, a clown and animal booklets, made puppets, a snake pit, word books, vocabulary charts, spelling charts, large and small animals. The children also had as their guests Mr. Turner and Mr. Martin from the County Superintendent's office. Refreshments of animal crackers and milk were served.

William Henry Stephens Is Heart Attack Victim; Rites Scheduled Friday

A heart attack claimed the life of 38-year-old William Henry Stephens at 4:45 p.m., Wednesday at the home of his mother, Mrs. Sallie Fitzpatrick Stephens, of the Middle Creek road, near West Prestonsburg. He was stricken suddenly and died within a matter of minutes. Taken by ambulance to the Prestonsburg General hospital, he was dead on arrival. A lifelong resident of the community where he died, he was a son of the late Frank Stephens. He leaves his mother, his widow, Mrs. Viola Allen Stephens, five children, Houston, Frank, Cornelius, Valerie and Rose Ellen, and one sister, Mrs. William C. Allen, all of the Middle Creek road. Funeral rites will be held at 2 p.m. Friday from the residence of his mother, and burial will be made in the family cemetery, the Carter & Callihan Funeral Home directing.

CELEBRATION IS PLANNED

Magoffin County Sets Centennial Observance, Courthouse Dedication

"Magoffin's First Century", an historical pageant featuring two hundred fifty local persons in the cast, will be presented at Connolly Farm Park, one mile west of Salyersville, for six nights, beginning June 28 and showing each night except Sunday through July 4.

The pageant is a part of the celebration of the one hundredth birthday of Magoffin county, which was formed in 1860 from parts of Floyd and Morgan counties. The county was named in honor of Beriah Magoffin, wartime Governor of Kentucky, and the county seat was named Salyersville in honor of Samuel Salyer, who introduced the bill for its formation in the state legislature. Salyer was a state representative from Floyd county.

Another feature of the centennial celebration will be the dedication of Magoffin county's new $400,000.00 courthouse, which will be almost completed by the date of the celebration. The new building, built of concrete, steel, aluminum and glass and faced with Bedford Stone and marble, replaces the picturesque old building which burned early in 1957. It is three story with the county jail on the top story, and contains adequate space for all county offices. The county offices have been housed in business buildings throughout the city since the destruction of the old building.

Beads and derby hats for the men and picturesque bonnets for the ladies are making their appearance all over the county. The beads, a permit or certificate for which, costing one dollar, is necessary, must be worn until the close of the celebration on July 4. Should anyone wish to shave off the beard they have started another permit must be secured, which costs three dollars. This "Shaver's Permit" must also be purchased if a participant in the centennial festivities wishes to remain clean shaven. Those wearing full beards, mustaches, sideburns or chinwhiskers are designated as full members of the "Brothers of the Brush."

Diet Continues, Weight Goes Down!

By GORDON MOORE
(Second in a series)
(Reprinted From Huntington Herald Dispatch)

Dieting is not a fad, but a tough, relentless grind. It requires stamina and fortitude, which in 27 days I've proved to myself that I can exist on about one-third the food I used to normally consume. My so-called friends, instead of assisting my efforts through sympathy, have attempted to lure me from the ranks of non-eaters, by invitations to dinner, lunch and "fried" country ham breakfasts. I have declined, not because of the foods served, but it has been my experience in 35 years that I always eat more with a group rather than alone.

Common sense is the biggest factor in dieting and the best method is to cut down on foods not cut out all foods. Choicy, rich deserts and other high-caloried foods may be eliminated from the daily intake without suffering any severe handicaps, but a certain amount of fats, carbohydrates, proteins and starches are essential. If I plan to indulge in a particularly large steak in the evening, I increase the daily exercise, mainly five extra holes of golf or row the boat for an extra hundred yards.

Swimming is considered the all-around exercise, however, I rushed the season Sunday before last and froze off a couple of pounds rather than accomplishing the same feat by exercise. By my calculations I used 300 calories returning my over-weight anatomy to normal atmospheric conditions over the chilly 55-degree temperature of the water.

Actually dieting is painless, although on three or four occasions at two o'clock in the morning I have felt that the foam rubber in my mattress would taste as if it were a dish of spaghetti. But after over-working my stomach for all these years, I know it welcomes the rest and I gradually return to my dreams of walking into a men's store and buying a suit from the racks without paying a tailor twice as much for the same kind of material.

Several people have called attention to the fact that they are beginning to notice a slight difference in my appearance which I rather imagine is my sagging trousers and loose fitting coat. Loozing 23 pounds in these 27 days has been one of the hardest undertakings in my life, but, I have not cheated one time, such as eating between meals, sipping a "cool-one", nor putting sugar or cream in my coffee.

Oh well! only 40 more pounds to go before reaching the 200-pound mark and next week I'll continue to report my trials and tribulations . . .

When a mother is anemic, her child often will share her iron deficiency; the more severe the anemia, the more this is reflected in the infant at birth. To protect infants from iron deficiency, mothers-to-be should eat foods rich in iron—liver, red meats, egg yolk, green vegetables and enriched and whole grain bread and cereals.

husband entered. She added, Frazier said, that she had "started" to call a taxicab for Woods because "he was too drunk to drive." Frazier said he learned Mrs. Fleming grappled with her husband, tearing off a sleeve of his shirt in the tussle, and this struggle is credited with two bullets going wild, one striking the door near its center and a second hitting the edge of the door, several inches above the lock. The area surrounding this second bullet hole was powder-burned.
Five empty cartridge cases were found on the floor, and four loaded cartridges remained in Fleming's pistol.
It was said that Woods died without speaking.
Apparently nobody saw either man enter the hospital. And nobody saw Fleming leave. He later sent his brother-in-law, John K. Buckley, from the Spurlock Fork of Middle Creek, to apprise officers of his desire to surrender.
State Detective Potter said a hospital nurse, Mrs. Paul Daniels, told of seeing a man firing from the hallway. She said, however, she could not identify the man.
The victim was the son of Shelley and Alma Josephine Leslie Woods, of Emma. He was married to the former Colleen Elkins from whom he was estranged. Other survivors are four children, Donna Jean, Linda Dale, Keith Allan and Kevin Scott Woods, all of Lancer; one brother, Glenn Woods, of Emma, and a sister, Miss Phyllis Woods, Xenia, O., and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. V. Woods, of Emma.
Funeral rites were conducted Sunday afternoon from the residence of the victim's parents, the Revs. Leroy Sanders, Herbert Hancock and Cohen Campbell officiating. Burial was made in the Harris cemetery at Emma under direction of the Carter & Callihan Funeral Home.

Service Time Changed At Baptist Church Here; Becomes Effective June 5

At a business meeting held earlier this month the congregation of Irene Cole Memorial Baptist church voted to add an early morning worship service during the months of June, July and August, and to change the time of the evening services.

The new Sunday morning service will begin at 8:30 a.m. and will be identical with that of the regular 11 a.m. service, with the same hymns being used and the pastor delivering the same sermon. The service will last for one hour and will be over in time for the Sunday School which will begin at 9:45.

Purpose of this new service is an effort to reach more people for worship who otherwise might find it inconvenient or impossible to attend the 11 o'clock service. It will also make it possible for those who may plan to be out of town a part of the day to attend a worship service before they leave. The pastor stated that this service will not interfere with the broadcast of the Baptist Church of the Air which will still be heard over radio station WERT at 8:30 a.m. each Sunday.

Other changes in the time schedule include the time of Training Union moved to 7 o'clock and the evening worship and Wednesday prayer meetings hours changed to 8 o'clock. This new time schedule becomes effective Sunday, June 5.

A thermostat so sensitive it can instantly react to the heat of a match struck 10 feet away has been perfected at the Naval Ordnance Laboratory, Silver Springs, Md. It operates on an iodine solution.

READING SURVEY HERE SHOWS LOW BOOK USE

By Quentin Allen

The idea that Prestonsburg is bursting at the seams with book-worms took a tumble recently.

It was found in a poll of Prestonsburg housewives that reading is a much neglected pastime.

The poll was taken by Miss Linda Stephens, Prestonsburg high school librarian. A total of 164 parents and 477 students were polled. The students are no more inclined to read than the adults, although they spend most of their time within academic surroundings. Miss Stephens pointed out that the low ratio of reading among students is traced to lack of motivation. Motivation should come from the classroom or the home, the librarian said.

When the adults were questioned as to whether or not they had read a book within the past month, 68 said "no" and 81 "yes". Favorite magazines among the adults are "Look" or "Life"—both of the pictorial type. Women's magazines were most popular among the adults polled, who were largely housewives.

The reading habits of the adults may affect the students. The survey pointed out that 303 students do not borrow books regularly from the Regional library or the high school library. One-hundred and twenty-seven adults among those polled do not make regular visits to the Regional Library.

The combined total of books read by all classes number 810 per month. This would average about 2-minus books per student at the high school.

Twenty-five percent of the adults do not read daily newspapers, only 10 percent make daily reading visitations to the editorial page, 20 percent like only the front page, and 5 percent check the headlines only.

Thirty adults admitted that they have not read a book within the past year. Two bibliophiles said they read between 40 and 50 books a year.

Answering a question about a favorite childhood book, answers such as these were received: "Three Little Pigs", "The Little Red Hen", "Alice and Jerry", "Little Shepherd of Kingdom Come", and "Gone with the Wind". Unfamiliarity led some to think of nursery stories and adult novels as childhood books.

The survey pointed out that 152 students do not use the high school library. When the question was posed to parents, "How many books have you read within the past year?" their replies ran this way: thirty, none; four, 2; ten, 5; thirteen, 6; twenty-one, 10; fifteen, 1; twenty-four, 1, forty to fifty, 2.

When the freshmen were asked what books they would prefer to see in the library, they asked for fiction, biography, westerns, science fiction, sports, adventure, teen-age fiction, Emily Loring's books, dog stories, horse stories, mythology, science, outdoor life. Nine did not express any opinion.

Seniors said they would prefer books by Jesse Stewart, fiction, war stories, mystery, sports, adventure, history, medicine, novels, religious, biographies, Anne Emery, science, music, Anna Seton. Nineteen seniors did not express a preference.

Miss Stephens said that 342 students reported that they have never received a book for Christmas and 303 have never received a book as a birthday present. However, 349 students reported that they have a place prepared in their homes for books.

Magazine subscriptions are popular in adult circles but book clubs are not. One hundred and ten subscribe to magazines, 34 do not. Thirteen percent of the adults buy books from a book club and 121 do not. Only seventeen of the adults make regular visits to the regional library.

FLASHING LIGHT SIGNALS

The use of flashing lights, except for signaling right and left turns, is restricted to authorized emergency vehicles, wreckers and public utility repair vehicles at the scene of an emergency repair job, says the State Department of Public Safety. Display of a red light directly in front is also restricted to emergency vehicles. Private automobiles used by members of fire departments may be equipped with flashing lights and siren upon written permission of the governing official of the area where used, but lights and siren may be used only on official duties.

GOING MY WAY, GOVERNOR?

Bob Marshall is a talented hitch-hiker. He has an educated thumb which has been known to thumb at the same time two cars traveling in opposite directions.

A car approached the traffic light at Court and Lake Drive this week, and the Marshall thumb went into action. A door popped open, and Bob climbed into a rear seat. The driver was Governor Bert Combs. It is reported that his passenger "charged" the Governor a dollar for the ride. And collected.

A CLOSED SHOP—ON SUNDAYS

Times do change, now, don't they? But this has always been the Land of Opportunity, as witness the following office rules in effect less than 100 years ago at the Mount Cory Carriage & Wagon Works:

1. Office employees will daily sweep the floors, dust the furniture, shelves and showcases.
2. Each day fill lamps, clean chimneys, and trim wicks. Wash the windows once a week.
3. Each clerk will bring in a bucket of water and a scuttle of coal for the day's business.
4. Make your pens carefully. You may whittle nibs to your individual taste.
5. This office will be open at 7 a.m. and close at 8 p.m. daily, except on the Sabbath, on which day it will remain closed.
6. Men employees will be given an evening off each week for court-ing purposes, or two evenings a week if they go regularly to church.
7. Every employee should lay aside from each pay a goodly sum of his earnings for his benefit during his declining years, so that he will not become a burden upon the charity of his betters.
8. Any employee who smokes Spanish cigars, uses liquor in any form, gets shaved at a barber shop, or frequents pool or public halls, will give me good reason to suspect his worth, intentions, integrity and honesty.
9. The other kind of expenses, for gas, oil, tires and repairs, is directly related to the mileage chalked up. It amounts to 3.9 cents a mile.

For drivers who go 10,000 miles a year, it comes to $390.

Floyd county drivers who clock this amount of mileage have an overall cost, including fixed expenditures, of 12 cents a mile.

For those who travel more than this average amount, the total cost per mile is lower than this, because the fixed charges remain the same. Conversely, smaller use of the car means higher costs per mile.

Operation at 20,000 miles a year boils down to 8.1 cents a mile but at 5,000 miles a year it rises sharply to 20.1 cents.

Auto travel in Floyd county continues at a high level, however, despite the increased costs. Consumer data shows that local gas stations grossed $2,101,000 in the last fiscal year, compared with $2,004,000 the year before.

RUGGED WOLF CREEK WILDERNESS SETTLED BY ROBINSON FAMILY

By HENRY P. SCALF

Five years after Lee's surrender at Appomattox, a young married couple gathered up a few household utensils, bed clothes and woodsmen tools on the Brushy Fork of Johns Creek, tied them on a horse and set out across a mighty mountain for the head of the Meathouse Fork of Wolf Creek in the present Martin county.

Walking in front of the animal upon which sat his young wife and his first born, James H., was Leonidas (Lee) Robinson. He and Leannah Maynard had been married two years and they were moving all their earthly possessions to the head of Wolf Creek to found a home in one of the region's most rugged and isolated sections. Here on the four and a quarter mile long Meathouse Fork of Wolf Creek was a pristine wilderness. Wild game lived in undisturbed seclusion, for there were no settlers within miles. Here was land in plenty for the payment of small fees to the county of Pike, for there was no Martin county in 1868. Here were virgin trees so large the logs had to be split open before oxen could move them to the creek side for splashing. In the mountains were great coal seams, so large that after they were opened a farmer could drive his horse and sled inside.

Lee and Leannah Robinson, young and strong and imbued with a desire to found a family with ample resources for the future, deliberately selected the rugged area for a home. They could have migrated westward with hundreds of others seeking homes in Ohio, Indiana or Illinois following the Civil War but they preferred the fastness of Wolf Creek. They were among the last remnant of hardy pioneers who subjugated the isolated valleys of the region.

Lee was the son of Dr. Samuel and Cynthia Elkins Robinson, early residents of the Apple Orchard Settlement on Big Brushy Creek. Leannah was a daughter of Stephen and Polly Stepp Maynard, also residents of Big Brushy. Their people on both sides had come up out of the Carolinas to found homes on Johns Creek. The nation was but a fledgling republic when Christopher Maynard left North Carolina for Johns Creek. Moses Stepp, veteran of the South Carolina Line in the Revolution, hunter and explorer, had wandered across the mountains to the head of Licking River, on over to the Big Sandy and followed game up Johns Creek. He discovered the Pigeon Roost Fork of Wolf Creek, made a home there and lived, according to his tombstone, to the age of 120 years. He is said to have been the oldest man ever to live in the state. The area must have been as healthful as it was rugged.

Lee and Leannah built a small log room which they intended to serve as a kitchen to a larger house some day. Hewing out a bedstead from poplar trees, they "corded" it, a method of building an acceptable bottom support by tying "cords" or light-weight hand-woven rope across it. Over this went a feather bed they had brought from Johns Creek. Lee was a good carpenter and he built tables, benches and a cupboard.

It was springtime when the couple arrived on Meathouse, and they hurried completion of the one-room cabin and the rude furniture. There was land to clear and they swung axes like frontiersmen. They built an improvised barn of poles so the horse would not be attacked by panthers. Lee killed one later in the year with a sugar trough while he was boiling maple syrup. The animal had come down out of the woods in a startling charge and the sugar trough was the only weapon he could seize. One lucky blow and the animal died at his feet with a crushed skull.

Four years later, while they were still living in the one-room cabin, their second child, John Henry, was born. Dr. Samuel rode in from Big Brushy to attend his daughter-in-law. Tradition has it that the doctor urged his son to leave the isolation of Meathouse and move to Johns Creek. Lee took his father out in the yard and pointed to the giant trees and the huge coal seams there and lived, according to his tombstone, to the age of 120 years. There in the yard father and son understood each other.

Four other sons and two daughters came now, in two, three and four-year intervals and the intensity of work under pioneer conditions was deepened to provide the necessities of life. The others were, Samuel, Stephen, Angeline, Jarrett, Mary and Oliver. Only Stephen, now 81, and Jarrett, 77, survive to relate the saga of pioneer effort to make shoes, weave clothing, gather tan bark, tan leather, card and spin wool, chisel out wooden cooking utensils or travel to Warfield Salt Works for that condiment.

It is Stephen Robinson to whom we are chiefly indebted for information about how the family established itself in security and comfort on Wolf Creek. He says the first acreage acquired by his father was later enlarged and the one-room cabin was made an annex to a bigger log house. It was hewed from giant poplars. In the forest roamed a large herd of hoes fattening on the beech mast. Sheep fed over the craggy hillsides and were sheared for their wool.

It was a long time before the Robinson family had neighbors. Henry Runyon settled farther down the creek and William Muncy at the mouth. It was years before a store was founded in the narrow valley.

Stephen Robinson recalls the making of shoes. The process began with the cutting of a giant oak tree and stripping the bark. This bark was carried to a tan vat built of puncheon lumber. Puncheons were wide boards split out of poplar logs. The bark was chopped up fine.

In the meantime cattle hides had been cleaned of their hair with home-made ash lye. This lye, made by pouring water over a barrel of fine wood ashes and draining the solution off, would soften up the hair roots and the hide could be scraped clean in a few minutes. Sometimes a horse-like wooden contrivance was used to hold the hides during the scraping.

The Robinsons would put a half-hide in the tan vat, throw a layer of the chopped tan bark on it, and repeat the process until a dozen or more half-hides were in the huge container. The hides stayed in the tan box for two weeks, were taken out and put down again for a while under new bark. When finally removed from the vat the hides were new leather.

Shoes were usually made in the winter months while farming chores were not so urgent. Lee Robinson, with the use of wooden lasts, wooden pegs, and awl, strong thread and a sharp knife could make a pair of shoes in a day.

Stephen remembers he usually held a burning pine knot for a light while his father sewed shoes.

"I remember holding those pine knots as if it were only yesterday," he reminisced, "for the resin would run out of the knot and burn my fingers."

Carding and spinning went on, too, during the winter. It was Mrs. Robinson, with the two daughters, Mary and Angeline, who did this. They converted the wool into bats, the bats into yarn and this into jeans cloth. The cloth was sewn into clothing, chiefly pants, coats and dresses. Bedspreads and blankets were designed and woven into beautiful patterns. In one corner of the huge living room was a stack of blankets reaching to the ceiling.

Morehead's Dr. Robert's Is Folklore Authority

Special to The Times

Morehead, Ky., May 18 — The campus of Morehead State College is alive with faculty members who have written books and articles in their various interest fields. Probably one of the most interesting of these people is Dr. Leonard Roberts, who is considered one of the leading authorities on folklore in the Appalachian region. Dr. Roberts is a native of Toler Creek, Floyd county.

One of his books, South from Hell-fer-Sartin, is a fine introduction to Kentucky folklore and is a compendium of stories informational material parallels and individual folktales from the Eastern Kentucky region.

Dr. Roberts has studied folktales in Kentucky, Tennessee, Georgia, Virginia, West Virginia and several other Appalachian states and he finds that, regardless of the area that separates these mountain people, they generally have the same customs, traditions, dialects, ceremonies and related folktales having many of the same characteristics.

Many of his stories first appeared in Mountain Life and Works under the title of "Folktales for Telling" but he now has numerous books to his credit. I Bought Me a Dog proved to be a popular book, selling over 15,000 copies.

Nippy and the Yankee Doodle was published in 1958, and two of his most recent books are Up Cuts-shin and Down Greasy and The Tales and Songs of the Couch Family of Harlan County.

Dr. Roberts says that "Jack the Giant Killer" seems to be one story present in all the folktales of the region and also a part of many tales from the Old Country. This adds to the belief that there is a relationship between folktales the world over, especially from England and Ireland, that are closely related to America.

Morris Extends Advice To Workers Who Are Disabled; Service Explained

"Disabled workers under 65 should get in touch with their local social security office immediately, if they have not already done so," says James A. Morris, field representative of Pikeville district office.

"Disabled workers between the ages of 50 and 65 and their dependents now can become eligible for monthly benefits under social security," he said. "To be eligible for these benefits the worker must have been employed or self-employed in covered work for at least five years out of the ten years before the disability began. The impairment must be expected to continue indefinitely and must be severe enough to prevent the individual from doing any further substantial gainful work."

Those workers under 50 who become severely disabled should contact their social security office to freeze their earnings records. This is important to protect their rights to future benefits or benefits to their survivors in case of death.

Darrah To Succeed Scott As Manager; Latter To Retire

H. S. Scott, manager of Kentucky Power Company's Ashland district, will retire July 1 after 39 years' service, and will be succeeded by C. C. Darrah, manager of Appalachian Power Company's Williamson district.

The announcement was made last week by F. M. Baker, vice-president and general manager of Kentucky Power. Both utility companies are part of the American Electric Power System.

Mr. Scott began his utility career in Williamson, immediately following graduation in 1921 from Virginia Polytechnic Institute with a BS degree in electrical engineering. He was assistant manager of the Williamson district before moving to Ashland in 1928 as general commercial manager for Kentucky Power. He became Ashland district manager in 1943.

Mr. Darrah, also a V.P.I. graduate, was employed by Appalachian at Charleston in 1931. He served as power sales engineer in Charleston and Welch. In 1937 he became assistant district manager for Kentucky Power at Hazard. He was named assistant district manager at Williamson in 1943 and was moved in 1947 to Beckley as assistant district manager. He has been Williamson district manager since June, 1954.

Mrs. Onida Hunter, 68, of Amba, died at 6:30 a.m., Monday at Our Lady of the Way hospital. She was the wife of James Hunter, who survives, and the daughter of the late George and Frances Crabtree McKinney.

Mrs. Hunter was in failing health five years, seriously so one week. She was a member of the Regular Baptist church for 20 years. She had no surviving children. Surviving are three brothers, Harve, Bishop and Wilson McKinney, all of Printer.

Funeral services were held at 10 a.m., Wednesday at the Spurlock school house and burial was made in the Hunter cemetery at Printer under the direction of Hall Brothers Funeral Home.

Cotton and hemp were raised by the Robinsons. After the cotton was picked and the seeds removed by a crude contrivance manufactured by the family, the clean product was handled in the same way wool was processed. Cotton clothing was made in the spring for summer wear. Hemp was processed by soaking the tall canes in the creek until they were softened to make it easier to remove the inner fibers. It was from this fiber that linen cloth was woven.

Wolf Creek was rock-ribbed Republican territory following the Civil War, and Lee Robinson was the only Democrat in the section for miles until his sons grew to manhood. Since Lee was the only Democrat in the precinct, he was always appointed on the election board. When his sons began to vote they too were election officers.

For several years the Robinsons had the distinction of being the only Democrats in the precinct and at first when the ballots were counted, as it was "open" ballot before 1892, the clerk cried out the Republican totals and added to the guffaws of the assembled voters: "The Democrats got Lee Robinson."

The first recruit to the Democratic party following the Robinsons was John Grace, an expatriate North Carolinian who had moved to Wolf Creek. He came to the polls while Stephen was acting as sheriff, received his ballot and marked it publicly for the Democratic ticket.

"I don't like to slip around and vote," he said as he marked the ballot. "I want all of you see John Grace vote the Democratic ticket."

The Robinsons lived under the friendly lash of Republican bantering for years but finally got revenge. A Republican justice of the peace died and a Democratic governor appointed Oliver Robinson to fill out the unexpired term.

Men with money began to look with covetous eyes on the giant forest trees on Wolf Creek. Virgin forest mantled the rugged terrain of the tributary valleys of Panther, Peter Cave, Pigeon Roost, Cow Fork, Emily and, of course, Meathouse Fork. One of the first loggers was Jarrett Stanbury.

Stanbury drifted timber out of the valley of Meathouse because there was no road and the cost of building a tramway would have been prohibitive. He was interested in the virgin poplar but many were too big to drift down Wolf. He ordered them split. Many were so large they were left. There was a vast reserve of poplar on Wolf, and the biggest trees were too large to handle—so why bother with them? Lee Robinson took some of the finest of poplar logs, split and hewed out new puncheons for his house and barn.

After Stanbury came the Hewett Lumber Company to scientifically exploit the valley. It took the big poplars that Stanbury left. The company did it by the use of "buck wheels" which were two heavy wheels upon which the end of a log rested while the other end dragged as the draught oxen strained at the yoke. By this method the logs were hauled to the mouth of Meathouse to await high water in Main Wolf Creek.

The company built a camp down below the Robinson home where the loggers ate and slept. Around that camp on week-ends and at other times they drank and caroused, unmolested by the law. Inez, which was known as Eden then, was many miles away and nobody at the county seat seemed to care, anyway, what happened on the head of Wolf.

When the loggers were gone times had changed. The Robinsons found life easier, for timber had brought them money. They were still isolated, however, and the nearest store of any value was at Warfield, 18 miles way. Here to this store the residents of Wolf Creek had gone to buy merchandise when Hewett Lumber Company was operating. The company usually paid the men in the store.

Warfield, famous as a source of salt since the Floyd family of Virginia started boring for it before the Civil War, had a boat landing where craft venturing up the Tug Fork would land. Pushboats put out from Warfield, when there was sufficient water for the draught of their vessels, for Wolf Creek and up to the mouth of Meathouse. Beyond there the stream became too small even for pushboat navigation. Stephen Robinson remembers the time a pushboat "captain" refused to carry dynamite. The owner was afraid of the new-fangled explosive and his men shared his fears. Stephen walked and carried the deadly stuff to Meathouse.

Times continued to change but for the Robinsons it had been a period of character development. You don't live, if you are of innate good stock, under pioneer conditions for decades without acquiring basic virtues of integrity. The Robinsons became known for the way they regarded the spoken pledge of word. Oldsters, and many yet, say, "A Robinson's word is as good as gold."

They worked for a school, church and postoffice, and at last they had all three. The postoffice was named Moree. The church was called Leannah for Mrs. Robinson Lee was deacon until he died in 1936. His wife had preceded him two years before. They had been married 67 years.

Most of the Robinson clan scattered before the parents died, but a few of the younger descendants remained. The old house is now weatherboarded and a grandson of the builder lives in it. He is proud of the family heirlooms of a bygone day but prouder still of his family heritage.

If you have a diet problem, you would enjoy the travails of one who is endeavoring to lose unwanted padding. You would be very interested in the weekly installments of our old faithful sports editor, Gordon Moore.

Gordon, or Red, or known professionally as Redmore, has lost twenty pounds and is fighting his way down to ready-to-wear suit-land.

We have mentioned so many times the exploits of Lowell Hughes that now, since he has experienced a light dip, we thought we would let you-all know about this, too.

Hughes, the Mr. Everything of Prestonsburg athletics for so long, hit a slump at UK in spring baseball. While hitting the long-ball with some success, his average dwindled.

By the time he had discovered what was wrong, the season was unfortunately over. Mr. Hughes was swinging so hard his timing was no better than a 33 record played at 78 speed. This happens to the best of hitters and, if Hughes gets that professional contract he has long dreamed about, look for him to out his swing down and start busting that ball for an average. —"Luck from all, Mr. L. Hughes."

It has been my experience that baseball players grow up mighty well around McDowell. Misters Tuttle, Stumbo and Hopkins have been so successful that they have led the McDowell team into the regional tournament at Grayson.

Once, when heading a talented Prestonsburg group of youngsters, it was the McDowell group who took the wind out of my sails.

It could have been the same Tuttle, Stumbo and Hopkins, although it is more likely to have been their older brothers.

When we played this group, they were little cusses in comparison to our muscular bunch. We had one oversized youngster who could throw a curve and buzz a fast ball. For once, over-confident and swelling about the chest over the evident superiority of our group, we sized the game up as "taking candy away from a baby."

These youngsters, whose Louisville Sluggers seemed to be bigger than they, hit my husky pitcher not like babies but more like Devils. Soon, my pitcher began to berate his infielders, his manager, the umpire, and the world. When we came to bat, a small slip of a lad threw an old thumb-up curve so successful that a few of our lads completed the third strike swing while confusedly groping for the dugout.

As I said, these kids were Devils and were most likely the same kids who grew up to be the baseball champs of Floyd county—now the McDowell Dare Devils.

WHITLEY HOUSE

The William Whitley House, off U.S. 150, between Crab Orchard and Stanford, is one of Kentucky's most historic shrines. Built by Col. William Whitley, whose initials are over the front door, it was the first brick house in Kentucky, and a center of religious, political and social life on the Wilderness Road. Now restored and filled with 18th century furnishings, the house is open to the public.

The Spotswood Home at Glasgow was built in 1800 from plans drawn up by Thomas Jefferson.

NOW LOOK WHAT CORVAIR'S GONE AND DONE!

The same Corvair that tallied a thumping 27.03 miles per gallon* in the Mobilgas Economy Run . . . went right on to climb Pikes Peak earlier in the spring than any car has ever tried!

We wanted to show you what the fabulous traction of Corvair's rear-engine design and the sure-footedness of four-wheel independent suspension really mean. So the identical Economy Run car went right on to 14,110-foot Pikes Peak—and right up to the top of that savage mountain, on April 15, still deep in winter's snow and ice. No other car—even specially equipped—had ever been able to conquer that nightmare alpine road so early in the spring. But Corvair (with United States Auto Club officials aboard to certify that not one nut or bolt was changed) purred right to the summit without chains or even snow tires! That just underscores the fact that Corvair is totally unique. But you'll find that out the first five minutes you're at the wheel!

Genesis 1:3.

Freedom "is never permissible . . . say the Popes
(From Protestant Action)
"From what has been said it follows that it is quite unlawful to demand, to defend, or to grant unconditional freedom of thought, of speech, of writing, or of worship, as if these were so many rights given by nature to man. For, if nature had really granted them, it would be lawful to refuse obedience to God, and there would be no restraint on human liberty."

Pope Deo XIII, in the Encyclical Letter LIBERTAS PRAESTANTISSIMUM, June 20, 1885.

"So, too, the liberty of thinking, and of publishing whatsoever each one likes, without any hindrance, is not in itself an advantage over which society can wisely rejoice. On the contrary, it is the fountainhead and origin of many evils."

Pope Leo XIII, in the Encyclical Letter IMMORTALE DEI, 1885.

Liberty of religion is "insanity," says Pope.

Side by side with the Knights of Columbus' smooth explanation of the pope's meaning, we place the very words of the Encyclical, "Mirari Vos" of Gregory XVI, as it is quoted in the Encyclical "Quanta Cura" of Pius IX (1864):

"Contrary to the teachings of the Holy Scriptures, of the church, and the Holy Fathers, these persons do not hesitate to assert, that 'the best condition of human society is that wherein no duty is recognized by the government of correcting by enacted penalties the violators of the Catholic religion, except when the maintenance of the public peace requires it! From this totally false notion of social government, they fear not to uphold that erroneous opinion most pernicious to the Catholic church, and to the salvation of souls, which was called by Our Predecessor Gregory XVI the insanity (deliramentum) namely, that liberty of conscience and of worship is the right of every man; and that this right ought, in every well governed State, to be proclaimed and asserted by the law; and that the citizens possess the right of being unrestrained in the exercise of every kind of liberty, by any law, ecclesiastical or civil, so that they are authorized to publish and put forward openly all their ideas whatsoever, either by speaking, in print, or by any other method. But whilst these men make these rash assertions, they do not reflect or consider that they preach the liberty of the church cannot blush for her want of tolerance!

"The Roman Catholic church, convinced through its divine prerogatives, of being the only true church, must demand the RIGHT TO FREEDOM FOR HERSELF ALONE, because such a right can only be possessed by truth, never by error. As to other religions, the church will certainly never draw the sword, but she will require that by legitimate means they shall not be allowed to propagate false doctrine. Consequently, in a state where the majority of the people are Catholic, the church will require that legal existence be denied to error, and that if religious minorities actually exist, they shall have only a de facto existence without opportunity to spread their beliefs.

"If, however, actual circumstances, either due to government hostility or the strength of the dissenting groups, make the complete application of this principle impossible, then the church will require for herself to accept, as a minor evil, the de jure toleration of other forms of worship.

"In some countries, Catholics will be obliged to ask full religious freedom for all, resigned at being forced to cohabit where they alone should rightfully be allowed to live. But in doing this the church does not renounce her thesis, which remains the most imperative of her laws, but merely adapts herself to de facto conditions, which must be taken into account in practical affairs.

"Hence arises the great scandal among Protestants, who tax the Catholics with refusing to others freedom and even de jure toleration, in all places where they are in the majority, while they claim it as a right when they are in a minority. . . We ask Protestants to understand that the Catholic church would betray her trust if she were to proclaim, theoretically and practically, that error can have the same rights as truth, especially where the supreme duties and interest of man are at stake. The church cannot blush for her own want of tolerance, as she asserts it in principle and applies it in practice."

(Rev. F. Cavalli S. J., in "La Civiltà Cattolica," April 1948, the official organ of the Jesuits of Rome.)

Diametrically opposite to the above teaching of the ROMAN CATHOLIC church, their own Bible (Douay Version) says: "Remember unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's, and to GOD the things that are God's" (Matt. 22:21). Titus 3rd Chapter says: "Admonish them to be subject to Princes and Authorities; Obeying COMMANDS, ready for every good work, speaking evil of none, not quarrelsome, but MODERATE, showing MILDNESS TO ALL MEN." I Peter 2:13, 14 and 15, says: "Be subject to every human creature for God's sake, whether to the king as supreme, or to governors as sent through him for vengeance on evil doers and for the praise of the good. For such is the will of God, that by doing good you should put to silence the ignorance of foolish men." Notice very carefully this is Peter, the favorite Apostle of the Roman Catholics, teaching the Christians in the springtime of Christianity not to try to "dominate," and rule this fallen and pleasure-mad world, but be subject to its kings and governors.

The great apostle Paul said, "Let every soul be subject unto the higher powers. For there is no power but of God: The powers that be are ORDAINED of God. Whosoever, therefore, resisteth the power resisteth the ordinance of God: And they that resist shall receive to themselves DAMNATION" (Rom. 13:1, 2.)

WAKE UP, AMERICA! It is much later than most people think! Romanism is knocking at our front door whilst COMMUNISM (neither of which is for LIBERTY except for themselves) is at our back door. Fellow AMERICANS, give no heed to their pretty stories, but view their past and present PERFORMANCES in other countries. What they are sounds so loud we can't hear what they say!! Wake up America! Nations rise and fall because of their RELIGION—not their POLITICS. It is regrettable to say, we have a SURPLUS of "theology," but a great need for old time KNEEOLOGY. Pride goes before destruction and a haughty spirit before a fall (Prov. 16:18).

The world needs Christ and not the Crucifix; the Master and not the "Mother"; Indwelling and not indulgences; the IDEAL and not the idol; the Prince of Peace, and not the Pope; Redeemer, repentance and restitution and not the rosary; the SON and not the "sister"; the prostitution and not the priest; the MESSAGE and not the Mass. God commands us to bear our Cross, not to worship it; they worship it, but bear it neither corporally nor spiritually. Wake up CHRIST-ians!

No nation can perish, or be destroyed, while it possesses a GOOD HOME life. Hold fast your blood-bought freedom, fellow citizens; Wake up, God-fearing souls; Dishonesty reigns everywhere; "Truth has fallen in the streets; justice standeth afar off; Equity cannot enter" (Isa. 59:14.) The days of Noah have come again; White is called black, and black is called white. Wake up, America! Ye have sown the wind and ye shall reap the whirlwind. (Hosea 8:7.)

Oh, awake ye CHRISTIANS to your serious responsibility. We cannot tolerate Satan and escape the harvest that is sure if we "sow to the flesh!" The law of compensation operates inexorably to reward and afflict us by and through ourselves. There is just as much authority behind, "For he that soweth to his flesh shall of the flesh reap corruption" as there were to the words, "The day thou eatest thereof thou shalt surely die!" "I am the Lord and I change not" (Mal. 3:6.) What a harvest is on in America today, and all because we are living in an age gone convulsively insane. CHRIST-ians lend me your ears!! Be not afraid or ashamed of the GOSPEL; be not afraid of TRUTH; be not ASHAMED of Jesus and His doctrine of love. "The truth shall make you free," said Jesus Christ (8:32.)

The great Liberty-loving Thomas Jefferson said: "Truth can stand by itself." Another great AMERICAN said: "When a religion is good I conceive that it will support itself and when it cannot support itself, and God does not take care to support it, so that its professors are obliged to call for help of the CIVIL Power, IT IS A SIGN, I apprehend, of its being a BAD one." Benjamin Franklin.

Christ says, "I am the WAY, and the TRUTH, and the LIFE. No one comes to the Father, but THROUGH Me" (John 14:6.) "And ye SHALL know the TRUTH, and the TRUTH shall make you FREE." (Jn. 8:32.) (Douay Version or Rom. Cath.) Wake up dear friends!! The joints of society are loosened; the age is out of joint! "None calleth for justice, nor any pleadeth for truth; they TRUST IN VANITY, and speak lies; they conceive mischief and bring forth iniquity" (Isa. 59:4.) The Lord God hath spoken; "Who shall not prophesy?" (Amos 3:3.) "Woe to the wicked unto evil; for the reward of his hands shall be given him" (Isaiah 3:11.) (Douay or Roman Catholic Version.)

We cannot do evil to others without doing it to ourselves, the Book of the Lord teaches. We do not break the laws of the universe, we break ourselves upon them. Jeremiah and the prophets taught this: "Thy own wickedness shall reprove thee (or correct thee), and thy 'Apostasy' shall REBUKE thee. Know thou, and see that it is an evil and a bitter thing for thee, to have 'left the Lord thy God,' and that my fear is not with thee, saith the Lord the God of hosts" (Jer. 2:19.) Isaiah taught: "Woe to the wicked unto evil; for the reward of his hands shall be given him" (Isa. 3:11.)

"Though the mills of God grind slow, Yet they grind exceeding small; Though with patience He stands waiting, With exactness grinds He all."

Jonah preached to the people: "They that observe 'lying vanities,' FORSAKE THEIR OWN MERCY" (Jonah 2:8.) This proud nation and world is high on profession, but low on PERFORMANCE; lying on praying, but short on paying. How true are these words: "ACTIONS speak louder than words." Even the good gospel can be preached much more POWERFULLY by the life than by the tongue. What numbers "talk" of REPENTANCE, and never Repent of the greatest of all sins, UNBELIEF! (Matt. 13:58; Rom. 11:20.) Nothing save Faith makes a Christian. Heb. 11:6 says, "Without Faith it is impossible to please God" (Roman Cath. Version.)

Notice, candid reader, their own Bible does not say ANYWHERE that any soul comes to the Father THROUGH Mary, the Mother of Jesus, nor some priest. All the public petitions Mary ever presented to Him, when working as the SON of God, and the Savior of the world, were answered by a stern public rebuke.

At the marriage in Cana of Galilee, Mary said to Jesus, when they wanted wine, "They have no wine!" Jesus rebuked her, saying "Woman what have I to do with thee? Mine hour is not yet come." His mother acknowledged His SUPERIORITY, telling the attendants: "Do WHATSOEVER EVER HE TELLS YOU!" (John 2:1-5.) Read again these words! and understand that, far from granting all the petitions of Mary, Jesus always, except when a Child, said "NO!" to her requests. He always "rebuked" her when she asked Him anything in public, with solemn rebukes. (See Mark 3:31-35; Lk. 8:19-21; John 2:1-5.) (Douay Version.) Moreover, Peter, (and all the Apostles) DENIED being the STONE on which the church is built, saying "Be it known to all of you and to all the people of Israel that in the NAME OF Jesus Christ of Nazareth, whom you Crucified, whom God raised from the dead, even in this NAME does he (the crippled man) stand here before you, sound. THIS IS THE STONE that was rejected by you, the builders, which have become the corner STONE. Neither is there Salvation in any other. For there is NO OTHER NAME under heaven given to men by which we must be saved." (Acts 4:10-12 Douay Version.) Every other NAME drags its votaries down to everlasting shame and contempt.

Peter preached again to the Jews, and all the people: "And it shall be that every soul that will not HEARKEN TO THAT PROPHET (Jesus), shall be destroyed from among the people" (Acts 3:23.) (Douay or Roman Catholic Version.) Peter forbade creature worship telling CORNELIUS, who had fallen at his feet worshipping him, "Get up, I myself also am a Man!" (Acts 10:25-26 Douay Version.) Again, Peter told Simon who offered him money, hoping to buy the gifts of the Holy Ghost, "Thy money go to destruction with thee because thou hast thought that the gift of God could be purchased with money. Repent therefore of this wickedness of thine and pray to God, that perhaps the thought of thine heart may be forgiven thee." (Acts 8:18-24.) Notice Peter tells him to PRAY TO GOD—NEITHER to Mary nor himself. Similarly Paul did not "absolve" the jailer (Acts 16:30-31) when he asked, "What shall I do to be saved?" But he said to him, "Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ, and thou shalt be saved." (Acts 16:31; 10:43; 13:39.) Perhaps our best answer is in Peter's own words about his own status (I Peter 5:1-3): "The elders which are among you I exhort, who am ALSO an Elder, and a Witness of the sufferings of Christ, and also a partaker of the glory that shall be revealed: Feed the flock of God which is among you, taking the oversight thereof, not by constraint, but willingly; NOT FOR MILDLY LUCRE, but of a ready mind; neither as being LORDS OVER GOD'S HERITAGE, but being ENSAMPLES to the flock." "Call no man father upon earth." (Matt. 23:9.)

Furthermore, Paul and Barnabas at the city of Lystra, when the people heard their preaching exclaiming Jesus of Nazareth, and saw the MIRACLE which Paul did—the lame man from his birth healed—forbade the people to offer sacrifice to them, saying: "Men, why are you doing this? We are Mortals, HUMAN beings like you, bringing to you the good news that you should turn from these VAIN THINGS to the living God who made heaven and earth and the sea and all things that are in them. And with these words they could hardly restrain the crowds from sacrificing to them" (Acts 14:12-18 Douay or Roman Catholic Version.)

These people, candid reader, were "idolaters" and worshipped graven images of wood, iron, gold and silver, and "prayed" unto a god which could neither see, nor hear, nor eat, nor smell, nor move nor SAVE; (Deut. 4:28; Isa. 45:20), but when they heard of the SAVING SAVIOUR, and saw the miracle wrought upon the cripple they were amazed, and PLEASED, lifting up their voices, saying: "The gods have come down to us in the likeness of men" (Acts 14:10-14 Douay Version.)

Listen to Paul writing to the Ephesian brethren: "You are built upon the FOUNDATION of the APOSTLES AND PROPHETS with Jesus Christ himself as the chief CORNER STONE" (Eph. 2:20.)

Wake up, CHRIST-ians! Again, listen closely to the inspired writer, John, in the Apocalypse: "And I fell down before his feet (the angel) to worship him, and he said to me, 'Thou must not do that. I am a fellow-servant of thine and of thy brethren who give the testimony of Jesus. Worship God, for the testimony of Jesus is the spirit of prophecy.'" (Apocalypse 19:10.)

"And I, John, am he who heard these things, and when I heard and saw these things I fell down to worship at the feet of the Angel who showed me these things. And he said to me: 'Thou must not do that, I am a fellow-servant of thy brethren the prophets, and of those who keep the words of this book. Worship God!' " (Apocalypse 22:8-9.)

Wake up, CHRIST-ians; Jesus Christ is still crucified between two thieves: ARMINIANISM (which says FALLEN man still has a healthy Free will), and ARTINOMIANISM, a false faith which denies that the LAW (a killing letter, which shows ourselves to ourselves) is our SCHOOLMASTER to bring us unto CHRIST, that we may be "Justified by Faith." It teaches that REPENTANCE is NOT to be preached from the DECALOGUE, but from the Gospel. Wake up AMERICA!

Wake up, CHRIST-ians! hold fast your blood-bought liberty. Beware of men, especially those who "love greetings in the markets," and to be called Rabbi, Father and Reverends, whether they be Roman Catholics or otherwise, for they will deliver you up to their councils, and scourge you in their synagogues (Matt. 10:17; 23:9.) Personally, we are not trying to defame any man, or set of men, but "warning against any religion, and every religion that robs God of His Glory, and Man of his Hope, in Jesus. The Prophets, and the Apostles, "Cried aloud and spared Not" in this very important matter. Paul "warned," "Beware of the dogs, beware of the evil WORKERS, beware of the MUTILATION" (Phil. 3:2.) Jesus saith: "But whoever DISOWNS Me before men, I in turn will DISOWN him before my Father's face" (Matt. 10:33) (R. C. Version.)

Candid reader, we are NOT against Roman Catholics themselves, but we are, "tooth and nail," against their "idolatrous" religion which makes a "figure-head" of our SAVING Savior—Jesus Christ. CHRIST is first, or not at all! (Apocalypse 1:11, 17) (Douay Version.)

"The spirit that would this truth withstand, would pull God's temple down, wrest Jesus' sceptre from His hand, and spoil Him of His crown."

"It cannot be emphasized too much that 'The days of Noah have come again.'" (Lk. 17:26.) The earth is filled with violence; the wickedness of man is great in the earth. (Gen. 6:5-12.) The Prophecy of Daniel: "Many shall run to and fro; knowledge shall be increased, and the POWER of the HOLY people scattered." Is fulfilling right before our eyes (Dan. 12th Chapter.) Flee to the hills of salvation! Flee to a bleeding Jesus! Let no other TRUST intrude! "Examine yourselves, whether ye be in THE FAITH; prove your own selves." (I Cor. 13:5.)

Rome's trade is RELIGION. They make their sacrifices in a mechanical way so the gift is merely an EXTERNAL gift and not a gift of the heart. Jesus saith in John 4:24; "God is a Spirit and they who worship Him must worship Him in spirit and truth." (Douay Version.) God never hears words without the heart. Take the good old Bible's counsel. There is no coming at the haven of eternal glory without sailing through the narrow strait of REPENTANCE.

"Verily, every man at his BEST state is ALTOGETHER VANITY," and "Cease ye man from whose breath is in his nostrils." (Ps. 39:5; Isa. 2:22.) Seek to cut self-righteousness, the secret bane of Christianity and the chief root of all sins. (Phil. 3:8; Heb. 10:38; Gal. 2:16; 3:11.) Eccles. 7:21 says, "For there is NOT a just man upon earth, that doeth good and sinneth not." (Roman Catholic Version.)

We cannot think too little of ourselves neither can we think too highly of God, and His Christ. Where is your Faith? Is it in Christ, AND something else?? Is it trusting Christ alone? To TRUST Christ alone is to depend on Him, to definitely and deliberately receive Him. It means to TRUST Him ALONE so utterly and completely that should He fail—there's nothing left!!

The great Apostle Paul writing of his BLAMELESS, "do-good," Pharisaical religion counted it all but DUNG and LOSS for the excellency of the knowledge of Christ Jesus, for whom, he says, "I have suffered the loss of all things." As compared to his NEW FAITH, which gave him CHRIST, he counted it all but DUNG! (Phil. 3:1-10) and cried to sinners: "Come over to the last ADAM of the New and BETTER Covenant! Flee from the wrath to come! By and through faith seek Him aright! FLEE from self-righteousness; As one particle of dust of this earth's dross will spoil all the beauty of that perfect righteousness which the Old Covenant of works requires at your hands."

If you would be saved by "works," you must be as holy as the angels; you must be as pure and immaculate as Jesus, for the LAW requires perfection. Poor "ADAM"—ruined! (Continued on Page Five)

Among the Isaac Shelby items owned by the Kentucky Historical Society at the Old Capitol at Frankfort are a portrait of the first governor, his razor, a British rifle that he captured in the American Revolution, a replica of the gold medal presented him by Congress, a peace pipe given him by the Chickasaws and his gold watch.

When buying cotton knits, examine the knit closely for plump, round loops. Loops that are pulled long and thin will relax to their normal round shape during washing, resulting in a shorter, wider garment.

CELERY WAS ONCE USED FOR MEDICINAL PURPOSES

Until 1623, celery was used for medicinal purposes, according to the USDA. The Chinese used celery as a blood purifier; the Greeks believed it had a sedative effect; and Abyssinians stuffed their pillows with celery leaves to cure headaches. The volatile oil from ripe celery seed is used today as a sedative in medicine.

LET THERE BE LIGHT

sinner, this is too exacting and spiritual for an imperfect creature to do. "For he who is JUST lives by FAITH" (Rom. 1:17). "FOR ALL THAT IS NOT FROM FAITH IS SIN" (Rom. 14:23 Douay Version). "The LAW does NOT rest on FAITH" (Gal. 3:12 Roman Catholic Version.) "God's law is holy, just, and good. Under that LAW condemned I stood; But in His gospel I can see, Pardon, life, and bliss for me." "The LAW demands a weighty debt. And not one single mite will bate; But GOSPEL sings of Jesus' blood And says it made the payment good."

The LAW which none can keep perfectly, requires that we give something to God, but the "Faith of the Gospel," that we "receive" of Him. The office of the LAW is "work" of faith to "believe" the promises, and lay hold of them. The LAW says, "Gospel work," the Gospel says, "Come and rest!" The law kills. It says, "DO or die," the Gospel says, "I will do it for you!" The Gospel makes alive; the one curses; the other blesses; the LAW commands us to make brick, and finds us no straw; the Gospel shows that the "work" is already wrought for us; the LAW starves us unless we can prepare our own food; the Gospel prepares a feast and invites us WITHOUT money and WITHOUT price, to "freely" partake of it (Isa. 55:1); the LAW stops the mouth; the Gospel opens it in praise; the LAW makes us afraid; the Gospel to love; the LAW is a statement of DEBIT; the Gospel is a statement of CREDIT. A person becomes a Christian not by "working," but by "HEARING." The LAW and the Gospel are contrary in their effects. They have contrary functions and purposes. The LAW does not bring the Holy Ghost, but the "HEARING OF FAITH" does. The LAW bows a person down; It takes the Gospel, and the preaching of Faith in CHRIST to "raise," and SAVE a person; the LAW "in its effects," is as opposite to the Gospel "in its effects" as light is to darkness; the one drives, the other draws; the one propels, the other guides; the one condemns, the other forgives; the LAW threatens; the Gospel, entreats; the LAW says, "Do it!" the Gospel, "I will do it for you!" The LAW says, "IF!" the Gospel says, "IT IS DONE!" The LAW was never intended to SAVE, but to show MAN that it is IMPOSSIBLE for him to save himself. The LAW is our SCHOOL MASTER to bring us to Christ that we may be "justified by Faith" (Gal. 3:24.) The OLD TESTAMENT sets before us a "requirement" and a reward, with a chasm between them; the Gospel fills the chasm between them; the Gospel fills the chasm—it fills it with CHRIST and the CROSS!! If you BELIEVE, you shall have all; if you BELIEVE NOT, you shall lack all.

All His obedience becomes ours by believing the TESTIMONY of the Father concerning His SON and trusting in Him.

If we believe "savingly" on the Lord's Christ, IMPUTATIVELY we are flawlessly righteous in God's sight.

"What wondrous love, what mysteries, In this appointment shine! My breaches of the law are His, And His obedience mine."

"If thou CANST believe, all things are possible to him that believeth (Mark 9:23.) God never hears WORDS without the heart. He hates IDOLS and Idolaters (Isa. 61:8; Amos 5:21.)

There is a STAR above that shines as no other star has ever shone before. Its brightness startles man, and SENDS them forth to find new answers to old problems. Its constancy "leads" them with magnetic power. "And I will bring the blind by a way that they knew not; I will LEAD them in paths that they have not known." (Isa. 42:16.)

This bright MORNING STAR (Rev. 22:16) does not drive like a despot—that is not His Spirit! He woos like a lover—that is His Spirit! He does not hold the Bible as a club or club over the people's heads. He constrains us to follow Him by the power of His love; We willingly follow Him.

"Force may indeed the heart invade, But only kindness can persuade."

This bright MORNING STAR is the DESIRE of all nations (Rev. 22:16; Hag. 2:7). My brother, my sister, if you have this desire, or wishing, it is a fruit of the Father's drawings. WISHING is a degree of love. No man ever "wished" for the thing he altogether hated.

A "wisher" for Christ is a lover of Christ. And you could not love Him if He had not first loved you. You could not choose Him if He had not first chosen you. Art thou "desirous" or choosing God in Christ to be thy Father, thy portion, thy covenant God, here and forever? If you are, it is one happy proof that God hath chosen thee to salvation, through sanctification of the Spirit, and belief of the truth. It is a "divine" work and it is a gracious work. When God puts a NEW heart into a man it is not because he deserves a new heart—because there was anything good in his nature which could have prompted God to do it. His own love prompts Him. Nor is it because the man cries for a NEW heart. No man ever yet did cry for a NEW heart until he had one. If you are crying for a "new" heart, my brother, my sister—if you are seeking it "earnestly," wistfully, tenderly—the germs of the "new" heart are in you already—the NEW heart is there!

"Those feeble desires, those 'wishes' so weak,

'Tis Jesus inspires, and bids you still seek;

His Spirit will cherish, the life He first gave,

You never shall perish, for Jesus can save."

Your very willingness and your wish show that God has been working upon you, and working in love. If you long for salvation, then God has chosen you to it—you're elected! If you believe God—trust Christ—then you are already ELECTED—your Faith is PROOF that Jesus died for you: FOR IT IS GOD WHICH WORKETH IN YOU BOTH TO WILL AND TO DO HIS GOOD PLEASURE" (Phil. 2:13); "being confident of this very thing, that He which hath begun a good work in you will perform it until the day of Jesus Christ" (Phil. 1:6). "The ZEAL of the Lord of Hosts will perform THIS" (Isa. 9:7.)

Up! Up! New hearts! from self to Golgotha! Run not so lazily in the way to heaven as to either hinder yourselves or others.—Bunyan. Soak the people in the "whole counsel of God," and we shall have no menace from Rome or elsewhere. Be not afraid to "turn the world upside down," as did the heralds of the Cross in the springtime of the Christian faith (Acts 17:6.)

"He must needs suffer much who will espouse all the doctrine of God."—Luther.

Flee from the wrath to come! Fly to the hope the Gospel gives! God hears the heart; though without words; but he never hears words without the heart.

Up! Up! worldly wise man, from self and Sinai to Golgotha! Unbelief builds nothing! Nothing save Faith makes a CHRIST-ian.

"The Law was never meant to give NEW strength to man's LOST race; We cannot act before we live, And life proceeds from grace."

"Run, run and work, the law commands,

Yet finds me neither feet nor hands;

But sweeter news the Gospel brings, It bids me fly and furnishes me wings."

Yours for an OPEN and UNMUTILATED Bible.

THE NEW BREAKS INTERSTATE PARK NEAR ELKHORN CITY

The Breaks Interstate Park area lies athwart the Virginia and Kentucky border. Here the Russell Fork River cascades downward toward the "Breaks," where it has cut its way through Cumberland Mountain to form what has been called The Grand Canyon of the South.

The Breaks Interstate Park is the result of a dream by conservationists, led by Kelly Day, Pikeville businessman. It was John Fox, Jr., who first brought the area to the notice of the world. Fox's enthusiastic stories on the region induced Day to visit the area decades ago. The park is rapidly becoming a "must" for thousands of American tourists.

The First National Bank presents these pictures of our scenic region as a bit of its friendly service with the hope they will contribute to your understanding of our historic heritage.

"Confidence Gets Business—Satisfaction Keeps It"

AROUND FLOYD COUNTY

By Quentin Allen

The lack of finesse in fundamental skills lost the Redlegs two precious games as pennant hopes revived temporarily in the heart of the Rhinelander.

Roy McMillian was the culprit in both instances. On Saturday, when called upon to execute a bunt, McMillian jabbed the bat too solidly into the ball with a force-out at third resulting from his effort. On Sunday, with two on again, McMillian proved again that the short game is not his long suit. His bunt was smacked solidly into the air, caught by the pitcher, and thrown to first base, doubling off Ed Bailey, heavy-legged catcher of the Reds.

Pitching efforts by O'Toole, Purkey, McLish and Hook, which carried the Reds over a streak of eight straight, gave out in St. Louis and began to show cracks at the seams against the Phillies. The Phillies, currently at the bottom rung of the ladder, have handled the Reds as though they own them, now having a five won, two lost mark over them.

Little Roy is having his woes and must be casting an anxious glance over his shoulder in the direction of Havana where the Sugar Kings have flashy "Mr. Automatic" shortstop Leo Gardens thrilling Cuban fans. Leo is stinging the ball at a 328 clip and rated an article last week in the baseball "bible," The Sporting News.

Tony Gonzales went on a downward spiral via the courtesy of Sandy Koufax, strongarmed left-hander of the Los Angeles Dodgers. Sandy shot his blazing fast ball past the Reds until Elio Chacon, Eddie Kasko and Vada Pinson collaborated in a thrilling Frank Merriwell finish. The "come back from the dead" rally was highly reminiscent of the old "Perils of Pauline" flickers.

"KING KELLY" SIGNS WITH KNICKS

"King Kelly" Coleman, Wayland and Floyd county's gift to the basketball world, signed a professional contract Monday to play with the New York Knickerbockers next season in the National Basketball Association.

The popular "blonde-bombshell of the mountains" was in Prestonsburg last Thursday and said he will receive in the neighborhood of $10,000 for his first year's effort in the pro ranks.

He was the Knicks' second draft choice last month. Although he has not yet graduated from college, he expects to complete the work for a degree next summer.

In 28 games with Kentucky Wesleyan last season, Coleman, who still holds nine high school scoring records, scored 848 points for a 30.3 average. His career total at Wesleyan was 2,077 points for a 27.7 average.

The annual report from the Kentucky High School Athletic Association continues to show that basketball tournaments are a big business in Kentucky. However, this season's receipts were down considerably from the preceding year. The sixteen regional tournaments in the state showed total receipts of $89,484.84, a decrease of some $27,000 over comparable figures for the preceding season. Receipts from 84 district basketball tournaments amounted to $157,368.22, a drop of $44,000 from the 1958-59 receipts. Approximate profits from the state tournament in Louisville were $91,000.00.

The site of the 1961 state basketball tournament will be determined by a vote of the principals of all the high schools in the state, since the Board of Control tied 4-4 between Lexington and Louisville. The poll is to get under way soon and the site should be named by August 15.

PLAY BEGINS AT GRAYSON

McDowell, Floyd Champs, Join Five Other Teams In District Tournament

Six of Eastern Kentucky's classiest high school baseball teams opened play Wednesday noon at Grayson in quest of the regional title currently held by Ashland high school.

The teams entered — McDowell, Ashland, Paintsville, Breckinridge Training, Mt. Sterling and South Portsmouth—bring the most impressive records of any group in the ten-year history of the event.

Drawings for the tournament were held Monday night.

On the basis of this season's outstanding 19-0 record, Sonny Allen's Breckinridge Eagles must be tabbed the favorites. They represented the Morehead district, where they crushed Olive Hill 20-4 in the final game.

South Portsmouth, tutored by superintendent Sid Meade, won the Greenup county district with a thrilling 1-0, 10-inning decision over McKell. George Fry went the full route for the victors, fanned 10 and limited McKell to two hits. He had a no-hitter through the regulation seven innings.

Billy Rae Cassady's Paintsville Tigers enter the event with a most impressive 14-1 mark. They earned their way to the regional by downing Van Lear, 16-9, Meade Memorial, 3-0, and Oil Springs, 3-0, in the Johnson-Martin-Morgan county district. Their leading hurler is John Hayes, strong right-hander, who has a 6-1 record. The Tigers have three hitters over .400 in third baseman Mike Minix, catcher David Wiley, and centerfielder Bill Deskins.

Ashland Tomcat's downed Fairview 8-5 to return to the regional tournament.

McDowell won its second district title in three years by downing Wheelwright, 6-4, in the finals of the district tournament. Estill Hall's veteran charges have rolled to a 12-1 season's record. They have scored 114 runs while limiting their opponents to 26 and have out-hit their opponents, 119 to 36. The leading pitcher is senior right-hander Donald Tuttle, who is 5-0 and sports a .458 batting average. Ronnie Hopkins has a 4-1 work-sheet and is batting .516, which includes three doubles, two triples and three home runs with 18 runs batted in. Ronald Shelton is 2-0 and Bill Brown is 1-0.

The regional winner will advance to the state high school baseball tournament in Lexington, June 8-9.

At Russellville is the building where during the Civil War southern sympathizers met to organize the Confederate Provisional Government of Kentucky.

Fallout Shelter Is Result Of Civil Defence Training

The first model fallout shelter in the country to be constructed as the class project of a group of adult students taking Civil Defense training was dedicated at Flemingsburg recently, the Kentucky Division of Civil Defense announces.

Federal state and local officials participating in the dedication were high in their praise of the initiative of the adult group in undertaking the project which was financed from contributions of some 39 Fleming county merchants and civic organizations.

The structure—a masonry replica of a four-person basement type installation—was erected with the approval of the Flemingsburg city officials on a tract of land virtually in the center of town.

The ceremony was attended by over 60 Fleming county citizens

BOY,
AM I
NUTS!

A Letter To My Friends:

I took a load of Scrap Iron, Copper, Brass and some other metals to Ashland, and didn't get a dime more outa it than Mountain Metal Company, Prestonsburg, Kentucky, offered me.

That's the second time I have goofed.

I can see now when prices fall at Mountain Metal they do ever where else, so they ain't no use luggin Scrap another hundred miles when you can get just as gooda deal clost to home, it's down right foolish.

Old McCoy at Mountain Metal has allus done right by me, and I didn't realize it, till I goofed coupla times takin a loada Scrap away down the river, and didn't get a blame cent more outa it, time I figured my headaches and expenses.

Once I plum lost on a load, I blowed a tire and the dang tire blow out got me checked by the police, I got stuck with bad brakes, lights and the load had shifted and they fussed like the devil about that, and gave me fair warning that I better straighten up and fly right, and if I come back I better be right.

So being so blamed disgusted, I said to myself old boy if I get outa this mess them fellers in Ashland ain't never gona see me again, I'll take 'er to that Irishman at Mountain Metal Company, sometimes he's a hateful cuss, but by jove he'll weigh you right and pay you right, if ye get your Scrap clean, and not a lot of rags, weed and dirt in it, all ye gotta do is burn your car bodies and keep the dirt outa your Iron and Coy will do ye right.

McCoy tells me the Scrap is awful low now, he says the big reason is, them Ferners is shippin steel into this country cheaper than our mills can make it. We lost our markets over seas. Knowed blame well some body'd feel around and throw a sprag in the wheel.

Well I tell ye when it gets too cheap to haul to Mountain Metal, I'll pile 'er up, and when I get tired piling 'er up I'll haul it to Mountain Metal. Whether the price is high or the price is low Mountain Metal Company is the best place to go.

Now I'm just right well pleased to give you this bit of writin, and ifin ye don't believe what I'm tellin ye, just you go right ahead and learn the hard way like I did.

I've been scrappin nigh onto fifteen years now, and a man oughta learn somethin in that time.

Your friend,
